Yes I'm writing you in concerns about a deadline that I have that's about to approach, I was issued a letter on the 26th of November stating I have 45 days to submit a PRO SE response to a writ of certiorari petition that my attorney has filed with the Courts. Due to the holidays and lockdowns at the prison I'm currently at it's been hard for me to make it to our law library to study and find out more about this motion, so I'm asking could the courts issue me an extension on my deadline so I could have more time to prepare for my case. Thanks Have a blessed day
