CERTIFICATE OF COUNSEL

Counsel for Petitioners certify that there was an unpublished opinion of the S.C. Court of Appeals in this matter filed May 16, 2018 and the Petition for Rehearing by Petitioner was denied by the S.C. Court of Appeals on June 22, 2018.

QUESTIONS PRESENTED

1. DID THE S.C. COURT OF APPEALS ERR IN NOT FINDING THE PURPOSE OF THE EASEMENT WAS TO GAIN ACCESS TO A DIRT ROAD SHOWN ON A PLAT OF WOODTRAIL SUBDIVISION WHICH ROAD ALLEGEDLY CONNECTED TO JOHNSON MARINA ROAD?

2. DID THE S.C. COURT OF APPEALS ERR IN FINDING THE EASEMENT RIGHT OWNED BY THE RESPONDENT GRANTED HIM THE RIGHT OF INGRESS, EGRESS AND ACCESS TO LAKE MURRAY, INCLUDING BY VEHICLE TOWING LIGHT WATER CRAFT?

STATEMENT OF CASE

Respondent, Hamilton Duncan, filed his Summons and Complaint on September 23, 2013. By Consent Order dated June 19, 2014, Hamilton Duncan, as Personal Representative of the Estate of Christine A. Duncan was added as a Respondent in this action. Also by Consent Order dated June 19, 2014, Respondent was granted leave to amend his Complaint. In his Amended Complaint, Respondent seeks an injunction enjoining the Petitioners and their agents from obstructing or otherwise interfering with the Respondent's right-of-way easement and from unreasonably discouraging prospective buyers; and to dismantle and remove rip rap, water pipe(s) and other obstructions blocking Respondent's right-of-way easement. Respondent also seeks an Order declaring (a) that the easement extends to the edge of Petitioners' Property; (B) that Respondent is entitled to maintain the Easement in such a way that it will be traversable by vehicle towing a watercraft and enable Respondent to launch the watercraft from the easement. In their Answer, Petitioners admit the existence and origin of the Easement. Further answering the Petitioners' allege that the termination point of the Easement is the location point described in said easement as it was on execution date of the easement grant (July 28, 1976) and that with an express easement, Respondent cannot unilaterally expand or change the specific provisions in the easement.

A merits hearing was held on this matter on April 28, 2015. Appearing at the merits hearing were the attorneys of record, Petitioner Roy Drasites, Tommy C. Boozer, Manager of SCE&G's Lake Murray Shoreline Management Program representative, Carl W. Bostick, Dennis G. Johns, and Larry W. Smith, all three are South Carolina registered land surveyors.

On July 29, 2015, The Honorable Joseph M. Strickland, Richland County Master-in-Equity filed his Order indicating the following:

- a. The easement burdens the entire length of the Drasites Property;
- b. The purpose of the Easement is for ingress, egress, and access to Lake Murray;
- c. Included within the Respondent and his successors-in-title rights to use the easement, is the right to vehicular use of the easement, including by vehicle towing and hauling light watercraft;
- d. Respondent and his successors in title are entitled to maintain the Easement in such a way that will allow use of the Easement, including the vehicle towing and launching light watercraft; to the extent Respondent, or his successors in title, perform such maintenance, it shall be at their expense; and
- e. Petitioners are hereby enjoined from discouraging any prospective purchasers of the Duncan Property.

On August 10, 2015, Petitioners served their Motion to Alter or Amend the Court's Order filed July 29, 2015. The Honorable Joseph M. Strickland filed his Order denying Petitioners' Motion to Amend on December 4, 2015. Order read as follows, "This matter before the Court is a Motion to Alter or Amend Judgment submitted by James Randall Davis, Esquire attorney for the Petitioners. The motion is denied.”

On January 8, 2016, Petitioners filed and served their Notice of Appeal with the South Carolina Court of Appeals. On May 16, 2018 the South Carolina Court of Appeals issued its decision affirming the ruling of the Master. On May 31, 2018, the Petitioners filed a Motion to Reconsider. On June 22, 2018, the Court of Appeals issued its decision denying the Petitioners’ Motion to Reconsider.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

Petitioners and Respondent own property in the same subdivision in Richland County. Petitioners’ property abuts Respondent’s property on the Southeastern side. Respondent has a twenty (20’) foot wide easement that parallels the Southeastern boundary of Petitioners’ property.

Respondent and Petitioners’ chain-of-title are shown.

RESPONDENT’S CHAIN OF TITLE

By Deed dated July 28, 1976 and recorded August 3, 1976 in Deed Book D393 at Page 147, Woodberry Utilities, Inc. conveyed to Jay Clark Case (see Respondent’s Trial Exhibit 15) (R. p. 194)) the following one acre tract:

All that certain piece, parcel or lot of land, with improvements thereon, situate, lying and being near the Town of White Rock, County of Richland, State of South Carolina, being shown and designated as a one acre tract on a plat prepared for R. J. Marsh, Inc. by Douglas E. Platt, Sr. dated March 25, 1976, and to be recorded: Said lot, according to said plat, is bounded and measures as follows, to-wit: On the Northeast by Paved State Road #S-40-2265 whereon it measures 208’ feet; On the Southeast by property now or formerly of SCE&G Co. whereon it measures 208’ feet; On the Southwest by lands of Woodberry Utilities, Inc. whereon it measures 208’ feet; On the Northwest by lands of Woodberry Utilities, Inc. whereon it measures 208’ feet; be all measurements a little more or less.

The origin of the easement at dispute in this case is deed dated July 28, 1976 and recorded August 3, 1976 in Deed Book D393 at Page 150 (the "Easement Deed"), wherein Woodberry Utilities, Inc. conveyed to Jay Clark Case (see Respondent's Trial Exhibit 1) (R. p. 166) a non-exclusive right of ingress and egress over a twenty (20') foot strip of land. The Easement Grant reads as follows:

"A non-exclusive right of ingress and egress over a twenty (20') foot strip of land running in a Southwesterly direction along the southeastern side of Tract "A" and extending from the property line of Jay Clark Case to the 360° degree contour of Lake Murray."

Jay Clark Case then deeded to A. Charles Craft, III and Manita B. Craft (see Respondent's Trial Exhibit 14)(R. p. 191)) the property by deed dated December 15, 1995 and recorded December 19, 1995 in Deed Book 1293 at Page 668 wherein he also conveyed the following Easement Grant:

"That certain non-exclusive easement for ingress and egress over a 20 foot strip from the above described property to the 360 contour of Lake Murray, said easement is described in that certain deed to Jay Clark Case from Woodberry Utilities, Inc. recorded in the Office of the RMC for Richland County in Deed Book D393 page 130 and shown on the Plat prepared for Jay Clark Case by Site Consultants and recorded in the Office of the RMC for Richland County in Plat Book 52 page 1316.

The Site Consultants plat referenced in the deed from Jay Clark Case to Mr. and Mrs. Craft is dated April 25, 1988. See Respondent's Trial Exhibit 18 (R. p. 199).

By General Warranty Deed dated June 28, 2002 and recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for Richland County in Deed Book 680, Page 383, A. Charles Craft, III and Manita B. Craft conveyed a fee simple interest to Respondent and his wife, Christine A. Duncan in 1312 Silver Point Road, Chapin, South Carolina 29036, more particularly described as follows (the "Duncan Property"):

All that certain piece, parcel or lot of land, with improvements thereon, situate, lying and being in the County of Richland, State of South Carolina, containing .99 acres, more or less, shown and designated on a plat prepared for Jay Clark Case by Site Consultants dated April 25, 1988, and recorded in R. M. C. Office for Richland County in Plat Book 52 at page 1316, and being further shown on a plat prepared for A. Charles Craft, III and Manita B. Craft by Hussey, Gay Bell & DeYoung, Inc., dated December 13, 1995. Said lands are bounded as follows: NORTH by lands now or formerly of Drasites for a distance of 208.93 feet; EAST by Silver Point Road, S40-2265 for a distance of 208.93 feet; SOUTH by lands now or formerly of Biernaski, for a distance of 208.73 feet; and WEST by further lands now or formerly of Drasites for a distance of 208.47 feet, all measurements a little more or less.

Christine A. Duncan passed away as a citizen and resident of the State of South Carolina, County of Richland. Respondent Hamilton Duncan has been appointed Personal Representative of the Estate of Christine A. Duncan.

This conveyance is made subject to Easements, Restrictions, Covenants, and Conditions of record, including matters shown on recorded plats.

The Respondent's easement is shown on the Southeastern border of Petitioners' property, Lot 1, on Respondents' Trial Exhibit 16 (R. p. 197).

The earliest plat describing the easement in issue is the plat of Wood Trail Subdivision (earlier name of Respondent and Petitioners' subdivision) prepared by Civil Engineering of Columbia dated May 14, 1981 (some 5 years after the easement execution on July 28, 1976) and said plat does not show the easement in issue terminating at the waters of Lake Murray but terminates at the edge of a road that ran along the boundary of the Petitioners' property and shows the waters of Lake Murray beyond the easement termination point as well as beyond the road. The Respondent's easement is shown on the Southeastern border of said plat. See Petitioners' Trial Exhibit 13 (R. p. 235).

Petitioners and Respondent had a common grantor for their properties; that being Woodberry Utilities, Inc. Woodberry Utilities, Inc. was conveyed the common source property (35.7 acres) plus fringe lands* by deed from Betty A. Thompson (See Respondent's Trial Exhibit 6 (R. p. 178)) dated August 14, 1973 and recorded August 14, 1973 in Deed Book 289 at Page 790 in the Office of Register of Deeds for Richland County.

A portion of Petitioners' property is fringe land which is a portion of Parcel B in the deed from South Carolina Electric & Gas Company to Betty A. Thompson by deed dated October 30, 1960 and recorded May 1, 1963 in Deed Book 354 at Page 554 in the Register of Deeds Office for Richland County. See Respondent's Trial Exhibits 7 (R. p. 181) and 9 (R. p. 181). Said deed reserved an easement for a road running generally along the Southeastern boundary of the aforesaid described tracts.

The 35.7 acre tract owned by Betty A. Thompson is shown on a plat dated March 29, 1960 prepared McMillian Engineering Company and filed of recorded in Richland County on April 15, 1960. See Respondent's Trial Exhibit 21(R. p. 202). The road that is referenced on the Woodtrail Plat is shown on Respondent's Trial Exhibit 21 (R. p. 202) on the Southeastern side of the 35.7 acre parcel and is the road that was reserved to SCE&G in Respondent's Trial Exhibit 7 (R. p. 181) and 9(R. p. 181).

A portion of Petitioners' property is fringe land and it is a portion of Parcel B, 0.98 acre, and is Respondent's Trial Exhibit 10; R. p. 185.

Larry Smith, a registered land surveyor, testified as an expert witness for the Respondent. Mr. Smith worked with South Carolina Electric and Gas Company and did all the fringe land surveying on Lake Murray for the power company from 1962-1969, and as a private surveyor is still doing fringe land surveys for the power company. Transcript p. 58 (R. p. 99, Lines 15-21). Mr. Smith testified that: (1) the creator of Respondent's easement could only convey an easement to the 360 contour because it did not own the land below the 360 contour; (2) the grantor's property terminated at the 360 contour, Transcript p. 63 (R. p. 104, Lines 7-9); (3) the property below the 360 contour came under the Power Company's jurisdiction, Transcript p. 65 (R. 106, Lines 5-24); and (4) any use of the Power Company's property below the 360 contour had to be with the Power Company's approval, Transcript p. 66 (R. p. 107, Lines 1-3).

Tommy Boozer, Shoreline Management Manager of South Carolina Electric and Gas Company, has been such for 25 years. Transcript p. 82 (R. p. 123, Lines 21-23). Mr. Boozer testified that: (1) he dealt with developments and different activities around the shoreline, Transcript p. 83 (R. p. 124, Lines 1-3); (2) South Carolina Electric and Gas Company had jurisdiction of property owned by it below the 360 contour, Transcript p. 83 R. p. 124, Lines 8-9); (3) this property came under SCE&G's written Shoreline Management Plan. Petitioners's Trial Exhibit 3 (R. p. 213), Transcript p. 83 (R. p. 124, Lines 22-25); (4) this plan had been in existence since 1975; (5) Respondent, by letter, had requested permission from SCE&G to do certain work below the 360 contour for grading and removing some soil. Transcript p. 85 (R. p. 126); (6) there was no permit issued by SCE&G for that request, Transcript p. 85 (R. p. 126); and (7) a boat dock nor a boat ramp would be issued to the Respondent, Transcript p. 85 (R. p. 126). Page 16 of the Lakes Murray Shoreline Management Plan indicates that a residential land owner who owns property above the SCE&G fringe land will have the right of access by foot to and from the lake. Petitioners' Trial Exhibit 3 (R. p. 213).

APPLICABLE LAW CASES

An “easement” is a right which one person has to use the land of another for a specific purpose, and gives no title to the land on which the servitude is imposed. Windham v. Riddle, 381 S.C. 192, 672 S.E.2d 578.

As a general rule, to constitute a grant of an easement, any words clearly showing the intention to grant an easement are sufficient. 25 Am.Jur.2d. Easement and Licenses §15, at 512 (2004). “Whether a grant in a written instrument creates an easement and the type of easement created are to be determined by ascertaining the intention of the parties as gathered from the language of the instrument; the grant should be construed so as to carry out that intention.” Smith v. Comm'rs of Pub. Works of City of Charleston, 312 S.C. 460, 441 S.E.2d 331, 335 (Ct. Appl 1994).

“If the language is uncertain or ambiguous in any respect, all the surrounding circumstances, including the construction which the parties have placed on the language, may be considered by the court, to the end that the intention of the parties may be ascertained and given effect.” 25 Am.Jur.2d Easements §18, at 516 (2004). Cited as Ten Woodruff Oaks, LLC v. Point Development, LLC, 385 S.C. 174, 638 S.E.2d 510.

If there is any ambiguity in an easement, the ambiguity should be construed liberally and most strongly in favor of the person who did not write or prepare the easement. The reason for the rule of strict construction against the party preparing the easement is that one who speaks or writes can, by exactness of expression, more easily prevent mistakes and meaning more than one with whom he is dealing, and that he who has brought the easement into existence and, thus, primarily responsible for its inaccuracies should justly and suffer for its shortcomings, if any. Myrtle Beach Lumber Company v. Willoughby, 276 S.C. 3, 274 S.E.2d 423.

Equity Courts have the ability to locate width and location of a road and the determination of the extent of an easement is equitable. Plott v. Justin Enterprises, 374 S.C. 504, 649 S.E.2d 95 (1987).

A plat which is not referenced or incorporated into an easement description is not made a part of the legal dimensions described in the plat. McAllister v. Smiley, 301 S.C. 10, 389 S.E.2d 857 (1990).

A plat is admissible although not referenced to in any deed in the opposing party's chain of title and the opposing party was unaware of the existence of the plat prior to trial. Culbertson v. Culbertson, 273 S.C. 103, 254 S.E.2d 558 (1979).

"A grant of an easement is to be construed in accordance with the rules applied to deeds and other written instruments." (quoting 28A C.J.S. Easements § 57 (1996)); C.A.N. Enters., Inc. v. S.C. Health & Human Servs. Fin. Comm'n, 296 S.C. 373, 377, 373 S.E.2d 584, 586 (1988).

The rights of one claiming an easement by express grant are limited within the scope of the privilege. The extent of the servitude is determined by the terms of the grant. Forest Land

Co. v. Black, 216 S.C. 255, 57 S.E. (2d) 420 (1950); Gordon v. Hoy, 211 Va. 539, 178 S.E. (2d) 495 (1971).

LEGAL ANALYSIS

Pursuant to Rule 242, SCAR, the Petitioner respectfully moves for a Writ of Certiorari and for this Court to review and reverse the Court of Appeals' Opinion. Review should be granted because of the special and important issues raised by the Opinion's ruling below. The Opinion below should be reviewed because the ruling is in contraction with existing South Carolina Supreme Court case law as to determining the intent of the grantor as to a granted easement and the scope of the easement. Lastly, the Opinion misapplies the standard of review of the Court of Appeals in that there was not a preponderance of the evidence supporting the factual findings of the Master.

EASEMENT DOES NOT CLEARLY STATE PURPOSE

The easement grant owned by the Respondent is as follows:

All that certain non-exclusive easement for ingress and egress over a Twenty (20') feet strip from the above described property to the 360 foot contour of Lake Murray, said easement being more particularly described in that certain deed from Woodberry Utilities, Inc., to Jay Clark Case, recorded in said RMC Office in Deed Book D393 at page 130, being more particularly shown on the plat above referred to.

Initially, looking at the expressed terms of the easement, the easement language does not speak with specificity as to the purpose of the easement. (R. p. 166). The easement states it is an "ingress/egress" easement. It only expresses access rights from the Respondent's property to the 360° degree contour to Lake Murray. Respondent's easement gives the legal right to travel (ingress/egress) the distance "extending from the property line of Respondent's property to the 360 degree contour of Lake Murray." The S.C. Court of Appeals is broadening the "intent" of the Respondent from an ingress/egress easement only to one that includes "lake access" to Lake

Murray. See Respondent's Trial Exhibit 1. It does not state that the specific purpose is for access to Lake Murray. Respondent's deed did not reference a plat showing the termination point of the easement abutting the waters of Lake Murray. See Respondent's Trial Exhibit 1. It is also clear, from the testimony by Respondent's expert witness, Larry Smith, that the grantor of the easement had no further rights in the property beyond its termination point which was the 360° degree contour of Lake Murray. Transcript p. 104 (R. p. 104, Lines 7-9) This meant that his easement granting rights terminated at the 360° degree contour. Obviously, the grantor of the easement could only grant easement rights on the property that it owned. In order to travel from the Respondent's property to access Lake Murray requires two easements because two separate properties are involved. The Respondent's easement provides the ingress/egress to the property, owned in 1976 by Woodberry Utilities.

EASEMENT HAS NO ACCESS TO LAKE MURRAY

Once at the waters of Lake Murray, one needs a second easement to access Lake Murray owned by SCE&G. It is impossible for one easement to do both tasks because the ingress/egress property is owned by a different party than the one that owns Lake Murray. Lake Murray is owned/controlled/managed by SCE&G and lake access to Lake Murray must be granted only by SCE&G for that property below the 360° contour. See Petitioner's Trial Exhibit 3. No documents were presented whereby SCE&G either granted Respondent "lake access" to Lake Murray. See Petitioner's Trial Exhibit 1. The easement on page 16 of SCE&G's manual gives the Petitioners' family their legal lake access but it does not give Hamilton Duncan an easement for lake access to Lake Murray because the easement on page 16 is for "lakefront" owners only (it doesn't apply to easement holders). See Petitioner's Trial Exhibit 3, p. 16. In S.C. Court of Appeals' Opinion, the Court indicated that: "Duncan is responsible for bearing the costs of maintaining the easement, and any improvements would be subject to SCE&G's approval." This paragraph seems to be indicating that the Court is recognizing that Respondent's use of the property beyond the termination point of his easement would have to be subject to SCE&G's approval. See Order, Ct. App., paragraph 2.

PRIOR USE OF EASEMENT

The Respondent must base his easement right on what was granted to him by this particular language. The history of the use for the easement does not indicate that it was used for vehicular traffic towing light watercraft. Respondent was not present for the hearing and did not testify on his use. Respondent has presented no evidence on his personal interpretation of the easement language. The other witnesses were three registered land surveyors and a representative from South Carolina Electric & Gas Company whom did not testify as to any specific use of the easement. Respondent does not have the physical ability to launch a small watercraft from the granted easement distance because the easement terminates at the 360° contour and there is no granted access agreement from SCE&G for use of Lake Murray by Respondent. See Petitioner's Trial Exhibit 1.

Respondent was notified by SCE&G that there was no permit for soil excavation of the kind requested by the Respondent. (Petitioners' Trial Exhibit 1) (R. p. 210). This was the shoreline soil where the easement is located. Mr. Boozer had further testified he had received no dock permit or ramp permit. The Management Plan further indicates that an abutting property owner has foot traffic rights on fringe land.

EASEMENT WAS FOR ACCESS TO ROAD

Petitioners argue that based on the above the easement language is ambiguous in determining the intent of easement. Looking beyond the actual "four corners" of the easement language, the only other recorded document in the Respondent's chain of title is a plat prepared by Site Consultants in 1988; some 12 years after the actual grant of easement in 1976 (Respondent's Trial Exhibit 18) (R. p. 199). This plat is not part of the original easement grant but is just referenced in subsequent deeds. This plat could not grant any more rights than what was provided by the language in the original grant.

The earliest recorded evidence, outside the terms of the easement grant, is a plat prepared in 1981 which is referred to in the facts as the "Woodtrail Plat" shows the Respondent's property, Petitioners' property and the easement in question. (Petitioners's Trial Exhibit 13) (R. p. 235). At the termination point of the easement, there is a road. Mr. Marsh executed the deed from Woodberry Utilities, Inc. to Respondent's predecessor-in-title as to the easement. (Respondent's Trial Exhibit 15) (R. p. 194). The Woodtrail Plat prepared for R.J. Marsh, Inc. (corporation owned by Mr. Marsh referred to immediately above who owned also Woodberry Utilities, Inc. that executed the easement to Respondent's predecessor-in-title) was being prepared for someone who had knowledge of what abutted the Woodtrail plat (i.e. the road which is located at the end of the Respondent's easement). Petitioners argue that this plat best expresses the intent of the Respondent's easement in that it connected to a road that traverses the Woodtrail Subdivision and tied into a road.

Based on Petitioners' chain-of-title, which originated out of the 35.7 acre tract conveyed to Woodberry Utilities, Inc. by Betty A. Thompson, the same road on the Woodtrail Plat appears on the 1960 plat showing the 35.7 acres. (Respondent's Trial Exhibit 6) (R. p. 178). The fringe lands conveyed by South Carolina Electric & Gas Company to Betty A. Thompson (fringe land in out chain-of-title) reserved to South Carolina Electric & Gas Company the road which is shown on the 1960 plat prepared for Betty A. Thompson showing the 37.5 acres. (Respondent's Trial Exhibit 9) (R. p. 181). Petitioners argue that this road is the same as that which is appears on the 1960 Woodtrail Plat.

The plats referenced in this portion of Petitioners' legal analysis, shows, by preponderance of evidence, that the easement provided access to a road that existed as early as 1960 and was in existence after the easement grant to the Respondent and are plats closest in time to the easement execution as compared to plats relied upon by the Respondent to prove that the easement provided was for access to Lake Murray. One of Petitioners' relied upon plat was not in the chain-of-title of the Petitioners' and Respondents property. The S.C. Court of Appeals seemed to minimize the legal significance of the plat that was not in the chain-of-title. Case law cited by the Petitioners states otherwise. In ruling against the Petitioners' road argument the S.C. Court of Appeals referenced that Petitioners were relying on a plat that was not in the chain-of-title to the property. This same plat shows the road lying between the termination point of Respondent's easement and the waters of Lake Murray.

CONCLUSION

Since the easement language only indicated that it was for access purposes, it did not specify lake access and did not have a plat showing that the termination point of the easement adjoined Lake Murray. The easement is ambiguous. Circumstances beyond the face of the document are necessary to determine its purpose. To have legal access use of Lake Murray by SCE&G by Respondent, there would have to be evidence of such which does not exist in this record. There was no history of the use of Respondent's easement for the use granted by the S.C. Court of Appeals by light watercraft and the is not a preponderance of evidence supporting the ability of the physical access to Lake Murray for light watercraft. The deeds and plats referenced in this Motion are the closest in time as to the creation of the easement and reflect that this easement tied into an existing road and not Lake Murray. Preponderance of evidence supports the intent of the easement was access to the road which abutted the termination point of the granted easement.
