I have just learned from Ms. Quinn's family that today the eye doctor determined she has a bad scratch on one of her eyes. They are treating her with antibiotics and a contact patch, and she is having trouble seeing out of both eyes. They are also treating her for nausea. She was only able to leave the bed today to go to the doctor and to throw up.

I have asked her family to update me again in the morning, and I will pass along that report.

Best Regards,

Kevin T. Hardy, Esq.
