

① Case # 2017-CP-10-00072 ~~Jan 23 18~~ Feb 17 18

The clerk's office finally sent me ~~to~~ ~~thank you for sending~~ the record upon review + notice an order Filed 2018 July 26 Am 9:38

← The order is the denial of my Post Conviction Relief that came before the court for a hearing. Having now heard this matter, the court orders as indicated herein = roll down to "6" "The court further orders"

"The Attorney General is directed to submit to the court a proposed order and to serve the order on opposing counsel within 15 days."

It is so ordered

Date July 23, 2018

RECEIVED

FEB 19 2019

signed by Debra L. Jefferson Presiding Judge

This is by far prejudicial

the order of dismissal should be barred and null & void

it is as though summary judgment

the same with filing in the right time limit or like filing a sub 59(e) or an appeal all plus many more have strict dates & time clock and the State significantly missed these windows

FEB 19 2019

please forward this resolution to the court and the A.G.'s office

Thank you

So what's crazy right is to have the order of dismissal right here - [my father has also retained a screen shot of the docket online where a 15 day time limit was posted] The order of dismissal was signed and filed on the same day

November 7th 2018 [signed Nov 9th] So I did a little rough math and from July 23 to Nov 7th minus weekends is about 75 days.

I ~~think~~ times the 15 days. Why is that not a procedural default? For I know certain if I miss a time clock then I suffer the consequences. This is a procedural default on the state respondent. I don't know what that totally means but its completely against the justice & ~~ethics~~ ethics of this state. The time clock for the order had been dismissed.

Please forward to AG's office

Sincerely
"Chard"

P.S.

I have no lawyer right now

I have sought time & time again to be recognized to be avail

— this is ridiculous
