HAND DELIVERY

Re: Bauknight v. Pope, Appellate Case No. 2017-001899
Motion to Strike Initial Brief and Designation

Dear Ms. Kitchings:

I am writing to call to the Court's attention a few printing errors I have identified in the Motion of the Attorney General to Strike filed last week. The printer, in error, dropped several words and numbers from the document that had been typed and appeared on the computer screen in the Word version. I have reported this problem to our IT section and note the following dropped words for the identification of the Court and other parties:

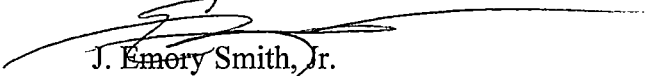

- Page 3, end of last line, the word "the."
- Page 4, end of line 4 (in quote), the word "their."
- Page 6, end of third line from bottom (not including footnote), the word "Wilson."
- Page 6, end of second line from bottom, "eg."
- Page 6, last line, the number 55.

These errors do not affect the substance of the arguments in the Motion.

I will be happy to provide a corrected motion upon request, but possibly this letter may avoid the confusion of having two different versions of the motion in circulation. Should the Court request a corrected version, I would appreciate the opportunity then to correct any other typographical errors that may be identified.

I regret any inconvenience to the Court. I am mailing and emailing this letter to counsel for the other parties today.

Respectfully,

J. Emery Smith, Jr.
Deputy Solicitor General
Counsel for the Attorney General

The Honorable Jenny Abbott Kitchings
