JUDGMENT OF FORECLOSURE AND SALE
Deficiency Judgment Waived

Attorney for the Plaintiff

2009 MAR 17 A 10:42
CLERK OF COURT
PICKENS COUNTY
SOUTH CAROLINA

A hearing was held March 12, 2009 at 02:00 PM. The testimony was taken, which is reported herewith, and from the testimony and evidence, I find and conclude as follows:

FINDINGS OF FACT:

1. The Lis Pendens was filed on December 30, 2008.
2. The Summons and Complaint were filed on December 30, 2008.
3. Service was made upon the Defendant(s) named in this report as shown by the proof(s) of service filed herein.
4. The Defendant(s) Vanessa Y. Bradley is in default as shown by affidavit or order filed herein.
5. No Defendant raised any issues related to Plaintiff's standing to prosecute this action. Therefore, any issues related to Plaintiff's standing or ability to prosecute this action are waived.
6. The Defendant(s) and/or all attorneys of record were notified of the time, date, and place of the hearing in this matter.
7. According to the affidavit filed herein, the Defendant(s) Vanessa Y. Bradley is in default and that the Defendant(s) Vanessa Y. Bradley is not in the Military Service of the United States of America, as contemplated under The Servicemembers Civil Relief Act, 50 U.S.C. § 501 et. Seq.
8. For value received, Vanessa Y. Bradley made, executed and delivered a(n) Fixed Rate Note dated January 30, 2001 promising thereby to pay the sum of $84,200.00 with interest at 6.875% per annum. Other terms and conditions are stated in the Fixed Rate Note, which is of record herein.

9. To better secure the payment of the Fixed Rate Note described above Vanessa Y. Bradley made, executed, and delivered to Schmidt Mortgage Corporation a certain real estate first Mortgage in writing, dated January 30, 2001 covering real property in Pickens County, which is the same as that described in the Complaint. The first Mortgage was filed on January 31, 2001, and is of record in the Office of RMC/ROD in Book 1594 at Page 53. This mortgage was subsequently assigned to Fleet National Bank by assignment dated January 30, 2001 and recorded January 31, 2001 in Book 1594 at Page 69; subsequently assigned to the Plaintiff herein by assignment recorded January 29, 2009 in Book 3953 at Page 254. This mortgage is subject to a Loan Modification Agreement dated April 11, 2005.

10. This first Mortgage constitutes a first mortgage lien on the subject property, subject only to ad valorem or other liens/taxes given priority by statute.

11. The Plaintiff in this action is the owner and holder or nominee for the owner and holder of the Fixed Rate Note and first Mortgage it is seeking to foreclose.

12. Any notice required by the terms of the first mortgage or by state or federal statutes has been given to the applicable defendant(s) prior to the commencement of this action.

13. Payment due on the Fixed Rate Note has not been made as provided for therein, and the Plaintiff, as the holder or nominee for the holder thereof, has elected to require immediate payment of the entire amount due thereon and has placed the Fixed Rate Note and first Mortgage in the hands of the attorney herein for collection by foreclosure.

14. The sum of $4,500 is a reasonable fee to allow as attorney fees for Plaintiff's attorney for services performed and anticipated to be performed until final adjudication of the within action, under the terms of the Fixed Rate Note and first Mortgage. These sums are likewise reasonable based on the time necessarily devoted to representation of the Plaintiff during the several month course of these proceedings. The services of counsel performed for the Plaintiff, including the number and types of pleadings and documents prepared, the incumbent liabilities, and the difficulties involved in this particular case also support the amount awarded. The fees are also reasonable given the professional standing of the Plaintiff's counsel and their experience in handling foreclosure matters. The fees awarded herein are also reasonable in light of the fees customarily awarded by this court for similar services in this locality. Moreover, the efforts of Plaintiff's counsel have had the beneficial result of a prompt foreclosure of the mortgage. Services anticipated to be performed until final adjudication contemplates completion of this matter within a reasonable time and does not include exceptional circumstances delaying conclusion beyond the normal time.

15. According to the Plaintiff's accounting, after all payments received by the Plaintiff have been credited to the subject loan, the amount due and owing on the Fixed Rate Note, with interest at the rate provided in the Fixed Rate Note, and other costs and expenses of the within action, including an attorney's fee, secured by the Fixed Rate Note and first Mortgage, is as follows:

(a)	Principal due August 1, 2008	$94,373.63
(b)	Interest from July 1, 2008 through March 12, 2009 at 6.875% per annum	$4,520.97
(c)	Advances (Escrow advances, corporate charges and other charges)	$127.81
(d)	Costs of collection prior to hearing (service, filing, etc.)	$510.00
(e)	Title Abstract Search.....	$250.00
(f)	Attorney's fee	$4,500.00
TOTAL debt secured by Fixed Rate Note and first Mortgage, including interest to date shown.....		$104,282.41

Interest for the period from the date shown in (b) above through the date of this judgment at above stated rate to be added to the above stated "Total Debt" to comprise the amount of the judgment debt entered herein and interest after the date of judgment at the rate of 6.875% per annum (pursuant to the terms of the Fixed Rate Note and first Mortgage) on the judgment debt should be added to such judgment debt to comprise the amount of Plaintiff's debt secured by the first Mortgage through the date to which such interest is computed:

16. Plaintiff is seeking the usual foreclosure of the first mortgage and has in the Complaint (or subsequently thereto in writing) expressly waived the right to a personal or deficiency judgment.

17. The Defendant(s) claim(s) or may claim a lien upon or legal interest in the subject property and in the event there is a surplus from the sale of the subject property, such Defendant(s) may present any such lien or legal interest at a hearing subsequent to the sale, in accordance with Rule 71(c) South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure. The said Defendant(s) and such liens or legal interests are as follows:

None.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED:

18. There is due on the Fixed Rate Note and first Mortgage set forth in the Complaint the sum of $104,282.41, as set out in the Findings of Fact supra, together with interest at the rate provided therein on the balance of principal from the date aforesaid to the date hereof.

19. The amount due in the preceding paragraph (the "Final Total Debt" as set out in the Findings of Fact supra) shall accrue interest at the rate of the respective note rate(s) per annum and together with such interest shall constitute the total judgment debt due the Plaintiff.

20. The amount of the judgment shall be subject to increase to permit the Plaintiff to recover additional costs, commissions and expenses not included in the minimum deposit previously made in compliance with S.C. Code Ann. §14-11-310 (1976). It may also increase to include supplemental compensation for attorney's services not contemplated by the initial fee award. Jurisdiction over the fee award and total debt is reserved to facilitate the assessment and payment of any such costs and/or supplemental compensation. Such additional costs, commissions and expenses may be established by affidavit and shall be adjudicated by the court without further hearing.

21. The Defendant(s) liable for the aforesaid judgment debt of the Fixed Rate Note and first Mortgage including interest at the rate of 6.875% per annum shall on or before the date of sale of the property hereinafter described, pay to the Plaintiff, or Plaintiff's attorney the amount of Plaintiff's debt as aforesaid, together with the costs and disbursements of this action.

22. On default of payment at or before the time herein indicated, the mortgaged premises described in the Complaint, as hereinafter set forth, shall be sold by the Special Referee at public auction, at the Pickens County Courthouse, in the City of Pickens, County and State aforesaid on April 6, 2009, at 11:00 AM, or on some convenient sales day hereafter (and should the regular day of judicial sales fall on a legal holiday, then and in such event, the sales day shall be on the next business day succeeding such holiday), on the following terms, that is to say:

a. For cash: The Special Referee will require a deposit of 5% on the amount of the bid (in cash or equivalent) same to be applied to purchase price if compliance is made, but in the event compliance is not made, the deposit may be forfeited without further hearing and applied first to costs of the action and then to plaintiff's debt. Should the successful bidder at the regularly conducted sale fail or refuse to either make the required deposit at time of bid or comply with the other terms of the bid within 20 days, then the property may be re-sold on the same terms and conditions on the same or some subsequent Sales Day, but at the risk of the defaulting bidder(s).

b. Interest on the balance of the bid shall be paid through the day of compliance at the rate of 6.875%.

c. The sale shall be subject to taxes and assessments, existing easements and restrictions and easements and restrictions of record, and any other senior encumbrances.

d. Purchaser to pay for any statutory commission on sale from the proceeds of the final bid amount.

e. Purchaser to pay for deed preparation, costs of recording the deed and satisfaction of mortgage, and transfer taxes on the deed.

f. Purchaser shall be entitled to possession of the premises only after Purchaser fully complies with the bid amount and a deed is issued by the Court.

23. A personal or deficiency judgment having been waived, the bidding will not remain open after the date of sale and compliance with the bid may be made immediately.

24. Plaintiff may waive any of its rights, including its right to a deficiency judgment in accordance with Rule 71, South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, prior to sale.

25. The Special Referee will, by advertisement according to law, give notice of the time and place of such sale and the terms thereof and will execute to the purchaser, or purchasers, a deed to the premises sold. The Plaintiff, or any other party to this action, may become a purchaser at such sale, and if, upon such sale being made, the purchaser, or purchasers, should fail to comply with the terms thereof within 20 days after date of sale, then the Special Referee may advertise the said premises for sale on the next or some other subsequent sales day at the risk of the highest bidder and so from time to time thereafter until a full compliance shall be secured.

26. In the event an agent of Plaintiff does not appear at the time of sale, the within property shall be withdrawn from sale and sold at the next available sales date upon the same terms and conditions as set forth in this Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale or such terms as may be set forth in a supplemental order.

27. If Plaintiff be the successful bidder at the said sale, for a sum not exceeding the amount of costs, expenses and the indebtedness of Plaintiff in full, Plaintiff may pay to the Special Referee only the amount of the costs and expenses crediting the balance of the bid on Plaintiff's indebtedness.

28. The Special Referee will apply the proceeds of the sale as follows:

FIRST: To the payment of the amount of the costs and expenses of this action, including any Guardian Ad Litem fee or fees of attorneys appointed under Order of Court;

NEXT: To the payment to the Plaintiff or Plaintiff's attorney of the amount of Plaintiff's debt and interest (including attorney fees) or so much thereof as the purchase money will pay on the same;

NEXT: Any surplus should be held pending further Order of this court.

29. In the event the successful bidder is other than the Defendant(s) in possession herein, the Sheriff of Pickens County is ordered and directed to eject and remove from the premises the occupant(s) of the property sold, together with all personal property located thereon, and put the successful bidder or his assigns in full, quiet, and peaceable possession of said premises without delay, and to keep said successful bidder or his assigns in such peaceable possession.

30. In the event the successful bidder is other than the Defendants in possession herein and the occupants have voluntarily vacated the premises or have been ejected from the premises leaving furnishings, fixtures and items not subject to the Plaintiff's Mortgage in said premises, the Purchaser is authorized to remove therefrom all furnishings, fixtures and items not subject to the lien of the Plaintiff's Mortgage, which personal property, being deemed abandoned, shall be removed by the Purchaser or its agents from the subject property by placing said personal property on the public street or highway or by any other means.

31. The Defendant(s) named herein, and all persons whosoever claiming under Defendant(s), is forever barred and foreclosed of all right, title, interest, equity of redemption or lien in the said mortgaged premises so sold, or any part thereof.

32. In accordance with Rule 77(d), SCRPC, the Clerk of Court shall serve a notice of entry of this Judgment of Foreclosure upon all parties not in default for failure to appear herein.

33. The deed of conveyance made pursuant to said sale shall contain the names of only the first-named Plaintiff and the first-named Defendant(s), and the Defendant(s) who was/were the titleholder(s) of the mortgaged property at the time of the filing of the notice of pendency of the within action, and the name of the grantee; and the Register of Deeds/Clerk of Court is authorized to omit from the indices pertaining to such conveyance the names of all parties not contained in said deed.

34. The undersigned will retain jurisdiction to do all necessary acts incident to this foreclosure including, but not limited to, the issuance of a Writ of Assistance.

35. The following is a description of the premises herein ordered to be sold:

20 Pursuant to Rule 53 of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, the above-entitled matter was
21 referred to me with finality to enter a final judgment in the case. On March 17, 2009, a Judgment of
22 Foreclosure and Sale was issued. Prior to the scheduled sales date, the Plaintiff began negotiations for a
23 potential loss mitigation workout with the Defendants, Vanessa Y. Bradley. Unfortunately, the loss
24 mitigation workout did not occur, and the Plaintiff wishes to proceed with the foreclosure and sale and to 25 supplement the previous Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale to reflect the amount of payments, if any, 26 made.

27 THEREFORE, upon motion of the Plaintiff's counsel and for good cause indicated;
28 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the previous judgment debt be amended as follows:

- 29 1. The amount due and owing on the note from the previous judgment was as follows:
30 (a) Principal due $94,373.63
31 (b) Interest from July 1, 2008 through
32 March 12, 2009 at 6.875% per annum $4,520.97

21	including interest to date shown.....	$109,507.80

The new total debt shall accrue interest hereafter at the rate of 6.875% per annum.

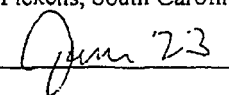

3. Pursuant to an Administrative Order of the South Carolina Supreme Court dated May 22, 2009, the Plaintiff has set forth its belief in its Complaint or by Affidavit, which is already of record in this case, that the mortgage loan which is the subject of this foreclosure action is not eligible for modification pursuant to the terms of the Home Affordable Modification Program (HMP), and therefore Plaintiff has fully complied with said Order, and the foreclosure may proceed. Also Plaintiff called attention that pursuant to Administrative Order of the South Carolina Supreme Court dated May 22, 2009, Plaintiff's attorney has not received a counter affidavit from the Defendant(s).

4. The mortgaged property shall be sold under the terms of the original Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

20 Pursuant to Rule 53 of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, the above-entitled matter was
21 referred to me with finality to enter a final judgment in the case. On March 17, 2009, a Judgment of
22 Foreclosure and Sale was issued. Prior to the scheduled sales date, the Plaintiff began negotiations for a
23 potential loss mitigation workout with the Defendant, Vanessa Y. Bradley. A loss mitigation workout did
24 not occur and a Supplemental Order Post Judgment was filed on June 29, 2010. Prior to the scheduled
25 sales date, the Plaintiff entered into a forbearance agreement with the Defendant, Vanessa Y. Bradley.
26 The defendant has now defaulted on the terms of the forbearance agreement, and thus the Plaintiff wishes
27 to proceed with the foreclosure and sale and to supplement the previous Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale
28 to reflect the amount of payments, if any, made.

29 THEREFORE, upon motion of the Plaintiff's counsel and for good cause indicated;
30 IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the previous judgment debt be amended as follows:

- 31 1. The previous Judgment debt was:
- 32 (a) Principal due $104,282.41
 - 33 (b) Interest from October 1, 2008 through
34 June 30, 2010 at 6.875% per annum $11,331.60

7 (b) Interest from October 1, 2008 through
8 August 31, 2010 at 6.875% per annum $12,410.80

10 (c) Advances (Escrow Advances, Corporate Charges including attorney
11 fees, costs, and other charges previously paid)..... $804.30

12 (d) Additional Costs of collection since previous 13 hearing..... $25.00

14
15 (f) Attorney's Fees..... $3,385.00

16
18 NEW TOTAL DEBT now secured by Note and Mortgage
19 including interest to date shown..... $110,810.33

21 The new total debt shall accrue interest hereafter at the rate of 6.875% per annum.

22 3. Pursuant to an Administrative Order of the South Carolina Supreme Court dated May 22,
23 2009, the Plaintiff has set forth its belief in its Complaint or by Affidavit, which is already of record in 24 this case, that the mortgage loan which is the subject of this foreclosure action is not eligible for 25 modification pursuant to the terms of the Home Affordable Modification Program (HMP), and therefore 26 Plaintiff has fully complied with said Order, and the foreclosure may proceed. Also Plaintiff called 27 attention that pursuant to Administrative Order of the South Carolina Supreme Court dated May 22, 2009,

ORDER DENYING DEFENDANT'S MOTION TO SET ASIDE SALE

This matter comes before me on the motion of Defendant Vanessa Y. Bradley ("Defendant"), to set aside a foreclosure sale held in the above-captioned case on September 7, 2011 (the "Foreclosure Sale"), and for the subsequent deed to be set aside. A hearing was held on Defendant's Motion on March 14, 2011. Defendant appeared through her counsel, Susan Ingles, Esq. Plaintiff JP Morgan Chase Bank, National Association ("Plaintiff"), appeared through its counsel, Mary M. Caskey, Esq. At the hearing, Defendant offered oral testimony in support of her motion, and Plaintiff offered the Affidavit of Charles Herndon and a memorandum of law opposing the motion. Both parties submitted supplemental memoranda in support of their positions on March 24, 2011.

For the reasons stated in Plaintiff's memoranda of law in opposition to Defendant's motion, which are incorporated herein, and after considering the testimony and arguments at the hearing, the Court denies Defendant's motion to set aside the Foreclosure Sale and subsequent deed.

I find that Defendant has failed to meet her burden of showing "fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct of an adverse party," as required by Rule 60(b)(3), SCRPC. While the Defendant made extensive efforts to avoid foreclosure and was given varying explanations of the status of her request for a loan modification, none of the statements by Plaintiff's employees arose to the level of fraud, misrepresentation, or misconduct. Under South Carolina law, an allegedly fraudulent representation "must relate to a present or pre-existing fact and it cannot ordinarily be based upon an unfulfilled promise to perform in the future or statements as to future events." Bishop Logging Co. v. John Deer Indus. Equip. Co., 317 S.C. 520, 527, 455 S.E.2d 183, 187 (1995). Viewing the facts in the light most favorable to Defendant, I find that at the most critical time in August and early September 2010, Defendant was told that a request to postpone the Foreclosure Sale had been submitted, but she was never told that the sale would definitely be postponed. As a result, Defendant has failed to prove any fraud, misrepresentation, or misconduct by Plaintiff.

I further find that it is uncontested that a three month forbearance agreement beginning June 1, 2010, between Plaintiff and Defendant came to an end on August 31, 2010, and did not affect Plaintiff's rights to move forward with the Foreclosure Sale.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Defendant's motion to set aside the Foreclosure Sale and subsequent deed is DENIED.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

ORDER DENYING DEFENDANT'S MOTION TO RECONSIDER

This matter comes before me on Defendant Vanessa Y. Bradley's ("Defendant") Motion to Reconsider in Light of [the] May 2, 2011 S.C. Supreme Court Administrative Order on Mortgage Foreclosure and Additional Reasons ("Motion to Reconsider"), filed on May 25, 2011. Defendant's Motion to Reconsider seeks to alter or amend this Court's Order Denying Defendant's Motion to Set Aside Sale (the "Order") filed on April 29, 2011. I find that Defendant's Motion to Reconsider was timely filed and served, and thus properly before me.

A hearing was held on Defendant's Motion to Reconsider on August 24, 2011. Defendant appeared through her counsel, Susan Ingles, Esq. Plaintiff JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association ("Plaintiff"), appeared through its counsel, Mary M. Caskey, Esq.

For the reasons explained below, the Court denies Defendant's Motion to Reconsider.

mt#1

The following findings of fact are based on the testimony of Plaintiff's witness, Charles Herndon, and Defendant, which was presented to me at the hearing on Defendant's Motion to Set Aside the Sale on March 14, 2011.

Plaintiff commenced this action on December 30, 2008, to collect a residential mortgage loan given to Defendant on January 30, 2001, which is secured by a mortgage on real property in Pickens County, South Carolina (the "Property"). The Defendant failed to respond to Plaintiff's Complaint and failed to appear at a final merits hearing on March 12, 2009. A Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale was issued on March 17, 2009, and the sale of the Property was scheduled to occur on April 6, 2009.

Although Defendant did not appear in the case or attend any hearings, immediately prior to the scheduled foreclosure sale, Defendant contacted Chase Home Finance, LLC ("Chase"), the servicer of Defendant's loan, to request a loan modification and that the foreclosure sale be postponed. Although under no obligation to do so, Plaintiff postponed the foreclosure sale, and to assist Defendant, Chase extended a trial period plan ("Trial Plan"), under the Making Home Affordable Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP"), in which Chase is a participant. Defendant accepted the terms of the Trial Plan, but by her own admission, she failed to timely make all of the payments required under the Trial Plan.

In March 2010, Plaintiff notified Defendant that her loan was not eligible for modification. In accordance with the Supreme Court's May 4, 2009, and May 22, 2009, orders concerning HAMP ("HAMP Orders"), Plaintiff's counsel served and filed an

Affidavit on May 17, 2010, stating that the Defendant was not eligible for a modification under HAMP.

Even though Defendant's loan was not eligible for a modification under HAMP, Chase continued to work with Defendant to reach a workout agreement for her loan, but due to her lack of income, Chase was unable to offer her a permanent solution. As a result, Plaintiff moved forward with its foreclosure, and its attorneys filed an Affidavit in Support of Supplemental Judgment dated June 21, 2010, referencing the loss mitigation efforts and detailing the interest and fees that had accrued since the original foreclosure order was entered in March 2009. A second foreclosure sale was scheduled for August 2, 2010.

Immediately prior to the second scheduled foreclosure sale, Defendant again requested that the sale be postponed. Plaintiff postponed the sale and Chase extended to Defendant a three month forbearance for June, July, and August 2010, the purpose of which, by Defendant's own admission, was to allow her to resubmit another loan modification application based on a change in her income. However, Chase determined it was still unable to offer Defendant a permanent loan modification and notified Defendant of its decision by letter dated August 19, 2010. Chase later provided Defendant with additional and detailed information about why her loan was not eligible for a loan modification.

After notifying Defendant that she was ineligible for a loan modification, Plaintiff proceeded with its foreclosure action, and its counsel filed an Affidavit in Support of Second Supplemental Judgment on August 20, 2010, again referencing Plaintiff's loss mitigation efforts, and detailing the interest and fees that had accrued since the supplemental foreclosure order was entered in June 2010. A third foreclosure sale was scheduled for September 7, 2010.

Just as she had twice before, immediately prior to the third scheduled foreclosure sale, Defendant again asked Chase to reconsider her for a loan modification and postpone the sale. Between August 25, 2010, and August 31, 2010, Chase communicated with Defendant concerning her request for a loan modification and provided her with a detailed list of information it needed in order to consider her for a loan modification. Chase specifically informed Defendant that it would not request approval to postpone the foreclosure until all of the requested information was received.

On September 1, 2010—four business days prior to the third scheduled foreclosure sale on September 7, 2010—Defendant provided Chase with the missing documentation required to consider her request for a loan modification. The following day, Chase informed Defendant that her loan modification application was under review and that it had requested that the foreclosure sale be postponed, but that the request had not yet been approved. Any postponement of the foreclosure action required approval from the Federal National Mortgage Association, the investor on the loan. On September 4, 2010, Defendant contacted Chase to learn of the status of her modification request, and Chase specifically informed her that the modification request was under review, but that the foreclosure sale had not been postponed. The foreclosure sale occurred as scheduled, and the Property was sold on September 7, 2010. Chase later informed Defendant that her loan was not eligible for a modification under HAMP because Defendant had failed to complete a HAMP Trial Plan.

DISCUSSION

For the reasons explained below, I adhere to my previous ruling denying Defendant's Motion to Set Aside Sale. In her Motion to Reconsider, Defendant again alleges that Plaintiff committed fraud by promising her that the foreclosure sale would be cancelled, and that Plaintiff failed to comply with the Supreme Court's orders concerning HAMP. Defendant contends that this Court erred in denying her requests to have her default and all prior orders entered in this foreclosure action set aside, and to conduct discovery of Plaintiff's loss mitigation efforts with Defendant.

While the Defendant found herself in a difficult situation in trying to reinstate her delinquent loan, there is simply no evidence of fraud or misconduct by Plaintiff to warrant granting Defendant the relief she seeks. Instead, the evidence before me shows that despite no legal or contractual obligation to do so, Plaintiff postponed two foreclosure sales and worked with Defendant for seventeen months to try to modify Defendant's delinquent loan. After it exhausted its loss mitigation efforts and after the case had been pending for almost two years, Plaintiff determined it could not offer Defendant a permanent loan modification and properly moved forward with the sale of the Property.

I. Plaintiff's actions do not rise to the level of "fraud" under Rule 60(b)(3).

Having heard testimony from both parties in this action, I find that there is no evidence that the statement on which Defendant relies was false, much less fraudulent.

The Defendant herself admitted numerous times during the hearing on her Motion that Plaintiff's representatives never told her that the sale had been postponed, but instead, only that a request to postpone the sale had been submitted for approval:

Ms. Caskey: Did anyone —so no one at the attorney's office ever told you that the foreclosure sale had been postponed, is that right?

Ms. Bradley: No.

Ms. Caskey: I think you testified earlier that no one at Chase told you that [the sale] had been postponed, right?

Ms. Bradley: Right.

Ms. Caskey: They just told you they requested it, correct?

Ms. Bradley: Right.

(Hrg. Tr. p. 64, ll. 1-10.) Defendant later confirmed her prior testimony:

Ms. Caskey: But no one had ever told you that [the sale] had been postponed.

Ms. Bradley: Correct.

(Id. at p. 79, ll. 17-21; see also id. at p. 30, ll. 15-18 (“And Jeanette had confirmed that the request had been postponed for the foreclosure sale had been submitted, but she didn’t say what other actions had been taken”); id. at p. 31, ll. 20-21 (“they sent the postpone [sic], but they hadn’t got a response or reply of whether or not if it had been or had not been [postponed]”).) Defendant further acknowledged that she was never given any false information about the foreclosure sale. (Id. at p. 77, ll. 7-8 (“I didn’t say I got incorrect information about the foreclosure sale.”).)

Defendant’s testimony corroborated that of Plaintiff’s witness, Charles Herndon, who testified that Defendant was informed that a request to postpone the foreclosure sale was submitted for approval, but that no approval had been given, and thus the third scheduled foreclosure sale was never actually cancelled by Plaintiff.

Under South Carolina law, the statement on which Defendant relies—that Plaintiff's representatives had requested approval to cancel or postpone the foreclosure sale—does not amount to fraud because there is no evidence that the statement is false. It is undisputed that Chase requested approval to postpone the sale and did not receive the approval.

Further, an allegedly fraudulent representation “must relate to a present or pre-existing fact and it cannot ordinarily be based upon an unfulfilled promise to perform in the future or statements as to future events.” Bishop Logging Co. v. John Deere Indus. Equip. Co., 317 S.C. 520, 527, 455 S.E.2d 183, 187 (1995). “As a general rule, fraud cannot be predicated on a statement that constitutes an expression of an intention.” Osborn v. Univ. Med. Assocs., 278 F. Supp. 2d 720, 732 (D.S.C. 2003). Because the statement on which Defendant relies concerns an intent and a future event—the possible postponement of a foreclosure sale scheduled in the future—it does not constitute fraud.

II. Plaintiff's actions do not rise to the level of “misconduct” under Rule 60(b)(3).

Defendant also claims that “failures of communication” between Plaintiff and Defendant concerning the loan modification process constitute misconduct under Rule 60(b)(3). However, only misconduct amounting to “extrinsic fraud” justifies setting aside a final judgment under Rule 60(b)(3). Chewning v. Ford Motor Co., 354 S.C. 72, 80, 579 S.E.2d 605, 610 (2003).

Extrinsic fraud is “fraud that induces a person not to present a case or deprives a person of the opportunity to be heard. Relief is granted for extrinsic fraud on the theory that the fraud prevented a party from fully exhibiting and trying his case, there has never been a real contest before the court on the subject matter of the action.”

Id. (quoting Hilton Head Ctr. of South Carolina v. Public Serv. Comm'n, 294 S.C. 9, 11, 362 S.E.2d 176, 177 (1987)) (emphasis added).

In this case, none of Plaintiff's actions prevented Defendant from "fully exhibiting and trying [her] case." Defendant candidly admitted that she was served with the complaint, but chose not to hire an attorney or respond to any of the pleadings. Instead, she sought advice from a nonlawyer and was advised not to answer the complaint or attend the hearing. Thus, Defendant did not litigate the issues in this case because she chose not to based on advice she herself solicited, and not as a result of any statements made or actions by Plaintiff.

Defendant also claims that Plaintiff is guilty of misconduct under Rule 60(b)(3) because Plaintiff failed to properly consider her for a permanent loan modification. Defendant presented no such evidence. But, even if true, Plaintiff's actions did not affect Defendant's ability to adjudicate the issues in the foreclosure action. The foreclosure hearing occurred on March 12, 2009, which was 17 months before Defendant's last request for a loan modification on August 31, 2010. It is impossible that Plaintiff's actions in August 2010 could have affected Defendant's ability to fully litigate the matter before the Court in March 2009. Thus, Plaintiff's decision not to offer Defendant a permanent loan modification does not amount to misconduct under Rule 60(b)(3), and does not provide a basis to set aside the September 7th foreclosure sale.

III. The forbearance agreement that ended on August 31, 2010, did not prevent the September 7th foreclosure sale.

Defendant seeks a reconsideration of the ruling that a three-month forbearance period ended on August 31, 2010, and did not affect Plaintiff's right to move forward with the foreclosure sale. Defendant testified that the purpose of the three-month forbearance was to allow her to resubmit an application for a loan modification, and to that end, Plaintiff postponed a foreclosure sale scheduled for August 2, 2010. Defendant admitted that after Chase received her application, she was notified that she was not eligible for a modification by letter dated August 19, 2010. As a result, the undisputed evidence before me shows that as of August 31, 2010, when the forbearance period ended, Defendant had been considered and denied for a loan modification. Thus, I find there was no reason that the forbearance agreement should have prevented the foreclosure sale.

IV. Defendant has not been denied due process at any time during the course of this foreclosure action.

Defendant claims a due process right to challenge the denial of her application for a loan modification following each denial, including after Plaintiff's letter dated August 19, 2010. However, Defendant has failed to show a deprivation of a protected liberty or property interest, which is a prerequisite to prevail on a due process claim. See Steffens v. American Home Mortgage Servicing, Inc., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26709 (D.S.C. March 15, 2011).

In Steffens v. American Home Mortgage Servicing, the District Court of South Carolina addressed an almost identical due process claim to the one Defendant presents here. In Steffens, the plaintiff alleged that she had "a protected property interest in a process of decision-making that complies with Treasury Department rules" concerning HAMP. Id. (internal cites omitted). The District Court of South Carolina expressly rejected the plaintiff's due process claims, holding that HAMP does not create a property interest in permanent loan modifications for borrowers. Id. at *7. The district court emphasized that “a protected property interest arises if a person has more than an abstract need or desire for [a benefit.] He must have more than a unilateral expectation of it. He must, instead, have a legitimate claim of entitlement to it.” Id. at *6 (quoting Board of Regents of State Colleges v. Roth, 408 U.S. 564, 577 (1972)). “When a statute or policy grants to the decisionmaker discretionary authority in its implementation, a protected property interest is not created.” Id. Noting that HAMP does not create a private right of action, and that the compliance authority for HAMP is delegated solely to Freddie Mac, the district court held that HAMP does not create a property interest in permanent loan modifications for borrowers. Id. at *7; see also Williams v. Geithner, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 104096, at *6 (D. Minn. Nov. 9, 2009) (determining that the HAMP regulations “did not intend to create a property interest in loan modifications for mortgages in default,” and thus finding no likelihood of success on the merits of plaintiffs’ due process claim).

I find that the Defendant has no protected property interest in a loan modification or due process right to challenge the modification process in order to prevent foreclosure.

V. The Supreme Court’s Administrative Order dated May 2, 2011, does not apply to this case.

In her Motion to Reconsider, Defendant argues that the Supreme Court’s Administrative Order dated May 2, 2011 (“2011 Administrative Order”), requires the Court to reconsider its Order and entitles Defendant to the relief she seeks from this foreclosure action. However, I find that the 2011 Administrative Order does not impact this case at all. The 2011 Administrative Order expressly provides that it only applies to actions pending on May 9, 2011, or actions filed after May 9, 2011. The foreclosure sale in this case occurred on September 7, 2010—eight months before the effective date of the 2011 Administrative Order—so this case is not subject to the 2011 Administrative Order.

VI. Defendant is simply not entitled to any of the remaining relief requested in her Motion to Set Aside the Sale.

In addition to asking the Court to set aside the September 7th foreclosure sale, Defendant requested that all prior orders be set aside, including the order of default judgment, so that she can file an answer and counterclaim. Alternatively, Defendant requested that any eviction be stayed for 90 days to allow for discovery on the loan modification process. For the reasons set forth below, there is no basis for any of the relief Defendant seeks and her request is denied.

a. Defendant withdrew her request to be relieved from default and for leave to file an answer and counterclaim.

Paragraph 1 of Defendant's Motion to Set Aside Sale requests "[t]o alter and amend the written decision on her Motion to Stay Further Action, Set Aside Entry to Default, and allow Defendant to answer and assert counterclaims." However, at the hearing held on March 14, 2011, counsel for Defendant stated that paragraph 1 of the Motion to Set Aside Sale was "a mistake" and that Defendant was not seeking to be relieved from default. Previously, Defendant never filed any motion to set aside the entry of default in this case, so I find that Defendant never properly requested that she be relieved from default and granted leave to file a responsive pleading.

b. Defendant withdrew her request to be relieved from default and for leave to file an answer and counterclaim.

Even if Defendant had properly requested relief from default, I find that she failed to make a showing why the order of default should be set aside. Rule 60(b), SCRCP, governs motions for relief from a default judgment and requires a timely motion and a showing of mistake, inadvertence, or excusable neglect or other grounds under that rule, and generally a meritorious defense. Sundown Operating Co. v. Intedge Indus., 383 S.C. 601, 608, 681 S.E.2d 885, 888 (2009) (“Once a default judgment has been entered, a party seeking to be relieved must do so under Rule 60(b), SCRCP. The standard for granting relief from a default judgment under Rule 60(b) is more rigorous than the “good cause” standard established in Rule 55(c).”). The rigorous standard under Rule 60(b) is intended to “make it more difficult for a party to avoid default once the court has entered a judgment, which carries greater finality.” Id. at 608, 681 S.E.2d at 889.

In this case, Defendant has not offered any evidence whatsoever as to why the default judgment entered on March 17, 2009, should be set aside. She admits receiving the foreclosure complaint and notice of the foreclosure hearing, and admits that she intentionally chose not to appear based on advice she had solicited from a nonlawyer. Further, Defendant did not offer any evidence of a meritorious defense to the foreclosure action. It is undisputed that Defendant was in default under the terms of the loan documents when the foreclosure action was filed, and that she is currently due for the monthly payment due on October 1, 2008. Further, Defendant’s only claim against Plaintiff is that Plaintiff failed to permanently modify Defendant’s loan under HAMP, which is not a viable cause of action. See Steffens v. American Home Mortgage Servicing, Inc., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26709 (D.S.C. March 15, 2011) (holding that HAMP does not create a private right of action).

Because Defendant has not made a timely request or showing to be relieved from default, her request is denied.

c. Due to her default, Defendant waived any right to object to the merits of the foreclosure action.

Defendant's default results in the admission of the well-pleaded facts of the complaint and waives all defenses not previously asserted. Harbor Island Owner's Ass'n v. Preferred Island Properties, Inc., 369 S.C. 540, 633 S.E.2d 497 (2006); Howard v. Holiday Inns, Inc., 271 S.C. 238, 246 S.E.2d 880 (1978); State v. LoveShop, Ltd., 286 S.C. 486, 334 S.E.2d 528 (Ct. App. 1985). Although Defendant has attempted to raise defenses to Plaintiff's right to foreclose, under well-settled law, Defendant waived those defenses by intentionally failing to timely respond to Plaintiff's Complaint.

d. Defendant has failed to provide any basis for the Court to set aside the orders concerning the amount of the debt.

In addition to seeking reconsideration of this Court's Order dated April 25, 2011, which denied Defendant relief from the Court's Order Confirming the Sale, dated September 22, 2010, Defendant seeks to have this Court's orders dated March 17, 2009, June 25, 2010, and August 20, 2010, set aside. However, each of the orders was entered after Plaintiff's negotiations for a loss mitigation workout with Defendant failed and were entered solely for the purpose of updating the amount due on the loan as a result of accrual of interest and other charges. Defendant did not present any evidence that any of the amounts or information in the orders was incorrect, so there is no basis for the Court to set any of those orders aside, and Defendant's request is denied.

e. Defendant is not entitled to a stay for post-foreclosure sale discovery.

There is no basis for Defendant's request to conduct discovery with Plaintiff to obtain information about Plaintiff's decision not to offer Defendant a loan modification. Neither the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure nor the Supreme Court's HAMP

M#13

Orders provide for discovery after a foreclosure merits hearing. See Rule 26, SCRC (discovery only available for “relevant” matters in a “pending” action). Defendant has already waived her rights to raise any defenses to the foreclosure action and a claim under HAMP is not a viable claim or defense to the foreclosure action. As a result, I find there is no evidence “relevant to the subject matter” that could be discovered in post-foreclosure sale discovery and no basis for the Court to grant Defendant such relief.

VII. Plaintiff complied with the Supreme Court’s HAMP Orders.

The Supreme Court’s HAMP Orders provide that once a lender files an affidavit stating that it has complied with the HAMP Orders, a borrower has ten days to file a counter affidavit. Defendant candidly admitted that after receiving Plaintiff’s Affidavit dated May 17, 2010, which states that Plaintiff had complied with the HAMP Orders, Defendant did not file a counter affidavit challenging Plaintiff’s compliance. Thus, there is no basis to reconsider my ruling that Plaintiff complied with the Supreme Court’s HAMP Orders.

VIII. Plaintiff properly denied Defendant’s request for a loan modification.

Defendant claims that she was entitled to a permanent loan modification because she made eight payments under the Trial Plan. However the terms of the Trial Plan signed by Defendant are clear and unmistakable: the Trial Plan lasts for three months and requires the borrower to make three payments on time. By her own admission, Defendant failed to make the first three payments on time, which made her ineligible for a permanent modification. Although she testified that she continued to tender payments to Plaintiff from October 2009, to April 2010, the HAMP Trial Plan terminated when Defendant failed to make the full amount of the payments on time. Thus, I find there is no evidence to support Defendant's claim that she was entitled to a permanent loan modification.

IX. Plaintiff had no duty to carry out any "modification obligation" prior to filing suit.

Defendant contends that "[t]he Court failed to address the Plaintiff's failure to carry out its modification obligation owed under the [May 2009 Administrative Order from the Supreme Court] before pursuing the foreclosure suit." However, Defendant cites no authority requiring Plaintiff to offer a loan modification prior to filing a foreclosure action. This action was filed on December 8, 2008, and the Supreme Court's HAMP Orders were not issued until May 4, 2009, and May 22, 2009, respectively. The HAMP Orders required that Plaintiff, as the lender in a pending action as of May 4, 2009, file an affidavit as described above, but did not contain any prerequisites with which Plaintiff must comply in order to bring the foreclosure action. I find that Plaintiff complied with all necessary prerequisites before filing the foreclosure action.

X. Plaintiff is not required to show prejudice.

Defendant claims that Plaintiff failed to produce evidence that it would be prejudiced if the sale is set aside, but Plaintiff bears no such burden. Defendant, as the movant under Rule 60(b), "has the burden of presenting evidence proving the facts essential to entitle her to relief," including that Plaintiff would not be prejudiced if Defendant is granted the relief she seeks. BB&T v. Taylor, 369 S.C. 548, 552, 663 S.E.2d 501, 503 (2006); see also Rodriguez v. Gutierrez, 391 S.C. 323, 705 S.E.2d 94, 99 (Ct. App. 2011).

Moreover, the evidence in the record clearly shows Plaintiff would be prejudiced if Defendant is granted the relief she seeks. Plaintiff's witness Charles Herndon testified that Plaintiff worked with Defendant for almost two years to avoid foreclosure, but ultimately was not able to offer Defendant a loan modification. Mr. Herndon also testified that Plaintiff was the successful bidder of the Property, and that it assigned its bid to the Federal National Mortgage Association. Plaintiff would thus be severely prejudiced if the Court were to set aside the foreclosure sale or any of the prior orders in this case because Plaintiff would lose the time and money already expended to complete the foreclosure and the transfer of the Property to the Federal National Mortgage Association would have to be undone. Defendant has not offered any evidence to show that Plaintiff would not suffer this prejudice, and thus I find that she thus failed to meet her burden under Rule 60(b), SCRPC.

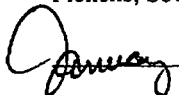

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Defendant's Motion to Reconsider is DENIED.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

2. Pursuant to S.C. Code Section 33-15-101, Plaintiff is a corporation or other legal entity doing business in the State of South Carolina.
3. Plaintiff is the owner and holder of the Note and Mortgage described hereafter and the subject of this action.
4. Some lien on or interest in the real estate, the subject of this action, may be claimed by the Defendant(s) herein.
5. The Defendant(s) herein described as judgment creditors have by filing said judgments designated their attorney entering the judgment as their agent for service of process under the provisions of South Carolina Code Section 15-35-840.

7. In order to secure the payment of the Note according to the terms and conditions thereof, Vanessa Y. Bradley made, executed and delivered unto Schmidt Mortgage Corporation a certain real estate mortgage ("Mortgage") covering the following described property and any and all improvements to the property, including but not limited to a mobile/manufactured home:

All that certain piece, parcel or lot of land lying and being situate in the State of South Carolina, County of Pickens, being known and designated as Tract Two-A (2-A), containing 0.46 of an acre, more or less, on a plat prepared by Michael L. Henderson, PS #6946, dated October 19, 2000 and recorded in Plat Book 400 at Page 17B, records of Pickens County, South Carolina, reference to which is invited for a more complete and accurate description.

This being the same property conveyed to Vanessa Y. Bradley by deed of Southern Homes & Remodeling, Inc., dated October 26, 2000 and recorded October 27, 2000 in Book 575 at Page 72 in the Office of the Register of Deeds for Pickens County.

Property Address: 454 Johnson Rd

TMS# 4065-07-69-5698

8. The Mortgage was signed, witnessed and probated January 30, 2001; thereafter the Mortgage was recorded in the Office of the RMC/ROD for Pickens County on January 31, 2001, in Mortgage Book 1594 at Page 53. This mortgage was subsequently assigned to Fleet National Bank by assignment dated January 30, 2001 and recorded January 31, 2001 in Book 1594 at Page 69; subsequently assigned to the Plaintiff herein. This mortgage is subject to a Loan Modification Agreement dated April 11, 2005.

9. The Mortgage evidences and secures the repayment of money advanced by Plaintiff or its predecessor in interest to, or on behalf of, the mortgagor(s) and constitutes a first lien on the mortgaged premises.

10. Any notice required by the terms of the Mortgage or by state or federal law has been given to the applicable Defendant(s) prior to the commencement of this action.

11. After all payments received by the Plaintiff have been credited to the subject loan, the loan is in default and due for August 1, 2008, and the conditions of the Note and Mortgage have been broken. Plaintiff elects to and does declare the entire balance of said indebtedness due and payable, and that there is due on the Note and Mortgage as of August 1, 2008, the principal sum of $94,373.63, with interest from July 1, 2008, advances, late charges, and also for the costs and disbursements of this action, including attorney's fees.

12. Plaintiff's right to a personal or deficiency judgment pursuant to South Carolina Code Sections 29-3-650 and 29-3-660 is expressly waived.

13. Pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage, Plaintiff has employed counsel to prosecute this action and a reasonable value of services of counsel in this action is the sum as the Court may find appropriate.

14. Plaintiff may be forced to pay sums for taxes and insurance and costs for securing the property, which sums, according to the terms of the Mortgage, should be added to the amount of the debt.

15. Pursuant to the terms of the Mortgage and applicable state law, Plaintiff requests the mortgage be foreclosed and that the property be sold at public auction in accordance with law, subject to any liens for taxes, special assessments of record against such property, and existing easements or restrictions of record.

16. The hereinafter named Defendant(s) may have some interest in or lien upon the premises covered by the Mortgage set forth above, or some part thereof, but that such interests or liens are junior and subsequent to the lien of Plaintiff's Mortgage or, if specified below, have been paid in full and either should be satisfied of record or the lien released from the subject real estate. Said liens or interests are of record in the Office of the RMC or Clerk of Court of the aforesaid county and are described as follows:

A. None.

WHEREFORE, having fully set forth its Complaint, Plaintiff prays that this Honorable Court inquire into the matters as set forth herein and:

(1) Under the direction of this Court, ascertain and determine the amount due upon the Note and Mortgage held by Plaintiff together with attorney's fees and costs of this action.

(2) Declare Plaintiff's Mortgage a first lien and render judgment of foreclosure for the amount so found to be due and owing thereon, together with any ad valorem taxes, or insurance premiums, and any other expenses which may be due and have been advanced by Plaintiff, with reasonable attorney's fees, and for the costs of this action.

(3) Order the reimbursement of all costs for inspecting and securing the property incurred by the Plaintiff as a result of the delinquency.

(4) Appoint a Receiver to collect the rents, issues, profits or designated sums from the mortgagor(s), and/or the grantee(s) of the mortgagor(s), and/or tenant(s) occupying or exercising control over the mortgaged premises and hold the same subject to the further order of this Court.

(5) Under the direction of this Court, sell the mortgaged premises, bar any equity of redemption, and apply the proceeds of sale as follows:

First, to the costs and expenses of the within action and sale;

Second, to the payment and discharge of the amount due on Plaintiff's Note and Mortgage, together with attorney's fees as aforesaid; and

Third, to the distribution of any surplus pursuant to Rule 71, of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure;

(6) Issue an order directing the Sheriff of Pickens County, South Carolina, to place the successful purchaser at said foreclosure sale in possession of the property should the same become necessary;

(7) Order such other and further relief as may be just and proper.

MOTION TO SET ASIDE SALE

Vanessa Y. Bradley,

DEFENDANT.

2008 SEP 30 A 11:10
SOUTH CAROLINA

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the undersigned counsel for Defendant, Vanessa Y. Bradley, moves the Court for an Order, setting aside the sale and subsequent deed of the property in this case and staying and restraining further action by Plaintiff or the Court until full discovery and an evidentiary hearing can be had on the Defendant's eligibility for the Homes Affordable Modification Program.

The Defendant seeks the following relief:

1. To alter and amend the written decision on her Motion to Stay Further Action, Set aside Entry of Default and allow Defendant to answer and assert counterclaims, Vacate the Judgment of Foreclosure and Supplemental Orders, Discovery and an Evidentiary Hearing on Compliance with the Administrative Order of the South Carolina Supreme Court filed May 22, 2009;
2. An Order setting aside the sale and deed of the property to the Plaintiff on the basis of fraud;

3. An Order setting a conference and /or order for mediation to explore the Plaintiff's analysis of the loan herein under the Homes Affordable Modification Program (HAMP) and whether her trial modification should have been made permanent pursuant to that program and the regulations, guidelines and directives promulgated thereunder;
4. HAMP requires the Plaintiff to stop foreclosure when modification is still pending, and the Plaintiff represented to the Defendant repeatedly by telephone that modification was pending and the sale was put on hold. In addition, the Plaintiff represented to the Defendant in writing that the sale was put on hold. Since the sale was apparently not put on hold, this was fraud.
5. Defendant relied on the representations of Plaintiff as shown by her payment of the modified payment amount through August 2010. These were accepted by Plaintiff and the September payment was the first modified payment to be rejected.

This motion is made on the grounds that Plaintiff failed to properly review the Defendant for a permanent modification after she completed her trial modification period, prematurely continued the foreclosure before the HAMP process was completed, and failed to provide proper notice of their decision (if there was one) on permanent modification. Plaintiff is required to use reasonable efforts to remove all impediments to a permanent modification and to refrain from pursuing foreclosure until this has been done.

Though the sale should not have gone forward due to the HAMP status, the Plaintiff obtained Supplemental Orders and pursued the foreclosure sale. The Plaintiff or its servicer is obligated under its Participant Agreement and U.S. Treasury Supplemental Directives to offer a permanent modification or communicate to the borrower specifically why the trial modification cannot become permanent, this was not done. Since the sale went to the Plaintiff, it should be set aside so that the Court may inquire into the Plaintiff's fraud.

This motion is based on applicable statutory and case law and Defendant respectfully requests that the Court set aside the sale and/or any deed arising therefrom and allow at least a 90 day stay until a complete explanation of the Plaintiff's fraud can be inquired into and the failure to offer a permanent modification can be addressed by both parties. The S.C. Supreme Court's Administrative Order as well as an ever increasing body of federal law are designed to effect permanent modification of mortgages where, as here, the mortgagor has income to afford a modified payment, qualified for a trial modification and completes the trial modification.

WHEREFORE, Defendant requests this Court to grant this motion and order as follows:

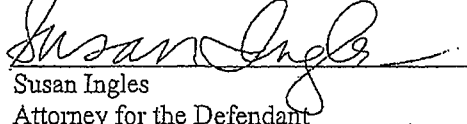

- A. That the sale of the property herein and any deed arising therefrom be set aside;
- B. That the Order and Supplemental Orders of Foreclosure be vacated and Defendant's default be set aside and the Defendant be allowed to file an Answer and Counterclaims;
- C. That further action in this matter be stayed for at least 90 days or until such time as the permanent modification opportunities have been properly afforded to the Defendant.
- D. That this Court order Plaintiff to supply Defendant with a sworn statement of the NPV values and of the specific facts showing that the loan is not eligible for a permanent modification under the Making Home Affordable Modification Program and state the facts showing that the modification process specified by the Guidelines has been completed properly. This should include all assumptions and calculations.

E. Grant such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

COUNTY OF PICKENS

Case No. 2008-CP-39-2120

JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A.,

Plaintiff,

vs.

Vanessa Y. Bradley,

Defendant.

DEFENDANT'S MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF MOTION TO SET ASIDE SALE

Vanessa Y. Bradley ("Defendant") submits this memorandum in support of her Motion to Set Aside Sale filed on September 20, 2010, with the Pickens Court of Common Pleas. The Defendant seeks an Order, setting aside the sale and subsequent deed of the property in this case and staying and restraining further action by Plaintiff or the Court until full discovery and an evidentiary hearing can be had on the Defendant's eligibility for the Homes Affordable Modification Program (HAMP). The motion further seeks that the default be set aside and that she be allowed to file responsive pleadings. The applicable HAMP rules are those contained in the Treasury Guidelines and Supplemental Directives issued beginning April 6, 2009 because the Defendant's Trial Period Plan was extended in June 2009. The subsequent superseding HMP Handbooks 1.0, 2.0 and 3.0 were not effective until after Chase evaluated Defendant's loan and extended a Trial Period Plan (TPP) to modify her loan under HAMP.

This motion is based on South Carolina Rule of Civil Procedure Rule 60(b)(3). That rule requires "[o]n motion and upon such terms as are just, the court may relieve a party or his legal representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following reasons:"

"(3) fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct of an adverse party."

The fraud, misrepresentation and misconduct of the Plaintiff in this case can be summarized from the evidence into several categories as follows:

1. Statements by the Plaintiff to Defendant that her home could not be sold while her loan was under review, yet proceeding with the sale of her home on September 7, 2010:
Tr. p. 17 line 20-p. 18 line 14 Amanda from Chase tells Bradley that Chase can't foreclose while she is in forbearance and while her modification is pending.
Tr. p. 22 lines 12-19 Sandra from Chase told Bradley that the September 7, 2010 foreclosure sale was on hold.
Tr. p. 29 lines 15-23 Sandra said they couldn't sell Bradley's home until the final review of her modification was completed and that would be 30-45 days (beyond the sale date of Sept. 7)
Tr. p. 30 line 21- p. 31 line 7 Jay from Chase said the house had not been sold on September 7, 2010.
Tr. p. 39 lines 6-16 Everyone she had talked to at Chase had said they cannot foreclose on your property while you are under review.
2. Statement in a HAMP denial letter dated August 19, 2010 based on insufficient Net Present Value (NPV) which stated that Defendant's home could not be sold for the 30 day period following the letter (on or before September 18, 2010).
3. The September 3, 2010 letter from Chase (Plaintiff's Exhibit 4) which induced Defendant not to act because it confirmed receipt of last info that Chase solicited from her (more than 7 days prior to sale) The application is deemed initiated when the initial request is received, here August 2, 2010, not the date final documentation is received.
4. Established pattern of being in charge of the conduct of the foreclosure lawsuit as well as simultaneous modification efforts. Upon revival of the long dormant foreclosure action, did nothing to apprise the Defendant of her due process rights, need to obtain a lawyer. No further hearings were noticed or held to inquire into the situation.
5. August 19, 2010 letter from Chase stated she was turned down for modification based on NPV but has 30 days to request NPV input information and house will not be sold during that time (This was false because they sold the house 19 days later on Sept. 7. The NPV inputs were requested by Defendant September 20 and sent by Chase October 5, 2010.

6. Actions in soliciting and receiving updated info indicated to Defendant that any sale of her home was on hold and were therefore misleading
7. Filed multiple affidavits that did not apprise the Special Referee of true state of modification efforts.
8. Told Defendant that they would not and could not pursue a foreclosure during the pendency of a forbearance or a modification review, yet pursued the foreclosure sale during both.

In the case at bar, the Plaintiff utterly failed to accord the Defendant her rights under HAMP and the S.C. Supreme Court Administrative Order on HAMP. The Plaintiff lulled the Defendant into a sense of comfort that they were working with her to modify her loan. But suddenly, after a long dormancy in the pending foreclosure lawsuit, and during a period of forbearance of loan payments given, the Plaintiff notified Defendant of a foreclosure sale of her property. A period of extending gestures of modification and mixed messages of whether the foreclosure could or would continue ensued.

A trial modification that had not been made permanent though paid for ten months was followed by a denial based on insufficient NPV while trial payments were still being made; and that was followed by another denial based on insufficient NPV; followed by a denial based on failure to make trial period payments that came after the September 7, 2010 foreclosure sale. None of these HAMP "decisions" were revealed in the various sworn statements that the Plaintiff presented to the Court beginning in May of 2010, though the Administrative Order required it.

The modification gestures, mixed messages, misrepresentations and failure to provide detailed information to the Court were followed by the sudden sale of her property with no hearing having been held for eighteen months. This sale occurred despite an August 19, 2010 letter from Chase stating that the home could not be sold for the next 30 days and verbal assurances of the same from Chase employees up to and beyond the date the property was actually sold.

The Plaintiff would have the Court ignore the testimony of the Defendant and rely on an Affidavit summarizing, but not providing, servicer computer notes to sustain its fraudulent sale of the Defendant's home. The Plaintiff also asserts that to succeed in its motion under Rule 60(b)(3), the Defendant must have a meritorious private right of action under HAMP rather than a meritorious defense under our own Supreme Court's Administrative Order regarding rules foreclosing mortgagees must follow. The Defendant's defense must simply be one which is worthy of a hearing or judicial inquiry because it raised a question of law deserving of some investigation and discussion or a real controversy as to real facts arising from conflicting or doubtful evidence. McClurg v. Deaton 380 S.C. 563; 671 S.E. 2d 87 (S.C. App. 2008). Such a defense is present here.

The following timeline setting forth the sequence of significant events beginning with the filing of the Complaint summarizes the fraud, misrepresentation and misconduct of the Plaintiff including their failure to timely file an Affidavit under the Supreme Court Administrative Order.¹

TIMELINE OF EVENTS

The following timeline of events is evidenced by the testimony of the Defendant Vanessa Bradley and not disputed by the Affidavit of Charles Herndon . Herndon is a Vice President of Chase Home Finance, LLC , the servicer of the Plaintiff's mortgage loan. The Affidavit is based solely on his summary of loan servicer computer notes rather than Mr. Herndon's own personal knowledge. The actual servicer notes were not provided by the Plaintiff.

¹ Plaintiff highlights the failure of Defendant to respond to its "HAMP Affidavit". However, Plaintiff fails to mention that it did not adhere to the terms of the Administrative Order (AO). The AO required the Plaintiff to file its Affidavit by May 15, 2009. This was not done by the Plaintiff, therefore the foreclosure action was stayed by the terms of the order. There was no order lifting the stay in this case prior to the scheduling of the August 2 and September 7, 2010 sales. The AO further provides for dismissal of the foreclosure if the affidavit is not served within 90 days of May 22, 2009. This was not done by Plaintiff in the case at bar, as it filed an Affidavit on May 18, 2010.

December 30, 2008 Chase files Complaint for Foreclosure

January 2009 Bradley submits application for modification

Defendant submitted an application for a loan modification to Chase Home Finance, LLC ("Chase") the servicer of Defendant's loan. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 8). According to the Affidavit of Charles Herndon, Chase told Ms. Bradley that the review process would take about 8-10 weeks. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 8) Despite this representation, Chase continued to pursue the foreclosure lawsuit it had filed and a foreclosure sale was scheduled for April 6, 2009. Later, Chase agreed to postpone the foreclosure sale at Ms. Bradley's request as she was being reviewed for a modification.

The S.C. Chase did not file the Affidavit required by the Administrative Order.

EVENTS DURING HMP TRIAL PERIOD PLAN

June 2009

Chase extended a Trial Period Plan ("TPP") under HAMP, in which Chase is a participant. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 10; Plaintiff's Exhibit 1) According to the written TPP, plan included three monthly payments of $517.29 beginning in July of 2009. Plaintiff made the three trial payments. Chase disputes that the final trial payment was made in full during September 2009 but provided no evidence of same other than the hearsay Affidavit of Charles Herndon (Herndon Aff. ¶ 11).

July 1, 2009 Effective date Defendant's Home Affordable
Modification Trial Period Plan (TPP) begins
(first payment due)

August 2009 Second month of TPP

August was last month for HAMP Affidavit to be filed for cases pending on May 4, 2009. Plaintiff did not file a HAMP Affidavit.

September 2009 Third month of TPP

October 2009-
March 2010 Chase continued to accept TPP payments from Defendant

Chase representative told Bradley to continue making her TPP payments and she did not tell her that she had failed the Trial Period Plan. Motion Hearing Tr. P.15 lines 2-20

March 4, 2010 Chase sends letter to Defendant and for the first time states that her loan is not eligible due to the Net Present Value (NPV)—even though she was previously granted a Trial Period Plan which requires passing the NPV test to begin with.

The NPV test is run before the trial plan offer is extended per Supplemental Directive 09-01 p. 4, HAMP Checklist for Verified Trial Period Plans, p.7, FAQ 2314. The versions used the first time the NPV test is run the test must be used for any subsequent runs of the NPV test. FAQ 1808, 1809.

The March 4, 2010 letter offers a Forbearance Plan as one of the options available. Ms. Bradley testified she did not recall receiving this letter. Plaintiff would have Court assume she received it. If she did, it offered forbearance which she was subsequently granted.

April 2010 Defendant's final TPP payment accepted by Chase
(A total of at least ten successive TPP payments accepted)

With Chase still accepting TPP payments, Bradley calls Chase and is granted a forbearance for June, July, August 2010

Upon completion of the three TPP payments, Defendant contacted Chase and asked how she should proceed with her payments. Chase told her to continue making payments for the same amount as the Trial Modification payments.
Motion Hearing Tr. P. 15 lines 2-20

It is undisputed that the Defendant continued making the payments through April of 2010 while her only income was unemployment benefits (Transcript p. 15 lines 14-20). The Herndon Affidavit does not mention these subsequent seven payments of $518 made by Ms. Bradley when Chase failed to act on the TPP to make it permanent or to otherwise make known their intentions on the loan.

Chase asserts that the decision had been made in March 2010 that the loan did not meet the Net Present Value (NPV) test and she was denied a modification on that basis. Yet, her March and April 2010 payments were accepted. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 12; Plaintiff's Ex. 2 to Affidavit). Also, the TPP would not be extended unless the NPV test was run, per the above referenced Supplemental Directive and FAQ.

LAST HAMP TRIAL PERIOD PLAN PAYMENT MADE

May 12 2010 Chase swears to Affidavit that states:

"... the subject loan is not eligible for modification because the HMP modification process has been completed without a modification."

(Exhibit 1 to Plaintiff's memorandum in Opposition).

Ms. Bradley testified that Amanda from Chase granted a three month forbearance during which time she would not have to make payments to Chase for June, July or August of 2010 and she was to resubmit a modification package. (Transcript p. 16 lines 22-25). The Herndon Affidavit simply states that "Chase's customer service notes indicate that throughout May, June and July 2010 Chase continued to communicate with the Borrower, and her representatives concerning the Loan, but Chase and the Borrower were unable to reach a workout agreement due to the Borrower's lack of income." (Herndon Aff. ¶ 13). Therefore, the fact that a forbearance was granted during June, July and August is undisputed.

EVENTS DURING PERIOD OF FORBEARANCE AGREEMENT

June 2010 Three month Forbearance begins

Per Amanda at Chase, a three month forbearance was granted for June, July and August 2010. She indicated Chase could not foreclose during the forbearance period.
Motion Hearing Tr. p. 16 l. 17-p. 17 l. 5.

Ms. Bradley submitted new information to Chase at their request with updated financial information. Despite this response with the requested submission, Chase began to pursue the foreclosure action which had lain dormant for a year.

Chase employee Barbara Hindman submitted her sworn Affidavit dated May 12, 2010 stating that ". . . the subject loan is not eligible for modification because the HMP modification process has been completed without a modification." This sworn statement was made just one month after Ms. Bradley's April payment. The Affidavit did not give any specific facts as required by the Administrative Order and did not mention the completed TPP or the March 4th denial based on NPV.

June 21, 2010 Despite the existing forbearance, Chase files Affidavit in Support of Supplemental Judgment which states:

"Prior to the scheduled sales date, the Plaintiff began negotiations for a potential loss mitigation workout with the Defendants, Vanessa Y. Bradley. Unfortunately, the loss mitigation workout did not occur, and the Plaintiff wishes to proceed with the foreclosure and sale . . .”

This Affidavit did not mention the completed TPP, the denial based on NPV from March, or the existing forbearance for June, July and August 2010.

June 22, 2010 Notice of August 2, 2010 Sale sent

Despite the forbearance, the attorney for Chase set the sale of Ms. Bradley’s home for August 2, 2010 and sent notice of same to Ms. Bradley June 22, 2010. She was surprised by that because she was relying on the forbearance that had been given and confirmed by Amanda at Chase.

Motion Hearing Tr. p. 17 line 13 – p. 18 line 14).

June 28, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

On June 28, 2010, she contacted Chase and spoke with a representative named Autumn regarding the foreclosure. Autumn assured her that the forbearance was still active and that Chase would notify their attorneys of the forbearance.

Motion Hearing Tr. p. 18 line 15 – p. 19 line 1).

June 29, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

On June 29, 2010, Defendant contacted Chase again and was told that she had been assigned a relationship manager. Defendant spoke with the relationship manager and was told to send proof of income. Defendant sent proof of income as requested.

Motion Hearing Tr. p. 20 lines 13-22)

July 2010 Bradley secures full time employment

In July 2010, Ms. Bradley secured full time employment and called Chase to let them know. The sale scheduled for August 2, 2010 had been cancelled. Ms. Bradley spoke with her relationship manager and informed her that she had gotten a job. She requested Ms. Bradley send the new information to Chase showing new employment income information, which she did.

Motion Hearing Tr. p. 21 line 4- p. 22 line 11).

August 2, 2010 Second scheduled sale date (cancelled)

August 2, 2010 Defendant faxed RMA (Request for modification and affidavit) including requested financial information to Chase. Fax receipt confirms this date

August 16, 2010 Notice of Sale scheduled for September 7, 2010

On August 16, 2010 during the forbearance period, Ms. Bradley received another notice of sale from Plaintiff's attorneys dated August 13, 2010 notifying her of a sale scheduled for September 7, 2010. Defendant called Chase and spoke with her relationship manager, Sandra, who informed her not to worry about Notice of Sale that the loan was in underwriting review. The relationship manager told Defendant she would contact attorney and let them know the foreclosure sale was on hold. She also said there would be a new relationship manager now that the modification was in underwriting. She stated the relationship manager was "Erin" in underwriting. Bradley was never able to talk to Erin.

August 19, 2010 Letter from Chase (Plaintiff's Exhibit 3)

On August 19, 2010, Chase sent a letter stating that the loan did not qualify for HMP. The reason for denial was "[b]ased on the NPV results, the owner of your loan has not approved modification." This letter also stated that she had 30 days to request the specifics and that "[n]o foreclosure shall be conducted and you will not lose your home during this thirty day period." Defendant requested the values September 20, 2010 and received them October 5, 2010.

Chase refers to this as "Chase and Defendant were unable to agree on a workout". This assertion suggests that the modification process is a two way street but belies their overall position that they are not required to grant a modification and they simply notified Ms.ley that modification was denied.

August 25, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

Ms. Bradley again contacted Chase on or about August 25, 2010 and asked her what amount to pay for September of 2010 since the forbearance was to end at the end of August. She was told that a sale had been set for September 2, 2010, and that Defendant needed $678 or whatever amount she could afford to send in order to stop the impending sale of her home. (The August 19 letter had stated that the home could not be sold for 30 days).

August 30, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

Subsequently, on August 30, 2010, she contacted Chase and spoke with a representative that told her that her home had been set for sale September 7, 2010. Chase told her that they had all the paperwork needed to review her for modification but they needed a paycheck stub evidencing new income. Defendant faxed this requested information to Chase on August 31, 2010.

Motion Hearing Tr. p. 24 l. 20-p.25 l. 9

August 31, 2010 Defendant faxed additional info requested by Chase.
Fax receipt confirms this date.

FORBEARANCE AGREEMENT ENDS

September 1, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

On September 1, 2010, Defendant tried to contact her relationship manager Erin in the Underwriting Department at Chase but she was unavailable. Defendant spoke with another representative Beth and was told that Chase had received all the necessary modification documents and that she would send a notice to Erin in the Underwriting Department to have the sale postponed. She was instructed to call back the next day, September 2, 2010.

September 2, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

When she called Chase on September 2, 2010, she requested again to speak with Erin in the Underwriting Department but was told that Erin was busy. At that time, Ms. Bradley spoke with another representative Samantha who informed her that she would send another e-mail to Erin to escalate the action and assure postponement of the September 7, 2010, sale date. By letter dated September 3, 2010, Chase confirmed receipt of modification application on August 30, 2010.

Motion Hearing Tr. p. 27 l. 23- p. 28 l. 21 and Plaintiff's Ex. 4

September 3, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

Defendant again contacted Chase and requested to speak with Erin and was told she was not in and was told by another representative named Sheryl that my file was in underwriting and the request to postpone the sale had been submitted. The Chase representative instructed Defendant to call back the next day.

Motion Hearing Tr.p.28 l. 15-p. 29 l. 14

September 3, 2010 Chase sends letter to Defendant confirming receipt of her RMA (Request for modification and affidavit).
Defendant's Ex. 4

The letter states:

" If your loan has already been referred to foreclosure, we will not sell it at a foreclosure sale, subject to applicable law and judicial rules that may limit our ability to prevent or cancel pending sale. NOTE: If your initial request for evaluation was received less than seven (7) business days prior to a scheduled sales, we are not required to complete the evaluation for HAMP. Please be aware that during the evaluation period, the foreclosure process may continue at the same time. You may receive foreclosure and/or eviction notices- delivered to you by mail or in person- or you may even notice steps being taken to proceed with a foreclosure sale of your home. Do not ignore any foreclosure notices. While you will not lose your home during evaluation (subject to applicable law), to protect your rights under applicable foreclosure law, you may need to respond to these foreclosure notices or take other actions. If you have any questions about the foreclosure process and the evaluation of your modification request, contact us at (866) 550-5705.

Bradley's initial request was received August 2 (more than seven (7) business days prior to the sale scheduled for September 7, 2010. Therefore, Bradley rightfully believed she would not lose her home per the terms of this letter.

September 4, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

Defendant once again contacted Chase on September 4, 2010, and was informed that Erin was not in and the Chase representative that Defendant spoke with confirmed that request for postponement of the foreclosure sale scheduled for September 7, 2010, had in fact been sent.

September 7, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

On September 7, 2010, Defendant contacted Chase and spoke with "Jay" and was told that it would take 30-45 days for review of the loan and that Erin was not available. Defendant was again told that email to postpone sale had been sent.

September 9, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

On September 9, 2010, Defendant contacted Chase and again asked to speak with Erin and was told Erin was not in. Defendant spoke with "Calvin", a Chase representative, who informed Defendant that Plaintiff had denied modification application because of insufficient funds. Defendant inquired as to why she was not told this when she spoke with Jay on September 7, 2010. Calvin stated he knew nothing about this.

September 13, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

September 13, 2010, Defendant contacted Chase about their letter dated September 3, 2010 (Defendant's Exhibit 4) and spoke with "Diana". Diana confirmed Plaintiff's denial of modification application. Diana also informed her that underwriting "quality control" did not like the reason for the denial and that Defendant's case had been sent back for further review. Defendant faxed the requested letter and paycheck stub that same day. (See Exhibit)

September 14, 2010 Bradley contacts Chase

On September 14, 2010, Defendant called and spoke with a Chase representative named "Hope". Hope informed Defendant that the foreclosure sale had not been stopped and that she would send an email to her manager requesting an update on the case. Hope told Defendant to call her back on September 16, 2010.

September 20, 2010 Bradley sends request for NPV inputs and under separate cover sends Qualified Written Request

On September 20, 2010, Defendant faxed Chase a request for the NPV value inputs used for calculation of her modification eligibility. Additionally, by fax and certified mail, Defendant sent to Chase a Qualified Written Request, requesting information relating to the servicing of Defendant's loan.

September 21, 2010 Chase sends letter to Bradley which for the first time states that they are unable to offer her a modification because "... you did not make all of the required Trial Period Plan payments by the end of the trial period."

This letter dated September 21, 2010, the day after this motion was filed, came one year after the final TPP month of September 2009 and 5 months after her last payment to Chase.

Ex. 5 to Affidavit of Charles Herndon.

CONCLUSION

This case should have been dismissed in August of 2009 pursuant to the South Carolina Supreme Court Administrative Order (AO). However, Plaintiff resurrected the case with no action other than a ten months late HMP Affidavit on May 18, 2010 and a notice of sale two months after that (June 2009) during a period when Plaintiff had granted Defendant a forbearance. The original judgment of foreclosure prior to the AO had been entered by the Special Referee on March 17, 2009.

The Plaintiff's communication with the Defendant established a pattern of her reliance on them for action on her loan and their misrepresentation to her of the true status of the long dormant foreclosure action. Plaintiff emphasizes that Defendant was in default of answering the original action and did not file a HAMP counter affidavit. Plaintiff however, failed to file its own HMP Affidavit in a timely fashion under the AO and did nothing to alert Defendant that she should contact an attorney for representation upon the untimely revival of the long forgotten default judgment that was still stayed by the AO.

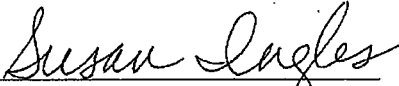

SCRCP Rule 60(b)(3) has long been available to litigants where a party is induced not to present a case or deprived of the opportunity to be heard. Hilton Head Ctr., Inc. v. Pub. Serv. Comm'n, 294 S.C. 9; 362 S.E. 2d 176 (1987). Though the case law in South Carolina recognizes a duty to act timely in attending pending litigation, other considerations can come into play when a Rule 60 motion is predicated on the mistaken belief or neglect of a non-lawyer. Roberts v. Peterson, 292 S.C. 149 (S.C. App. 1987). This should be true more so when the Rule 60 motion is based on the fraud, misrepresentation or misconduct of the other party who is represented by a lawyer.

The Defendant said it herself when she testified at the motion hearing in response to the question whether she had any reason to believe that what Chase employees told her by telephone was true: "No. I mean, they working for Chase and I figured they knew what they was doing. And usually when you conduct business, I feel you're to be honest and true and stand behind your word."

The timeline of events reflecting the documentary evidence and Defendant's testimony demonstrates misrepresentations both verbally and in writing upon which Defendant clearly relied to her detriment. The Defendant motion should be granted.

JP Morgan Chase Bank, National Association,

Plaintiff,

vs.

Vanessa Y. Bradley,

Defendant.

PLAINTIFF'S SUPPLEMENTAL MEMORANDUM IN OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S MOTION TO SET ASIDE SALE

JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association ("Plaintiff") submits this supplemental memorandum in opposition to Vanessa Y. Bradley's ("Defendant") Motion to Set Aside Sale, following the hearing on Defendant's Motion held on March 14, 2011.¹ At the hearing, Defendant requested (1) that the foreclosure sale held on September 7, 2011 ("Final Foreclosure Sale") and the subsequent deed be set aside; and (2) that the Court order "a conference for mediation to explore the analysis of [Defendant's] home under Homes Affordable" or allow Defendant to "pursue discovery to determine why she was turned down." (Hearing Tr. p. 5, ll. 15-16, p. 6, ll. 23-24-p.7 ll. 1-2.) In support of her requested relief, Defendant claims that Plaintiff failed to properly consider her for a loan modification under the Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP"), that Plaintiff failed to comply with the South Carolina Supreme Court's Order dated May 22, 2010, concerning HAMP ("Supreme Court Order"), and that Plaintiff improperly

13-25-p. 67, ll. 11.) Because Defendant is in default and failed to follow the express directive of the Supreme Court's Order, Defendant should be estopped from arguing that Plaintiff failed to comply with the Supreme Court's Order or that Plaintiff is not entitled to foreclose.

II. Defendant presented no evidence that Plaintiff failed to properly consider her loan for modification under HAMP.

Even if Defendant had standing to raise any defenses to the foreclosure action or the sale, which she does not, there is no evidence to support her claim that Plaintiff failed to consider her for a modification under HAMP.²

First, Defendant claims that because she was offered a trial modification, that she "was clearly given the modification." (Hearing Tr. p. 86, ll. 5-6.) However, as Defendant herself admitted, she failed to abide by the plain terms of the Trial Plan by failing to make her third trial plan payment on time when due. (Id. at pp. 53-56.) This is a breach of the express terms of the Trial Plan, which specifically provides that if a borrower fails to make the trial plan payments as required, then "the Loan Documents will not be modified and this Plan will terminate." (Herndon Aff. at Exh. 1, p. 2.) Also, under the plain terms of the HAMP servicing guidelines, if a Defendant fails to make "current trial period payments" then the Defendant is not eligible for a permanent modification. See Making Home Affordable Program, Handbook for Servicers of Non-GSE Mortgages, Version 3.0, p. 78 (as of Dec. 2, 2010), available at https://www.hmpadmin.com/portal/programs/docs/hamp_servicer/mhahandbook_30.pdf.

² Defendant seeks the opportunity to conduct discovery of Plaintiff in order to determine whether Plaintiff properly considered her for a modification, but other than Defendant's unsupported statements that she believes that she should have been given a modification, there is no evidence whatsoever that Plaintiff failed to properly consider her for a modification.

By her own admission, Defendant failed to timely make the payments required under the Trial Plan, which made her ineligible for a permanent modification.³

Second, there is no evidence that Plaintiff improperly denied Defendant for a loan modification based on the net present value ("NPV") of her loan. Instead, Defendant admitted that she received a letter dated August 19, 2010, informing her that she had been denied a permanent loan modification because the NPV was deemed insufficient under HAMP guidelines. (Hearing Tr. p. 60, ll. 12-25-p. 61, ll. 1.) Defendant requested more information concerning the NPV inputs used for her loan, and Plaintiff provided her with the specific NPV calculations used. (Id. at Def. Exh. 3; Herndon Aff. ¶ 21, Exh. 5.) At the hearing, however, Defendant failed to introduce any evidence or authority showing that Plaintiff used the incorrect NPV inputs or otherwise incorrectly analyzed her loan for a modification.

Additionally, prior to the August 19, 2010, letter concerning a denial of her loan modification request, Plaintiff had previously informed Defendant by letter dated March 4, 2010, that her loan was not eligible for a modification due to the net present value of her loan, though Defendant does not recall receiving the letter. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 12, Exh. 2.) Defendant did admit, however, that the letter was addressed to her home address and that she received all other correspondence from Plaintiff. (Hearing Tr. p. 56, ll. 21-25-p. 57, ll. 1-20.) Moreover, Defendant admitted that she received a copy of the Affidavit filed by Plaintiff's foreclosure counsel on or about May 17, 2010, which was based on the March 4, 2010, letter, and which informed the Court and Defendant that Defendant was not eligible for a modification under HAMP. (Id. at p. 65, ll. 13-25-p. 66, 1-21.) Thus, it is undisputed that by the time of the Final Foreclosure Sale on September 7, 2010—almost two years after the foreclosure action had been filed—Defendant had received numerous notifications that she did not qualify for a permanent loan modification, each containing a specific basis for the denial.

Simply, there is no evidence that Plaintiff failed to properly consider Defendant for a modification or failed to notify Defendant of its decision concerning her loan modification request, and thus, there is no basis for Defendant's claims that the Final Foreclosure Sale and subsequent deed should be set aside.

III. Defendant failed to present any evidence of fraud by Plaintiff in its prosecution of the foreclosure action or with regards to the Final Foreclosure Sale.

Defendant's motion is based on Rule 60(b)(3), SCRCP, which provides for relief from judgment or an order if there is evidence of "fraud, misrepresentation, or other misconduct of an adverse party." Specifically, referring to the Final Foreclosure Sale, Defendant alleges that "Plaintiff represented to the Defendant in writing that the sale was put on hold. Since the sale was apparently not put on hold, this was fraud." (Motion at 2.) However, at the hearing, Defendant admitted that none of Plaintiff's representatives ever told her that the Final Foreclosure Sale had been postponed or cancelled, and Defendant produced no documentation to support her claims. (Hearing Tr. p. 79, ll. 17-21.) Instead, she admitted that she was told that a request had been submitted for the sale to be postponed and that her loan was under review for a modification, and that Defendant assumed the sale would be cancelled. (Id. p. 64, ll. 1-10.) Plaintiff acknowledged that a request to postpone the sale had been made, but was not approved. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 18.) Thus, the evidence presented to the Court by Defendant and by Plaintiff clearly shows that Plaintiff never told Defendant, orally or in writing, that the Final Foreclosure Sale had been cancelled.⁴

Because no misrepresentation concerning the Final Foreclosure Sale was made, there is no fraud, and thus, no basis for the Final Foreclosure Sale and subsequent deed to be set aside. Defendant has failed to identify any other grounds under Rule 60(b) that would justify setting aside the Final Foreclosure Sale and subsequent deed, and thus Defendant is not entitled to any such relief.

IV. There is no basis in law, equity, or otherwise for Defendant to be allowed to engage in post-trial, post-sale discovery with Plaintiff.

Although Defendant admits that neither the Supreme Court's Order nor HAMP require a lender to offer a modification to a borrower, Defendant requests that the Court allow discovery to investigate the underwriting procedures used by Plaintiff in assessing Defendant's loan for a modification. (Hearing Tr. pp. 86, ll. 23-25, 88, ll. 6-13.)

There is no legal or other authority providing for the requested discovery. Although Defendant claims that the Supreme Court's Order provides for such discovery, the Order is absolutely silent as to any type of discovery concerning the HAMP process, pre- or post-foreclosure. Additionally, there are no provisions in the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure concerning discovery after an action has ended. Rule 26, SCRCF, provides for the scope of discovery, and states that "Parties may obtain discovery regarding any matter, not privileged, which is relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending action” (emphasis added). As explained above, by defaulting to the Complaint, Defendant has already waived her rights to raise any defenses to the foreclosure action—including the defenses related to HAMP—and has not argued that she should be let out of default. Additionally, as explained in Plaintiff’s original memorandum in opposition to Defendant’s Motion, there is no private right of action under HAMP, and a failure to modify a loan cannot be the basis of an affirmative defense or a counterclaim. Because there are no defenses or counterclaims that may be raised in response to Plaintiff’s foreclosure action, there is no evidence “relevant to the subject matter” that could be discovered in post-foreclosure sale discovery.

Moreover, it is unclear what such unwarranted discovery would produce. As explained at length above, Plaintiff has already provided Defendant with several notices concerning why her loan is not eligible for a modification, and Defendant has failed to produce any evidence to refute the reasons offered. Defendant appears to be attempting to force Plaintiff to modify Defendant’s loan, despite the fact that Plaintiff is not required to do so by the terms of the note, the mortgage, HAMP guidelines, the Supreme Court’s Order, or any applicable law. As such, Plaintiff requests that all of Defendant’s demands for discovery or mediation conferences be denied.

Based on the foregoing, there simply is no factual evidence or basis in law or equity for the foreclosure sale held on September 7, 2010, to be set aside, or for Defendant to be allowed to engage in post-trial discovery of Plaintiff. Plaintiff requests that the Court issue an order denying Defendant's motion and all of the relief she requests therein, and for such other relief as the Court finds just and proper.

JP Morgan Chase Bank, National Bank,

PLAINTIFF,

MOTION TO RECONSIDER IN LIGHT
MAY 2, 2011 S.C. SUPREME COURT
ADMINISTRATIVE ORDER ON MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE AND ADDITIONAL REASONS

Defendant Y. Bradley,

DEFENDANT.

2011 MAY 26 P 2:30

SOUTH CAROLINA

Pursuant to SCRCF Rules 59 and 52, the undersigned counsel for Defendant, Defendant Y. Bradley, moves the Court for reconsideration of its denial of the Defendant's Motion as hereinafter set forth.

The Defendant sought the following relief:

1. To set aside the sale and deed of the property to the Plaintiff on the basis of fraud;
2. To set aside Entry of Default and allow Defendant to answer and assert counterclaims,
3. Vacate the Judgment of Foreclosure and Supplemental Orders;
4. Allow Discovery and allow an Evidentiary Hearing on Compliance with the Administrative Order of the South Carolina Supreme Court filed May 22, 2009 as its terms require;
5. Allow at least a 90 day stay until a complete explanation of the Plaintiff's fraud can be inquired into and the failure to offer a permanent modification can be addressed by both parties or until such time as the permanent modification opportunities have been properly afforded to the Defendant.
6. That this Court order Plaintiff to supply Defendant with a sworn statement of the NPV values and of the specific facts showing that the loan is not eligible for a permanent modification under the Making Home Affordable Modification Program and state the facts showing that the modification process specified by the Guidelines has been completed properly. This should include all assumptions and calculations.

The Court took approximately 2 hours of testimony from the Defendant. The Plaintiff submitted an Affidavit of Charles Herndon. Both parties submitted memoranda in support of their positions. The Special Referee rendered a decision denying the motion stating only 2 conclusions of law:

1. Defendant failed to meet her burden of proof of showing "fraud, misrepresentation or other misconduct of an adverse party," as required by Rule 60(b)(3), SCRCP;
2. A forbearance agreement between the parties began June 1, 2010, ended August 31, 2010 and did not affect Plaintiff's rights to move forward with the Foreclosure Sale.

The only findings of fact made by the Court in support of its conclusions were as follows:

1. While the Defendant made extensive efforts to avoid foreclosure and was given varying explanations of the status of her request for a loan modification, none of the statements by Plaintiff's employees arose to the level of fraud, misrepresentation.
2. At the most critical time in August and early September 2010, Defendant was told that a request to postpone the Foreclosure Sale had been submitted, but she was never told that the sale would definitely be postponed.

The Defendant requests that the Court reconsider its order based on the following and amend it accordingly:

I.

The S.C. Supreme Court issued an Administrative Order on Mortgage Foreclosure on May 2, 2011 shortly after the hearing in this case. That order outlines the failures of communication between servicers and borrowers such as the failures revealed in the case at bar. For that reason alone, the intention of the SC Supreme Court and the spirit of its Administrative Orders on Mortgage Foreclosure called for the Defendant to have a full and fair opportunity to challenge Chase's refusal to modify her loan or even to treat her fairly.

II

Although there was sufficient evidence produced by Defendant to support a finding of fraud, Rule 60b3 does not limit the basis for allowing relief only to proof of fraud. The findings of fact by the Court do in fact support these other possibilities under the Rule, a finding of at least misconduct, if not misrepresentation.

The Court did not consider the fraud contained in the August 19, 2010 letter which denied modification based on failure of the Net Present Value Test (NPV). Not only the HAMP regulations, but the letter itself state that the Defendant had 30 days to seek the NPV inputs and challenge them and the property could not be sold during that time. Those 30 days did not expire until September 18, 2010. Therefore, the sale should not have taken place September 7, 2010 during that 30 day period, nor should notice of it have even been published. This was a false statement if indeed the Plaintiff intended to have the Court sell the property September 7, 2010.

III.

The Defendant seeks reconsideration of the Court's decision because the Court did not specifically and adequately address Defendant's requests for relief in all of its particulars.

IV.

The Order is deficient for the following reasons:

The Court misinterprets the meaning of forbearance. The Court finds there was a forbearance agreement but ignores the fact that the procedure necessary to the September 7, 2010 sale and the sale that had also been scheduled for August 2, 2010 that was cancelled took place during the period of the forbearance when Plaintiff was to be taking no action. The sale took place 7 days after the end of the forbearance period. Neither the Defendant's due process rights in the litigation, nor her rights under HAMP could have possibly been followed during that short period. The following actions took place during the period of the forbearance agreement:

June 22, 2010 - Defendant received Notice of Sale with date August 2, 2010

-Chase sent a second Supplemental Order Post Judgment

- In this, they state that Defendant entered into a forbearance agreement with Chase, however, they then claim Defendant defaulted on the terms of the Forbearance agreement – but don't mention any specific facts or what term was

August 2, 2010

-Defendant called Chase about obtaining a job and getting a new modification and sends in the appropriate paperwork

August 13, 2010

-Chase sent another Supplemental Order Post Judgment

August 16, 2010

- Defendant received another Notice of Sale (dated 8-13-10)

-Defendant called Chase and was assured everything was okay and that her request was currently in underwriting

-she was also told that they would contact the foreclosure attorney

August 19, 2010

-received letter of denial – stating that NPV was inadequate

-this letter also explicitly stated her home would not be sold in 30days

-Defendant timely requested inputs

August 25, 2010

-Defendant called Chase and was told the foreclosure sale date was September 2, 2010

-then told if she paid $678 now, she could stop the foreclosure sale

August 30, 2010

-Defendant called Chase again and told sale date was 9-7-10

-also confirmed that Defendant had sent in all necessary paperwork except for paycheck stub

August 31, 2010

-Defendant faxed in paycheck stub

The Order fails to address how the actions of the Plaintiff proved compliance with the Administrative Order such that the request for an evidentiary hearing contained in the Motion was not granted.

Plaintiff's counsel argued that once the modification evaluation was over, the Plaintiff was allowed to go forward with the foreclosure. However, this position does not account for the fact that the AO allows the homeowner to challenge the modification process to determine if they were given due process therein before the Court sets a sale date. Neither Plaintiff nor the Court provided this required opportunity. The Plaintiff's Affidavit of Non-eligibility seems to have been premised on a previous denial, though Plaintiff disputed that denial as well.

The Order fails to address the fact that the Defendant's ability to challenge the modification decision was forestalled/foreclosed by the timing of the sale and the cutting short of the NPV challenge period and the supplemental order, sale notice, and other procedural items done during the forbearance that immediately preceded the sale.

The NPV test must be run in order to grant a Trial Payment Plan. The Plaintiff failed to show how the Defendant's net present value (NPV) had changed from when she was granted a loan modification in June 2009 and when she applied for it again. The Trial Period Plan under which the Defendant paid for 8 months presupposed the requirements of the Net Present Value calculation were met. This failure of the Plaintiff also shows that it did not comply with either Administrative Order.

The Court failed to address the Plaintiff's failure to carry out its modification obligation owed under the AO before pursuing the foreclosure suit. These should be subsequent, not simultaneous. That is, the AO requires that the remedies under HAMP must be fully exhausted before a Plaintiff goes forward with foreclosure litigation.

VI.

The Court gave too much credence to the Affidavit submitted by the Plaintiff giving it more weight than the extensive, fact specific, live testimony of the Defendant. The Plaintiff's entire case at every juncture from Summons and Complaint through sale was supported at most only by affidavits, never by live testimony. The Herndon Affidavit was amply rebutted by the Defendant's live testimony.

The multiple instances of misinformation, the overall conduct of the Plaintiff and the failure of due process in the litigation as well as the HAMP evaluation pursuant to the AO, were not properly considered by the Court, especially since the only evidence ever presented in this case at all has been via affidavit.

VII.

Although Chase stated that it has already assigned its bid from the foreclosure sale, it produced no evidence that it would be prejudiced if the sale is set aside.

VIII.

Though it makes some findings of fact and conclusions of law, the Court does not adequately state the basis for the result it reaches. It broadly refers to the "reasons stated in the Plaintiff's memoranda" as the basis for its denial of Defendant's motion but does not specifically address all of the arguments or the factual issues stated therein which were as follows:

PLAINTIFF'S MEMORANDUM
IN OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S
MOTION TO SET ASIDE SALE

- I. Plaintiff has complied with the Supreme Court's Temporary Restraining Order concerning HAMP.
- II. Plaintiff is not required to modify Defendant's loan.
 - a. There is no private right of action under HAMP.
 - b. Defendant lacks standing to attempt to force the Plaintiff to modify Defendant's loan under HAMP.
- III. Plaintiff properly and timely notified Defendant of her ineligibility under HAMP.
- IV. Plaintiff properly determined that Defendant was not eligible for a modification under HAMP.
 - a. The Net Present Value of Defendant's loan was insufficient to be eligible for a loan modification under HAMP.
 - b. The Defendant is ineligible for a HAMP modification because she failed to perform under the terms of the Trial Plan.
- V. Plaintiff was not required to postpone the September 7, 2010, foreclosure sale.
- VI. There is no evidence of fraud to warrant vacating the foreclosure orders and the foreclosure sale.

PLAINTIFF'S SUPPLEMENTAL MEMORANDUM
IN OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S
MOTION TO SET ASIDE SALE

- I. Because she is in default, Defendant waived any right to object to the foreclosure based on Plaintiff's failure to modify her loan.
- II. Defendant presented no evidence that Plaintiff failed to properly consider her loan for modification under HAMP.
- III. Defendant failed to present any evidence of fraud by Plaintiff in its prosecution of the foreclosure action or with regards to the Final Foreclosure Sale.
- IV. There is no basis in law, equity, or otherwise for Defendant to be allowed to engage in post-trial, post-sale discovery with Plaintiff.

All of these arguments were overcome by the testimony and evidence presented. The Defendant requests that the Court state more specifically how these issues warrant denial of her Motion.

IX.

Finally, the S.C. Supreme Court issued an Administrative Order on Mortgage Foreclosure shortly after the hearing and order in this case. That order outlines the failures of communication between servicers and borrowers as revealed in the case at bar.

The May 2, 2011 Administrative Order was specifically issued because the trial courts reported an increasing number of unresolved foreclosure actions.

“The trial courts report that such breakdowns are largely the result of difficulty in communication between lender-servicers and debtors, and the fact that foreclosure actions are proceeding to conclusion without regard to ongoing loss mitigation efforts by the parties.”

For that reason alone, the intention of the SC Supreme Court and the spirit of its Administrative Orders on Mortgage Foreclosure called for the Defendant to have a full and fair opportunity to challenge Chase’s refusal to modify her loan or even to treat her fairly, and call for it even now.

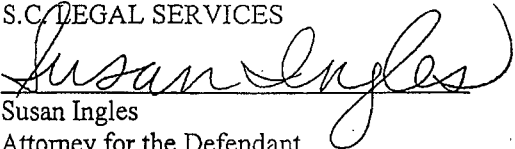

Conclusion

Based on the all of the facts as were for the first time being presented to the Court at the Motion hearing, Defendant has established meritorious defenses and met the standards of timeliness to justify this Court in vacating the Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale and for the other relief requested in the Defendant’s Motion and allowing Defendant the opportunity to investigate the modification evaluation, present her position and defend her home from foreclosure.

Plaintiff’s lack of consideration for due process, violation of the Administrative Orders of the S.C. Supreme Court regarding foreclosure, unclean hands, fraud, misrepresentation and misconduct, and disregard of the HAMP guidelines each constitute sufficient basis to cause this Court to vacate the judgment, set aside the sale and grant the other relief requested in the Defendant’s motion.

JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association,

Plaintiff,

vs.

Vanessa Y. Bradley,

Defendant.

PLAINTIFF'S MEMORANDUM IN OPPOSITION TO DEFENDANT'S MOTION TO RECONSIDER

JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association ("Plaintiff") submits this memorandum in opposition to the Motion to Reconsider in Light of May 2, 2011 S.C. Supreme Court Administrative Order on Mortgage Foreclosure and Additional Reasons ("Motion to Reconsider"), filed by Vanessa Y. Bradley ("Defendant") on May 25, 2011. Defendant's Motion to Reconsider seeks to alter or amend the Court's Order Denying Defendant's Motion to Set Aside Sale (the "Order") filed on April 29, 2011. As explained below in more detail, the Court should deny Defendant's Motion to Reconsider for the following reasons:

- Defendant's Motion to Reconsider is not timely because it was not served within ten days after receipt of written notice of the entry of the Order.
- The Supreme Court's Administrative Order dated May 2, 2011, does not apply to this case because the foreclosure sale occurred before May 2, 2011.
- The Court properly held that no evidence supports a finding of fraud under Rule 60(b)(3), SCRCP, because Defendant admitted that Plaintiff never promised her that the September 7th foreclosure sale had been or would be postponed.
- The misrepresentations and misconduct alleged by Defendant do not constitute "fraud" or "misconduct" under Rule 60(b)(3), SCRCP, because they did not prevent Defendant from responding to the foreclosure complaint and subsequent pleadings or appearing at any hearings.

- The Court properly held that the alleged forbearance agreement that ended on August 31, 2010, did not prevent the foreclosure sale.
- Defendant does not have a due process right to challenge Plaintiff's decision not to modify her loan.
- The Court properly denied Defendant's request to vacate the default judgment because Defendant did file a timely motion, offered no excuse as to her failure to respond to the complaint, and failed to prove she had a meritorious defense to Plaintiff's claims.
- The Court properly refused to vacate the March 12, 2009, June 25, 2010, and August 20, 2010, orders concerning the amount of the debt, because Defendant did not allege or prove any misconduct concerning those orders.
- The Court properly determined that Defendant is not entitled to a stay for post-foreclosure discovery.
- The Court properly determined that Plaintiff complied with the Supreme Court's Orders concerning HAMP because Plaintiff filed the required affidavits and Defendant never filed any counter-affidavit.
- The Court properly denied Defendant's requests for relief because Defendant is not entitled to a loan modification.
- Plaintiff had no duty to carry out any modification obligations prior to filing suit.
- Plaintiff is not required to make a showing that it would be prejudiced if Defendant is granted the relief she seeks.

I. Defendant's Motion to Reconsider is not timely.

Rules 52(b) and 59(e), SCRCP, required Defendant to file her Motion to Reconsider not later than ten (10) days after receipt of written notice of the entry of the Order, which she did not do. By email dated April 25, 2011, the Court advised counsel for the parties that it intended to deny Defendant's Motion to Set Aside the Sale and would file the proposed order Plaintiff submitted, which Defendant's counsel had previously received by email on April 1, 2010.

On May 10, 2011, Plaintiff's counsel received a copy of the Order, which had been filed on April 29, 2011, but Defendant did not serve her Motion to Reconsider until May 24, 2011, as evidenced by the Certificate of Service to the Motion to Reconsider.¹ Because Defendant's

¹ Defendant did not state the date that her counsel received a copy of the Order in her Motion to Reconsider, but because she is located in Greenville, and counsel for Plaintiff is located in Columbia, it

Motion to Reconsider was not filed within ten days of receipt of notice of the entry of the Order, the motion is untimely.

II. The Supreme Court's Administrative Order dated May 2, 2011, does not apply to this case.

Defendant claims that the Supreme Court's Administrative Order dated May 2, 2011 ("2011 Administrative Order") requires the Court to set aside the foreclosure sale and all prior orders so she can challenge Plaintiff's denial of Defendant's request for a loan modification. (Motion to Reconsider pp. 2-3.) However, the 2011 Administrative Order expressly provides that it only applies to actions pending on May 9, 2011, or actions filed after May 9, 2011. Here, the foreclosure sale in this case occurred on September 7, 2010—eight months before the effective date of the 2011 Administrative Order. Thus, this case is not subject to the 2011 Administrative Order.

III. The Court properly held that no evidence supports a finding of fraud under Rule 60(b)(3), SCRPC.

In her Motion to Set Aside Sale, Defendant alleged that Plaintiff fraudulently represented that the September 7th foreclosure sale had been postponed. (Motion to Set Aside Sale p. 2.) However, the following undisputed evidence offered by both parties shows that Plaintiff never promised that the September 7th foreclosure sale had been or would be postponed:

- Defendant was informed twice that she did not qualify for a permanent loan modification prior to receiving notice of the September 7th foreclosure sale. (Hrg. Tr. pp. 57-60; Herndon Aff. ¶¶ 12, 15).
- After Defendant received notice of the September 7th foreclosure sale, she made a third loan modification request to Plaintiff, and was informed by Plaintiff that her modification request could not be considered until she submitted a complete, updated set of financial documents. (Hrg. Tr. pp. 61-62; Herndon Aff. ¶¶ 17-18.)

stands to reason that Defendant's counsel would have received mail from Pickens County on the same day, if not before, Plaintiff's Columbia counsel.

- Defendant did not submit a complete set of financial documents until August 31, 2010, which is less than seven business days before the scheduled September 7th foreclosure sale. (Hrg. Tr. p. 61, ll.18-23; Herndon Aff. ¶¶ 17-18.)

Most significantly, Defendant admitted several times during the hearing that Plaintiff never told her that the sale had been postponed:

Ms. Caskey: Did anyone –so no one at the attorney’s office ever told you that the foreclosure sale had been postponed, is that right?

Ms. Bradley: No.

Ms. Caskey: I think you testified earlier that no one at Chase told you that it had been postponed, right?

Ms. Bradley: Right.

Ms. Caskey: They just told you they requested it, correct?

Ms. Bradley: Right.

(Hrg. Tr. p. 64, ll. 1-10.) Defendant later confirmed her prior testimony:

Ms. Caskey: But no one had ever told you that it had been postponed.

Ms. Bradley: Correct.

Ms. Caskey: That was just your understanding?

Ms. Bradley: Right.

Defendant further acknowledged that she was never given any misinformation about the foreclosure sale. (Id. at p. 77, ll. 7-8 (“I didn’t say I got incorrect information about the foreclosure sale.”).) Defendant’s testimony corroborated that of Charles Herndon, who testified that Defendant was informed that a request to postpone the foreclosure sale was submitted but the foreclosure sale was never cancelled. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 18).

Under South Carolina law, the statement on which Defendant relies—that Plaintiff's representatives had requested that the sale would be postponed—does not amount to fraud. An allegedly fraudulent representation “must relate to a present or pre-existing fact and it cannot ordinarily be based upon an unfulfilled promise to perform in the future or statements as to future events.” Bishop Logging Co. v. John Deer Indus. Equip. Co., 317 S.C. 520, 527, 455 S.E.2d 183, 187 (1995) (emphasis added). “As a general rule, fraud cannot be predicated on a statement that constitutes an expression of an intention.” Osborn v. Univ. Med. Assocs., 278 F. Supp. 2d 720, 732 (D.S.C. 2003). Because the statement on which Defendant relies concerns an intent and a future event, it cannot constitute fraud.

IV. The misrepresentations and misconduct alleged by Defendant do not constitute “fraud” or “misconduct” under Rule 60(b)(3), SCRPC.

Defendant alleges that in addition to misrepresentations made by Plaintiff in August 2010 about the foreclosure sale, the “failures of communications” between Plaintiff and Defendant concerning the loan modification process amounted to misconduct by Plaintiff. (Motion to Reconsider pp. 3, 7.) However, under Rule 60(b)(3), only misconduct amounting to “extrinsic fraud” justifies setting aside a final judgment. Chewning v. Ford Motor Co., 354 S.C. 72, 80, 579 S.E.2d 605, 610 (2003).

Extrinsic fraud is “fraud that induces a person not to present a case or deprives a person of the opportunity to be heard. Relief is granted for extrinsic fraud on the theory that the fraud prevented a party from fully exhibiting and trying his case, there has never been a real contest before the court on the subject matter of the action.”

Id. (quoting Hilton Head Ctr. of South Carolina v. Public Serv. Comm'n, 294 S.C. 9, 11, 362 S.E.2d 176, 177 (1987));

In this case, all of the alleged misrepresentations concern whether Defendant was ever told that the September 7th foreclosure sale had been postponed. Even if Plaintiff had told

Defendant that the foreclosure sale had been postponed, which it did not, Defendant still could have protected herself by answering the complaint, responding to affidavits, and appearing at the foreclosure hearing. Defendant candidly admitted that she was served with the complaint, but chose not to hire an attorney or even attend a hearing. (Hrg. Tr. p. 50, ll. 2-20.) Instead, she sought assistance from a company named "First Foreclosure Solutions," and testified she was told by the representative of First Foreclosure not to answer the complaint and not to attend the hearings. (Id. at p. 50, ll. 22-25-p. 51, ll. 1-5.) It is thus clear from Defendant's own testimony that she did not litigate the issues in the case because she was advised not to, and not as a result of any actions by Plaintiff.

Defendant also claims that Plaintiff is guilty of misconduct under Rule 60(b)(3) because it did not properly consider her for a permanent loan modification. Even if true, Plaintiff's actions did not affect Defendant's ability to adjudicate the issues in the foreclosure action. The foreclosure hearing occurred on March 12, 2009, which was 17 months before Defendant's last request for a loan modification on August 31, 2010. It is impossible that Plaintiff's actions in August 2010 could have affected Defendant's ability to fully litigate the matter before the Court in March 2009. Thus, the record is clear that Plaintiff's actions are not "fraud" or "misconduct" under Rule 60(b)(3), and the Court properly denied Defendant's Motion to Set Aside Sale.

V. The Court properly held that the alleged forbearance agreement that ended on August 31, 2010, did not prevent the foreclosure sale.

Defendant contends that the Court erred by finding that a three-month forbearance period ended on August 31, 2010, and did not affect Plaintiff's right to move forward with the foreclosure sale. (Motion to Reconsider pp. 3-4.) Defendant testified that the purpose of the forbearance was to "give [her] three months forbearance, which would be for June, July and August of 2010, for [her] to resubmit [her] modification package.” (Hrg. Tr. p. 16, ll. 22-25.) Plaintiff and Defendant tried to reach a workout of Defendant’s loan, and Defendant resubmitted a loan modification request during that time because she found employment. (Id. at pp. 16-17; Herndon Aff. ¶ 14.) To assist Defendant, Plaintiff postponed a foreclosure sale scheduled for August 2, 2010. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 15.)

However, after reviewing Defendant’s loan modification request, Plaintiff determined that Defendant was still ineligible for a loan modification and promptly notified Defendant of the denial. (Id.) Defendant received a letter dated August 19, 2010, informing her that she had been denied for a loan modification because the net present value of her loan did not meet HAMP guidelines. (Hrg. Tr. pp. 60-61; Herndon Aff. ¶ 15.) As a result, the uncontested, undisputed evidence before the Court proved that as of August 31, 2010, when the forbearance period ended, Defendant had been considered and denied for a loan modification. As explained below, the August 19, 2010, denial letter did not create any due process rights for Defendant to challenge the modification decision or to prevent foreclosure, see infra Section VI, so the Court correctly held that the forbearance agreement did not prevent the foreclosure sale.

VI. Defendant has not been denied due process at any time during the course of this foreclosure action.

Defendant claims a due process right to challenge the denial of her application for a loan modification following each denial, including after Plaintiff’s letter dated August 19, 2010. (Motion to Reconsider pp. 4-5.) However, to prevail on a due process claim, Defendant must first show a deprivation of a protected liberty or property interest. See Steffens, 2011 U.S. Dist. 26709, at * 5.

In Steffens v. American Home Mortgage Servicing, the District Court of South Carolina addressed an almost identical due process claim to the one Defendant presents. In Steffens, the plaintiff alleged that she had “a protected property interest in a process of decision-making that complies with Treasury Department rules” concerning HAMP. Id. (internal cites omitted). The District Court of South Carolina expressly rejected the plaintiff’s due process claims, holding that HAMP does not create a property interest in permanent modification for borrowers. Id. at *7. The district court emphasized that “a protected property interest arises if a person has more than an abstract need or desire for [a benefit.] He must have more than a unilateral expectation of it. He must, instead, have a legitimate claim of entitlement to it.” Id. at *6 (quoting Board of Regents of State Colleges v. Roth, 408 U.S. 564, 577 (1972)) (emphasis added). “When a statute or policy grants to the decisionmaker discretionary authority in its implementation, a protected property interest is not created.” Id.

Noting that HAMP does not create a private right of action, and that the compliance authority for HAMP is delegated solely to Freddie Mac, the district court held that HAMP does not create a property interest in permanent modification for borrowers. Id. at *7; see also Williams v. Geithner, 2009 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 104096, at *6 (D. Minn. Nov. 9, 2009) (determining that the HAMP regulations “did not intend to create a property interest in loan modifications for mortgages in default,” and thus finding no likelihood of success on the merits of plaintiffs’ due process claim).

Thus, Defendant has no protected property interest in a loan modification or due process right to challenge the modification process in order to prevent foreclosure.

VII. The Court properly denied Defendant the remaining relief requested in her Motion to Set Aside the Sale.

In addition to asking the Court to set aside the September 7th foreclosure sale, Defendant requested that all prior orders be set aside, including the order of default judgment, so that she can file an answer and counterclaim. Alternatively, Defendant requested that any eviction be stayed for 90 days to allow for discovery on the loan modification process. Defendant is simply not entitled to any of the relief she seeks.

a. Defendant withdrew her request to be relieved from default and for leave to file an answer and counterclaim.

Paragraph 1 of Defendant's Motion to Set Aside Sale requests "[t]o alter and amend the written decision on her Motion to Stay Further Action, Set Aside Entry to Default, and allow Defendant to answer and assert counterclaims." (Motion to Set Aside Sale p. 1.) However, at the hearing held on March 14, 2011, counsel for Defendant stated that paragraph 1 of the Motion to Set Aside Sale was "a mistake" and that she was not seeking to be relieved from default. (Hrg. Tran. p. 6, ll. 14-16.) Defendant never filed any Motion to Set Aside Entry of Default in this case. As a result, Defendant's request that she be relieved from default and granted leave to file a responsive pleading is not properly before the Court.

b. Defendant failed to make a showing as to why the default judgment should be vacated.

Even if Defendant had requested relief from default or if she had filed a proper motion, she failed to make a showing why the order of default should be set aside. Rule 60(b), SCRPC, governs motions for relief from a default judgment and requires a timely motion and a showing of mistake, inadvertence, or excusable neglect or other grounds under that rule, and generally a meritorious defense. Sundown Operating Co. v. Intedge Indus., 383 S.C. 601, 608, 681 S.E.2d 885, 888 (2009) ("Once a default judgment has been entered, a party seeking to be relieved must do so under Rule 60(b), SCRCP. The standard for granting relief from a default judgment under Rule 60(b) is more rigorous than the “good cause” standard established in Rule 55(c).” The rigorous standard under Rule 60(b) is intended to “make it more difficult for a party to avoid default once the court has entered a judgment, which carries greater finality.” Id. at 608, 681 S.E.2d at 889.

In this case, Defendant has not offered any evidence whatsoever as to why the default judgment entered on March 17, 2009, should be set aside. Defendant admits that she received the foreclosure complaint and notice of the foreclosure hearing, but failed to appear on the advice of a non-lawyer. (Hrg. Tr. pp. 50-51.) Additionally, Defendant has not offered any evidence that she has a meritorious defense. It is undisputed that Defendant was in default under the terms of the loan documents when the foreclosure action was filed, and that she is currently due for the monthly payment due on October 1, 2008. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 7; Second Supplemental Order Post Judgment p. 2.) Thus, Defendant has no defense to Plaintiff’s foreclosure claim.

It is also undisputed that Defendant’s only claim against Plaintiff is that Plaintiff failed to permanently modify her loan under HAMP. (Motion to Reconsider p. 5.) However, as explained in Plaintiff’s Memorandum in Opposition to the Motion to Set Aside Sale, there is no private right of action under HAMP. See, e.g., Singh v. Wells Fargo Bank, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3563 at *23 (E.D. Ca. Jan. 7, 2011); Zeller v. Aurora Loan Servs., LLC, 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 80449 at *2 (W.D. Va. Aug. 10, 2010). On March 15, 2011—one day after the hearing in this case—the District Court of South Carolina joined courts across the nation in holding that there is no private right of action under HAMP. See Steffens v. American Home Mortgage Servicing, Inc., 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26709 (D.S.C. March 15, 2011).

Defendant has not made the requisite request or showing to be relieved from default, and the record is woefully insufficient to allow Defendant to be relieved from default.

c. Due to her default, Defendant waived any right to object to the merits of the foreclosure action.

Defendant's default results in the admission of the well-pleaded facts of the complaint and waives all defenses not previously asserted. Harbor Island Owner's Ass'n v. Preferred Island Properties, Inc., 369 S.C. 540, 633 S.E.2d 497 (2006); Howard v. Holiday Inns, Inc., 271 S.C. 238, 246 S.E.2d 880 (1978); State v. LoveShop, Ltd., 286 S.C. 486, 334 S.E.2d 528 (Ct. App. 1985). Defendant is attempting to raise defenses to Plaintiff's right to foreclose, but under well-settled law, Defendant waived those defenses by failing to timely respond to Plaintiff's Complaint.

d. Defendant has failed to provide any basis for the Court to set aside the orders concerning the amount of the debt.

In addition to seeking reconsideration of this Court's Order dated April 25, 2011, which denied Defendant relief from the Court's Order Confirming the Sale, dated September 22, 2010, Defendant seeks to have this Court's orders dated March 17, 2009, June 25, 2010, and August 20, 2010, set aside.

i. March 17, 2009, Order.

After a hearing on March 12, 2009, the Court entered an Order on March 17, 2009, that held Defendant in default and granted judgment in favor of the Plaintiff for the amounts due. Defendant admits she had notice of the March 12th hearing, failed to appear, and did not dispute that the amount of the debt as stated in the March 17, 2009, Order was correct. Defendant does not allege any misconduct or misrepresentation by Plaintiff with regards to the March 17, 2009, Order, and thus there is no basis for the Court to set it aside.

ii. June 25, 2010, Order.

The June 25, 2010, Supplemental Order Post Judgment was entered after negotiations for a loss mitigation workout with Defendant failed. (Affidavit in Support of Supplemental Judgment, dated June 21, 2010.) Following the March 17, 2009, Order, Plaintiff agreed to postpone the original foreclosure sale scheduled for April 6, 2009, and extended a HAMP trial period plan (“Trial Plan”) to Defendant. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 10.) Defendant admitted that she failed to timely make the third and final payment due under the Trial Plan, and admitted that she received notice from Plaintiff that she had been denied a permanent loan modification. (Hrg. Tr. pp. 53-56, 65-66.) Defendant never filed any counter affidavits concerning the debt or the HAMP modification process. (Hrg. Tr. p. 67, ll. 1-3.) Defendant cannot challenge the modification process now.

The June 25, 2010, Order was entered solely for the purpose of updating the amount of the debt due because more than a year had passed since the entry of the March 17, 2009, Order. Defendant has not alleged any misconduct or misrepresentation by Plaintiff with regards to the June 25, 2010, Order, and thus there is no basis for the Court to set it aside.

iii. August 20, 2010, Order.

Like the June 25, 2010, Order, the August 20, 2010, Second Supplemental Order Post Judgment was entered after negotiations for a loss mitigation workout with Defendant failed. Following the June 25, 2010, Order, a second foreclosure sale was scheduled for August 2, 2010. (Herndon Aff. ¶ 14.) However, at Defendant’s request, Plaintiff again agreed to postpone the foreclosure sale to discuss a possible resolution. (Id. ¶ 15.) Plaintiff subsequently determined that Defendant was still not eligible for a permanent loan modification, and by letter dated August 19, 2010, Plaintiff notified Defendant of the same. (Id. ¶ 15; Hrg. Tr. p. 60, ll. 19-25-p.

61, ll. 1.) On August 20, 2010, Plaintiff filed an Affidavit in Support of Second Supplemental Judgment, seeking to update the amount of the debt due since the June 25, 2010, Order was entered. There is no dispute that Defendant's loan was not modified as of August 20, 2010, and that the debt amounts in the August 20, 2010, Order are correct, so there is no basis for the Court to set it aside.

VIII. Defendant is not entitled to a stay for post-foreclosure sale discovery.

Defendant claims that the Supreme Court's Orders concerning HAMP afford her the opportunity to conduct discovery on Plaintiff's underwriting procedures. (Hrg. Tr. pp. 86, ll. 23-25, 88, ll. 6-13.) However, the Supreme Court's HAMP Orders do not provide for any type of discovery concerning the HAMP process or otherwise, and the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure do not allow for discovery after the merits hearing. See Rule 26, SCRPC (discovery only available for "relevant" matters in a "pending" action). Defendant has already waived her rights to raise any defenses to the foreclosure action and a claim under HAMP is not a viable claim or defense to the foreclosure action. As a result, there is no evidence "relevant to the subject matter" that could be discovered in post-foreclosure sale discovery and no basis for the Court to grant Defendant such relief.

IX. The Court properly determined that Plaintiff complied with the Supreme Court's Order concerning HAMP.

The Supreme Court's May 2009 Orders concerning HAMP provide that once a lender files an affidavit stating that it has complied with the HAMP Orders, a borrower has ten days to file a counter affidavit. Defendant candidly admitted that after receiving Plaintiff's Affidavit dated May 17, 2010, which testifies that Plaintiff had complied with the HAMP Orders, Defendant did not file a counter affidavit challenging Plaintiff's compliance. (Hrg. Tr. p. 65, ll.

13-25-p. 67, ll. 11.) The Court thus correctly determined that Plaintiff complied with the Supreme Court's HAMP Orders.

X. The Court properly denied Defendant's request for relief because Defendant is not entitled to a loan modification.

Defendant's efforts to set aside the foreclosure sale and reopen the foreclosure are tantamount to pursuing a private right of action under HAMP, which does not exist for the reasons described in Section II of Plaintiff's Memorandum in Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Set Aside Sale. The Court should not allow Defendant to perform an end-run around nationwide jurisprudence.

XI. Plaintiff properly denied Defendant's request for a loan modification.

Defendant claims that she was entitled to a permanent loan modification because she made eight payments under the Trial Plan. (Motion to Reconsider p. 5.) However the terms of the Trial Plan signed by Defendant are clear and unmistakable: the Trial Plan lasts for three months and requires the borrower to make three payments on time. (See Herndon Aff. at Exh. 1, p. 2.) Additionally, if a Defendant fails to make "current trial period payments" then the Defendant is not eligible for a permanent modification. See Making Home Affordable Program, Handbook for Servicers of Non-GSE Mortgages, Version 3.0, p. 78 (as of Dec. 2, 2010), available at https://www.hmpadmin.com/portal/programs/docs/hamp_servicer/mhahandbook_30.pdf.

By Defendant's own admission, she failed to make the first three payments on time, which made her ineligible for a permanent modification. (Hrg. Tr. pp. 53-56 (admitting that her payments were late, and that the third payment, due by September 30, 2009, was not made until mid-October 2009); see also Herndon Aff. ¶ 11.) Although Defendant testified that she continued to tender payments to Plaintiff from October 2009, to April 2010, the HAMP Trial Plan terminated when Defendant failed to make the full amount of the payments on time. (Hrg. Tr. at pp. 15-16.) Thus, there is no evidence to support Defendant's claim that she was entitled to a permanent loan modification.

XII. Plaintiff had no duty to carry out any "modification obligation" prior to filing suit.

Defendant contends that "[t]he Court failed to address the Plaintiff's failure to carry out its modification obligation owed under the AO before pursuing the foreclosure suit." (Motion to Reconsider p. 5.) However, Defendant cites no authority requiring Plaintiff to offer a loan modification prior to filing a foreclosure action. This action was filed on December 8, 2008, and the Supreme Court's HAMP Orders were not issued until May 4, 2009, and May 22, 2009, respectively. The HAMP Orders required that Plaintiff, as the lender in a pending action as of May 4, 2009, file an affidavit as described above, but did contain any prerequisites with which Plaintiff must comply in order to bring the foreclosure action.

XIII. Plaintiff is not required to show prejudice.

Defendant claims that Plaintiff failed to produce evidence that it would be prejudiced if the sale is set aside, but Plaintiff bears no such burden. (Motion to Reconsider p. 6.) Defendant, as the movant under Rule 60(b), "has the burden of presenting evidence proving the facts essential to entitle her to relief," including that Plaintiff would not be prejudiced if Defendant is granted the relief she seeks. BB&T v. Taylor, 369 S.C. 548, 552, 663 S.E.2d 501, 503 (2006); see also Rodriguez v. Gutierrez, 391 S.C. 323, 705 S.E.2d 94, 99 (Ct. App. 2011).

Moreover, the evidence in the record clearly shows Plaintiff would be prejudiced if Defendant is granted the relief she seeks. Charles Herndon testified that Plaintiff worked with

Defendant for almost two years to avoid foreclosure, but ultimately was not able to offer Defendant a loan modification. (Herndon Aff. ¶¶ 8-18.) Mr. Herndon also testified that Plaintiff was the successful bidder of the Property, and that it assigned its bid to the Federal National Mortgage Association. (Id. ¶ 19.) Plaintiff would thus be severely prejudiced if the Court were to set aside the foreclosure sale or any of the prior orders in this case because Plaintiff would lose the time and money already expended to complete the foreclosure of the subject property and the transfer of the Property to the Federal National Mortgage Association would have to be undone. Defendant has not offered any evidence to show that Plaintiff would not suffer this prejudice, and has thus failed to meet her burden under Rule 60(b), SCRPC.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiff requests that the Court issue an order denying Defendant's Motion to Reconsider and all of the relief she requests therein, and for such other relief as the Court finds just and proper.

1. P R O C E E D I N G S

2 THE COURT: Miss Ingles, you are the
3 moving party. Just go ahead whenever you're 4 ready.

5 MS. INGLES: Well, should I just
6 start with the testimony, or did you want me
7 to summarize?

8 THE COURT: Why don't you summarize
9 it for me. I'll hear from both counsel.

10 MS. INGLES: I'm Susan Ingles. I'm
11 here on behalf of Vanessa Bradley. She is 12 the defendant in this case, and apparently 13 her home was sold at a foreclosure sale on 14 September 7th.

15 Our motion today is seeking to have 16 that sale set aside. And we have a number of 17 reasons, not the least of which is that at 18 the time the sale was done, Miss Bradley was 19 under a HAMP modification review by the 20 plaintiff, by Chase, and she did not get a 21 denial letter until later in September of 22 2010.

23 So her testimony will be, I'll just 24 summarize it briefly for you, that she was on 25 the phone with them constantly, she has had a

1 previous trial modification plan that she
2 paid under for quite some time and became 3 unemployed. And then subsequent to that,
4 because she had been paying under the trial
5 modification, a forbearance of three months
6 was allowed so that she could apply for a
7 HAMP based on this newer income.

8 And so there's been a number of letters
9 she has received, conversations she's had with 10 the plaintiff, all of which led her to believe
11 that she was under review and that her house
12 wasn't going to be sold and so forth. So that's 13 basically the fact situation here.

14 As far as our motion, I didn't want to 15 mention that number 1, our motion actually does 16 not apply today and was just a mistake today.
17 I'm inserting that paragraph there. But we are 18 asking that the sale be set aside, and if there's 19 been a deed of the property, and I understand
20 that there has been, that that be all set aside
21 based on fraud, which we'll have the testimony
22 about today.

23 We've also ask that Your Honor set a
24 conference for mediation to explore the analysis
25 of her home under Homes Affordable, or for to

1 allow us to pursue discovery to determine why she
2 was turned down. There's a number of reasons why
3 she certainly shouldn't have been turned down.

4 And the reasons that she was turned down are kind
5 of all over the place both verbally and in 6 writing.

7 Barring that, we would want a stay so
8 that the modification could be properly reviewed.

9 And also, there are, as you are probably 10 aware of the new programs in South Carolina to 11 help people like Miss Bradley who have become 12 unemployed but now are employed again. There's a 13 number of opportunities for her to get help with 14 the loan payment, either lump sum or in payments.
15 She's employed and there's really no reason for 16 her to be foreclosed, but most definitely, I
17 think the most thing is that the administrative 18 order that is in effect right now from our 19 Supreme Court definitely requires that there not 20 be a sale of the property while the loan is under 21 review. And I think it's going to be clear that 22 this loan was under review at the time.

23 THE COURT: All right. Thank you for 24 your motion.

25 MS. CASKEY: Good morning, Mary

1 Caskey here on behalf of the Plaintiff, JP
2 Morgan Chase. I think something to think
3 about early-on in this case is that the 4 particular event surrounding third and final
5 foreclosure sale that occurred on September
6 7th was not the only event. It wasn't the 7 only foreclosure sale and it wasn't the only
8 attempt that Mr. Chase and Miss Bradley made
9 to modify her loan.

10 The property had been scheduled for 11 sale two times previously. The sales had 12 been stayed two times previously, both at 13 Miss Bradley's request so that she could be 14 considered for a HAMP modification. And 15 after both of those stays, a letter was sent 16 to her explaining the reasons for her denial.

17 The second thing I think is
18 important to point out is that with regards
19 to compliance with the Supreme Court's order.
20 The Supreme Court order does not require that 21 Chase modify a borrower's loan. It simply 22 requires that the lender state whether a
23 borrower is eligible for a determination
24 under HAMP and that the case be stayed 25 pending that determination.

1 At the time that this third foreclosure
2 sale took place in September, Miss Bradley had
3 already been considered twice for a modification
4 before and both of those applications have been 5 denied.

6 Third, I think it's important to
7 remember that overall purpose of HAMP. HAMP
8 is not just intended to help borrowers. HAMP
9 was a program commenced to address a large
10 crisis in the financial industry. In HAMP,
11 the agreements in HAMP is not between Chase
12 as servicer and Miss Bradley. The HAMP
13 agreement is between Chase and the US
14 Treasury Department. And any obligations
15 that Chase has under the servicing agreement
16 with the US treasury Department are not 17 enforceable only by the US Treasury and 18 Chase. Miss Bradley has no rights under the 19 HAMP Modification Handbook, the HAMP
20 supplemental guidelines or any of the 21 directives that give the servicer guidelines
22 about how to comply with HAMP. That's why
23 many courts have determined that there's no
24 private right of action under HAMP.

25 If Miss Bradley -- for example, if

1 this property -- if she had been evicted and
2 moved on and decided not to try to set aside
3 the sale, she couldn't bring a claim in 4 Circuit Court against Chase. The same
5 reasons that that's not possible are the same
6 reasons why the sale shouldn't be set aside.

7 Finally, with regards to whether or
8 not Chase should have stopped that final
9 foreclosure sale, I'm not aware, Chase is not 10 aware of any evidence that it ever informed
11 Miss Bradley in writing or verbally that the 12 sale had been postponed. I mean, that in the 13 past tense. She was not informed that, yes, 14 we've gotten approval and the sale has been
15 stopped.

16 As you'll see in the affidavit that 17 I submitted today, Chase did say, we're going
18 to request, we're going to try to get it
19 stopped. Chase wasn't able to do that. It
20 had to seek Fannie Mae approval. And the 21 request for the foreclosure to be stayed was 22 received less than seven business days before
23 the foreclosure sale. That's going to be 24 important under the HAMP guidelines as to 25 when Chase was required to stop the

1 foreclosure sale.

2 So I think, as the testimony will
3 come out, it will be clear that there's
4 really no basis for fraud. There was no
5 statement that the sale had been postponed.
6 And, second, I think it will be clear that 7 regardless of the reasons why the 8 modification was denied, the foreclosure
9 orders and subsequent sale should not be set
10 aside, because there's simply no private
11 right of action under HAMP and there's no
12 requirement that the lender modify the 13 loan.

14 THE COURT: Thank you, ma'am. All
15 right. Are we ready for testimony?

16 MS. INGLES: Yes.

17 THE COURT: Very well. Call your 18 first witness.

19 MS. INGLES: Vanessa Bradley.

20 THE COURT: Miss Bradley, if you'll raise 21 your right hand, the court reporter will swear
22 you.

23 WHEREUPON:

24 VANESSA BRADLEY,
25 after having been sworn to tell the truth, the

1 whole truth and nothing but the truth testified
2 as follows:

3 EXAMINATION

4 BY MS. INGLES:

5 Q. Miss Bradley, we've just gone over kind of 6 why we're here today. And you are Vanessa
7 Bradley, you're the defendant in this action,
8 correct?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. Tell us what your address is.

11 A. 454 Johnson Road, Central, South Carolina,
12 29630.

13 Q. Is that the home that you have mortgaged with 14 Chase?

15 A. Yes, ma'am.

16 Q. And you're here today to testify about what 17 happened from your perspective on this 18 foreclosure and ultimate sale of your house; is 19 that right?

20 A. Yes, ma'am.

21 Q. In your communications with Chase, did you
22 keep notes and information about your contacts
23 with them and who you spoke with and that sort of 24 thing?

25 A. Yes, ma'am.

1 Q. I think you have with you a timeline that 2 we've put together just to sort of summarize what
3 your notes say.

4 A. Yes, ma'am.

5 Q. And you plan to use that today to sort of 6 refresh your recollection instead of rifle
7 through your notes and that sort of thing?

8 A. Yes, ma'am.

9 MS. INGLES: And I think, Judge,
10 we've done that mainly to help, not just Miss
11 Bradley.

12 THE COURT: It moves things along.
13 I appreciate it.

14 MS. INGLES: It moves things along
15 and will be helpful to The Court to determine 16 what's been going on.

17 BY MS. INGLES:

18 Q. So having said all that, would you start by 19 just telling The Court about that first trial
20 modification that came along with your loan back
21 in June of 2009?

22 A. Okay. In 2009, I was granted a trial
23 modification under HAMP, which was supposed to 24 have been for three months, which was August,
25 September and October. And in October --

1 BY MS. INGLES:

2 Q. Let me stop you right there for just a
3 second. What was the payment to be?

4 A. It was 517 and some change, but I rounded it
5 up just to make an 518.

6 Q. What had your payment been before that?

7 A. 678 and some change.

8 Q. Okay. Go ahead. Did you go ahead and do
9 that modification?

10 A. I did.

11 Q. Did you sign a written agreement of the 12 modification?

13 A. Yes, I did.

14 Q. Did you ever receive back from Chase a copy
15 of that agreement with their signature on it?

16 A. No, ma'am.

17 Q. Do you know if they ever signed it?

18 A. I don't.

19 Q. So tell us how that trial modification
20 went?

21 A. It was supposed to have been for three
22 months; August, September and August. At the end
23 of October, they were supposed to decide whether 24 or not if I was approved for the modification.

25 Q. For the permanent modification?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. Did you make the payments in August,
3 September and October?

4 A. Yes, ma'am.

5 Q. And then what happened after that?

6 A. During this time, I became unemployed, but I
7 still made the payments. Some of them was a
8 little late, but I still made them.

9 Q. So you made them beyond October of 2009?

10 A. Yes. In October, I had contacted Chase, and 11 I can't remember the young lady I spoke with, but 12 I was actually going to pay my trial
13 modifications up at the end of October, okay, do
14 I continue to pay, or do I stop. She said, well, 15 continue to make your trial payments which you're 16 paying and they will decide just to show as of a
17 good faith, and so that's what I did.

18 Q. And when is the last time you made a payment
19 on that modification?

20 A. I made the last payment April 2010.

21 Q. Okay. And then what did you do after that?
22 Or what caused you stop paying at the point?

23 A. In March -- I think it was in March I
24 received a letter they needed some more updated
25 information. I sent them all the information

1 that they needed. I was still unemployed at this
2 time. And I contacted Chase and I explained to 3 the gentleman that I talked to -- I wasn't really
4 taking notes then, which I should have, and I
5 told him that I got my unemployment and I
6 wouldn't be able to make my payment for this 7 month. And he said, well, since, you can't make 8 your payment, then we can go ahead and proceed on 9 the foreclosure. And I'm like, well, you know,
10 basically wasn't nothing I can do.

11 And then I went to the Urban League and 12 consulted a housing counselor.

13 Q. To help you work something out with Chase?

14 A. To see if they could help me understand
15 better what was going on and see if I can work
16 something out.

17 Q. Were you able to work something?

18 A. Yes. I went to the Urban League and we 19 contacted Chase, me and Miss Vernon. She was on 20 speaker phone with me. I was in the office and 21 we spoke with Amanda and we told her what was 22 going on and everything. And Amanda had said she 23 would give me three months forbearance, which 24 would be for June, July and August of 2010 and 25 for me to resubmit my modification package.

1 Q. Okay. Did you resubmit your modification
2 package?

3 A. Yes. I did my income verification over the 4 phone. I resubmitted the modification package.
5 I faxed in all the required documents.

6 Q. And then after doing that, what happened
7 next?

8 A. I was relying on what Amanda had said, and 9 around the 22nd, I received a letter.

10 Q. This was the 22nd of?

11 A. Of June.

12 Q. Okay.

13 A. I received a letter from the Plaintiff's
14 attorney saying they had set a sale date for my 15 home on August 2nd.

16 Q. So were you surprised by that with the 17 forbearance having been given?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. Okay.

20 A. Because while talking to Amanda, she had told
21 me that, well, they couldn't foreclose. She said
22 there wasn't nothing they could do until they get 23 my -- because of the forbearance and because 24 after I submitted my modification package and 25 after they go through review, there was nothing

1 that could be done. . So I relying --

2 Q. You mean nothing -- when you said there's 3 nothing to be done?

4 A. As far as foreclosure.

5 Q. Okay.

6 A. That they can't foreclose on it until after 7 all that was over and done.

8 Q. Okay. So what did she say about this sale
9 date, that that couldn't happen; is that what you
10 understood her to mean?

11 A. That's what I understood that it couldn't 12 happen, because I had the forbearance until the 13 end of the August. And there wasn't nothing that 14 could be done. They couldn't foreclose on it.

15 Q. Did you follow up on that later?

16 A. Yes, ma'am. I called back on the 28th, and 17 spoke with an Autumn regarding another letter I
18 had received and Autumn assured me that the 19 forbearance was in action.

20 THE COURT: The 28th of what month?

21 THE WITNESS: June.

22 BY MS. INGLES:

23 Q. Of 2010; is that right?

24 A. Yes, ma'am. And she assured me that the 25 forbearance was still active and Chase would

1 notify their attorneys of the forbearance.

2 Q. What did you feel at that point was going 3 on?

4 A. I felt like.

5 Q. What was your understanding?

6 A. From my understanding, I got that they wasn't 7 going to be selling my house not until -- they 8 wasn't going to be selling it, because the 9 forbearance didn't end until August and she said,
10 after I submitted my package, that it would be 30
11 to 45 days before they would make a decision on 12 it.

13 Q. And all of these conversations that you just 14 described have been with employees of Chase, the 15 Plaintiff?

16 A. Yes, ma'am.

17 Q. Is there any reason that you had not to 18 believe that what they were saying was true?

19 A. No. I mean, they working for Chase and I
20 figured they knew what they was doing. And 21 usually when you conduct business, I feel that 22 you're to be honest and true and stand behind
23 your word.

24 Q. So what was the next thing that happened when 25 you followed up with him?

1 A. On the 29th of June, I called and spoke with
2 David. And he had told me that they had assigned
3 me a relationship manager and her name was Sandra
4 and he gave me Sandra's direct number.

5 Q. Did he say what a relationship manager was?

6 A. He basically said that whenever I have any 7 question, I call her and ask her and she would be
8 the one getting in contact with me and keeping me
9 updated on where my modification was at as far as 10 review. And if there was any more information or 11 anything that they needed, then she would be the 12 one that would contact me.

13 Q. So then what did David say? Anything else
14 besides relationship information?

15 A. No -- well, after he gave me her direct
16 number then he transferred me to her and I spoke 17 with her and she said everything -- she had 18 received all the information and everything that 19 I had faxed in and that I just needed to send 20 proof of my income, which I did do all that.

21 Q. So that was still in June of 2010?

22 A. Yes, ma'am.

23 Q. So, after you sent that in, you're still in 24 this three-month forbearance that you
25 mentioned?

1 A. Yes, ma'am.

2 Q. So what's the thing that you did as far as 3 this loan?

4 A. Well, I didn't do nothing in July because I
5 in the forbearance was standing in good. And 6 then --

7 Q. Let me just stop you right there for just a
8 second. So at that point in July of 2010, did
9 you have a job?

10 A. I got a job in July.

11 Q. Tell me what you got.

12 A. I work for Pickens Board of Disabilities
13 Special Needs as a direct support specialist.

14 Q. What is your income there?

15 A. I make 9.31 an hour.

16 Q. And you had -- okay. What did you do once
17 you got the employment?

18 A. When I got the -- when I got my wage
19 verification stating that I was employed and how 20 many hours and everything I would get a week, I
21 called Chase and I spoke with Sandra and I
22 informed her that I had gotten the job and my 23 wage and hours and everything that I was going to 24 be making, and she told me to send my -- redo my 25 income part of the modification package and send

1 it to her and she would send it to underwrite.

2 Q. Okay. Did you send that in?

3 A. Yes, ma'am.

4 Q. When is the next time that you followed up
5 with them?

6 A. I called --

7 Q. Let me ask you: At that point, it was your 8 understanding that sale -- that August 2nd sale
9 had been postponed or it had been canceled, or 10 whatever?

11 A. Yes, ma'am.

12 And then on August 16th, I received another
13 notice of sale from the Plaintiff's attorney, and 14 I immediately called Chase and I spoke with 15 Sandra. Sandra told me not to worry about it and 16 that the notice -- that my loan was in underwrite
17 for reviewing and she said she would contact the 18 attorneys regarding the status of my case and 19 that the foreclosure sale was on hold.

20 Q. Okay.

21 A. And then she said, well, since this is 22 underwrite that I had a new relationship manager
23 and in underwrite my relationship manager would 24 be Erin.

25 Q. So, now you're going to be talking to a

1 different department basically?

2 A. Yes, ma'am.

3 Q. All right. Did you ever talk to Erin?

4 A. No, ma'am.

5 Q. Did you try to talk to her?

6 A. Yes, ma'am. I called several occasions, left
7 several messages on her voicemail, left my 8 number, everything, and I never got to speak with 9 her.

10 Q. What's the next communication you had with 11 Chase?

12 A. On August 19th, they sent me a letter saying
13 that I didn't qualify for the loan modification
14 based on NPV value results.

15 Q. And what did you do in response to that?

16 A. And they said I had 30 days to request this 17 information.

18 Q. The NPV information?

19 A. Yes, the NPV information.

20 Q. So this was a letter dated August 19th, so 30
21 days from that would have been September 19th?

22 A. Yes, ma'am. So on the 25th, I called Chase
23 again. I spoke with Jessica to ask her, because 24 I knew my forbearance was going to be up at the 25 end of the August.

1 Q. Okay.

2 A. And I was asking her how much was I supposed
3 to send in September. And she said 678 or 4 whatever I can pay. She said because the sale
5 had not been stopped. The sale date had been set
6 for September 2nd and I need to send something to 7 stop the sale.

8 Q. And 678, that was what your original payment
9 was under the loan?

10 A. Yes, ma'am.

11 Q. Is that what you sent?

12 A. No, ma'am. I didn't send it because it was 13 like, okay, if I send it -- I felt like if I sent 14 it, it wouldn't guarantee me that that was going
15 to stop the sale. So I asked Jessica to transfer
16 me to Erin and Nancy picked up -- Nancy answered
17 and told me that Erin was out and for me to call
18 back the following day.

19 Q. Did you do that?

20 A. Yes, ma'am. I called back -- well, I called 21 back on August 30th and I spoke with a Linda.
22 Linda told me that my property had been set for 23 sale August -- not August -- September 7th. And 24 she informed me that they did receive all my 25 necessary paperwork and it was in review.

1 Q. When you say necessary paperwork, you mean
2 the one for HAMP modification?

3 MS. CASKEY: I'm sorry. Did she say
4 what day that was?

5 THE WITNESS: August 30th.

6 MS. CASKEY: Thank you.

7 THE WITNESS: She said that they had
8 all the necessary modification paperwork and 9 she told me to send a pay check stub.

10 BY MS. INGLES:

11 Q. Why was that that you had to send another
12 paycheck stub?

13 A. Well, when Sandra had originally told me to 14 send the paycheck stub, I had only had one
15 paycheck stub. I only get paid once every two 16 weeks.

17 Q. And this was a new job?

18 A. A new job, yes. And I had told Sandra that I
19 only had one paycheck stub because we get paid
20 every two weeks and only had the one paycheck
21 stub. She told me to go ahead and send that 22 paycheck stub and when I get paid again to send 23 that one and that's what I did.

24 Q. Okay. And that was August 31st?

25 A. Yes, ma'am.

1 Q. Now, what did you do next after sending that 2 as far as to follow up with what was going on 3 with your modification application?

4 A. Well, on that day when I was talking to 5 Linda, I asked to speak to Erin.

6 Q. Erin is your underwriting relationship
7 manager?

8 A. Yes, ma'am.

9 Q. Okay.

10 A. I was told that she wasn't available.

11 Q. Okay.

12 A. And then August 31st, that's when I faxed my 13 paycheck stubs, bank statements, and amended
14 version of the modification package. I faxed all
15 that back to Chase.

16 Q. Did you have any reason to believe at that 17 moment that they weren't working with you on this 18 modification application?

19 A. No. I thought they was working with me. I
20 though, you know, they was supposed to be doing
21 it.

22 Q. You were sending stuff, they were asking for 23 other stuff and so forth?

24 A. Yes, ma'am.

25 Q. Okay.

1 A. I'm on the phone, they'll tell me I need to
2 do this, this and this, and then a couple of days
3 later asking for something totally different and
4 then I would send that in, what they were asking
5 for that's totally different.

6 Q. Okay. So after you send in that second
7 paycheck stub, what was your next
8 communication?

9 A. On the 1st of September, I tried to contact
10 Erin in the underwrite department at Chase. She 11 wasn't available. I spoke with Beth, and she 12 told me that Chase had received all my 13 documentations that they needed. And she told
14 me, she -- and Beth told me she would send Erin
15 an email for her to have the sale date postponed.
16 And she said she also would tell -- she also told 17 me to call back the following day.

18 Q. Which would have been September 2nd?

19 A. Yes, ma'am.

20 Q. 2010. Did you do that?

21 A. Yes, ma'am.

22 Q. What happened in that conversation?

23 A. I called back on September 2nd asked to speak
24 with Erin. I was told Erin was busy, and I spoke 25 with a Samantha. And she said she would send an

1 email to her manager and Erin for them to
2 escalate to have the sale postponed.

3 Q. Because at this point, had you still not
4 gotten a definite answer on your modification?

5 A. No, ma'am.

6 Q. And you didn't have any reason to know
7 exactly what they were doing with this sale at 8 that point that you have you had been notified
9 of?

10 A. No, ma'am.

11 Q. Other than that they were requesting it be 12 postponed?

13 A. Yes, ma'am.

14 Q. What would be your next contact with them?

15 A. I called back on September 3, 2010 to 16 Chase -- no. On September 3rd, that's when I
17 received a letter saying that my modification
18 application had  and the request -- I had 19 submitted a hardship letter and documentation of 20 my income.

21 Q. So this was like more information that they 22 needed at that point?

23 A. They said -- they informed me they received
24 all that because that was the last information
25 that they needed, my hardship letter.

1 Q. That's what they asked you for over the
2 phone?

3 A. Yes, ma'am. And they just sent me a letter
4 telling me they received this from me.

5 Q. Okay.

6 A. And then on the 3rd, I called Chase and asked
7 Erin again. I was told Erin wasn't in and I
8 spoke with a Sheryl. And Sheryl informed me that 9 my file was, in fact, in underwrite, and the 10 request for the postponement of the sale had been 11 submitted.

12 Q. What did you think that meant?

13 A. That they had sent it and they was -- had 14 sent the request for it to be postponed.

15 Q. Did you think it was still going to be held
16 at that point?

17 A. No, I didn't. Because when I was talking to 18 Sandra when she said she was sending it down to 19 underwrite, she had told me that they couldn't
20 foreclose -- they couldn't sell it or doing
21 nothing until they had the final review on my 22 modification of which she said it would be 30 to 23 45 days.

24 Q. That would have put you into October --

25 A. Yes, ma'am.

1 Q. -- of 2010?

2 THE COURT: Who told you that?

3 THE WITNESS: Sandra.

4 THE COURT: Sandra.

5 THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

6 BY MS. INGLES:

7 Q. Did you have any other discussion with

8 Sheryl?

9 A. That was it. She just instructed me to call
10 back on the 4th, September 4th. I called back on 11 September 4th and I spoke with a Jeannette and 12 she told me Erin wasn't in.

13 Q. Erin being the relationship manager in 14 underwriting?

15 A. Yes, ma'am. And Jeanette had confirmed that 16 the request had been postponed for the 17 foreclosure sale had been submitted, but she 18 didn't say what other actions had been taken.
19 She just said it had been submitted and told me,
20 you know, basically call back the next day.

21 So on September 7th, I called -- that's 22 when I spoke with Jay, and he told me -- he also 23 told me that it takes 30 to 45 days to review my 24 case, for them to go over my modification package
25 and said Erin wasn't available.

1 I was asking them about the emails that
2 Sheryl and Linda and all them had sent Erin. He 3 said, yeah, they had been sent for the sale to be 4 postponed and the property had not been sold on 5 the 7th of September.

6 Q. So on that day, they said it wasn't sold.

7 A. Right.

8 Q. We didn't do that?

9 A. Right.

10 Q. Who was that that said that?

11 A. Jay. And then I called back on September
12 9th.

13 Q. Why did you call back?

14 A. I was trying to -- hoping I could get to talk
15 to Erin to see exactly what was going on.

16 Q. To see if you were going to get approved for 17 the modification?

18 A. Yes. And see, you know, if the foreclosure
19 went through or whatever. Basically because, I'm 20 like -- they kept saying they sent the postpone,
21 but they hadn't got a response or reply of 22 whether or not if it had been or had not been.

23 And Erin, she wasn't in, and I spoke with 24 a Calvin. He informed me that on the 7th, the 25 Plaintiff denied my modification application.

1 Q. He's like looking at the computer and telling
2 you what the computer says or something?

3 A. That's what I took he was doing.

4 Q. Okay. Had you gotten anything in writing
5 about that?

6 A. No, ma'am.

7 Q. Okay.

8 A. And I was questioning him.

9 Q. So did they deny it?

10 A. He was like for insufficient funds. And I
11 was like, why didn't Jay tell me this when I
12 talked to him on the 7th. And Calvin told me he 13 didn't know nothing about that. So I called back
14 on the 13th after receiving -- on the 13th, I
15 received a letter from the Plaintiff dating
16 that -- on the 13th, I received a letter, so I
17 called Chase and I spoke with Diane to confirm 18 that the plan -- exactly about why they did deny
19 my modification.

20 And Diane, she's -- I spoke with the 21 Diane. And she told me that the underwrite
22 quality control they didn't like the reason they 23 gave.

24 Q. That who gave?

25 A. Underwrite had gave for denying my

1 modification and they had sent it back down to 2 review.

3 Q. `So they're telling you then that your 4 property was sold but your modification is still
5 to be reviewed, basically is the information you
6 have at that point?

7 A. Yes, ma'am.

8 THE COURT: What was the letter on
9 9/13? Did it say anything?

10 THE WITNESS: It was saying that --

11 MS. INGLES: I think 9/3 was the 12 letter.

13 THE WITNESS: I received it on the 14 13th. I don't know the exact date the letter
15 was written, but it was stating why I was 16 denied for the --

17 THE COURT: It was just reasons for your 18 denial?

19 THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

21 THE WITNESS: And then I called back
22 on the 14th -- called Chase back on the 14th
23 and spoke with Hope and she told me the 24 foreclosure had not been stopped and she 25 would send her manager an email requesting an

1 update on my case. And Hope asked me, you
2 know, to call back the following day.

3 BY MS. INGLES:

4 Q. Was this the first time that somebody
5 actually told you that the foreclosure had not
6 been stopped or had someone told you that before
7 then?

8 A. No. They didn't say -- they didn't know
9 whether it had been stopped or whatever. That 10 was the -- Hope first one to say it was not
11 stopped.

12 Q. So the letter that denied you at that point
13 said it was because of the NPV or because of 14 something else? Let me see if we got a copy.

15 A. I don't remember exactly which one it was.

16 MS. INGLES: These are the letters
17 that she has.

18 MS. CASKEY: Okay.

19 BY MS. INGLES:

20 Q. What was the date? You're talking about the 21 one before September 21st?

22 A. The one I received on the 13th, the letter
23 was dated 9/3.

24 Q. Is that the one you're talking about, Exhibit
25 F?

1 A. Yes, ma'am. This is the one I was talking
2 about.

3 Q. What does that say as far as why you're -- 4 does it say you were turned down at that point or 5 does that one just say she received your 6 application?

7 A. They just had some criterias that said that 8 if I am eligible for these criterias and 9 submitted all required documentation, then they
10 can offer me a trial period, a trial period
11 plan.

12 Q. Okay. So is that just the letter of 13 confirmation -- let's see -- that they received
14 your recently submitted request for modification?
15 That's not actually a denial, is it?

16 A. No, that's not fully -- no.

17 Q. So, let me show you another letter here.

18 MS. INGLES: Bear with me, Judge, if 19 you don't mind.

20 THE COURT: That's fine.

21 BY MS. INGLES:

22 Q. Let me show you this letter of August 19th,
23 if that was attached to the Plaintiff's
24 affidavit. That may be the one you're referring 25 to and I just have a different date.

1 A. Yeah, I think this is the one, because this
2 is the one about the NPV values.

3 Q. So that's the one you already mentioned about
4 the NPV?

5 A. Uh-huh.

6 Q. Okay. So is that the letter that you were 7 talking about with Diana about the denial where 8 she said quality control didn't like that, or 9 something? Or was there a later letter that we 10 just don't have a copy of? I know there was one
11 later in September, but I'm wondering if there 12 was one in between these two?

13 A. I'm not sure.

14 Q. Let me show you the one -- the letter from 15 September 21 and ask you if you recognize that 16 one again.

17 A. I think this is the one, because they said
18 they was unable to do it, because they're saying
19 I didn't make all my trial payments by the end of 20 the trial period.

21 Q. Now, was that referring back to a year before
22 that when you had a trial modification, or do you
23 know?

24 A. I don't know, because my original trial
25 payment was for August, September and October.

1 THE COURT: Do we need to mark this?

2 MS. INGLES: Yes.

3 (DFT. EXH. 1, HAMP plan; 7/1/09, was 4 marked for identification.)

5 BY MS. INGLES:

6 Q. So this letter of September 21 says that the 7 trial period -- that you were denied because you
8 did not make all the required trial period plan
9 payments by the end of the trial period?

10 A. Uh-huh.

11 Q. Let's just assume -- let's go back to 12 determine if that's even true about your trial
13 modification that you had a year before that.
14 Did you make all the required payments?

15 A. Yes, ma'am.

16 Q. So, if they are referring to that previous 17 trial period plan that had been a year before
18 that, this would be incorrect, you did make all
19 the payments?

20 A. Yes, ma'am.

21 Q. In fact, you made payments beyond the period
22 that they required, well into the next year,
23 April 2010, I believe you testified?

24 A. Yes, ma'am.

25 Q. Now, this letter of August 19th that says you

1 were denied because of MPV results that was
2 mentioned earlier --

3 A. Yes, ma'am.

4 Q. -- do you remember getting that?

5 A. Yes, ma'am.

6 (DFT. EXH. 2, Letter from Chase to
7 Bradley; 3/4/2010, was marked for
8 identification.)

9 BY MS. INGLES:

10 Q. And did you later -- I think you said you
11 requested that they provide you with those NPV.

12 A. Yes, ma'am. I faxed them and I sent by 13 certified mail asking them to send me the 14 qualified writing request for how they determined
15 the NPV value.

16 Q. Did you do that so that you could find out
17 why those values caused you to be denied?

18 A. Yes, ma'am.

19 Q. Let me show you this fax. It's two pages.
20 This is a fax from 9/20/2010. Could you tell us
21 what that is?

22 A. This is what I had faxed asking them --
23 requesting that they send me the things on how 24 they determine the NPV value.

25 Q. What's the date of that, 9/20?

1 A. Yes, ma'am.

2 Q. So you did that within the 30 days?

3 A. Yes, ma'am.

4 Q. Now, tell me what happened after that last
5 conversation?

6 A. Well, I called Lilly also on the 20th. I
7 called Chase and I spoke with a Lilly and she 8 told me that my home had already been sold and 9 there wasn't enough time to stop the 10 foreclosure.

11 Q. Okay. What was your reaction to that?

12 A. I was really distraught because everyone I
13 had talked to up to this time they were saying
14 there was nothing they can do because it was 15 under review. And while it was under review,
16 they couldn't foreclose on it.

17 Q. Did you also send them a qualified written
18 request during that time period? Let me show you
19 what I'm referring to. It's a fax also 9/20. Do
20 you recognize that as something you sent?

21 A. Yes, ma'am. I faxed it and I also sent it
22 certified mail.

23 Q. Okay.

24 MS. INGLES: I'm going to ask that
25 these last two that she referred to be

1 marked.

2 (DFT. EXH. 3, Letter from Chase to
3 Bradley; 8/19/10, was marked for identification.)

4 (DFT. EXH. 4, Letter from Chase to
5 Bradley; 9/3/10, was marked for identification.)

6 BY MS. INGLES:

7 Q. So at that time, other than looking into
8 finding a lawyer to represent you on this, did
9 you do anything else regarding Chase at that 10 time?

11 A. No, not really.

12 Q. And then let me show you this notice to 13 vacate the property that's dated September 22.
14 Did you receive that notice?

15 A. Yes, ma'am.

16 Q. Now, you are still living in the house today;
17 is that right?

18 A. Yes, ma'am.

19 Q. You're still desirous of continuing to pay on 20 your loan and keep your house; is that right?

21 A. Yes, ma'am.

22 Q. You have the ability to do that with your 23 job, don't you?

24 A. Yes, ma'am.

25 Q. Is there anything else that you would have

1 done had you known that the house was actually
2 being sold on September 7th of 2010?

3 A. I thought they was being honest and true with 4 me... And if I knew they wasn't, I probably would 5 have looked into other avenues and obtained a
6 lawyer sooner than I did.

7 Q. I want to -- Chase has submitted an affidavit
8 of Charles Herndon, a vice president of Chase
9 Home Finance, LLC. And in that affidavit he 10 mentions some discussion that their notes reflect 11 or had with you. And I'd just like to read those 12 to you and ask you what you remember about this,
13 if anything.

14 A. Okay.

15 Q. It says in Paragraph 17, prior to the 16 September 7th foreclosure sale, the borrower,
17 that's you, again request that Chase reconsider
18 her for a loan modification. The customer
19 service notes indicate that between August 25,
20 2010 and August 31, 2010, Chase communicated with 21 the borrower concerning her modification request
22 and informed her that it could not reconsider her
23 for a modification without updated financial 24 information about her income and expenses. Do
25 you agree with that?

1 A. Yes, ma'am.

2 Q. And I believe it's your testimony that you
3 did send in that information?

4 A. Yes, ma'am.

5 Q. Next it states -- the affidavit states, Chase
6 also informed the borrower that it would not
7 request that the foreclosure sale be postponed
8 until all the required documentation for the 9 modification request was received by Chase. Did
10 anybody tell you that?

11 A. They said as soon as they got all the 12 necessary paperwork in, then they would postpone
13 it.

14 Q. Okay. And then you did send in all your 15 paperwork?

16 A. Yes, ma'am.

17 Q. And they acknowledged receiving that, didn't 18 they?

19 A. Yes, ma'am.

20 Q. Long before the sale?

21 A. Yes, ma'am.

22 Q. Next the affidavit in Paragraph 17 says, the 23 borrower will provide the missing financial 24 documents needed to complete the borrower's
25 request for modification on September 1, 2010.

1 Does that sound right to you from your fax?

2 A. I think so.

3 Q. And then in Paragraph 18 it says, in the 4 affidavit on September 2, 2010, Chase advised the 5 borrower that her request for a modification was 6 under review. Chase also advised the borrower
7 that it would request that the foreclosure sale
8 be postponed, but that the request to postpone 9 the sale would have to be approved by the Federal 10 National Mortgage Association, the investor on 11 the loan. Do you remember being told that?

12 A. They just said that they was going to 13 postpone it. As far as being reviewed by 14 somebody else, no, they never told me that.

15 Q. And the last line of Paragraph 18 of the 16 affidavit says, the borrower contacted Chase by 17 telephone on September 4, 2010 and was advised
18 that the foreclosure sale had not been postponed.

19 I mean, you said that they never told you
20 that it had not been postponed like that, but I
21 just wanted to make sure.

22 A. Yes. I don't know if it was the 4th, but 23 they kept saying that the email had been sent for 24 them to escalate it to postpone it, but they 25 said, yeah, it was postponed.

1 Q. Did they ever say it has definitely not been
2 postponed?

3 A. No.

4 Q. Okay.

5 A. But from my understanding that I getting from 6 everyone that I was talking to, as long as it was 7 in review, they could not foreclose on it.

8 Q. Okay.

9 MS. INGLES: I'm going to ask that
10 that affidavit be marked. I assume that 11 there's probably a original, but since we're 12 testifying from it.

13 (DFT. EXH. 5, Affidavit of Charles
14 Herndon, Chase; 3/10/11, was marked for 15 identification.)

16 MS. CASKEY: Does that have a copy
17 of all the exhibits attached?

18 MS. INGLES: Yes. If you want to --
19 did you say you gave him the original?

20 THE COURT: The Charles Herndon
21 affidavit?

22 MS. CASKEY: Yes, sir.

23 MS. CASKEY: Here's a copy, if you
24 want to put the original into evidence. You
25 can just give him a copy. It's up to you.

1 THE COURT: This is the original.

2 MS. INGLES: If I could just check.
3 and make sure which exhibits we got here.

4 THE COURT: Go right ahead. One,
5 two, three.

6 BY MS. INGLES:

7 Q. Now, this is the notice to vacate the 8 property from September 22nd. I don't think
9 we've entered that yet. Do you remember
10 receiving that?

11 A. Yes, ma'am.

12 (DFT. EXH. 6, Notice to Vacate
13 Property; 9/2/10 was marked for identification.)

14 BY MS. INGLES:

15 Q. Do you recall when you received that letter
16 to vacate?

17 A. When?

18 Q. Uh-huh.

19 A. It was towards the end of September.

20 MS. INGLES: Your Honor, I've just 21 got a few other items that were either sent 22 to Chase or received from Chase, and I'd like
23 to just -- I think she's probably talked
24 about most of them, but I want to go ahead
25 and enter them in evidence. I've kind of

1 gotten them out of order from how I brought 2 them here today.

3 THE COURT: If there is no
4 objection, we will just put them right on 5 in.

6 MS. CASKEY: It's okay.

7 BY MS. INGLES:

8 Q. This is your fax that you sent August 2nd
9 with your requested information, that was your 10 employment and income information; is that
11 right?

12 A. Yes, ma'am.

13 MS. INGLES: Mark that as the next
14 exhibit, please.

15 (DFT. EXH. 7, Fax from Bradley to 16 Chase; 8/2/10, was marked for identification.)

17 BY MS. INGLES:

18 Q. That's your submission of August 31st of 2010
19 sending financial information?

20 A. Yes, ma'am.

21 Q. Do you recognize that as what you sent to 22 them?

23 A. Yes, ma'am.

24 Q. All right.

25 MS. INGLES: I ask that that be

1 marked as the next exhibit.

2 (DFT. EXH. 8, Fax from Bradley to
3 Chase; 8/31/10, was marked for identification.)

4 BY MS. INGLES:

5 Q. And then this is the package, I believe, that 6 you received about the August sale and that's
7 dated June 22nd?

8 A. Yes, ma'am.

9 Q. That came from the Plaintiff's attorney?

10 A. Yes, ma'am.

11 MS. INGLES: If you'll hand that to 12 the court reporter to be marked as the next 13 exhibit.

14 (DFT. EXH. 9, Letter from Rogers,
15 Townsend & Thomas to Hughes; 6/22/10, was marked
16 for identification.)

17 BY MS. INGLES:

18 Q. And then one last item and that is 19 documentation that you received noticing a sale
20 and orders being submitted to the Judge on August
21 13th of 2010; is that right?

22 A. Yes, ma'am.

23 MS. INGLES: Okay. If you'll hand
24 that to The Court reporter to be marked,
25 please.

1 (DFT. EXH. 10, Letter from Rogers
2 Townsend & Thomas to Hughes; 8/13/10, was marked
3 for identification.)

4 BY MS. INGLES:

5 Q. Okay. Is there anything else that you want
6 to let the Judge know about that you haven't
7 already testified to?

8 A. I don't think so. I think we talked about
9 everything.

10 MS. INGLES: That's all I have.

11 THE COURT: Thank you.

12 Cross-examination.

13 EXAMINATION

14 BY MS. CASKEY:

15 Q. Good afternoon. I'm Mary Caskey. I'm here
16 on behalf of Chase. If I could have the exhibits
17 I don't see any reason to duplicate if we have 18 questions. I want to, unfortunately, back up and 19 go over some of the timelines we talked about 20 today. Okay?

21 A. Okay.

22 Q. The loan that we're talking about today,
23 that's the loan from about 2001; is that
24 correct?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. And that loan has been modified before; is 2 that right? It has been modified -- prior to the 3 discussions we're having today, it was modified
4 in 2005. Does that sound right?

5 A. Yeah, Washington Mutual when they had it,
6 yes.

7 Q. And then it was modified again in 2008, is 8 that right, March 2008?

9 A. I'm trying to think. They didn't modify it.
10 They gave me a deferment.

11 Q. Okay. They gave you a deferment, but you
12 didn't sign a second loan modification
13 agreement?

14 A. I'm not sure.

15 Q. But to your knowledge, prior to this
16 foreclosure action that was in December 2008, you
17 had gotten assistance on the loan; is that right?

18 A. They deferred it.

19 Q. Because you had trouble making your payments
20 before?

21 A. Well, my husband and I separated and I lost
22 my job.

23 Q. I understand. Now, this foreclosure action
24 was filed on December of 2008, do you remember 25 that?

1 A. I think so.

2 Q. And do you recall getting served with the 3 summons and the complaint about the foreclosure,
4 kind of getting in the papers, being served with 5 them?

6 A. Yeah.

7 Q. Did you hire an attorney at that point?

8 A. No.

9 Q. Did you come to any hearings at that point?

10 A. No. I had received this letter in the mail
11 called 1-800 Hope -- 1-800 something or another
12 Hope, and they could help you. I had called that 13 and left my name and phone number and everything,
14 and this company called. First Foreclosure
15 contacted me, and they were supposed to have been 16 working with me to -- to help me get it modified.

17 Q. But did you ever come to court? Prior to 18 today, have you been to court for this 19 foreclosure?

20 A. No.

21 Q. Okay.

22 A. When they set up a court date or whatever, I
23 was dealing with first foreclosure, and the lady
24 that I was speaking with that was supposed to --
25 I can't remember the lady's name.

1 Q. The lady at First Foreclosure, though?

2 A. Yeah. She told me not to go.

3 Q. So you received advice from somebody else not
4 to answer the complaint?

5 A. Yeah.

6 Q. And the first foreclosure solutions, they
7 actually contacted Chase for you; is that right?
8 Did you give them authorization to speak with 9 someone at Chase?

10 A. Well, this time -- it was Washington Mutual
11 then.

12 Q. Oh, correct. I'm sorry. And when I'm 13 talking Chase, Washington Mutual eventually 14 became Chase, right?

15 A. Right.

16 Q. Did First Foreclosures solutions contact
17 Washington Mutual for you?

18 A. Yes.

19 Q. And they requested a modification for you?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. Do you recall -- that was just after the 22 foreclosure action had been filed, right?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. Do you recall getting a notice that the 25 property had been scheduled to be sold on April

1 6th, 2009?

2 A. I don't remember that one.

3 Q. But you were working with First Foreclosure
4 and they were trying to get the foreclosure
5 stopped; is that what you remember?

6 A. Right.

7 Q. To your knowledge, no foreclosure sale took 8 place in April, right?

9 A. Right.

10 Q. Now, I'm going to hand you -- I don't believe 11 the trial plan has been entered. I'm going to 12 hand you the Home Affordable Trial Plan that we 13 were discussing earlier.

14 MS. INGLES: Mark this as
15 Plaintiff's Exhibit 1.

16 (PLF. EXH. 1, Home Affordable
17 Modification Trial Period Plan, was marked for 18 identification.)

19 BY MS. CASKEY:

20 Q. Is that a copy of the trial plan that we've 21 been talking about?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. And that's your signature on the last page?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. You can hold on to that for a second.

1 Earlier we talked about under the trial plan that
2 your payments were $517.29; is that right?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. And it says those payments are due on August
5 1st -- I'm sorry -- July 1st, August 1st and 6 September 1st, right?

7 A. Uh-huh.

8 Q. And did you have the opportunity to read this 9 agreement before you signed it?

10 A. Yeah, I read some of it, yeah.

11 Q. And in Paragraph B it says, just follow along
12 and tell me if I read it correctly. It says,
13 except to set forth in Section 2-C below, the 14 lender will suspend any scheduled foreclosure
15 sale provided I continue to meet the obligations
16 under this plan. That any pending foreclosure
17 action will not be dismissed and may be 18 immediately resumed from the point at which it
19 was suspended if this plan terminates. Did I
20 read that correctly?

21 A. Yes. That's what it says.

22 Q. Moving down to Section F it says, if prior to 23 the modification effective date -- and that date
24 is defined earlier as the date that you completed
25 those three payments, correct?

1 A. Uh-huh.

2 Q. If prior to the modification effective date,
3 the lender does not provide me with a fully
4 executed copy of this plan, the modification
5 agreement, I have not made the trial payments --
6 the trial period payments under Section 2 of this 7 plan, or the lender determines that my 8 representation in Section 1 are no true and 9 correct, the loan documents will not be modified
10 and this plan will terminate. Did I read that 11 correctly?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. Now, you testified earlier that you made all 14 the payments under the trial plan; is that 15 correct?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. For the purposes of our discussion when I say
18 trial plan, I'm talking about the three payments,
19 July, August and September. Okay?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. And I think you testified earlier too that 22 those payments may have been a bit late
23 sometimes; is that right?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. Do you recall calling Chase sometime in

1 September and telling them that you were going to
2 have trouble making that October payment -- or
3 September payment?

4 A. Yes.

5 Q. I believe you were working with the Urban -- 6 is it the Urban League? Is that the name of that 7 organization?

8 A. Clemson Community Care.

9 Q. Clemson Community Care. And what kind of 10 service does Clemson Community Care provide?

11 A. They provide services when people need help
12 paying bills, food, heat.

13 Q. Okay. And so you contacted them because you
14 were not going to be able to make that third
15 trial plan payment; is that right?

16 A. I wasn't going to be able to make all of it.
17 My car had tore up, and I had to get it fixed.

18 Q. Okay.

19 A. So I can continue to look for a job.

20 Q. So you made part of it?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. Chase records show that the amount was $368
23 does that sound about right?

24 A. Yes.

25 Q. And you made that -- do you recall what date

1 you made it on?

2 A. No, I don't.

3 Q. Do you think you made it before the end of 4 September?

5 A. I think I did. I'm not sure.

6 Q. You were going to rely on the Clemson
7 Community Care to make the rest of the payment;
8 is that right?

9 A. Yes. That was supposed to be $150.

10 Q. And Chase records showed that they paid that 11 sometime in October. Does that sound right?

12 A. I'm not sure when they paid it, because they 13 kept having a problem with getting authorization
14 forms signed or something or another.

15 Q. Is it possible that you made that third
16 payment past September 30th?

17 A. Part of it, yeah.

18 Q. So the whole amount didn't come in until 19 sometime in October?

20 A. Yeah.

21 Q. I'm going to hand you what I'm going to mark
22 as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2, which is a letter dated 23 March 4, 2010. This is Exhibit 2 to the 24 affidavit of Charles Herndon.

25 (PLF. EXH. 2, Letter from Chase to

1 Bradley; 3/4/10, was marked for identification.)

2 BY MS. CASKEY:

3 Q. Take a moment to take a look at this letter.

4 That's your address at the top, correct?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. Do you recall receiving this letter from

7 Chase?

8 MS. INGLES: What did you say the 9 date was?

10 MS. CASKEY: March 4, 2010.

11 THE WITNESS: No.

12 BY MS. CASKEY:

13 Q. Do you have any reason -- the address is 14 correct at the top; is that correct?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. We talked about a number of other letters

17 that Chase has sent you, correct?

18 A. Uh-huh.

19 Q. And all of those letters were sent to that 20 address, right?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. And this letter states that you have been

23 declined for a modification due to the present

24 value of your loan; is that right?

25 A. Yeah.

1 Q. Is it possible that you received this letter
2 and just don't recall?

3 A. Every letter I received from you all I've 4 kept.

5 Q. Okay. So you don't recall ever seeing this 6 letter before?

7 A. No.

8 Q. Earlier you talked about how -- we went 9 through a number of individuals that you talked
10 to in May, June and July and August of 2010.

11 A. Right.

12 Q. You talked to Amanda. I think you mentioned
13 a Sandra. Several people at Chase.

14 A. Uh-huh..

15 Q. I think at one point you mentioned that the 16 loan had been assigned to a person named Erin; is 17 that right?

18 A. Uh-huh.

19 Q. I understand from your testimony that you
20 were unable to get in touch with Erin; is that 21 right?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. Whenever you called Chase were unable to 24 speak to anyone about your loan?

25 A. I spoke to different people and usually

1 whatever -- I guess whoever would look at 2 whatever computer screen that was there, and they
3 gave me whatever information was there.

4 Q. So someone was available to talk to you,
5 right, even if it wasn't necessarily Erin?

6 A. (Witness nods head up and down.)

7 Q. Is that a yes?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. The court reporter has trouble taking head
10 nods, so you got to say it out loud.

11 I think also you testified that sometime
12 in -- maybe it was May or June, you got a
13 forbearance; is that right?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. And part of that forbearance was that there
16 wouldn't be any foreclosure sale during those 17 these months, and those three months were June,
18 July and August; is that right?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. And according to my notes, and you can tell
21 if the dates are wrong, feel free to use that 22 timeline, that that forbearance was sometime
23 around June 29th. Does that sound right? Can 24 you tell me what day you received that agreement
25 for the forbearance?

1 A. It was June 9th.

2 Q. June 9th, okay. You got the verbal agreement
3 for a forbearance, right?

4 A. Right.

5 Q. You never signed anything; is that correct?

6 A. No. I asked her to send me -- you know,
7 could I get that in writing. She never sent
8 it.

9 Q. Did any foreclosure sale take place in June,
10 July or August?

11 A. No.

12 Q. At the end of August, I believe you received 13 a letter that's been marked as --

14 MS. CASKEY: I'm going to mark it as
15 Plaintiff's Exhibit 3.

16 (PLF. EXH. 3, Letter from Chase to
17 Bradley; 8/19/10, was marked for identification.)

18 BY MS. CASKEY:

19 Q. You've already testified that you received a
20 copy of this letter; is that correct?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. And the letter is dated August 19, 2010 and 23 states that you are not eligible for a 24 modification due to the net present value of your 25 loan; is that right?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. And I think after that, you testified you
3 called Chase back and you started working with 4 them again; is that right?

5 A. Uh-huh.

6 Q. And it wasn't until August 31st that you
7 finally sent them in this last bit of 8 information; is that right?

9 A. I sent out everything they were waiting for.
10 And when I spoke with Sandra about my income, I
11 told her that I only had one paycheck stub.

12 Q. Okay.

13 A. Because it was a new job I just started and 14 we only get paid once every two weeks, and she 15 told me that would be fine. Send that one. And 16 when I get the other one to send it in. Get 17 another one, send it in.

18 Q. But you did eventually -- you talked to 19 someone at Chase and they did give you a list of 20 additional information that they needed?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. And you sent that in on August 31st?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. And on September 3rd -- and I'm just trying 25 to find the letter.

1 MS. CASKEY: I don't have a copy of
2 the letter, so I need to use the exhibit
3 copy. September, 3, 2010.

4 MS. INGLES: Let me see if I got an 5 extra one.

6 (PLF. EXH. 4, Letter from Chase to
7 Bradley; 9/3/10, was marked for identification.)

8 BY MS. CASKEY:

9 Q. I'm going to hand you what will be marked as 10 Plaintiff's 4. And this is a letter dated
11 September 3, 2010. We've already talked about 12 it. It's the letter that you said that you got 13 from Chase telling you we got everything that we 14 need; is that right?

15 A. Uh-huh.

16 MS. INGLES: Say yes or no.

17 THE WITNESS: Yes, ma'am.

18 BY MS. CASKEY:

19 Q. I want you to look at Page 2 of the letter.
20 About halfway down on the page, beginning with 21 the sentence that says, if your loan has already 22 been referred to foreclosure. Do you see that?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. Your loan at that point had already been 25 referred to foreclosure, correct?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. It says, if your loan has already been
3 referred to foreclosure, we will the sell it at a
4 foreclosure sale-subject to applicable law and 5 judicial rules that may limit our ability to 6 prevent or cancel any pending sale. Note, and 7 this in bold, if your initial request for 8 evaluation was received less than seven business
9 days prior to a scheduled sale, we are not 10 required to complete the evaluation or HAMP.
11 Please be aware that during the evaluation
12 period, the foreclosure process may continue at 13 the same time. You may receive foreclosure
14 and/or eviction notices delivered to you by mail
15 or in person or you may even notice steps taken 16 to proceed with the foreclosure sale of your 17 home. And then again in bold, do not ignore any 18 foreclosure notices.

19 Is that correct? Did I read that
20 correct?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. After you received this letter, did you
23 contact anyone at the attorney's office that was 24 doing the foreclosure?

25 A. No, not at the attorney's office.

1 Q. Did anyone -- so no one at the attorney's
2 office ever told you that the foreclosure sale
3 had been postponed; is that right?

4 A. No.

5 Q. I think you testified earlier that no one at 6 Chase told you that it had been postponed, right?

7 A. Right.

8 Q. They just told you they requested it,
9 correct?

10 A. Right.

11 Q. After you received the letter on August 19,
12 2010 that told you that you had been denied for a
13 modification, did you contact an attorney then?

14 A. I'm trying to think. I'm not sure what date
15 it was that I obtained a lawyer.

16 Q. Okay. Well, earlier you testified that if 17 you had known that the September 7th foreclosure
18 sale was going to go through that you would have 19 done something. What exactly would you have done 20 if you had known that the foreclosure sale was 21 going to go through?

22 A. You know, I would have -- early on, I would 23 have obtained a lawyer sooner. And either, you
24 know, went and talked to someone else that knew 25 more about what was going on than relying on my

1 own understanding.

2 Q. But at the time of August the foreclosure
3 action had been pending for eight months; is that 4 right? It had been pending since December of 5 2008?

6 A. Yeah, I think so.

7 Q. I'm sorry. That's more than -- a year and 8 eight months; is that correct?

9 A. Yeah.

10 Q. And you hadn't hired an attorney by August of 11 2010, had you?

12 A. No.

13 Q. I'm going to hand you what's going to be 14 marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 5, which is an 15 affidavit that was filed earlier in this case.

16 (PLF. EXH. 5, Affidavit of Barbara
17 Hindman; 5/12/10, was marked for identification.)

18 MS. CASKEY: That was Exhibit 1 to 19 the memorandum in support, is the copy of the 20 affidavit.

21 MS. INGLES: That you just handed
22 her?

23 MS. CASKEY: That I just handed her.

24 BY MS. CASKEY:

25 Q. Do you recall ever seeing that affidavit

1 before?

2 A. I think that's when I went and got my housing
3 counselor. Because I went to the magistrate
4 office to see if they could explain this to me
5 and they said that I would have to get a lawyer,
6 or whatever.

7 Q. Okay. And this affidavit doesn't have a
8 title. It just states it's an affidavit of 9 Barbara Hindman and it's dated May 12, 2010; is 10 that right?

11 A. Uh-huh.

12 Q. And it states that pursuant to Supreme Court
13 Order 2009 5/22/01, the last paragraph states,
14 the Plaintiff is a servicing agent for the 15 mortgage loan described in this foreclosure
16 action, is participating in the Home Affordable
17 Modification program, but the subject loan is not
18 eligible for modification because the HAMP
19 modification process has been completed without a
20 modification. Did I read that correctly?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. So after you received this affidavit, you
23 went and spoke with a housing counselor; is that 24 what you said?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. Did you file anything with the Court after
2 you received this affidavit?

3 A. No.

4 Q. Okay. Did you call Chase and ask any
5 questions about this affidavit?

6 A. No, I didn't know I was supposed to file
7 anything or call them. PROOF.

8 Q. But this affidavit did tell you that your 9 HAMP process had been completed and that your 10 loan hadn't been modified; is that correct?

11 A. Yes.

12 MS. CASKEY: If I could have just 13 one second.

14 BY MS. CASKEY:

15 Q. I think earlier you testified -- we talked 16 about the trial plan payments, and one of the 17 letters that you received, which is marked as 18 Defendant's Exhibit 1 states that you had been 19 declined for a modification because you had 20 failed to make all the payments under the trial
21 plan; is that correct?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. And earlier you testified to your -- you
24 know, after questions from your attorney that 25 that statement was wrong; is that right?

1 A. Yes.

2 Q. After we went through the payment history,
3 you also testified that that last payment under 4 the trial plan, that one for September, that that
5 payment was late; was that right?

6 A. I don't know exactly when Clemson Community
7 Care sent that payment in.

8 Q. Do you have any information or evidence that 9 they paid it by September 30, 2009?

10 A. No, I don't.

11 Q. And you weren't able to make a full payment
12 at that time; is that correct?

13 A. Right.

14 Q. So it's possible -- and I know you say you
15 don't know the date that Community Care made it,
16 but if Community Care didn't make it by September
17 30th, then you wouldn't have made that payment on 18 time; is that right?

19 A. I guess.

20 MS. CASKEY: I think that's all the 21 questions that I have for now.

22 THE COURT: Redirect?

23 MS. INGLES: Yes.

24 EXAMINATION

25 BY MS. INGLES:

1 Q. Vanessa, let me just start with that last
2 affidavit, which was May 12th of 2010. I believe
3 that's Exhibit 5 that stated that your loan was 4 not eligible for modification because the HAMP
5 modification process has been completed without a
6 modification.

7 Now the previous month before that, which
8 would have been April 2010, you had made a
9 payment.

10 A. Yes, ma'am.

11 Q. Which turned out to be your final payment on 12 that modification plan; is that right?

13 A. Yes, ma'am.

14 Q. During this month of May, 2010 is that when 15 you contacted them about the fact that your 16 unemployment was running out?

17 A. Yes.

18 Q. And it was right subsequent to that they gave 19 you the three-month deferment for June, July, and 20 August; is that correct?

21 A. Yes.

22 Q. Although, there may be some question on the 23 part of the Plaintiff as to whether or not you
24 made a full payment in September, which would 25 have been the third payment of the trial plan,

1 you also made a payment in October, November
2 December, all of 2009.

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. January, February, March and April of 2010.

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. So you made about ten payments.

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. I believe that adds up to...

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. And it was mentioned that as of that August
11 date, that last month of the deferment, August
12 2010, the month before the sale took place, that 13 you had not paid on this loan in a year and eight
14 months, but, in fact, you had a three-month
15 deferment, you had made ten trial plan payments?

16 A. Yes.

17 Q. And had (been in negotiations for 18 modification; is that right?

19 A. Yes.

20 Q. So you didn't really go a year and eight
21 months without paying anything, did you?

22 A. No.

23 Q. And Plaintiff's Exhibit 4 was -- Miss Caskey
24 read to you from Page 2 of Plaintiff's Exhibit 4, 25 which indicated some information about when your

1 initial request for evaluation was received, if
2 it had been received less than seven business
3 days prior to a scheduled sale they're not
4 required to complete an evaluation; is that
5 right?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. But his had been an ongoing evaluation
8 request, had it not?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. So that wasn't the first time that 11 modification had been discussed between you and 12 the folks at Chase?

13 A. No.

14 Q. And you said that when you did call Chase on 15 the numerous occasions that you mentioned and 16 there may be others that you haven't mentioned
17 where you called them; is that the case?

18 A. There have been some. I didn't write names
19 or notes down when I did call them.

20 Q. And you've never not been able to speak to 21 anyone but it sounds like there's been many times
22 where you weren't really able to get any 23 information about what was going on?

24 A. Right.

25 Q. From your testimony, many times you got

1 information that turned out to be not correct; is
2 that right?

3 A. Right.

4 Q. And you talked about some previous -- what we
5 referred to modifications on your loan, but you
6 said one of them was just a deferment of payment
7 when you were going through a divorce; is that
8 right?

9 A. Yes.

10 Q. So that was just something -- was that 11 something you just discussed over the phone and 12 they said, don't worry about making that payment,
13 or what was that?

14 A. That when I lost my job in '06. And they 15 sent me out -- they deferred it I think for like 16 three months, but then I had to go back to making
17 the same payments.

18 Q. And they didn't waive those payments?

19 A. No.

20 Q. That money is still owed that they 21 deferred?

22 A. Right. If I remember correctly, they said
23 them payments basically was moved to the end of 24 the loan.

25 Q. Okay. And you mentioned that you had

1 received a letter about the Hope for Homeowners
2 program?

3 A. Yes.

4 Q. Did you receive that from Chase?

5 A. I'm not sure who sent it to me.

6 Q. You don't know. All right.

7 And Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 was the trial plan
8 that you were working under back in August of 9 2009, and then you paid all the way through April
10 of 2010, right?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. And there were a number of references about 13 the modification and what would happen if there
14 were any deficiencies or anything like that, that 15 the plan wouldn't be honored if this or that 16 happened, if you were late or missed a payment,
17 or those sorts of things, that that was here in 18 Plaintiffs' Exhibit 1. But did you ever receive
19 any kind of notice from Chase --

20 A. No.

21 Q. -- that this plan was not going to continue
22 because you had missed a payment or only made a
23 partial payment or this $150 wasn't received
24 until October?

25 A. No.

1 Q. Did anyone ever tell you that over the
2 phone?

3 A. No.

4 Q. You continued making those payments all the 5 way through April 2010 of the following year?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. Did they accept all those payments?

8 A. Yes.

9 Q. Did they ever say this trial modification is 10 over, we're not going to do it because that $150
11 came late?

12 A. No.

13 Q. And I believe there was the Defendant's
14 Exhibit 1, the letter of September 21 of 2010
15 which notified you that -- and this was right
16 after your home had been sold -- we are unable to 17 offer you a home affordable modification because 18 you did not make all of the required trial period
19 plan payments by the end of the trial period.

20 Okay. But you've just discussing -- if that's 21 the ones that they're talking about, the ones
22 from August of 2010 to -- excuse me -- August of 23 2009 to April of 2010, you made more than what 24 was required, didn't you?

25 A. Yes.

1 Q. After this letter, Defendant's Exhibit 1, you
2 later received a letter on August 19th of 2010
3 which is Defendant's Exhibit 2 saying that it was 4 the NPV test was why it was denied. So this
5 letter about the trial modification period came
6 this NPV letter?

7 A. Right.

8 Q. So the September 21, 2010 letter, Defendant's
9 Exhibit 1, that's the first time you heard of 10 this denial because some failure of the trial
11 period plan?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. And apparently, although you said you didn't 14 receive it, there was a letter from March 4th of 15 2010, that's been entered, Plaintiff's Exhibit 2, 16 that seems to also deny your modification based,
17 on the NPV calculation?

18 A. Yes.

19 MS. INGLES: That's all I have.

20 MS. CASKEY: Can I have two quick
21 points?

22 THE COURT: Go right ahead.

23 BY MS. INGLES:

24 Q. We were discussing earlier -- your attorney
25 mentioned that it was an ongoing evaluation

1 process; is that right? Do you recall that?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. Referring back to Defendant's Exhibit 2;

4 though, by August 19, 2010, this is that letter

5 telling you that you were denied because of the 6 NPV inputs, correct?

7 A. Correct.

8 Q. As of August 19, 2010, Chase had informed you

9 you're not eligible for a modification; is that

10 correct?

11 A. Yes.

12 Q. So at that point that modification request

13 had been denied; is that right?

14 A. Yes.

15 Q. I understand that after that, you know, by

16 August 31st that you sent in more paperwork, more

17 financial information and that kind of thing; is 18 that correct?

19 A. Because I got that correspondence by mail

20 asking and requesting for this information.

21 Q. So that was a new request; is that correct?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. And the second thing I want to ask you about

24 is, you said that you got some incorrect

25 information from Chase over the phone. Now,

1 earlier you testified that they told you that
2 they had requested that the foreclosure sale be
3 postponed, that you had never been told that it
4 actually had been postponed,--so what incorrect
5 information did you receive about the foreclosure
6 sale from Chase?

7 A. I didn't say I got incorrect information
8 about the foreclosure sale.

9 Q. So none of the incorrect information that you
10 described had to do with the foreclosure sale at 11 all; is that right?

12 A. I mean, what I feel is incorrect information,
13 one person telling me one thing, one person
14 another. But then, this lady is assigned to me
15 as my relationship manager, but yet I got a 16 million and one excuses why that she cannot speak
17 with me.

18 Q. Did any of those people ever give you any 19 misinformation about the foreclosure?

20 A. They didn't know what was going on. They 21 just said, well, I'll have her give you a call.
22 We need an update on your file. I mean,
23 basically -- and then I called to get one thing
24 and then somebody would tell me something else.
25 Okay, why wasn't I informed of this when I called

1 this day?

2 Q. But was any of that information ever wrong
3 about the foreclosure sale?

4 MS. INGLES: I object to the
5 question as asking for a conclusion. She's 6 testified to a lot of different things that
7 she said turned out to be incorrect, and so
8 to ask for that to be --

9 MS. CASKEY: I'm trying to clarify
10 whether any of the incorrect information -- I
11 understand that she feels she received a
12 number of incorrect statement about the HAMP.
13 I would agree that that's what she testified
14 to.

15 However, I don't see -- I think
16 there's inconsistent testimony based upon 17 your statements and then my statements and 18 back and forth about whether those statements
19 by Chase were incorrect about the 20 foreclosure, and that's why we're here today.
21 I'd like a little leniency, and I can reword
22 my question.

23 THE COURT: Reword your question,
24 I'll overrule the objection. Go ahead.

25 BY MS. CASKEY:

1 Q. Excuse me, Miss Bradley. I just want to be
2 clear, I understand that you feel that you
3 received miscommunication or misinformation from 4 Chase about the HAMP; is that right? About the 5 modification, correct?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. But do you at any time believe that you
8 received misinformation, a wrong statement from a
9 Chase representative about the foreclosure sale
10 that was scheduled for September 7th?

11 A. Yes. Because when I called in August, they 12 said it's in review and it's going to take 30 to 13 45 days and nothing can be done.

14 Q. You took that to mean that the foreclosure
15 sale had been postponed?

16 A. Right.

17 Q. But no one had ever told you that it had been 18 postponed.

19 A. Correct.

20 Q. That was just your understanding?

21 A. Right.

22 MS. CASKEY: Thank you. That's 23 all.

24 THE COURT: Very well. Is that
25 everything?

1 MS. INGLES: That's it.

2 MS. CASKEY: Sorry. I just didn't know
3 if we would have an additional time to --

4 THE COURT: I just wanted to bring
5 up a couple things. I didn't know if you
6 want to go first.

7 MS. INGLES: Go ahead.

8 MS. CASKEY: I think what we learned
9 here today is that the facts really aren't
10 that much in dispute. You know, with the 11 exception of a couple discrepancies about 12 correspondence, I don't think that there's 13 that much in dispute. I think Miss
14 Bradley -- a foreclosure action was filed.
15 She did not respond. She didn't hire an 16 attorney. The first foreclosure sale was 17 set. She contacted foreclosure help,
18 foreclosure assistance, they got it with 19 Chase. The sale got postponed.

20 The modification trial plan went in 21 place. She didn't made the third payment on 22 time. The agreement is pretty clear about what
23 that means. The foreclosure sale gets reset
24 pursuant to an order, pursuant to an affidavit,
25 all of which are attached to the memorandum in

1 opposition. And each of those affidavits gave
2 Miss Bradley the opportunity to say, whoa, whoa,
3 whoa, this is wrong. I haven't been evaluated
4 for HAMP.

5 If you look at each of the affidavits,
6 they each state that the borrower has been with 7 Chase to try to work out an agreement and they 8 haven't been able to work one out. There's been 9 no affidavits in opposition filed to any of those 10 orders, and I don't see any reason why those 11 orders and the affidavits that brought on the 12 orders was incorrect.

13 With regards to the third and final
14 foreclosure sale, in the motion, there's a
15 reference to the HAMP guidelines and requiring 16 that the foreclosure sale be stopped and whatnot,
17 and I just want to offer up a copy of the HAMP
18 Servicing Guidelines just to be clear about what 19 the HAMP guidelines do say about stopping the 20 foreclosure action, because even though, as I
21 mentioned in the opening, Miss Bradley has no
22 rights to enforce any obligations under the 23 servicing guidelines, Chase did what it was 24 supposed to under the servicing guidelines. I
25 won't go through those in detail. I think

1 they're outlined in the memo sufficiently. But
2 they come back to the seven-day timeline.

3 As Miss Bradley testified, it wasn't
4 until August 31st that she got that last bit of 5 paperwork in to Chase. And that third request,
6 that one for August 31st that was a whole new 7 request, because the previous request had been 8 completed, she had been denied based on that 9 information. And regardless of the reason for 10 the denial, whether one time it's the NPV HAMP,
11 those are all viable reasons for denial under the 12 HAMP guidelines, and those are included in here
13 as well.

14 Finally, the basis for this motion -- one
15 more thing. The Supreme Court order from May 22,
16 2010, there's an allegation in the motion that 17 Chase failed to comply with it. But as Miss
18 Bradley testified, she received the affidavit
19 from Chase in May of the 2010 that said we 20 completed our HAMP analysis and we've determined
21 that the loan cannot be modified under HAMP.

22 Even though I know that Miss Bradley
23 disputes receiving that March 4, 2010 letter,
24 that May 2010 affidavit put everybody on notice
25 that Chase thought it had done what it was

1 supposed to under the HAMP. And the Supreme
2 Court's order, that's all that it requires.

3 That also gave Miss Bradley ten days to 4 object to the affidavit under the Supreme Court's
5 order, and, of course, she did not do so.

6 Finally, and I think this is really
7 important, the basis for the motion today under
8 Rule 60 is fraud, that Chase committed a fraud
9 that caused the foreclosure sale to go forward
10 and for Miss Bradley to rely on its statements
11 that this foreclosure sale wasn't going to go
12 forward.

13 First, I think we've established that
14 what Chase told Miss Bradley is that it would
15 request that the sale be postponed. That's a
16 statement of a future event. It would request
17 that it would do something. The affidavit of 18 Charles Herndon said it did request it. But as 19 Miss Bradley stated, it never said that sale has 20 been postponed, as in the past tense, it has been 21 done. The sale has been canceled. We are not 22 going forward with this.

23 Instead, it told her that it would look
24 into things. And these are statement of intent,
25 staging of future events, and those cannot form

1 the basis of fraud under South Carolina law.

2 So I think it's important to keep in
3 minds all of those things as we go forward that
4 if there is any question about whether the HAMP
5 analysis was completed properly, one, it should 6 have been brought up much earlier prior to the 7 foreclosure and immediately after the affidavit
8 was filed by Chase. And, two, even if the HAMP
9 process was not completed properly under the HAMP
10 guidelines, there's no private right of action
11 under HAMP. And, third, the obligation of Chase
12 to comply with the Supreme Court order has 13 nothing to do with actually modifying the loan,
14 or completing the analysis properly.

15 Thank you for indulging me.

16 THE COURT: Thank you. Miss Ingles?

17 MS. INGLES: All I can say in 18 response to that is that this is a court of 19 equity, and we file this motion under Rule
20 60, which allows this court to find that the 21 Plaintiff didn't make misrepresentations to 22 Miss Bradley and to set aside the foreclosure
23 and the sale on that basis.

24 I think her testimony, which is 25 really not contradicted by any other

1 testimony today, is quite clear. You can say
2 anything you want to about what's in a bunch
3 of documents, but the reality is that these
4 people were talking to her on the telephone,
5 they were making representations, they were 6 suggesting to her, telling her, well, your 7 loan is under review, so that's going to take
8 30 to 45 days and we can't sell the property
9 when your loan is under review.

10 You know, these are the kind's of 11 things that are misrepresentations that get 12 us to a point like this.

13 To say that the affidavit that was
14 filed in May ends the discussion about HAMP,
15 that affidavit said that she didn't qualify
16 based on a trial -- she clearly qualified
17 because they gave her a trial modification.
18 I think the question is why that trial
19 modification was not made permanent because 20 they accepted payments on it all the way
21 through April.

22 The way that the administrative
23 order is, as I understand it and working with 24 it for the last two years, is that homeowner
25 is to be given every opportunity to access

1 the programs that are available to stay in
2 their home. This is not a situation of a
3 person who has not been making payments for a
4 long time, who can't make any payments under 5 a modification. She clearly was given the 6 modification. For some reason, Chase, later,
7 chose to accept another application from her
8 and turned her down for a different reason.

9 And then when that reason apparently
10 became insufficient later on, they went back
11 to the old trial modification. That plan
12 didn't work. I think they waived that, so I
13 don't think the letter denying it on that 14 basis, after having denied it on the basis on 15 the NPV calculation, should bear any weight.

16 The Supreme Court's order allows for 17 a stay in a case like this, when something
18 like this has happened, so that the homeowner
19 can conduct discovery, have an evidentiary
20 hearing to determine if this rejection of her
21 application was legitimate and was warranted
22 under the rules.

23 There is not a requirement that
24 every lender must give a modification. That 25 certainly is true. But I think between the

1 HAMP regulations and our Supreme Court's
2 clear directive that we want to keep people
3 in their homes and give them every
4 opportunity to do that - is really applicable
5 in this case. I think this was a comedy of 6 errors. It's typical of the miscommunication
7 that happens between lenders or their
8 foreclosure counsel.

9 You have people at the lender
10 telling homeowners one thing on the telephone 11 that never gets to the lawyer that is 12 handling the case.

13 And while I understand that Miss
14 Bradley did not file an answer, that she 15 certainly was in default in the lawsuit, the 16 representations that were made to her on the 17 telephone certainly did not suggest to her
18 that she needed to be concerned. They had 19 been working with her for a long time. She 20 had made payments all the way up, you know,
21 as we've mentioned until 2010. The three
22 payments after that were deferred. So
23 there's nothing to -- there's no testimony
24 that counters that.

25 So, I think probably the order in this

1 case, the amount that has been set is incorrect
2 in and of itself.

3 But I think the equity calls for 4 this loan to be reviewed and for a stay in
5 this case. If they're not willing to review
6 the loan, then I would ask the court to allow 7 us to conduct discovery to determine exactly
8 what they did in reviewing this loan for 9 modification and what was going on at Chase
10 that caused all these telephone calls, these 11 unresponsive telephone calls, this 12 relationship manager who my client could 13 never talk to.

14 You know, there has to be some 15 accountability on the other side. The fact
16 that she can file a bunch of papers that have 17 a bunch of fine print, oh, didn't you not see
18 this in the letter, well, no, I was listening
19 to the people on the telephone that were 20 telling me what was going on, and I think
21 that's Miss Bradley did:

22 So I would just ask for -- certainly
23 if The Court doesn't feel comfortable with 24 setting aside the sale and the foreclosure at 25 this time, I would certainly ask for a stay

1 on any further proceedings on this, including
2 a stay of any eviction of Miss Bradley from 3 her home so that we can get to the bottom of 4 what happened her.

5 And as I mentioned at the beginning,
6 there are at least two other programs that 7 are available to Miss Bradley so that if 8 there has been any deficiency caused by this 9 waiting game that happened in these few
10 months of missed payments, that can most 11 likely be resolved by loan assistance from 12 the S.C. Help program, from the Hardest Hit 13 fund. There's loan repayment. There's at 14 least two of these programs that she 15 currently qualifies for.

16 So we're not in a situation where
17 Chase is not going to get their -- you know,
18 potentially get their loan back to where it
19 needs to be. And so the idea that they would 20 want to go ahead with this, I find, you know,
21 unsettling, but that's how these things go.

22 I would ask The Court just got this
23 memorandum of law today.

24 THE COURT: You want to file a
25 response?

1 MS. INGLES: I would ask for ten
2 days, just hold the record open for us to
3 respond. I may not need that much time.

4 MS. CASKEY: I'd like the same to 5 the testimony today, if necessary.

6 THE COURT: That's no problem.
7 We'll put it down for -- I don't know what 8 day of the week March 24th falls on, but 9 that's ten days.

10 MS. INGLES: I think given that, it
11 makes sense to me for us to have a period of 12 discovery so that we can find out what the 13 evidence will actually show happened here.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MS. CASKEY: Your Honor -- I apologize.

16 MS. INGLES: I don't think it will
17 be helpful to have affidavits.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 MS. INGLES: Not for us anyway.

20 THE COURT: Okay.

21 MS. CASKEY: Your Honor, I would
22 strenuously object to any discovery regarding 23 the HAMP in this case and it's for the 24 reasons that I described.

25 First of all, and I understand that

1 Miss Ingles has attacked the reasons that
2 Chase denied the modification based on the
3 failure to pay the trial plan, but there's no
4 evidence that its denial based on the NPV no
5 evidence.

6 MS. INGLES: Well, that's why we
7 need discovery, to make that determination.

8 MS. CASKEY: Your Honor, that's not
9 a basis to set aside a foreclosure. There's 10 a missing link here.

11 Miss Bradley has no right to have 12 her home loan reviewed over and over and over 13 again for HAMP. This is becoming a serial
14 HAMP abuse situation.

15 MS. INGLES: That's why you haven't
16 accepted any payments from her.

17 MS. CASKEY: I'm sorry. I didn't
18 interrupt you. Please just give the 19 courtesy. I object to the discovery because 20 I don't know what it would do. If it showed 21 that Chase -- I think the affidavit that was 22 submitted today shows what Chase did. It
23 reviewed the loan a number of times based on 24 financial information provided by Miss
25 Bradley. It denied the loan for a

1 modification.

2 The Supreme Court order only
3 requires that you consider it if it's
4 eligible. They considered it multiple times
5 and have already denied it. So I'm really
6 not sure what discovery would do in this 7 situation.

8 And the relief that was requested
9 was one that the default be set aside. I
10 don't  any basis for that. There's no
11 indication other than just unfortunate delay
12 on Miss Bradley's part as to why she didn't
13 respond to the original foreclosure action.

14 So if we're anywhere in this case, I
15 think we're back to that original order. If 16 there's a question about the amounts due on 17 the loan and that that's the basis for 18 setting aside the orders today, I haven't
19 seen any testimony or any evidence from Miss
20 Bradley that she made payments that somehow
21 weren't accounted for correctly.

22 You know, Chase has filed a number
23 of affidavits in the case in support of its 24 affidavits for supplemental judgment and 25 those affidavits, of course, have led to

1 orders by you.

2 So I guess I just would want to be
3 clear if discovery is the goal, then what
4 would discovery -- what would the point be?
5 Because at this point, the loan has -- the 6 bid has been assigned. Chase does not own
7 the property. I'm not sure what the 8 discovery -- the end result is supposed to 9 be, I guess is my point.

10 MS. INGLES: I think the court order
11 makes that very clear that the homeowner has 12 the right to find out if this process was 13 done correctly, if the HAMP process was done
14 correctly. The fact that --

15 MS. CASKEY: I'm just not clear
16 where that is.

17 MS. INGLES: Maybe we'll argue all
18 day, if we don't just cut it off at some 19 point.

20 THE COURT: You're going to submit
21 something in ten days, so I'm sure that will 22 come up in there.

23 MS. INGLES: I just think it's
24 important to make sure that it's clear. I
25 wouldn't want discovery either, because it's

1 real easy just to put in a affidavit we did
2 it right, but there's no way to find out if 3 they did it right without the discovery, and
4 I think the administrative order clearly
5 gives that.

6 I'll leave it at that.

7 THE COURT: All right. I'll hear
8 from you all in ten days, and then I'll take 9 a couple of weeks to review this and I'll 10 issue a ruling.

11 Let me make sure we get everything.
12 I'll retain all the original exhibits in my 13 file for the time being.

1 MS. INGLES:

2 I'm just going to go ahead and just ask that that be
3 made a part of the file. That's the original --

4 THE COURT:

5 Okay, this is the original transcript from the March
6 14th hearing, which has been clocked in. You want
7 me to go ahead and open it up?

8 MS. INGLES:

9 Yes, sir. And I guess I should state the case is J.
10 P. Morgan Chase Bank versus Vanessa Bradley, Case
11 Number 2008-CP-39-2810.

12 THE COURT:

13 Okay.

14 MS. INGLES:

15 And, Your Honor, I'm here today on the Defendant
16 Vanessa Bradley's Motion to Reconsider, and amend
17 your order that was entered on our motion to set
18 aside the sale of the property, and other relief.
19 There's a number of grounds and specifics that I
20 need to ask the Court to consider.

21 THE COURT:

22 All right.

23 MS. INGLES:

24 But, initially, Your Honor, in -- in rendering your 25 decision, stated two conclusions of law, one -- one

1 was failure to meet the burden of proof under Rule
2 60(b)(3); and also the forbearance agreement between 3 the parties that's referred to in the order that 4 stated it did not affect the Plaintiff's rights to 5 move forward with the foreclosure sale. I'd like to 6 just start first, actually, with the forbearance
7 agreement issue. I do agree that that was 8 uncontested; and, in fact, I think in one of your 9 prior orders, you had actually -- there was a
10 finding that there had been a forbearance agreement
11 during that period. However, we did dispute whether 12 or not that forbearance affected the Plaintiff's
13 right to move forward with the foreclosure sale; and 14 that was the main request for amendment that we have 15 there. Your order says that was not contested, but 16 that was actually one of our most significant 17 arguments in the case, was that there should have 18 been no activity in this case during that 19 forbearance period. And, in fact, there was at 20 least one supplemental order -- I believe two 21 supplemental orders were issued, and the sale for 22 September was published; all of that during the 23 period where there really should have been no
24 activity in the foreclosure case. In addition to 25 that, the order, I believe it was August 16th -- it

1 may have been dated August 11th, one second. It's 2 unclear whether that signed and issued order was --
3 it looks like it was entered August 20th.

4 THE COURT:

5 So we're talking about an order --

6 MS. INGLES:

7 The 20th.

8 THE COURT:

9 --that was filed August 20th?

10 MS. INGLES:

11 Right, August 20th, 2010.

12 THE COURT:

13 Okay. That would be one of those two supplemental 14 orders?

15 MS. INGLES:

16 Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT:

18 Okay.

19 MS. INGLES:

20 So several things about that being done during the 21 forbearance period in addition to what I've already 22 stated. There was an ongoing -- it's clear from --
23 from the transcript, there was an ongoing
24 modification, and a letter which we had held out as 25 being very significant, the August 19th, 2010,

1 letter, that actually was a denial letter for a
2 modification; but in that letter it gave my client
3 30 days to challenge the denial. And that 30 days
4 would not have been up until well into September
5 when the foreclosure sale was -- took place on, I
6 believe, September 7th.

7 THE COURT:

8 Right.

9 MS. INGLES:

10 So -- and in addition to that, depending on when --
11 it's unclear to me whether or not this was even 12 served on my client after you signed it. I didn't 13 see any -- there's -- there's just no -- she was 14 served with an unsigned copy of it, but not after 15 you actually signed it. And so I think she would 16 have an appeal period that should have gone, if,
17 nothing else, so that she could challenge that 18 order. Particularly, since the only affidavit of 19 non-eligibility that had been recorded at that point
20 was one in May of 2010. And that particular
21 affidavit did not give any specifics about why there
22 was to be no modification. In addition to that,
23 when that affidavit was filed, and this is borne out
24 by the -- by the transcript, Ms. Bradley had just 25 made a payment the month before in April; and this

1 affidavit -- she -- if -- you may or may not recall,
2 probably not specifics of this case, but there had
3 been a trial period planned --

4 THE COURT:

5 Right, right.

6 MS. INGLES:

7 -- that went through September.

8 THE COURT:

9 Right.

10 MS. INGLES:

11 And there was some testimony about perhaps that her
12 final payment may have been late; however, they 13 continued to accept payments through April of the 14 following year. It was only when in April she 15 contacted -- well, I believe she said she contacted
16 them in May because her unemployment had run out;
17 and it was at that point that this affidavit of no
18 modification was filed, gave -- giving no reason.
19 Later there were at least two reasons, well, maybe
20 three. I think in August of 2010 the reason that 21 was given was a negative NPV calculation. However,
22 under the rules of HAMP that were in affect at that 23 time, the NPV calculation is not supposed to change
24 from when it's initially calculated. If it's -- if 25 another modification application is done, there

1 shouldn't be any changes in the NPV calculation. So
2 if there was already a trial period planned, then
3 her NPV calculation would have had to have been 4 positive, at that point; and that should not have
5 changed later through that -- that following year.
6 But in addition to that, after that denial, and in 7 response to the modification application, and 8 negotiations, and so forth, that was going on 9 through the end of August into early September, the 10 denial letter, which is on file with the transcript,
11 stated that it was because of failure to make trial
12 modification payments. Well, that really wasn't
13 correct because she had made trial modification pay
14 -- planned payments all the way through April.
15 There may be some argument about whether or not that 16 that constitutes a waiver or not of the right to not 17 go forward with a permanent modification; but, you
18 know, the client -- and -- and this is, I guess, an 19 overall broad statement about this case, and the 20 Court's order. We feel like that under 60(b)(3), 21 it's not just a showing of fraud, but a showing of 22 misrepresentation or other misconduct. And 23 throughout this she was getting so many mixed
24 messages. She was getting letters that gave her
25 time periods that were not met by the Claimant. She

1 was told all kinds of different information over the 2 phone by representatives of Chase. And I do think
3 -- and -- and this is part of why we, you know,
4 filed a motion to amend in light of the most recent
5 order of our Supreme Court, because it addresses
6 exactly what happened in this case, and shows our
7 Chief Justice's intent in what should have been done
8 in this case. And so I think that's very 9 significant in asking the Court to reconsider our --
10 our original motion. It's clear that -- I mean it's 11 -- I -- I can cite chapter and verse in the 12 transcript where Ms. -- Ms. Bradley stated that she 13 was told that the sale was postponed, going to be 14 postponed, a request to postpone had been submitted.
15 And I think in response to maybe one question, it
16 seemed like she said, well, they never told me it
17 was actually postponed. But her original testimony
18 when she was going through her own timeline, it was 19 clear that she was given the impression that this 20 sale was going to be put off, number one, because of 21 the forbearance that she was still in at the time;
22 and number two, because there was a modification
23 that was pending that she was negotiating. And you
24 want to keep in mind that the reason that they were 25 accepting another application from her is, because

1 she had, in fact, gotten a job. You know, she had
2 gone through, however, eight months or so of making
3 trial period payments beyond her -- the initial 4 three months basically on her unemployment. And 5 then they gave her for the forbearance period when 6 her unemployment ran out based on the fact that she
7 was going, you know, in good faith, trying very hard
8 to find employment, and felt like she was going to 9 find it; and, in fact, she did. So on page 22, she 10 said, "Sandra said that foreclosure sale is on,
11 hold." That was on August 16th. On page 29 of the 12 transcript, line six through 11, "Cheryl said that 13 the request for postponement of the sale has been 14 submitted." That was September 3rd. Let me go
15 back, on September --

16 THE COURT:

18 MS. INGLES:

19 29, uh-huh.

20 THE COURT:

21 And that -- what date was that?

22 MS. INGLES:

23 That was September 3rd.

24 THE COURT:

25 Nine/3, okay.

1 MS. INGLES:

2 I apologize, I skipped over one, pages 27 and 28,
3 both Sandra and Erin said, "We're sending an email
4 to postpone the sale." Also, on page 29, Sandra
5 says they can't sell the property during the 30-day
6 period after that denial letter. She's got 30 days
7 to, you know, ask for information, ask why she's 8 been denied. So not only has Chase given her that,
9 the HAMP regulations give her that; but our own
10 Supreme Court says that she should have that 11 opportunity to challenge the denial. Now, it's true
12 that she was in default in this lawsuit; however, it
13 had been like a year and a half since the original
14 order in the case. So I think any reasonable person
15 would not really think that there was any 16 opportunity or need to do anything else other than 17 what Ms. Bradley doing, which was talking to her
18 mortgage company. The -- their lawyers certainly 19 weren't talking to her, and that's one of the 20 problems that's outlined in the new administrative 21 order.

22 THE COURT:

23 Yeah, that --

24 MS. INGLES:

25 Even though you've got a lawsuit pending, --

1 THE COURT:

2 I agree with that part, but --

3 MS. INGLES:

4 -- you're not supposed to be talking to the lawyer.

5 THE COURT:

6 Judge Toal went on and on about that.

7 MS. INGLES:

8 Right. And -- and that's something that I have 9 found, you know, in my own practice, that, you know,
10 I'll be defending somebody, and I'll say, "Let's try
11 to, you know, see what can be done on a HAMP
12 modification." And I'm directed to, you know,
13 contact the mortgage company. That doesn't happen
14 anymore, but during that period of time it did. And 15 so even for, you know, us, as defense attorneys in 16 these cases, that's what we're being told to do,
17 rely on the mortgage company. You know, the -- the 18 lawyers indicate -- would indicate that they had no,
19 you know, authority to do anything other than what 20 the mortgage company was doing. So I really do feel 21 like that, in this particular case, default or not,
22 lawyer or not, she was doing what a reasonable
23 person under the circumstances would do. And it's 24 -- it's my contention really that this -- the 25 original administrative order even was not followed.

1 I just wanted to mention a few other places in the 2 transcript. On page 30, September 4th, "Jeanette,
3 the request to postpone the sale has been
4 submitted." On page 30, on September 7th, the day
5 that her property was sold, Jay says, "Well, it'll 6 be 30 to 45 days while we're reviewing your 7 modification package." So really, you know, as in 8 many of these cases, it's the right hand doesn't 9 know what the left hand is doing type of scenario.
10 Because really it seems like that the people at 11 Chase that she's talking on the phone to are 12 basically trying to follow the rules; but they don't 13 really have apparently any authority to tell the 14 lawyers what to do. So there's two, you know,
15 parallel tracks that are going on. And, again, I
16 think that's what our most recent administrative 17 order is trying to address, the problem that arise
18 out of that. Again, Jay, on September 7th told Ms.
19 Bradley the property had not been sold. So we can
20 talk all we want to about fraud, and the statements
21 about what's going to be happening in the future, or 22 promise to do some action in the future. It's clear
23 that the overall message that my client was being 24 given was that her modification negotiation was 25 ongoing. You know, they had no intention of trying

1 to sell her property. And really, whether they had 2 intention or not, they shouldn't have been allowed
3 to. They shouldn't have submitted to you a
4 supplemental order during the period of forbearance.
5 They shouldn't have scheduled -- they scheduled two 6 sales during the forbearance, actually. I believe
7 they scheduled one for August. Also they shouldn't
8 have published for the sale. In other words,
9 really, if you were following the rules of civil 10 procedure, and let's say that it was okay that they 11 submitted a supplemental order to you, and didn't 12 serve it on her, and had no hearing either before or 13 after it at which she could challenge anything that 14 was in order, or challenge whether or not she had 15 been improperly denied for a modification, you know,
16 all -- all of that aside, the rules of civil 17 procedure, I think, would require that she has a 18 time period within which to appeal your order. She 19 wasn't given that. And that's indicative of all the 20 procedural problems in this case is because of the 21 fact that they do -- once they decide that they're 22 going to have a sale, it's -- it's, you know,
23 they're moving it along in a hurry. Now, a long
24 period of time went by while these modifications
25 were being negotiated. But I don't think that can

1 be blamed on her, because that was something that
2 was being offered to her. She was making her
3 payments. She was being told, you know, "Yes, you
4 can apply for a modification." So to hold that 5 against her, that there were several attempts at 6 that I think is unfair. The other thing that I
7 would point out about the supplemental orders is 8 that none of them indicate payments made by Ms.
9 Bradley, which she clearly made during the time from 10 the first order all the way through to your final
11 supplemental order. And it was clear from her 12 testimony that she made those payments. And -- and 13 actually, I think in the affidavit of Charles
14 Herndon, I think he admitted that as well. I think
15 there was a couple of other items in the transcript
16 that I would just mention on that point. Page 39,
17 my client just indicated, sort of in an overall
18 statement, "Everyone said that they couldn't 19 foreclose while it was under review." And I don't 20 think there's -- there's a doubt about that that 21 that was what she was being told. Now, Mr. Herndon
22 can say all he wants to, but he never had a
23 conversation with Ms. Bradley. He was just somebody 24 who reviewed some service notes that weren't even 25 attached to his affidavit. So I -- it'd be our

1 position that the Court should give greater weight
2 to what Ms. Bradley said in person. And the August
3 19th letter that I referred to giving the 30
4 calendars days was Plaintiff's Exhibit 3.

5 THE COURT:

6 Okay.

7 MS. INGLES:

8 The -- the next point that my motion had raised was 9 -- well, it really -- it mainly had to do with that 10 August 19th letter. I think that is right. That's 11 not a promise of a future act. That says you've got 12 30 days. We're not going to sell your property
13 during that time. You can challenge what we've 14 done. And she did attempt to challenge that as a
15 matter of fact. She did send a letter as outlined
16 in the letter from Chase; but by that time the 17 property had been sold, and we were into, you know, 18 trying to get the sale set aside so that she could 19 try to retain her home and reinstate her loan. But 20 the next thing was that we just said it in a general
21 way, that there were a number of things in our 22 motion that just -- and were not addressed by the 23 order, and some of those we talked about that day at 24 the hearing. Let me just -- and I -- and I think it
25 may have been implicit in your order that it wasn't

1 stated, but, you know, we had asked for discovery,
2 and there was some exchange about whether or not
3 there should be discovery. And you actually did not
4 rule on whether or not Ms. Bradley should be allowed
5 -- should have been allowed, or now should be 6 allowed to have an evidentiary hearing on compliance
7 with the administrative order. And I think the 8 Plaintiff's position is that we're not entitled to 9 discovery on that. However, I dispute that, because 10 it's not a unilateral situation. You know, it's not 11 just they can say, "Oh, you don't qualify," and 12 that's the end of the discussion. It's clear that 13 my client should have had an opportunity to 14 challenge that to -- there's no other way for her to 15 know what was being done on the other end, and 16 whether or not it was being done right; you know,
17 other than what little bit she can say they told
18 her. And I've had many cases where through 19 discovery before having an evidentiary hearing on 20 this, we have, in fact, discovered that things have 21 not been done properly. So whether or not that was 22 done in this case, we don't know, because my client
23 was not given that opportunity, and -- and she 24 should have been. The other item, we had asked for 25 a stay, and for a complete explanation as to why

1 they failed to offer her a modification or until the
2 permanent modification opportunities was properly
3 forwarded. I really feel like that it's -- it's 4 somewhat unclear from that last denial letter that
5 she got in September that it wasn't really a denial
6 based on anything she had submitted because it came 7 after the property had already been sold. So it's 8 very easy, at that point, to say, "Well, let's see,
9 what can we say? Oh, she didn't make all the trial
10 period payments." You know, suddenly that's an 11 issue, where it hasn't been before. We asked that 12 -- that -- that the Plaintiff be required to supply
13 a sworn statement about the NPV values, and to state
14 the specific facts that showed that the modification
15 process specified by the guidelines had been 16 completed properly, giving all assumptions and 17 calculations. Now, again, I think it's properly
18 implicit in your order that you were not granting 19 that request.

20 THE COURT:

21 No.

22 MS. INGLES:

23 But we were seeking, you know, explanation of why.
24 Why the administrative order did not apply in this 25 case, and why this sale should not be set aside.

1 The order -- all the orders vacated, and the entry
2 of default vacated as well. All right, the next
3 thing that I wanted to address as set forth in the 4 motion was about the findings of fact; and I may
5 overlap a little bit here, so if I've already gone
6 over some of what I would want to mention here, I
7 apologize. But Your Honor made a finding of fact
8 that my client had made extensive efforts to avoid 9 foreclosure and was given varying explanations of 10 the status of her request for loan modification.
11 And then you made a finding that none of the 12 statements arose to the level of fraud or 13 misrepresentation. And -- and I think I've already 14 stated here, but I -- I want to emphasize again the 15 broad picture that this lady had and that she 16 testified about. She made extensive efforts. They 17 were working with her. They were giving her every 18 reason to believe that this was ongoing and her
19 property wasn't going to be sold. And for goodness
20 sakes, she had a job, she really had only missed at 21 that point, the payments during the forbearance
22 period, which they had agreed to. So it's really
23 disingenuous to all of a sudden now, you know, come
24 in and say, "Oh, you know, you haven't paid, you
25 haven't paid your trial period plan, we're just

1 going to, you know, go forward." There were
2 multiple supplemental orders, none of them with a
3 hearing, none of them with an opportunity for her to 4 say -- to challenge what was going on. Now, there
5 was the affidavit of non-eligibility that was in May 6 of 2010; however, it gave no specifics, which is 7 part of what our motion was, to say, "Tell us,
8 specifically how you complied with the 9 administrative order." And -- and -- and I really 10 feel like, as in many cases, where the defendant is 11 in default, and doesn't have an attorney, all of 12 that was just sort of skipped over, because it was 13 assumed that this was just going to go on straight
14 to a sale. But the reason that shouldn't have been 15 -- it shouldn't have been assumed, but it often is,
16 because of the attorneys and the servicers not 17 working in conjunction with one another. And I've 18 already mentioned the issue of whether or not they 19 had been served -- the orders were served on her,
20 and, you know, that final right to appeal. All 21 right. Well, you know, in section four of my 22 motion, I talked about whether or not the Court was 23 properly looking at the issue of the forbearance,
24 and I have already talked about that a little bit.
25 But, again, just to emphasize, the sale of the

1 property took place seven days after the end of the 2 forbearance period. And it's our position that it's
3 a mistake to make that finding, and issue your order
4 on that basis, because there wasn't sufficient time
5 given for her even if she had been served with the 6 order; and nothing should have been done during that
7 forbearance period, in any event. And I just want
8 to go through very quickly, and it's listed in my 9 motion, so I don't want to go on for too long, but 10 there's a whole list here of all the things that 11 happened during the forbearance. And, you know,
12 then there was, at some point, a denial that she was 13 told that -- that she was in default on the 14 forbearance. And the question -- how can you be in 15 default on forbearance? The forbearance says you
16 don't have to pay for three months while we're 17 working on your modification. Where's the default
18 on her part? There isn't any. She's sent in 19 everything she was supposed to send in, not that 20 that's a default, but the forbearance is something 21 that Chase gave. It's up to them to honor it. And 22 I think it's clear that they didn't. And I'll just 23 let those -- unless the Court had any questions
24 about any of those, I'll let those just speak for 25 themselves. I think they're clear in -- in the

1 record. The next, in number five, I had asked that 2 the Court address how the actions of Chase, the 3 Plaintiff, proved compliance with the administrative 4 order such that a request for an evidentiary hearing
5 was contained, and our motion was not granted. Now,
6 admittedly, that by the time we filed our motion,
7 the property had already been sold. However, part 8 of our whole motion is that should be set aside, and 9 we should go back to square one and make sure
10 everything's done right. Make sure they did
11 everything correctly. Again, this is not -- it's 12 not a unilateral situation. It's a -- it's a
13 lawsuit, and both sides have rights, and I don't
14 think that hers were observed. The Plaintiff's
15 counsel had argued that once the modification
16 evaluation was over, that they're allowed to go
17 forward with the foreclosure. However, that does 18 not account for the fact that the administrative 19 order does allow the challenge of the modification.
20 Additionally, and I've already mentioned this, the 21 Plaintiff's affidavit of non-eligibility, it
22 apparently was premised on a previous denial, but --
23 but it was unclear -- I mean it had to have been on 24 a previous denial; but since there was a trial
25 period planned, and this affidavit was the month

1 after her last pay -- her eighth, I believe, payment
2 under that, it's unclear how that affidavit could
3 actually be true. And, again, no further affidavits
4 of non-eligibility were filed, and, you know, to 5 match up with the denials that were made. But,
6 again, the order fails to address the fact that Ms.
7 Bradley's ability to challenge the modification
8 decision was forestalled by the timing of the sale,
9 and the cutting short of the NPV challenge period
10 thereby of the sale. And, again, the procedural 11 problems with that final order, sale notice during 12 the month of August, and I think the final -- the 13 ~~final publication being September 1st, according to~~ 14 ~~the notice of sale on file.~~ And just, again,
15 highlighting the requirement that the Plaintiff
16 carry out its own obligations under HAMP and under 17 the administrative order, my client had certain 18 rights under HAMP that were not followed. She had 19 certain rights that I've enumerated under the South
20 Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure that she was not 21 afforded, as well. Finally, in number six, I've 22 asked the Court to ~~reconsider the credence that was~~ 23 ~~given to the affidavit of Charles Herndon.~~ Most 24 importantly, because my client was at the hearing
25 and was testifying to her own personal knowledge.

1 And it's our position that that should be given much
2 greater weight, than a affidavit of someone who 3 summarized computer notes. I believe, beginning on 4 page 41 of the transcript, we specifically addressed
5 the paragraphs in Mr. Herndon's affidavit and what
6 was stated in those. And just to highlight a few,
7 on page 42, the affidavit states, "Chase also 8 informed the borrower that it would not request that 9 foreclosure sale be -- be postponed until all
10 required documentation for the modification request
11 was received by Chase." And I asked her, "Did 12 anybody tell you that?" And she said, "They said as 13 soon as I got all the necessary paperwork in, that 14 -- then they would postpone the sale." This goes 15 back to embrace the broad principle that -- or the 16 broad problem that occurred in this case, which was,
17 she was constantly -- and even their own affidavit
18 states that once she sent everything in, the sale
19 would be postponed. She sent everything in. It was 20 acknowledged that she sent everything in. And she 21 says here that she did send in the paperwork. On 22 page 43 of the transcript, referring to paragraph 18
23 of the affidavit, Mr. Herndon says, ~~That~~ on 24 September 2nd Chase advised the borrower that her
25 request for a modification was under review." This

1 is in his own affidavit. But the day before that,
2 the last publication of notice of the sale that
3 happened. And five days later the property was 4 sold. He says, "Chase also advised the borrower
5 that it would request that the foreclosure sale be 6 postponed, but that would have to be approved by 7 Fannie Mae, Federal National Homeowners Association,
8 the investor on the loan." And I said, "Do you
9 remember being told that?" And she said, "They just 10 said they were going to postpone it. As far as 11 being reviewed by somebody else, no, they never told 12 me that." Also, in paragraph 18, Mr. Herndon says,
13 "That the borrower contacted Chase on September 4th
14 and was advised that the foreclosure sale had not 15 been postponed." And her response to that was -- 16 and I said, you know, "Did they ever tell you it had 17 not been postponed?" She says, "Yes, I don't know 18 if it was the 4th, but they kept saying that the 19 email had been sent for them to escalate it to 20 postpone it. They said, yeah, it was postponed."
21 And that does comport to what Mr. Herndon said the 22 procedure would have been. And then on page 44,
23 "But from my understanding," this is Ms. Bradley
24 talking, "But from my understanding I'm getting from 25 everyone that I was talking to as long as it was in

1 ~~review, they could not foreclose on it.~~ And I gave
2 you that list at the beginning of all the different
3 people, as her testimony says in the transcript who
4 were saying this to her. In an affidavit from Mr.
5 Herndon summarizing some computer notes just doesn't
6 change that line of testimony. And then, finally,
7 in number eight, I had asked the -- the Court,
8 respectfully, to be more specific as to the findings
9 of fact and conclusions of law that resulted in your 10 decision. There was just a broad referral to the 11 reasons stated in the Plaintiff's memoranda as to 12 the basis for the denial. And there were quite a
13 few of those, and they were, I thought adequately
14 addressed by my client, and such that the motion
15 shouldn't have been granted. And I think I've -- 16 I've pretty much summarized that. But I did want to 17 address a couple of other just overall broad 18 concepts that the Plaintiff has raised. One of 19 those is a lot of time was spent on this in the 20 memorandum, whether or not there's a private right
21 of action under HAMP. And that is not what this 22 case is about. This case is about whether HAMP was 23 properly followed, but more importantly, about
24 whether my client had an opportunity to challenge
25 what was done in the modification process; pursuant

1 to the administrative order. Yes, there's a lot of 2 cases around the country who may have said or held
3 that there's no private right of action. One case
4 is cited by the Plaintiff, of a Federal District
5 Court case, which was actually a pro se litigant,
6 and the case was essentially dismissed, it's the 7 Steffens' case. The case was essentially dismissed,
8 because of, you know, pro se litigant was not able 9 to produce the proof that was necessary for her
10 claims to survive some earlier motions in the case.
11 I don't think that really applies to this situation.
12 She -- that was a -- she was a Plaintiff suing her
13 mortgage company. This is a Defendant Homeowner
14 asking that our Court's administrative order be 15 followed. And I don't think that goes against the 16 issue of a private right of action. And in 17 conjunction with that, there is some argument that's 18 raised as to whether or not the Defendant, Ms.
19 Bradley, has standing to force the Plaintiff to 20 modify her loan. I don't think anything in our 21 motion said that they were required to modify her
22 loan or required to modify in some particular way. I
23 think they are required to properly evaluate her
24 under HAMP and to give her the opportunity to 25 challenge whether or not they did that, whether not

1 they properly evaluated her. Your Honor indicated
2 that there was no fraud to warrant vacating the 3 foreclosure orders and the sale. I think that it's 4 clear from the testimony that there was fraud and 5 misrepresentation; but, certainly, there was other
6 misconduct in the overall way that this was handled,
7 not the least of which is the failure to follow the 8 South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, and the 9 failure to follow our administrative order, and give 10 this lady the opportunities that she is supposed to 11 get. I do think for other litigants now that will 12 clearly be done. And I think that for her, because 13 her case is still pending, that that should be 14 allowed in her situation at this point. You know,
15 we're not talking about someone who is trying to 16 stay in their home and not make their mortgage
17 payment. She clearly testified, at the conclusion
18 of her testimony, that she has a job. She wants to 19 keep her mortgage. She wants to pay. She paid all
20 the way through, you know, three months -- four 21 months before the property was sold, so I think that 22 there's sufficient -- more than sufficient testimony
23 under Rule 60(b)(3) of fraud, misrepresentation, and 24 other misconduct. I think that's all I have.

25 THE COURT:

1 Okay, fine. Ms. Caskey?

2 MS. CASKEY:

3 Good afternoon.

4 THE COURT:

5 Good afternoon.

6 MS. CASKEY:

7 I think, first as a preliminary procedural matter,
8 before I address the specific points raised, the 9 first argument in the Plaintiff's memorandum in 10 opposition to the Defendant's motion to reconsider
11 is about the timing of the motion. And I would just 12 ask that the Court consider that as an argument.
13 You know, Plaintiff's counsel got this motion -- or,
14 I'm sorry, got a written copy of the order denying 15 the motion to set aside the sale on May 10th. The 16 motion to reconsider was not filed until May 24th.
17 I'm not aware of the date that counsel for the 18 Defendant received a copy of the written order, and 19 I certainly don't want to make any allegations
20 regarding whether she did or didn't definitely get 21 them on what date; but it would stand to reason that 22 if I, as Plaintiff's counsel, got it in Columbia on 23 May 10th, that she would have gotten it on or before
24 the same date giving the proximity to the 25 Courthouse. So I would just ask that the Court, in

1 ruling on the motion, consider that. The ten day
2 requirement for motions to reconsider is a definite
3 requirement. The ten day time limit cannot be 4 extended, and the Court's ruled on that several
5 times. With regards to the merits of the motion, I
6 think there are several things that -- that -- that
7 Defendant's counsel raised. The overall arching
8 theme which should be -- seems to be that the 9 Defendant just simply didn't have a chance to do
10 anything in this case. And that the Defendant
11 didn't have a chance to stop the sale. They didn't 12 have -- she didn't have a chance to contest any of 13 the affidavits, or any of the orders, or the 14 foreclosure hearing, or any of the events that took 15 place in the foreclosure. And I think that's a 16 little misleading, because the foreclosure has been 17 pending since December 2008. And as, you know, it's 18 clearly set forth in the transcript, the original
19 foreclosure order was entered in March of 2009,
20 before the HAMP order ever even came out, before the 21 Defendant ever made any sort of effort to 22 participate in the litigation whatsoever. And under 23 the Rules of Civil Procedure, they're there for a
24 reason. They were there to give her the opportunity
25 to come forth at the foreclosure hearing and

1 participate. When she chose not to participate in
2 the foreclosure hearing, she waived any rights to a
3 defense to the foreclosure. And part of that, she 4 waived the opportunity to participate. And at that 5 point this case law decided at length in several of 6 the memorandum that -- presented by Plaintiff, you
7 waive your opportunity to contest the amount of the 8 debt -- or to contest anything basically but -- but 9 the right of the -- the -- the parties to -- to move
10 forward from there. So I think we want to be 11 careful when we're talking about due process that 12 she was given the opportunity to appear at the 13 original foreclosure hearing. And at the hearing in 14 this case on -- in March, I asked her, I said, "What 15 would you have done differently, if you had known
16 that the foreclosure sale was going to go through?"
17 And at this point, I'm fast forwarding almost two 18 years since the foreclosure was -- had been 19 commenced. And I said, "What exactly," this is on 20 page 64 of the transcript, "What exactly would you
21 have done if you had known that the foreclosure sale
22 was going to go through?" And she says, "You know,
23 I would have -- early on I would have obtained a
24 lawyer sooner, and either went and talked to someone 25 else that knew more about what was going on rather

1 than relying on my own understanding." And then I
2 indicated that at the time that the foreclosure sale
3 was going on, she had talked to someone. She had 4 hired First Foreclosure Systems -- Solutions to try
5 to help her get a loan modification. And they had 6 told her not to answer the complaint. They had told
7 her not to go to the hearings. So she was relying
8 on the advice of -- of a non-lawyer unfortunately 9 not to participate in the action. So with regards,
10 to the orders entered prior to the August 2010 order
11 that was immediately prior to the foreclosure sale,
12 there is no testimony that she did not have the 13 opportunity to attend those -- to attend the 14 original foreclosure hearing. There was no
15 testimony that the prior orders were not served
16 properly. Today was the first that there has been 17 any indication that the Rules of Civil Procedure
18 were not followed with regards to every single 19 pleading filed in this case. And I believe that Ms.
20 Bradley testified, we showed her several letters,
21 several documents, she admitted that all of them
22 were properly addressed to her. She couldn't 23 necessarily receiving all of them, but I think that 24 that's, you know, pretty reasonable, given the 25 amount of documentation that was discussed. But

1 there's a presumption that when a document is
2 mailed, that it was, in fact, received. So I think
3 that this whole argument about what the Plaintiff
4 had -- I'm sorry, what the Defendant had the 5 opportunity to do needs to be viewed in the context
6 of the fact that the action had been pending for two 7 years prior to the one month timeframe that the 8 Defendant is really disputing. And that timeframe
9 is August and September of 2010. And prior to that 10 time, there had been ample opportunity to get an 11 attorney, ample opportunity to contest any of these 12 other orders, ample opportunity to contest the 13 affidavit that was submitted by Chase, saying, "Yes, 14 we complied with our Supreme Court's order." And 15 I'd like to take a minute on that front, to just 16 review what the administrative order from May 22nd,
17 2009, says about that affidavit. It says, "Once the 18 affidavit is served, any other party to the action
19 shall have ten days to serve a counter-affidavit."
20 And then it provides that the Judge shall consider 21 the affidavit and any counter-affidavit that may be
22 filed to determine if there is any contested issue
23 that must be resolved regarding the eligibility of 24 the like for modification." So when Defendant
25 requests this evidentiary hearing that she claims

1 that she's entitled to, she never took the initial
2 step of filing a counter-affidavit. Not when the 3 first affidavit was filed, or any other point in the 4 case. Even a late affidavit wasn't even submitted.
5 So the idea that some evidentiary hearing is now
6 appropriate two years after the fact is a little --
7 a little difficult to bear given the fact that the 8 case had, in fact, been pending for two years, and 9 that the rule, the administrative order that guides
10 this case had clearly set forth the procedure. The 11 other thing, I think, to keep in mind, with regards
12 to these administrative orders, which I would 13 acknowledge, both the Plaintiff's and the 14 Defendant's bar have struggled, I think, to really
15 understand to try to understand how they apply given
16 the Rules of Civil Procedure, and how foreclosures
17 are handles, is that the Court itself acknowledges
18 that it's taken three administrative orders to try 19 to help resolve the situation that has resulted from 20 the mortgage financial crisis. And in doing so, the 21 Court has acknowledged that it -- it's a process.
22 And this most recent order from May 2nd, 2011,
23 specifically sets forth that it's not applicable to 24 actions that were pending prior to the date of the 25 order. And the reason that it does that is because

1 otherwise it would open up every single foreclosure,
2 or have the potential to open up every single
3 foreclosure, and really put the lenders in a crisis
4 who've done their best to comply with not only the 5 administrative order, the HAMP guidelines, the South
6 Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, and the statutes
7 governing mortgage foreclosures. So I think, even 8 though the -- the Supreme Court has done its best to 9 try to address these problems, both of its orders
10 specifically set forth the date on which they became 11 effective. And they did that so it wouldn't open up 12 prior foreclosures. So to use this order as the 13 sole basis to open up a foreclosure, require an 14 evidentiary hearing, unwind the entire transaction,
15 and go back to the original foreclosure hearing is 16 not what the Supreme Court intended, and it's 17 certainly outside of the realm of the scope of that 18 order. Defendant's counsel talked a lot about the 19 forbearance agreement. And there was some testimony
20 at the hearing from Ms. Bradley about the 21 forbearance agreement. There is no written
22 forbearance agreement that was documented by either
23 side. So the terms of the forbearance agreement are 24 pretty much unknown, except for the fact that it
25 seems uncontested that for at least until the end of

1 August no foreclosure sale could occur. And
2 Defendant's counsel has a list of activities, as she 3 mentioned that -- that occurred during the 4 forbearance period; but there's no evidence, no
5 legal support, or no case law that says that those 6 actions couldn't take place. The forbearance is 7 defined as the agreement to not move forth on a
8 right. And that's exactly what happened. For those 9 three months Chase did not actually complete the 10 foreclosure sale. And that foreclosure sale was 11 completed as soon as the forbearance period was up.
12 And without some documentation, or legal support, or 13 some sort of argument as to why the actions set 14 forth in her memorandum were not acceptable during 15 the forbearance period, it's difficult to understand
16 why, in fact, those -- those actions were not 17 allowed. Typically, forbearance agreements are very 18 specific, they have the terms. And in this case,
19 this was simply an oral forbearance. And the 20 Court's without information to know what other terms
21 might have been part of that forbearance. And as 22 the Court's already correctly noted, the forbearance
23 agreement ended on August 31st, 2010; and there
24 simply was nothing to prevent the foreclosure sale
25 from going forward at that point. Defendant's

1 counsel also argued that, you know, at that point,
2 or after the -- after the August 2010 order, that
3 Ms. Bradley should have been allowed to appeal the 4 order, and that no sale should have taken place.
5 Well, that's not what happens in a regular
6 foreclosure situation. The sale of the foreclosure
7 is not postponed pending an appeal unless the party,
8 in fact, takes upon itself to file the appeal. And,
9 again, there's been no evidence presented that the 10 order was not properly served; not at this hearing,
11 and not at the prior hearing, or any other time in 12 the case. So the idea that everything should have 13 been put on hold until the appeals period ended,
14 again, is without support. With regards to the 15 statements of fraud, Ms. Ingles went through several 16 parts in the transcript where, again, I think it's 17 undisputed that at many times throughout the hearing
18 Ms. Bradley testified that she was told that the 19 sale would be postponed, i.e., in the future; and I
20 think we've exhausted the discussion about whether a 21 statement of future fraud or a future event could be 22 fraud. She also highlighted a number of areas where 23 Ms. Bradley indicated that maybe she was told that 24 it was postponed; and as a result, when it came time
25 for the end of Ms. Bradley's direct examination, and

1 the beginning of cross-examination, that issue
2 needed clarification, because her own testimony was 3 completely contradictory on the issue. It was 4 contradictory about what she was told, when she was 5 told. And so the -- an -- an effort was made by me
6 to try to clarify that issue, and on a number of 7 occasions, not just one occasion, on a number of 8 occasions which are cited in the memorandum. She 9 specifically said, she had been told that it was 10 going to be postponed, but that it had not been 11 postponed yet. So to the extent that there's any 12 question that that statement rises to the level of 13 fraud, again, I believe that the ample case law has 14 been presented to the Court to show that that's 15 simply not a statement of fraud. With regard to 16 whether this -- the overall feeling that Ms. Bradley
17 got, the overall message, I think was the word that 18 was used, that she got, that the sale had been 19 postponed, that's not sufficient to constitute 20 fraud. Rule 9 requires that you show who made the 21 statement, when they made it, what the statement
22 was, and how you relied on it. And I think that 23 even if you take into account and accept the fact
24 that she was -- may have been given contradictory
25 statements concerning the status of the foreclosure

1 sale, there's no question based on her own
2 testimony, that, ultimately, she could not say, yes,
3 I was told that sale would not occur. And, second,
4 and maybe more importantly, because it's easy to get 5 caught up in her various statements about what she 6 was told, she can't really show that she relied on 7 it. She -- she hasn't given any information about 8 what she would have done if she had known that the 9 foreclosure sale was going to go through. She 10 didn't hire her an attorney prior to that date. She 11 didn't indicate that she was going to hire an 12 attorney for the foreclosure sale specifically; the 13 foreclosure having been pending for two years. She 14 also didn't indicate that she had the wherewithal to 15 bid at the foreclosure sale. She didn't have the 16 means to short sale the property. She didn't 17 provide any evidence whatsoever that somehow those 18 statements stopped her from doing what she was 19 otherwise going to do. And in -- in bringing the 20 motion to satisfy the sale under Rule 60 is the 21 Defendant's burden to prove the fraud. And it's the 22 Defendant's burden to prove the prejudice that 23 resulted as a resort -- as a result of the fraud.
24 Chase does not have to show any prejudice whatsoever
25 that it would occur if it's not required to do the

1 actions that -- that the Defendant's requested and 2 not required to resell the property. That's the 3 Defendant's burden. With regards to whether or not
4 the evidence or the statements amounted to fraud, I
5 believe Defendant's counsel mentioned that she --
6 that they rose to the level of misconduct,
7 generally. And there's -- this is addressed
8 specifically in the memorandum in opposition to the 9 motion to reconsider. Misconduct for the purposes
10 of Rule 60 is specifically defined. And it's a very 11 -- it's a very narrow type of misconduct. It's not 12 just general misconduct, it's not -- it's not the 13 type of confusion that the administrative order from 14 the Supreme Court is trying to stop, this 15 unintentional confusion, it is misconduct that is 16 intended to prevent a party from participating in 17 the litigation. And there's no evidence whatsoever
18 that Chase intentionally made any statements or took 19 any action to try to prevent Ms. Bradley from 20 participating in the foreclosure action prior to the 21 date of the foreclosure sale or at the foreclosure
22 sale; and in fact, the evidence shows that as little 23 as three days before the sale she was specifically 24 told, "The sale has not been postponed, you need to 25 protect your rights. The sale has not been

1 postponed." And that evidence is admitted by Ms.
2 Bradley, that on September 4th, I believe, she was
3 told, "The sale hasn't yet been postponed." We've 4 made this expedited request, that's undisputed, that 5 it was requested that it be postponed; but there's 6 no dispute that, in fact, she was not told at that 7 point that it was postponed. I think it's also 8 significant, there's a -- a discussion about due
9 process, and I've -- I've discussed, you know, the 10 -- the history of the case that was going for,
11 again, almost two years before we even get to that 12 August 2010 date. And prior to that time, I believe 13 Ms. Bradley, excuse me, has requested that those 14 orders be set aside. And as I've explained in the 15 memorandum and opposition, there simply is no basis 16 to set aside those orders, because each order was 17 entered after timely notice to the Court -- or to 18 the Defendant and to the Court, and she never 19 submitted anything in opposition to those orders,
20 never requested a hearing. There's been no
21 suggestion that a hearing was required for a
22 supplemental affidavit concerning the amount of the 23 debt. And Ms. Bradley also at this hearing has 24 claimed that those orders did not properly take into 25 account payments made prior to those; but there's

1 been no evidence on that. There's been no evidence
2 that the amount of the debt set forth in those
3 orders, was not correct. And so I think that --
4 that hearing that, and considering that testimony,
5 or lack thereof, of that argument, at this juncture
6 in the case, and the motion to reconsider would be 7 considering new evidence, which, of course, is not 8 allowed in a Rule 59E motion. And, briefly, on the 9 procedural aspects of the case, and on the specific 10 request that certain actions in the case be set
11 aside, you know, the -- the case is kind of -- we've 12 been working backwards. We've been starting with 13 that August, September issue, with the sale and the 14 forbearance agreement, and I believe we've
15 adequately set forth our position that there was no
16 reason for that sale not to go forward because 17 there's no written agreement saying that it couldn't
18 go forward at that point. There's no written 19 agreement saying that the forbearance agreement
20 would give her 30 more days, or that it, you know,
21 would start the foreclosure process over. There's 22 no case law that provides for that. And there's 23 been no statutory or other legal argument that there
24 was a timeline that needed to start once that 25 forbearance agreement ended. And, again, we backed

1 up to those supplement orders, there's no evidence
2 about the service, no evidence that those were 3 improperly entered. Backing all the way up to the 4 foreclosure hearing, Ms. Bradley's also requested
5 that she be relieved from default and allowed to 6 file an answer and counterclaim. And as stated in 7 the motion -- or in the memorandum and opposition
8 and the motion to reconsider, that request, one, was 9 withdrawn at the hearing. It was specifically
10 addressed, and at the hearing, the counsel stated
11 that it was a mistake, and that it wasn't intended
12 -- intended to be included in the motion. But more 13 importantly, and substantively, there's no basis for 14 it. There's no -- there's been no testimony
15 whatsoever about why she didn't originally respond
16 to the answer -- or the complaint. There's no
17 indication that she has some sort of meritorious
18 defense. The order was entered in, again, March,
19 2009 -- or -- yeah, March 2009, and which was two 20 months prior to the Court's administrative order on 21 HAMP, so there wouldn't have been any basis for any 22 HAMP review at that point in time. So there
23 literally are not defenses that Ms. Bradley has 24 testified that she would have presented, so there's 25 no basis for her to be let out of default and file

1 an answer and counterclaim. And because of that 2 default, she, of course, has waived any merit -- any
3 right to object to the merits of the action. If I
4 could just have one second?

5 THE COURT:

6 Take your time.

7 MS. CASKEY:

8 I'll go through my notes.

9 THE COURT:

10 While you're doing that, let me ask Ms. Ingles, is 11 the request to let her file an answer, and let her
12 out of the original default, is that still a live
13 issue as far as you're concerned?

14 MS. INGLES:

15 Yes, I -- I think there's a misconception about 16 that. The wording of that request and that motion
17 was the problem. It wasn't that we weren't asking
18 for that to be so, so let me just find that. And I
19 think we've talked about it a little bit before we 20 went on the record, so the record may be somewhat
21 confusing. Somehow I don't know what I did with 22 that, now I'm going to look for it, it'll take me
23 just a minute to find it. But I think it referred 24 to their having been an order entered already in the 25 case, and that was not the situation here. And so

1 what I was trying to address was the fact that there
2 has not been -- okay. What the motion said in 3 paragraph one, "Seeking the following relief to 4 alter and amend the written decision on her motion
5 to stay further action since entry of default, and 6 allow Defendant to answer and assert counterclaims."
7 There had not been a written decision on any motion
8 yet. And so that's what the "stay" that was being 9 addressed, was that there was not written decision
10 yet; and I think that was just wording, it was a
11 typo basically. So --

12 THE COURT:

13 Basically, you're saying that's something that was 14 failed to address in my previous order, the one I 15 issued in --

16 MS. INGLES:

17 No, no, I'm saying that that was just -- that 18 verbiage should not have been in there at all.

19 THE COURT:

20 Oh.

21 MS. INGLES:

22 Because you had not -- this was our original motion
23 to set aside the sale that she's talking about.

24 THE COURT:

25 Okay, all right. Okay, thank you..

1 MS. INGLES:

2 And the language was just, you know, mistakably
3 written.

4 THE COURT:

5 Okay.

6 MS. INGLES:

7 We were still -- and I realize that's a separate
8 issue from some of the other vacating the sale, and 9 setting aside the sell and all; but that was part of 10 what we had asked for was to set aside the entry of 11 default, and I think she's addressed that 12 substantively anyway.

13 THE COURT:

14 Okay, good, I just want to clear that up. Okay, Ms.
15 Caskey, I didn't mean to interrupt you.

16 MS. CASKEY:

17 Oh, no, you're -- you're fine. Just stepping back
18 into the discussion, one of the arguments raised by 19 Defendant's counsel was about the NPV calculations.
20 And that if the trial claim was in place, then the 21 NPV calculations must have already been done, and 22 they must have already been -- met with HAMP
23 guidelines. There's been no evidence on that. And 24 it's not Chase's burden at a motion to set aside a
25 sale under Rule 60, or at a motion to reconsider, to

1 prove that type of calculation was not properly --
2 or that the -- how the calculation was done, or what
3 the requirements of the calculation are; that burden
4 falls on the Defendant to show that it was done
5 incorrectly, that there was some basis for fraud in 6 the NPV calculations. There's been no testimony
7 whatsoever that any of the NPV calculations were 8 incorrect. There's been no evidence submitted about 9 how NPV calculations are done. There's been no
10 evidence submitted that NPV calculations have to be 11 done prior to trial plan payments. And when I say
12 no evidence, I'm including no legal authority
13 either. So there's been literally no argument
14 concerning that prior to the motion to reconsider
15 and the motion to today. Additionally, with regards
16 to the request for discovery, again, this is 17 addressed in the memorandum and opposition. There
18 was some indication that somehow Plaintiff's
19 position was that the Defendant's just not entitled 20 to discovery on modification issues. That's not the 21 posit -- that's not our position. Our position is,
22 that it's not appropriate at this juncture in the 23 case. Discovery under Rule 26 has to be done with 24 regards to pending matters, and this matter's been 25 complete since September 2010. This, at this point,

1 would be post-judgment discovery. And I was unable
2 to find any authority whatsoever supporting that
3 type of discovery. If Ms. Bradley had -- had served
4 discovery concerning the calculations, and what was 5 done, and how it was done, during the pendency of 6 the Court -- of the case that may or may not have
7 been relevant depending on the specific requests
8 that were served. But it's certainly not relevant
9 at this juncture when the burden is on -- about Rule
10 60, is about fraud and misstatements and 11 misrepresentations, and there's been no evidence
12 that misrepresentations in the statements, etcetera,
13 were made about NPV calculations or about missed
14 trial plans. And on that note, Ms. Bradley also 15 testified at the hearing that she did make the trial
16 -- that she made payments in the amount of the trial
17 plan payment amount, after the trial plan ended.
18 It's undisputed that the trial plan is a three month
19 period. She was late on the third payment. She 20 acknowledged that. She said she was just having 21 difficulty making the payment. And it's undisputed
22 that, at least, for some portion following the end
23 of the trial plan, she submitted payments in the 24 same amount as of the trial plan. But Chase is not 25 obligated to honor or to extend the trial plan out

1 past that three months. Chase also doesn't waive
2 any right to the full amount due under the loan,
3 because it accepts a partial payment. That trial
4 plan agreement specifically indicated that it ended
5 after three months. And at that point, she, again,
6 became due for whatever amount was due on the loan,
7 including the full amount of her monthly mortgage
8 payment. So not only was she submitting the 9 payments late under the trial plan, but then she 10 wasn't even submitting the full amount that she was 11 due for the month, much less the full amount of the 12 arrears that was due. So that the suggestion that 13 somehow the amount of the debt is not proper because 14 Chase didn't give proper credit or credence to the 15 trial plan payments that were made is, one, not 16 supported by the record, and, two, is disingenuous,
17 because Chase, at that point, legally was entitled 18 to accept partial payments or less payments, but it
19 was not required to not foreclose on the property,
20 simply because it had accepted partial payments, and 21 that's under the terms of the mortgage and its 22 standard -- standard case law analyzing those --
23 those issues. Finally, with regards to HAMP
24 compliance and whether or not Chase complied with 25 the -- the administrative order, there is a

1 suggestion that multiple affidavits should have been
2 filed, and an affidavit should have been filed after 3 each individual review. And I acknowledge that
4 under the May 22nd, 2011 -- or May 2nd, 2011, order,
5 it appears that the Court was trying to correct or 6 at least address the situation where modification
7 were discussed after an initial HAMP modification
8 situation. And also trying to address a situation
9 where the foreclosure counsel was not involved. But 10 under the May 22nd, 2009, order, which is the only
11 administrative order that governs this case, only
12 one affidavit has to be filed. You have to show
13 that you make an initial HAMP determination, that 14 you comply with the Court's requirements on that,
15 and they have ten days to object. There's nothing
16 in that order that requires subsequent affidavits,
17 updated affidavits, or anything of the sort. So I
18 think perhaps the thing to take away is, at one
19 point, I believe, Ms. Ingles said both sides have 20 rights. And default or not, or attorney or not, Ms.
21 Bradley has rights. And she does have rights, and 22 those rights are set forth in the Rules of Civil 23 Procedure, and in the administrative order that 24 governs this case. She did not choose to protect 25 herself by following the rules that were set forth

1 in both of those guidelines; and in doing so, she 2 waived certain rights to participate in the 3 litigation. And past that, Chase has rights. Chase
4 has the right to pursue a foreclosure on a debt that 5 was delinquent. And Chase has a right to -- to 6 fully participate in the foreclosure regardless of 7 whether or not the borrower continues to submit
8 modifications as long as Chase is being forthright
9 with the customer; which they were doing. They were 10 sending letters. They were trying to communicate.
11 And as Ms. Ingles admitted, they were doing their 12 best to try to assist her in the situation. And,
13 again, I think it all comes back to, at the very end
14 of the day, Ms. Bradley is not able to show that,
15 even if you take all her statements as true, which 16 many of which are inconsistent, but even if you
17 agree with her version of the story, she simply 18 cannot show that she relied on anything that Chase
19 did in avoiding that foreclosure sale. She did not 20 fail to take or take any action based on what Chase
21 did or allegedly did. And I think that at the end
22 of the day, that's really what governs the motion
23 for today. I'll be happy to answer any questions
24 Your Honor might have.

25 THE COURT:

1 Thank you. Any rebuttal?

2 MS. INGLES:

3 Yes, sir, a few things. I wanted to just point out
4 initially in one of the last things that was said,
5 Ms. Bradley did testify at the hearing that they did
6 tell her to continue paying the trial period
7 payment. She just didn't choose to pay a lesser
8 amount. She called them up, and said, "What's going 9 on? You know, the three months is up." And they 10 said, "Just keep making the payment." And that's 11 what she did, and it was accepted. So that was not 12 necessarily her just choosing to pay the lesser 13 payment, she was told to continue making the 14 payment, and she did. And to go back to the 15 beginning of Ms. Caskey's argument, you can take 16 that same issue, she said several times, this case
17 has been going on for two years. Well, yeah, it has 18 been going on for two years, and for half of that 19 Ms. Bradley was making payments. And for another
20 three or four months of that, she was in a forbear
21 -- was granted a forbearance, and was in a
22 forbearance. So the greater part of that two years
23 she was paying on the loan. Yes, the foreclosure
24 judgment was in early 2009, so why would she have 25 thought that there was anything else for her to be

1 doing in this litigation that she clearly didn't
2 understand, which many people -- probably most
3 people don't understand what they're supposed to do.
4 But when it was over a year prior to these
5 negotiations during the forbearance period, the idea
6 that somehow she didn't participate a year before
7 that and that affected her rights during the 8 forbearance period, I -- I just don't think that's 9 being fair to a pro se litigant to suggest that she 10 should realize that there was something in this 11 litigation that she should be doing. Again, she was 12 negotiating with Chase, which, you know, may have 13 been the problem. She did rely on what they said.
14 She said she would have gotten an attorney had --
15 had she realized that this was going to happen.
16 That was one of the, you know, the many things that 17 she said. She wouldn't have relied, she wouldn't 18 have believed, but she did believe. And, in fact, I
19 -- I disagree. I think that the misconduct,
20 misrepresentation, fraud did -- was intended to 21 prevent her from participating in the lawsuit. Had 22 she not thought that she -- that this sale wasn't
23 going forward, that there was still, you know, this 24 30 days to challenge the NPV calculations from that 25 August 19th letter, there would clearly have been

1 participation by her; but she thought she was
2 participating in the way that most per se litigants,
3 at that time, believed. I also would like to 4 discuss this idea of the burden of proof being on my 5 client. Yes; to some degree it is. But to say the 6 burden of proof on whether or not the reasons for 7 denial were correct, I -- I think it's wrong to look
8 at it that way. Because without an evidentiary
9 hearing and discovery, she has no way of proving 10 that. She has only what was told to her by Chase,
11 and what was written to her in letters. That -- and 12 that's what we've presented. And that's part of why
13 we did -- did ask for an evidentiary hearing, and 14 did ask for discovery. I also want to take 15 exception to -- not take exception, but -- but read
16 some additional information from the May 22nd, 2009,
17 administrative order, because it does allow the 18 Court to go back and have an evidentiary hearing
19 despite a counter-affidavit not being filed. It
20 says, "If a counter-affidavit is not timely served,
21 the determination of whether there are HAMP issues,
22 which need to be resolved before foreclosure is 23 ordered, before the sale is commenced, shall be 24 based on the affidavit alone, unless the Judge
25 allows the late service and filing of the counter-

1 affidavit; or allows issue to become contested at 2 some later stage of the proceeding." Well, that's 3 where we are. We're at the later stage of the 4 proceeding. And I also take exception to whether or 5 not this is a pending case under the more recent 6 administrative order. Yes, it's a pending case,
7 there's a motion to set aside the sale that was --
8 that was pending, at the time of that order. So,
9 yes, there had been a judgment and a sale, but we 10 are actively in litigation to void that sale or 11 vacate that sale. We're in the Courtroom today. We 12 were in the Courtroom back in March asking for that.
13 So I -- I think this is a pending case and was at 14 that time. It was stated that there's no authority
15 to support discovery under the administrative order.
16 Well, I think it goes without saying that a litigant
17 should be allowed discovery, and I've never had one
18 denied in any foreclosure defense where I've dealt
19 with the issue of having an evidentiary hearing.
20 I've always been granted the right to discovery.
21 Otherwise, how can you determine whether or not you
22 are properly evaluated? They're the ones with all
23 the information. So, of course, to meet your burden
24 on that, you've got to have discovery. You've got 25 to be able to get their records. Just an affidavit

1 from someone who looked at their records and works
2 for them, is not enough, you know, you -- you should
3 be allowed to make that determination. And -- and I
4 want to just address some other things that were 5 mentioned. And I've already said this, I think, to 6 some degree, but it was stated that there was --
7 that she did -- that my client did, in fact, have 8 the opportunity to challenge the foreclosure, and 9 that it was going on for so long, and she had two 10 years during which she could have challenged the 11 foreclosure. But I think it's that length of time
12 that actually supports our position. She was lulled
13 into this sense of complacency and not really 14 knowing that there were procedural things that she 15 could be doing other than what she was doing, which 16 was talking to her mortgage company. It was stated
17 that she waived defenses by not coming to that 18 foreclosure hearing. Again, that was two years
19 before, and much has happened in the, you know,
20 foreclosure law since that hearing was held. And if 21 another hearing had been held, she would most likely 22 have come to that after what had happened. It was 23 stated that the definition of a forbearance
24 agreement is an agreement not to go forward, not to 25 go forward with the foreclosure. And, if, in fact,

1 that's that case, that forbearance agreement was
2 breached by Chase, because they're the ones that
3 went forward with the case and did procedural
4 things. They anticipated that they were going to 5 deny her modification. They anticipated that. Why
6 else would they have sent a supplemental order while
7 they're supposedly considering her application? Why
8 else would they have, excuse me, offered a
9 supplemental order, published notice of a sale, and 10 ask this Court to set a sale, if they weren't
11 anticipating that there was going to be a denial?
12 That clearly, I think, breaches the forbearance
13 agreement. It's stated, well, we don't exactly know
14 what the forbearance agreement was because it wasn't 15 -- yeah, we know what the forbearance agreement was,
16 it was she didn't have to make a payment for three
17 months while they were reviewing her HAMP
18 application. That's clearly what it was. And I
19 think this Court, you know, found that there was a 20 forbearance agreement. So to anticipate during the 21 period of forbearance that -- that she's not going
22 to be allowed to modify, reinstate her loan,
23 whatever, I think is a breach of that forbearance,
24 and they clearly did that. On the issue of the 25 right to appeal an order that is issued by this

1 Court, and that there shouldn't have been a sale
2 already set within that short timeframe from when
3 this Court issued that August 16th order, Ms. Caskey
4 said, well, you know, the sale's not postponed in 5 foreclosure cases. Well, they ought to be if 6 they're not. I think we've got a long history of 7 these cases being done in a hurried fashion because
8 most people defaulted, and all that, but now there
9 are reasons for that not to be done that way. And 10 it shouldn't have been done that way in this case.
11 The -- the full amount of time under the rules
12 should have been given. The full amount of time
13 under the letter of August 19th that clearly said we 14 will not sell your property during the next 30 days,
15 when they sent her that letter, and they knew that 16 her house was going to be sold on September 7th.
17 She talked to all those people who said, "Oh, yeah,
18 we sent in the request to postpone. Yeah, we've 19 postponed it. Your property was not sold on 20 September 7th." Jay said, "Your property was not 21 sold on September 7th." You know, all of that, and 22 they knew that they had also in writing, not just 23 verbally, but in writing, in the August 19th letter,
24 said, "You have 30 days to challenge this decision,
25 and your house will not be sold during that time."

1 So if -- if you want to say none of that other stuff
2 that was said to her, none of the statements about
3 postponing the sale, none of the statements about
4 your house was not sold on September 7th, you know,
5 any of the verbal statements, there was a written
6 letter from Chase, and that was a misrepresentation.
7 And she relied on it clearly. She sent them a
8 letter requesting the NPV calculation. That's all I
9 have. Thank you.

10 THE COURT:

11 Okay. Thanks folks.

12 MS. CASKEY:

13 I just want to address one point, and it's only on 14 the applicability of this order --

15 THE COURT:

16 Okay.

17 MS. CASKEY:

18 -- with regards to it. It's with regards to the May 19 2nd, 2011, order, and whether this is a pending
20 action. I just want to highlight for the Court that 21 under the section on page two of the order, and I'm 22 referring to page two from the available copy from 23 the Supreme Court's website, it says, "In all
24 mortgage foreclosures actions pending on May 9th,
25 2011, before any merits hearing in the case, or if

1 an order of foreclosure has been entered, before any
2 foreclosure sale." So the -- the idea is that it's
3 actions that have not already been set for a sale.
4 And Chase's position would be that because this
5 clearly already had been sold at foreclosure this
6 order is simply not applicable. The foreclosure
7 intervention aspects of the order are not
8 applicable, and, again, the point of the order was 9 not to open up foreclosure actions that had already 10 been completed. So this Court should decide the 11 motion based on the prior administrative order, and 12 other applicable law. Thank you.

13 THE COURT:

14 Thank you very much. All right. I'll review it
15 all, and get you out a decision, or ask one of you
16 to draw an order.

17 MS. CASKEY:

18 Thank you, Your Honor.

19 MS. INGLES:

20 Thank you.

21 (There being no further questions, the deposition was 22 concluded at 4:00 p.m.)

Personally appeared, the undersigned, who being duly sworn, deposes and says:

I am one of the attorneys for the Plaintiff in the above captioned action. On March 17, 2009, a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale was issued. Prior to the scheduled sales date, the Plaintiff began negotiations for a potential loss mitigation workout with the Defendants, Vanessa Y. Bradley. The following principal, interest and escrow/corporate advances which are secured by the mortgage being foreclosed, have been incurred to the date of hearing shown herein below (see also attached, as Exhibit "A", the itemized debt printout from the Plaintiff):

1. Amended judgment debt is as follows:
 - (a) Principal now due..... $94,185.23
 - (b) Interest from October 1, 2008 through
June 30, 2010 at 6.875% per annum $11,331.60
 - (c) Advances (Escrow Advances, Corporate Charges including attorney fees, costs, and other charges previously paid)..... $410.97
 - (d) Late Charges $0.00
 - (e) Additional Costs of collection since previous hearing..... $25.00
 - (f) Attorney's Fees..... $3,555.00

NEW TOTAL DEBT now secured by Note and Mortgage
including interest to date shown..... $109,507.80

The new total debt shall accrue interest hereafter at the rate of 6.875% per annum.

2. An affidavit asserting HMP non-eligibility was served on May 17, 2010. No counter affidavits have been received by Plaintiff's counsel in the above-captioned action.

AFFIDAVIT OF CHARLES HERNDON

Personally appeared before me, Charles Herndon, who, being duly sworn, deposes and states as follows:

1. I am a Vice President of Chase Home Finance, LLC ("Chase"). Chase is the servicer of the mortgage loan of Vanessa Bradley (the "Borrower"), loan number 8015713657 (the "Loan"), which is the subject of this foreclosure action. I am duly authorized to make this Affidavit.

2. I am familiar with the books and business records that Chase maintains for mortgage loans, have personal knowledge of how those records are created and maintained, and understand how to read and interpret those records. The statements made herein are based on my review of Chase's business records to which I have access.

3. The Loan consists of a promissory note ("Note") and Mortgage executed by the Borrower on or about January 30, 2001. The real property that is the subject of the Mortgage and the foreclosure action is located in Pickens County, commonly known as 454 Johnson Road, Central, South Carolina 29630-8810 (the "Property").

4. Chase is the servicer of the Loan, and as servicer, Chase is responsible for collecting and applying payments on the Loan account and taking any appropriate actions to collect the Loan and preserve the Property.

5. The Loan was originated by Schmidt Mortgage on or about January 30, 2001, and assigned to Fleet National Bank on or about January 30, 2001. Fleet National Bank assigned the Mortgage to Mortgage Electronic Registration Systems, Inc., as nominee for Fleet National Bank on February 7, 2001, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, NA, as attorney in fact for Bank of America N.A. f/k/a Fleet National Bank, N.A. assigned the Mortgage to JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association c/o Washington Mutual Bank ("WaMu") on January 13, 2009. JPMorgan Chase Bank, National Association is the successor in interest to WaMu.

6. The Loan has been modified twice since its origination in January 2001. The Loan was first modified by a Loan Modification Agreement dated April 11, 2005, and second by a Loan Modification Agreement dated March 24, 2008. Despite the modifications to the terms of the Loan, however, the Borrower was still unable to make the payments due on the Loan.

7. On December 30, 2008, Chase filed this foreclosure action, based on the Borrower's failure to make payments when due. At the time the foreclosure complaint was filed, the Borrower was due for her August 1, 2008, payment. After a hearing on March 12, 2009, a Judgment of Foreclosure and Sale was issued on March 17, 2009, and a foreclosure sale was scheduled to occur on April 6, 2009.

8. Chase's customer service notes for the Loan indicate that prior to the scheduled foreclosure sale, Chase was contacted by First Foreclosure Solutions ("FFS"), a representative of the Borrower, who wanted to apply for a modification of the Loan on the Borrower's behalf. FFS submitted a completed modification application for the Borrower on or about January 14,

2009, and was advised by Chase that the modification review process would take approximately 8-10 weeks.

9. On or about March 25, 2009, an FFS representative contacted Chase to request that Chase postpone the foreclosure sale scheduled for April 6, 2009. Chase agreed to postpone the foreclosure sale to allow the Borrower and her representatives to continue to negotiate a possible workout of the Loan.

10. To assist the Borrower, Chase extended a trial period plan ("Trial Plan") under the Making Home Affordable Modification Program ("HAMP"), which the Borrower accepted on or about June 24, 2009. A copy of the signed Trial Plan extended to the Borrower is attached hereto as Exhibit 1.

11. Under the Trial Plan, the Borrower agreed to make three monthly payments, each in the amount of $517.29, due on July 1, 2009, August 1, 2009, and September 1, 2009. The Borrower made the first and second payments due under the Trial Plan, on June 26, 2009, and August 5, 2009, respectively. However, the Borrower failed to submit the full balance of the third payment due on September 1, 2009, and instead remitted a payment in the insufficient amount of $368.00, on September 22, 2009. The Borrower did not pay the balance of the third Trial Plan payment until October 19, 2009, when she submitted a payment in the amount of $150.00.

12. By letter dated March 4, 2010, Chase notified the Borrower that her Loan was not eligible for modification because the net present value of her Loan did not meet HAMP guidelines for a modification. A copy of the March 4, 2010, letter to the Borrower is attached as Exhibit 2.

13. Chase's customer service notes indicate that throughout May, June, and July 2010, Chase continued to communicate with the Borrower and her representatives concerning the Loan, but Chase and the Borrower were unable to reach a workout agreement due to the Borrower's lack of income.

14. Because Chase was unable to offer the Borrower a loan modification or other workout option, Chase instructed its attorneys to move forward with the foreclosure sale. A second foreclosure sale was scheduled for August 2, 2010, but immediately prior to the sale, the Borrower telephoned Chase and informed it that her income had changed and that she wanted to be reconsidered for a loan modification.

15. Chase again agreed to postpone the sale to discuss a possible loss mitigation workout with the Borrower. After reviewing the Borrower's request, however, Chase determined that the Borrower was not eligible for a modification, and on August 19, 2010, Chase notified the Borrower by letter that she had again been denied a modification under HAMP because the net present value of her Loan did not meet HAMP guidelines for a modification. A copy of the August 19, 2010, letter is attached as Exhibit 3.

16. After Chase notified the Borrower that she was ineligible for a loan modification, Chase instructed its attorneys to move forward with the foreclosure sale, and a third foreclosure sale of the Property was scheduled for September 7, 2010.

17. Prior to the September 7th foreclosure sale, the Borrower again requested that Chase reconsider her for a loan modification. The customer service notes indicate that between August 25, 2010, and August 31, 2010, Chase communicated with the Borrower concerning her modification request, and informed her that it could not reconsider her for a modification without updated financial information about her income and expenses. Chase also informed the Borrower that it would not request that the foreclosure sale be postponed until all the required documentation for the modification request was received by Chase. The Borrower provided the missing financial documents needed to complete the Borrower's request for a modification on September 1, 2010.

18. On September 2, 2010, Chase advised the Borrower that her request for a modification was under review. Chase also advised the Borrower that it would request that the foreclosure sale be postponed, but that the request to postpone the sale would have to be approved by the Federal National Mortgage Association, the investor on the Loan. The Borrower contacted Chase via telephone on September 4, 2010, and was advised that the foreclosure sale had not been postponed.

19. The Property was sold on September 7, 2010, and Chase was the successful bidder of the Property. Chase assigned its bid to the Federal National Mortgage Association.

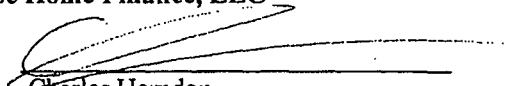

20. Chase notified the Borrower by letter dated September 21, 2010, that her Loan was not eligible for modification under the HAMP because she had previously failed to complete a HAMP trial period plan. A copy of this letter is attached hereto as Exhibit 4.

21. Chase also notified the Borrower by letter dated October 5, 2010, providing the Borrower with the net present value data inputs that were used to determine that she was not eligible for a modification. A copy of this letter is attached hereto as Exhibit 5.

Further Affiant sayeth not.
