RE: Appellate Case 2017-0021290 and Appellate Case 2016-002058

Dear Ms. Kitchings:

I have not received an answer to the question that I called your office about on how to proceed on Appellate Case 2017-002290. On August 8, 2018, your office sent me a letter notifying me that I had not provided an Initial Brief and a Designation of Matter. I was given ten days to provide both. However, your records clearly indicate that I provided both on June 8, 2018, two months prior to your letter of August 8, 2018, copy enclosed.

I am a pro se litigate and have no legal training. I am trying to work my way through this complex legal matter involving a consolidation of multiple lawsuits. I now learn on C-track that I have not provided a Reply Brief. This is totally confusing to me as the matter of me providing an Initial Brief and Designation of Matter has not been resolved.

The errors were not on my end according to your records; therefore, I need to know how to proceed regarding the questions of my Initial Brief and Designation of Matter and well as submitting the Reply Brief that I can do once you recognize the filing of my Initial Brief and Designation of Matter which I filed months ago.

Another concern I have is the status of Appellate Case 2015-002058. I am being represented in this case by Desa Ballard, Esquire. I have no records on this case in the lower court nor the Appellate Court. I cannot find it listed on C-track. Was this case consolidated in Case 2017-0021290? While I can find no records on it, I maintain my Objection to Desa Ballard withdrawing from this Appellate case, an objection that I have already filed.

I look forward to your response as soon as possible regarding these several concerns listed above.

Sincerely yours,

Deborah Harwell
