STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA
IN THE SUPREME COURT

APPEAL FROM ADMINISTRATIVE LAW COURT
AHRLEY C. ROBINSON, ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGE

Appellate Case No. 2018-001078
No. 2017-ALJ-04-059-11J

Isiah James, Jr., Petitioner, vs.

South Carolina Department of Corrections (SCDC), Respondent,

AFFIDAVIT

James is the affiant herein who deposes and says as set forth below herein:

1. He initiated or the brought the action herein while in the respondent's facility where he served thirty-nine (39) years prior to his release;
2. The action involved sentence related credit(s) (goodtime, earned work credit and earned statutory goodtime) which he was deprived of while incarcerated;
3. The liberty interest invoked herein deals with statutory good-time and ex post facto violation(s) concerning earned work credits;
4. This Court should seriously ponder and acknowledge paragraph 3 herein;
5. Affiant continues still to suffer the collateral consequence of imprisonment in job placement where he seeks suitable employment and is discriminated based on age 63 if he was allowed to work in prison; he could have retired at 62;
6. He is unable to pay the cost(s) and fee(s) in this proceeding herein.
