Laurel Springs Subdivision Lot 4 (LC portion)
DATE: March 19, 2014

Per your direction, I have completed researching Lexington County tax records as requested by Ms. Kim Murphy regarding the parcel referenced above and the parent parcel (TMS 000800-01-003) from which it was derived in the creation of Laurel Springs Subdivision effective tax year 1998. Records searched include the current ADG system for tax years 1999 through 2013 and historical copies of the Treasurer's Tax Digest for tax years 1977 through 1998. The tax information requested by Ms. Murphy is listed below.

RE: Richland/Lexington County Boundary

Dear Councilman Rose-

A question has been asked as to why the residential structure located at 154 Old Laurel Lane, Chapin, SC, also shown on tax map number R00600-01-36, continues to be valued and assessed by Richland County, when there are several other sources that indicate that the structure in question is located in Lexington County.

The maps that are maintained by our office are for the purpose of real property valuation and assessment. However, there are other departments, such as Voters Registration, GIS, Zoning, etc that use our land records, as their base map for a variety of purposes. For the real property boundaries that our office maintains, we rely on very specific legal descriptions and certified and recorded plats to create and maintain each unique parcel.

For the parcel in question, R00600-01-36, since 1997, our office has relied on the most current legal description that was included with a deed that transferred the sole interest in the property in question to D. Jay Murphy on August 21, 1997. This deed was recorded in book D1402-Page 723 at the ROD. This deed also referenced a plat prepared by a SC licensed surveyor and that plat was recorded in plat book 56-page 8112 at the ROD office in April of 1997. From reviewing both the legal description included with the deed and the certified plat, the property lines, as drawn by Richland County appear correct. For our office to change or modify the boundaries of this parcel, we would need a revised legal description and/or certified and recorded plat to make those changes and our office is not aware of the existence of any such document or documents.

It is my understanding that there have been two rulings that indicate that Mrs. Murphy's primary residence is in Lexington County. However, no one has provided our office with any recorded documents, such as a certified and recorded plat and/or legal description that would direct our office on the exact location of the new boundaries of the parcel. And because this is not just a matter of the size and shape of a specific parcel, but rather a county boundary dispute, our office is required to follow the steps defined in §27-2-105 of the SC Code, which specifically outlines the process of clarifying county boundaries and in §27-2-105(A)(2), it states that "If there is a boundary dispute between two or more counties, the SCGS (South Carolina Geodetic Survey) shall act as the mediator to resolve the dispute."

One of the first steps in §27-2-105 in resolving a boundary dispute is for the South Carolina Geodetic Survey (SCGS) to "analyze...and perform field surveys geographically to position all county boundaries in accordance with statutory descriptions." From a meeting that our office had with the SCGS in March of 2016 and letter dated January 11, 2013 addressed to Mr Robert W. Gantt, Chairman Board of Trustees for Richland Lexington School District 5 from Bobby M. Bowers, Director of the Division of Research and Statistics for the SC Budget and Control Board, it seems apparent that this first step has been completed. The SCGS has identified all the landmarks that are described in detail in §4-3-460 of the SC Code. This section of Code from Chapter 3, Title 4 – Boundaries of Existing Counties – defines Richland County's boundaries. However, SCGS has not completed the next step and it is unclear of the timeline when SCGS will begin the next step, which is to ".. certify its work and within thirty days of that certification:"

1. Provide copies to the administrator of each affected county.
2. Provide written notification to affected parties.
3. Provide notice and copies to the public through its official website or other means it considers appropriate and
4. Notify as it determines appropriate other affected state and federal agencies.

It is also important to note that §27-2-105(A)(4) states that "...a certification for all or some portion of a county boundary means a plat signed and sealed by a licensed South Carolina Professional Land Surveyor and approved by the Chief of the SCGS." As of August 19, 2016, neither the Assessor's office nor Administration has received certification or a plat that has been signed and sealed by a licensed surveyor and approved by the Chief of the SCGS.

Once there is a certified plat and the four steps listed above have been completed, §27-2-105(B)(1) allows for an appeal period and any affected party "may file a request for a contested case hearing with the South Carolina Administrative Law Court..." Affected parties that would be allowed to appeal are:

1. The governing body of the affected county
2. The governing body of a political subdivision of this State, including a school district, located whole or in part in the certification zone.
3. An elected official, other than a statewide elected official, whose electoral district is located in whole or in part in the certification zone.
4. A property owner or an individual residing in the certification zone
5. A nonresident individual who owns or leases real property situated in the certification zone.

As soon as the certified boundary has moved through the steps above and is no longer the subject of appeal, the SCGS will provide the certification and legal description to the General Assembly to amend the county boundary, as defined in §4-3-460. Once General Assembly has amended the boundary that is the subject of this inquiry, our office will be able to amend the record to reflect the re-established line.

In closing, I can easily understand how anyone from outside of our office could visualize this as something that easily rectifiable, as there is visible evidence that supports the opinion that the residential structure at 154 Old Laurel Lane is in Lexington County, but unfortunately our office, as well as Lexington County, has to have accurate geographic coordinates that define specific points on the county boundary, so our office can accurately and correctly redraw/remap the re-established Richland/Lexington

County line and until we received the decree from the General Assembly, we would be acting outside of the directives of §27-2-105.

I hope that by providing the specific steps outlined in §27-2-105 that must occur, before our office can revise a county line and the fact that our office is not in possession of any type of certified documents directing us to re-establish the County line between Richland and Lexington County, I have provided some clarity, as to why our office has not been able to act in an expeditious manner on this specific situation.

Very Truly Yours,

Liz McDonald

Kim Murphy came into the office and completed Voter Registration forms if forced to move. She is up for school board filing in August, and if she gets removed from Richland County Voter list, I can register her here. I would not do that unless all were in agreement from State elections to State Mapping.

Will, from a discussion with her Friday.... that Judge Thomas was a hearing officer, and she does not want to move until a Judge decides her location. Attached is the Appeal I did not register her in Lexington yet, but she did bring in her registrations in time to be registered and if found that she is a Lexington resident, I will back date and register her.

I do not know who this Judge Cooper is and whether he is a "judge" or just a hearing office. I am sure she received advice from her attorney on his Can you research, and let us know who we need to speak with to hopefully get this settled

Kim said Bobby had also stated that she was in Lexington, and you were working to finalize the actual boundary HELP!!!!

Hi Dean,

Thanks for your assistance today.

As discussed, attached is my Appeal. We are awaiting for a court date.

Just to confirm... the voter registration applications present to you today from my family and me are provisional. In other words, we reside in Richland county and will be voting in Richland County, where we are registered and having been voting ever since we moved into our home in 2000 unless a judge in a court of law rules (before the Primary) that we reside in Lexington County. If a judge rules that we reside in Lexington County and not in Richland County, we will then be permitted to vote in Lexington County.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Thanks again!

Just an FYI.....this is raising its head again.....this was Kim Murphy and there was a question as to the county she lived in.. ..Judge's ruling said she was in Lexington, so I sent her a letter stating our office availability to help her.

Will Roberts, at Bobby Bowers office sent both counties a copy of the Judge's ruling.

She was resistant to District 5 building a school that was not really needed, and it would have covered up a stream or wetlands that is supposing protected....someone call the school board and protested her being a representative from Richland County, the boundary concern has been the issue for several years Judge ruled and now I understand that she is appealing the ruling. I just wanted to ensure she was aware that Lexington was doing all we could to get her registered.

She also came into the office a few weeks back and had questions about registration. Have not heard a peep from her between then and now. That is why I sent the letter yesterday stating what we will do in Lexington. I sent the letter her to the disputed address

Judge, 5th Judicial Circuit- Retired/Active

BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF SCHOOL DISTRICT FIVE OF LEXINGTON AND RICHLAND COUNTIES	))))	IN RE: KIM MURPHY RESIDENCY

Findings and Recommendations of
G. Thomas Cooper, Jr.
Hearing Officer Presiding

This matter comes before me as a result of a request by the Lexington Richland County Board of School Trustees, District Five (District Five), to inquire into and conduct a hearing to determine the location of the legal residence of Mrs. Kim Murphy. Mrs. Murphy presently sits as member of the Board of Trustees from Richland County. The disputed issue is whether Mrs. Murphy actually resides in Richland or Lexington County. The enabling statutes have strict residency requirements for sitting on the combined Board of Trustees for each of these contiguous counties. A hearing was conducted by me at 10:00 a.m. on Friday February 15, 2013 at the District Five Board Room, 1020 Dutch Fork Road, Irmo, South Carolina.

Appearing at the hearing, which was properly noticed to the parties, the public and the press, were Robert W. Gannt, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and the Board's counsel, Mr. Kenneth L. Childs and Mr. John M. Reagle of Childs & Halligan Neither Mrs. Murphy nor her counsel made an appearance

The Board has the statutory authority to remove a Board member from the Board. Pursuant to S.C. Act No. 601 of 1994 (Lexington) and Act No. 141 of 1969 (Richland), the Board exercises all of the powers and has all of the duties and obligations of both a Board of Trustees under S.C. Code § 59-19-10, et seq. and of a County Board of Education under S.C. Code § 59-15-10 et seq.

Included among the Board's other powers and obligations is the power to remove a Board member for cause upon notice and an opportunity to be heard by the Board. S.C. Code Ann. § 59-19-60; 2005 WL 1609288, *3 (S.C.A.G. June 27, 2005) ("the board of trustees of Lexington-Richland District Five would now most probably possess the authority to remove a board member pursuant to the procedures specified in § 59-19-60."); 2008 WL 1960281 (S.C.A.G. Apr. 2, 2008). This code section provides: "School district trustees shall be subject to removal from office for cause by the county board of education . . ." Any such removal order, however, must specify the grounds for removal, the manner of notice, and the manner of hearing accorded the removed member. Further, a Board member removed from office has the right to appeal her removal to the Court of Common Pleas.

In addition to this statutory authority, the South Carolina Constitution, Article III, § 27 provides that "officers shall be removed for incapacity, misconduct, or neglect of duty, in such a manner as may be provided by law, when no mode of trial or removal is provided in this Constitution". No mode of trial or removal is specified in the South Carolina Constitution relative to school board members. Consequently, the General Assembly's authorization of school boards to remove trustees from office is wholly appropriate, lawful, and consistent with the Constitution, as long as "cause' for removal is limited to those grounds specified in the Constitution, i.e., incapacity, misconduct, or neglect of duty. See, State v. Seigler, 94 S.E. 2d 231 (S.C. 1956); 2005 WL 1609288 (S.C.A.G. June 27, 2005).

As the Attorney General's Office has repeated several times in opinions, the term "cause" in such statutes has a legal meaning, i e., > for reasons which the law and sound public policy recognize as sufficient warrant for removal, that is, legal cause, and not merely cause which the appointing power in the exercise of discretion may deem sufficient. ... The cause must relate to and affect qualifications appropriate to the office ... and must be restricted to something of a substantial nature directly affecting the rights and interests of the public.

2005 WL 1609288, *3 (S.C.A G. June 27, 2005) (quoting 63C Am.Jur.2d § 183 (1997)), 2008 WL 2614992 (S.C.A.G. June 13, 2008), 2007 WL 655619 (S.C.A.G. Feb 16, 2007) and 2006 WL 2382449 (S.C.A.G. July 19, 2006).

Here, the Board contends Mrs. Murphy's lack of residency in Richland County would constitute incapacity to hold a seat on the Board for which residency in Richland County is mandated by statute, Act 326 of 2002. Consequently, legal cause for removal exists if she is not a resident of Richland County.

Mrs. Murphy's residence is 154 Old Laurel Lane, which is east-southeast of Chapin, SC, and west of Interstate 26. With Geographic Information System (GIS) tools a residence at that location can be located which corresponds to land transaction and assessor records referencing Lot 4 of "Final Subdivision Plat of Laurel Springs" dated April 4, 1997 (Exhibit 13), ("1997 Plat"). On the 1997 Plat there is an "Approx. County Line," which line also appears to have been incorporated into Richland County's own tax mapping computer database. Richland County has levied property taxes on the parcel containing Mrs. Murphy's residence, and Richland County has granted "elector" status to Mrs. Murphy. See, S.C. Const. Art. VII, § 9.

However, Lexington County, the United States Geological Service, and the U.S. Census Bureau all have other county boundary lines in the area that are meant to denote the boundary between the counties near Mrs. Murphy's residence (Exhibit 10).

In South Carolina, the General Assembly alone has the power to set or change a county boundary. S.C. Const. Art. VII, §§ 7, 12 S.C. Const. Art. VIII, § 2. However, counties also depend on self-generated or self-maintained maps or surveys for various county purposes. But,

> In the absence of statutory authority, a county may survey its boundaries for the temporary guidance of its officers, but a survey

so made is not binding on the adjoining county nor on the public generally

20 C.J.S. Counties § 29 (emphasis added). Location of a disputed boundary line is a question of fact. Williams v. Moore, 733 S.E.2d 224, 230 (S.C. App. 2012). Neither Richland County nor Lexington County can establish or move a county boundary – the boundaries must be set by the General Assembly. Errors in an unauthorized map (there does not appear to have been a survey done by either county) cannot change a legislated boundary line.

The boundary of Lexington County is established by S.C. Code § 4-3-370 and that of Richland County by S.C. Code § 4-3-460. Both of these sections reference "a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford" which is shown on "the plat of said property, completed on November 25, 1921, by W.A. Counts and J.C. Wessinger, surveyors, said plat being filed in the office of the Secretary of State." Id. This plat, a true copy of which was submitted into evidence (Exhibit 8) is "[a]n ancient survey, [which] if made by competent authority, recorded or accepted as a public document, and produced from property custody is admissible in evidence without further verification to prove the location of a boundary line." 12 Am. Jur. Boundaries § 109. Not only is the survey proof of the boundary line itself, it has been adopted by the General Assembly itself as such. C.f., Marsha v. Richland County, 62 S.E. 4, 6 (S.C. 1908). Interestingly, the 1997 Plat (Exhibit 13) itself shows Rocky Ford, but the "Approx. County Line" on the 1997 Plat does not run through Rocky Ford. Obviously, a map or survey that does not show the county line in this vicinity passing through a feature called Rocky Ford, particularly when there is a feature called Rocky Ford on the same plat, should not be considered competent proof of the actual county line. One or the other is out of place on the 1997 Plat.

Testifying before me were two witnesses, Mr. Bobby M. Bowers, Director of the Division of Research and Statistics of the South Carolina Budget and Control Board, and Sidney

C. Miller, former Chief of South Carolina Geodetic Survey. Mr. Miller also works on a part time basis for Mr. Bowers' agency and is a licensed professional surveyor.

South Carolina statues give the Geodetic Survey the responsibility and authority to coordinate mapping activities within the State to insure consistent, accurate, and reliable county and state maps for a myriad of purposes. (See S C. Code Ann. §27-2-85, §27-2-9 and §27-2-10).

Both Mr. Bowers and Mr. Miller testified that there is "absolutely" no doubt that Mrs. Murphy's residence at 14 Old Laurel Lane is located in Lexington County. They arrive at these separate conclusions from three different sources. (1) The U.S. Census Block database, (2) official voting precinct maps maintained by the Division of Research and Statistics and (3) the South Carolina Code of laws which recites the statutory boundries for Richland and Lexington Counties. All three sources place Mrs. Murphy's residence in Lexington County. There is no survey matching the statutory description of the boundaries of Richland or Lexington Counties. Of the three sources relied upon by the witnesses, my decision relies most heavily on the statutory description of the boundaries of Lexington and Richland Counties. The fact that the South Carolina code sections 4-3-370 & 4-3-460 refer to a common geographic feature "a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford" is conclusive to me (Exhibit 8 and 9). The fact that Mr. Miller was able to find Rocky Ford on the ground, exactly where it is described to be in the statute, (Exhibit 14) makes my decision even more conclusive.

In my opinion there is clear and convincing evidence that Mrs. Murphy's residence at 15 Old Laurel Lane, Chapin is in Lexington County. There has been no evidence submitted to me to the contrary.

The voter registration cum "elector" status of Mrs. Murphy is irrelevant, because the office of Trustee of the Board carries with it the express statutory requirement that, in addition to being an elector, the Trustee must be resident "[n]otwithstanding another provision of law." S.C. Act 326 of 2002, § 9. The Act requires that "three trustees must reside in Richland County and four must reside in Lexington County." The phrase "must reside" is in the present tense.

"[A]s to offices established only by legislative acts, the General Assembly may prescribe other and additional qualifications which are reasonable in their requirements." McLure v. McElroy, 44 S.E.2d 101, 108 (S.C. 1947). Here the General Assembly created an express and continuing "must reside" requirement, which it was free to do with this statutory office.

Mrs. Murphy's status as an "elector" registered by the officials of Richland County is therefore irrelevant, as is Richland County's ad valorem taxation of the property on which the residence is situated. Both of these factors are matters of Richland County's administration of its internal duties, and not within the purview of this hearing or the Board's determination of "cause" for removal due to failing to meet the continuing "must reside" requirement.

The map or whatever other method that Richland County uses to allow elector registration and to impose ad valorem tax are both examples of the principle noted above, that "[i]n the absence of statutory authority, a county may survey its boundaries for the temporary guidance of its officers, but a survey so made is not binding on the adjoining county nor on the public generally." 20 C.J.S. Counties § 29. The Attorney General has observed that "the fact that an individual is registered to vote in a particular county strongly indicates (but is not dispositive of the fact) that he is a resident of that county." 2008 WL 903972 (S.C.A.G. Mar. 31, 2008) (emphasis added).

Not only does Mrs. Murphy's residence in Lexington County deprive her of the qualification for the office, but the disqualification of a Trustee under a mandatory statutory residency requirement specially imposed by the General Assembly is "something of a substantial nature directly affecting the rights and interests of the public." 2005 WL 1609288, *3 (S.C.A.G. June 27, 2005). In adopting S.C. Act 326 of 2002, § 9, the General Assembly transferred one of seven Board seats from Lexington to Richland counties – in fact this was the only portion of the Act that passed Justice Department "preclearance" under the Voting Rights Act. The purpose of the move was to accommodate the changing balance of population in the two portions of the District to comply with Constitutional one-man-one-vote requirements for local representation, whereby, "[i]f voters residing in oversize districts are denied their constitutional right to participate in the election of state legislators, precisely the same kind of deprivation occurs when the members of a city council, school board, or county governing board are elected from districts of substantially unequal population." Avery v Midland County, Tex., 390 U.S. 474, 480-81 (1968). The very purpose of the Act was to assure Richland County the constitutionally required level of representation on the Board.

In addition to the concern that Mrs. Murphy apparently did not qualify to represent Richland County at the time of her election, there is now the present and ongoing concern that she is not answerable to the Richland County electors once it is established that she is not qualified by residency to be one of their three trustees. "Area representation is a familiar form of local representative government. ... The purpose is to give each and every part of the city or town representation. 'Such legislative plan is modeled in accordance with the national and state systems. It is designed to render the council a popular branch and keep it more directly in touch with the people.'" Gaud v. Walker, 53 S.E.2d 316, 327 (S.C. 1949) (quoting, McQuillen, Municipal Corporation, 2d Ed., Volume 2, § 598).

The Board has fiscal autonomy, i.e., the power to set its own operating millage within the general law's limitations Besides being a governmental power requiring compliance with one-man-one-vote rules. the South Carolina Supreme Court has also noted that the "taxing power is one of the highest prerogatives of the General Assembly. Members of this body are chosen by the people to exercise the power in a conscientious and deliberate manner. If this power is abused, the people could, at least, prevent a recurrence of the wrong at the polls." Crow v. McAlpine, 285 S.E.2d 355, 358 (1981). Similarly, the exercise of the Board's taxing and other governmental powers and duties, see, e.g., S.C. Code Ann. § 59-19-90 (inter alia to provide suitable schoolhouses, employ and discharge teachers, control educational interest of the school district, and transfer and assign pupils), must also be done in a conscientious and deliberate manner, and those who exercise it must be subject to the public's ability to have some supervisory control over their representatives through elections to the office of Trustee.

Should Mrs. Murphy remain a member of the Board of Trustees, numerous potential negative legal problems could arise for District Five. Bonding authorities may not be willing to issue bonds based on Mrs. Murphy's vote. Suspensions or dismissal of district personnel, or students may be questionable based on Mrs. Murphy's vote. Can her presence be counted for existence of a quorum? Could Mrs. Murphy represent the district at a public forum or at statewide meetings? Could she be elected Chairperson of the Board given the irrefutable evidence that she does not meet the "must reside" provision of the statute? These and any other issues should give District Five Board of Trustees grave concerns. In my opinion the only appropriate course of action is to recognize the existence of "cause" under S.C. Code § 59-19-60, thus granting the Board the power to proceed with the removal process as outlined in the statute.

The entire county boundary has not been completed, but the issue with Mrs. Murphy has been settled as far as we are concerned. Under Judge Thomas Cooper's ruling it was determined that she is a resident of Lexington County If you have anyone close to the line, let us know and we will research it for you. From what I learned from talking to Richland County is that she is still a registered voter in Richland County because the Voter Registration Office will not remove her from the books. They are disregarding the judge's ruling at the advice of their legal counsel

If she files to run in Richland County, I expect another suit to be filed and cost the taxpayers more money in legal fees

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA COUNTY OF RICHLAND	IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT CASE NO. 2014-CP-40-4666
Kim Murphy, Plaintiff, v. Richland-Lexington School District 5 Board of Trustees, Robert Gantt, and Bobby Bowers, in their individual capacities Defendant.	AFFIDAVIT OF RONNIE L. TYLER

PERSONALLY, appeared before me, Ronnie L. Tyler, who, being duly sworn, deposes and says:

1. That I have provided an expert opinion in the above captioned matter by way of written report and oral testimony.

2 By way of this affidavit I wish to supplement and clarify several points of discussion in my report and oral testimony.

3. I was questioned about my experience and/or certifications regarding geodetic surveying during my deposition. I would like to clarify that my education includes training in geodetic surveying. I am licensed as a Professional Land Surveyor in the State of South Carolina, thus I am authorized to provide geodetic surveying services.

4. I have extensive experience in retracement of title boundaries and retracement of boundaries of plats of survey. On some property surveys, I surveyed control from geodetic control monuments and the measurements on the survey were reported on the plat of survey as true horizontal ground measurements.

JLC&A-K.Murphy012659

5. An example of geodetic control I surveyed would be for the numerous retracement surveys I made in 1998 on Thomas Island in Berkeley County, while I was employed by Cornerstone Surveying and Engineering. The plats of surveys were recorded in Berkeley County RMC and consisted of property for a proposed railroad project for the SC State Ports Authority.

6. In 2008, after my employment with Cornerstone, I also surveyed a geodetic control on the Boundary Survey and Site Survey Condominium Plan – Horizontal Property Regime on the Shem Creek Dry Stack Storage and Marina in Mount Pleasant, Charleston County.

7. By way of explanation, a geodetic survey is a survey of a large area of land in which the curvature of the earth is taken into account in the measurements. A network of control monuments has been established around the states that are surveyed on geodetic control. Datum on these control monuments can be obtained from the National Geodetic Survey. Surveyors using the control monuments and geodetic datum can survey geodetic control on properties they are surveying. Geodetic control is sometimes established on property surveys and measurements on the plat of survey are reported as true horizontal ground measurements.

8. This is the case on the report by SCGS labeled "On the orthophotography" Exhibit Dist 9, 2-15-13 (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012099,012100) that was presented at the Hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper. The report states that based on fieldwork in 1995, the coordinate for the point surveyed to be Rocky Ford is N1908571.158, E847532.742 (SC State Plane Coordinate, NAD 83-86). Although the Rocky Ford point is a geodetic survey point; the two lines tending northwest and southwest from the GPS surveyed Rocky Ford point are horizontal ground measurements and not geodetic survey lines.

9. I reviewed numerous documents and instruments in forming my opinion, and I discussed the same in my written opinion that I previously provided. In my review, I found that the only geodetic surveying work done concerning the location of Mrs. Murphy's property occurred when Mr. Bowers' team tried to position the Rocky Ford point in 1995 by surveying the intersection of the center of the road crossing Wateree Creek and the center of the creek. The plats of surveys by the original surveyors, in 1910, 1912, 1921, that created the Richland and Lexington County boundaries and the measurements in the Code of Laws are all horizontal ground measurements and are not geodetic surveys. The plats of survey prepared by Lucius D. Cobb, Sr. PLS for the Murphy's property report horizontal ground measurements and do not report any geodetic surveying. In my opinion to accurately locate the county boundary, a person must follow in the footsteps of the original surveyors surveying the boundaries on the ground using the same methods of survey to discover evidence to document the location of the original boundaries.

10. During my deposition, I was shown two aerial maps said to be created by Mr. Zupan – one was sent to Richland and Lexington Counties previous to the hearing before Judge Cooper and another that was proffered as Hearing Exhibit 10 during the proceeding before Judge Cooper. Mr. Miller and Mr Bowers testified during the hearing that the lines depicted in red on Exhibit 10 was the true Richland and Lexington county lines for the purposes of determining the location of Mrs. Murphy's residence. Mr. Miller and Mr. Bowers also testified during the hearing before Judge Cooper that the azimuths indicated in Mr. Bower's letter to Mr. Gantt, proffered as Hearing Exhibit 2, represent the true locations of the lines as depicted in red on Exhibit 10; however, I submit that the azimuths clearly do not correlate with the lines as depicted in red on Exhibit 10.

11. Mr. Bower's letter to Mr. Gantt, proffered as Hearing Exhibit 2, report that the northwest trending line segment has an azimuth of 343 degrees for a distance of 9405 feet and the southwest trending line segment has an azimuth of 243 degrees for a distance of 3920 feet. The azimuths on the map sent to the counties previous to the hearing before Judge Cooper graphically represent the azimuths as reported in Mr. Bower's letter to Mr. Gantt, Exhibit 2. The azimuths of the red lines on the map presented as hearing Exhibit 10 during the hearing before Judge Cooper graphically the northwest trending line segment has an azimuth of 337 degrees and graphically the southwest trending line segment has an azimuth of 237 degrees. This discrepancy supports that the location of the lines were changed.

12. After I visited the stake that is located on the Spott property, I compared the location of the physical stake with the Spott property plat, deed and other documentation. As a result of this research, it is my opinion that the stake is at the point shown on the Richland County GIS system as the southwest end corner of the county boundary that passes through the Murphy's property. As a surveyor, the stake on the Spott property is ground evidence that should be considered in the resurvey of the county boundary. It is the normal standard of care for a surveyor who is doing a retracement resurvey for an existing boundary to research and investigate ground evidence and markers on record surveys relating to the boundary being surveyed. In the location of the Richland and Lexington county boundaries that were presented on the maps in the hearing before Judge Cooper; Mr. Miller nor Mr. Bowers reported that any property surveys of record had been researched or considered.

13. As stated in my written and oral opinion I believe when it concerned Mrs. Murphy's property, the standards and measurements used by Mr. Bowers' team did not meet the standard of care that is required of a surveyor, does not locate the true retracement of the point at Rocky Ford or the location of the original survey boundary for the Richland and Lexington county lines.

The two lines trending northwestward and southwestward from Rocky Ford are based on acts from 1913 and 1921

Southwestward line:

1913 February 13: Act No. 68—An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Certain Portion of Lexington County to Richland County, and to Alter the County Lines of Said Counties to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1913, Vol.28, p.107-111).

"Beginning at a stake on the Richland-Lexington county line, 878 feet north of a stake marking the point where the arc of a circle with an eight-mile radius from Lexington Court House as a center intersects a line bearing N. 42°30' W. and running as follows: West 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 5.000 feet to a stake; thence S. 80° W. 5,541 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 28' W. 10,618 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 750 feet to a pine; thence N. 34° 45 W. 10,491 feet to a stake; thence N. 22° E. 914 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 5' W. 1,313 feet to a stake; thence N. 13°45' E. 2,597 feet to a stake; thence N 56°35' E 3,920 feet to a point at Rocky Ford, on Wateree Creek; thence the Richland-Lexington county line to the beginning point."

This description was incorporated into §42 of The Code of Laws of South Carolina 1922, Volume III, p.286 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary.

It was included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §34 in the 1922 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law.

Northwestward line:

1921 March 11: Act No. 551—An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Portion of Lexington County to Richland County and to alter the County Lines so as to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1921, Vol.32, p.977-981)

"All that certain piece of land containing 8,900 acres, or fourteen square miles, situate in the northeastern part of Lexington County on the Broad River, and being bounded and delineated as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on said Broad River, and running south 41 W. 82.51 chains to a stake: thence turning and running S. 32 1/2 W. 160.65 chains to a stake, thence running along a creek which empties into Wateree Creek 42 24 chains to a stake; thence running to a point where said creek joins Wateree Creek 71.51 chains, thence running along said Wateree Creek 94 chains, thence turning and running S. 23 E. 142 50 chains to a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford, thence turning and running northerly along Slice Creek 164 chains, thence turning and running easterly along Wateree Creek 305.00 chains to the point of entrance of Wateree Creek and Broad River, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along Broad River 410 chains, ..."

The plat of the property described above was completed on November 25, 1921, by W.A. Counts and J.C. Wessinger, Surveyors, and was filed in the Secretary of State's office. On the plat Wateree Creek is apparently mislabeled as Slice Creek.

This description was incorporated into §3015 in the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1932, Volume II, pp. 475-476 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary.

It was included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §3007 in the 1932 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law.

At the request of Geo. McLeon and others, legally authorized to direct this work, we have made a survey of that portion of Lexington County which it is proposed to annex to Richland County; this being the extreme northern end of Lexington County, and having such shape, bounds, and area as shown on the above Plat. This survey was completed November 25. 1921.

On the orthophotography:

Based on fieldwork in 1995, the coordinate for the point determined to be Rocky Ford is N1908571.158, E847532.742 (SC State Plane Coordinate, NAD 83-86)

The two lines trending northwestward and southwestward from Rocky Ford are based on acts from 1913 and 1921.

Southwestward line:

1913 February 13: Act No. 68--An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Certain Portion of Lexington County to Richland County, and to Alter the County Lines of Said Counties to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1913, Vol.28, p.107-111).

"Beginning at a stake on the Richland-Lexington county line, 878 feet north of a stake marking the point where the arc of a circle with an eight-mile radius from Lexington Court House as a center intersects a line bearing N. 42°30' W. and running as follows: West 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 80° W. 5,541 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 28' W. 10,618 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 750 feet to a pine; thence N. 34° 45' W. 10,491 feet to a stake; thence N. 22° E. 914 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 5' W. 1,313 feet to a stake; thence N. 13°45' E. 2,597 feet to a stake; thence N 56°35' E. 3,920 feet to a point at Rocky Ford, on Wateree Creek; thence the Richland-Lexington county line to the beginning point."

This description was incorporated into §42 of The Code of Laws of South Carolina 1922, Volume III, p.286 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary. It was not included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §34 in the 1922 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law which read only that Lexington County is bounded on the northeast and east by Richland County.

To plot the 1913 line bearing N 56° 35' E. on 2008 orthophotography, the bearing had to be corrected for the change in magnetic declination from 1913 to 2008. The corrected bearing expressed as an azimuth southwestward from Rocky Ford is 242° 44' 53". The length of the line is 3920 feet as stated in the statute.

Northwestward line:

1921 March 11: Act No. 551--An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Portion of Lexington County to Richland County and to alter

the County Lines so as to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1921, Vol.32, p.977-981)

"All that certain piece of land containing 8,900 acres, or fourteen square miles, situate in the northeastern part of Lexington County on the Broad River, and being bounded and delineated as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on said Broad River, and running south 41 W. 82.51 chains to a stake, thence turning and running S. 32 1/2 W. 160.65 chains to a stake, thence running along a creek which empties into Wateree Creek 42.24 chains to a stake; thence running to a point where said creek joins Wateree Creek 71.51 chains, thence running along said Wateree Creek 94 chains, thence turning and running S. 23 E. 142.50 chains to a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford, thence turning and running northerly along Slice Creek 164 chains, thence turning and running easterly along Wateree Creek 305.00 chains to the point of entrance of Wateree Creek and Broad River, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along Broad River 410 chains, ..."

The plat of the property described above was completed on November 25, 1921, by W.A. Counts and J.C. Wessinger, Surveyors, and was filed in the Secretary of State's office. On the plat Wateree Creek is apparently mislabeled as Slice Creek.

This description was incorporated into §3015 in the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1932, Volume II, pp. 475-476 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary. It was not included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §3007 in the 1932 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law which read only that Lexington County is bounded on the northeast and east by Richland County.

To plot the 1921 line bearing S. 23° E. on 2008 orthophotography, the bearing had to be corrected for the change in magnetic declination from 1921 to 2008. The corrected bearing expressed as an azimuth northwestward from Rocky Ford is 342° 53' 53". The length of the line is 142.50 chains (9405 feet) as stated in the statute.

Chairman, Board of Trustees
Richland Lexington School District 5
1020 Dutch Fork Rd.
Irmo, SC 29063

Dear Mr. Gantt,

Per your request we have reviewed the county location of the residence of Ms. Kim Murphy, who currently represents Richland County on the Board of Trustees of School District Five of Richland and Lexington Counties. Our review was based on the address of 154 Old Laurel Ln., Chapin, SC 29036. This information was obtained through the South Carolina State Election Commission voter registration database.

We used three sources to determine the county location of Ms. Murphy's residence: 1. the U.S. Census Bureau, 2. Precinct maps on file with this office based on codified law, and 3. Research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey.

The U.S. Census Bureau PL94-171 database shows Ms. Murphy's address as being located in U.S. Census Block 450630212042059. This puts Ms. Murphy in the State of South Carolina in Lexington County in Tract 021204 in Block 2059 Based on the database, the entire street of Old Laurel Ln. is located in Lexington County.

The next analysis we conducted was based on the official precinct maps on file with our office. As established in §1-11-360 our office serves as the focal point for verifying official precinct information for the counties and serves as the official repository for precinct maps. The map on file with this office (P-63-10) show Ms. Murphy is a resident of Lexington County and should be voting in the Lexington County Chapin precinct for House District 85, Senate District 18, and Lexington County Council District 6. In addition to Ms. Murphy's address it has come to our attention that another address located on Old Laurel Ln. is also located in the incorrect county, voting in the incorrect precinct and election districts.

The third source is research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey. Section 4-3-450 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976 defining the Richland County boundary states that Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek is a point on the Richland-Lexington county boundary. GPS was used to determine the coordinates for Rocky Ford. From Rocky Ford, one boundary line segment bears northwest and another bears southwest. The northwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford to its intersection with Risters Creek has an azimuth of 343° for a distance of 9405 feet. The southwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford has an azimuth of 243° for a distance of 3920 feet. Plotting this information on orthophotography demonstrates that Ms. Murphy's house is in Lexington County – about 0.1 mile northwest of the boundary.

All three sources show that Ms. Murphy is a resident of Lexington County. Act No. 326 of 2002 requires that four members be elected from the Lexington County portion of the school district and three members are to be elected from the Richland County portion of the district. As Ms. Murphy was elected in 2010 for a seat in Richland County while residing in Lexington County she is and was not qualified to hold her position for which she has been elected. If Ms. Murphy desires, she may run for a seat for the Lexington County portion of School District Five at the next general election.

Sincerely,

Bobby M. Bowers

Re: School District Five of Lexington and Richland Counties

Dear Mr. Bowers

I am writing to you as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of School District Five of Lexington and Richland Counties. It has come to my attention, from sources which I deem reliable, that Board member Kim Murphy, who currently represents Richland County on the Board of Trustees of School District Five, is not in fact a resident of Richland County as specifically required by Act No. 326 of 2002. As you may be aware, such rumors have been around for some time.

The purpose of my letter is to request that the South Carolina State Budget and Control Board Office of Research and Statistics make a determination as to whether or not Ms. Murphy resides in Richland County, as required by law, and whether she is, in fact, a resident of Richland County legally qualified to represent Richland County on the School District Five Board.

Thank you for your assistance with this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

Mr. Robert W. Gantt
Chairman, Board of Trustees
Richland Lexington School District 5
1020 Dutch Fork Rd.
Irmo, SC 29063

Dear Mr. Gantt,

Per your request we have reviewed the county location of the residence of Ms. Kim Murphy, who currently represents Richland County on the Board of Trustees of School District Five of Richland and Lexington Counties. Our review was based on the address of 154 Old Laurel Ln., Chapin, SC 29036. This information was obtained through the South Carolina State Election Commission voter registration database.

We used three sources to determine the county location of Ms. Murphy's residence: 1 the U.S. Census Bureau, 2. Precinct maps on file with this office based on codified law, and 3. Research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey.

The U.S. Census Bureau PL94-171 database shows Ms. Murphy's address as being located in U.S. Census Block 450630212042059. This puts Ms. Murphy in the State of South Carolina in Lexington County in Tract 021204 in Block 2059. Based on the database, the entire street of Old Laurel Ln. is located in Lexington County.

The next analysis we conducted was based on the official precinct maps on file with our office. As established in §1-11-350 our office serves as the focal point for verifying official precinct information for the counties and serves as the official repository for precinct maps. The map on file with this office (P-63-10) show Ms. Murphy is a resident of Lexington County and should be voting in the Lexington County Chapin precinct for House District 85, Senate District 18, and Lexington County Council District 6. In addition to Ms. Murphy's address it has come to our attention that another address located on Old Laurel Ln. is also located in the incorrect county, voting in the incorrect precinct and election districts.

PLAINTIFF'S EXHIBIT 5 Bowers 12-1815

The third source is research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey. Section 4-3-460 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976 defining the Richland County boundary states that Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek is a point on the Richland-Lexington county boundary. GPS was used to determine the coordinates for Rocky Ford. From Rocky Ford, one boundary line segment bears northwest and another bears southwest. The northwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford to its intersection with Risters Creek has an azimuth of 343° for a distance of 9405 feet. The southwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford has an azimuth of 243° for a distance of 3920 feet. Plotting this information on orthophotography demonstrates that Ms. Murphy's house is in Lexington County – about 0.1 mile northwest of the boundary.

All three sources show that Ms. Murphy is a resident of Lexington County. Act No. 326 of 2002 requires that four members be elected from the Lexington County portion of the school district and three members are to be elected from the Richland County portion of the district. As Ms. Murphy was elected in 2010 for a seat in Richland County while residing in Lexington County she is and was not qualified to hold her position for which she has been elected. If Ms. Murphy desires, she may run for a seat for the Lexington County portion of School District Five at the next general election.

Sincerely,

Bobby M. Bowers

Dear Mr. Bowers:

Your letter of January 11, 2013 to the Richland County Elections and Voter Registration office has been reviewed and assessed. While I appreciate your efforts and the research you provided, we are unaware of any authority this office has to unilaterally make the revision you request. Please provide any statutory authority you think may be relevant and we would be glad to revisit the issue. Until that time, however, this office will be unable to remove these persons from the list of registered voters in Richland County

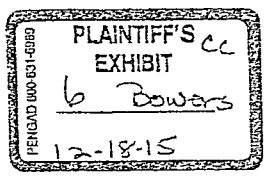
Mr. Jasper Salmond
Interim Executive Director
Richland County Voter Registration and Elections
P.O. Box 192
Columbia, SC 29202



Dear Mr. Salmond,

In a recent request from Robert Gantt, Chairman of the Richland Lexington School District Five Board of Trustees we were reviewing a residential addresses along the Lexington and Richland County boundary. In our review, we discovered multiple addresses of voters that are currently registered to vote in Richland County that actually reside inside of Lexington County. These voters are currently voting in the incorrect precinct and election districts. The two addresses are 154 Old Laurel Ln., Chapin, SC 29036 and 195 Old Laurel Ln., Chapin, SC 29036.

We used three sources to determine the county location of these addresses: 1. the U S. Census Bureau, 2. Precinct maps on file with this office based on codified law, and 3. Research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey.

The U.S. Census Bureau PL94-171 database shows both addresses as being located in U.S. Census Block 450630212042059. This puts them in the State of South Carolina in Lexington County in Tract 021204 in Block 2059. Based on the database, the entire street of Old Laurel Ln. is located in Lexington County.

The next analysis we conducted was based on the official precinct maps on file with our office. As established in §1-11-360 our office serves as the focal point for verifying official precinct information for the counties and serves as the official repository for precinct maps. The map on file with this office (P-63-10) show these addresses as being in Lexington County and should be voting in the Lexington County Chapin precinct for House District 85, Senate District 18, and Lexington County Council District 6.

The third source is research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey. Section 4-3-460 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976 defining the Richland County boundary states that Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek is a point on the Richland-Lexington county boundary. Plotting this information on orthophotography demonstrates that both addresses are in Lexington County.

We ask that you take appropriate action to resolve this issue by notifying the voters that they are registered to vote in the incorrect county and need to be registered to vote in Lexington County so that they may be placed in the correct precinct and election districts in which they reside. Thanks for your help in this matter.

On the orthophotography:

Based on fieldwork in 1995, the coordinate for the point determined to be Rocky Ford is N1908571.158, E847532.742 (SC State Plane Coordinate, NAD 83-86)

The two lines trending northwestward and southwestward from Rocky Ford are based on acts from 1913 and 1921.

Southwestward line:

1913 February 13: Act No. 68--An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Certain Portion of Lexington County to Richland County, and to Alter the County Lines of Said Counties to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1913, Vol.28, p.107-111).

"Beginning at a stake on the Richland-Lexington county line, 878 feet north of a stake marking the point where the arc of a circle with an eight-mile radius from Lexington Court House as a center intersects a line bearing N. 42°30' W. and running as follows: West 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 80° W. 5,541 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 28' W. 10,618 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 750 feet to a pine; thence N. 34° 45' W. 10,491 feet to a stake; thence N. 22° E. 914 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 5' W. 1,313 feet to a stake; thence N. 13°45' E. 2,597 feet to a stake; thence N 56°35' E. 3,920 feet to a point at Rocky Ford, on Wateree Creek; thence the Richland-Lexington county line to the beginning point."

This description was incorporated into §42 of The Code of Laws of South Carolina 1922, Volume III, p.286 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary. It was not included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §34 in the 1922 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law which read only that Lexington County is bounded on the northeast and east by Richland County.

To plot the 1913 line bearing N 56° 35' E. on 2008 orthophotography, the bearing had to be corrected for the change in magnetic declination from 1913 to 2008. The corrected bearing expressed as an azimuth southwestward from Rocky Ford is 242° 44' 53". The length of the line is 3920 feet as stated in the statute.

Northwestward line:

1921 March 11: Act No. 551--An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Portion of Lexington County to Richland County and to alter

the County Lines so as to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1921, Vol.32, p.977-981)

"All that certain piece of land containing 8,900 acres, or fourteen square miles, situate in the northeastern part of Lexington County on the Broad River, and being bounded and delineated as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on said Broad River, and running south 41 W. 82.51 chains to a stake; thence turning and running S. 32 1/2 W. 160.65 chains to a stake; thence running along a creek which empties into Wateree Creek 42.24 chains to a stake; thence running to a point where said creek joins Wateree Creek 71.51 chains, thence running along said Wateree Creek 94 chains, thence turning and running S. 23 E. 142.50 chains to a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford, thence turning and running northerly along Slice Creek 164 chains, thence turning and running easterly along Wateree Creek 305.00 chains to the point of entrance of Wateree Creek and Broad River, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along Broad River 410 chains, ..."

The plat of the property described above was completed on November 25, 1921, by W.A. Counts and J.C. Wessinger, Surveyors, and was filed in the Secretary of State's office. On the plat Wateree Creek is apparently mislabeled as Slice Creek.

This description was incorporated into §3015 in the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1932, Volume II, pp. 475-476 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary. It was not included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §3007 in the 1932 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law which read only that Lexington County is bounded on the northeast and east by Richland County.

To plot the 1921 line bearing S. 23° E. on 2008 orthophotography, the bearing had to be corrected for the change in magnetic declination from 1921 to 2008. The corrected bearing expressed as an azimuth northwestward from Rocky Ford is 342° 53' 53". The length of the line is 142.50 chains (9405 feet) as stated in the statute.

REQUEST FOR EXTENSION OF TIME TO FILE
South Carolina Individual Income Tax Return

SC4868
(Rev 4/5/10)
3506

File Electronically www.sctax.org

File a South Carolina extension through SCnetFile Zero and balance due extensions are accepted Pay any balance due by credit card or Electronic Funds Withdrawal (EFW). We accept Visa and MasterCard There is no additional charge for paying your balance due by credit card

If you pay your balance due by Electronic Funds Withdrawal (EFW), funds are automatically withdrawn from your checking or savings account based on the payment date you select EFW is also a FREE service to taxpayers.

Who May File:
Use SC4868 to request an extension of time to file SC1040 Individual Income Tax return for
(1) individual income taxpayers, or
(2) nonresident shareholders of an S corporation, or
(3) nonresident partners of a partnership or LLC.

When to File:
File this request ON OR BEFORE April 15th, or before the original due date of your fiscal year return. If the due date for filing your return falls on a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, substitute the next regular working day This extension will allow you an additional six months to file your return.

If You Filed a Federal Extension:
If no income tax is anticipated to be due and you have been granted a federal extension of time to file a federal income tax return, the department will accept a copy of the federal extension. In this case, you do not need to send SC a copy of the federal form by the due date of the tax return.

How To File:
File your extension and pay your balance due on-line at www.sctax.org. Or file a paper form SC4868 Mail the original with payment if any. Keep two copies: one copy should be attached to the back of your return when it is filed, and the other should be retained for your records

This extension cannot be processed without proper Social Security Number(s) for individuals or Employer Identification Number for S corporations or partnerships.

Geoff,

Have you had a chance to mention the Murphy / Burriss problem to Rick yet? Not sure how to handle this but sure don't want it to slip between the cracks. We've had about all the bad publicity we can stand for one year... Whatever we're going to do needs to happen in the month of August in order to be reflected on our tax bills for 2013.

Thanks,

Hi Geoff,

Mapping Manger is the job title and yes there are other duties, ha... I guess mainly other than regular parcel updates we make annexation changes, calculate agricultural use values, etc I, as in me, myself and I am also responsible for issuance and collection of rollback taxes. Other than that it just a walk in the park.. .. I'm sure I missed something ..

On another note, before taxes go out this year we should get Mrs. Kim Murphy and Moffatt Burriss off of Richland and on to Lexington's tax rolls. I think my boss has talked with Rick about this. We may not have enough info to start changing lines around but we should at least get those two parcels billed correctly. Any thoughts?

Hey Lee
How are you doing? Had a question for you about your office's organization. Are you and the tax mappers just responsible for maintaining the parcels? Or do you have other duties? Also, what is your title? Thanks, just doing a quick survey..

SECTION 4-3-460. Richland County.

Richland County is bounded on the north by Fairfield County, from which it is separated by new boundary lines set forth and specifically described in the location and boundary of Fairfield County; on the east by Kershaw County and Sumter County from which it is separated by the Wateree River; on the south by Calhoun County; on the west by Lexington County, from which it is separated by a line beginning on the Congaree River where the counties of Lexington and Richland meet on the southern division thereof, and running thence with the Congaree River to where the confluence of the Broad and Saluda Rivers unite to form the Congaree, and following the thread of Saluda River about two and one-half miles to a concrete boundary marker; thence in a northwesterly direction upon the circumference of a circle having Lexington courthouse as its center, with a radius of not less than eight miles and a deflection of 1° 21' for every one thousand feet, to a concrete boundary marker on the eastern boundary line of the town of Irmo; thence along the boundary line of the town of Irmo to the northeast corner of the town; thence west along the northern boundary of the town of Irmo 2,260 feet to a stake located thereon; thence along the circumference of the circle first described 11,360 feet to a stake; then N. 42° 30' W. 878 feet; thence west 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 80° W. 5,541 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 28' W. 10,618 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 750 feet to a pine; thence N. 34° 45' W. 3,491 feet to a stake; thence N. 22° E. 914 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 5' W. 1,313 feet to a stake; thence N. 13° 30' E. 2,597 feet to a stake; thence N. 56° 35' E. 3,920 feet to a point on Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek; thence north, northeast and east along the Wateree Creek to where it empties into Broad River. To the above-described area of Richland County is to be added all that territory transferred from Lexington County by act approved March 1, 1922, to wit: all that certain piece of land containing 8,900 acres, or 14 square miles, situate in the northeastern part of Lexington County on the Broad River, and being bounded and delineated as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on the Broad River, and running S. 41° W. 82.51 chains to a stake; thence turning and running S. 32.5° W. 160.65 chains to a stake; thence running along a creek which empties into Wateree Creek 42.24 chains to a stake; thence running to the point where said creek joins Wateree Creek 71.51 chains; thence running along Wateree Creek 94 chains; thence turning and running S. 23° E. 142.50 chains to a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford; thence turning and running northerly along Slice Creek 164 chains; thence turning and running easterly along Wateree Creek 305.00 chains to the point of entrance of Wateree Creek and Broad River; thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along Broad River 410 chains, said piece of land being bounded on the west by Newberry County, on the south and southwest by Lexington County, on the south by Richland County, and on the east and north by the Broad River, being more particularly known as the plat of said property, completed on November 25 1921, by W.A. Counts and J C. Wessinger, surveyors, said plat being filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

SECTION 27-2-105. Clarification of county boundaries; role of South Carolina Geodetic Survey; contested case hearings.

(A)(1) Where county boundaries are ill-defined, unmarked, or poorly marked, the South Carolina Geodetic Survey on a cooperative basis shall assist counties in defining and monumenting the locations of county boundaries and positioning the monuments using geodetic surveys. The South Carolina Geodetic Survey (SCGS) shall seek to clarify the county boundaries as defined in Chapter 3, Title 4. The SCGS shall analyze archival and other evidence and perform field surveys geographically to position all county boundaries in accordance with statutory descriptions. Physical and descriptive points defining boundaries must be referenced using South Carolina State Plane Coordinates.

(2) If there is a boundary dispute between two or more counties, the SCGS shall act as the mediator to resolve the dispute.

(3) Upon reestablishing all, or some portion, of a county boundary, the SCGS shall certify its work and within thirty days of that certification:

(a) provide copies to the administrator of each affected county;

(b) provide written notification to affected parties;

(c) provide notice and copies to the public through its official website and or other means it considers appropriate; and

(d) notify as it determines appropriate, other affected state and federal agencies.

(4) For purposes of item (1), a certification for all or some portion of a county boundary means a plat signed and sealed by a licensed South Carolina Professional Land Surveyor and approved by the Chief of the SCGS.

(B)(1) An affected party disagreeing with a boundary certified by the SCGS may file a request for a contested case hearing with the South Carolina Administrative Law Court according to the court's rules of procedure. An affected party has sixty calendar days from the date of a written notice sent to the affected party to file an appeal with the Administrative Law Court.

(2) As used in this subsection an "affected party" means:

(a) the governing body of an affected county;

(b) the governing body of a political subdivision of this State, including a school district, located in whole or in part in the certification zone;

(c) an elected official, other than a statewide elected official, whose electoral district is located in whole or in part in the certification zone;

(d) a property owner or an individual residing in the certification zone;

(e) a business entity located in the certification zone; or

(f) a nonresident individual who owns or leases real property situated in the certification zone.

(3) A "certification zone" means the actual territory in which the boundary certification changes from one affected county to another.

(4) The decision of the Administrative Law Court may be appealed as provided in Section 1-23-610.

(5) The certified county boundary plat described in subsection (A)(4) of this section takes effect for all purposes on the date provided in item (6).

(6) When the certified boundary plat is no longer subject to appeal, the SCGS under cover of a letter signed by the Chief of the SCGS shall provide an appropriate revised boundary map to the Secretary of State, the South Carolina Department of Archives, and the register of deeds in each affected county. The date of the SCGS director's cover letter is the date the revised boundaries take effect.

(7) When all portions of a county boundary are resolved, the SCGS shall prepare a unique boundary description for counties with boundaries affected by the operation of this section and forward that description in a form suitable for the General Assembly to amend county boundaries as described in Chapter 3, Title 4.

(C) Nothing in this section may be construed as limiting or in any way restricting the plenary authority of the General Assembly by legislative enactment to adjust or otherwise clarify existing county boundaries, however, these boundaries may have been established.

CHAPTER 2
Coordinate System for Defining Location of Points Within State

SECTION 27-2-10. System adopted; title.

The system of plane coordinates which has been established by the National Ocean Survey and the National Geodetic Survey for defining and stating the positions or location of points on the surface of the earth within this State may be cited as the "South Carolina Coordinate System Act."

For the purpose of the use of this system the State is designated as one zone.

HISTORY: 1979 Act No. 54, Section 1; 1989 Act No. 32, Section 1.

SECTION 27-2-20. Zone title for use in land descriptions.

As established, the South Carolina Coordinate System is named, and in a land description in which it is used it is designated, the "South Carolina Coordinate System."

HISTORY: 1979 Act No. 54, Section 1; 1989 Act No. 32, Section 1.

SECTION 27-2-30. Plane coordinates for expressing position of point defined.

The plane coordinates of a point on the earth's surface, to be used in expressing the position or location of a point in the State, consist of two distances, expressed in feet and decimals of a foot. One of these distances, to be known as the easting (x-coordinate), gives the distance in an east-and-west direction; the other, to be known as the northing (y-coordinate), gives the distance in a north-and-south direction. These coordinates must be made to depend upon and conform to the coordinates, on the South Carolina Coordinate System, of the monumented points of the North American Horizontal Geodetic Control Network as published by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey (now the National Geodetic Survey) within this State as those coordinates have been determined by the survey.

HISTORY: 1979 Act No. 54, Section 1; 1989 Act No. 32, Section 1.

SECTION 27-2-50. Coordinate System defined

For purposes of more precisely defining the South Carolina Coordinate System, the following definition by the National Ocean Survey and the National Geodetic Survey is adopted:

The South Carolina Coordinate System is a Lambert conformal projection of the North American Datum, 1983, having standard parallels at north latitudes 32° 30' and 34° 50', along which parallels the scale must be exact The origin of coordinates is at the intersection of the meridian 81° 00'west of Greenwich and the parallel 31° 50' north latitude. This origin is given the coordinates: * = 2,000,000 feet and y = 0 feet. For the purposes of the South Carolina Coordinate System, the foot is the International Foot with one inch being exactly equal to 2.54 centimeters.

The position of South Carolina Coordinate System is as marked on the ground by monumented points of the North American Horizontal Geodetic Control Network established in conformity with standards adopted by the Federal Geodetic Control Committee for first-order and second-order work, whose geodetic positions have been rigidly adjusted on the North American Datum of 1983, and whose coordinates have been computed on the system defined in this section. Any such stations may be used for establishing a survey connection with the South Carolina Coordinate System.

HISTORY: 1979 Act No. 54, Section 1; 1989 Act No 32, Section 1.

RECEIVED
RICHLAND COUNTY
ASSESSOR'S OFFICE

Mr. Jasper Salmond
Interim Executive Director
Richland County Voter Registration and Elections
P.O. Box 192
Columbia, SC 29202

Dear Mr. Salmond,

In a recent request from Robert Gantt, Chairman of the Richland Lexington School District Five Board of Trustees we were reviewing a residential addresses along the Lexington and Richland County boundary. In our review, we discovered multiple addresses of voters that are currently registered to vote in Richland County that actually reside inside of Lexington County. These voters are currently voting in the incorrect precinct and election districts. The two addresses are 154 Old Laurel Ln., Chapin, SC 29036 and 195 Old Laurel Ln., Chapin, SC 29036.

We used three sources to determine the county location of these addresses: 1. the U.S. Census Bureau, 2. Precinct maps on file with this office based on codified law, and 3. Research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey.

The U.S. Census Bureau PL94-171 database shows both addresses as being located in U.S. Census Block 450630212042059. This puts them in the State of South Carolina in Lexington County in Tract 021204 in Block 2059. Based on the database, the entire street of Old Laurel Ln. is located in Lexington County.

The next analysis we conducted was based on the official precinct maps on file with our office. As established in §1-11-360 our office serves as the focal point for verifying official precinct information for the counties and serves as the official repository for precinct maps. The map on file with this office (P-63-10) show the addresses as being in Lexington County and should be voting in the Lexington County Chapin precinct for House District 85, Senate District 18, and Lexington County Council District 6.

The third source is research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey. Section 4-3-30 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976 defining the Richland County boundary states that Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek is a point on the Richland-Lexington county boundary. GPS was used to determine the coordinates for Rocky Ford. From Rocky Ford, one boundary line segment bears northwest and another bears southwest. The northwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford to its intersection with Risters Creek has an azimuth of 343° for a distance of 9405 feet. The southwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford has an azimuth of 243° for a distance of 3920 feet. Plotting this information on orthophotography demonstrates that both addresses are in Lexington County.

We ask that you take appropriate action to resolve this issue by notifying the voters that they are registered to vote in the incorrect county and need to be registered to vote in Lexington County so that they may be placed in the correct precinct and election districts in which they reside. Thanks for your help in this matter.

Sincerely,

Bobby M. Bowers

RE: Kim Murphy- TM#00600-01-36

Dear Tony,

As you know, there has been some controversy in the upper part of the county as it relates to the Lexington and Richland County line The difficulty became that Kim Murphy was on the School Board, and there was a lawsuit brought forward saying she didn't live in Richland, but she actually lived in Lexington County. The matter was heard by a local judge and much has been made in the newspaper.

The South Carolina Geodetic Survey has made a finding that the property that is cared in Richland County, owned by the Murphy's should be in Lexington County. This has dragged on for approximately two years and we still continue to tax the property in Richland County.

The Geodetic Survey has established the line, but before they make the legislative recommendation to the General Assembly, they wish to correct the line from Irmo to Broad River Road. They have done the work; it's a matter of getting it into legal language and then of course, pass by the General Assembly. The purpose of this letter is that Mr. M.A. Bishop has been dogging this issue through Roxanne and myself as well as a Council Member; Seth Rose. Perhaps it would be in the best interest of the two counties for Richland County Administrator to talk to the Lexington County Administrator and get them to agree to take the property and for us to relinquish it. I have talked with Rick Dolan at least six-months ago and I get lip service but there is no decision. However, if it got escalated up to your level, then something would happen. At least we can say we tried.

I would appreciate your reviewing the letter that I wrote to Mr. M.A. Bishop and factor in my request to see if it's possible that we move forward on giving the property to Lexington County.

Thank you in advance for your prompt attention.

Sincerely,

RE: Richland County Boundary Issue

Dear Mr. M.A. Bishop,

As you know, South Carolina by the Code of Laws has a description of each and every county. That description is delineated under Section 4-3-460. This definition was initially completed in the 1800's but there have been annexations of property from Fairfield and Lexington Counties, according to Section 4-3-460, particularly "known as a plat of said property completed on November 25, 1921 by W.A. Counts and J.C. Wessenger, Surveyor."

The dispute about where the Murphy property was located was based on the legal description delineated under the code. It is a matter of looking at Rocky Ford Creek and making a correction or a delineation of where the line actually is. The larger issue is that line that runs from Irmo to the Broad River. The State Geodetic Survey has been working diligently to do the proper work to make that line from Irmo to Broad River as correct as possible. However; the Geodetic Survey has been working diligently to create the line at Jocassee Gorge, which is the boundary between North Carolina and South Carolina. This has been on-going for more than 20 years. Additionally, there has been a problem with Georgia and South Carolina line, which the Geodetic Survey provides help and assistance in determining the boundary.

The property at Rocky Ford Creek and the Irmo, Broad River line was certainly important to each and every person involved in the matter, however in terms of priority; it had a lower priority than Jocassee Gorge. Sid Miller who works with the Geodetic Survey has a work history of more than 30 years in doing the monumentation of Richland County, which gave us accurate first order monumentation geodetic control. As well as, Alan Zupont of the Geodetic Survey, who are the primary people we have worked with regarding Rocky Ford Creek. The Geodetic Survey has made a finding, there has been a hearing before of a Judge who has ruled that the information from the geodetic survey was correct, but the matter has not been finalized. The larger issue as it relates to changing state law is fundamentally attempting to identify the line from Irmo to Broad River Road and once and for all getting a legal description that would be a clarification of the existing line. Then, it can be placed into law, which would clear up questions as it relates to the line. By clarifying this under State Law, then it will make it clear for surveyors and business developers to have a point that is accurate and to rely on It is not a Richland County initiative; it is an initiative of the Geodetic Survey to be able to have a complete and definite definition that is accurate.

I spoke with Sid Miller on Thursday, December 5, 2013 and if you have any interest you can certainly contact him and they will be happy to share with you the information they have developed in order to make this line correct. They are trying to be helpful to everyone.

I hope this explanation is clear to you, we are simply trying to take information from the Geodetic Survey, which is relayed to us and you asked the question and I tried to give you the appropriate answer. But if you feel you need to contact Sid Miller or Alan Zupon, please feel free. Once the matter is cleared up and it is legal, we are going to make the changes to our records.

Thanks Will and Dean,

Ralph has received a call from Alan-Jon asking whom to address. Ralph did say, call me. We are eager to get the file. We have citizens asking who are very concerned. We want to hear and see much more on this. Of course when we get the file we will start to work it into our county boundary file.

Please ask Alan-Jon to keep us in the loop.

Dean,

Our Geodetic staff has been in contact with Ralph Ford in Lexington County He will serve as the representative for Lexington on the boundary issue. The plan is to have our staff research and reconstruct the boundary and get input from both Lexington and Richland counties. Once the survey has been done, it is up to the counties to make the changes This is where things get interesting. Thanks to Home Rule and the way the laws are written, we do not have the authority to make the counties accept what we find or make changes. Down in Dorchester and Berkeley counties we had to settle a boundary issue and neither county acted on what we gave them It was just a waste of time on our end. I plan on getting with Sid to discuss having legislation introduced to establish a county boundary commission that will look into these issues, but I don't know if it will go anywhere. The project is going to take a lot of time to do and I think we may have a hard time getting the issue finished by November because both counties are going to have to agree and there will be many parcels that will need to be split and tax money swapping between the counties

From what I gather form the hearing Friday concerning the school 5 trustee, Richland and Lexington needs to get the correct county lines, as to settle the boundary concern, and also the voters, but more for correct county of residence.... .

Our GIS is ready to update any boundaries, can you send the correct boundaries to both counties as to get all our databases updated.... as this November there are municipal elections in Irmo and Chapin..... .

My name is Ronnie L. Tyler, I am an adult over the age of eighteen and competent to make the statements contained herein. I am making the statements set forth herein based upon my own personal knowledge and/or belief.

I am a professional surveyor licensed to practice in the state of South Carolina and have been for more than 30 years.

I have been qualified and certified to serve as an expert witness in the fields of surveying, land surveying, and title abstraction in cases before the Courts of Common Pleas in the State of South Carolinaon several previous occasions.

I offer this report as an expert witness licensed to practice land surveying in South Carolina.

I am attaching my curriculum vitae to this report as Appendix (1). The Appendices and exhibits incorporated by reference herein, or which I may later incorporate by way of a supplemental report are made a part and parcel hereof, the same as if set out in the text of this report.

Land surveying includes the study and application of boundary and real estate laws. Surveyors establish and/or retrace the boundary lines and corners of the property being surveyed in accordance with appropriate boundary laws and principles governed by the set of facts and evidence found in the course of performing the research and survey.

In preparation for providing this report, I have made a review of the Transcript and Exhibits of the Hearing before The Honorable G Thomas Cooper on Friday, February 15, 2013 as well as other documents, title and boundary history of the property that is the subject of this case.

I intend to supplement this report with a reference index of the items reviewed and/or referenced herein.

Based on my independent review and analysis of the hearing transcript, survey plats, boundary descriptions, aerial photographs, and other documents, facts and circumstances, as currently known to me, it is my opinion, within a reasonable degree of certainty that:

- The maps, prepared by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey division of the South Carolina Budget and Control Board's Division of Research and Statistics, presented by Bobby Bowers, Director of the South Carolina Budget and Control Board's Division of Research and Statistics and Sid Miller PLS of the South Carolina Geodetic Survey in the Hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, are compile maps, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012080, 012082, 012084, 012086, 012101, 012103, 012120),

- The maps, by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012101, 012103, 012120), presented at the Hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper are not plats of survey or maps of survey and do not report the accurate location of the existing Richland and Lexington County boundary by a Land Surveyor's boundary retracement survey of the Richland and Lexington County boundary;
- GPS was used, by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey to determine the coordinates of the intersection, of the center of an existing road and the center of Wateree Creek, as being the location of the point at Rock Ford, without doing any other surveying. There is nothing in the Code of Laws South Carolina 1976 (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012092, 012093, 012094) nor the plat of survey November 25, 1921 (JLC&A-K, Murphy 012090) that specifies, indicates, or shows any road crossing the creek at the point on the boundary called at Rocky Ford;
- The point called Rocky Ford shown as being the control point held for the placement of the corner of the Richland and Lexington County Boundary by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey on the maps presented at the Hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012101, 012103, 012120), was not documented by any evidence of survey to be the point at Rocky Ford called in the Code of Laws South Carolina 1976, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012092, 012093, 012094), or as being the point at Rocky Ford shown on the plat of survey November 25, 1921, (JLC&A-K, Murphy 012090);
- The Plat of Survey completed on November 25, 1921, by W. A. Counts and J. C. Wessingter Surveyors, the said plat being filed in the office of the Secretary of State, (JLC&A-K. Murphy 012090, 01003), and referenced in the Code of Laws South Carolina 1976, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012092, 012093, 012094), is of a survey made for the subdivision of 8900 Acres being proposed to be annexed from Lexington County to Richland County. This plat of survey does not report a survey of the Richland and Lexington County boundary, located to the southwest of the point at Rocky Ford, and therefore does not provide a survey of the Richland and Lexington County boundary crossing the Murphy's property;

- The Plat of Survey completed on November 25, 1921, by W. A. Counts and J. C. Wessingter Surveyors, (JLC&A-K. Murphy 012090, 01003), was the only plat of survey showing the Richland and Lexington County boundary, presented at the Hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, as having been used by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey in their location of the Richland and Lexington County boundary. While, this plat of survey clearly reports measurement from Broad River and measurements from the Newberry County boundary to the point at Rocky Ford, shown on the survey plat on the Richland and Lexington County boundary, no surveying was done to verify that the point shown as Rocky Ford on the maps, by South Carolina Geodetic Survey, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012101, 012103, 012120), was the same point reported on this survey plat, (JLC&A-K. Murphy 012090, 01003);
- The azimuths reported in the hearing as being for the boundaries from Rocky Ford are not the same bearings that are reported for these boundaries in the Code of Laws and is not the same bearing reported on the old plat of survey that created the Richland and Lexington County boundary north from the point at Rocky Ford.

- The South Carolina Geodetic Survey division of the South Carolina Budget and Control Board's Division of Research and Statistics had only the authority to assist counties in clarifying and determining the location of county boundaries. The SCGS findings were not binding on the counties as the SCGS did not have any authority to enforce the SCGS's locations of the county's boundaries until June 9, 2014, with the approval into law of the act to amend section 27-2-105, Code of Laws of South Carolina and only then by the procedures specified in that revised code.
- All Surveyors who practices surveying in South Carolina shall comply with the Standards of Practice provided in the State of South Carolina Code of Regulations Chapter 49, Article 4.
- The maps by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012101, 012103, 012120), presented at the Hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, are misleading in that there is not a statement on the maps listing the source of the data and there is not any statement on the maps that the maps do not represent a land survey.
- Section 27-2-105 amended June 9, 2014 provides the authority and procedures, including notice, that the SCGS must follow and requires that a certification for all or some portion of a county boundary, shall be on a plat of survey signed and sealed by a licensed South Carolina Professional Land Surveyor and approved by the Chief of the SCGS.
- The Richland County and Lexington County boundaries were created by numerous ground surveys and plats of survey made by different SC Land Surveyors, which boundaries were confirmed in the Code of Laws for South Carolina in past years. The SCGS failed to provide sufficient research of plats of survey or documents to provide the necessary history of the Richland County and Lexington County boundaries that would be necessary for an accurate determination of the location of the Richland County and Lexington County boundaries.

I reached my opinion by detail review and analysis of the hearing transcript, survey plats, boundary descriptions, aerial photographs, history of the creation of the Richland County and Lexington County boundary, Code of Laws of South Carolina and other documents applying accepted real estate case laws and procedures and practices in surveying for retracement and surveying of boundary:

Azimuths

Bobby Bowers reported in his letter of January 11, 2013, (JLC&A-K. Murphy 012078), that the Richland and Lexington County boundary has a northwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford with an azimuth of 343 degrees, and southwest–trending line segment from Rocky Ford, with an azimuth of 243 degrees. Sid Miller gave testimony as a witness in the hearing, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012038, 012039, 012040, 012041, 012042, 012043), confirming that the lines illustrated by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey on Exhibit 9, map, (JLC&A-K. Murphy 012101), and "On the orthophpotography", (JLC&A–K Murphy: 012009 012100), are the boundaries for Richland and Lexington County and that the line going up and west from Rocky Ford has an azimuth of 343 degrees, and that the line down and toward the southeast from Rocky Ford has an azimuth of 243 degrees and that these lines and azimuths are the same as in the statute. However, I find that an azimuth of 343 degrees = a bearing of S 17 degrees E whereas the statute, Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012093, 012094), reports a bearing from the northwest to a point in Slice Creek, known as Rocky Ford of S 23 degrees E 142.50 chains, and the November 25, 1921 plat of survey, (JLC&A-K. Murphy 012090), reports the same line as being S 22 degrees E 142.50 chains, which plat is referenced in the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976 as a part of the statue. This 1-degree difference of the bearing for the length of the line reported at a distance of 142.50 chains (being 9405 feet) would move the end point of the line 164.15 feet; I find that an azimuth of 243 degrees = a bearing N 63 degrees E, which also would be southwest from the point at Rock Ford, whereas the statute, Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976 (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012093, 012094), reports a bearing from the southwest into a point on Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek as N 56 degrees 35 minutes E 3,920 feet; these difference in bearings were not reported or explained in the hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper.

Bearing Magnetic

While the bearings, in the Code of Law South Carolina 1976 for Richland County and Lexington County, are magnetic bearings they were not all measured at the same location or point in time and therefore are not directly related to the same magnetic force or conditions. Without knowing the location and time that a magnetic measurement was taken, correct declination cannot be applied to determine its relationship to True North.

So what is declination? A compass points along the line of magnetic force. The angle between the direction of magnetic force and the direction of geographic North Pole, being True North, is called the declination. In that the earth's magnetic field varies over time, the position of the north magnetic pole gradually changes. As a result of the change in the magnetic field, the magnetic declination at a given location also changes over time. The amount of change is not constant, but is subject to daily fluctuations more or less in a systematic pattern. Within any one-day fluctuations can be expected to be as much as 7 minutes, and during magnetic disturbances, magnetic storms, the variation may be more than 1 degree. Local attraction from other local ferrous metal can affect the needle of a compass when a magnetic bearing is measured. Magnetic ore deposits, plus items such as eyeglass frames, belt buckle, watch, survey equipment, rifles, side arms, knifes, rusty barbed wire fences within 15 to 20 feet, new wire fence within 20 to 25 feet, automobile with 50 feet, railroad tracks within 75 feet, culverts or pipelines (26 to 36 in. diameter) within 100 feet and other ferrous metals can affect the needle of a compass. Combined with daily fluctuations of declination, potential magnetic storms and local magnetic attractions illustrate the potential inaccuracy of compass surveys. Most early land surveys in the United States were made using a compass. This is most likely the case with the November 25, 1921 Plat of Survey, (JLC&A-k. Murphy: 012090), that was presented by Sid Miller in the hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper. Since the development of surveying equipment that is superior to a compass, many surveyors only take a magnetic reading on one line of a survey for a base direction of reference control. Other lines in these surveys are measured by angle surveying relating to the magnetic reading that was measured. This is most likely the case on the surveying reported on the plat of survey of April 4, 1997 by Lucius D. Cobb, Sr. Surveyor, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012119), which plat was presented by Sid Miller in the hearing. Declination can be determined in several ways to compare the direction of a line to a time other than when the magnetic reading was measured, as long as the place and time of the measurement of the original magnetic bearing is known. It is very difficult to calculate local attraction errors in the measurement of a past magnetic bearing; therefore no declination can normally be made for local attraction. Today's surveyors know that the compass is not an instrument of the highest accuracy and that applying declination to a bearing provides only results that are an approximate direction of the magnetic bearing. Declination applied to a magnetic bearing of an old survey may help a surveyor to locate other evidence in the retracement of a boundary line. An adjusted magnetic bearing in and of itself alone is not normally considered accepted surveying procedure or suffusion evidence for the retracement of the location of a boundary line.

Declination has to be applied to a magnetic bearing measured on a line to plot that line on an orthophoto map. In the hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, no report was presented of any calculations of declination having been made by SCGS on the magnetic bearings in the Code of Laws South Carolina 1976; reported as being plotted on the orthophoto maps, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012101, 012103, 012120), or to the April 4, 1997 Plat of Survey, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012119), by Lucius D. Cobb, Sr. Surveyor reported to be overlaid on the orthophoto map, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012120). Additionally, no control point was reported as having been used to position this April 4, 1997 plat of survey, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012119), on the orthophoto map, ((JLC&A-K Murphy: 012120).

Compiled Maps

The maps, prepared by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey division of the South Carolina Budget and Control Board's Division of Research and Statistics presented in the Hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, are compile maps, (JLC&K. Murphy: 012080, 012082, 012084, 012084, 012101, 012103, 012120). These maps are not plats of survey or maps of survey and do not report a land surveyor's boundary retracement survey of the Richland County and Lexington County boundaries. To clarify that they are compile maps and not plats of survey, by a land surveyor, a disclaimer and source of data should have been placed on the maps. SC Code of Regulations Chapter 40 Article 4 requires land surveyors to display a statement on drawings they create, such as compile maps, that the document does not represent a land survey. A boundary plat of survey or map of survey of real property used, for the purpose of depicting the result of a field survey, is required to show all essential data pertaining to the boundary and must be signed and sealed by the surveyor. Surveyors are required to report, on the plat of survey, all evidence used for determining the location of the boundary surveyed, to describe in detail, all existing property markers and to replace any missing corner markers. It is clear that the maps presented as having been prepared by the SCGS, (JLC&A-K Murphy: 012101, 012103, 012120), do not meet the requirements of a plat of survey.

SC Code of Regulations Chapter 40 Article 4

49-430 C. Definitions:

(17) Compiled Maps: A map drawn from previously recorded or unrecorded documents, photographic material or tax maps which represent the general configuration of the parcel where partial or no actual surveying has been performed by the land surveyor preparing the map.

(29) Plat: A Diagram drawn to scale showing all essential data pertaining to the boundaries and subdivisions of a tract of land, as determined by a survey and must be signed and sealed by the surveyor.

(31) Map of Survey, Plat of Survey, Survey for or other Similar Titles: Any drawing of a parcel or tract of real property used for the purpose of depicting the results of a field survey...

49-460. Survey Types and Requirements. A. General Property Surveys:

(p) The Land Surveyor shall retrace the boundaries of the property being surveyed and set or reset monuments or corners consistent with the class of survey and accepted practices of boundary retracement. All monuments found or placed must be described in detail on the survey plat or drawing, with data given to show their location upon the ground in relation to the boundaries lines...

(y) Maps prepared partially or entirely from reference or source data, such as compiled maps, do not represent land surveys as defined herein, and shall be clearly marked accordingly. Compiled maps must have a prominently displayed statement that the said document does not represent a land survey and is unsuitable for deeding of property or recordation.

Sid Miller stated in his testimony, at the Hearing of February 15, 2013 before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012037 Pg.50:11-21), "That's generally the procedure that we – you know, this is not what you would call a traditional survey where you get on the ground and run traverse around. But it's generally accepted -- the procedure we did with GPS is standard accepted GPS procedure for that – positioning that point. And then the research and the preliminary work we did on putting those two red lines up there would be generally accepted procedure for doing that kind of project."

In my opinion, if the project was to determine the correct location of the previously surveyed record boundary of the Richland and Lexington County boundaries, the reported procedures failed to meet the minimum standard of care required of a surveyor. The research presented did not provide the necessary documents required for a surveyor to retrace the location of the previously surveyed boundaries. Placement of the location of County's boundaries, using only magnetic bearing from the Code of Laws, does not accuracy locate the Richland and Lexington boundaries, as created by previous surveys, and is not accepted surveying boundary retracement procedure. All of the boundaries being reported on the orthophoto map, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012103), should coincide with each other as they are all suppose to be the same locations of the Richland and Lexington County boundaries. Instead none of the boundaries are shown to be in the same location. The Richland County GIS line is the only boundary accepted by the Counties and enforced under the County's Authority. The ends of the red lines, that were reported as being the boundaries of Richland and Lexington County from the Code of Laws of South Carolina delineated by the SCGS on the map, do not match with the Richland County GIS boundaries. Therefore with the location of the red lines as shown on the map there are gaps in the Richland County boundary. All gaps in the boundary would have to be resolved, requiring continuing retracement of the next sections of the boundaries until there are no gaps in the boundary. The compile maps presented by SCGS shows that there are issues with the Richland and Lexington County boundaries in this section, but they are not sufficient to resolve or confirm any location of the Richland and Lexington County boundary.

Rocky Ford

The County boundaries between Richland County and Lexington County were created in segments with transfer and annexation of sections of Lexington County made to Richland County. Ground surveys with plats of survey were made for each change in the boundary between Richland County and Lexington County. Several different surveyors made the surveys and plats of survey to create and locate each segment of the boundary. After each survey was completed, acts by the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina provided descriptions, from the plats of survey, confirming the boundary. The plat of survey titled "Map of Portion of Lexington County Containing 9.92 SQ.MI. Proposed Annex to Richland County" surveyed December 4, 1912 by T. C. Hamby, H. S. Haynsworth and Z. L Mobley, (JLC&A-K. Murphy; 010007, 010008, 010009), is the survey that created the point on the boundary at Rocky Ford. A note on the plat shows that the area on the map label "ABCDA indicates territory to be annexed". A point, labeled on the plat as point "C", is shown as a point in Wateree Creek that is located a little north of a road shown crossing the creek and label "Rocky Ford". The plat clearly shows that the entire road crossing the creek is located at a distance south of the point in the creek. The road is shown on the east side of the creek and on the west side of the creek, with the road on the west side of the creek shown crossing over the boundary line coming N 56 degrees and 35 minutes E 3920 feet from a stake into the point labeled "C" in Wateree Creek. The south and west boundaries of the section being annexed to Richland County labeled as Point "A" to Point "B" to Point "C" reports bearing and distances for each line on the plat, surveyed December 4, 1912, and shows markers labeled as being located on each corner. The northeast boundaries, labeled Point "C" to Point "D" to Point "A" were previous county boundaries that were created as part of a 1910 plat of survey labeled "Map of Portion of Lexington County Containing 50.00 SQ.MI Proposed Annex to Richland County", surveyed October 1910 by C. W. Wannamaker and F. W. Fredrick. The December 4, 1912 plat of survey by T. C. Hamby, H. S. Haynsworth and Z. L Mobley, (JLC&A-K. Murphy; 010007, 010008, 010009), shows a tie measurement, by bearing and distances at Point "A", into the boundary on the plat surveyed October 1910 by C. W. Wannamaker and F. W. Fredrick. The Plat, Surveyed October 1910 by C. W. Wannamaker and F. W. Fredrick reports curve measurements or bearings and distances along each line of the southwest boundary of the section being annexed to Richland County, starting from Saluda River to Wateree Creek Markers are shown labeled at each corner on the boundaries A control marker is shown at the point were the boundary crosses the railroad tracks near the Saluda River, and where the boundary ties into the town boundary of Irmo, and were the boundary crosses the railroad tracks near White Rock and in the center line of Gilbert Hollow Road and the intersection of Gilbert Hollow Road at Wateree Creek. A radius tie to the Lexington County Court House is shown for the curved boundary. With the two surveys having been connected to each other with measurements and markers, the two plats provide considerable boundary evidence for a retracement survey to the point at Rocky Ford.

The plat of survey completed November 25, 1921 by W. A. Counts and J. C. Wessinger is referenced in the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976 and reported in the Code of Laws, as being for all that certain piece of land containing 8,900 acres or 14 square miles, being transferred from Lexington County by act approved March 11, 1922 and added to Richland County. This 1921 plat of survey shows the most southern corner of the area being surveyed as a point in Slice Creek at Rocky Ford. However this plat only shows a dashed line to the west from the point at Rocky Ford that may indicate the Richland County boundary, but does not report any measurements or evidence connecting the point at Rocky Ford on this 1921 plat of survey to the point at Rocky Ford created on the plat surveyed December 4, 1912. Without connecting measurements or other evidence there is nothing to confirm that this point at Rock Ford on the 1921 plat of survey is the same point at Rocky Ford that was surveyed on the 1912 plat of survey. To confirm that there is not an overlap or gap in the boundary, the location of Rocky Ford on the 1921 plat would need to be surveyed by only the evidence shown on this 1921 plat of survey, independent of the 1912 plat of survey. Slice Creek, shown on the 1921 plat is shown as Wateree Creek on the1912 and 1910 plats of survey. The 1921 plat of survey does not show any road crossing the creek at or near Rocky Ford and no road is reported as crossing the creek in the Code of Laws. The 1921 plat of survey provides measurements from Broad River along Wateree Creek to Slice Creek; also known as Wateree Creek, and along Slice Creek to the point at Rocky Ford, shown on the 1921 plat of survey. The 1921 plat of survey reports a measurement of 410.00 chains along Broad River from Wateree Creek to the County Boundary for Newberry County; a measurement of S 41 degrees W 82.50 chains is shown along the southern boundary of Newberry County to a stake; a measurement of S 32 ½ degrees 140.65 chains is shown to a point in a creek that connect into Wateree Creek; a measurement of 42.24 chains is shown southeast along the creek to a stake at the intersection of the Newberry County and Lexington County boundary; a measurement of 71.5 chains is shown southeast along the creek to a point where a road crosses the creek, where the creek joins Wateree Creek; a measurement of 94.00 chains is shown along Wateree Creek to a point at a bend in the creek; a measure of S 22 degrees E 142.50 chains is shown to the point in Slice Creek at Rock Ford. Additional research on the Newberry County boundaries may provide additional evidence for retracement of the boundary. There are differences between the measurements called in the Code of Laws and the 1921 plat that is referenced in the Code of Laws Case Law supports that a plat is more exact and precise than any description; that when maps or plats are referenced in the grant they are incorporated into the instrument, binds the grantor and his successors and are usually held to furnish the true description of the boundaries of land. The SCGS used the measurement of S 23 degrees E 142.50 chains for the boundary line into the point at Rocky Ford taken from the description in the Code of Laws; instead of the measurement of S 22 degrees E 142.50 chains that is shown on the 1921 plat of survey, even with the plat being included in the Code of Laws. This 1-degree difference of the bearing for the length of the line at a distance of 142.50 chains (9405 feet) would move the end point of the line 2.49 chains (164.15 feet). GPS was use, by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey, to determine the coordinates of the intersection of the center of an existing road and the center of the Wateree Creek as being the location of the point at Rock Ford; however none of the plats of survey that report the point at Rocky Ford shows the point as being the center of a road crossing Wateree Creek. The point location at the center of Wateree Creek at the center of the road is not a fixed monument, as can be seen on the photos, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012122, 012123, 012124) taken by SCGS. It would be unlikely that anyone could accurately duplicate the same point located by the SCGS, without using GPS and knowing the coordinates of the point located by SCGS. Reportedly, SCGS found other roads also crossing through Wateree Creek that SCGS did not report or provide any coordinates measured. The 1912 plat of survey shows a road crossing south of the point at Rocky Ford, not in the center of the road whereas the 1921 plat of survey does not show any road crossing Wateree Creek at or near the point at Rocky Ford nor any evidence that any road that previously crossed Wateree Creek still existed at the time of the 1921 plat of survey. No surveying was done by SCGS to support that the point they located with GPS for Rocky Ford is near the point at Rocky Ford that was reported on the 1912 plat of survey or the 1921 plat of survey. Further, no evidence or survey measurements has been provided to support that a road still exist today that crosses Wateree Creek near the point at Rocky Ford on the 1912 plat of survey or near the point at Rocky Ford on the 1921 plat of survey.

Boundary Retracement Surveys

Surveyors are to reestablish the location of an existing boundary in the same location as the boundary of the original survey and not to create a new location of the boundary. Surveyors are to follow in the footsteps of the original surveyor, searching on the ground for evidence of the place on the face of the earth that was surveyed and marked by the original surveyor. It is necessary for a surveyor to research the history of each boundary to discover when and how a boundary was created by survey; being aware that all the boundaries that may be shown on a plat of survey may not have been created at the time of that survey. Case Law supports that the location of boundary is a question of evidence The relative weight of evidence "Normal order of calls" on survey boundary ranks (1) natural markers, (2) artificial marks, (3) adjacent boundaries and (4) course and distance. This rule is not absolute as special circumstances may cause change. The established corners and marked lines represent the survey as it was actually made and are the best evidence of the true location, while courses and distances are merely a description of the act done by the surveyor. In the location of the Richland County and Lexington County line reported by SCGS in the Hearing of February 15, 2013, before the Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, the control point located as being at Rocky Ford is not the point indicated on the plats of survey that created the point. SCGS did not show that the history of the boundaries was researched or that the surveys that created the boundaries was used for SCGS location of the existing boundaries. No surveying was reported as having been done by SCGS to try to follow in the footsteps of the original surveyors who created the boundaries. Course and distance were used as absolute instead of searching for other evidence marked by the surveyors. The two boundaries presented by SCGS were not shown to connect and tie into other segments of the boundaries of the County. As the two lines do not match up with other boundaries on the County's GIS Maps it will be necessary to adjust other segments of the county boundaries to eliminate gaps and overlaps in the County boundary.

County's Authority

Richland County determined the location of the boundary for the county and issued taxes for the real property the county recognized as being located within the county, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012143). A property owner does not have the authority to determine in which county their property is located. If the owner of real property does not pay the real property taxes required by the county their property can be sold at tax sale by the county. If they then do not redeem their property that is sold at tax sale, within one year after the sale, the county can issue a tax deed to the successful bidder from the tax sale and the property owner can lose ownership of their property.

Surveyors are required to meet the requirement of zoning regulation, subdivision regulation, and regulations governing surveying and plating of real property that are issued by a county government in addition to the State of South Carolina Code of Regulations Chapter 49, Article 4 in their practice of surveying. The county line shown on the April 4, 1997 Plat of Survey, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012119, 008178), by Lucius D. Cobb, Sr. Surveyor as the "Approx. County Line" is the same county line that was reported on the as "Scaled from Richland County TMS 00600 reported on the June 3, 1996 Plat of Survey, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 008177), by Lucius D. Cobb, Sr. Surveyor. The plat of subdivision of April 4, 1997 Plat of Survey, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 012119, 008178), by Lucius D. Cobb, Sr. Surveyor, was approved by and recorded in Lexington County and Richland County. Most county and town boundaries that are shown on a surveyor's plat of survey, are the location regulated by the county or town in which the property being surveyed is located.

Plat of survey for real property and deeds, recorded in the county records, that show the location of the county line should be researched and reviewed as part of a boundary retracement survey of the county line.

Comments and Conclusions

In conclusion, based on my review of the facts, as currently known to me, it is my opinion, within a reasonable degree of certainty, that the location of the Richland County and Lexington County boundaries were not surveyed and correctly located by the SCGS on the orthophoto maps presented in the Hearing Before The Honorable G. Thomas Cooper, on Friday, February 15, 2013; that the Rocky Point located by SCGS is not the point on the Richland County and Lexington County boundary that is specified as being at Rocky Ford in the description for the County boundary stated in the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976; and is not the point that was surveyed at Rocky Ford first created by the plat of survey December 4, 1912, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 010007, 010008, 010009), and the point located by SCGS as Rocky Ford is also not the point surveyed at Rocky Ford on the November 25, 1921 plat of survey, (JLC&A-K. Murphy: 010003, 01004, 010006, 012090, 012091); and that a retracement survey is necessary, by a licensed South Carolina Professional Land Surveyor based on research of the complete history of the Richland County and Lexington County boundary, and being surveyed in accordance with Section 27-2-105 of the Code of Laws South Carolina 1976 as amended June 9, 2014, and Code of Regulations Chapter 49, Article 4 effective June 26, 2009, to correctly determine the location of the existing Richland County and Lexington County boundaries.

The Client has retained the Surveyor to provide services for the within project pursuant to the following fee arrangement and agreement:

PROJECT NAME & LOCATION:
(Project File Number 150928)
Richland/Lexington Boundary Issue; Litigation

SCOPE OF SERVICES:
Forensic Survey litigation support services for the Client on Project; Boundary Survey services relating to County Boundary.

SCHEDULE:
Time line for Services are to be determined between Surveyor and Client based on litigation schedule.

FEE ARRANGEMENT:
Client agrees to pay the sum of $2400 00 as an initial minimum retainer. As services are performed on this project, Ronnie L. Tyler will provide invoices as needed and when requested. Charges shall be credited against the retainer. Charges in excess of the retainer shall be invoiced to Client and are due when rendered. Client agrees to pay the amounts due promptly upon receipt of invoices and a replenishment retainer provided should services warrant. Should the case require depositions and/or go to trail, Client agrees to advance a replenishment retainer sufficient to cover all fees and cost of deposition or trial preparation and/or testimony. FEE NOT TO EXCEED $3000 Dollar without approval from client. DK.

Ronnie L. Tyler shall be paid for services rendered an hourly fee based on a time and expense basis as per the current rate schedule. It is understood that the current hourly rates are subject to increases upon 30 days' notice to Client. Current rate schedule:

Ronnie Tyler, PLS	$ 120.00 per hour	Survey technician	$ 60 00 per hour
Paralegal	$ 60 00 per hour	Clerical	$ 50 00 per hour

Reimbursable Expenses: In addition to the services fees, the Client agrees to pay for all projects related expenses as set forth in the Terms and Conditions herein

This Contract offered this 28th day of September 2015, and shall remain open until the 30th day of September 2015.
THE TERMS AND CONDITIONS ON THE REVERSE OF THIS FORM IS A PART OF THIS AGREEMENT.

TERMS & CONDITIONS

The Client and Surveyor agree to the terms and conditions as follows

Access to Site: The Client grants the Surveyor and his assistants access to the site for the activities necessary for the performance of the services. The Client is responsible to secure any access from others and pay any fees for the access necessary for the Surveyor and/or his assistants to perform the services. The Surveyor will take precautions to minimize damages resulting from these activities. Fees for required restoration for unavoidable damage shall be a reimbursable expense

Fees: All fees, except stated lump sum fees, shall be understood to be an estimate, based upon the Scope of Services, and are not a guaranteed maximum fee for completion of services. The client shall be advised as soon as possible if fees or services may exceed estimates, to discuss adjustments necessary Fees will not exceed approved estimates. When the fee arrangement is to be on an hourly basis, the rates shall be those that are supplied in the Fee Schedule portion of the contract. Fees of Surveyor shall be credited to the Client against retainers provided; charges in excess of retainers shall be invoiced to the Client and are due when rendered. Retainer is non-refundable in the event that service is ended for any reason without charges having expended the full retainer.

Minimum Fees: When services are rendered on a time and expense basis, the hourly fees to be charged will be based upon the time spent on the project, with time charges in a minimum of 0.25-hour increments. The following services will be billed at no less than the following hours or fraction thereof: deposition 1.0 hour, court appearance 1.0 hour, presentation 1 0 hour and telephone calls 0.25 hour

Reimbursable Expenses: In addition to the survey fees, the Client agrees to pay for all project related expenses including, but not limited to, the following, if applicable.

Travel expense	Automobile travel expense @ $.50 per mile
Long distance charges	Recording fees	Filing Fees	Postage
Inspection fees	Plotting costs	Printing fees	Photocopying
Government fees	Marking materials	Monuments	Site Restoration

Billings/Payments/Late Fees: Invoices submitted, by the Surveyor, for services and reimbursable expenses are due when rendered. The Client shall pay invoices promptly upon receipt. Invoices shall be considered PAST DUE if payment is not received within 10 days after the invoice date. A service charge of 2% of the balance due, being a minimum of $25, shall be applied to any unpaid balance remaining 10 days after date of invoice. An additional service fee shall be added commencing 30 days after the date of the original invoice to any remaining balance due In the event any portion of an account remains unpaid 90 days after billing, the Client shall pay the costs of collection, including court cost and attorney's fees

Termination of Services: This agreement may be terminated upon ten 10 days written notice by either party should the other fail to perform his obligations hereunder. The Surveyor may, without any liability, terminate the performance of the services for (1) non-payment of fees, costs or bills, (2) the Client fails to follow Surveyors recommendations (3) the Client insist that the Surveyor do anything illegal or unethical. In the event of termination, the Client shall pay the Surveyor for all services rendered to the date of the receipt of termination, all reimbursable expenses, and reasonable termination expenses.

Ownership of Documents: All original papers and documents and copies thereof, produced as a result of this contract, shall remain the property of the Surveyor and may be used by the Surveyor without the consent of the Client. All plats and reports produced by the Surveyor are copyrighted and shall not be reproduced or used, in whole or in part, without the written consent of the Surveyor.

Governmental Agencies: The Surveyor shall not be liable for damages resulting from the actions or inaction of governmental agencies, and the Surveyor shall act as an advisor in all governmental relations.

Remarking: In the event that an act of God or parties other than the Surveyor destroy any marking, the Client will pay the cost of the additional services of remarking, provided the Client authorizes such additional services.

Survey Standards: The Surveyor agrees to perform the services stated in this agreement to the normal standards of practice of the Standards of Practice Manual for Surveying in South Carolina (Code of Regulations Chapter 49, Article 4, Effective June 26, 2009) and applicable local governmental regulations.

Applicable Law: Unless otherwise specified, the laws of the State of South Carolina shall govern this agreement

ARTICLE 3

RULES OF PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

49-300 Preamble.

A. In order to safeguard the life, health, property and welfare of the public and to establish and maintain a high standard of integrity, skills, and practice in the profession of engineering and surveying, the following Rules of Professional Conduct are promulgated in accordance with the Code of Laws of South Carolina (1976, as amended), Title 40, Chapter 22, and shall be binding upon every person holding a certificate of registration as a Professional Engineer or Surveyor. Reference to engineer or surveyor in this Article shall mean any engineer, surveyor, corporation, professional corporation, partnership or firm, authorized to offer or perform engineering or surveying services in this State.

B. The Rules of Professional Conduct delineate specific obligations engineers and surveyors must meet. In addition, each engineer and surveyor is charged with the responsibility of adhering to standards of generally accepted ethical and moral conduct in all aspects of the practice of professional engineering and surveying.

C. The Rules of Professional Conduct as promulgated herein are an exercise of the police power vested in the South Carolina State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Surveyors by virtue of the acts of the legislature, and as such the South Carolina State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Surveyors is authorized to establish conduct, policy and practices in accordance with the powers herein above stated.

D. All engineers and surveyors registered under the Code of Laws of South Carolina (1976, as amended), Title 40, Chapter 22, are charged with having knowledge of the existence of these Rules of Professional Conduct, and shall be deemed to be familiar with their several provisions and to understand them. Such knowledge shall encompass the understanding that the practices of engineering and surveying are privileges, as opposed to rights, and the registrants shall be forthright and candid in their statements or written responses to the Board or its representatives on matters pertaining to professional conduct.

49-301 Responsibility to the Public.

The Engineer or Surveyor shall hold paramount the safety, health, and welfare of the public in the performance of his professional duties.

A. The Engineer or Surveyor shall at all times recognize that his primary obligation is to protect the safety, health, property and welfare of the public and shall conduct his practice to fulfill this obligation.

B If the judgment of the engineer or surveyor is overruled under circumstances where the safety, health, and welfare of the public are endangered, he shall inform his employer of the possible consequences and notify other proper authority of the situation, as may be appropriate.

49-302 Competency for Assignments.

The Engineer or Surveyor shall perform his services only in the areas of his competence.

A. The Engineer or Surveyor shall undertake to perform engineering or surveying assignments only when qualified by education or experience in the specific technical field of professional engineering or surveying involved.

B. The Engineer or Surveyor may accept an assignment requiring education or experience outside of his own field of competence, but only to the extent that his services are restricted to those phases of the

49-305 Solicitation of Work

The Engineer or Surveyor shall solicit and accept work only on the basis of his qualifications

A. The Engineer or Surveyor shall not offer to pay, either directly or indirectly, any commission, political contribution, or a gift, or other consideration in order to secure work. It is not a violation of law to seek or secure salaried positions through employment agencies.

B. The Engineer of Surveyor shall not falsify or permit misrepresentation of his, or his associates' academic or professional qualifications. He shall not misrepresent or exaggerate his degree of responsibility in or for the subject matter of prior assignments. Brochures or other presentations pertaining to the solicitation of employment shall not misrepresent pertinent facts concerning employers, employees, associates, joint-venturers, or his or their past accomplishments with the intent and purpose of enhancing his qualifications and his work.

C. The Engineer or Surveyor shall not review the work of another engineer or surveyor for the same client, except with the knowledge of such engineer or surveyor, or unless the connection of such engineer or surveyor with the work has been terminated.

HISTORY: Added by State Register Volume 16, Issue No 4, eff April 24, 1992. Amended by State Register Volume 33, Issue No. 6, eff June 26, 2009.

49-306 Improper Conduct

The Engineer or Surveyor shall conduct his work with honesty and integrity.

A. The Engineer and Surveyor shall not knowingly associate with or permit the use of his name or organization's name in a business venture by any person or organization which he knows, or has reason to believe, is engaging in business or professional practices of a fraudulent or dishonest nature.

B. If the Engineer or Surveyor has knowledge or reason to believe that another person or organization may be in violation of any of these provisions or of the Code of Laws of South Carolina (1976, as amended), Title 40, Chapter 22, he shall present such information to the Board in writing and shall cooperate with the Board in furnishing such further information or assistance as may be required by the Board.

C Engineering and surveying registrants shall recognize and honor practice restrictions placed upon them by their designated license category or practice tier.

Thank you, Ronnie. Your feedback makes sense. I would, however, at least have you put your eyes on the stake and document it in some way in your report that you saw it. (That's far more than they did!) The stake/line is shown on the plat (attached) of our neighbors' tract of land. Bowers' alleged line also ends on the same tract of land, but in a much different location. (The county line splits their home. Even though the bedroom is on the Richland County side, the counties allowed them to pay the residential taxes on the Lexington County side so that EMS, etc. would be available to them.)

It you think that would work when you bring a draft report to Cola for review, it is fine with me... or if you happen to be heading up I-26 towards the Chapin area before that point.

Thanks also for your concern! All my children will be home soon for Christmas, which will certainly take my mind off of things!

Hi Kim,

After studying your email this is to provide to you my feedback.

While we could obtain measurements for the location of the iron stake you reference in your email and report its approximate location on the aerial exhibit, I do not see that as being cost beneficial for you. Without other surveying to support its location this would not document that this iron stake is a point on the county line. In my opinion, at this point, the documents I have reviewed do not provide a resurvey establishing the location of the Richland/Lexington County Line. Surveying the location of this iron stake, just as surveying the location of a point called Rocky Ford, without a retracement survey of the original surveys of the Count Line does not document a resurvey for the location of this County Line.

I am working toward and almost ready to provide a written report for you on my opinion in this matter. It is important that I take advantage of this delay to do additional study of the documents and prepare support of my opinion before I provide a written report. Once my opinion is provided in a written report any later changes will be subject to question.

Hope you do not let this matter keep you for enjoying a Merry Christmas. Thanks Kim,

Ronnie

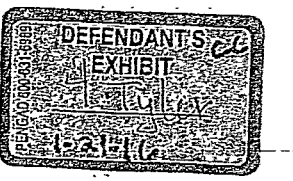
Subject: Re: Deposition

Hi Ronnie,



Things are getting to crunch time and I'm not happy they postponed. I had hoped your testimony would be on the record sooner than later. I might be wrong but I feel like it's a stalling tactic to avoid that from happening. I wouldn't put it passed them to use such tactics to prohibit me from deposing the other witnesses before our deadline. We're still waiting on their discovery documents.

Do you have anything preliminary yet that you may be able to provide?

Also, I am considering whether it might be helpful for you to come to Chapin and "position" the iron stake that appears to the actual corner of the county line mentioned in statute -- the beginning of the line that trends northeast towards the alleged (or one of them :)) Rocky Ford point. And, once it's positioned, then place its location on the aerial (Exhibit 10) that also shows the other five lines from Bobby Bowers. (The stake is shown on our neighbor's plat, which I believe you have.)

It is likely the same "stake" that Alan-Jon Zupan overlooked. Alan-Jon is to be deposed in January 5, but I'm not holding my breath. It is also the stake that Lee Harrell, Richland County head of mapping found with our neighbors and informed them that it is a county line corner.

By locating it and placing it on the Exhibit 10 with the other lines, which also shows the color-coded tax map lines where the counties come together, the corner is a consistent point on the line. I think it's important to note that Bowers left off highlighting the tax map line -- the only line that, according to my meeting two weeks ago with the Attorney General and three of his head attorneys, determines my residency.

The only thing that bothers me about documenting its location is that if the Rocky Ford point they used is for whatever reason deemed to be the same as the point referenced in statute, it's very possible that using the iron stake as the other end of the line, I believe I would be in Lexington County. But then again, they failed to follow a process to make an accurate determination -- such as doing a boundary survey.

Please let me know your thoughts on this. Thanks!

Kim

Hi Kim,

Just read your email. It will probably be better that I first finish reviewing the Hearing transcript and have time to put together some preliminary thoughts. After that we can talk more about my preliminary opinion and the merits of my reviewing additional items for my report. Cost is a consideration, as our agreement provides a maximum fee to me allowing for only 25 hours of my time with expenses, before your additional approval. It does not take much to burn through 25 hours and it is important, for me, that you and Ashley find that your fee to me is well managed. Thanks Kim.

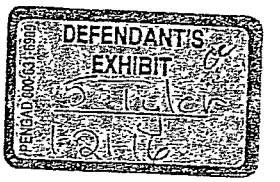
Subject: Peripheral documents to consider in Ronnie's report



Hi Ronnie and Ashley,

Because we are alleging conspiracy in this particular case, which is more than that Bowers did not adequately assess the county line, I've been giving some extra thought about whether to consider in the report information from five of the peripheral documents, which are attached.

I agree with the questions Ashley is requesting you answer in your report. But, the peripheral documents not only could be used as guidance, clarification or to further support your opinion but will, I believe, more importantly, influence the outcome of the report and more clearly reflect the conspiracy.

During your review, Ronnie, of the 2-15-13 Hearing transcript and exhibits and other documents you planned to assess, can you please review the peripheral documents and the items I have listed below so that they, too, can be incorporated in your report. If you feel any of it is out of your expertise or you have any other hesitation, please contact me to discuss.

My concern is that without including information from these documents, the initial report may have a slightly different outcome – one that is more favorable to Defendants and one that may not go far enough to engender conspiracy. And, possibly, it may not help as much as it could along with the rest of the documents we have when it comes to setting up the conspiracy allegation.

In addition, I'm fearful that we will not have an opportunity to submit subsequent reports inclusive of that information.

We have previously discussed these peripheral documents but I thought I would compile/further discuss them below. I welcome your feedback. (To keep my records straight, I've attached the documents with bates numbers that, at some point, may change. Ronnie, though you have already received the pertinent pages from the emails that Will Roberts sent to me, I am sending the complete file labeled "Will Roberts' email 1-15-13 to 1-28-13" just for verification. There is no need to print entire document, only the portions I have noted or you feel are of use.)

1. The county line they presented at one point is shown in a different location on their Hearing exhibits and they didn't inform anybody. (Along with the 2-15-13 Hearing transcript, the peripheral documents required are: page 3 of Will Roberts' email 1-15-13 to 1-28-13, Zupan 1-17-13 email to Lex Co.)

One very important fact that engenders conspiracy is that the county line Bowers documented with azimuths in his determination letter (Exhibit 2), which soon after his office superimposed on aerials and sent to me and to Lexington County, was later changed to a different location. And, secondly, it should also be noted in the report the fact that there was no disclosure in the Hearing transcript that the location of the line had been relocated from the line previously represented in aerials.*

The fact that the county line was changed can only be garnered by comparing the aerials sent emails in January 2013 to me from Will Roberts (created by Zupan) and sent to Lexington County from Zupan with the aerials the Defendants have as exhibits in the 2-15-13 Hearing transcript (Exhibit 10 shows the entire length of the two line segments).

By comparing the aerials side by side you can visually see that there are two different versions of the line.

They also reworded the "On orthophotography" documents. The difference is visible by comparing the document in Zupan's email to Lexington County with the document in Exhibit 8 (also in Exhibit 9). In the Hearing document, you will see where they specifically deleted the azimuths from it.

2. The azimuths in Bowers' determination letter are different than in their supporting aerial exhibits. (Along with the 2-15-13 Hearing transcript, the peripheral document required is: Zupan 1-17-13 email to Lex Co.)

In the third methodology in Bowers' determination letter (Exhibit 2), Bowers specifically uses azimuths from the bearings written in state statute (Exhibit 8) as the determining factor in identifying the location of the line establishing (allegedly) my county of residence and used by the board to remove me for "cause" (verses a route challenging whether I am an elector) No map showing the line was attached just a reference to distance and bearings

To discredit that third methodology - the location of the county line, I think we should take it a step further and not just show the line on the aerials was changed but, when they relocated the county line, the azimuths changed. And now the azimuths in Bowers' determination letter are different than the azimuths in aerials they used as exhibits. This, too, was not disclosed.

The only way it can be garnered that the azimuths in Bowers' determination letter are different than in their Hearing exhibit, which would discredit Bowers' third methodology, is to calculate the azimuths using the aerial of Zupan's original email to the Lexington County and the aerial in the Hearing transcript (Exhibit 10) and compare those calculations to the azimuths in Bowers determination letter.

(To show that the azimuths are different, Ronnie would have to go through the same effort as Surveyor John Gee.)

Though part of the ir conspiracy, the following items shown in the peripheral documents also relate to whether they appropriately or thoroughly conducted an assessmen t. They too should be included because they show their deficiencies. The peripheral documents also help show who was involved and when.

1. In 1995, they found two "fords" on the creek and positioned them with GPS . In Hearing transcript, Miller acknowledges locating only one point, but neither poi nt was verified. (Garnered from 1-28-13 Zupan transcript and Hearing transcript.)

2. No Boundary Survey was done in 1995 or before Bowers wrote his determination letter or before Hearing on 2-15-13. (On 1-28-13, Zupan, who was involved in drawing the lines, stated "no stakes" were listed in statute -- a statement he later corrected.) (Garnered from 1-28-13 Zupan Transcript, Will Roberts' - No Authority to Change Line, and the Hearing Transcript.

3. There was minimal effort put forth in 1995 and they did not get back to sight until a "couple weeks" before 2-15-13 Hearing (clearly after my 1-28-13 call to Zupan). (Garnered from 1-28-13 Zupan Transcript and Hearing transcript.)

4. In January, after Bowers wrote his determination letter, the same version of the line that was shown on aerials Roberts sent to Plaintiff is the same version that Zupan sent to Lexington County officials. (Garnered from page 3 of Will Roberts' email 1-15-13 to 1-28-13, Zupan 1-17-13 email to Lex Co.)

5. In Ronnie's report, I wondering if it would be helpful to also note that the azimuths in Bowers determination letter, which subsequently changed, were also used in his 1-11-13 letter to Jasper Salmond (with instructions to remove me from the voter rolls) (Garnered from 1-11-13 Bobby Bowers - Letter to Jasper Salmond.)

6. Zupan, Sid Miller, John Cloyd (Richland County Assessor), Lee Harrell (Richland County Mapping) were involved in the reconnaissance effort in 1995. (Garnered from 1-28-13 Zupan Transcript, Will Roberts' email 1-15-13 to 1-26-13 - specifically the emails dated 1-24-13 and 1-28-13, and Hearing transcript.)

I have recently been reminded of our upcoming deadlines and feel that it's important to pack a good punch while we have the opportunity. And, because conspiracy is the very heart of this action, I think we need to get straight to it with as much as we have. I appreciate the help and understanding from both of you. Please let me know if you have any questions or any feelings of why you think we should hold back.

Kim

P.S. I also want the report to be as strong as possible that the process they followed was wrong. According to The State Newspaper article on Oct 4related to Bowers 'new county boundary law, state mapping will begin to advise property owners of changes in the county line in December. just before we are to be ready to go to court. Don't know that I will be one of the lucky ones (just kidding), but, if a real boundary survey (after the fact)is done and it conclusively puts me in Lexington County, I really don't want them -- in any way -- to use it against me. But one thing you can count on... if they really do a boundary survey, the line will be different then the line Bowers created.

*I totally believe they expected I would just resign or that I would be forced to resign after Salmond removed me from the voter rolls and the line Bowers created on paper would go away. They don't feel like they had to do their due diligence, which would take a lengthy time beyond the end of my term, because they thought they had a plan in place that would quickly and fairly quietly remove before there was any hearing.

Probably not a factor??? The statute of the Lexington County line does not reflect the same description of the line as the Richland County statute. Bowers and Miller assume (and maybe they have that authority) that the Richland County statute is an accurate description of the line and that is the description that should be used in their findings. If a surveyor was hired to find the county line, I don't know the process they would take to verify which statute -- or parts of it should be used and I don't know if Bowers staff followed that process or properly reconciled the differences in the statutes

Discredit the third methodology, which they used to remove me for "cause", verses challenge whether I am an elector using that specific process. The location of the county line is obviously an important factor to them in their case against me. Their case centered around it more than the Precinct line (Bowers second methodology). Sid Miller, a surveyor, was their expert witness. After all, they weren't trying to argue whether or not I was an elector and they said that.

I think it's important that, while we have the opportunity, with the help of Ronnie's report, we totally discredit the value of the county line referenced on Bowers' determination letter and on exhibits with the methodologies they said they used (or didn't use) to determine it.

Bowers determination letter to Gantt wasn't a report like Judge Cooper gave to the Board as his "findings". Bowers took the next step and immediately sent the letter to Jasper Salmond with instructions to remove me from the voter rolls (and did it in a way to avoid alerting the Commission who it was they were to remove or that it was an elected official.) They were banking on Salmond removing me and probably didn't even consider the spot they would be in with regard to the so-called county line.

I thought about a comment Ronnie threw out... one that might have used as a defense -- that based on the work they did, even without doing a boundary survey, it was evident enough that I didn't live in Richland County. Maybe at one time they could have used that rationale But, now they can't go there. At no time did they represent on documents or in testimony that any of the lines they placed on aerials or listed in letters were "approximate", like a surveyor would do. And, then Bowers began to treat the line as if it was the real line when they sent it to Lexington County.

And Bowers didn't represent the location of the county line as "approximate", like a surveyor would have done with the little work Bowers used. Bowers took the position that the line was the county line

JLC&A -K. Murphy010161

JLC&A-K. Murphy010162

On the orthophotography:

Based on fieldwork in 1995, the coordinate for the point determined to be Rocky Ford is N1908571.158, E847532.742 (SC State Plane Coordinate, NAD 83-86)

The two lines trending northwestward and southwestward from Rocky Ford are based on acts from 1913 and 1921.

Southwestward line:

1913 February 13: Act No. 68--An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Certain Portion of Lexington County to Richland County, and to Alter the County Lines of Said Counties to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1913, Vol.28, p.107-111).

"Beginning at a stake on the Richland-Lexington county line, 878 feet north of a stake marking the point where the arc of a circle with an eight-mile radius from Lexington Court House as a center intersects a line bearing N. 42°30' W. and running as follows: West 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 80° W. 5,541 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 28' W. 10,618 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 750 feet to a pine; thence N. 34° 45' W. 10,491 feet to a stake; thence N. 22° E. 914 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 5' W. 1,313 feet to a stake; thence N. 13°45' E. 2,597 feet to a stake; thence N. 56° 35' E. 3,920 feet to a point at Rocky Ford, on Wateree Creek; thence the Richland-Lexington county line to the beginning point."

This description was incorporated into §42 of The Code of Laws of South Carolina 1922, Volume III, p.286 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary. It was not included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §34 in the 1922 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law which read only that Lexington County is bounded on the northeast and east by Richland County.

To plot the 1913 line bearing N 56° 35' E. on 2008 orthophotography, the bearing had to be corrected for the change in magnetic declination from 1913 to 2008. The corrected bearing expressed as an azimuth southwestward from Rocky Ford is 242° 44' 53". The length of the line is 3920 feet as stated in the statute.

Northwestward line:

1921 March 11: Act No. 551--An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Portion of Lexington County to Richland County and to alter

JLC&A -K. Murphy010163

the County Lines so as to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1921, Vol.32, p.977-981)

"All that certain piece of land containing 8,900 acres, or fourteen square miles, situate in the northeastern part of Lexington County on the Broad River, and being bounded and delineated as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on said Broad River, and running south 41 W. 82.51 chains to a stake; thence turning and running S. 32 1/2 W. 160.65 chains to a stake, thence running along a creek which empties into Wateree Creek 42.24 chains to a stake; thence running to a point where said creek joins Wateree Creek 71.51 chains, thence running along said Wateree Creek 94 chains, thence turning and running S. 23 E. 142.50 chains to a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford, thence turning and running northerly along Slice Creek 164 chains, thence turning and running easterly along Wateree Creek 305.00 chains to the point of entrance of Wateree Creek and Broad River, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along Broad River 410 chains, ..."

The plat of the property described above was completed on November 25, 1921, by W.A. Counts and J.C. Wessinger, Surveyors, and was filed in the Secretary of State's office. On the plat Wateree Creek is apparently mislabeled as Slice Creek.

This description was incorporated into §3015 in the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1932, Volume II, pp. 475-476 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary. It was not included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §3007 in the 1932 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law which read only that Lexington County is bounded on the northeast and east by Richland County.

To plot the 1921 line bearing S. 23° E. on 2008 orthophotography, the bearing had to be corrected for the change in magnetic declination from 1921 to 2008. The corrected bearing expressed as an azimuth northwestward from Rocky Ford is 342° 53' 53". The length of the line is 142.50 chains (9405 feet) as stated in the statute.

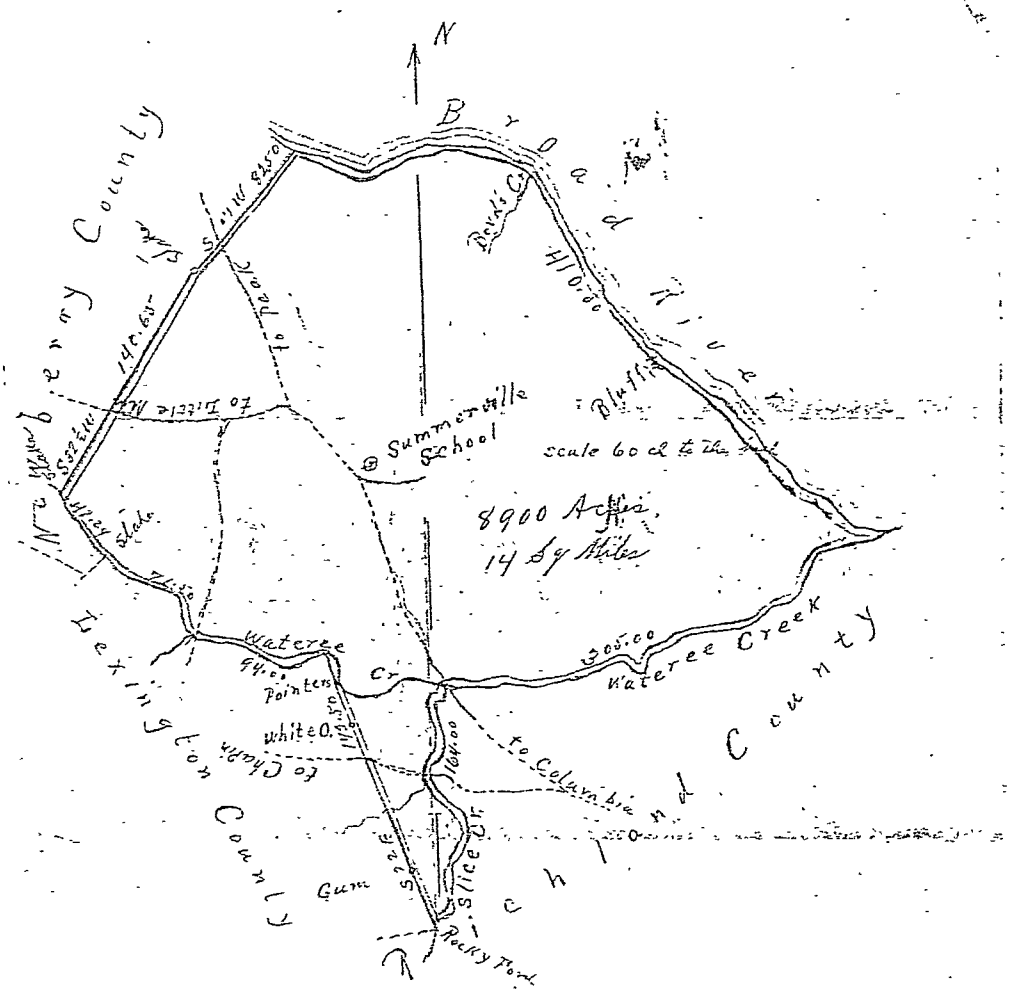
JLC&A - K MURPHY 008178



At the request of Geo. H. Keon and others, legally authorized to direct this work, we have made a survey of that portion of Lexington County which it is proposed to annex to Richland County; this being the extreme northernmost end of Lexington County, and having such shape, bounds, and area as shown on the above Plat. This survey was completed November 25. 1921.

Q. Referring to the second paragraph of your letter, you indicate your office used three sources to determine the county location of Ms. Murphy's residence.

Can you describe again, and I want to go through with the documents with you, why you used these three sources. If you can start with Exhibit 3 in front of you and identify that document, please.

A. Exhibit 3 is the Richland/Lexington County census blocks that is published by the federal government, PL94-171 data file. That is where the census was conducted. That's the database that we use for all of restricting the County Council District, House District, Senate District. And if there had been a cut in the Congressional District, that would have also been used there. So that's the official file.

That file is the same file that the courts used in analyzing data. It's the same file that the Justice Department uses when they are submitting data from South Carolina.

Q. And what does this map show about where Ms. Murphy's residence is located?

A. Without any question, this map shows she's in Lexington County. There is a block number and a census associated with that one house, but the address associated with the house plots right on top of that house.

Q. Okay.

A. It's noted on the map.

Q. Where it says "Kim Murphy residence"?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, which county did you determine the Kim Murphy residence at 154 Old Laurel Lane to be located?

A. That house is in Lexington County.

Q. And you spent some time describing the procedure you went through. Is that identifying the statutory boundary line between Richland/Lexington County, is that procedure generally accepted in the field of surveying and mapping?

A. Yes. That's generally the procedure that we -- you know, this is not what you would call a traditional survey where you get on the ground and run traverse around. But it's generally accepted -- the procedure we did with GPS is standard accepted GPS procedure for that -- positioning that point. And then the research and the preliminary work we did on putting those two red lines up there would be generally accepted procedure for doing that kind of project.

Q. Now, are you certain of your finding that 154

JLC&A - K. Murphy 012037

Old Laurel Lane identifies Kim Murphy's residence on that map --

A. Yes.

Q. -- is located in Lexington County and not in Richland County?

A. Oh, yes. Absolutely. This is not -- this is really not a very difficult call, this particular -- we get asked to do a lot of different locations like this, and this is -- most of them require a lot more effort and research and fieldwork. But, you know, but this particular location right here, because of Rocky Ford, because of those two calls coming off, the absolute geographic position of that ford, it's not -- wasn't real difficult for us. And the house is 500 feet from that line.

Q. You referenced a couple of times the calls coming off it. Can you refer to Exhibit 9.

A. 9.

Q. I think I got it in numerical order.

A. Yes. I got it.

Q. Okay. There's a document that's part of Exhibit 9 called "On the Orthophotography."

A. Uh-huh.

Q. And there's a couple of highlighted portions that your office had highlighted.

52

A. Okay.

Q. Are those -- it says like on the first page, "Advance north 56 degrees, 35 feet east, 3,920 feet to a point of Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek." And then the other one says, "Thence turning and running south 23 east 142.5 chains."

Are those the calls?

A. Yes.

Q. Which one -- the one on the first page -- which one of the calls on this document describes the line going north and west from Rocky Ford?

A. Well, let me see. You're going to have to -- Okay. Good. Okay.

THE HEARING OFFICER: What exhibit is this?

MR. REAGLE: This is Exhibit 9, the document that says "On the Orthophotography." Quoting from the statute.

THE WITNESS: Okay. This is coming up from the south. This one right here.

BY MR. REAGLE:

Q. So on the first page --

A. Yeah.

Q. -- you got a quote from the statute.

A. Uh-huh.

Q. Where it says, "Beginning with advance north

56 degrees," that's this bottom --

A. No, no. Yeah. That -- the second page right here, thence turning and running south 23 -- I'm not sure.

That's right, what I said before. This one is the one that's running south, coming down, and this is coming -- okay. This one right here is coming up.

Q. Okay. Like I said, that's the one on the first page --

A. Yeah.

Q. -- of the document --

A. Yeah.

Q. -- north 56 degrees southeast.

A. That's going out from there.

Q. That's the south --

A. Yeah, right.

Q. -- southeastern line?

A. Right. The other one is coming up here.

Q. And the other one, the second page, quoting from the statute, that's running -- turning and running 23 degrees east?

A. Southeast.

Q. Is that turning from Rocky Ford and running?

A. Running down to Slice Creek, uh-huh. That's the one --

54

Q. But it starts from up here, the description, and runs down to Rocky Ford?

A. Right.

Q. Southeast?

A. Right.

Q. If you can turn to Exhibit 2, the top of the second page.

A. Okay.

Q. In that paragraph sort of towards the bottom, it talks about the northwestern trending line from Rocky Ford and the southwest trending line segment from Rocky Ford. Do you see that?

A. Which paragraph?

Q. It's Exhibit 2 on the second page.

A. Okay. All right.

Q. Take your time to read it.

A. Okay. Which part am I supposed to read?

Q. Just the top paragraph where he's describing the geodetic survey.

A. Okay. Yeah, okay.

Q. References an azimuth of 343 degrees, and the azimuth of 243 degrees. Can you describe that and show how it's illustrated on the map up there, Exhibit 9.

A. Okay. Now, this is the first time I've seen this particular letter. Okay. An azimuth is 360 degrees in a circle. That's what an azimuth -- and you take that particular point on the circle. So 343 would be -- like west is 270, it would be a little bit more to the west. And typically surveyors would call that a north certain number of degrees west.

Geodetic surveyors use a 360-degree circle, and they don't get confused with northwest, southeast, and all that. So that's just a geodetic way of describing that bearing going up that way.

Q. Okay. That's going up to the north and west of Rocky Ford?

A. Uh-huh. And the 243 is just a way of describing you're not west but you're southwest. The 243 is coming around on circle 180, and you go up about halfway between there and you got 243. That lets -- that's narrowing that line.

Q. And this is --

A. Beg your pardon?

Q. J-- strange terminology to most people, so that's why I'm trying to make sure it's clear.

A. Yeah.

Q. So this line here, running from Rocky Ford north and west, is the azimuth of 343 degrees of distance?

A. Yes, right.

JLC&A - K. Murphy 012042

56

Q. 9,405 feet?

A. Right.

Q. And this line right from Rocky Ford down towards the southeast --

A. Yes.

Q. -- is the azimuth of --

A. Right, 243.

Q. -- 243?

A. Right.

Q. And those are the statutory --

A. That's the statutory, yes.

Q. -- definition of the boundary?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Can you turn to Exhibit 13, and I pulled that out. It's the oversized -- it's right there.

A. Yes. Okay.

Q. Can you describe what the two documents at Exhibit 13, can you describe what those are.

A. Yes. 13 is a boundary survey that was done of a tract, and it's described as Laurel Springs. It's the subdivision survey of a large -- subdivision of a larger tract, and it's described as a subdivision plat for Laurel Springs.

Q. Okay. And who is this plat done by and when?

The third source is research and field work conducted by the South Carolina Geodetic Survey. Section 4-3-460 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1976 defining the Richland County boundary states that Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek is a point on the Richland-Lexington county boundary. GPS was used to determine the coordinates for Rocky Ford. From Rocky Ford, one boundary line segment bears northwest and another bears southwest. The northwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford to its intersection with Risters Creek has an azimuth of 343° for a distance of 9405 feet. The southwest-trending line segment from Rocky Ford has an azimuth of 243° for a distance of 3920 feet. Plotting this information on orthophotography demonstrates that Ms. Murphy's house is in Lexington County – about 0.1 mile northwest of the boundary.

All three sources show that Ms. Murphy is a resident of Lexington County. Act No. 326 of 2002 requires that four members be elected from the Lexington County portion of the school district and three members are to be elected from the Richland County portion of the district. As Ms. Murphy was elected in 2010 for a seat in Richland County while residing in Lexington County she is and was not qualified to hold her position for which she has been elected. If Ms. Murphy desires, she may run for a seat for the Lexington County portion of School District Five at the next general election.

Sincerely,

Bobby M. Bowers

HISTORY: 1962 Code § 14-89.1; 1967 (55) 46.

§ 4-3-460. Richland County.

Richland County is bounded on the north by Fairfield County, from which it is separated by new boundary lines set forth and specifically described in the location and boundary of Fairfield County; on the east by Kershaw County and Sumter County from which it is separated by the Wateree River, on the south by Calhoun County, on the west by Lexington County, from which it is separated by a line beginning on the Congaree River where the counties of Lexington and Richland meet on the southern division thereof, and running thence with the Congaree River to where the confluence of the Broad and Saluda Rivers unite to form the Congaree, and following the thread of Saluda River about two and one-half miles to a concrete boundary marker; thence in a northwesterly direction upon the circumference of a circle having Lexington courthouse as its center, with a radius of not less than eight miles and a deflection of 1° 21' for every one thousand feet, to a concrete boundary marker on the eastern boundary line of the town of Irmo; thence along the boundary line of the town of Irmo to the northeast corner of the town; thence west along the northern boundary of the town of Irmo 2,260 feet to a stake located thereon; thence along the circumference of the circle first described 11,360 feet to a stake; then N. 42° 30' W. 878 feet; thence west 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 80° W. 5,541 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 28' W. 10,618 feet to a stake, thence S. 85° W. 750 feet to a pine; thence N. 34° 45' W. 10,491 feet to a stake; thence N. 22° E. 914 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 5' W. 1,313 feet to a stake, thence N. 13° 45' E. 2,597 feet to a stake; thence N. 56° 35' E. 3,920 feet to a point on Rocky Ford on Wateree Creek; thence north, northeast and east along the Wateree Creek to where it empties into Broad River. To the above-described area of Richland County is to be added all that territory transferred from Lexington County by act approved March 11 1922, to wit: all that certain piece of land containing 8,900 acres, or 14 square miles, situate in the northeastern part of Lexington County on the Broad River, and being bounded and delineated as follows, to wit: beginning at a point on the Broad River, and running S. 41° W. 82.51 chains to a stake; thence turning and running S. 32.5° W. 160.65 chains to a stake; thence running along a creek which empties into Wateree Creek 42.24 chains to a stake; thence running to the point where said creek joins Wateree Creek 71.51 chains; thence running along Wateree Creek 94 chains; thence turning and running S. 23° E. 112.50 chains to a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford; thence turning and running northerly along Slice Creek 164 chains; thence turning and running easterly along Wateree Creek 305.00 chains to the point of entrance of Wateree Creek and Broad River; thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along Broad River 410 chains, said piece of land being bounded on the west by Newberry County, on the south and southwest by Lexington County, on the south by Richland County, and on the east and north by the Broad River, being more particularly known as the plat of said property, completed on November 25 1921, by W.A. Counts and J.C. Wessinger, surveyors, said plat being filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

§ 4-3-370. Lexington County.

Lexington County is bounded on the northeast and east by Richland County; on the southeast by Orangeburg and Calhoun Counties, from which it is divided by Beaver Creek; on the Southwest by Aiken County, from which it is separated by the north fork of the Edisto River to the mouth of the southern branch of Chinquepin Falls Creek and then by said creek to a point where it intersects the line drawn from Silver Bluff, on the Savannah River, to the mouth of Rocky Creek, on Saluda River; on the northwest by Saluda County, from which it is separated by a line drawn from Silver Bluff, on Savannah River, to the mouth of Rocky Creek, on the Saluda River; and by Newberry County, from which it is separated by a line beginning at a point in Broad River, on the Fairfield-Lexington County line, about .25 of a mile below Peak, and running thence S. 40° W. to a point on the west bank of Broad River, thence S. 40° W 1956 feet to an oak; thence S. 46° 40' W 2410 feet to a stone on the public road; thence S. 41° W. 1143 feet to a stake; thence S. 32° 30' W. 9568 feet to a stake on a branch; thence down the run of the branch to a stake; thence S. 45° W. 575 feet to a stake; thence N. 86° 30' W. 3782 feet to a pine; thence S. 26° 30' W. 3650 feet to a stake; thence S. 53° 30' W. 4990 feet to a point on the Columbia, Newberry and Laurens Railroad, thence S 73° 30' W 2613 feet to a maple in a branch; thence S. 68° 30' W. 2180 feet to a stake near a negro church; thence N. 77° 30' W. 5577 feet to a stake just west of the public road, near Little Mountain; thence S. 28° W. 20850 feet to Camping Creek, near the mouth of Stevens Creek; thence up the run of Camping Creek to the old Newberry-Lexington County line; thence southwesterly with the old Newberry-Lexington County line to Saluda County on Broad River. Less however, that territory transferred to Richland County by act approved March 11 1922, to wit, all that certain piece of land containing 8900 acres, or 14 square miles, situate in the northeastern part of Lexington County on the Broad River, and being bounded and delineated as follows, to wit, beginning at a point on said Broad River, and running S. 41° W. 82.51 chains to a stake, thence turning and running S. 32.5° W. 160.65 chains to a stake, thence running along a creek which empties into Wateree Creek 42.24 chains to a stake, thence running to the point where said creek joins Wateree Creek 71.51 chains, thence running along said Wateree Creek 94 chains, thence turning and running S. 23° E. 142 50 chains to a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford, thence turning and running northerly along Slice Creek 164 chains, thence turning and running easterly along Wateree Creek 305.00 chains to the point of entrance of Wateree Creek and Broad River, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along Broad River 410 chains, said piece of land being bounded on the west by Newberry County, on the south and southwest by Lexington County, on the south by Richland County, and on the east and north by the Broad River, being more particularly known as the plat of said property, completed on November 25 1921, by W. A. Counts and J. C. Wessinger, surveyors, said plat being filed in the office of the Secretary of State. And less that territory transferred to Newberry County by act approved May 12 1953, to wit: all of that certain territory or portion of Lexington County embraced within the following lines and boundaries, to wit: beginning at a point of the intersection of Lexington County-Saluda County-Newberry County lines at Saluda River; thence N. 22° 30' E. 17710 feet to Camping Creek, thence in a general southeastern direction along Camping Creek to confluence of Saluda River; thence in a northwesterly direction along Saluda River to point of beginning, being more particularly lined and described on a plat of said territory by the Columbia Engineering Company, completed November 1 1952, said plat being filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

On the orthophotography:

Based on fieldwork in 1995, the coordinate for the point determined to be Rocky Ford is N1908571.158, E847532.742 (SC State Plane Coordinate. NAD 83-86)

The two lines trending northwestward and southwestward from Rocky Ford are based on acts from 1913 and 1921.

Southwestward line:

1913 February 13: Act No. 68--An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Certain Portion of Lexington County to Richland County, and to Alter the County Lines of Said Counties to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1913, Vol.28, p.107-111).

"Beginning at a stake on the Richland-Lexington county line, 878 feet north of a stake marking the point where the arc of a circle with an eight-mile radius from Lexington Court House as a center intersects a line bearing N. 42°30' W. and running as follows: West 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 5,000 feet to a stake; thence S. 80° W. 5,541 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 28' W. 10,618 feet to a stake; thence S. 85° W. 750 feet to a pine; thence N. 34° 45' W. 10,491 feet to a stake; thence N. 22° E. 914 feet to a stake; thence N. 37° 5' W. 1,313 feet to a stake; thence N. 13°45' E. 2,597 feet to a stake; thence N 56°35' E. 3,920 feet to a point at Rocky Ford, on Wateree Creek; thence the Richland-Lexington county line to the beginning point."

This description was incorporated into §42 of The Code of Laws of South Carolina 1922, Volume III, p.286 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary.

It was included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §34 in the 1922 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law.

1921 March 11: Act No. 551--An Act to Provide for the Transfer and Annexation of a Portion of Lexington County to Richland County and to alter the County Lines so as to Conform Thereto (Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina Passed at the Regular Session of 1921, Vol.32, p.977-981)

"All that certain piece of land containing 8,900 acres, or fourteen square miles, situate in the northeastern part of Lexington County on the Broad River, and being bounded and delineated as follows, to wit: Beginning at a point on said Broad River, and running south 41 W. 82.51 chains to a stake, thence turning and running S. 32 1/2 W. 160.65 chains to a stake, thence running along a creek which empties into Wateree Creek 42.24 chains to a stake; thence running to a point where said creek joins Wateree Creek 71.51 chains, thence running along said Wateree Creek 94 chains, thence turning and running S. 23 E. 142.50 chains to a point in Slice Creek known as Rocky Ford, thence turning and running northerly along Slice Creek 164 chains, thence turning and running easterly along Wateree Creek 305.00 chains to the point of entrance of Wateree Creek and Broad River, thence turning and running in a northwesterly direction along Broad River 410 chains, ..."

The plat of the property described above was completed on November 25, 1921, by W.A. Counts and J.C. Wessinger, Surveyors, and was filed in the Secretary of State's office. On the plat Wateree Creek is apparently mislabeled as Slice Creek.

This description was incorporated into §3015 in the Code of Laws of South Carolina 1932, Volume II, pp 475-476 and subsequent Codes of Laws defining the Richland County boundary.

It was included in the boundary description for Lexington County in §3007 in the 1932 Code of Laws and subsequent Codes of Law.

Dear Mr. Meetze:

Mapping Lexington County in compliance with South Carolina Act 208, 1975 has caused us to reconcile our county lines with adjoining counties.

Section 65-1643 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina, 1962 provides in part that ". . . all real estate shall be taxed in the county, city, ward or town where it is located . . ."

We are advising you that as a result of our mapping and reconciling county lines the following change affects your property and where it is carried on the tax rolls.

To be carried in Lexington an d Richland County: 30.00 Acres Lexington County
Remainder Richland County
00800-01-03

Our staff will be happy to discuss this with you if you desire additional information.

RE: TMS 1177-02-33
36 acres

Dear Mrs. Meetze:

Thank you for your letter of November 1, 1978 concerning the land transferred by Lexington County to Richland County for tax purposes.

Your property of 36 acres has been transferred and can be identified by the Richland County Tax Map Sheet 1177-02-33. Your property was placed on the tax books with the same value that Lexington County had used. You have been granted Agricultural Use Value.

Assessment notices will be mailed on Monday, November 6, 1978 and this will be for tax year 1978.

I hope we have been of assistance to you in this matter. If we may be of further service to you, please do not hesitate to contact our office.

Sincerely,

John A. Cloyd, SRA, RM

RE: TMS 1177-02-33

Dear Mrs. Meetze:

We are writing in reference to TMS 1177-02-33 which identifies the property which you own in Richland County. You will note that 36 acres of land will be carried on Richland County tax rolls. We completed the notice and did not have application for Agricultural Use. However, upon contacting Lexington County we find that you did file for Agricultural Use. Consequently, Richland County will be happy to allow Agricultural Use, because in fact when you did file the property was filed for as 66 acres in Lexington County.

We are in the process of correcting our records and I think that you will find that this will be in compliance with your letter. I hope this answers any questions you may have had concerning this matter. However; if I may be of further service please feel free to contact me.

Sincerely yours,

John A. Cloyd, SRA, RM

Dear Mrs. Meetze:

We have received your letter of March 5, 1979 concerning the filing of an Application for Special Assessment as Legal Residence and/or Agricultural Real Property to be Valued Based on Use.

Richland County Council has passed an ordinance allowing that application to be good for more than one year. The Application for Legal Residence/ Agricultural Use you filed for tax year 1978 will be good for tax years 1979, 1980 and 1981 also.

In 1982, between January 1 - May 1, an application must be filed which will then be good for five years. We should be mailing one to you at that time to the address we have on record.

I hope we have answered any questions you may have had concerning this matter; however, if I may be of further assistance, please feel free to contact us.

Sincerely,

John A. Cloyd, SRA,RM

Dear Mrs. Meetze:

Thank you for your nice letter about the 30 acres in Lexington County. We have corrected our records to reflecte that only 30 acres are taxable in Lexington County. Also, since we did not correctly advise you about the agriculture use application, we acted as your agent and qualified it properly in your behalf.

The use value of the 30 acres is $7,500 at 4% equals an assessment of 300 upon which you will be taxes. The millage rate for the school district is 262½ mills.

Dear Mrs. Meetze:

The classification of your property for the agriculture assessment granted in 1978 is valid for five (5) years under current law. You will not need to annually file the property unless you buy land, sell land, or change the use of the property. Your property will carry the use value assessment until 1983.

In order to receive any homestead or widows exemption in South Carolina, you must own and live on the land as your legal residence. Since you do not live on this property "full time" you will not qualify for any exemption.

Sincerely,

Gordon W. Hartwig

120 DAY TAX NOTICE

This tax notice has been issued for the above referenced vehicle because a license plate or registration has been issued prior to the payment of property taxes. This is the result of either (a) an automobile dealership has obtained a license plate and registration for you or (b) an error has occurred that resulted in a plate or registration renewal to be issued without a corresponding property tax receipt. If unpaid by the due date, the County Treasurer will notify the DMV and your license, registration, or both will be suspended (SC Code of Laws Section 12-37-2740). Upon suspension, your license and registration may not be reinstated until the County Treasurer notifies the DMV that the property tax has been paid. The DMV may impose reinstatement fees.

Court's Exhibit 1:

Transcript of Testimony of Kim Murphy and Exhibits, Before the Richland County Elections and Voter Registration Commission, dated August 30, 2016[1,2]
(Testimony ROA049-176)
(Exhibits ROA355-436)

See R. 385-395

[1] All exhibits listed as County Exhibits (1-10) are mis-labeled and should be labeled Plaintiffs' Exhibits (3-12). In addition, individuals labeled in the Index as making County Staff Statements are also mis-labeled. Rainwater, Roberts and Ballard were Plaintiffs' witnesses and Harmon, Tyler and Selph were Defendant's witnesses.

[2] Court's Exhibit 1 (Transcript of Administrative Hearing) has been replaced with Transcript of Administrative Hearing from Plaintiffs' Record on Appeal so to contain ROA page numbers for reference purposes.
