The Honorable Jenny Abbott Kitchings
Clerk of Court
South Carolina Court of Appeals

Appellant Case No. 2017-002514

Ms. Kitchings,

On April 02 Appellant was advised by this Court that Appellants Caption/title for Appellants Initial Brief was to be corrected. On April 12-18 Appellant was advised by this Court that Appellant was to file a Motion to Amend Appellants Initial Brief and to file the Documents within 10 days.

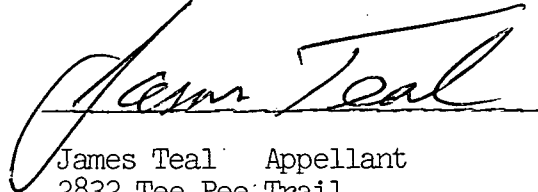

On April 04-18 Appellants word processor stopped functioning properly and was placed in Business Machines Exchange for repair. In serch for someone to help Appellant located Ms.Gwen Bunch and Ms.Mary Kay Blalock. These ladies had no legal or Paralegal experience, tried their best, but Appellant receive very little to help the situation. Appellant could'nt wait any longer as Appellants processor was still down. Herein is a copy of one claim stub for original processor and one receipt for a IBM Selectric II. All of the above has been a great challenge for Appellant and Appellant wants to thank the Court and your office for the desire of the Appellant to get this Matter back on the proper course.

With the Courts Consent, Appellant will file a Motion to Amend Appellants Initial Brief, Caption and Title and also Appellants Designation of Matter.

In responce to Counsel for Respondant, to have Appellants case dismissed for Appellants case is in Limbo and a error in filing of Appellants first Motion. Appellants learned definition of Limbo, is it not where "the innocent are waiting to be judged." The error in the filing was done under duress. A error corrected is not a mistake.

Ms. Kitchings, Appellant has also attached herein a copy of an envelope that was to be addressed to Counsel for the Respondant. This shows vividly what was happening to help substantially in the equipment problem.

Respectfully Submitted
