ORDER

C. A. No. 2008-CP-42-56

This matter was on the Common Pleas docket for the week beginning August 13, 2012. Prior to the call of the case, the Court conducted a roster meeting with the attorneys for Plaintiff and Defendants Lamar Greene, J&P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc. and Julie Greene. At the conclusion of the roster meeting, all parties consented to placing this matter on the non-jury docket. In addition, the parties informed the Court that they would agree upon a Special Referee to hear this matter at a date and time convenient to the parties as well as the Referee.

Counsel for the Defendants Lamar Greene, J&P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc. and Julie Greene requested the Court hear certain motions regarding matters in the Plaintiff's Amended Complaint. The Court allowed Defendants' counsel to make the motions.

As to Plaintiff's First Cause of Action in the Amended Complaint, counsel for the aforementioned Defendants moved that it be dismissed as to Defendant Julie Greene. Plaintiff's counsel objected due to lack of notice on said motion. Therefore, the motion is not properly before the Court.

As to Plaintiff's Second and Third Causes of Action in the Amended Complaint, counsel for the aforementioned Defendants moved that the Court strike these causes of action as the relief requested was now moot. Plaintiff's counsel acknowledged that an accounting, as requested, would be entered, in effect, by the Special Referee and that the death of Defendant Lamar Greene negated the need to proceed with the Third Cause of Action; therefore, it is dismissed.

As to Plaintiff's Fourth Cause of Action in the Amended Complaint, counsel for the aforementioned Defendants moved that the Court dismiss it as to Defendant Julie Greene. Plaintiff's counsel objected due to lack of notice on said motion. Therefore, the motion is not properly before the Court.

As to the Seventh Cause of Action in the Amended Complaint, counsel for the aforementioned Defendants moved that it be dismissed for its failure to set forth the required elements of a cause of action alleging fraud. Counsel for the Plaintiff informed the Court that while one allegation does state the word "fraud," the allegations set forth a cause of action for conversion against Defendants Lamar Greene, J&P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc. and Julie Greene. Counsel for the aforementioned Defendants withdrew the motion to dismiss this cause of action with the understanding that it is now a conversion cause of action and Plaintiff is not alleging fraud.

THEREFORE, it is ordered as follows:

1. This matter shall be placed on the non-jury roster for Pickens County.
2. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED, AND DECREED that this matter is referred to the Honorable Charles B. Simmons, Jr., as Special Referee for Pickens County for the purpose of taking testimony and evidence and issuing a final decree as to all issues raised in this action with any appeal therefrom to be to the South Carolina Court of Appeals. The Special Referee shall retain jurisdiction to perform all necessary acts incident to this action, and the Special Referee shall retain jurisdiction to hear any action contesting the validity of the action or any motions pursuant to the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, including, but not limited to, Rule 60 (b).

It is so ordered this 14th day of ~~August~~ Sept, 2012.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA COUNTY OF PICKENS Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC, Plaintiff, vs. Clegg Lamar Greene a/k/a Lamar Greene, Juleene Greene a/k/a Julie Greene, J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc., and Gaston Engineering, Inc., Defendants.	)	IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS Case No. 2008-CP-39-56 ORDER OF JUDGMENT AGAINST CLEGG LAMAR GREENE, JULEENE GREENE, AND J & P ENTERPRISES OF THE CAROLINAS, INC.

2013 AUG 30 PM 2:23
CLERK OF COURT
PICKENS COUNTY
SOUTH CAROLINA

Pursuant to Rule 53, SCRCP, the above-entitled matter was referred to the undersigned to make appropriate findings of facts and conclusions of law with authority to enter a final judgment. Any appeal from this Order is to the Court of Appeals.

Pursuant to the said Order of Reference, a hearing was held on May 9 and May 10, 2013, attended by Michael L. Brown ("Mike Brown"), an authorized representative of Plaintiff Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC ("Palmetto State"); Plaintiff's attorneys David R. Price, Jr. and Raymond T. Wooten; defendant Juleene Greene ("Julie Greene"); Jeffrey Greene ("Jeff Greene"), an authorized representative of defendant J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc. ("J & P Enterprises"); Scott F. Talley, attorney for defendants Juleene Greene and J & P Enterprises; and Daniel E. Hunt, as Personal Representative of the Estate of Clegg Lamar Greene a/k/a Lamar Greene.

At the hearing, testimony was taken from Mike Brown, Jeff Greene and Julie Greene. The Court also reviewed deposition testimony from Ronald West; Brenda Pressley, CPA; Dwight Morgan; and Lamar Greene. At the conclusion of the hearing, the Court issued its ruling from the bench based on the testimony and evidence, including multiple specific findings of fact that are part of the record of the hearing. Based on those findings of fact, this Court finds, conclude, and order as follows:

1. This Court finds that, as member-manager of Palmetto State, Lamar Greene had a duty to keep good records of financial dealings.

2. This Court finds that Lamar Greene did not keep sufficient records, including no corporate minutes, invoices, receipts, or other documentation that would allow determination whether expenditures were company business or personal in nature, whether expenditures were necessary or gratuitous, or whether expenditures were authorized by the other members of the LLC.

3. Lamar Greene is deceased, however, this Court reviewed and carefully considered his deposition testimony given in this matter prior to his death. This Court finds that Lamar Greene has significant credibility issues because of his poor to non-existent record keeping and the appearance of significant self-dealing. It is obvious to the Court, and Lamar Greene admitted in his deposition, that multiple expenditures of Palmetto State funds were personal in nature, including expenditures for plastic surgery and furniture for his personal residences. In addition, I find that Mr. Greene had a clear intention to misrepresent the use of certain expenditures in the records that were kept, including, but not limited to, his purchases from Tom James clothier and the construction loan proceeds paid pursuant to invoices from "Gaston Engineering."

4. This Court further finds that Lamar Greene failed to report any income from Palmetto States on his personal income tax returns during the years in question, despite admissions that multiple expenditures were personal in nature. I also find Lamar Greene failed to report any income from Palmetto States on tax returns for J & P Enterprises during the years in question, despite evidence that the funds paid to J & P Enterprises were never repaid to Palmetto States.

5. This Court also finds that Mike Brown is the living person in the best position to identify financial dealings or expenditures of Palmetto State funds by Lamar Greene that were not legitimate company business or otherwise authorized by the other members of the LLC. Mr. Brown has clearly spent significant time investigating the matter, and this Court finds that he has sufficient knowledge of company business to identify unauthorized expenditures, both by virtue of his service as manager of the LLC after discovery of the financial irregularities in or about September 2007, as well as by virtue of his work with Palmetto State prior to becoming manager.

6. This Court finds that to recover in an action for conversion, the plaintiff must prove the following elements:

(1) an interest by the plaintiff in the thing converted;

(2) the defendant converted the property to his own use; and

(3) the use was without the plaintiff's permission.

7. Despite this Court's findings regarding the relative credibility of the testimony of Mr. Brown to that of Lamar Greene, this Court is required to recognize that Plaintiff carries the burden of proof in this matter.

8. In support of its allegations of conversion by Lamar Greene and/or J&P Enterprises, Plaintiff presented the following exhibits, consisting of spreadsheet summaries and supporting documentation for each charge:

a. Plaintiff's Exhibit 1: Summary of First Citizens Unallowable Charges;

b. Plaintiff's Exhibit 2: Summary of Regions Account Unallowable Charges;

c. Plaintiff's Exhibit 3: Summary of NBSC Unallowable Charges;

d. Plaintiff's Exhibit 4: Summary of Greenville First Bank Payments ;

e. Plaintiff's Exhibit 5: Summary of Lamar Greene's Salary History;

f. Plaintiff's Exhibit 6: Summary of Undocumented/ No Receipt Cash Withdrawals from First Citizens; and

g. Plaintiff's Exhibit 7: Summary of Gaston Engineering Change Orders, with Invoices, Orders and Checks attached.

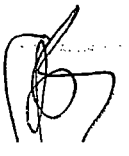

9. Although this Court finds that Plaintiff has proven by preponderance of the evidence that funds were converted by Lamar Greene, J & P Enterprises, and Julie Greene, this Court does not find that Plaintiff has carried its burden to prove by preponderance of the evidence that all of the charges presented by Plaintiff constituted conversion.

10. In making its ruling, this Court considered each of the above-referenced spreadsheet summaries and supporting documentation, together with the testimony regarding same. At the conclusion of the hearing, this Court addressed each exhibit item-by-item, and made a ruling as to which expenditures this Court found constituted wrongful conversion, and which expenditures to which Plaintiff failed to meet its burden of proof.

11. The Court has attached hereto revised spreadsheets marked Exhibits A-G, which are incorporated herein by reference. Those charges for which Plaintiff has failed to meet its burden of proof as to conversion are struck through on the attached exhibits and are not included on the total calculation of damages shown on each exhibit. Those charges for which this Court finds that only Lamar Green is liable for converting are highlighted in yellow. Those charges for which the Court finds that both Lamar Greene and J & P Enterprises are liable for converting are highlighted in green. And those charges for which the Court finds that Julie Greene shares liability for converting are highlighted in blue.

12. This Court finds that Plaintiff has proven by preponderance of the evidence that Lamar Greene converted $804,821.10 of Palmetto State funds from 2005 to 2007. Of that total, I find that $648,762.48 was converted for the personal benefit of Lamar Greene; that Julie Green participated with Lamar Greene and is liable for converting $1,285.97 for her own benefit; and that $154,772.65 was converted by Lamar Greene through his capacity as officer of J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc., for the benefit of J & P Enterprises. These calculations are shown on Exhibit H attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference.

13. This Court also finds that Plaintiff has met its burden of proof in proving each element of conversion as to Lamar Greene for the entire $804,821.10 of Palmetto State funds that were converted. I find that Palmetto State had an interest in the funds that were converted; that Lamar Greene used the funds for non-business related reasons without the permission of the other members of the LLC; and that he converted the property to his own use, either for personal use or for use by the corporation for which he was president and majority shareholder. I therefore find that Lamar Greene is jointly and severally liable for the entire amount converted.

14. This Court recognizes that one of the required elements of conversion is that the defendant has converted the property to its own use. This Court finds that Plaintiff has not met its burden of proof that J & P Enterprises benefitted from the $684,040.16 converted by Lamar Greene solely for his personal benefit. Accordingly, I decline to hold J & P Enterprises jointly and severally liable for that amount.

15. This Court therefore awards judgment in favor of Plaintiff against J & P Enterprises and Lamar Greene, jointly and severally, in the amount of $154,772.65 in actual damages.

16. Although Plaintiff presented evidence that Julie Greene participated in Lamar Greene's conversion of funds, and that she benefitted from same as the wife of Lamar Greene and employee of J & P Enterprises, this Court finds that the vast majority of acts undertaken by Julie Greene which Plaintiff argues furthered the conversion were actually performed by Ms. Greene in her capacity as an employee/bookkeeper of J & P Enterprises and at the direction of Lamar Greene, and/or that Julie Greene did not directly benefit from most of the funds converted.

17. This Court does find that Julie Greene knowingly converted $2,571.93 of Palmetto States funds paid to Clyde Turney Builders for work performed on her personal home, because she was aware of the source of the funds, participated in drafting the check, and directly benefited from the conversion, and I therefore find that she should be liable for one-half (1/2) this amount totaling $1,285.97. However, I find that Plaintiff has failed to meet its burden of proof as to the balance of funds allegedly converted by Ms. Greene.

18. This Court therefore awards judgment in favor of Plaintiff against Julie Greene and Lamar Greene, jointly and severally, in the amount of $1,285.97 actual damages, which is one-half (1/2) of the $2,571.93 that she participated in converting.

19. This Court awards additional judgment in favor of Plaintiff against Lamar Greene, solely, in the amount of $648,762.48 actual damages.

20. Plaintiff seeks pre-judgment interest on the funds converted. I find that the damages awarded Plaintiff do not meet the statutory requirement and the criteria under the case law to qualify as a sum certain entitling Plaintiff to pre-judgment interest.[1]

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Plaintiff Palmetto State Enterprises, Inc., is entitled to judgment against defendant J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc., and/or Clegg Lamar Greene a/k/a Lamar Greene, jointly and severally, in the amount of $154,772.65 in damages, together with post-judgment interest at the rate of 7.25% compounded annually from the date of entry of Plaintiff's judgment until paid in full.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Plaintiff Palmetto State Enterprises, Inc., is entitled to judgment against defendant Juleene Greene, a/k/a Julie Greene, and/or Clegg Lamar Greene a/k/a Lamar Greene, jointly and severally, in the amount of $1,285.97 in damages, together with post-judgment interest at the rate of 7.25% compounded annually from the date of entry of Plaintiff's judgment until paid in full.

[1] Defendants further argue that Plaintiff's demand was not specifically pled. Because the this Court finds that Plaintiff is not entitled to pre-judgment interest on other grounds, this Court declines to issue a ruling on that issue.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Plaintiff Palmetto State Enterprises, Inc., is entitled to judgment against defendant Clegg Lamar Greene a/k/a Lamar Greene, solely, in the amount of $684,040.16 in damages, together with post-judgment interest at the rate of 7.25% compounded annually from the date of entry of Plaintiff's judgment until paid in full. J & P Enterprises and Julie Greene are not jointly and severally liable for this portion of the judgment.

IT IS SO ORDERED this _____ day of _____, 2013.

CLERK OF COURT
PICKENS COUNTY
SOUTH CAROLINA

The Plaintiff would respectfully show unto this Court the following:

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS

1. Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC is a South Carolina limited liability company with its principle place of business being located in Clemson, Pickens County, South Carolina. The Defendant, Lamar Greene upon information and belief is a resident of Pickens county South Carolina and is a member of the Plaintiff limited liability company and up until recently was the "defacto" manager of the LLC. The Defendant, J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc., is a North Carolina corporation, with its principle place of business being located in Gaston County, North Carolina. The Defendant, Gaston Engineering, Inc. is either a corporation formed and managed by the Defendant Lamar Greene or is a misnamed sole proprietorship owned at least in part and operated by Lamar Greene. The Defendant, Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC, is a Georgia limited liability company with its principle place of business being located in Atlanta, Georgia.

2. The Plaintiff at the time of its formation was a "member" managed limited liability company but after the facts alleged herein came to light it was amended to be a "manger" managed limited liability company with Mike Brown and Floyd Elliott being the managers.

3. The limited liability company was formed to develop and sell real estate on or around college campuses consisting of condominium complexes to be sold to the alumni and sports fans of various universities including the University of South Carolina, University of Alabama and Virginia Tech. Even though the limited liability company was a "member" "managed" company, heretofore the Defendant, Lamar Greene, was in charge of the day to day operations of the company in that he has overseen and controlled its everyday operations. Lamar Greene's duties have included writing checks, executing notes and mortgages and agreements on behalf of the LLC, negotiating and signing contracts with engineers, architects and builders, signing deeds and closing papers as condominium units are sold and receiving earnest money deposits and the net proceeds from the sale of company assets and paying the bills of the limited liability company.

4. Currently, the limited liability company owns condominiums in Columbia, South Carolina, known as the "Spur," condominiums in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and land in Blacksburg, Virginia.

5. On or about September 12, 2007, the members owning 66.66% shares in the LLC learned that funds belonging to the Plaintiff had been misappropriated and paid either directly or indirectly to Lamar Greene or on the account of Lamar Greene.

FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION
(Breach of Fiduciary Duty)

6. The Plaintiff reiterates, realleges and reaffirms the prior allegations of this Complaint as if repeated herein verbatim.

7. The Defendant, Lamar Greene, breached his fiduciary duty to the Plaintiff pursuant to Section 33-44-409 of the S.C. Code of Laws, 1976, as amended, in that he engaged in intentional misconduct and a knowing violation of law by paying to himself or for his benefit funds from the limited liability company to which he was not entitled and he failed to account to the company and to hold as trustee for it the profits or benefits derived from its business.

8. As a direct and proximate result, the Plaintiff has been damaged and is entitled to actual and punitive damages.

A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
(Accounting)

9. The Plaintiff reiterates, realleges and reaffirms the prior allegations of this Complaint as if repeated herein verbatim.

10. The Plaintiff demands an accounting of funds for itself from the Defendant, Lamar Greene, for monies he received in the form of direct payments or payments for his benefit which were expended from the limited liability company.

11. The Plaintiff would further allege that non-limited liability company expenses were improperly paid by the Defendant, Lamar Greene, from company monies collected by him and that said funds should have been paid only for purposes of paying company expenses.

12. The Plaintiff is further informed and believes that funds collected by the Defendant, Lamar Greene belonging to the Plaintiff have not been properly accounted for and as a result, the Plaintiff believes it is entitled to a formal accounting in regards to all funds collection and all expenses claimed to have been paid by or on behalf of the limited liability company.

13. The Plaintiff is informed and believes that it is entitled to actual and consequential damages for its benefit as well as costs for having to bring this action; and for such other and further relief as this Court deems just and proper.

FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION
(For judicial expulsion of Lamar Greene as a member of Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC)

14. The Plaintiff reiterates, realleges and reaffirms the prior allegations of this Complaint as if repeated herein verbatim.

15. Pursuant to Section 33-44-601 of the S.C. Code of Laws, 1976, as amended, the Plaintiff alleges that Lamar Greene should be expelled from the limited liability company because he engaged in wrongful conduct that adversely and materially affected the company's business in that he misappropriated company's funds to the extent that the company now cannot meet its obligations. Further, he willfully and persistently committed a breach of the duty owed to the company and the other members under Section 33-44-409 of the S.C. Code of Laws, 1976, as amended. Finally, he engaged in conduct outlined above relating to the company's business which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the business with Lamar Greene.

FOR A FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Conversion)

16. The Plaintiff reiterates, realleges and reaffirms the prior allegations of this Complaint as if repeated herein verbatim.

17. The Plaintiff would allege that the limited liability company funds and property have been improperly diverted by and for the benefit of Defendant, Lamar Greene.

18. The Plaintiff is informed and believes that it is entitled to an order awarding them and the limited liability company actual and punitive damages together with interest thereon in the form of a judgment against the Defendant, Lamar Greene.

FOR A FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Judicial dissolution and winding up of company's business)

19. The Plaintiff reiterates, realleges and reaffirms the prior allegations of this Complaint as if repeated herein verbatim.

20. The Plaintiff believes that it is entitled to a judicial order for a dissolution and winding up of company's business pursuant to Section 33-44-801 of the South Carolina Code of Laws, 1976, as amended, in that Lamar Greene, another member, has engaged in conduct relating to the company's business that makes it not reasonable practicable to carry on the company's business with Lamar Greene and that Lamar Greene has acted in a manner that is unlawful, oppressive, fraudulent and unfairly prejudicial to the Plaintiffs.

FOR A SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Against the Defendants Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC, the Defendant, Lamar Greene and the Defendant, Gaston Engineering, Inc.)

21. The Plaintiff reiterates, realleges and reaffirms the prior allegations of this Complaint as if repeated herein verbatim.

22. The Plaintiff owns land in Tuscaloosa, Alabama on which a condominium project was developed and built. The Defendant, Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC was the general contractor employed by the Plaintiff to construct the condominium complex.

23. During the course of construction, the Defendant Lamar Greene presented a series of invoices to Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC in the name of Gaston Engineering, Inc. for engineering work in conjunction with the Tuscaloosa project totaling $187,500.00. Upon information and belief, the Defendant, Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC knew or should have known that the Defendant, Gaston Engineering, Inc. had not performed any engineering work on the Tuscaloosa project and that the same was a company, or entity or sole proprietorship owned by the Defendant, Lamar Greene. In spite of the fact that the Defendant, Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC knew or should have known that Gaston Engineering was owned and/or controlled by Lamar Greene and in fact did not provide valuable services for the Tuscaloosa project, the Defendant, Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC paid the invoices and then amended the contract taking line items out of the contract in order that the contract amount would not be increased.

24. The Defendant Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC owed a duty of care to the Plaintiff which was its customer for the construction project. It breached its duty of care by paying invoices which it knew or should have known were false and fraudulent.

25. As a result of the negligence and gross negligence of the Defendant, Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC and the fraud and deceit of the Defendant, Lamar Greene and Gaston Engineering, Inc. the Plaintiff has been damaged and is entitled to both actual and punitive damages.

FOR A SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION
(Against the Defendant, Lamar Greene and J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc.)

26. The Plaintiff reiterates, realleges and reaffirms the prior allegations of this Complaint as if repeated herein verbatim.

27. During the last three (3) years, the Defendant, Lamar Greene, has made various payments from accounts and monies belonging to the Plaintiff for the benefit of J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc. when Lamar Greene and J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc., knew that no services had been rendered to the Plaintiff by J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc. and that such payments operated as a fraud upon the Plaintiff.

28. As a direct and proximate result, Plaintiff is entitled to actual and punitive damages.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiff would pray for an Order of this Court:

1. Ordering a formal accounting from the Defendant, Lamar Greene, as well as actual and consequential damages and costs;

2. Awarding the Plaintiffs actual and punitive damages against the Defendants, Lamar Greene, J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Inc., Gaston Engineering, Inc. and Morgan and Bartos Builders, LLC;

For an Order immediately, temporarily, and permanently restraining and enjoining the Defendant, Lamar Greene, from acting on behalf of the company and requiring him to turn over any of the company's assets in his possession to the company or to the Receiver appointed by the Court as the case may be.

6. For the costs of this action; and,

7. For such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

ESTATE'S EXHIBITS:
EXHIBIT NO. 1..... 140

(THIS TRANSCRIPT MAY CONTAIN QUOTED MATERIAL. SUCH MATERIAL IS REPRODUCED AS READ OR QUOTED BY THE SPEAKER.)

THE COURT: For the record, this is 2008-CP-39-56, Palmetto State Enterprises versus Greene, and others. The case has been referred to me as a special referee.

Anything that needs to be stated on the record before we move into trial testimony, Mr. Price?

MR. PRICE: Nothing from my plaintiff, Your Honor, unless you want some kind of summary of the claims and allegations.

THE COURT: If I don't understand it by now, that's my fault and not yours.

MR. PRICE: Fair enough, Judge.

THE COURT: All right. And, Mr. Talley, anything for the record?

MR. TALLEY: I don't have anything, no, sir.

THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?

MR. HUNT: Yes, sir. If it please the Court, I want the Court to take particular notice of the fact that I was appointed by the probate judge of Pickens County on April the 10th and realized all of a sudden that we have a two-day trial coming up, certainly have not had time to hire counsel, nor to really investigate all the claims, and one of the hallmarks of this Estate, now that I get into it somewhat and start really delving into it, is there's not much there, Your Honor. And I just want the Court to be aware that we are trying – we're going to try to do the best we can with the limited resources – the no resources that we have at this point in time, and I did, in fact, ask the Court for a continuance, which the Court has denied. I understand and -- but I just want the record to be clear to that effect, that we have -- we've just been appointed, and it seems to me, Your Honor, under the order in November in this matter that there was -- should have been a 60-day time period. I understand what Your Honor has said. I just want to be sure that my -- I am protected in this.

And I also note for the record that everyone who may have had an interest in this matter has had ample notice to come here and participate, defend, et cetera, and so I view my function as certainly, one, trying to find some assets of the Estate, and understand that the -- the -- I understand the sum of the evidence that's about to be presented before this Court. I'm not in possession of anything to counter any of that evidence at this point in time, and I -- Mr. Talley is here, and he was relieved as counsel in March of this year representing the Estate of Mr. Greene. Then I was appointed in April. So I'm -- with that being said, I just want to -- again, I just want to let the record reflect what has transpired.

THE COURT: All right.

Mr. Price, anything you want to state relative to the request for a continuance?

MR. PRICE: Your Honor, just to reiterate my objection to the continuance and to briefly, for our benefit and even for

Mr. Hunt's benefit, just explain the reason for that. This case has been pending since 2008. Mr. Greene was living when it was filed. He passed during the pendency of the action. It was first on the trial docket in August of 2012. Judge Dennis and Mr. Talley and I jointly decided this was a case that would be better determined by a special referee finding facts than a jury. It was then set before you for November.

Your Honor, we had a hearing in October wherein Your Honor determined that it would be appropriate to continue the November hearing and to provide notice to everyone with an interest in the Probate Estate that this was pending, and then they would be given 45 days from the date of the notice to apply for the appointment of a PR or to somehow get the Estate -- get a personal representative appointed for the Estate and to -- then this case would be tried 60 days after that. So I read that as a 105-day period from your order, which I believe was dated December 9th. Today is, like, 154 days from that order. So they not only got the 105 from the order, they got an additional 40 something days.

Everybody who had appeared in the probate court -- was noticed was sent a copy of that order in December. Everybody with an interest in the Estate was sent a notice of hearing in March when this matter was scheduled by my office. Mr. Talley noticed the Court -- he sent a copy of your order relieving him as counsel to the probate court, and so to the extent there was delay by the Estate in getting a PR appointed, it was not the fault of anyone but the people with the interest in the Estate, and they had ample notice of the proceedings.

And so while I sympathize with Mr. Hunt's position -- I don't think it was any of his doing -- I don't think that it would be fair to the other people involved in this case, being the Plaintiff and the other Defendants, to continue it for a third time.

THE COURT: All right.

Mr. Talley, do you wish to be heard on --

MR. TALLEY: I don't have anything to add to that, no, sir.

THE COURT: All right.

And just for the record, yesterday afternoon my staff did receive a telephone call from attorney Hunt, who's a very fine attorney, asking that a continuance be granted based upon the unusual predicament he found himself in. I then scheduled a conference call with all three attorneys and denied Mr. Hunt's motion for a continuance based upon the fact that the case had already been continued back in November. I didn't want to continue it at that time, but procedurally it -- it was just such a mess that there were certain things that I felt needed to be done to get it ready for trial, and Mr. Price has filled in a lot of the -- a lot of the gaps on the reasons behind that. I required the attorneys at that time, Mr. Price and Mr. Talley, to send a copy of every ruling, to give notice of every hearing, every trial date, to anyone who may possess any type of interest in the Estate. I made clear that the case would not be continued once set again for trial and then, you know, had the conference call yesterday.

And, Mr. Hunt, I understand that you were appointed to represent the Estate a little over 30 days ago; is that correct?

MR. HUNT: 30 exactly, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So, based on the totality of the circumstances and the fact that this is a very old case, already been delayed, and I set a process and procedure to make sure it wouldn't be delayed again, those are the reasons that I denied the request.

So is there anything else you need on the record, Mr. Hunt?

MR. HUNT: Nothing, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay.

All right, Mr. Price, you can call your first witness.

MR. PRICE: Thank you, Your Honor.

Your Honor, the Plaintiff will call Mr. Mike Brown.

THE COURT: Come round and place your left hand on the Bible, please, sir. Raise your right hand. Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?

THE WITNESS: I do.

THE COURT: Okay. Have a seat, please.

10

THE WITNESS: Thank you.
THE COURT: And if you'll state your full name.
THE WITNESS: Michael Lee Brown.
EXAMINATION BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, if you don't mind, if you could tell the Court a little bit about yourself. What do you do for a living?
A. I'm an agent that represents NFL and college head and assistant football coaches and then also do some engineering and condo development consulting also.
Q. Okay. In terms of the engineering and condo development consulting, can you just give us a little bit of a better explanation in terms of what that's about?
A. In projects in Tuscaloosa and one getting ready to start in Blacksburg, I've been hired to provide marketing and management organization assistance in the -- with the developers that are doing projects.
Q. Okay. And do you have any sort of educational background or training that assists you in that consulting work?
A. I have a mechanical engineering degree from Clemson, an MBA from Florida, and since 2007 I have been the manager of Palmetto State, LLC, which was involved -- it was involved in condo development sales.
Q. Okay. And I understand at least part of what you do for a living is you represent football coaches as their agent?
A. That's correct.

Q. And are there any coaches connected to this matter that you represent as their agent?
A. Yes.
Q. Who are they?
A. Dabo Swinney at Clemson.
Q. Okay.
A. Coach Rich Rodriguez at Arizona.
Q. All right. What is -- how -- let me ask you this first: How long have you been an agent for football coaches?
A. Since around 2003.
Q. Okay. Is that your primary source of income?
A. It is.
Q. Where did you go to college?
A. I went to Clemson.
Q. And you majored in engineering?
A. Mechanical engineering.
Q. When did you graduate?
A. December 1979.
Q. What did you do for a living before you became an agent?
A. I worked in the aerospace industry in program management and marketing.
Q. What is your connection to the Plaintiff in this action, Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. I'm the manager of the LLC since September of 2007.

Q. Okay. Did you have a connection to the Plaintiff before you became manager?
A. Yes.
Q. Well, explain that.
A. Starting around 2000 -- it would have been in the spring of 2006, two of the members of the LLC, Rich Rodriguez and Ron West, asked me to become involved and start networking with Lamar Greene, who was the managing member of Palmetto States, to kind of just see what was going on, be able to talk back to them as to what was going on with the projects, how they were progressing and things like that.
Q. Okay. But you're here testifying in this lawsuit as the present day manager of Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. That's correct.
Q. And you've been manager since September of 2007?
A. September or October when maybe the final paperwork was signed.
Q. All right. And Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC, they're the Plaintiff in this lawsuit?
A. That's correct.
Q. Can you explain to the Court what this lawsuit is about?
A. The lawsuit is about recovering funds that were taken from the account and used for purposes other than building and developing condo developments.

Q. Okay. And can you identify the three Defendants?
A. The three defendants are the Estate of Lamar Greene, J & P Enterprises, and Julee Greene.
Q. J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Incorporated, is what exactly?
A. To my knowledge, it's a company who's headquartered in Gastonia, North Carolina. It was founded by Lamar Greene, and at the time that -- that I was aware -- familiar with Lamar, they were in the textile part replacement business.
Q. All right. And Julee Greene is who?
A. Julee Greene is Lamar's widow, and during the time of the condo development she was employed at J & P Enterprises handling, like, accounts receivable, accounts payable, bookkeeping type duties to my knowledge.
Q. And Lamar Greene was a member of Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC?
A. That's correct.
Q. What is Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC, generally speaking?
A. It was an LLC that was formed in around 2004 -- late 2004, 2005 with the mission to develop high end luxury condos near university campuses and football stadiums.
Q. Okay. And where were those -- where were the condos developed?
A. The first project was started and completed in

Columbia, South Carolina. The development was called The Spur, and it's located right next to Williams-Brice Stadium. Construction was completed in 2006, and the next project was The Legends of Tuscaloosa built in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. Construction started in 2006, and units were available for sale in 2007. There was a planned project in Blacksburg, Virginia, called The Legends of Blacksburg, which in September of 2007 only the land had been acquired, and at that time when I became manager of the LLC the project was put to a halt.

Q. Okay. So you had three projects in three different states. Was Palmetto State Enterprises the company that actually owned and sold the land that each of those projects was built on?

A. Yes. In each state you had to form your own separate LLC. For The Legends of Tuscaloosa the sole member of the Alabama LLC was Palmetto State. For The Legends of Blacksburg it was the same members of Palmetto State plus one other LLC member, Floyd Elliott.

Q. Okay. For most intents and purposes Palmetto State was treated as the holding company of these separate LLCs?

A. Yes.

Q. Who were the members of Palmetto State Enterprises?

A. The members were Lamar Greene, Jeff Greene, Rich Rodriguez and Ron West.

Q. Okay. And who is Rich Rodriguez?

A. Rich Rodriguez at the time the LLC was formed was the head football coach at West Virginia University.

Q. Okay. What – does he have a connection to the Clemson area?

A. In 1999 when Tommy Bowden was hired as head coach, Rich Rodriguez came in and served as an assistant football coach at Clemson University.

Q. What was Mr. Rodriguez's percentage of ownership?

A. 33 percent.

Q. Okay. Who is Ron West?

A. Ron West is an assistant football coach who at the same time that Coach Rodriguez came to Clemson came with Tommy Bowden in 1999 and served as an assistant coach at Clemson. He now coaches at the University of North Carolina.

Q. And what is his percentage ownership?

A. 33 percent.

Q. Who is Jeff Greene?

A. Jeff Greene is Lamar Greene's son and he works at J & P Enterprises and he himself was a member of the LLC.

Q. And what was his percentage of ownership?

A. 16 and a half percent.

Q. Okay. And Lamar Greene, who is he?

A. Lamar Greene was the managing member of the LLC, and his membership percentage was 16 and a half percent.

Q. Is Lamar Greene here today?

A. He is not.

Q. Why not?

A. He's deceased.

Q. Okay. Do you recall when he passed away?

A. It was a couple years ago. I can't remember the exact time.

Q. All right. When did you first meet Lamar Greene?

A. I met Lamar Greene in late 2005.

Q. And what were the circumstances of that meeting?

A. Ron West wanted me to meet Lamar, and Ron was telling me about the projects – the project that was going on in Columbia and that they had just gone and looked at land in Tuscaloosa in the summer of 2005. So Ron wanted me to hear about the projects, and then Coach Rodriguez and Ron after that time said, hey, we'd like for you to spend maybe a day a week with Lamar and kind of, you know, keep – act as their eyes on the project at that time.

Q. All right. Where did the money come from to buy the land and build these projects?

A. Well, the model was to get private investor money to accumulate enough so the total value of the construction loan and land cost – at that point in time you could get a loan to do such a project with only 10-percent equity. So the concept was to use private investor money to get the 10-percent equity to get the loan to acquire the land and build the building, and so that was the business model. In today's environment it takes about 50- or 60-percent equity.

Q. So there were private investors?

A. There were.

Q. Do you know who some of those investors were?

A. Yes.

Q. Who?

A. Let me see, Terry Don Phillips, Bill D'Andrea, Dabo Swinney. Let me see, go down the list here, Undra Johnson, Tony Gibson, Bill Stewart, the former West Virginia head football coach, Joe Wickline, who's a coach at Oklahoma State, Larry Fedora, who's the head football coach at the University of North Carolina, Rocky McIntosh, who played for the University of Miami and played for the Washington Redskins. Quite a long list.

Q. Do you have a general idea how much money was invested?

A. Over $3,000,000.

Q. And how would these investors get involved with Palmetto State Enterprises?

A. Lamar would – it was through a network of contacts that Lamar knew, and then having the relationships with Ron and Rich, got to meet – expand their network, and Lamar would tell people about the project and give them the opportunity to invest, and they would – and so the rate – promise rate of return could have been anywhere from 10, 12, 20, 50 and sometimes even, I believe, 100 percent in that.

Q. What to your knowledge were Coach Rodriguez's and Coach West's role with Palmetto State?
A. They were basically silent members. With their job responsibilities they had no time to get involved in the day-to-day affairs of the LLC, and so Lamar Greene was designated in the LLC operating agreement as the managing member.
Q. Okay. And so it's fair to say that Lamar Greene ran the company?
A. Yes.
Q. Did he handle the money?
A. Yes.
Q. And when did -- when did -- remind me again when you became involved with Palmetto State.
A. I became involved in late 2005, early 2006.
Q. And what were you doing exactly?
A. Well, as time went on there was a need more for -- when they especially started to do the Tuscaloosa and Columbia projects in parallel, just more need for help and oversight and things like that, and so with my marketing background and my engineering and organizational skills I became more involved.
Q. And I guess my question would be -- I'd like some understanding specifically what you were doing.
A. Eventually, as time went on in '06 and into early '07,

I helped with the marketing of the -- interfacing with the real estate group who was marketing the Tuscaloosa project, helped with the marketing at that point in time with The Spur development as they were getting ready to finish the building and start closing on units down there. They had unsold units.
So basically -- by 2007, I basically kind of handled the organization of that and the marketing, Jeff Greene handled all of the zoning type issues on developments and land acquisition, and Lamar was doing all the interfacing with the construction company, investors and handling all the money.
Q. Were you compensated for your work?
A. I was.
Q. How were you compensated?
A. My rate was $500 a day when I was -- on the days that I did work with them.
Q. Did your role at Palmetto State change over time?
A. Yes, it did.
Q. All right. How?
A. In 2007, September October time frame when Lamar Greene was removed as manager of the LLC and myself and Floyd Elliott were named the co-managers of the LLC.
Q. Okay. Coach West -- I guess football coaches tend to measure time in football games. He related what we're about to talk about in the discovery of what they felt were mismanaged funds to be around the Clemson Florida State game of 2007.

MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I object. Counsel's testifying. That's actually hearsay from another party.
MR. PRICE: Well, I didn't quite finish my question, but --
MR. TALLEY: I didn't hear a question.
THE COURT: You were kind of heading in the direction of some hearsay, so --
MR. PRICE: I was. Okay.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Does Labor Day 2007 seem reasonable?
A. Yes, around that time frame.
Q. Okay. And how, to your knowledge, was -- what we're here about today, how was that discovered?
A. In August of 2007, there were a couple things that happened. One is I finally -- I had access to the First Citizens monthly bank statements at that time and also, too, had access to the construction loan's bank statement at that time.
Q. Which construction loan?
A. It was the Tuscaloosa project construction loan.
Q. Okay.
A. And I discovered two things. One is there was a lot more money owed on the construction Tuscaloosa loan than -- than what should have been, and I contacted the loan officer and discovered there were improprieties. And then I went through the bank statements and discovered that there had been checks -- numerous checks written for personal use and to J & P Enterprises, and in August of 2007 I was so concerned I contacted Jeff Greene and met with Jeff Greene and showed Jeff the documents, and Jeff was as shocked as I was.

Q. All right. So when was this raised to the other members of the LLC's attention?
A. I raised it to Coach Rodriguez around Labor Day of 2007 and to Ron West about the same time.
Q. And as a result of that, what happened?
A. After first raising the issue to Jeff, Ron and Rich, I did more digging and investigating. I presented the evidence to Ron and Rich, and then they contacted Chris Olson in Clemson, South Carolina and retained him as legal counsel to represent them in trying to figure out what the situation was.
Q. And in the course of these legal proceedings, you and Floyd Elliott were appointed co-managers of Palmetto State?
A. Yes.
Q. And were you co-managers of any other companies?
A. No.
Q. Who is Floyd Elliott?
A. Floyd Elliott was a -- originally he was an investor in The Spur and the Tuscaloosa project, an individual investor who put money up as part of that equity model, and then eventually he became a member of The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC. That was an LLC that included the other three members of Palmetto State Enterprises with the intention to do a project in Blacksburg, Virginia.

Q. What is his role with the LLC today?
A. He doesn't have a role.
Q. Okay. Why not?
A. He resigned his position as manager of the LLC.
Q. When was that?
A. I would say it was probably around 2008.
Q. Okay. After you became manager of Palmetto State, what was your role then?
A. My role was to -- ultimately to finish and close out the -- all three different projects in Columbia, Tuscaloosa and Blacksburg, which detailed sales of remaining units, making sure all accounts payable were satisfied and all secured creditors and hopefully eventually unsecured creditors were satisfied.
Q. So you were working towards finishing the project and winding down the LLC?
A. Yes.
Q. How far along was The Spur at that time?
A. The Spur was completed and units were being sold. About 90 days prior to that in June of '07, Regions Bank, the bank who did the construction loan, had sent foreclosure notices to Palmetto State in regards to the construction loan was still outstanding, unpaid and past due, and so an arrangement was worked out with Regions Bank to conduct an auction of units at The Spur in July of 2007 to quickly raise cash to satisfy the construction note. So that auction was held, funds were raised enough to satisfy the construction note, and there were even more excess funds that were gathered, which eventually were used to pay off unsecured creditors. But there still remained some units that needed to be sold down there, and there were still some outstanding accounts payable.

Q. What about the project in Tuscaloosa?
A. The project in Tuscaloosa was just -- had just finished construction, and units were being closed in July, August of 2007 preceding the start of the 2007 football season down there.
Q. And the project in Blacksburg?
A. At that time the land had been acquired. In June of 2007, there was a banknote -- a loan that was used to acquire that land, and it was supposed to be converted over into a construction loan in September of 2007 at about the time the issues were discovered.
Q. So were you able to finish these projects?
A. The Columbia and Tuscaloosa projects, all the units were eventually completely sold, the accounts payable and secured creditors paid. The Legends of Blacksburg, that project did not go forward. A group came in and purchased the outstanding banknote from the bank, and they're off doing their project.

Q. Okay. You mentioned secured investors were paid in full. Were all the investors paid in full?
A. They were not.
Q. All right. Why not?
A. There were no funds left to pay the -- those investors.
Q. The unsecured investors?
A. That's correct.
Q. After you became manager of Palmetto State, did you attempt to identify moneys that were misappropriated?
A. Yes.
Q. How?
A. The -- your law firm at that time subpoenaed bank records from all of the known bank accounts that were in the name of Palmetto State, and we went back working with an accountant and identified all of the deposits into the accounts and all of the debits out of the accounts. So we did a very thorough job of tracing the money.
Q. So you compared the debit -- you identified the debits and attempted to identify whether they involved LLC business?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you have an idea of what LLC business would have been?
A. Yes.
Q. How?
A. Well, by being involved with the LLC since the 2005,

2006 time frame, traveling to the sites, I got to know, you know, who the construction companies were, who the subcontractors were and who basically was doing working business for the -- as part of the developments.
Q. How many bank accounts did Palmetto State have?
A. At the time I was the -- in 2007, I thought there was only one, but later came to discover there were around four or five.
Q. Okay. Where were all these accounts at?
A. Let me see. One was at Regions Bank. One was at NBSC. I remember those two. I can recall those two in addition to the First Citizens.
Q. Okay. And where would the money in those bank accounts have come from?
A. They came from deposits, moneys taken from investors. They actually went out and got some -- a personal loan in one case from a wealthy individual, in one case, and then in another case -- in South Carolina you're allowed to use deposits -- the 10-percent or 20-percent deposits that are put down as sales contracts.
Q. On condos?
A. On condos. And so in regards to The Spur development, moneys were taken out of the escrow account, held by who was going to be the closing attorney, and transferred out of that under the umbrella they were going to be used for executing the project, and those funds were used to set up one of the accounts.

Q. Did you personally investigate the bank records?
A. I did.
Q. And were you able to identify what expenses were legitimate and authorized and which were not?
A. To the best of my ability and knowledge.
Q. Do you believe that you're the best person – or that you are the person in the best position to testify today as to which charges or payments from Palmetto State accounts –
A. Yes.
Q. – were legitimate and which were not?
A. Yes.
Q. And why is that?
A. Basically because of my history of being able to observe all the actions of the LLC since about 2005, 2006, up until September of 2007.
Q. Okay.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, logistically speaking, I'd like to use two copies of the same exhibit, authenticated, and if it's admitted into evidence, allow each of you to review them contemporaneously.
THE COURT: That's fine.
MR. PRICE: I think you might follow better.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:

27

Q. Mr. Brown, I'm going to hand you an exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1. I'm handing you a copy also. If you can review the exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 and – first of all, have you ever seen that exhibit?
A. I have.
Q. Do you know what it is?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. What is it?
A. It's a spreadsheet of all of the checks written out of the First Citizens bank account set up to do Palmetto State Enterprises for – that were unallowable charges and did not relate to condo development business.
Q. Okay. Now, you said it's a spreadsheet. What's attached to it?
A. What's attached to it are the bank statements and checks starting when the account was opened in January 2005 until September 2007.
Q. And which account are we talking about?
A. The First Citizens account called – titled Palmetto Properties, LLC, in the name of Lamar Greene with 144 Riverpoint Drive, Clemson, South Carolina, as the address on the account.
Q. Were those banking records acquired, kept and maintained by Palmetto State in its regular course of business?
A. They were.
Q. And are they true and accurate copies of the records –

28

A. They are.
Q. – from the account?
Let me ask you about the spreadsheet. Who created the spreadsheet?
A. I created the spreadsheet.
Q. And do you believe that the spreadsheet marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 is a true and accurate summary of the unauthorized checks that Lamar Greene wrote out of the First Citizens account?
A. I do.
Q. And is the calculation on that spreadsheet derived from the charges reflected on the records that are attached to it?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And how much is that total?
A. The total is $748,069.42.
Q. And how did you calculate that amount?
A. I just summed up and added up all of the unallowable charges from January 2005 until September 2007.
Q. And is it your testimony that you believe that each of those charges shown on the spreadsheet did not go to pay legitimate company expenses and weren't authorized by –
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I've sat here and listened to him testify. Yes, yes, yes, from the witness. I think it's improper, and I think it ought to be – there's a particular way to ask a question and receive a proper answer, and I don't think we're seeing that right now. I think he's testifying. If he wants to take the stand, he ought to. I object.

THE COURT: So is your objection that he's leading?
MR. HUNT: Absolutely, yes, sir.
THE COURT: All right. Don't lead.
MR. PRICE: Yes, sir.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. What does that spreadsheet – what do you believe that shows?
A. It shows the First Citizens bank account, which Palmetto State was doing business – the total amount and also individual checks that were used by Lamar Greene that did not have anything to do with condo development business.
Q. How did you identify what charges were legitimate and which were not?
A. I would go through and look at who the – I looked at the dates, I looked at who the payee was, and in some cases it was pretty easy to see that they didn't have anything to do with condo development business. And then in a lot of cases he would – there were notations as to what the check was for. Based on the date, there was no way it could have been used for that.
MR. PRICE: Okay. At this time I'll move to enter Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 into evidence.
THE COURT: Any objection?

MR. TALLEY: No objection.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I -- before all this gets into the record, it just strikes me that there's a -- by their own documentation and their own spreadsheet -- for instance, on the first page, Tom James Engineering, Tuscaloosa, 2691, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera, and furniture in The Spur, you know, this and that -- I think that -- I'm very well aware of trying to minimize some of the time that we're going to take, but I notice that there's absolutely -- there's absolutely nothing backing up any of this, and so I object that it be received into evidence until then.
THE COURT: I will overrule your objection. I think that goes more to the weight to be given as opposed to the admissibility, and I think the case law is that as long as the witness is qualified to give his opinion -- you can certainly go into it on cross-examination with him and attempt to impeach his conclusions that he's drawn from these documents.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 1 was admitted into Evidence.)
MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.
THE COURT: Yes, sir.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, to the extent this exhibit's been moved into evidence, I would suggest that I hand the Court the exhibit and Mr. Brown review the copy. I think logistically that may --

31

THE COURT: That's fine. Could we do it the other way in case I need to make any notes on it?
MR. PRICE: Yes, sir.
THE COURT: Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, explain to us how to read that spreadsheet. I see that it has several columns.
A. Each check, which there's a copy of, and the following pages is numbered. The pages are numbered too, so we identify also which page it is on. The date column indicates the date that the check was written. The check number indicates what check it was. The payee is who the check was made out to, and the amount was what the amount was on the check.
Q. So the Court can use that to find the specific canceled checks listed on the spreadsheet and the banking records attached to it?
A. Yes.
Q. And what are the other columns on the spreadsheet? Those list the payee, the date, and the amount?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. What about the items highlighted in green? What does that signify?
A. Those were checks written to J & P Enterprises with -- with noted on the check, "loan."
Q. Remind us what J & P Enterprises is.

32

A. It was a company at that time that was owned by Lamar Greene and Jeff Greene and Julee Greene were employees at.
Q. Do you know whether it's still in business?
A. To the best of my knowledge, it still is.
Q. Do you know where?
A. Its headquarters is -- was, to my knowledge, in Gastonia, North Carolina.
Q. Okay. Who runs it now?
A. I believe Jeff does, Jeff Greene.
Q. Why would there be payments from a Palmetto State account to J & P Enterprises?
A. I have -- there should not have been.
Q. Is there any reason why that would be a legitimate company expense?
A. No.
Q. Is there any reason to believe that that was authorized by the other members?
A. It was not authorized by Ron West or Rich Rodriguez.
Q. What do you know then about how those payments came to pass?
A. What I know now is that Julee Greene, who was the bookkeeper at J & P Enterprises, would contact Lamar Greene and notify Lamar that there was not enough money in the J & P Enterprises' account to cover their accounts payable, and Lamar would authorize and tell Julee in some cases -- in some cases

Lamar did it himself -- to transfer money out of the Palmetto State's account into the J & P account. And so checks were written out of the Palmetto State's account to J & P Enterprises, some signed by Lamar Greene, some signed by Julee Greene, and I believe in almost all the cases the deposit tickets were filled out by Julee Greene.
Q. How many checks were written out of the First Citizens account to J & P Enterprises?
A. I count 25.
Q. And what is the subtotal of that amount?
A. The subtotal is $112,303.
Q. All right. So let me -- we know about the J & P Enterprises payments. Let me ask you about a few of the other payments. What about Item Number 69, 118, 124, 135, 152, or 170? Who were those payments made to?
A. They were made out to Darren Bruce Ministries.
Q. Were those legitimate business expenses?
A. They were not.
Q. Who is Darren Bruce?
A. Darren Bruce at one time was the team chaplain for the Clemson football team and was -- at some point was no longer the team chaplain, and he started up his own ministry, I believe, located in Anderson, South Carolina.
Q. What would he have done for Palmetto State?
A. He was a minister. I don't know what he would have done.

Q. What about Item Number 154? What is that?
A. 154 is made out to Clyde Turney Builder for 2,571.
Q. Was that a legitimate business expense of Palmetto State?
A. It was not.
Q. What was that payment for?
A. It was used to do work on Lamar and Julee Greene's residence in Gaffney, South Carolina.
Q. How do you know that?
A. How do I know that? I heard Julee testify to it in her deposition.
Q. Okay. What about Item Number 47, which was a $500 payment to Riverpoint Dock Association?
A. That was not a legitimate company expense.
Q. All right. What is Riverpoint?
A. Riverpoint was a development in Clemson, South Carolina, that Lamar Greene, I believe, was the developer and actually built a house which he was residing in and is the development where the -- actually is the address on the checking account that we're going through right now.
Q. All right. Let's turn to Page 20 if you don't mind. Let's talk -- Mr. Hunt raised these issues about Tom James, the engineer, so let's talk about them. If you turn to Page 20 of the bank records --

A. Yep.
Q. -- do you see a $2,139.37 check to Tom James?
A. I do.
Q. All right. What's that item number?
A. The item number is 38.
Q. Okay. And what does it say that check is for on the memo line?
A. Engineer.
Q. All right. Turn to Page 27. Do you see the check labeled Item Number 54?
A. I do.
Q. Who is that to?
A. Tom James.
Q. How much is it for?
A. $2,000.
Q. What does it say on the memo line?
A. "Engineering design."
Q. Okay. Turn to Page 34. What is Item 65?
A. Let's see here. Tom James.
Q. How much?
A. $2,679.
Q. What does it say in the memo line?
A. Engineering.
Q. Do you know if Tom James is really an engineer?
A. He's not an engineer.

Q. What is he?
A. He's a clothier, a tailor, out of Spartanburg, South Carolina.
Q. Okay. Do you know -- do you believe that that was an authorized expenditure of Palmetto State?
A. Yes, it was unauthorized.
Q. It was unauthorized?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. Why would those checks if they were to a clothier say engineer on them?
A. I have no knowledge or idea why.
Q. All right. Are there other expenses that you'd like to point out to the Court?
A. There's a few here, yes. There's checks written out to Furniture Showcase. Item Number 79, Item Number 83, they were -- Item Number 93, 83, 79, they were used to buy furniture for personal use by Lamar Greene that was placed in his Riverpoint condo and also the condo he owned at Clemson Towers.
Q. Okay. Are there other expenditures?
A. Yeah. Let me see here. Yes, there were two checks written to Carolina Plastic Surgery, one for 13,000, and I know there was a second one somewhere about the same time. But Carolina Plastic Surgery, that was paid for Lamar to have plastic surgery.
Q. Okay. What about Item 78 on Page 38?

A. Talley Law Firm, Spur legal.
Q. Okay. I know that Mr. Talley represents the Defendants, J & P and Julee Greene, and has in the past represented Lamar Greene in this action. To your knowledge, did the Talley Law Firm ever provide legal services to Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. Not at that time.
Q. Okay. Are there any other charges you'd like to address on that exhibit?
A. No, not at this time.
Q. Okay. Why are the charges that are listed on that exhibit listed on that exhibit.
A. This is funds that were taken out of this bank account that was supposed to be going toward condo development that were not used for condo development and in many cases were for personal use by Lamar Greene.
Q. So you have personally reviewed every single itemization on that list?
A. I have.
Q. And you believe that all of them were unauthorized and not for legitimate purposes?
A. Yes.
Q. I'm going to show you another exhibit. This is Plaintiff's Exhibit 2. Can you identify the exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 2?

A. It's records of a bank account in the name of Palmetto State Enterprises with Regions Bank.
Q. Okay. Where was that bank account held?
A. Pardon me?
Q. You said it's at Regions Bank?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Okay. And what does that exhibit specifically consist of?
A. What it does – it consists of monthly bank statements showing the deposits, the debits, and canceled checks from that account starting in June of 2005 through September 2007.
Q. Okay. And those banking records, those are from the Palmetto State account at Regions Bank?
A. Yes.
Q. And were those banking records acquired, kept, and maintained by Palmetto State in its regular course of business?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Are they true and accurate copies of the banking records kept by Palmetto State?
A. Yes.
Q. And then is there a spreadsheet attached to it?
A. There is.
Q. And what is the spreadsheet?
A. The spreadsheet gives a summary of the unallowable charges that were identified in these bank statements. Each one of the charges, whether it was a debit or check, is identified by a number. The page that that record is on is – the page number is given, the date of the transaction, the check number, the payee, and the amount.

Q. Who created that spreadsheet?
A. I did.
Q. And is the calculation of charges reflected on the spreadsheet summary derived from the records attached to it?
A. Yes.
Q. How much is the total of the charges – the unauthorized charges from Regions Bank?
A. $70,987.14.
Q. How did you calculate that amount?
A. I went up and added all of the unallowable charges since the – since June of 2005 through September of 2007.
Q. All right. Was any of those charges paid to J & P Enterprises?
A. There were.
Q. How are they signified on the spreadsheet?
A. They're outlined and highlighted in green.
Q. Okay. How much was paid to J & P Enterprises?
A. $11,984.65.
Q. Okay. How did you identify what charges were legitimate and what – and authorized and which were not?
A. You could go through and look at the location, the dates, who the payees were made out to. For example, in many cases I knew Lamar – his schedule was every Monday he did J & P Enterprises business, and so I went through and any of the – he would travel from Clemson to Gastonia and back on Mondays conducting J & P business. So I went through and looked at the dates and identified those Mondays, and those charges were unallowable.

Then a lot – there were a lot of charges for gas and meals on weekends, and I went through and looked at that and then again who the payees were. For example, there was quite a number of charges to a Sam's Town Hotel in January of 2006, which I believe is a gambling resort in Louisiana.
Q. Okay.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, at this time I'd move to enter Plaintiff's Exhibit 2 into evidence.
THE COURT: Any objection, gentlemen?
MR. TALLEY: No.
THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 2 was admitted into Evidence.)
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, if I could provide you a copy of Exhibit 2.
THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, are there any particular charges that you'd like to point out to the Court on Plaintiff's Exhibit 2?

A. Not at this time.
Q. You mentioned some charges like on Mondays or to the Sam's Club. You could just show us the page and item so we could see that.
A. Sam's Club is Item 41 through 48 on Page Number 15. They were check card expenses. There's actually a couple I want to point out. One was Item Number 13, Statement Page Number 6 and 7, a check to Lew Jordan for $6,000. Lew Jordan is a realtor in Clemson, South Carolina, who had nothing to do with the projects under Palmetto State, but he was – Lamar Green did do a previous development in Clemson called the Clemson Towers, which was just finishing completion at the time that Palmetto State was formed, and Lew Jordan was a realtor who marketed the properties down there. And so this was a check written to Lew Jordan to cover moneys owed to him under the Clemson Towers project.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, will the Court permit me to stick my head out the door for 30 seconds and ask Mr. Wooten something?
THE COURT: Certainly.
(Discussion off the record.)
MR. PRICE: Thank you, Your Honor.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, did you personally review each of the items shown on that spreadsheet?

A. I did.
Q. Can you tell the Court why you would have included each of those items?
A. In my mind, they did not have anything to do with real estate development under the umbrella of Palmetto State to do projects in Columbia, Tuscaloosa, or Blacksburg, Virginia.
Q. Okay. I'm going to hand you another exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 3. Can you identify Plaintiff's Exhibit 3, Mr. Brown?
A. It's a summary page with backup of checks written out of an account at NBSC, and then also there -- it also includes records from the First Citizens bank account of cash withdrawals made from January of '05 through September of '07 and also includes records of a wire transfer out of the First Citizens account.
Q. Let me see that.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, we had a stapling error on Exhibit 3 that I'm going to try to rectify. Let the record reflect there was an exhibit of cash withdrawals that we intend to treat as a separate exhibit that I've removed from the exhibit marked Exhibit 3.
THE COURT: Do you need some clips?
MR. PRICE: It wouldn't hurt. I think I've --
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:

Q. Mr. Brown, I'm going to hand you the modified Plaintiff's Exhibit 3, and if you can just state for the record what that is.
A. It is -- it's a summary of checks written out of an account at NBSC under an account that was opened up with Palmetto State Enterprises with the address being 144 Riverpoint Drive, Clemson, South Carolina 29631. The Riverpoint Drive address was also Lamar Greene's place of residence.
Q. Okay. Let me ask you about those banking records. Those are records from a Palmetto State account at NBSC?
A. Correct.
Q. Are they records that were acquired, kept, and maintained by Palmetto State in its regular course of business?
A. Yes.
Q. Are they true and accurate copies of the banking records?
A. Yes.
Q. And the spreadsheet attached to that, what is that?
A. The spreadsheet -- after going through and looking at copies of checks from that account, this spreadsheet is a summary of those checks which were unallowable -- which I considered to be unallowable and did not have anything to do with Palmetto State Enterprises' condo developments.
Q. Who created that summary?
A. I did.

44

Q. And the calculations on it are reflected from the records attached to it?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I'd move to enter Plaintiff's Exhibit 3 into evidence.
THE COURT: All right.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 3 was admitted into Evidence.)
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, what is the total of unallowable charges shown on that exhibit?
A. $26,227.01.
Q. And how did you calculate that amount?
A. I added up all of the amounts of the unallowable checks and came up with that amount.
Q. Was any of that paid to J & P Enterprises?
A. $6,300 were.
Q. Okay. And how are the payments to J & P Enterprises signified?
A. They're highlighted in green on the summary sheet, and then the related checks are identified by the item number and the statement page number.
Q. Okay. And you specifically reviewed each of the items shown on that spreadsheet?

A. I have.
Q. Can you tell us why you would have included each of those items?
A. They did not have anything to do with Palmetto State's condo development.
Q. Are there any particular charges that you would like to point out to the jury?
A. Sure.
Q. The Court rather.
A. I can go down -- The Spur development construction loan did not close until the summer of 2005, and usually it takes a long time to build a building before you need any granite countertops. So Star Granite -- and at the same time the Clemson Towers was still being finished. So the check to Star Granite for $5,519 went to countertops for Clemson Towers, which was a Lamar Greene development and not Palmetto State's. The check to Superior Fitness, I'm pretty sure, went to buy the workout equipment that went in the room. National City Mortgage, that looked like an amount for a personal type mortgage. J & P -- Palmetto State did not have any accounts or mortgages with National City. We had Countertop Solutions again. Lowden (phonetic) Construction is a construction company, I believe, in Seneca, South Carolina, and I do believe they did work at the Clemson Towers. Barton Builders did work at the Clemson Towers. They did no work at all on any of the condo developments. And there's another $6,000 check to Lew Jordan, who was the realtor on the Clemson Towers project, and Lew Jordan had nothing to do with any of the marketing or real estate work with any of the three Palmetto State development projects.

Q. Mr. Brown, I'm going to hand you another exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 4. Mr. Brown, can you identify the exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 4?

A. What it is is a list of -- ask your question again.

Q. Can you tell us what that exhibit is, Plaintiff's Exhibit 4?

A. What it is is -- from all of the Palmetto State First Citizens bank account monthly statements, it's copies of the monthly statements where there were direct debits from the account to an account at Greenville First Bank. And then the first page is a summary of when those transfers started and the amount and what the total amounts were of all those individual direct debits to Greenville First.

Q. Now, those bank records, were they acquired, kept, and maintained by Palmetto State in its regular course of business?

A. They were.

Q. Are they true and accurate copies of Palmetto State's banking records?

A. Yes.

Q. Who created the summary?

47

A. I did.

Q. Okay. And what does it list?

A. What it does -- the letter identifies each individual debit in the following monthly statements and what page number that debit can be found, the date it was made, and what the transaction number -- account number that it went into and the amount.

Q. Okay.

MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I'd move to enter that into evidence.

THE COURT: All right.

MR. TALLEY: No objection.

(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 4 was admitted into Evidence.)

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:

Q. Mr. Brown, if you can explain to us the significance of the automatic debits listed on Plaintiff's Exhibit 4.

A. The significance is these debits were made and payments were made to Greenville First Bank on a monthly basis, and they had nothing to do with the condo developments by Palmetto State.

Q. These were automatic debits out of the First Citizens account?

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay. And what I want to be clear about is these debits were in addition to the $748,000 in checks that are listed on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1; correct?

48

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Who do you -- who or what do you believe those debits were paid to?

A. They were paid for an account that had to do with Lamar Greene's personal -- personal loan or something. Whatever. It did not have anything to do with Palmetto State's business.

Q. How did you identify them?

A. Well, first of all, you can go through and -- there were never -- there was a point in time where the members of the LLC -- the LLC did take a loan out at Greenville First, but it was at a date later than what the start date was of these transactions. It was like later in 2006 that that took place. The first transaction here started in February of 2005, and you can tell by the transaction number that it went into the same account at Greenville First Bank.

Q. Okay. And -- so you're confident that these did not pay Palmetto State's expenses?

A. Very confident.

Q. Okay. What is the total amount shown on that exhibit?

A. $16,440.01.

Q. And that is in addition to the unauthorized charges shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1?

A. Correct.

49

Q. I'm going to hand you another exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 5. Mr. Brown, can you identify Plaintiff's Exhibit 5?

A. Yes. It's a summary of the salary history that Lamar Greene was paid for acting as the managing member of Palmetto State, LLC, from July 2005 until September 2007.

Q. Okay. What are the records attached to it?

A. The records are copies of checks from the First Citizens account that were made out to Lamar Greene designated as salary.

Q. Were those records acquired, kept, and maintained in the regular course of Palmetto State business?

A. Yes.

Q. And they're true and accurate copies?

A. They are.

Q. Who created the spreadsheet?

A. I created the spreadsheet.

Q. All right. And is that a true and accurate summary?

A. Yes, it is.

MR. PRICE: I move to enter that into evidence, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right.

(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 5 was admitted into Evidence.)

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:

50

Q. Mr. Brown, I'm going to provide the Court a copy of Plaintiff's Exhibit 5 and then ask you to explain to the Court how to read that.

A. What it does -- it lists in chronological order beginning in July 2005 the salary payments that I know of that were made to Lamar Greene. In the first project, on The Spur construction loan with Regions Bank, there was an agreement as an allowable expense under the umbrella of that construction loan that Lamar would be paid $10,000 as the managing member of the LLC. So what happened is there were -- he would put in a draw request to the loan officer at Regions Bank and then the loan officer would approve it and a cashier's check would be made out to Lamar Greene for the amount of $10,000.

So I identified those salary payments that came out of the Regions Bank construction loan for The Spur, and then in addition to that went through the First Citizens account and identified the checks that were written to Lamar Greene and designated as salary and/or bonuses.

Q. There's a couple parts there, so I want to try to break that down. Mr. Greene was supposed to be paid a salary by Palmetto State?

A. He was.

Q. How much?

A. $10,000 a month.

Q. And that started when?

51

A. Started in July of 2005.

Q. Until when?

A. It continued up until he was removed as the member manager in September of 2007.

Q. Okay. Would you agree that that's 27 months total?

A. I do.

Q. All right. 27 times 10,000 is 270,000?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. So is it your belief that Lamar Greene paid himself more salary than he was authorized to pay himself?

A. Yes.

Q. How much more?

A. $76,881.

Q. And how did you calculate that number?

A. I went through and summed up all of the cashier's checks from the Regions Bank account and all of the checks written to Lamar Greene from the First Citizens account designated as salary, bonus, or otherwise.

Q. Okay. And that amount -- that $76,881, is that in addition to the 748,000 shown on Exhibit 1?

A. It is.

Q. Is it in addition to the 16,000 from the First Citizens account shown on Exhibit 4?

A. It is.

Q. I'm going to hand you another document marked

52

Plaintiff's Exhibit 6. Mr. Brown, if you can tell us what's shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 6?

A. Plaintiff's Exhibit 6 is bank statements and -- that identifies checks -- where checks were written out to cash that Lamar cashed and took the -- and received the cash and then also, too, a bank statement that identifies a wire transaction, and it's summarized on the spreadsheet by identifying the transaction with a letter the page number following. In the exhibit is identified the date the transaction -- the check was written or the wire was completed, what it was made out to, and the amount.

Q. All right. And there are bank records attached?

A. There are.

Q. Were those bank records acquired, kept, and maintained by Palmetto State in its regular course of business?

A. They were.

Q. Are they true and accurate copies?

A. They are.

Q. Who created the spreadsheet?

A. I created the spreadsheet.

Q. And is that -- the calculation reflected on that, is that derived from the records attached to it?

A. Yes.

MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I'd move to enter Plaintiff's Exhibit 6 into evidence.

THE COURT: All right.

(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 6 was admitted into Evidence.)

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:

Q. Mr. Brown, remind me what that list shows.

A. It shows checks written to cash from the J & P -- I mean, from the Palmetto State's bank account at First Citizens Bank and also a record of a wire transfer.

Q. Do you have any idea what the checks written to cash are for?

A. I have no idea.

Q. Was there any documentation kept as to what they were for?

A. There was no documentation kept or provided at any time to the Palmetto State's accountant in regards to these cash transactions.

Q. How much total undocumented cash written out of the First Citizens account?

A. $22,005.

Q. And that's in addition to the 748,000 in unauthorized charges shown in Plaintiff's Exhibit 1?

A. It is.

Q. Is it in addition to the salary shown in Plaintiff's Exhibit 5?

A. It is.

54

Q. Is it in addition to the automatic debits out of the First Citizens account shown in Plaintiff's Exhibit 4?
A. It is.
Q. Okay. What's the story with the wire listed at the bottom of that exhibit?
A. The wire for the amount of $16,039 was completed in February of 2006. The date is the 28th. That is about the time that J & P Enterprises filed for bankruptcy in the Western District Court of North Carolina, and it was later identified that the wire went to the law firm that was on record at that time as representing J & P Enterprises in their bankruptcy transaction. And Julee Greene in her deposition stated the same, that this wire transfer was used to pay legal expenses for J & P Enterprises' bankruptcy filing.
Q. And what is the name of that law firm?
A. I can't recall at this time.
Q. Okay. And that was an additional $16,039?
A. It was. It was a law firm located in Charlotte, North Carolina.
Q. Is that in addition to the other charges that we've itemized that benefited J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Do you believe that it would properly be -- it would be proper to include that in the total amount that was paid to J & P Enterprises?

55

A. Yes. It didn't go toward condo development.
Q. I'm going to hand you another exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 7. Mr. Brown, can you identify Plaintiff's Exhibit 7?
A. Yes, I can. Morgan & Bartos was a general contractor hired to, and they did, build the Tuscaloosa condo building, and what these are are change orders submitted to Morgan & Bartos above the amount of the original construction loan amount. There's a change order request, invoices that were then submitted for work supposedly done under those change orders, and then checks that were written by Morgan & Bartos using construction loan proceeds to Gaston Engineering.
Q. Okay. Were these records acquired, kept, and maintained by Palmetto State in the regular course of its business during the Tuscaloosa project?
A. I'm not sure if they were during -- done during -- yes, they were during the course, yes. I went back and obtained them while the project was still going on.
Q. Okay. Are they true and accurate copies of those records?
A. They are.
Q. Who created the summary attached to the project records?
A. I did.
Q. And what does it show?

56

A. It shows the check -- it shows the change order number during the course of the project development, the date the check was written in regards to paying for that change order work, the check number, and who the payee was and who -- and what the reason was and what the amount was.
Q. Okay. Do you believe that that spreadsheet is a true and accurate summary of the payments made to Gaston Engineering?
A. I do.
Q. And the calculation on that summary is derived from the records attached to it?
A. Yes.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I'd move to enter Plaintiff's Exhibit 7 into evidence.
THE COURT: All right.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 7 was admitted into Evidence.)
MR. PRICE: Mr. Brown, do you need some water?
THE WITNESS: Yeah, that would be nice.
MR. PRICE: You've been up there for a while.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. How much is the total payments that were made to this thing called Gaston Engineering?
A. $187,500.
Q. Okay. Do you believe that those payments were for legitimate company expenses?

57

A. No.
Q. Do you believe they were authorized by the other members of Palmetto State?
A. No.
Q. Okay. What is Gaston Engineering?
A. It's nothing.
Q. What do you mean by that?
A. The company does not exist.
Q. Okay. What do you mean by that?
A. It was supposed -- if you look at the invoices, Gaston Engineering, the address in Gastonia, North Carolina -- if you search the North Carolina and even South Carolina corporation records, there's no record of a Gaston Engineering in any -- in either state.
Q. Okay. Well, if you turn to the fourth page of the exhibit, it's a check to Gaston Engineering in the amount of $150,000.
A. Yes.
Q. What's the address listed under Gaston Engineering?
A. P.O. Box 977.
Q. All right. Where -- P.O. Box 977 where?
A. In Gastonia, North Carolina.
Q. Do you recognize that address?
A. Yes. There are certain documents related to J & P Enterprises that shows at one time that was their mailing address.

Q. All right. If you turn to the next page, which shows the back of that check, whose name endorsed the check on behalf of Gaston Engineering?
A. Lamar Greene.
Q. What did Gaston Engineering purportedly do on the project?
A. Say your question again.
Q. What is it that Gaston Engineering purportedly did on the Tuscaloosa project to justify that payment?
A. They didn't do anything.
Q. Okay. And how many checks are there?
A. There's three.
Q. What's the total amount?
A. $187,500.
Q. Explain to us the significance of the change orders and how they impacted the project as a whole.
A. What happened was in the -- the $187,500 was used from the construction loan amount to pay for work that was not completed. Thus, at the end of the project, you were short $187,500 to pay off the construction loan, which required more condos to be sold, and proceeds that could have gone to pay creditors off could have been used. But instead this $187,500 out of the construction loan was used for work that was never completed.

Q. And so that meant at the end of the day there was $187,500 less profits?
A. Yes.
Q. I'm going to ask you -- and it's hard to read, I admit. The third page of that exhibit is an invoice for -- from Gaston Engineering.
A. That's correct.
Q. What does it say on there that that invoice is for?
A. Consulting for value engineering at The Legends of Tuscaloosa project.
Q. Okay. And what is your understanding of what value engineering is?
A. Value engineering is going in and looking at the design and processes and trying to find a way to do the project in a quicker, more efficient manner reducing cost and time.
Q. All right. And thus increasing profit?
A. Yes.
Q. How is value engineering any different than what any responsible developer does in developing a project?
A. A responsible developer should have that experience already.
Q. And by that you mean that a responsible developer should be trying to maximize his profit?
A. Yes.
Q. Was Lamar Greene authorized by the other members of the 60

LLC to bill the Tuscaloosa project an additional $187,500 for this work trying to maximize profit?
A. No.
Q. Do you know whether they even knew about the change orders?
A. They did not know.
Q. Are you able -- based on your experience with the project and your investigation afterwards, are you able to identify any work that Lamar Greene did on the Tuscaloosa project that justified billing an additional 187,500 above his agreed compensation by the LLC?
A. No.
Q. Okay. I'm going to hand you another document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 8. Mr. Brown, can you tell us what is shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 8?
A. The exhibit lists by separate entity source the amount of unallowable funds or transactions that took place that impacted Palmetto State Enterprises during -- from January of 2005 until September of 2007 that had nothing to do with condo business.
Q. The calculations shown on that summary, are they derived from the calculations shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 through 7?
A. They are.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I would move to enter

61

Plaintiff's Exhibit 8 into evidence.
THE COURT: All right.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 8 was admitted into Evidence.)
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, can you tell us the total amount of unauthorized charges made by Mr. Greene?
A. Yes. It's $1,164,148.58.
Q. Okay. And so is it your position as the manager of Palmetto State that Mr. Greene essentially stole that money from the accounts that he had access to?
A. Mr. Greene, J & P Enterprises, and Julee Greene.
Q. Okay. How much of that money that was removed from Palmetto State's accounts do you believe that Mr. Greene, Mrs. Greene, or J & P Enterprises actually put in those accounts in the first place?
A. None.
Q. None?
A. That's correct.
Q. So it --
A. To my knowledge. To my knowledge.
Q. So, to your knowledge, all of the money that was removed from those accounts came from other people?
A. That's correct.
Q. Have all of those people been paid back?

62

A. They have not.
Q. Why not?
A. Because in finishing off the projects, paying the secured creditors, and with the decline of the real estate market at about the same time that these issues arose, there were not enough funds to pay back the unsecured creditors.
Q. Mr. Brown, in the event that the Court does find that these Defendants converted to their own use over a million dollars of Palmetto State's money, would you ask this Court to award interest according to the law?
A. Yes.
Q. And in the event that the Court does find that it is appropriate to award interest, are you willing to calculate that interest from the approximate date that the conversion was discovered rather than trying to go and calculate it from each individual charge?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So tell us what is reflected on Plaintiff's Exhibit 9.
A. It's a calculation of interest by 12-month periods starting in September – on September 3rd of 2007 all the way up until today.
Q. Okay.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I would move to enter Plaintiff's Exhibit 9 into evidence.

63

THE COURT: All right.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, before it comes in the record, please, sir, add some explanation, if I might, how they arrived at the 8.75.
THE COURT: I think that's an appropriate question as far as the rate you used.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, my understanding of the law is that an appropriate award of damages for conversion is the prejudgment interest rate. It's referred to as the legal rate, which I'm –
THE COURT: Do you have the statute?
MR. PRICE: Yes, sir. Or it may be case law. I'll identify it specifically for you if you'll give me just a minute. Your Honor, I rely on Anderson's Civil Request to Charge, Section 3-3, which is for conversion of money, and it states – and I'll hand this up to the Court – that money may be the subject of conversion, and in such an event that there is a conversion the proper measure of damages is the amount of money converted plus the legal rate of interest. I searched the statutes in an attempt to determine what the legal rate of interest was and found Section 34-31-20, which states – it's titled, "Legal Rate of Interest," and states that it's 8.75 per annum. So –
MR. HUNT: I think the better explanation of that is what the Wall Street Journal prime rate is plus 4, as I recall.

THE COURT: And it's been a while since I looked at it, but I understand that there is a state statute that provides the prejudgment rate of interest.
MR. HUNT: In the Supreme Court, I think, every spring –
MR. TALLEY: January.
MR. HUNT: Every January it sets forth what the legal rate is.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, that is –
THE COURT: That's the judgment rate post-judgment.
MR. HUNT: All right.
THE COURT: But I'll certainly give you a chance to look at that, Mr. Hunt.
MR. HUNT: Thanks.
THE COURT: Thank you.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 9 was admitted into Evidence.)
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. I believe the question that I asked you, Mr. Brown, was if you could tell us how much interest you believe has accrued on the $1,164,148.58 that was converted from September 3rd, 2007, to May 9th, 2013.
A. $711,120.69.
Q. So would you ask that in the event that the Court finds that a conversion of that amount of money did take place that

65

Palmetto State also be awarded prejudgment interest in that amount?
A. Yes.
Q. And so what is the total then that you're asking the Court to award Palmetto State Enterprises as a result of the conversion, including the legal interest?
A. $1,875,269.27.
Q. And those calculations are accurately reflected on the document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 9?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Mr. Brown, to this point we've not really discussed Juleen Greene, who is also a defendant in this matter. Who is Juleen Greene?
A. Juleen Greene is the widow of Lamar Greene, and at the time of the condo development she was married to Lamar. She resided with Lamar at both their Clemson Riverpoint address and their Gaffney address. There was a period of time during the condo development I believe they were separated. She was employed at J & P Enterprises during that time basically, from what the best of my knowledge is, as – in a bookkeeping capacity, handling accounts payable and accounts receivable.
Q. What exactly does Palmetto State allege that Ms. Greene did for her to be a defendant in this action?
A. Ms. Greene was involved in the transfer of funds from the various bank accounts to J & P Enterprises.

66

Q. Okay. When did you discover her role?
A. This case has been delayed so long. I guess it would be maybe two years ago. As we were going through the case, I was looking at the checks further and noticed that the checks written by Lamar Greene to J & P Enterprises -- it was not only his handwriting on the checks but Julee's handwriting, too.
Q. Okay. I'm going to hand you a document -- an exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 10. Can you identify that exhibit?
A. It's an exhibit that has copies of checks written to J & P Enterprises, Julee Greene, Gaston Engineering, and Clyde Turney, and J & P Security, which is a copy of the checks that -- and then also the deposit tickets, and I believe on the checks they also have the endorser of the checks.
Q. Okay. But essentially those are additional copies of canceled checks out of Palmetto State's accounts?
A. Copies of Palmetto State's accounts, and I believe there's one check in here from Morgan & Bartos to Gaston Engineering.
Q. Okay. Are they additional checks, or are they copies of checks that we've already looked at?
A. Copies of checks we've already looked at.
Q. Okay. So these checks can also be found in certain of the other plaintiff's exhibits?
A. That's correct.
Q. And why are they significant to you that you pulled them out and made them a separate exhibit?

A. Because Julee Greene was involved in these transactions by either filling the check out, by filling the check out and also signing Lamar's name, and also filling out the deposit tickets.
Q. How do you know that that's Ms. Greene's handwriting?
A. She admitted to it in her deposition.
Q. Okay. Why did you believe that that was her handwriting prior to her deposition?
A. If you look at, for example, Check 1036, the first on Page Number 1, the handwriting to J & P Enterprises is different than the handwriting of the signature. So I went back and looked at other documents that I know Julee had signed that were part of -- collected in my being manager of the LLC, and that's her handwriting filling out J & P Enterprises to a T.
Q. What is the total amount of the checks that you believe that Ms. Greene either -- was either the direct payee or filled out or endorsed?
A. $67,146.
Q. And 93 cents?
A. 93 cents.
Q. And is that calculation reflected on the summary attached to Plaintiff's Exhibit 10?
A. It is.
Q. Is it derived from the records attached to the summary?

68

A. It is.
Q. Do you believe that to be true and accurate?
A. I do.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I'd move to enter Plaintiff's Exhibit 10 into evidence.
THE COURT: All right.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 10 was admitted into Evidence.)
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, the $67,000 and some change in unauthorized checks that's shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 10, is that number included in the $1,164,148.58?
A. It is.
Q. Okay. So it's not $67,000 extra?
A. It is not.
Q. All right. How much of the full $1,164,148.58 do you believe Julee Greene directly benefited from?
A. I believe she benefited quite a lot. In Lamar Greene's deposition, which I witnessed, he admitted to a lot of those checks as being personal use, and having been married to Lamar at that time those types of travel type stuff, the furniture acquisition -- for example, the furniture that was bought was put into a residence at Clemson Towers where that residence was sold with the furniture included, which Lamar and Julee received the proceeds, and actually the residence that's still, I think, part of the estate at 144 Riverpoint includes furniture that was bought out of this account. There was a lot of travel and meals that were unallowable that she received benefit from. So there was a lot of benefit she received from these unallowable charges.

Q. Do you believe she knew what Mr. Greene was doing in terms of misappropriating these funds?
A. I do. She was -- she admitted in her deposition that whenever there was not enough funds in the accounts in the bank at J & P Enterprises to pay accounts payable she would notify Lamar. Lamar would tell her to fill out a check out of the Palmetto State account. In some cases she'd fill out -- she would fill out the check. In some cases Lamar would sign it. In some cases Julee would sign Lamar's name. I believe in almost all the cases or many of the cases Julee filled out the deposit ticket, and what caught -- and on the checks they were noted as loans. What caught my attention was from the time the loan started there were never any repayments or deposits back into the Palmetto State account that noted loan repayment.
Q. Mr. Brown, what does Palmetto State plan to do with any money that it gets back as a result of this lawsuit?
A. It will pay the expenses for the proceedings here and go back and pay the unsecured creditors, which include investors. And, for example, he was in the courtroom here earlier, Ted Talmage is a major unsecured creditor, an architect, who was damaged, I believe, in the amount of almost $600,000.

Q. So is the company actively in the process of winding down and attempting to settle its liabilities?
A. It is.
Q. Are you personally overseeing that process?
A. I am.
Q. Is there anything that I've not asked you about or we haven't touched on that you'd like to tell the Court?
A. The only thing I -- a couple items is that if these discrepancies did not take place there was a good chance that the projects could have been completed at least with enough profit to have paid back in some portion these unsecured creditors. There were many individuals that have been harmed by this, and very deeply the architect, Ted Talmage, who's a witness here today actually had to close his office down and move into a -- like a condo type apartment taking a $600,000 hit in one year. There were a couple individuals that Lamar Greene convinced to go borrow money to do the investments here, which they never got their money paid back, which put them in bad situations with their banks and things like that. So there's been a lot of people that have been harmed and damaged by this that are still feeling the effects today.
MR. PRICE: Thank you, Mr. Brown. I have no further questions. These gentlemen may. The Court may.

THE COURT: Mr. Talley, your witness.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, may we have just a short recess?
THE COURT: Yes, sir. How long do you anticipate your cross going?
MR. TALLEY: Probably at least as long as that direct.
THE COURT: Okay. Then we'll go ahead and get started -- we'll take a break until 11:30, and then we'll get started with the cross.
MR. TALLEY: Thank you.
(Brief recess.)
THE COURT: All right. Sir, if you'd come back around and --
THE WITNESS: Sure.
THE COURT: -- have a seat.
All right. Mr. Talley, your witness.
MR. TALLEY: Thank you, Your Honor. May it please the Court.
EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Mr. Brown, just at the outset, let's go back to the initial purpose for which this entity was formed. Do you know what that was?
A. To my knowledge, the initial entity was to develop and build The Spur project in Columbia.
Q. Right. And when did that start?

72

A. The construction loan -- the -- to the best of my knowledge, the site identification and -- that had took place prior to this formation of the LLC in late 2004, early 2005. The original -- the construction loan to start construction down there started in, like -- was awarded, like, in June or July of 2005.
Q. Would you agree with me that property identification or site location started in 2004?
A. Yes.
Q. And who was predominantly handling that at that time?
A. To the best of my knowledge, Lamar Greene.
Q. Okay. You used used the word earlier, I think, "passive" in describing Rich Rodriguez and Ron West's role in the LLC --
A. Yes.
Q. -- is that correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And it's been that way since the beginning, has it not?
A. It was.
Q. When is the last time you spoke with either of them about the goings-on of this LLC?
A. Rich Rodriguez -- about this LLC, Rich Rodriguez would have been about four weeks ago. I was out in Arizona on a business trip. I went down and visited with him. Ron West, it's probably been a year and a half.

Q. All right. But you were present at Mr. West's deposition; correct?
A. I was.
Q. All right. During that time he was asked about moneys that were spent out of these bank accounts that we've looked at in the exhibits your counsel provided to you; is that correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And one of the things he was asked about was actually your condo at The Spur being paid out of this account. Do you recall that?
A. Yes.
Q. And he wasn't aware of that. Do you remember that?
A. I don't recall the details of that.
Q. All right. Well, the Judge can read -- review his deposition and see. But do you recall him stating that that would be an unauthorized charge as well?
A. I can't recall.
Q. Okay. Well, we'll just let the Judge review Mr. West's deposition as far as that's concerned. Who is your mortgage in Columbia to?
A. The condo's not in my name. The condo is in my wife's name.
Q. All right. Well, let me show you this check written September 17th, 2007. Does that look like the mortgage company that you were -- or your wife's condo was in?

A. It looks like it was at that time.
Q. Okay. And what's the amount of that check?
A. $2,977.46.
Q. Okay.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I'd ask that that be marked as Defendants' 1.
THE COURT: All right.
(Thereupon, Defendants' Exhibit Number 1 was admitted into Evidence.)
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. How many mortgage payments for your wife's condo were made from the Palmetto Properties account?
A. I can't recall.
Q. Several, correct?
A. Likely.
Q. And that would be reflected in the First Citizens records marked Exhibit 1 -- Plaintiff's Exhibit 1?
A. Correct.
Q. Do you have anything showing that that was authorized by the members of the LLC?
A. No.
Q. Okay. Wouldn't that be you basically doing the same thing you've accused others of doing in this lawsuit?
A. Say that again.
Q. Wouldn't that be the same thing you're doing that you're accusing others of doing in this lawsuit?

A. Mr. Greene -- no, it's not the same.
Q. All right. Why not?
A. Mr. Greene approached me and asked me if I would be interested in buying a condo at The Spur. It was at the time when they were in trouble with the Regions Bank account, and at that time one of the things he said, for the work that you've been doing, what we'll do is if you buy the unit we will make the payments for you as payment for the work that you've been doing and that if the unit is ever sold then you'll be able to keep the profits for the -- for the unit. It became very similar -- that put us in a position very similar to the unsecured investors. In other words, by us closing and buying the funds he was able to pay down the mortgage that was the bank loan, and we were stuck with the property.
Q. Explain that to me if they were then in turn paying out $3,000 a month that wasn't related to company business.
A. Say that again.
Q. Explain how that works when they then turn around and pay out $3,000 a month that has nothing to do with company business.
A. In the agreement he said making those payments and that were part of my compensation for the work that I was doing for them.
Q. So at the same time you were also getting checks each month --

A. Yes.
Q. -- out of this same account?
A. Yes.
Q. And those are reflected in the records as well?
A. They were.
Q. And you started working with the LLC when?
A. I would say it was late 2005, early 2006. That's what, seven years ago. A long time ago.
Q. And during that time you actually resided at least partially at the 144 Riverpoint condo, did you not?
A. Sometimes when I -- we -- I was doing work with back-to-back business days, I would stay -- spend the night there at 144, yes.
Q. But that was the, quote, office, if you will, of the entity?
A. That's correct.
Q. That was the registered address for the entity, always had been, and everybody had knowledge of that?
A. I know it was the registered address on the bank accounts. I'm not sure what the registered address on the corporate South Carolina papers were.
Q. Okay. And as we sit here today, Mr. Jeff Greene is still a member of the entity; correct?
A. That's correct.

Q. All right.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, do you have the -- oh, you've got them.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Mr. Brown, if you would look at Exhibit 1 -- Plaintiff's Exhibit 1, Number 11.
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. Do you know Mike Rogers?
A. Do I know him?
Q. Yes.
A. No.
Q. How do you then know that that's an unallowable charge?
A. Let me see here. By going through and looking at the date on the -- on the check. The Spur project had not started construction at that point.
Q. Okay. What about Danny Cain? Do you know him?
A. I actually met Danny a couple times like in the 2006, 2007 time frame, yes.
Q. Okay. What does he do?
A. If I remember correctly, he was a day laborer type person, and there were a couple times in 2006 and 2007 that he went down to The Spur and did work with -- for Lamar down at The Spur. And then also I think I remember him doing work on the Clemson Towers project during that time.
Q. You mentioned certain of the investors. Item 32,

Gary Elder, it says "loan repayment." What do you know about Gary Elder?
A. Gary Elder was an investor in The Spur project and the Tuscaloosa project. He is a local -- he's a business person that resides in and around the Clemson area.
Q. Okay. And why is that a disputed charge?
A. On the -- on the loan -- I can't exactly recall the details on that one.
Q. Well, you're asking the Court to award you that as damages.
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. But you don't have any evidence here to say whether that was something unallowable?
A. If I go back and remember correctly, on the investor list for The Spur and the Tuscaloosa projects, he was repaid his money on The Spur project. On other checks, if I remember correctly, that had -- and so those were covered under other checks. This here was, if I remember correctly -- did not -- was not identified as a repayment of any of the investments that he had made that were specifically designated Spur or Tuscaloosa.
Q. So you guessed; is that correct?
A. Process of elimination, yes.
Q. Al Bell, debt repayment, $10,000. Tell the Court what you know about Al Bell.

A. Al Bell was a friend of Lamar's, a retired textile industry person who Lamar I believe got to know through the textile business. Al wanted to become a -- Al wanted to become a member of the LLC and be one of the LLC members, and it was his thinking that he was going to be included in the original Palmetto State, LLC. When he was not, he was very displeased about it, and Lamar, trying to appease or make up with him, says -- said, we will do a consulting agreement with you, and we'll bring you in as a consultant at that rate per month.
Lamar and the other two LLC members, Rich Rodriguez and Ron West met with the Regions loan officer, and Lamar tried to get approved payments out of the Regions construction loan to Al Bell as a consultant. The Regions construction officer said no, and Rich Rodriguez and Ron West said no, and even after that Lamar went ahead and employed Mr. Elder and made these payments to Mr. Elder against the other two members having said -- not approving it.
Q. Wasn't Mr. Bell actually on the bank board?
A. I believe he was on the bank board at NBSC or one of those banks, yes.
Q. And facilitated getting the construction loan initially?
A. If I recall my conversations with Al Bell, he said he did not have anything -- because I raised that issue to him, he raised -- he pointed out to me he did not have anything to do with the construction loan.

Q. So your position is this is just a payment Lamar did each month for a friend?
A. It -- what it was -- when I went and talked to Mr. Bell about it, Mr. Bell said, you know, Lamar originally tried to invite him to do some consulting stuff. They did make one trip to Athens, Georgia, together. He was supposed to go to Tuscaloosa and -- with him and look at the project down there, but that never transpired. But Mr. Bell basically admitted that he got these payments and for very little work.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, Mr. Bell's not here. That's almost hearsay. I mean, it's just --
THE COURT: Well, if it's almost hearsay, then it's not objectionable. If it is hearsay --
MR. HUNT: It is hearsay.
THE COURT: I sustain the objection.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Mr. Brown, Items 35 and 36 on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1, what is the MAC Club?
A. The MAC Club is a Mountaineer Athletic Club associated with West Virginia athletics, and it's the fundraising organization for the West Virginia Athletic Department.
Q. And was Mr. Rodriguez coaching at West Virginia at the time those two payments were made?
A. He was.

81

Q. Did he ask West Virginia to send them back?
A. He had no knowledge of -- he's the football coach. He handles the football group. The MAC or that fundraising group is a completely different entity inside the university.
Q. But you're here today saying that Mr. Rodriguez's entity needs $2,200 back, and it went to --
A. Say that again.
Q. You're here today saying Mr. Rodriguez and Palmetto State needs $2,200 back; correct?
A. Yeah.
Q. Well, why did -- if he was opposed to it, why didn't he say something in November of 2005 when it went to the university employing him?
A. He had no knowledge that those checks had been written to MAC --
Q. Okay.
A. -- out of this bank account.
Q. The --
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I haven't heard yet -- and I object to that because I haven't heard yet how this witness knows what Rich Rodriguez knows or does not know.
THE COURT: You can go into that with him on cross-examination.
MR. HUNT: Understood.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:

82

Q. There are several items, the first of which appears to be Number 40, to Mike Huizenga.
A. That's correct.
Q. Do you know who Mike Huizenga is?
A. Yes. He is an independent pilot who owns and operates his either one or two planes that -- he operates a pilot service.
Q. Was there a lot of air travel involved in the projects?
A. There were.
Q. And was Mr. Huizenga the pilot that would fly Mr. Greene and the members to various sites?
A. The majority of the time.
Q. In fact, have you flown on Mr. Huizenga's plane?
A. I have.
Q. So why is that not allowed?
A. That was a trip down to Orlando, Florida, on 12/27/2005 to go to a football bowl game.
Q. All right. Weren't other members participating in that bowl game?
A. That -- 2005 may have been when Clemson played in the bowl game down there, but that would have been when Ron West was an assistant coach.
Q. All right. What about the other items you've listed here with Mr. Huizenga? Why is that travel considered unallowable?

83

A. I went back and had discussions with Mr. Huizenga in regards to those transactions and was able to identify that those flights were not related to condo development. As a pilot you have to keep very detailed logs of where you travel to and what you do. So it was very easy for him to pull those up and identify those as being not related to condo development.
Q. Do you have those here today?
A. No, I do not.
Q. Okay. So how are we to know that this is not guesswork on your part as well?
A. You can contact Mr. Huizenga.
Q. Sir, I'm not here asking the Court to award me anything.
A. Yeah.
Q. If you look at Item 62 and 63, Antonio Clay and Dwayne Coleman --
A. Yes.
Q. -- who are those individuals?
A. They were former student athletes at Clemson University.
Q. Okay. And what was -- what was your involvement with those two gentlemen?
A. I just know they were student athletes at the university.
Q. Did you try to represent them in going to the NFL?

84

A. No.
Q. Did they provide security services at The Spur as did other Clemson athletes during this time?
A. I'm not sure of that.
Q. So this is another guess?
A. Hold on a second. Let me look at the check. No, actually my recollection is that Lamar Greene employed Clemson student athletes to perform landscape services at the Clemson Towers in Clemson, South Carolina. And, in fact, I believe the athletic department knew that Lamar was employing these student athletes to do work at the Clemson Towers.
Q. Number 68, Anthony Waters, who is he?
A. He's a former student athlete at Clemson University.
Q. And why is that considered unallowable?
A. Anthony, to my knowledge, did no work in regards to -- to The Spur, The Legends of Tuscaloosa, or The Legends of Blacksburg.
Q. What was your relationship with Mr. Waters?
A. The agency that I used to work at when I was representing both players and coaches eventually represented Anthony.
Q. Okay. And you were involved in the day-to-day operations of Palmetto State in May of 2006?
A. Say that again.
Q. You were involved in the day-to-day operations, were you not, of Palmetto State in May of 2006?

85

A. I would spend some days each month working for Palmetto State in May of 2006.
Q. And this check went to benefit one of your clients; correct?
A. He was still playing football at Clemson University.
Q. Okay. Number 72, in May of 2006, travel to Charleston.
A. Yes.
Q. Why is that unallowed?
A. At that point in time, there were no developments or anything or prospects of anything to be done in Charleston.
Q. Isn't that a meeting that was attended by all the members of the LLC?
A. I'm not aware of that.
Q. Did you ask them?
A. I did present these -- this spreadsheet to the other two members of the LLC for their accuracy, and they agreed with it.
Q. So they -- you have no knowledge that the members were in Charleston in May of 2006 and the company paid their expenses to be there?
A. I have no knowledge of that.
Q. Rocky McIntosh, Line 73, he was a client of yours as well; correct?
A. No. At that point in time, I had stopped representing players in the NFL.

86

Q. But he was a client of yours; correct?
A. No, I never represented Rocky.
Q. What was the $3,600 for?
A. I'm not sure, but it didn't go toward condo development.
Q. Line 74, Palmetto State Enterprises transfer, travel expense. Why is that unallowable?
A. Let me look at this one. What's the item number again, Scott?
Q. 74.
A. 74, Page 39. It just said on the check "transfer," and it was transferring from one account here out of -- out of this bank account into one of the other bank accounts.
Q. Another Palmetto State account?
A. Yes, it was.
Q. So how is that taking?
A. Pardon me?
Q. How does that make it on this list?
A. Because it was put into another account which had nothing to do -- which had nothing to do with the -- went toward the condo development.
Q. But you just testified it went into another Palmetto State account?
A. It did go into -- yes, it was a transfer.

87

Q. Okay. So that wasn't an unallowed personal expense or something, was it?
A. If you -- it all depends on what you call unallowable. There was never a definition of what it was used for.
Q. 78, Talley Law Firm. Were you aware that I actually accompanied members of the LLC on a trip to Louisville, Kentucky, to look at property and Knoxville, Tennessee.
A. Pardon me?
Q. Were you aware that I actually accompanied members of the LLC -- Mr. Talmage did as well, he's not here now -- to Louisville, Kentucky --
A. No, I was not aware of that.
Q. Okay. But you have no reason to dispute that, do you?
A. No.
Q. The -- when was The Spur construction completed?
A. The Spur construction was completed in the fall of 2006 because they were trying to still close units while there was about, I believe, a month left in the football season.
Q. All right. So that would have been sometime around November of 2006?
A. Yeah, October, November 2006.
Q. Okay. So what -- when you dispute in June of 2006 items labeled Spur, Tommy Biershank, Glenn Justice, things of that nature, what do you base your determination that's unallowable on?

88

A. The project was not completed yet, and the construction company was responsible for making sure everything was secured down there at that point in time.
Q. And who was providing that security?
A. Say that again.
Q. Who was providing that security?
A. Where at?
Q. At The Spur.
A. I'm not sure.
Q. Okay. Wasn't it a company that Mr. Tommy Biershank was associated with?
A. I'm not sure of that.
Q. So you really don't know why Tommy Biershank got $550?
A. Based on my -- the reason I put this on the list here is based on my knowledge of where The Spur was at in its development stage and the need for security. That's the reason I put this on the list.
Q. But it's a guess as well, is it not?
A. It's up to you to make that determination.
Q. Sir, I'm not -- okay. Item 87, air travel, West Virginia University, club golf tournament, $2,765. Wasn't that something that Mr. Rodriguez asked the members to do?
A. No. Lamar showed up, and he would show up at a lot of Coach Rodriguez's stuff, but in discussions with Coach Rodriguez he had no knowledge that it was being paid out of this account.

MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I'm going to object again.
THE COURT: All right. I'm going to allow it, not for the truth of the matter asserted, but the question was why is he showing this, and necessarily I think it's appropriate that he say what he's basing that opinion on, which is a correct answer to the question. So you're protected on the record.
MR. HUNT: Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Item 103, $2,250 to Jeff Greene. Were you aware that Mr. Greene -- Mr. Jeff Greene had actually paid some company expenses and that was a reimbursement to him?
A. No, I was not aware, and it was not noted on the check.
Q. Okay. So you just made the assumption that that was unallowable?
A. (Nods head.)
Q. Answer verbally.
A. That's correct.
Q. Tony Gibson on Line 105, he was coaching with Coach Rodriguez at West Virginia at that time, was he not?
A. That's correct.
Q. And he got $4,000. Why is that?
A. If I remember correctly, that had something to do with purchasing -- a transaction regarding some countertops or granite countertops, et cetera. That had nothing to do with The Spur developments.

Q. But at the time that check was written his boss was a member of the LLC from which he was paid from; correct?
A. That's correct. And Tony was also a listed investor who put money up in The Spur development. So Tony was an unsecured investor at that time, too, in The Spur development.
Q. Line 107, and it appears a couple times, Y-a-h-u, Morgantown travel. That's a charter flight service out of Morgantown, West Virginia; correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And that was used by Coach Rodriguez and other members of the LLC?
A. I'm not sure about that.
Q. So do you know what the travel on Line 107 was for?
A. No, I'm not sure.
Q. You just listed it; right?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And the same would be true on Line 122? Do you know what that travel was for?
A. Yeah. That travel was for Lamar Greene to travel down to Jacksonville, Florida, to watch West Virginia play in its bowl game on January 1st that day.
Q. And that was arranged by Coach Rodriguez; correct?
A. I have no knowledge of that.
Q. Darren Bruce Ministries, you touched on that earlier.
A. Yes.

Q. Was he someone that would come around Clemson athletics quite frequently?
A. Darren was the team chaplain at Clemson University during Tommy Bowden's early years, and then at some point in time, 2005 or so, he no longer was the team chaplain there.
Q. At the time he was the chaplain, is it true that Coach West and Coach Rodriguez were both on staff?
A. To my knowledge, yes.
Q. And they had a personal relationship with him, did they not?
A. They did.
Q. I want to go back and ask you about Number 31 on Page 1 of Exhibit 1, Palmetto State Enterprises, $100,000. Why is that on here?
A. I'm going to go back and look at that one.
MR. PRICE: Can you repeat that question?
MR. TALLEY: I'm asking him why Line 31 is on here as an unallowable charge.
THE WITNESS: 31. What's the page number? Page 12. I can't specifically recall on that one, but it was about -- that's when there were being funds transferred between the various different accounts in Palmetto State's name.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Okay. So you have no evidence that that was actually written for $100,000 and used for Mr. Greene's benefit or

J & P's benefit or Mrs. Greene's benefit?
A. I do remember when I was doing all of the -- tracking all the money -- I have to take -- I can take time and go back and have to look at all the different accounts, but it was when there was a lot of money being transferred between different accounts.
Q. But they were all Palmetto State accounts; right?
A. They were all Palmetto State accounts, right.
Q. All right. If there was an issue -- I mean, you've had five years to look at it and get your documentation together; correct?
A. Say it again.
Q. You've had five years to get --
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So you have nothing here today to show that that $100,000 was nothing but an intercompany transfer among bank accounts?
A. If I -- if you give me about 30 minutes, I could probably go back through all the accounts and trace it for you.
Q. I don't know if the Judge is going to allow that.
A. Yeah.
Q. Line 139, ESLC Trading Company, what do you know about that?
A. ESLC Trading Company, 4/4/2007. Hold on one second. It's a check written out for $10,000 to ESLC Trading Company.

Q. Do you know who the owner of ESLC Trading Company is?
A. No, I do not.
Q. Are you familiar with a gentleman named Ed Strom?
A. Yes.
Q. Was he an investor?
A. Yes, he was.
Q. Okay. Do you have anything to dispute the fact that Mr. Strom -- that was his company?
MR. PRICE: Objection to the question. That borders on testimony.
THE COURT: Hold on. What's the objection?
MR. PRICE: He's testifying, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Well, isn't he on cross? Repeat the question, please.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. What's your basis for including ESLC Trading Company, $10,000, as an unallowable charge?
A. I believe ESLC Trading Company was a company that was formed with Lamar Greene and Ed Strom with the purpose to purchase Unit 601 at The Spur, and this was a payment made out of Palmetto State to Ed Strom as part of his -- to go toward the purchase of that condo by Lamar and Ed Strom together.
Q. And you base that on what?
A. Say that again.
Q. What do you base that on?

94

A. Discussions with Ed Strom and an explanation from Ed.
Q. But you testified earlier you had no idea what ESLC Trading Company was?
A. But, once you continued to ask me the question, my -- I was able to remember now.
Q. Didn't ESLC Trading Company file a lawsuit against the LLC?
A. I'm not sure if ESLC did, but, yes, Ed Strom did.
Q. Okay. And what was that about?
A. Ed had invested money in The Legends of Tuscaloosa -- actually had made them a loan, and with the decline of the -- with the decline of the markets and that he was giving -- it was actually a secured loan, and when his loan could not be repaid on time he filed a lawsuit against the LLC and its members in Tuscaloosa, Alabama.
Q. And when did he make that loan to the company?
A. That loan was made at loan closing on the -- about the approximate time of the loan closing on The Legends of Tuscaloosa loan around July, August of 2006.
Q. So this could have been a payment towards that loan; correct?
A. It could have been, but --
Q. Where does Mr. Strom live now?
A. To my recollection, he lives in Columbia, South Carolina.

95

Q. Number 143 and 144 were checks written to Lamar. Are you familiar with the Myrtle Beach outing that took place in May of 2007?
A. I remember that there was -- that he went to Myrtle Beach that week.
Q. Are you aware that the other members of the LLC were there in a planned meeting?
A. Yes.
Q. And Mr. Greene paid that personally, did he not?
A. He did this, and then also -- if I remember the cash, there's also records of cash distributions coming out of there. Also note I do -- in my research I found out that all of the housing was already paid for and was comped down there. So basically it was an outing which was basically expense free.
Q. And you base that on what?
A. I contacted and talked to the realtor who provided all of the housing down there and arranged for all of the golfing and everything.
Q. So but it was -- you agree with me that all of the members were present at that time; correct?
A. I do know Rich Rodriguez was present. I am not sure if Ron West was present at all.
Q. Look, if you will, at Page 86 of the bank records in Exhibit 1, Check Number 1357. That's a check written to Yahu, Inc., that I think we spoke about earlier.

96

A. Say that again now.
Q. Check 1357 on Page 86.
A. Yes.
Q. Is that the same travel company we spoke of earlier?
A. The one out of Morgantown, West Virginia?
Q. Yes.
A. Yes.
Q. So that check is not in your list of unallowable charges; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. So they did provide company related travel?
A. Yes.
Q. So how did you pick and choose which ones you were going to include?
A. You can go back and look at the dates of when those trips took place, and that was one way that I did it. And also, too, I did have recollection of some of those services at that time.
Q. Line 164, there's an $11,000 check to J & P Security, loan repayment.
A. Yes.
Q. What do you know about J & P Security?
A. It was -- it was a -- it's a security company that Lamar operated. Its place of address is listed at Jeff Greene's residence in Rock Hill, South Carolina, on the corporate records.

Q. And were you aware that J & P Security provided security service at The Spur during construction?
A. I did know that they provided it post-construction.
Q. And do you dispute the fact that some of the invoices to J & P Security were paid from personal funds?
A. Say that again.
Q. Do you dispute the fact that some of the invoices from J & P Security were paid from personal funds?
A. I have no knowledge of that.
Q. But you know that it did provide services to the company?
A. That's correct.
Q. On the checks in Exhibit 1 that you highlighted in green, "J & P Enterprises loan," do you have any evidence that Mr. Jeff Greene was involved in those transactions?
A. No.
Q. Has the LLC ever made a demand to J & P Enterprises for repayment of what it deems loan funds?
A. I can't answer that. I believe Mr. Chris Olson previously when he retired had conversations with Lamar Greene about repayment.
Q. The salary structure for Mr. Greene, I believe, you testified earlier was to be $10,000 a month; correct?
A. That's correct.

98

Q. And when was that agreed upon?
A. It was agreed upon, to my knowledge, at the beginning of the -- it was supposed to start at the beginning of The Spur construction.
Q. So that would have been July of 2005?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. On your Exhibit 5 --
A. Yes.
Q. -- I believe Letter H --
A. Hold on a second.
Q. All right. Are you with me?
A. Yes, H.
Q. H, it says, "Lamar Greene, bonus, $30,000."
A. Yes.
Q. Are you aware that at that same time Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. West were paid $50,000 each?
A. I'm aware of that.
Q. So why is that included in the salary schedule?
A. Say that again.
Q. Why is that included in the salary schedule?
A. Because it was -- it was over and above the amount of 200 -- the $10,000 a month that was allowed.
Q. Okay. But the other members took a draw at the same time; correct?
A. They did.

99

Q. In excess of the amount he took?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. So that wasn't salary that he was paying in the amount of $30,000, was it?
A. No, it was not.
Q. So it shouldn't be on here, should it?
A. It's compensation.
Q. Line J, it says, "repay loan, $3,000."
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know what that loan was for?
A. No. There was -- I based that on records of a deposit never being made into the account that was notified -- that was designated as loan.
Q. Okay. But in that same month, it looks like December of 2006, Items J and K on Exhibit 5, would you agree with me that that only adds up to $8,000?
A. That's correct.
Q. So he should really get two more; correct?
A. For that month, yes.
Q. And if you look down on Item U --
A. Yes.
Q. -- Myrtle Beach outing, that's the same $5,500 we just talked about; right?
A. That's correct.
Q. So you got that two places. That shouldn't be on here, should it?

100

A. If it's -- you may be correct there that it may be double counted twice.
Q. Okay. So the salary overpayment figure of 76,881 is not accurate?
A. If you want to subtract the -- I guess you could choose which exhibit you want to delete one of the 5,500s from.
Q. And about the 30,000 you would agree with me as well correct?
A. Say it again.
Q. The 30,000, you would agree with me as well; correct?
A. I can't agree one way or another, but I'm sure our investors wouldn't agree.
Q. Well, they got $50,000 that day.
A. Say that again.
Q. They got $50,000 that day, didn't they?
A. They did.
Q. Okay. That wasn't salary to them, was it?
A. Say that again.
Q. It wasn't salary to them, was it?
A. No, it was not.
Q. So why should --
A. Well, it was proceeds from -- paid out of the LLC account.
Q. Right. It's a form of an owner's draw; correct?

101

A. If you want to call it that.
Q. You've been present for every deposition. Isn't that what they said?
A. Yeah.
Q. They reported it that way on their taxes?
A. Yeah.
Q. So it shouldn't be on here, should it?
A. I can't judge that. In my estimation, it was unallowable based on everything else that was going on.
Q. Let's look at Exhibit 2, the reasons unallowable charges.
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. You testified earlier that you put -- and I don't want to put words in your mouth, but you put on these spreadsheets what you believed to be Monday travel expenses. Is that -- am I stating that fairly?
A. In some, yes, I did go through and do that.
Q. Okay. Do you know where Mr. Greene was every Monday that you've included?
A. Not every Monday, but his usual schedule was to go to J & P Enterprises and work in Gastonia, North Carolina, that day.
Q. But there were instances where he would drive to Tuscaloosa and do Palmetto State's business, were there not?
A. Yes, there were instances he would drive.

102

Q. Okay. So where is your documentation to show that these were all J & P Enterprises' expenses that you've listed in Exhibit 2?
A. Say it again.
Q. Where is your documentation to show that what you've listed in Exhibit 2 are J & P Enterprises' expenses?
A. There's no documentation. It was just based off of putting facts together and drawing what I believe to be a valid conclusion.
Q. If you look at Lines 41 through 48 on the first page of Exhibit 2 –
A. Yep.
Q. – the Sam's Town Hotel, that's a facility in Shreveport, Louisiana; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. And I believe the University of South Carolina football team played in the Independence Bowl at the end of the 2005 football season; correct?
A. They did.
Q. Okay. And were you aware that there was a marketing event hosted by ERA Wilder affiliated with South Carolina's appearance in the Independence Bowl?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And ERA Wilder was the realtor who had The Spur listed at that time; correct?

103

A. That's correct.
Q. And, in fact, George Rogers was flown in to sign autographs and try to attract people to invest in The Spur?
A. I don't know all the details of that.
Q. So you guessed again and put this on here?
A. No. If I recollect, there were double payments made, not only with the check card but also with some checks on that is the best of my recollection.
Q. So most of these are check card expenses that you have just assumed were non-Palmetto State business; is that fair to say?
A. By trying to do research and look at the dates and locations and that, yes.
Q. There are three green highlights within this Exhibit 2 –
A. Yes.
Q. – for J & P Enterprises. To your knowledge, was Jeff Greene involved in any of those transactions?
A. To my knowledge, no.
Q. I want to look at Exhibit 3, which is the NBSC unallowable charges. There are two, totaling 6,300, indicated for J & P Enterprises. To the best of your knowledge, was Mr. Jeff Greene involved in either one of those transactions?
A. To my knowledge, no.
Q. Okay. There's another $6,000 charge on here for 104

Lew Jordan, and his name appears a couple of times throughout these records. You testified earlier he was a realtor in the Clemson area.
A. He was.
Q. Are you also aware that he was involved in helping select the site for The Spur in Columbia?
A. No, I'm not aware of that.
Q. Do you have any reason to dispute that?
A. No.
Q. I want to next turn your attention to Exhibit 6. And on Exhibit 6 you listed $22,005 of cash withdrawals.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know where the cash went?
A. I have no idea.
Q. So you don't know what it was spent on?
A. No. Based on the fact that there were no documentation associated with the cash withdrawals either with the records and also with the accountant who handled this, I just did like the IRS would. They would call it unallowable.
Q. And so that's $22,005 that you're not sure if it was spent on company business or not?
A. That's correct.
Q. On Exhibit 10 at the top single deposits written it says at the top by Juleen Greene. Which of these checks do you believe Ms. Greene signed Mr. Greene's name to?

105

A. Pardon me?
Q. You testified earlier that you believe Ms. Greene had signed Mr. Greene's name to certain of the checks listed in Exhibit 10.
A. Yes.
Q. Which one?
A. One would be on Page 21, 1668.
Q. Okay. And that's that same J & P Security payment we looked at in the First Citizens records?
A. Yes.
Q. Are there any other checks that you believe Ms. Greene signed Mr. Greene's name to?
A. That's the one that I truly, firmly believe. I think you'd have to refer to her deposition testimony in regards to the others.
Q. Do you have any evidence that this Check 1668 on Page 21 that you allege she signed went to her personal use?
A. I have no knowledge of that.
Q. Would you agree with me that Mr. and Ms. Greene were separated for about eight or nine months in the year 2006?
A. I do agree to that.
Q. And that was part of the time you were actually staying at the Riverpoint condo, is it not?
A. Yes.
Q. So you testified earlier that you think Ms. Greene benefited from some of these allegations of conversion by traveling with Mr. Greene or meals. Do you know where she traveled with him?

106

A. I think she traveled with him to the ball games in Orlando, in Jacksonville, the golf outings. I do have knowledge of that.

Q. And all the things that you just described, other members of the LLC were involved in each of those outings; correct?

A. The -- yeah, they were coaching their football games at that time.

Q. Other than that, where did she travel and what meals did she eat on the company dime according to you?

A. Many of the meals on the Mondays and then also in and around Clemson on the weekends.

Q. And you know that she was present?

A. I do not know she was present.

Q. So you don't know who was there?

A. By looking at the amounts of the -- many of the charges, it was for more than one person.

Q. All right. You earlier testified, and I think we can all agree, that there were a lot of folks associated with Clemson involved in this LLC; is that fair to say?

A. There were members of the LLC and investors in the local community here, yes.

107

Q. And would Mr. Greene, based on your knowledge in working with the LLC, frequently dine with members of the Clemson Athletic Department who were investors or coaches?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So they could have been there talking about company business --

A. They could have been, yes.

Q. -- or their investment?

A. Yes.

Q. The -- what do you claim are the damages the LLC has sustained?

A. What's your definition of "damages"?

Q. Well, you're the Plaintiff, and you're asking this Court for damages. So I'm asking you what you think the damages are.

A. The damages to -- there's been specific damages to the LLC members, at least two of them, Rich Rodriguez and Ron West. I'm not sure in regards to Jeff Greene. In regards to the projects not being completed, not being enough funds to pay secured creditors, where lawsuits were filed and the settlements were made between the LLC members and the -- as defendants with the plaintiffs in those specific lawsuits.

In addition to that, there were investors who had unsecured investments that did not get their money back, and there were at least one major contractor, Talmage & Associate

Architects, who ended up with a large financial loss. So there's -- there's that because these projects did not work, which were a lot of it the result of the missing funds that caused harm to individuals and a specific company.

Q. Are you aware of checks written out of the First Citizens Palmetto Properties account to Ron West as loans?

A. Say that again.

Q. Are you aware of checks written out of the First Citizens Palmetto Properties account to Ron West as loans?

A. I believe I'm aware of those.

Q. Have those been paid back?

A. I cannot recall at this time.

Q. When he was coaching at Clemson, where did he reside?

A. He had a house in a subdevelopment in Clemson.

Q. What was it called?

A. I'm not sure.

Q. Did he own a unit at Clemson Towers as well?

A. I believe at one point in time he did purchase one as an investment property.

Q. Has he repaid the LLC for the moneys it paid towards his homeowners' dues and things of that nature for that condo?

A. No, he has not.

Q. Okay. Do you know what the amount due to the LLC from Ron West is as we sit here today?

A. No, I do not.

109

Q. His $50,000 bonus in 2006 wasn't reduced by any amount he owed the LLC, was it?

A. No, it was not.

Q. Isn't it your duty as manager to pursue that?

A. What I did is I worked with legal counsel there, and legal counsel had discussions with those individuals and -- on how to treat those payments and then also provided me counsel on how to proceed.

Q. When was the construction loan closed for the Blacksburg project?

A. The construction loan was closed in September of 2007.

Q. And that's when you became manager?

A. That's correct.

Q. Okay. And what happened to that project after that time?

A. The project was put on hold, and the circumstances around it were there was a loan taken out to purchase the land in June of 2007, which was a short-term loan, and about the same time simultaneously when that was coming due in September was when the discrepancies were found with the LLC. The bank notified our attorneys and said the construction loan needed to be closed to take out the land loan because it was due. If not, all the members would be liable for the -- for the land loan amount and that the project would not go forward at that time until the legal matters were sorted out.

Q. All right. And that land loan was around $3.8 million? And I may not be exactly right on that.
A. 3.65.
Q. 3.65.
A. Yes.
Q. And so the closing in September of 2007 was a draw upon the $26,000,000 construction loan; correct?
A. Yes, to pay off the existing land loan.
Q. All right. And that draw or that construction loan was eventually foreclosed; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. So the management of the company at that time was under you; correct?
A. And Floyd Elliott.
Q. Okay. The foreclosure lawsuit was resolved; is that right?
A. That's correct.
Q. So what are the other outstanding claims against the company right now?
A. The only remaining outstanding claims against the company right now are with unsecured investors and creditors.
Q. Okay. And how much does that total?
A. It's somewhere -- I have to go back and check. It's somewhere north of $2,000,000 and 3,000,000. I don't have the spreadsheet in front of me.

111

Q. Okay. What happened to the condos in Alabama?
A. The condos in Alabama were in regards to -- they were sold, and the proceeds were used to satisfy accounts payable and secured creditors.
Q. Okay. But is it not true that there were certain condos that were given to investors in lieu of repayment?
A. Say it again.
Q. Isn't it true that certain condos were given to investors in lieu of repaying their investment?
A. Yes, they were deeded to investors as part of repayment.
Q. Okay. And that took care of those folks?
A. Partially. I don't think it took care of them fully.
Q. Okay. And at the time you were responsible for the marketing and handling of the disposal of the Alabama condos?
A. Yes, working in coordination with legal counsel.
Q. Okay. Did you hold an auction on the units in Alabama?
A. No, we did not.
Q. Wasn't that suggested to you by both Mr. Lamar Greene and Mr. Jeff Greene as a way to recoup cash?
A. I can't recall that.
Q. All right. You actually rejected that idea, did you not?
A. If it was -- if it had been proposed to me at that time, I think I would have rejected it and the realtor would have rejected it based on the outcome of The Spur auction.
Q. Okay. But at the time you needed money; correct?
A. Yes. But also at that time there were a number of units that were already collateralized as secured with -- Gary Elder, I believe, had one or two units, and Ed Strom had four units that were collateralized. At the time that this happened, basically only left were one-bedroom units for sale, which were hard to sell at that time.
Q. Are you still being compensated by the LLC?
A. No.
Q. When did you stop getting compensated?
A. Years ago.
Q. Do you remember when that was?
A. I would say it's probably -- what's this, 2013? Probably early 2011 or '10.
Q. Okay. What was the source of funds used to pay you from September 2007 until the time frame you just described?
A. There were proceeds that were from doing business that were used to compensate me.
Q. And how much would the LLC bring in monthly during that time frame?
A. It was all dependent on closing of units at Columbia and also at Tuscaloosa. It was very erratic.
Q. But sales were ongoing?
A. They were ongoing --

112

113

Q. And that was --
A. -- in a very distressed market.
Q. What is your relationship today with Coach West and Coach Rodriguez from a professional standpoint?
A. From a professional standpoint, I no longer am Coach Rodriguez's agent on record. I still do some marketing stuff with him. And Coach West and I have not spoke except once with phone messages in the last nine months.
Q. When were you the agent for Coach Rodriguez?
A. I was from around 2003 or '04 up until about 12 months ago.
Q. Okay. And when we say "agent," you were his contract advisor or --
A. Yeah, I negotiated his contracts at the universities he coached at.
Q. So you were in that role at the same time you were the manager of the LLC?
A. That's correct.
Q. Has Coach Rodriguez looked at these records?
A. Yes, he has.
Q. He's looked at the bank statements?
A. I know he has seen -- he has seen and I have presented everything to him when it was initially completed back in the '09, '08 time frame.
Q. What's his involvement been with this LLC since then?

114

A. Basically, he's been trying to keep his head above water and fend off various lawsuits because of his personal guarantys that were involved. When I took over in 2007, each of the LLC members had liabilities of over $9,000,000 personal guarantys. I believe Coach Rodriguez has gotten out at about 4 cents on the dollar, and I don't know what the other LLC members were able to get out at.

Q. Why did your agency relationship end with him within the last year?

A. He decided he was going to go with a different agent. There's no hard feelings.

Q. Do you think --

MR. TALLEY: Beg the Court's indulgence one moment if you don't mind.

THE COURT: Yes, sir.

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:

Q. When was Coach Rodriguez the football coach at West Virginia?

A. I believe from around 2000 -- starting with the 2002 season, I believe, up through the -- let me see, that would have been December 6 -- through the '07 season.

Q. Okay. And how -- why did that relationship end?

A. What do you mean?

Q. His relationship with West Virginia.

A. He decided to take the head coaching job at the 115

University of Michigan in December of '07.

Q. The contract he was under at the University of West Virginia, is that a contract you negotiated for him?

A. Not the first one, but the extensions were.

Q. And what did it end up costing him to leave under that contract?

A. Costing him?

Q. Yes.

A. About 1.5 million.

Q. And that all came about about the same time you made these allegations against this LLC; is that correct?

A. The allegations were made in August, September. That issue came up in -- starting in January of '08 and later.

Q. Okay. Isn't this just a personal mission to save face with Rich Rodriguez?

A. No.

Q. What do you hope to gain through this lawsuit for the company?

A. I hope to gain funds to repay the unsecured investors their money.

Q. And where do you envision those funds coming from?

A. Whatever judgments that can be attained.

Q. So you have no idea what assets may or may not be out there as part of the Estate or J & P Enterprises?

MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I object to the line of questioning about assets because I, frankly, don't see the relevancy.

THE COURT: We are getting a little bit far.

MR. TALLEY: Understood, Your Honor.

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:

Q. And any moneys you recoup as part of this lawsuit will go where?

A. It will go to any expenses that are due, the attorney for the LLC, to reimburse myself for expenses I've paid to the attorney since the LLC is out of money, and to the unsecured investors and creditors.

MR. TALLEY: No further questions, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Mr. Hunt, any questions?

MR. HUNT: If it please the Court, Your Honor.

EXAMINATION BY MR. HUNT:

Q. You've talked about the LLC and those sorts of things. The LLC in -- the problems were discovered in September 2007, were they not?

A. August and September 2007.

Q. And in August and September of 2007 was the beginning of the pretty deep recession, was it not?

A. Yes, it was.

Q. Yes, sir. And correct me if I'm wrong, but I have information which sets forth that there was a loan taken out -- I think you've testified to it -- with the property in

117

Blacksburg, Virginia; is that not right?

A. That's correct.

Q. And that loan -- that loan was executed by Mr. Rodriguez -- or the guaranty was.

A. It was actually guaranteed by Mr. Rodriguez, Jeff Greene, Lamar Greene and Floyd Elliott. There were four guarantors on that loan.

Q. They went forward with that loan for $28.3 million. Right after they discovered there were some discrepancies in the accounting, did they not?

A. They did.

Q. So they may not have been quite as concerned about this -- these discrepancies in this accounting as you may have been or as you are?

A. Say that again.

Q. They may not have been -- if they got together with someone several days, 10 days, 15 days after discrepancies were discovered but they still went forward with the loan, maybe they weren't quite as concerned about some of these discrepancies as you have become; is that not right?

A. No, they were very concerned. There was conversation between their legal representative at that time, Chris Olson, and the banker on the need to close the loan in order to pay off the outstanding land loan and that there would be no other draws allowed on the construction loan until the legal issues were resolved. So this was an agreement worked out between the banker, Fred Gibbs, who was the bank representative, and Chris Olson at that time, along with Nexity Bank, who was the funding bank, that this needed to take place in order to stave off foreclosure on the land loan.

Q. Do you have a copy of that agreement?

A. There are -- there are -- there is a letter from Fred Gibbs that's in the file that says, this is what the plan is, we're going to close it, and that there will be no other draws made until the legal issues are resolved.

Q. Has it been presented to this Court as evidence?

A. I'm not sure of that.

Q. All right. Some of these charges that you have brought today, to say that they were improperly spent, improperly done -- when was The Spur started?

A. The construction on The Spur was started in July of 2005.

Q. Was the land -- was the land -- had the land been acquired prior to that time?

A. It had been acquired by that time.

Q. Was -- when was the land acquired as far as you know?

A. The land was acquired sometime before closing at that time.

Q. So was it acquired in 2004?

A. I'm not sure of that.

119

Q. All right, sir. Did you -- on your docket on Exhibit Number 1 -- if you will look at it please, sir?

A. Exhibit Number 1?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On February 3rd, 2005, you say Spur interest to Carolina First. Why have you got that on there?

A. Say that again.

Q. Line Number 7 -- Item 7, Page Number 4, you say, "Carolina First, Spur, S-p-u-r, interest $800."

A. Yeah.

Q. Why is that on there?

A. At that point in time, I had no records of a Carolina First bank account being related to The Spur.

Q. Is it not possible that something was done with The Spur through Carolina First to benefit that project that was ongoing at that time?

A. In our attorney's scouring of the records, there was never a Palmetto State Enterprises account opened up at Carolina First.

Q. All right. How about on February 5th, 2005, Mike Rogers, labor, Danny Cain, labor, Mike Rogers, labor? All of those occurred in February of 2005?

A. That's correct.

Q. And why did you -- why have you decided to put those on here that -- seeming to indicate that Mr. Greene took that -- those funds?

120

A. There was -- the construction had not started at The Spur until --

Q. But you had land in Columbia, South Carolina, did you not?

A. Correct.

Q. And that land had the various -- and other things on it, did it not?

A. It did.

Q. And maybe those guys had been hired to go down to Columbia to start looking at -- transforming some of that land; is that not right? Could they not have?

A. Maybe if they had a bulldozer and stuff, they could have.

Q. They may could have gone down and done other things inside the property. There could have been warehouses, were they -- there were warehouses down there, were there not?

A. There were.

Q. And those warehouses could very well have had property inside them that needed to be cleaned out, could it not?

A. Possibly so, yes.

Q. But you want the Estate of Lamar Greene to pay that back. You have no evidence -- you have no evidence that this was not an authorized expenditure.

121

A. Say that again.

Q. You have no evidence that this was not an authorized expenditure.

A. No evidence?

Q. You have no evidence that it was not.

A. I -- the way I deducted this was by the dates and the fact that there was still work being done by Lamar at Clemson Towers, and I contacted people at Clemson Towers who owned units there, and they said at that time that Mike Rogers and Danny Cain --

MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I have an objection. That's hearsay.

THE COURT: All right. Hold on. You asked him the question why -- he's answering why he did it, so I think it's a proper answer. You're protected on the record.

THE WITNESS: At the same time, there were expenditures that were going for materials that I know were being used at Clemson Towers, and at the same time there was labor being expended at Clemson Towers. And I talked with a resident at Clemson Towers and asked him if he knew these people and if they did work there.

MR. HUNT: Your Honor, one explanation has continued on and on and on, and I think it's --

THE COURT: All right. Move on to the next question, please, sir.

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. So when did the construction begin on Clemson Towers?
A. Clemson Towers, I'm not sure when --
Q. Pardon me. The Spur.
A. The construction loan was let in June, July of 2005 with Regions Bank.
Q. What evidence do you have that the Item Number 21 to Lew Jordan was an inadmissible -- unallowable expense to Mr. Jordan on Spur land? 56, 57.
A. The -- in regards to Lew Jordan, any payments to Lew -- I spoke with Lew, and there were payments made to Lew under two categories that I was aware of. One category was repayments for his marketing and real estate work in regards to Clemson Towers, and payments made to Lew Jordan -- Lew had a box at Clemson, and Lamar paid a certain portion of the cost of that box in order to have access to the tickets and that. So in my conversations with Lew Jordan, he never told me anything about any work that he did down there. I was only aware of his involvement at the Clemson Towers in marketing and his ownership of a box which Lamar paid a certain percentage of each year. Those were the two, and they did not have anything to do with condo development.
Q. He never -- Lew Jordan never did view or make recommendations on the site in Columbia?
A. I have no knowledge of that. In my discussions with 123

Lew, he never mentioned that to me.
Q. This 100,000 to Palmetto State Enterprises that as you testified to a while ago was an inter-account transfer, was it not?
A. That's correct.
Q. Yet, you're trying to ask the Estate of Mr. Greene to repay that?
A. Yes.
Q. For what reasons?
A. When I went through back in 2007 and '8 and did this in tracking the transfer and following the money line, that was an unallowable expense at that time. What was the date on that?
Q. June 9th of 2005.
A. Yes.
Q. But it was an intercompany transfer?
A. That's correct.
Q. You've talked about the unallowable -- how many of all -- since you've now been in charge since 2007, what were -- what kind of records -- did you ever come across records which reflected the bonus that was paid to Mr. Rodriguez and the other -- Mr. West?
A. Yes.
Q. Were there records of that?
A. There were checks made out to them, yes.
Q. Were there company records which indicated on this day we're going to issue bonuses to this one or that one or the other one?

124

A. There were no -- there were no company records or minutes of any meetings.
Q. Were there -- did you have extensive records of some of these other things that transpired, like some of this travel?
A. There were -- there were no minutes of board meetings or records of any meetings between the members of the LLC maintained.
Q. And the MAC Club at West Virginia --
A. Yes.
Q. -- no records of that, were there?
A. In regards to?
Q. The contributions -- the two contributions of $1,100 a piece.
A. The only records were the canceled checks out of the bank accounts.
Q. Yes, sir. About like the $55,000 bonus, were they not? So you -- is that not right?
A. Say that again.
Q. You had about as much record of those payments to the MAC fund as you do of the $50,000 bonus?
A. The only -- the records I've had were the bank statements and the canceled checks.
Q. So you have no reasons not to -- you have no reason or no -- you have no evidence which would indicate that the LLC or the members thereof did not approve this?

A. In this case, yes, I do.
Q. Where?
A. When I spoke specifically with Coach Rodriguez and presented this to him, he had knowledge that Mr. Greene had joined the MAC Club, but he had no knowledge that it was being paid for out of this company bank account. He assumed it was being paid by him personally.
Q. Is he here today to testify to that?
A. Who?
Q. Mr. Rodriguez.
A. No, he's not.
Q. All right, sir. Tom James Engineering, Tuscaloosa. Is there such an engineer as Tom James?
A. No, there's not.
Q. Barton Builders, Spur cabinet, on Line Number 30, what was that?
A. That was for cabinets to be put into the Clemson Towers.
Q. All right, sir. Was the 12/17/05 -- who was that grading company, do you know, $1,500, Line 37?
A. That was a company out of Seneca, South Carolina.
Q. Yes, sir. What evidence do you have that Ramon Arech on Line Number 42, that was done after the commencement of the construction down at The Spur -- what evidence do you have that that was not a valid charge?

A. At that point in time, the construction company was doing all of the construction down at that -- down at that site.
Q. But you have no evidence that -- you don't have Mr. Ramon Arech, or whatever his name is, or Ray Arch or HC Labor at The Spur -- none of them are here to testify to that, are they?
A. Not today.
Q. No, sir. This Al Bell Consulting -- I think I heard you say that Al Bell was one of the contributors -- investors, was he not?
A. Yes, he was.
Q. And was that -- could that not have been one of those ways by which funds could have gotten out of this LLC to investors?
A. Say that again.
Q. Is that not -- could that not be like some of those other things that happened in this LLC, that money was taken from the LLC and given to an investor?
A. No. If you go back, there are specific checks that are titled or labeled as for his consulting, and there I know is at least one check that was labeled specifically in the record, and Al, when I talked to him, said, this was repayment for my investment. So there are specific dates in the spreadsheets as to -- in regards as to when Al Bell --

Q. What dates are there? You have the evidence. You have the records.
A. Okay. I do know one is --
MR. HUNT: Judge, while he's looking, we're at 1:00.
THE COURT: That means you need to move quicker so we can go to lunch.
MR. HUNT: It might be a while.
THE COURT: Well, we'll be here a while then.
MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.
THE WITNESS: If you go to a check dated -- on Page 102, Check Number 1077 dated August 13th of -- let me see here, when was that date -- yeah, 2007, a check made to Al Bell for $50,800, that was a repayment for his investment in The Spur project, which is a separate payment outside of the consulting agreement.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. If you would please, sir, say that again.
A. If you go to Page 102 --
Q. Right.
A. -- on the left-hand column --
Q. Right.
A. -- second check up --
Q. It's actually Page 55, Item Number 102.
A. Yeah, it's Page 102 of Exhibit 1.

Q. It's -- let's make sure the record's right. It is Page Number 55. It is Item Number 102.
A. No.
THE COURT: He's talking about the actual page number of the attachments.
MR. HUNT: Yes, sir, the page number of the attachments, and that's what I'm on.
THE WITNESS: Yeah, Page 102.
THE COURT: I've got it right here, Page 102.
MR. HUNT: Maybe I didn't get the whole -- I don't think, Your Honor, I got the entire exhibit.
MR. PRICE: Mr. Hunt, you want to use mine?
MR. HUNT: It would help. It would have been nice to have gotten it to start with.
MR. PRICE: Mr. Hunt, I believe at lunch if you look through, you'll see that you did get it to start with.
MR. HUNT: And I believe if you'll look at this, you don't see 102 pages on this, so --
THE COURT: Let's move on to the questioning, gentlemen.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Which check number are we speaking about, sir?
A. It's Page 102, Check Number 1677.
Q. For how much?
A. $50,800, and I think it says Spur investment in the notation page -- on the notation line item.

Q. Spur investment, yes, sir. And your point?
A. You asked the question whether or not the payments to Al Bell at the $5,000 a month rate for consulting could be construed as repayment for investments, and my answer was, no, that was made under the separate payment.
Q. Was the entire -- $50,000, was that his entire investment?
A. That was his -- I'm not sure. It covered at that time, I believe -- I remember, principal and interest, I believe. That was -- he had an agreement with Lamar -- with Palmetto State.
Q. Did Al Bell get that $5,000, to your knowledge, that we've got on page -- on the first page, Item Number 24?
A. What page?
Q. First -- on the first page of your recapitulation, it says down on Item Number 24, Al Bell consulting agreement, $5,000.
THE COURT: On my exhibit, Number 24 is showing Tom James Engineering.
MR. HUNT: Well, again --
THE COURT: Could I see what --
MR. HUNT: This is what I was handed, Your Honor. I'm sorry.
THE COURT: That's fine. Well, on this one it's showing, 24, Tom James Engineering. So yours appears to be consistent with what I have. I believe you're asking about Line 49.

MR. HUNT: But I said Page 24. Page 24 down there –

THE COURT: Okay. I'm sorry. I was going by the item number under the number column.

MR. HUNT: All right. We'll try to go by numbers.

THE COURT: All right.

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:

Q. All right. Number – we were back on – we're back on Item Number 49 on your first page.

A. Al Bell consulting agreement.

Q. Yes, sir. What evidence do you have that Al Bell did not receive those funds?

A. Oh, I – Al Bell did receive those funds.

Q. But you want Lamar Greene to pay them back?

A. That's correct.

Q. Why?

A. Because these expenditures were not authorized and in this case specifically were said no to by the other LLC members.

Q. What written documents do you have to that effect?

A. I don't have written documents, but it is included in Ron West's deposition testimony, which will be submitted.

Q. What evidence do you have to the effect – was this about like – again like about that $50,000 bonus that a couple of those guys got?

A. Say that – what's your question?

Q. This is akin to that $50,000 bonus – the $130,000 bonuses that several of the members of the LLC got, was it not? No records.

A. There were no written records. The way I discovered it was – and investigated it, I reached out to the Regions loan officer, and he told me that Lamar did approach him at one time with the other two members of the LLC there wanting to get this agreement approved. It was denied by the Regions loan officer, Davis Barnett or Arnette, I believe. Rich Rodriguez and Ron West together at that – together said no, and Lamar went ahead and did it.

Q. Went ahead and did the $5,000?

A. He entered into some kind of agreement with Al Bell and paid him funds periodically out of the account.

Q. Was there a contemporaneous bonus to Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. West on Item Number 50 when Mr. Greene received $7,500?

A. Say that again.

Q. Was there a contemporaneous bonus to both Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. West when Mr. Greene received that bonus?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Okay.

A. There wasn't any checks written out to any account to Rodriguez or West at that time of any of the bank accounts we've gone through today.

132

Q. On the Al Bell consulting, I count – I see four already in there in going through this thing. Five, six, seven, eight. Did you, as the managing partner of the LLC in September 2007, consider getting a repayment from Al Bell for those – what I count to be $50,000 in consulting fees?

A. I did. I had a discussion with our attorney, Chris Olson, and Chris said he would handle and pursue discussions and that with Mr. Bell.

Q. Was it handled and pursued, sir?

A. I can't answer that.

Q. You're the manager.

A. Mm-hmm.

Q. You don't know?

A. At that point in time, I was just spending – instead of going back and trying to recover and identify funds, the majority of my time was spent on trying to keep the LLC solvent.

Q. Would $50,000 not have helped keep it solvent?

A. Pardon me?

Q. Would $50,000 not have helped keep it solvent?

A. It would have.

Q. But you didn't pursue it? You didn't – you obviously – you obviously didn't pursue it.

A. I asked our attorney, and he said he would be the one to investigate it.

133

Q. You're the principal; he was the agent?

A. That's correct.

Q. But you didn't pursue it. Now you want Mr. Greene's estate to pay it?

A. That's correct.

Q. Yes, sir.

THE COURT: Mr. Hunt, let's go back to your lunch inquiry. How much longer – my theory didn't work apparently. How much longer do you think you're going to go on cross?

MR. HUNT: Your Honor, this may take until 4 o'clock.

THE COURT: All right. We'll take a 45-minute break. But, gentlemen, you all got to get together. You all know we got a lot of ground to cover.

We'll start back at 2 o'clock.

MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.

MR. TALLEY: Thank you, sir.

(Thereupon, a lunch break was taken, after which the following proceedings were had.)

THE COURT: All right, sir, if you can come back around to the witness stand. And just to remind you, you're still under oath.

All right, Mr. Hunt.

MR. HUNT: If it please the Court, Your Honor.

If I might approach, Your Honor?

THE COURT: Sure.

134

MR. HUNT: This document has been outlined.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. I'm going to show you a letter, sir. I don't know if you have been – if you've seen it or not. Have you seen that document? That's a letter of August 30th, 2005, is it not, sir?
A. Mm-hmm.
THE COURT: If you could answer yes or no, please.
THE WITNESS: Yes.
THE COURT: Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. And it's from Lamar Greene – to Lamar Green from Al Bell, is it not, sir?
A. Yes.
Q. It acknowledges a contract of $300,000 for The Spur project, does it not, sir?
A. Yes.
Q. And there's also a copy of a couple of checks down there as well, are there not?
A. Yes.
Q. And some payments paid apparently?
A. Yes.
Q. Shows Mr. Greene paying out of his own pocket $83,000, does it not, sir?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. I want to show you – direct your attention a little further, sir. Would you please look at that letter from Mr. Jamile Francis of the Leatherwood Law Firm over in Greenville?

135

A. Yes.
Q. Dated August 12th, 2005, is it not?
A. It is.
Q. And it recites about the bills for services rendered, that sort of thing, does it not?
A. Mm-hmm.
THE COURT: If you could answer yes or no.
THE WITNESS: Yes.
THE COURT: And the reason is if you say uh-huh or –
THE WITNESS: Sure.
THE COURT: – huh-uh, on a tape when the transcript's being done, it's very impossible to distinguish those.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. And that, too, it has a list of costs and attorney's fees and bills that were done with respect to the project down in Columbia, does it not, sir?
A. This is the first time I've seen this letter.
Q. Okay. All right, sir. Do you have any reason to doubt its veracity?
A. No, I do not.
Q. All right, sir.
MR. HUNT: Now, we're going to offer it in as 136

Defendants' Number 2 – 2 or 3?
THE COURT: Well, you all represent different clients, so it would need to have a different exhibit designation.
MR. HUNT: The Estate then.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I'd like some clarification as to what's being offered. I'm not sure there's been a foundation laid for –
MR. HUNT: The whole packet.
MR. PRICE: The whole packet?
MR. HUNT: Yes, sir.
MR. PRICE: I have to object due to lack of foundation at this point.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, there was a – there's been much made of the fact of Mr. Al Bell, and this is a letter directly from Mr. Bell to Mr. Greene of August 30th, 2005, wherein it reflects agreements that were made – an agreement that was made with respect to The Spur condominium down in Columbia.
THE COURT: All right. But if this witness testifies he's never seen it before, how can it be introduced via a witness who says, I don't have any familiarity with it?
MR. HUNT: Well, he, Your Honor, is the one who is in in charge of the – he says he's the managing partner now of the LLC, and this was a debt of the LLC.
THE COURT: Mr. Price?
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I see nothing on this first letter that indicates that it's a debt of the LLC. It's still Lamar Greene personally. I suppose I would not object to the letter from Leatherwood, Walker, Todd & Mann, which is made out to Lamar Greene on behalf of Palmetto State Enterprises, and the invoice from Leatherwood, which appears to be an invoice directed to Palmetto State Enterprises. I think that the foundation has not been laid yet but could be laid through this witness for those items. I don't understand how any foundation can be laid through Mike Brown for this letter from Al Bell to Lamar Greene.

137

THE COURT: Mr. Hunt, unless you can lay some additional foundation, I'm going to have to sustain the objection.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, then let me do something further.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. I direct – I hand you a document that is a –
THE COURT: Has Mr. Price seen the document?
MR. HUNT: I don't know that he has.
THE COURT: If you'll let counsel see it first.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. If you would please, sir, the check on the – in the right – upper right-hand side, what does it say? What does it recite? It's dated August 30th, 2004, is it not?
A. Yes.

138

Q. And it's made payable to William Taylor?
A. Yes.
Q. For $40,000?
A. That's correct.
Q. For the Columbia property escrow, is it not, earnest money?
A. It says -- I can read "Columbia property" and "earnest." I can't read the word after that.
Q. All right. And that came from Mr. Greene, did it not?
A. It looks like a check at Palmetto Bank, which he is the -- a customer.
Q. Yes, sir. Would that -- could that very well have been the official -- the -- well, that was by its own -- by what it says, it's the earnest money deposit for the property The Spur was eventually put on.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I've reviewed the document. I see nothing that says what that's earnest money for, and it is again a check written by Lamar Greene personally.
THE COURT: If this witness has personal knowledge, then he's qualified and capable of answering. If not, then he can say, I don't know.
THE WITNESS: I have no knowledge of this check.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Do you know when the contract was done for the purpose of the property at The Spur, sir?

139

A. I do not know.
Q. You're the manager. You know when Lamar Greene went to North Carolina, and you know when he spent 50 cents for a Coca-Cola at McDonald's, but you don't know when the contract was signed for Columbia?
A. When I took over as manager of the LLC, there were no records in the files that had -- that were then put in my possession that showed when the contract or anything was done in South Carolina.
Q. And you didn't make it your business to find out?
A. At that point in time, it was not a priority of mine.
Q. Yes.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor --
THE WITNESS: You can't go forward looking backwards.
MR. HUNT: Thank you for that word of wisdom, sir.
THE WITNESS: Yeah.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Here's a letter to -- from Leatherwood walker tod and man.
MR. PRICE: May I?
MR. HUNT: You've got it.
MR. PRICE: Well, I don't know if I have it.
MR. HUNT: You've got it right there.
MR. PRICE: Mr. Hunt, are you telling me that the letter you just handed the witness is the August 12th, 2005, letter?
MR. HUNT: I am. I am.
MR. PRICE: Okay. Next time I would appreciate being able to review it before presenting it to the witness.
MR. HUNT: Okay. I handed it to you to review as --
THE COURT: Let's move on, gentlemen. Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. That's to Mr. Greene and the LLC, is it not, sir?
A. That's correct.
Q. All right, sir.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, we would offer it into evidence as the Estate's Number 1, I would think.
THE COURT: All right.
(Thereupon, Estate's Exhibit Number 1 was admitted into Evidence.)
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Now, I think I heard you testify earlier that on Mondays of every -- of every week Mr. Greene used his time to go to Charlotte, did you not?
A. Gastonia.
Q. Or Gastonia, same difference. And that's why you objected to his charges that were made on those Mondays, is that not right, sir?
A. That's correct.
Q. All right, sir. I want you to look on March -- let's see. Looking at my copy, look at the entry on March 14th, 2005

141

A. Mm-hmm.
THE COURT: I'm sorry. Which document are you referring to?
MR. HUNT: That's the letter document, Your Honor. It's on the listing of the bills from Leatherwood.
THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Do you see that date there, sir?
A. Yeah, March.
Q. Okay. Would it surprise you to know that March 14th, 2005, is on a Monday?
A. No.
Q. Okay, sir. In that particular document, I'd like for you to read on March 14th, 2005, down there on the bottom, middle way down.
A. "Conference with Al Bell, Lamar Greene, and William Swent to review loan closing checklist, revised consulting agreement."
Q. Also 3/14, "Meet -- "
A. "Meet with Lamar Greene and Al Bell to review checklist for condominium project."
Q. So, sir, quite frankly, your assertions a while ago that everything that Mr. Greene -- that Mr. Greene did everything on Monday were not quite correct, were they?

142

A. Rephrase -- what's the question again?
Q. If Lamar Greene was meeting with his attorneys in Greenville on The Spur in Columbia, he obviously wasn't doing work in Gastonia that day, was he?
A. On that day, yes.
Q. Yes, sir. How about -- I'll direct your attention to the -- on 4/18 of '05, conference with Lamar Greene, was it not, sir?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. He obviously wasn't doing work in Charlotte that day or Gastonia that day, was he, sir?
A. That's correct.
Q. Yes, sir. This document talks about meetings, and if you will review it -- if you take a little time to review it, Al Bell is all in here, is it not, sir --
A. Yes.
Q. -- is he not, sir?
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. With that information, knowing that Al Bell was a part of all those things, does that change your -- does that change your mind about your saying that Mr. Greene took money from the LLC to his own use when it was -- when it was obviously paid to Al Bell?
A. It was -- it's still my -- I still believe that it was an unauthorized expenditure because the other LLC members told him not to do it, and, on top of that, in discussions with Mr. Bell, the amount of work that was performed by him was nowhere near what he was paid. And in talking to different people, they believed that Mr. Greene did this because Mr. Bell was not included as a member of the LLC and it was a way to put -- to make things up with Mr. Bell.

Q. Yes, sir. But, again, neither you nor your attorneys pursued Mr. Bell, did they? They did not -- we spoke about that earlier.
A. Yes, mm-hmm.
Q. You did not.
All these laborers that you're so -- that you say they all went to Clemson -- the Clemson Towers or whatever it was that we talked about earlier, did you and/or your attorneys pursue these various individuals for receiving funds from this LLC?
A. No, we did not.
Q. Okay, sir. And why?
A. Pardon me?
Q. Why?
A. At that point in time, it was -- I was going -- moving forward to keep the LLC going.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. The -- I wasn't the one who made these charges and did not document it, and it was Mr. Greene's responsibility.

144

Q. Yes, sir. But when you found out in 2007 -- you've now -- we're going on you've had six years --
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. -- to have pursued --
THE COURT: Sir, if you'll please answer yes or no.
THE WITNESS: Yes.
THE COURT: Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. You have not done so?
A. That's correct.
Q. You did not do so with Mr. Bell, did you?
A. No, I did not.
Q. You did not. What -- there's a charge on these costs that you -- that was presented, Number 89 -- Item Number 89.
THE COURT: Which exhibit number, please, sir?
MR. HUNT: This is back onto Number 4 -- excuse me, Your Honor, Number 1.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. B & E Engineering testing in Blacksburg.
A. Yes.
Q. Why is that not part of an authorized expenditure, sir?
A. If I remember correctly, B & E was not a -- in my research, B & E was not a company that did any work up there in Blacksburg.
Q. Okay. Did they do any work in either Columbia or 145

Tuscaloosa?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. All right, sir. That two -- that Item Number 116, Lamar Greene repaid for $3,000, in Exhibit Number 1, did -- do you have any evidence that -- why that was not a valid repayment of something Mr. Greene had lent to the corporation?
A. In going back and reviewing all of the deposits into the account, there was never a deposit into the account for that amount with a note that it was a loan.
Q. Did you ever -- did -- was Mr. Greene repaid back for the money he paid down to bind the property in Columbia?
A. I'm not sure.
Q. Okay. So that could be part of that, could it not be, sir?
A. You'd have to go through a lot of bank records to figure it out.
Q. Yes, sir. Item Number 82 -- 83, Exhibit Number 1, Furniture Showcase.
A. Yes.
Q. How is it that you say that is not part of the authorized expenditures?
A. Repeat the question.
Q. You said -- you've got on your list $15,000 was not part of the authorized expenditures.
A. Yes.

Q. How did you come up with that?
A. At an appropriate time this evidence was turned over to the state law enforcement division, and they did their own investigation, which ended up in Mr. Greene being arrested, and in their -- in their case background and investigation they went to Furniture Showcase and asked them about the -- these transactions.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, that's hearsay testimony.
THE COURT: I hear what you're saying, but it is responsive to the question. The question was why did you show that as not an appropriate expense, and I think he's entitled to give an answer. The door is open.
MR. TALLEY: Okay. All right. I mean, I've got a little bit of issue here with his characterization of the events as far as the law enforcement was concerned. So I just note that for the record.
THE COURT: You're protected on the record.
MR. TALLEY: Thank you.
THE WITNESS: And so they did confirm in their investigation with the people at Furniture Showcase that this --
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, we now have hearsay on hearsay.
THE COURT: I understand. He's answering your question.
THE WITNESS: And I -- so that's how I came to stand by that the Furniture Showcase was an unallowable expense for furniture bought from that company in Easley and placed in Unit 101 at the Clemson Towers.

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Did you bring an action on behalf of -- against Furniture Showcase?
A. No, I did not.
Q. Did you bring an action against Clemson Towers?
A. Clemson Towers is a condominium development.
Q. I understand. Or the entity that owned Clemson Towers to recover that property?
A. It went into Unit 101, which was owned by Lamar Greene. Lamar Greene received -- personally received that furniture.
Q. Did you -- did you claim and deliver that furniture?
A. Pardon me?
Q. Did you claim and deliver that furniture and sell it to handle that debt?
A. No, I did not.
Q. Okay.
A. The furniture for 101 was sold by Lamar and Julee Greene and included in the sale of their condo -- of that condo. They received the proceeds from the sale of that condo with the furniture in it.
Q. Is that your -- is that the same position you take as to Item Number 125 of Exhibit 1?
A. 125 of Exhibit 1, that furniture went into Unit 601 at 148

The Spur in Columbia, which was owned jointly by Lamar Greene and Ed Strom.
Q. Did you attempt to get it back from Ed Strom?
A. No.
Q. Okay. So that's at least $5,323 there Mr. Strom owes the entity back, is that not so? Half of that.
A. I can't answer that.
Q. You can divide can't you, sir?
A. I can divide, yes, sir.
Q. Divide two into it, you get that number.
On your submission to the Court, Number 5, sir, down in there --
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. -- I did hear you correctly to say that on Item Number 3 -- that you said that was a double transaction, did you not?
A. What do you mean by Number 3?
Q. Number 3 on -- well, actually, C -- I'm sorry -- down your list.
A. Yeah.
Q. That -- you say that's already been included, has it not been, sir?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay.
THE COURT: Is that the $7,500 bonus?

149

THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I think I'm done.
THE COURT: Mr. Price?
MR. PRICE: Yes, sir. I have a little bit on redirect. I will attempt to be as brief as possible.
REEXAMINATION BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, we'll attack this piece by piece. Are you aware from personal knowledge which NCAA football program holds the most victories of any and all time?
A. I believe it's Michigan.
Q. Okay. And when Mr. Rodriguez left West Virginia University for Michigan university, was he offered more money than he was making at West Virginia?
A. Quite a bit more.
Q. Okay. So to the extent Mr. Rodriguez ended up paying a buyback, was that a business decision he made, or was that something you had to save face with him about?
A. No, actually --
THE WITNESS: If I may expound, Your Honor?
THE COURT: Yes, sir.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I'd just note for the record that he objected when I tried to ask these questions earlier.
THE COURT: I think I allowed you to go ahead over his objection.
MR. TALLEY: I thought you told me we were getting a little too far out of line here.

150

THE COURT: So I'll tell you the same thing. Keep it short.
MR. TALLEY: Yes, sir.
THE COURT: I'm talking to Mr. Price and not you. We're not here for ESPN SportsNation. We're here to try this case, so --
MR. PRICE: Understood, sir.
THE WITNESS: When the contract that was in effect at West Virginia when Coach Rodriguez left there had a $4,000,000 buyout, I recommended to Coach Rodriguez that he not sign the contract because of the $4,000,000 buyout, witnessed by very many people in the room, and he went ahead and signed it. In negotiating with the University of Michigan on that $4,000,000 buyout, I negotiated that Michigan had to pay $2.5 million of the buyout. At that time, once it became public knowledge, I was very highly, what you could say, congratulated by my peers in the community for negotiating such a high buyout that another university would pay.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. And, in fact, Mr. Rodriguez kept you on retainer as an agent for how many years after that?
A. Three years.
Q. Okay. Addressing some of the items that were presented to you, and if we could start with Defendants' Exhibit 1.

151

THE COURT: I've got --
MR. PRICE: You have Defendants' Exhibit 1?
THE COURT: -- I've got it here.
MR. PRICE: Thank you, Judge.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Defendants' Exhibit 1 was a check that was presented to you by Mr. Talley of approximately $3,000; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. Did I understand your testimony to be that that may have gone to your personal mortgage on a unit at The Spur?
A. My wife's personal mortgage, yes.
Q. And did I understand that there was an agreement that at least part of your compensation for working for the LLC at the time would be applied to that mortgage?
A. That's correct.
Q. And remind the Court how -- what you were being paid at that time for the work you were doing with the LLC.
A. $500 per day.
Q. Okay. And how many days approximately a week were you working?
A. At that point in time, probably eight days to ten days a month.
Q. Okay. And how many -- how many days would you have to work to justify a $3,000 mortgage payment under that compensation agreement?

152

A. Six days.
Q. Okay. Moving on, if you could look at Plaintiff's Exhibit 1, which I think you have in front of you.
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. Let's start with Item Number 40.
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. Remind us what that flight was for.
A. It was to go to a bowl game in Orlando, Florida, that Clemson played in.
Q. Okay. Do you know who was on that plane?
A. I do know Lamar Greene was on there, and I believe his wife Julee was on there.
Q. Did Coach Ron West -- he was at Clemson at the time; correct?
A. Yes.
Q. Did he fly with Lamar Greene to his own bowl game?
A. No.
Q. Okay. Where was Coach Rodriguez at the time?
A. I think he may have been getting ready to play his own bowl game somewhere else.
Q. Was he flying with Lamar Greene to Clemson's bowl game?
A. No.
Q. Item 73 you were asked about. That was a check in the amount of $3,600 to Rocky McIntosh?
A. Yes.

153

Q. Where did Lamar Greene have his personal residence?
A. In Gaffney, South Carolina.
Q. Where was Rocky McIntosh from?
A. He went to junior high and high school in Gaffney, South Carolina.
Q. Okay. Do you, from personal knowledge, know anything about Lamar Greene's relationship with Rocky McIntosh?
A. Lamar and -- took care of Rocky and helped him out a lot when he was in junior high and high school, employed Rocky when he was in high school, and has maintained a relationship providing support -- had maintained a relationship with Rocky as a friend and providing financial support when needed.
Q. So did Rocky McIntosh have any employment or role at Palmetto State?
A. No. Well, he eventually later became an investor in Palmetto State.
Q. I'm looking -- at that time, was he an investor?
A. No.
Q. I'm looking at Item Number 96, which was a check to Tommy Biershank for $2,500. Do you know who Tommy Biershank is?
A. Tommy was an employee -- was, in my research, an employee of J & P Security.
Q. Okay. An employee?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. One item that I picked up on while 154

Mr. Talley was questioning you is Item 108. Can you tell from looking at that what that is?
A. Yes. Li Thorghian, parts loan, $8,146.
Q. And if we actually look at that check on Page 59 –
THE COURT: Just for the record, you spell it, T-h-o-r-g-h-i-a-n.
MR. PRICE: Yes, sir.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Can you see that check on Page 59?
A. Item Number 108?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. Yes.
Q. What's it say in the memo line?
A. "Parts."
Q. This is a three-part question, okay. First of all, what need – first of all, where does it appear – let me figure how I want to ask this. Of the checks you've reviewed that were made to J & P Enterprises and in the testimony of Julee Greene that you witnessed, what was your understanding as to what a large number of those checks were written for?
A. Out of this account to J & P Enterprises?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. To pay accounts payable – accounts payable that J & P Enterprises owed.
Q. And what was J & P Enterprises buying?

155

A. They were buying textile parts.
Q. From where?
A. China – well, various places they manufactured them, and they bought them from China.
Q. Okay. Are you able to deduce by looking at that check and the payee written on that check and the memo written on that check what it appears to have been written for?
A. Textile parts imported from China.
Q. Okay. And –
A. Or it may have been other parts, because I did have knowledge they were expanding outside the textile area buying merchandise from China.
Q. Okay. Was Palmetto State at any point buying parts from China?
A. No.
Q. Okay. So would you agree then that probably that check would have been more appropriately highlighted in green?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. And we also, I believe, agreed during your direct exam that the $16,000 wire for J & P Enterprises' bankruptcy was more appropriately highlighted in green?
A. Correct.
Q. So if we go back and if you look – and perhaps we never tallied the subtotal. But if you were to add the amounts that were paid to J & P Enterprises, would you include that

156

Item 108 that's not highlighted in green?
A. Yes.
Q. Would you include the wire to the law firm in Charlotte?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. One question you were asked about that actually came from Plaintiff's Exhibit 6 – is that the exhibit for salary? It may be 5. It's Plaintiff's Exhibit 5.
A. Yeah.
Q. You were asked about Item Numbers J and K. And I believe the testimony was that Lamar Greene was owed $10,000 a month for salary and that J and K were written in December and they total $8,000 and Lamar was actually owed $2,000. Do you remember that line of questioning?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Do me a favor and look at Item L, and you can even look at the check there on Page 11, and tell me what that check states.
A. Item L –
Q. Yes, sir.
A. – is January 2nd, 2006.
Q. Okay. And what's written in the memo?
A. "December salary."
Q. Okay. And that's a check to Lamar Greene for how much?
A. $7,000.

157

Q. Okay. So if you added Item K and you added Item L, how much was Lamar Greene paid in salary for the month of December 2006?
A. J, K and L?
Q. Yes – well, yes, sir, one of them appears to have been to repay a loan.
A. Adding K and L, it adds up to 12,000.
Q. Okay. So if we also look at Item L, there's no question that Lamar was paid his 10,000 in December. The question is whether he was paid more; correct?
A. Yes.
Q. There was a lot of talk about where's your documentation for some of these charges.
A. Yes.
Q. And I guess what I would like you to do is explain to the Court why a charge would have been listed if there was no documentation. Why did you choose to list a charge because you had no documentation of it?
A. I just basically – the main reason was I used the same theory that the IRS would, that if there's – and any accountant would preparing for an IRS audit – that if there's no documentation to back it up or a paper trail, then it's an unallowable expense.
Q. Before you made that decision to treat undocumented charges as an unallowable expense, how many clearly unallowable expenses had you identified?

A. Many.
Q. Okay. How many instances where Mr. Greene appears to have deliberately documented an expense as being something other than it was had you identified?
A. Many.
Q. Okay. Are you able to articulate for the Court at what point you quit giving Mr. Greene the benefit of the doubt on these undocumented expenses?
A. Repeat the question.
Q. Are you -- and you may not be able to.
A. Yeah.
Q. Are you able to articulate to the Court at what point you quit giving Mr. Greene the benefit of the doubt on these undocumented expenses?
A. It was very -- I mean, I -- I spent a lot of time reviewing it, and I tried to make sure that there was legitimate theory or reason behind making them unallowable. I just did not throw my hands up at one time and say unallowable. There were still many charges that are not on here that probably could be, but I was trying to keep a fair assessment in that if it couldn't be proven not to put it on there.
Q. In your own business enterprises, do you save your invoices?
A. I save both my hard copy and on my computer.

159

Q. Do you save your receipts?
A. I save my receipts.
Q. Do you save them in a manner so that you can document your own expenditures if called upon to do so?
A. At any point in time be able to walk into my accountant and lay it all out for him.
Q. Do you have partners in any of your business ventures?
A. Just one.
Q. Have you had other partners in the past?
A. No.
Q. With your one partner do you document your expenses so that you can justify them if called upon?
A. Yes.
Q. Were you able to identify any documentation kept by Mr. Greene for these expenses?
A. I was not able to identify any documentation for these expenses. The original attorney for the LLC tried numerous times to have records turned over by Mr. Greene to the accountant that was working with us originally, and those records were never turned over.
Q. Okay. Mr. Hunt asked you why the LLC would have made a decision to close on a construction loan after these irregularities had been identified. Do you remember that question?
A. I do.

160

Q. What I didn't fully understand is -- at that point, had there already been a loan taken out by the LLC to purchase the land in Blacksburg?
A. There had been. It had closed at the end of June 2007.
Q. Okay. Was that loan nearing maturity?
A. It was.
Q. Okay. And with that in mind, what was the rationale in terms of closing on this construction loan and taking a draw to pay off the other loan?
A. The rationale?
Q. Yes, sir. Why was that done?
A. In the LLC attorney, Chris Olson, talking with the bank officer, it was agreed upon, especially from the bank's point of view, that that loan needed to be closed out and paid off and that the only draw that would be allowed on a construction loan -- new construction loan was to pay the land off and no other draws could be made at that time, and that was put in writing by the bank's representative, Fred Gibbs, in a letter, I believe, that Mr. Chris Olson received and Mike Wilcox, who was Coach Rodriguez's financial advisor.
Q. So the bank knew about it?
A. Yes.
Q. The bank didn't object?
A. That's correct.
Q. Did it buy time?

161

A. It did buy time.
Q. Was time valuable at that point?
A. At that point in time, yes.
Q. Okay. There were questions raised by Mr. Hunt about whether in, for instance, February of 2005 there could have been laborers doing something on The Spur property. You remember that line of questioning?
A. That's correct.
Q. One thing I noticed during that was Item 15 -- or Number 15 on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1, and when I turn to that check on Page 5 --
A. Yes.
Q. -- what's written in the memo line?
A. Check Number 15?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. It's number symbol 202.
Q. Okay. At that point was there a Unit 202 at The Spur?
A. No, there was not.
Q. Okay. So would it be possible to have been buying supplies at Lowe's for Unit 202 at The Spur?
A. That's correct.
Q. What's correct?
A. No, no, say it again.
Q. Would it have been possible to have been legitimately buying supplies at Lowe's for Unit 202 at The Spur?

162

A. No.
Q. Okay. If you look at Item 21, please, sir, on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1, and if we look at the actual check to Lew Jordan -- it's on Page 7 -- what's written in the memo line there?
A. "Closings."
Q. Okay. What closings in connection with The Spur or the condo in Tuscaloosa or anything that could have been taking place at the time that Lew Jordan would be under commission of?
A. None.
Q. Okay. Let's talk about Al Bell for a minute, and in doing so I would like you to please reference Estate's Exhibit Number 1. That was an invoice from Leatherwood, Walker, Todd & Mann, which appears to indicate that Al Bell had some involvement in a loan negotiation. Do you agree?
A. Well, let me read the letter first.
Q. And I'm -- actually would suggest instead that you look at the invoice attached to that letter.
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. Mr. Brown, during your direct exam you indicated that Mr. Bell -- or it may have been on cross exam -- you indicated that Mr. Bell sat on a board of a bank. Do you remember that testimony?
A. I do remember that testimony.
Q. Do you remember which bank it was he sat on the board of?

163

A. I believe it was NBSC.
Q. Okay. And if we look at the letter that's been entered as Estate's Exhibit 1 -- if you look at the third paragraph, it states, "It is unfortunate that we were not able to assist you with closing the loan due to your election to obtain the loan from Regions Bank rather than NBSC." Do you see that?
A. Yes.
Q. And I guess my question for you is, what role did Al Bell have providing any legitimate services -- even assuming that the services he was providing in connection with this contemplated NBSC loan were legitimate, okay, after the decision was made to take the loan from Regions Bank, what legitimate role did Al Bell have in providing any services to Palmetto State?
A. None.
Q. Okay. Do me a favor, sir, and look at the last lawyer charge, and I believe that's going to be on the page Bates stamped 967 on that invoice.
A. Dated 6/7/05.
Q. Okay. And the date of that letter from Leatherwood indicating that they couldn't close the loan because we took a loan from Regions instead of NBSC, what's the date of that letter?
A. August 12th, 2005.

164

Q. Okay. Please, sir, if you don't mind, look at Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 and specifically Item 34.
A. Oh, 34. Yep.
Q. Okay. Who is that from?
A. It's a check made out to Al Bell for repay -- it's noted repayment.
Q. Okay. And then the next check to Al Bell, I believe, is Item 49, and that's for what?
A. Consulting agreement.
Q. Okay. My question to you, sir, is, were there any charges or any checks written to Al Bell for consulting prior to either that Item 34 or 49, depending on how you interpret the checks that say loan repayment?
A. No.
Q. Okay. But the second part of that question is, what legitimate service was Al Bell providing to Palmetto State after the election was made to go with Regions instead of NBSC in the summer of 2005?
A. None.
Q. Okay. But Al Bell continued receiving approximately $5,000 a month from Palmetto State for how long?
A. All the way up through July 31st of 2007.
Q. And that's Item 161 on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Another question -- other questions that you were asked involving this invoice and -- like, for instance, was this purported meeting and conference on March 14th, 2005, with Lamar Greene, Al Bell and attorney.

165

A. That's correct.
Q. And I believe the substance of that testimony was that March 14th is a Monday?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. I went through the plaintiff's exhibits. I would ask you just to briefly do it. Tell me, other than one check noted on Plaintiff's Exhibit 3, what charges are you seeking from March 14th, 2005?
A. Hold on a second. There's one check from one account for Star Granite for granite tabletops for The Spur -- I mean, for the Clemson Towers. March -- what was that date again?
Q. March 14th, 2005.
A. I don't see any other items we're claiming.
Q. Okay. And Star Granite, that was for -- that's for granite?
A. Granite, yeah.
Q. Okay. Was there any reason why we'd be purchasing granite for The Spur or for the Tuscaloosa project in March of '05?
A. No.
Q. Ground wasn't even broken yet, was it?
A. That's correct.

166

Q. Okay. There was also this question about April 18th, 2005.
A. Yes.
Q. My first question to you is whether you can tell by reading the notation on April 18th, 2005, whether that refers to an in-person conference or a telephone conference?
A. Off of what exhibit?
Q. Off of Estate Exhibit 1, which is that invoice from Leatherwood, Walker, Todd & Mann.
A. Say it again.
Q. Can you tell from looking at that itemization from April 18th, which says that it was a conference with Lamar Greene, Al Bell, and William Swent, whether that was an in-person conference or a telephone conference?
A. You cannot tell.
Q. Okay. Have you heard of the term "telephone conference"?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Would a telephone conference involve travel expenses?
A. No.
Q. Could a telephone conference be taken – could Lamar Greene participate in a telephone conference from his office in Gastonia?
A. Yes.

167

Q. Are you seeking, to your knowledge, any charges for April 18th, 2005?
A. No.
Q. Okay. Mr. Hunt asked you a lot of questions about why didn't you pursue payment from these laborers listed in February of 2005. Are you aware of what cause of action the LLC might have against those laborers?
A. No, I'm not.
Q. Okay. What about Furniture Showcase? Are you aware of what cause of action the LLC could bring against Furniture Showcase when they gave furniture for money?
A. No.
Q. Okay. You witnessed Lamar Greene and Julee Greene testify at their depositions, did you not?
A. I did.
Q. Okay. Do you recall what either of them said in their depositions about the Furniture Showcase charges?
A. I remember what Lamar said in his deposition.
Q. What did he say?
A. Personal.
Q. Personal. That was his answer, personal?
A. That's it.
Q. Okay. And he actually testified to a good many of these charges in his deposition, did he not?
A. Used the word "personal."

168

Q. And you personally heard him say that?
A. I did.
Q. And there was some question about repayments to Ron West, and what I want to ask you is – we know a little bit, and, frankly, I don't want to go into too much detail, but there were personal guarantys on this loan in Blacksburg that didn't really work out, were there not?
A. There were personal guarantys on that loan, yes.
Q. Okay. And those personal guarantys were made by who?
A. The members of the LLC, Rich Rodriguez, Jeff Greene, Lamar Greene, and Floyd Elliott.
Q. What about Ron West?
A. And Ron West, yes.
Q. Okay. Those guarantys were worked out somehow?
A. They were.
Q. Did you have a role in working those guarantys out?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Okay. Did everybody get off scot-free, or did people come out of pocket?
A. Coach Rodriguez on the Blacksburg loan was the only one who had to come out of pocket.
Q. Okay.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I object. Again, just not true. I could ask Your Honor to take judicial notice of proceedings in United States District Court, so it's just –

169 it's just not true.

THE COURT: What's the relevancy?
MR. PRICE: Well, what I'm getting at is, to the extent there were payments made to Ron West, I believe Ron West paid those back to the LLC in the process of resolving that loan. But I can withdraw my line of questioning.
THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. I'm going to ask you a little bit more about Julee Greene, and I'm going to ask you to reference Plaintiff's Exhibit 10. Mr. Talley, I believe, asked you if you could identify which of those checks were signed specifically by Ms. Greene.
A. Hold on a second.
Q. And you identified the last check on there, which is shown on Page 21, to J & P Security; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. And if we could turn there, am I correct that your testimony is that Julee Greene signed Lamar Greene's signature on the endorsement of that check?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And did you hear her testify to that effect?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Okay. If you don't mind, do me a favor and turn on Page 13, which is one of the Morgan & Bartos checks. And I regret that it's a bad copy. But if you turn to Page 14, rather, that's the back of that check, which was one of the Morgan & Bartos checks for change orders for $17,500 to Gaston Engineering, are you able to identify who endorsed Lamar Greene's name to that check?

A. Julee Greene.
Q. Okay. Did you hear her testify to that effect?
A. I did.
Q. Okay. And then if you don't mind, turn to Page 3, and I would submit that that agrees -- it appears to be Lamar's signature endorsing it, but are you aware who filled that check out?
A. Julee Greene did.
Q. Okay. And that was made out to who?
A. Julee Greene.
Q. Okay. And it says on the bottom, "Marble Works, Incorporated," in the memo line.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know what legitimate business Marble Works had with Palmetto State?
A. No.
Q. Do you know anything about that transaction?
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I'm going to object. He's on redirect. I think we've been quite liberal in letting him get outside the scope of that, but --

171

THE COURT: How is this relative to anything that was brought out on cross?
MR. PRICE: Well, he was cross-examined, and I believe the question was asked what checks other than the J & P Security check did Julee Greene sign and -- Lamar's name to, and the testimony at that time was it was that J & P Security -- but the last check I just showed, I think, rounded that out.
THE COURT: Let's move ahead with it.
MR. PRICE: Okay. I will withdraw my question about Marble Works and save that for Ms. Greene.
Your Honor, I'll sit down.
THE COURT: All right. Any other questions?
MR. TALLEY: Yes, very briefly.
REEXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Mr. Brown, how much have you been paid by Palmetto State since you began working with it in 2005?
A. How much have I been paid?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. I can't exactly answer. It's -- but I have reported all my income to -- on my taxes and accountant and that.
Q. You testified earlier that you were working on average about eight days a month; is that accurate?
A. At some point in time, it did grow to about that.
Q. Okay. It's in Exhibit 1 in the bank records, but would you dispute the fact that on August 28th of 2007 were you written a check for $13,565?

A. Yes.
Q. You would dispute that?
A. No, I won't dispute that.
Q. Okay. That's Check 1684, and that very same day a check was written to the mortgage company for $2,997.46.
A. Yes.
Q. You agree with both of those?
A. I do.
Q. And that was when you had already discovered that there was problems at the end of August of 2007. Yet, in one month you got close to $17,000 paid for your personal benefit?
A. Say that again now.
Q. Those checks are both dated August 28th of 2007. They're in the records in Exhibit 1.
A. Yes. The question again?
Q. The question was -- you testified earlier you discovered in August of 2007 what you've alleged to be these discrepancies.
A. I started to discover the discrepancies and started to ask questions.
Q. But that same month, on August 28th, you got checks written for you or your wife's benefit totaling almost $16,500?
A. That's correct.
Q. You were really concerned then, weren't you?

173

A. I had been performing work, and, as part of my work, I had discovered discrepancies and was starting the process to ask questions at that time.
MR. TALLEY: Thank you. Nothing further.
THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?
REEXAMINATION BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Is there an entity --
MR. HUNT: And, Your Honor, this goes back to Clemson, some of this.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. The Clemson Towers entity -- the entity that built Clemson Towers, is it still in existence?
A. The entity?
Q. Yes.
A. I'm not sure of that.
Q. Are there still assets -- and so you don't know if there are assets or not?
A. With Clemson Towers?
Q. Yeah.
A. I'm pretty sure there's no assets because all of the units were sold and many of them had been resold many times over down there.
Q. Did you -- when you took over the business, did you take the opportunity to get after Clemson Towers or the entity that owned it to try to recover any of those funds?

174

A. There wasn't an entity that owned Clemson Towers. Clemson Towers was the name of the development. There was a development group, which I believe Lamar was part of and actually Jeff was part of, that built that, and so as -- they were the developers.
Q. I understand. But did anybody -- did you hire anybody to try to recover any of that money that you say was taken --
A. No.
Q. -- illegally? Okay. And Lamar Greene was the manager of this LLC and for -- from January 4th, 2005, until he was removed in 2007; is that not right?
A. He would have been the manager from whatever the date --
Q. Right.
A. -- that the original operating agreement --
Q. Right.
A. -- was executed until he was removed sometime in October of 2007.
Q. And all these -- many, many, many of these charges you've got, these are laborers and some of these things -- and some of them are accurate. Some of them, as you've testified to, have been testified to by Mr. Greene as being personal, and we understand that. But some of them, quite conceivably, could have been very legitimate expenses of this LLC; is that not right?

175

A. They could have been with the proper documentation.
Q. Yes, sir. But you want to -- you want the Estate of Lamar Greene to be responsible for all of them now?
A. Yes.
Q. But you still haven't -- you still haven't pursued the people who you could have pursued; is that not right, sir?
A. I did not pursue those people.
Q. Yes, sir, that's right. You failed to manage -- you failed to manage your potentials, and you failed to manage your assets in the LLC, did you not, sir?
A. I did not fail.
MR. HUNT: Okay, sir. Thank you.
THE COURT: All right. Thanks, sir. You can step down.
THE WITNESS: You're welcome.
THE COURT: The depositions you want to go ahead and put in the record now, and then we'll take a short break before we move on to the testimony of the next witness?
MR. PRICE: I can, Your Honor. Your Honor, Plaintiff has four depositions that it would move to enter into the evidence.
THE COURT: All right. If you could specifically identify them.
MR. PRICE: I can, Your Honor. The first deposition is the telephonic deposition of Dwight Morgan, Jr., taken on

176

May 17th, 2012, and I believe that if that was not noticed as a de bene esse deposition, it was understood to be such. Mr. Morgan is a resident of the State of Georgia, and therefore this deposition would be admissible under the Rules as an out-of-state citizen.
THE COURT: Any objection from either counsel?
MR. TALLEY: Is he still a party to the case?
MR. PRICE: He's been -- he was originally a party to the case. He's been dismissed as a party, so, no.
MR. TALLEY: No objection.
MR. HUNT: None, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. What exhibit -- what's the next plaintiff's number?
MR. PRICE: 11.
THE COURT: 11. Okay.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 11 was admitted into Evidence.)
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, the second deposition I have is a de bene esse deposition of Ronald Eugene West. It was taken by video. I have the video I can enter in the record if Your Honor wants us to. I also have the sealed transcript of that deposition. That was taken on March 19th, 2012, in my old offices in Easley. At the time the deposition was taken, Mr. West was a citizen of the State of Arizona. He's now a -- he now is employed and resides in the State of North Carolina, and that was noticed as a de bene esse deposition. So I would move to admit that deposition as well.

177

THE COURT: Any objection, gentlemen?
MR. TALLEY: No.
MR. HUNT: None, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Plaintiff's 12.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 12 was admitted into Evidence.)
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, the third deposition is the deposition of Brenda Hance Pressley. She -- that deposition was taken on June 29th, 2010. She was the accountant for Lamar Greene and for J & P Enterprises. She is a resident of the State of North Carolina. This deposition was taken in Davidson, North Carolina. I would move to admit that into evidence.
MR. TALLEY: No objection.
MR. HUNT: None, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Plaintiff's 13.
(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 13 was admitted into Evidence.)
MR. PRICE: The final deposition I have is the deposition of Lamar Greene. It's in two volumes. The first part of his deposition was taken on May 8th, 2012. The second part of his deposition was taken on November 14th, 2008 -- I'm sorry. It was May 12th, 2008, and November 14th, 2008.

178

Lamar Greene, I think it's been testified to, has passed away For that reason I believe his deposition would be admissible, and we'd move to admit that.

THE COURT: All right. Could we mark the first one -- the earliest one take as Plaintiff's 14-A and the next one as Plaintiff's 14-B?

MR. PRICE: Yes.

(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Numbers 14-A and 14-B were admitted into Evidence.)

MR. PRICE: Your Honor, there is a seal -- I don't -- a seal jurat, and I don't necessarily know what that is, Your Honor, but apparently that's the custom in Georgia. I would just enter that as 11-B.

(Thereupon, Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 11-B was admitted into Evidence.)

THE COURT: All right. Any other depositions at this point?

MR. PRICE: No, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. And you anticipate one other live witness today?

MR. PRICE: Yes, Your Honor. I'm in a position to call Mr. Greene today --

THE COURT: Okay.

MR. PRICE: -- if the Court desires.

THE COURT: All right. We'll take a 15-minute break, and then we'll start with Mr. Greene. And my intention will be for us to break not later than about 5:30 today for important matters.

179

MR. PRICE: Thank you, sir.

(Brief recess.)

THE COURT: All right. You ready to call your next witness?

MR. PRICE: Can't wait, Your Honor. Your Honor, at this time Plaintiff would call Mr. Jeff Greene.

THE COURT: Would you place your left on the Bible and raise your right hand, please, sir? Do you swear to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?

THE WITNESS: Yes, I do.

THE COURT: Thank you. If you could come round and have a seat, please, sir. And if you'll state your full name.

THE WITNESS: Jeff Greene.

THE COURT: All right. Will you spell Greene for the record?

THE WITNESS: G-r-e-e-n-e.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

All right. Your witness.

EXAMINATION BY MR. PRICE:

Q. Mr. Greene, you and I have met once, maybe twice, but my name is David price. I represent Palmetto State Enterprise If you don't mind, please tell the Court how you were related to

180

Lamar Greene?

A. I was his son.

Q. Okay. And what is your relation to Julee Greene?

A. She would, I guess, be my stepmother.

Q. Okay. And what was the nature of your association with Palmetto State Enterprises?

A. I worked with Palmetto State in their developments of the condominiums that we're talking about. Primarily, I would work with the acquisition of land, zoning with the local municipalities, and then I was there for weekly meetings working with developers, marketing.

Q. Okay. Did you have an ownership interest in Palmetto State?

A. I haven't -- yes, it appears that I have an ownership in Palmetto State. I learned of that ownership only after my father's death.

Q. So at the time some of this conduct or really all the conduct alleged took place, your testimony is that you did not know that you had an ownership interest in Palmetto State?

A. That is correct.

Q. Do you know at this time what your -- the percentage interest is?

A. It appears at this time -- it appears at this time that it was 16 and a half percent. I believe that's correct.

Q. Okay. And have you had that ownership since the formation of Palmetto State?

181

A. I'm only aware that I was a member of Palmetto State after my father's death, so where that goes back to I am not sure.

Q. Okay. And I know I just asked you this, but honestly I forgot your answer. I'm going to try not to be duplicable. But did you have a role with Palmetto State before your father's death?

A. Before his death?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Yes. We were doing land acquisitions with the different units -- different complexes.

Q. Okay. If you don't mind, if you could just sort of specifically -- and try to give me some idea of time frame -- what your actual duties were or what you actually did for Palmetto State?

A. The beginning, I guess, would go back to 2004, and my years may be a little juggled. 2004, with that we worked with the concept of The Spur in Columbia. We worked with acquiring the land, getting the land aligned for zoning for the building of The Spur. I would go to meetings with the architect for the design of that. Also, with the Wilder Realty for the marketing of that went to different marketing functions through the pre-sales of that. Also, with the -- for the development of the, again with Talmage, selection of a builder and then the beginning of the construction of that. I had some limited knowledge of the loans -- the construction loans that started with one bank, ended with another bank, there with The Spur.

Q. Do you remember what those banks were?
A. I -- the initial bank -- I think two banks we were working with was NBSC and Regions.
Q. Okay. Did you end up -- did the LLC end up taking a loan from NBSC?
A. The LLC, to my knowledge, was approved for the loan with NBSC and ended up going with the -- going with Regions.
Q. Do you recall why?
A. My memory would tell me that it had something to do with the interest rates on origination fee with Regions that in the end would save the LLC money as opposed to going with NBSC.
Q. After the procurement of that construction loan in '05, did you have responsibilities for the LLC?
A. Continued working with the LLC on the building of the project, the selling of the project. Continued working with the LLC on the acquisition of property in Tuscaloosa, design, marketing, sales, getting it approved. Began working on the project in Blacksburg in the same capacity during the same time period. Looked at property at different venues from Gainesville to Tallahassee to Louisville, that I remember, and there may have been others but those for sure.
Q. Did you -- were you compensated by Palmetto State?

183

A. No.
Q. Did you expect compensation?
A. It was my understanding -- it was my understanding that the makeup of Palmetto State was between my father, Coach Rodriguez, Coach West. I viewed myself as kind of the circle on the outside. It was my objective to work hard and do well so that at some point in time I could be a member of the subsequent projects.
Q. So were you providing the services in the hope of compensation someday, or were you just helping out your dad?
A. I was providing -- I was providing the services to help the LLC. I was providing the services that at some point in time I'd have the opportunity to be a part of it.
Q. Okay. What do you do for a living now?
A. Still work at J & P Enterprises.
Q. All right. And how long have you worked with J & P Enterprises?
A. Since 1988.
Q. I need to go back and ask you one other question about your role at Palmetto State. Did you have any role in managing the money?
A. No.
Q. Did you have access to the bank accounts?
A. No, sir.
Q. Were you a signatory on the bank accounts?

184

A. No, sir.
Q. Did you have a checkbook?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you review the check registers?
A. No, sir.
Q. Okay. You testified that you worked at -- you now -- you still work at J & P Enterprises?
A. Correct.
Q. And how long have you been there?
A. Since 1988.
Q. And what does J & P Enterprises do?
A. We manufacture and sell products in the textile industry and also machine for other industries.
Q. How many employees do you have?
A. Eight, nine.
Q. Do you recall how many you had in '06?
A. 35 to 40.
Q. What --
A. From memory.
Q. What is the physical address of J & P Enterprises?
A. 5640 Galligher Road, I believe.
Q. In Gastonia?
A. Yes, Gastonia, North Carolina.
Q. Same address in 2006?
A. Correct.

185

Q. And do you have an ownership interest in J & P Enterprises?
A. I do.
Q. How much?
A. 24 and a half percent.
Q. And who owns -- have you always owned that percentage of J & P?
A. Yes.
Q. And so that's the same percentage you owned between 2004 and 2007?
A. Yes.
Q. Who else owns J & P Enterprises?
A. My sister, my father.
Q. And your sister's percentage is what?
A. 24 and a half.
Q. And your father's estate's percentage is what?
A. 51.
Q. What is your job title there?
A. My job title?
Q. Yes, sir, at J & P. Do you have a job title?
A. Not really. Then or now?
Q. Well, now.
A. Now -- you know, now I oversee everything from sales to manufacturing to shipping.
Q. Okay. What about between 2004 and 2007?

A. 2004, 2007, I primarily was -- I was responsible for sales, product development.
Q. And what -- I guess explain to me a little better what that involves, sales and product development.
A. Well, from a sales standpoint, I'd go to the different customers to provide or -- you know, to execute the sales. From a product development standing at that point in time, if we found things that customers needed, typically it fell in my lap to go figure out how to make it and where to find it.
Q. Were you familiar with J & P's finances at that time?
A. Yes.
Q. And how were you familiar with them?
A. Typically, looking at balance sheets, looking at yearly taxes, things of that nature.
Q. You were privy to the books?
A. Yes.
Q. Would you have check writing authority?
A. Yes.
Q. You had access to the bank accounts?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you see all the moneys that came in and out from J & P between 2004 and 2007?
A. No.
Q. All right. Explain that answer.
A. As the flow of money goes in that time -- primarily, I was responsible for the sales and the development. I wasn't privy to -- I wasn't privy to money coming in -- all the moneys coming in, all the moneys going out.

187

Q. Did you have a general understanding how much money was in your operating account at any given time?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Did J & P have, like, an internal controller that was monitoring the moneys coming in and out?
A. No.
Q. Who was doing that?
A. It was -- you know, typically, those responsibilities would be handled with Julee or an office manager. Communication of that would go through my father.
Q. What was Julee's role between 2004 and 2007 at J & P Enterprises?
A. 2004, 2007, primarily she would work with filing taxes, taking care of deposits from employees, you know, federal deposits, those type of things. She would work also in payroll.
Q. Accounts payable?
A. She would have some -- she would have some responsibilities from that. That typically would fall on our office manager, but she was aware of accounts payables.
Q. Was Mrs. Greene -- was she the bookkeeper?
A. It's a small company. Shared so in some retrospects, yes.

188

Q. To the extent there was a bookkeeper, it was Mrs. Greene?
A. At the time we had an office manager that would probably be the bookkeeper, but Mrs. Greene would look over that, have an understanding of it.
Q. Would she have seen all the moneys coming in and out of J & P Enterprises between 2004 and 2007?
A. All is a difficult thing to say, but she was aware of money that came in, moneys that went out. I can't say that -- I can't say for all.
Q. Do you know whether your father saw the moneys coming in and out?
A. Yeah, he was aware of what moneys were coming in, what moneys were going out. All, again, becomes inclusive. That's a difficult thing for me to --
Q. Well, is it fair to assume that somebody at J & P Enterprises had their eye on the operating account?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. And if that person -- who would that person have been at J & P Enterprises?
A. The end responsibility would fall with my father.
Q. Okay. And who would -- would he do that himself, or did he have people reporting to him?
A. He would get information from either Julee or the office manager at that time.

189

Q. What was your father's position at J & P Enterprises?
A. He was the president.
Q. And what was his responsibilities?
A. Primary responsibilities were the accounts that he had and maintaining those accounts, and he would -- our facilities manager would report, I guess, to him -- to both of us, but more primarily to him.
Q. Did he receive a salary from J & P?
A. Yes, he did.
Q. Do you remember how much that was?
A. No, I do not.
Q. Do you have an idea, a guess?
A. I would say 8 to 12,000 a month.
Q. Do you recall how much money you made at J & P Enterprises between 2004 and 2007?
A. No. But I would estimate 7 to 8,000 a month.
Q. Was that paid as salary or --
A. Yes.
Q. Did you also get draws as an owner?
A. No.
Q. Why not?
A. I got paid a salary.
Q. Did anybody take draws of profits?
A. Not that I was aware of.
Q. Were there profits to draw from during that time period?

190

A. At times there were.
Q. Okay. At times was there cash flow issues?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. What was Mr. Greene's typical workweek like at J & P from 2004 to 2007?
A. Typically – in and around 2004, when we – when The Spur development started, he began to dedicate more time to the development, less time to J & P Enterprises.
Q. How many days a week would he be at J & P Enterprises?
A. I – maybe two or three.
Q. Two or three? Do you remember – do you remember when your deposition was taken in this case?
A. I remember it being taken. I do not remember when.
Q. Okay. Does November 2008 sound correct?
A. Okay.
Q. Do you remember – but you remember having your deposition taken?
A. Yes, I remember having it taken. I don't remember the specific day.
Q. Do you understand you were under oath on that day?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Do you remember being asked what your father's workweek was like in 2004 and 2007?
A. I do not.

191

Q. Do you remember being asked whether he worked there every day, did he work there sporadically, or did he work there certain days and not other days?
A. I do not.
Q. Okay. I'm going to show you a transcript from that. I'm going to start on Page 38 at Line 17, okay, and I'm going to read the question, and I'll just ask you to read the answer.
Starting at Page 38, Line 17, "Question: Tell me what your dad's workweek at J & P Enterprises was like in 2004 to 2007. Did he work there every day? Did he work there sporadically? Did he work there certain days of the week and not other days? Tell me what that was like, if you recall."
And you answered how?
A. "Our typical workweek is we gathered at J & P on Mondays. I worked for him. I didn't hold his feet to the fire for what he did – for what he does on other days. I have firsthand knowledge knowing that he continued to meet with customers, see customers. I also understand – and I also understand that he spent a lot of time on these projects. In my opinion, I think at times he spent much more time with his LLC than he did for J & P from – I guess that would start back into the last of '03 through the point in time he was relieved."
Q. Okay. And then we'll skip a few questions about where he was living. Page 39, Line 20, you were asked: "And the other days of the week other than Monday – you said you saw him on Mondays pretty much all the time?" And then you answered?

A. "Pretty much typically, yes."
Q. And then you were asked: "But the other days of the week then he would be working for either J & P out of the office or working on condos or – " And you said, "yes."
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So my question then is, in light of your testimony then, do you recall what day of the week Mr. Greene would come to the office in Gastonia?"
A. Typically, he would be in the office on Mondays.
Q. Okay. So that was his day to come to Gastonia?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. If he was in the office in Gastonia working for J & P on Mondays, was he doing Palmetto State business?
A. In the course of some Mondays in doing our business, he would take phone calls of which he could be doing some business for Palmetto State.
Q. But he wouldn't be in the office in Gastonia working for J & P and simultaneously be doing a site inspection in Tuscaloosa?
A. Correct.
Q. Did he spend more time at J & P or with Palmetto State?
A. In that time frame, I would think it would be about split.
Q. And where was he primarily living?

193

A. It was either in Gaffney or Clemson.
Q. Okay. Was he spending most of his time in Clemson?
A. I don't remember specifically, but it wouldn't surprise me if that was the case.
Q. If that was the case, would he commute from Clemson to Gastonia?
A. Yes.
Q. Are you familiar with a company called J & P Security?
A. Yes.
Q. What is your involvement with J & P Security?
A. None now.
Q. What was your involvement with J & P Security?
A. J & P Security was a security firm that my father and I owned. My involvement with J & P Security was minimal. That was an entity that my father ran, as I stayed focused with the stuff at J & P Enterprises.
Q. What did J & P Security do?
A. J & P Security would provide security or watch gates or watch buildings at different locations.
Q. And what happened to J & P Security?
A. J & P Security closed.
Q. When?
A. J & P Security closed in February of '09, to the best of my knowledge.
Q. Why?

194

A. Because of outstanding – because of outstanding issues with back taxes, and, quite frankly, I got tired of dealing with it.
Q. Fair enough. Did you have responsibilities in connection with J & P? Did you have responsibilities in connection with J & P Security? I apologize.
A. I had no day-to-day responsibilities with J & P Security.
Q. All right. You mentioned that you got tired of dealing with it. What – how –
A. I got tired of dealing with back taxes, the issues there that I was not involved with, so I dissolved it.
Q. How did it – what I'm trying to reconcile is your testimony that you had no day-to-day responsibilities with your testimony that you got tired of dealing with issues, so you dissolved it.
A. After my father went in the hospital –
Q. Okay.
A. – and he was not available to deal with those things, then those issues all suddenly fell to me. From the time my father went in the hospital from January of '08 – from '08 – from that point forward, I did take over the – I did take over the day-to-day duties of J & P Security.
Q. And in terms of the circumstances of his pass ing, you say he went in the hospital in January of '08?

195

A. Yes, sir.
Q. How long did he stay in the hospital?
A. Until October 29th of '08.
Q. So he was in the hospital that entire time?
A. Correct.
Q. And he passed on October 29th, 2008?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. So for all intents and purposes you were handling his affairs from the moment he went in the hospital?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. What were Lamar Greene's responsibilities with J & P Security?
A. He ran – I mean, that was an entity that he took responsibility for. That was the entity that he took over as part of what he did. He ran the day-to-day operations, all the things associated with that. He had firsthand knowledge, took care of –
Q. Did he – do you know whether he received a salary or compensation?
A. To my knowledge, he did not receive a salary from J & P Security.
Q. Did you have –
A. He did not – to my knowledge, he did not receive a salary. Typically, at the end of the year, we would get a 1099 on – on our – on taxes based on the profit and loss, but it was basically a sheet from our accountant. I nor he received – I did not and I do not believe he received compensation from J & P Security.

196

Q. So you said, we received a 1099. You had an ownership interest?
A. We were 50/50 owners, yes, sir.
Q. Okay. But you had no responsibilities with it?
A. No.
Q. What was the purpose of owning it if nobody ever got any profit out of it?
A. Well, the objective to owning it was to have a profit.
Q. It just never happened?
A. It just never happened.
Q. How long did you own an interest in it?
A. From its conception until —
Q. When was its inception?
A. I don't recall.
Q. Predates 2004?
A. Yes.
Q. I'd like to show you Plaintiff's Exhibit 1, which I'll submit to you has been entered into evidence as a summary of unallowable charges out of the First Citizens account for Palmetto Properties. There's records attached to it, and I do want to ask you about some of those. How much is the amount that's highlighted in green?

197

A. Where?
Q. On that –
A. The second to last page?
Q. Yes, sir. And you can turn – there's a subtotal there.
A. 113,000 – 112,303.
Q. 113,000 how much?
A. 303.
Q. And there was one item?
THE COURT: Can I ask, is it 113 or is it 112?
THE WITNESS: 112.
THE COURT: 112, okay. Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. And there was one item that we identified on that – if you look at Item 108 on that list, which is – that was a Li, L-i – do you know how to say that last name?
A. No, sir.
Q. Okay. It says, "parts loan." Do you agree that that may have been for J & P expenses?
A. I do not have any knowledge of it.
Q. Did J & P buy parts from China?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Do you know whether that check went to buy parts from somebody in China?
A. I do not recognize the name of this company as a company that we purchased parts from.

198

Q. Okay. That check aside, do you agree that the amount in green as shown on that, $112,303, was paid directly to J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes.
Q. Do you agree, based on your knowledge of Palmetto State business and on J & P business, that to the extent Item 108 was made out to purchase parts in China that that would have been another $8,146 that was most likely paid for something benefiting J & P Enterprises rather than Palmetto State?
A. Could have been.
Q. Okay. In the event it went to purchase parts from China, do you agree that it was most likely was?
A. Yes.
Q. I'm going to hand you another document -- so that would put us then at a little bit over 120,000 shown on Exhibit 1 that could have gone solely to the benefit of J & P Enterprises. Do you agree with that statement?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. I'm going to hand you another document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 2. To save myself another trip I'm going to hand you Plaintiff's Exhibit 3 at the same time. But looking at Plaintiff's Exhibit 2 first, can you just identify the amount in green on that exhibit?
A. $11,984.65.

Q. And do you agree that that amount in green appears to have been paid directly from a Palmetto State account to J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. And then looking at Plaintiff's Exhibit 3, which is a summary of checks written out of the NBSC account, how much is the amount in green in that?
A. 6,300.
Q. Okay. I'm getting a little bit ahead of myself. So I want to ask you a couple questions, and then we're going to circle back. But tell me about J & P Enterprises' bankruptcy filing.
A. J & P Enterprises filed for bankruptcy, I believe, in February of 2000 and -- where's my --
Q. 2006?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Do you recall what law firm represented J & P Enterprises?
A. Rayburn Cooper & Durham.
Q. Okay. And do you know how they were paid by J & P Enterprises?
A. I do not.
Q. I'm going to hand you a document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 6. The bottom of that document lists an unauthorized wire in the amount of $16,000 -- what's the exact number?

200

A. 16,039.
Q. Okay. To the extent that was a wire paid to a law firm Rayburn Cooper & Durham, would that have gone to help pay legal fees associated with J & P's bankruptcy filing in February 2006?
A. Could have.
Q. Okay. Could have or would have?
A. They were our bankruptcy attorneys.
Q. Did they do any work for Palmetto State, to your knowledge?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. To your knowledge, did Palmetto State have any ongoing concerns in the State of North Carolina?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. Okay. All right. Do you agree that the total of that is --
MR. PRICE: I beg the Court's indulgence just for a second.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Do you agree that if we add all the charges that have been highlighted in green, which we know for certain were payments from Palmetto State accounts to J & P, the $16,000 wire that we believe was paid to Rayburn Cooper, who represented J & P in its bankruptcy filing, and then the $8,000 check, Item 108, which appears to have been for parts purchased in

201

China, that that total amount would be $154,772.65 of funds that were paid from a Palmetto State account either directly to J & P Enterprises or for J & P Enterprises' exclusive benefit?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. As the vice president of J & P Enterprises -- would you call yourself a vice president during that time, 2004 to 2007?
A. I think from a title standpoint, I would. I think at the end of -- from a title standpoint, yes.
Q. You owned a fourth of the company?
A. Correct.
Q. Your sister, did she work there?
A. No.
Q. All right. Did anybody besides Lamar Greene in that company have the authority to remove you from your position?
A. No.
Q. Would you agree that you were second in command?
A. Yes.
Q. Would you agree that your father -- it's questionable whether he could have removed you if he -- had he wanted to?
A. I believe he could do about what he wanted.
Q. But as second-in-command, vice president of J & P Enterprises, were you aware that it received over $154,000 from Palmetto State Enterprises accounts from 2004 to 2007?
A. No, I was not.

202

Q. Okay. How did you not know about them?
A. How did I not know about them?
Q. Yes, sir. How did you not know about $154,000 that either went into Palmetto State's operating account or went to pay Palmetto State's expenses? How did you not know about that sum of money?
A. From the -- from my responsibilities. I did not monitor daily bank deposits. I did not monitor the monthly checking account summarizations. So I was not aware of the source of moneys that was going into J & P Enterprises. I knew at times that -- I knew the times that my father would put money into J & P Enterprises, I knew the times I put money into there, but I was not aware of how much -- I was not aware of this amount.
Q. Did you look at the balance sheets?
A. Rarely.
Q. Were they provided -- were you provided something quarterly at least by the accountant?
A. They were available.
Q. Did you look at them?
A. I just did not look at them.
Q. Did you have a working knowledge of what loans, meaning liabilities, from J & P to somebody else -- let me ask you that a different way. Did you have any idea of what loans J & P Enterprises may have made to another entity? In that sense, I believe it would be really an asset.

A. I'm sure as I looked at the balance statements I saw that, but I don't recall it now for that time period.
Q. Okay. At any point were you aware of any loans listed on J & P Enterprises' books from J & P Enterprises to Palmetto State -- to Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. Not that I'm aware of.
Q. Okay. If you're not aware of any loans from J & P to Palmetto State, are you able to testify then why there would be checks out of a Palmetto State account to J & P Enterprises with the word "loan" written on them?
A. I cannot -- I can't testify as to why they would have the word "loan" on them.
Q. Okay. And I guess there's two ways of looking at that. In knowing -- in reviewing J & P Enterprises' books, were you any -- aware of any loans made from Palmetto State Enterprises to J & P Enterprises?
A. I was not aware of loans per se.
Q. Okay. When looking at the books, did you have a working understanding of J & P's liabilities to other entities?
A. Somewhat, yes.
Q. All right. Did you at any point understand J & P Enterprises to owe Palmetto State Enterprises money?
A. No.
Q. All right. To the extent you interpret those checks from Palmetto State to J & P that say loan on them as a loan from Palmetto State to J & P Enterprises, do you know whether that was ever reflected on J & P Enterprises' books?

204

A. I do not.
Q. And I guess my question then is, does that mean you don't know whether they were on the books, or you never saw them on the books?
A. I don't remember seeing them on the books.
Q. Did you review the books at any point between 2004 and 2007?
A. Yes.
Q. Would you have reviewed the books and looked at the liabilities in depth when somebody there made the decision to file Chapter 13 Bankruptcy in February of 2006?
A. Yes. To that, yes.
Q. At that time, did J & P Enterprises identify Palmetto State as a creditor?
A. I do not think so.
Q. Do you recall whether Palmetto State was provided notice of the bankruptcy or invited to participate in the bankruptcy?
A. I do not think so.
Q. Do you know what the money from -- I guess we know what the wire was for. Do you know what the rest of the money from Palmetto State to J & P Enterprises was used for?

205

A. Purchase of goods to -- the money would be used to purchase goods in times -- if we needed moneys in the account to cover checks, it was used for that.
Q. All right. And I want to make sure I understand your answer. Tell me if I interpreted it wrong, okay. The money would have been used to purchase something that J & P Enterprises needed to continue doing business; correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And it would have been used at times when J & P Enterprises did not have its own money in the operating account to purchase those things?
A. Correct.
Q. Would you, as the second guy in command at J & P Enterprises, know when the funds in the operating account got so low that there wasn't money anymore to buy the parts you needed to machine the stuff to produce the widgets you produce in your course of business?
A. No.
Q. Why not?
A. Typically, if -- I would be aware of that on occasion. 95 percent of the time that information would flow to my father.
Q. Through who?
A. It would either be through our office manager or Julee.
Q. Can you -- knowing what you know of Palmetto State's business and knowing what you know of J & P Enterprises' business, can you think of any legitimate reason why Palmetto State Enterprises would loan or pay $130,000 -- or $154,000 to a company that manufactures and sells textile machine parts?

A. The only -- my only understanding -- my only understanding of that would be that during that time period -- as this development started, my father and I had talked, and he had said that he was going to be paid a salary from Palmetto State, he was going to continue to receive his full salary from J & P Enterprises, and that the moneys that he received from Palmetto State -- that some of that, if need be, would come into the company.
Q. All right. You remembered your deposition in 2008. Do you remember being asked if you could think of any legitimate reason why Palmetto State Enterprises would be making loans to J & P Enterprises?
A. I do not remember.
Q. We'll do what we did last time, and I'm going to read here at Page 16, Line 25, sir, okay. The question was, "Can you think of any legitimate reason why Palmetto State Enterprises would be making loans to J & P Enterprises?"
A. "No."
Q. You answered how?
A. "No."
Q. Sitting here today, after recalling your testimony in 207

2008, can you think of any legitimate reason why Palmetto State would make a loan to J & P Enterprises?
A. No.
Q. Who would have benefited from the money being transferred from Palmetto State to J & P Enterprises?
A. The operations of J & P Enterprises.
Q. And who benefited from the operations of J & P Enterprises?
A. Its owners, its employees.
Q. You are an owner?
A. Yes.
Q. Julee Greene, was she an owner?
A. No.
Q. She was an employee?
A. Yes.
Q. Was she paid to work there?
A. Yes.
Q. Was her husband the 51-percent owner?
A. Yes.
Q. The money that was taken from Palmetto State or was transferred -- we'll say transferred from Palmetto State to J & P Enterprises. Knowing what you know of the business of Palmetto State and the business of J & P, can you think of anybody other than the people who benefited from the operations of J & P Enterprises who would have benefited from that transfer from Palmetto State?

208

A. No.
Q. But you never questioned the source of that money?
A. I never questioned the source of the money because from the understanding with my father there would be money coming in from -- there would be money coming into J & P Enterprises, if needed, from Palmetto State, as he was receiving a salary from there that he could put into J & P Enterprises since he was continuing to -- he was continuing to receive his full salary from J & P Enterprises.
Q. So to the extent that J & P Enterprises benefited from $154,000 of Palmetto State money, you never questioned whether that was legitimate?
A. I never knew -- I never knew the total of the money that came into J & P Enterprises. But understanding that he was going to be receiving $10,000 a month, I understood there was a possibility of money to be coming in from -- from him to J & P Enterprises as a result of the fact that he was still receiving the full salary from J & P Enterprises.
Q. As the 24-and-a-half-percent owner and second-in-command at J & P Enterprises, did you consider yourself to be an officer?
A. Yes.
Q. So you were an officer of J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes.

209

Q. All right. As an officer of J & P Enterprises, did you not feel that you had an obligation to make sure that J & P Enterprises wasn't running on stolen funds?
MR. TALLEY: Objection, Your Honor.
THE COURT: On what basis?
MR. TALLEY: It's a leading question. Number two, it's asked and answered about ten times already.
THE COURT: I might agree on both counts.
MR. TALLEY: Thank you, sir.
THE COURT: Rephrase the question, and we kind of have covered that ground about every different way we can plow it.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Did you not feel that as the second-in-command you had an obligation to make sure that J & P was not receiving stolen funds?
MR. TALLEY: Same objection.
THE COURT: I'll allow him to answer it.
THE WITNESS: I do agree with that. I did not feel that the funds were stolen as a result of the understanding that he and I had and the salary that he was going to receive from the LLC and the amount of time that he was going to be away from J & P Enterprises still receiving full salary.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Thank you. I will move on. Have you ever heard of a company called Gaston Engineering?

210

A. I have heard of the name.
Q. All right. What do you know about them?
A. What do I -- I do not know -- I came to work in 1988. At some point in time thereafter, I remember seeing the name, hearing the name, but I was never familiar with its owners, what it did, what it claimed to do.
Q. Is Gaston Engineering associated with J & P Enterprises?
A. It is not.
Q. What is the mailing address for J & P Enterprises?
A. At that point in time, I think it was P.O. Box 977, or it might have been 5640 Galligher.
Q. Okay. One or the other?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Is Galligher Road -- is that the location where J & P Enterprises is physically located?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. I'll show you a page from Plaintiff's Exhibit 7. I'm looking at the third page of Plaintiff's Exhibit 7. Are you able to make out on that copy the mailing address listed for Gaston Engineering?
A. Gaston Engineering, it appears -- could be P.O. Box 977.
Q. Okay. There's another page I want to ask you about. There's a better page. Page 4, the mailing address listed on that check for Gaston Engineering?

211

A. Yeah, P.O. Box 977.
Q. Is that the mailing address for J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Okay.
A. At that point in time it was.
Q. All right. The phone number listed on that invoice I submit to you is (704) 866-7979 -- 7919. Do you recognize that number?
A. I think it could -- yes.
Q. Okay. What is that number?
A. I think it's a third or fourth number on our phone tree at one time.
Q. The phone tree for who?
A. For J & P Enterprises. It may have also been the phone number for a company called Epithread (phonetic).
Q. Okay. Do you have any idea why Gaston Engineering was using J & P Enterprises' P.O. box and phone number?
A. I do not.
Q. Your office on Galligher Road, is that part office, part manufacturing facility?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. How many square feet for each?
A. 15,000 for office; 25,000 for manufacturing.
Q. How many offices are located in the office part?

212

A. Seven or eight.
Q. Do you have an ownership interest in that facility?
A. Yes, I do.
Q. Who owns it?
A. My father -- currently -- my father and I owned it. My father's estate and I own it currently.
Q. How long have you owned it?
A. He and I owned it since 1998, I think.
Q. Do you know who's occupied the offices there over the years?
A. Yes.
Q. Was there ever a Gaston Engineering leasing out any of those offices?
A. No.
Q. Did you know that Gaston Engineering was paid money out of the Tuscaloosa project by Palmetto -- by Morgan & Bartos?
A. I did not.
Q. You never knew that?
A. Did not.
Q. This is the first you've learned of it?
A. To my knowledge.
MR. PRICE: I beg the Court's indulgence for just one moment.
Your Honor, that's all my questions.
THE COURT: Your witness.

213

EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Mr. Greene, would you say that you and your father had a close relationship?
A. There were times when we had a close relationship. There were times when our relationship was strained at best.
Q. Is it fair to say since his passing you've learned a lot?
A. Yes.
Q. You learned after his passing you have a half brother you never knew about?
A. Yes.
Q. You learned after his passing that he had signed your name as a 16-and-a-half-percent owner of Palmetto State in the original operating agreement?
A. Yes.
Q. How did you learn that?
A. We were reviewing documents in your office.
Q. That's the first you knew of that?
A. Yes.
Q. So is it fair to say that there's a lot that went on in the business relationship that you had with your father that you were unaware of?
A. That is correct.
Q. In the Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 -- I don't know if it's still in front of you, you were asked about it earlier -- did you have any knowledge of all these items highlighted in green and the parts loan in the amount of $8,146? Do you have any knowledge that those checks were written by your father out of a Palmetto State account?

A. I did not.
Q. And I have the same question as to the other accounts where they've highlighted J & P Enterprises expenses. At the time that was done, were you aware of any of these checks being written?
A. No. Let me – on Exhibit 1, Item 61, I think I was aware for that, as I've turned in some expenses from trips that were taken that I had written –
Q. Well, I'm going to get into that specifics with you.
A. Oh, I'm sorry.
Q. There were checks written to you for –
A. Yes.
Q. And what were those for?
A. There were a couple checks written to me, one primarily for reimbursement of expenses for the development company.
Q. Okay. So since inception of Palmetto State, you were actively involved, were you not, in traveling in coordinating these projects?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. You were involved before Mr. Brown; correct?
A. Yes.

215

Q. But at that time you did not know that you were a member of the company?
A. No. It was – it was actually my – it was actually my understanding that I was not – that I was not a member, that I was not allowed to be a member.
Q. And when the members got draws like we've discussed earlier today, did you ever get one?
A. No.
Q. The only moneys you ever received were reimbursements; is that correct?
A. That is correct.
Q. Okay. The responsibilities you had at J & P Enterprises, did they require you to be out of the office a lot?
A. Every day but Monday.
Q. And so on those other days what would you be doing?
A. I'd be traveling.
THE COURT: Somebody's phone – I'm trying to be patient with that, but somebody's phone keeps vibrating.
THE WITNESS: That's mine, sir.
THE COURT: All right. If you'll make sure to turn that off, please, sir.
THE WITNESS: Yes, sorry. My apologies.
THE COURT: That's fine. All right.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:

216

Q. So you would travel basically four days a week?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. And where would your travels take you?
A. Travels would take me anywhere in the Southeast, typically from Virginia to Alabama.
Q. And at times would that require you to go overseas to China?
A. Yes.
Q. When you went to China, were you gone for extended amounts of time?
A. Seven to ten days. I made trips to – I'd go to China periodically for seven to ten days. I'd make trips down to New Mexico for seven – five or six or seven days. I made trips to Europe. That was before this. But after this I made trips to Taiwan as well and South Korea.
Q. Where do you reside, Mr. Greene?
A. Rock Hill, South Carolina.
Q. So you would – when you would go to Gastonia, you would commute as well; is that correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And the other days you were traveling you would leave from Rock Hill and go wherever your business took you that day?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. The books of Palmetto State Enterprises that have been presented, these checking accounts, when did you first see all these records?

217

A. Probably did not look at it in much detail until in your office. Did meet with Mike once, as he recalled. You know, August of '07, as he testified, was the first time that this had kind of been laid out for me.
Q. And that's the meeting that Mr. Brown testified to earlier when he brought this to your attention?
A. Yes.
Q. Prior to that were you aware of any of the moneys flowing to J & P Enterprises?
A. No.
Q. The – in Exhibit 1 on Page 59 – and I don't want to belabor this point, but the top right check –
A. Whoa, whoa, whoa. Okay.
Q. I believe it's Check 1268.
A. Yes.
Q. It's a check made payable to you for $2,500 –
A. Yes.
Q. – November 2006. Do you recall what that would have been for?
A. I did not – it would more than likely be reimbursement for expenses for travel for The Spur or for Palmetto State.
Q. And, in fact, I think it says Spur and Legends in the memo.
A. Okay.

218

Q. Would those be two projects you were working on at the time?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And then, if you'll go back to Page 50, there are actually two checks, very middle of the page, written to you. One is for $42,432.
A. Yes.
Q. What was that for?
A. That was for a repayment of a deposit I had made on a unit in Tuscaloosa.
Q. Okay. So you actually put money into Palmetto State, and it was repaid to you?
A. Yes.
Q. And then the one beside that for $4,000, what was that for?
A. It would have been for repayment for travel, expenses for Palmetto State.
Q. So you spent your personal funds on Palmetto State business and then later were reimbursed oftentimes?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. How is -- how is the amount listed on the summary sheet, line 103, $6,250, any different from those examples that we've looked at? Do you recall that check for 6,250?
A. The check there was a check for a repayment, I believe, for a trip that was made to Blacksburg and also -- yeah, for Blacksburg. Could have been tied in with -- what's the date? Made a trip to Blacksburg and combined with a trip to Tuscaloosa.

219

Q. It's your testimony that that check made payable to you is no different than any other reimbursement we've looked at --
A. Correct.
Q. -- and others throughout this Exhibit 1?
How would you travel to these various locations?
A. I would fly -- there would be times where I would drive. There would be times where I would fly with the members of the LLC, and there were occasions when I would fly by myself.
Q. And when you would fly, would that be commercial or private aircraft?
A. Private.
Q. And who would the pilot be?
A. With the LLC, Mike Huizenga. With the ones that I went by myself, it would be me.
Q. Okay. And so the Mike Huizinga that flew members of the LLC is the one that's listed --
A. Yes.
Q. -- in Exhibit 1?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did you ever do any travel with the, I'll say, Yahu -- I don't know if that's correct -- Y-a-h-u, out of 220

Morgantown?
A. Not that I -- I don't recognize the name. There was one instance that we did make a trip to Gainesville and Tallahassee with a flight service out of West Virginia.
Q. Okay. Was that a flight service that you all became aware of through Mr. Rodriguez?
A. They came and picked me up. He -- I don't know the contact -- it was my understanding that -- my father had told me that that was the plane -- one of the planes that West Virginia had used or Coach Rodriguez had access to.
Q. You had a chance to review the summary sheet of Exhibit 1?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. To your knowledge, is any of the expense to Mike Huizinga non-LLC related?
A. To my knowledge, all the checks written to Mike would be LLC related.
Q. Okay. And then look at Line 11 on the first page of the document. Do you know who Mike Rogers is?
A. I do not know Mike Rogers.
Q. Do you know Danny Cain?
A. I do know Danny Cain.
Q. How do you know Danny Cain?
A. Danny Cain was a gentleman my father knew that was kind of like a day laborer. I hate to say that, but if you needed something -- if Dad needed something done, we could get Danny to do it. He did various essential things for us at J & P Enterprises. He would do some things, you know, at the Towers. He would do some things over at -- you know, for Palmetto State. Just depends on which day what needed to be done.

Q. I think it's been testified to earlier that you were the primary person that would go in and deal with zoning and site work and things of that nature for the LLC?
A. Yes.
Q. And I believe it's also you testified earlier that the land was put under contract or closed in Columbia at some point in late 2004?
A. Correct.
Q. The construction didn't start until the summer of 2005?
A. That is correct.
Q. But, to your knowledge, once you acquired the property, were you required by the City of Columbia to maintain the property and do certain things?
A. Well, once we -- once we had the contract on the property -- once, you know, we had the development scheduled to go on the property, it behooved us to have that property looking as well as we could for prospective buyers. We had some issues with the city on unsightliness and things of that nature.
Q. And it was suggested earlier, do you recall, what was on the site?

A. I think we purchased the site that was a restaurant and some warehouses.
Q. So it very well could be that in February of 2005 these day laborers were doing work on the site in Columbia?
A. Could, yes.
Q. You would have acquired it several months prior to that time?
A. Yes.
Q. The question also came up in regards to Lew Jordan. Are you familiar with Mr. Jordan?
A. Yes.
Q. Did he provide any real estate assistance regarding site selection in Columbia?
A. To my knowledge, he did.
Q. Okay. Did he actually go to Columbia?
A. There were times when he went to Columbia.
Q. Okay. Were you present in any discussions with Mr. Al Bell regarding the business of this LLC?
A. I think there were some discussions with the -- with Mr. Bell that I was part of.
Q. What did you understand Mr. Bell's role to be?
A. Well, I understood that at that point in time we were looking and had gotten pretty desperate for the loan -- we were looking to place the loan for -- the construction loan in Columbia, that Mr. Bell was, I think, on the board of NBSC, and that we were working with that bank to acquire the construction loan. It was my understanding that Mr. Bell was helping us, in essence, kind of getting our ducks in a row, for that loan application.

223

Q. And were you aware of any personal funds you or your father paid to Mr. Bell?
A. No.
Q. The MAC Club we testified about earlier -- that was testified about earlier. Were you aware of any involvement the LLC had with the MAC Club?
A. Not any direct, but I think the LLC might have been a member of this 1100 Club.
Q. And what did you understand that 1100 Club to be?
A. I think it was a club at West Virginia that helped Coach Rodriguez in his recruiting efforts with transportation, was my understanding.
Q. So it's your understanding that the money that that club raised was funds that would be used for travel to recruit football players or things of that nature?
A. That was my understanding.
Q. Were you ever aware of any objection to $2,200 being paid to West Virginia for Coach Rodriguez's use?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. Do you know a gentleman named Ramon Arech, A-r-e-c-h?

224

A. I do not.
Q. Do you know a gentleman named Antonio Clay?
A. I know of him, yes.
Q. What do you know of him?
A. He was an athlete at Clemson.
Q. Did he ever provide any security services for any of the Palmetto State projects?
A. He could have.
Q. Was it commonplace for your father to try to find jobs for Clemson student athletes?
A. Yes.
Q. What would he have them do?
A. There were times that he would have them work some security for us. He would have them -- you know, if we needed something cleaned up or straightened out, kind of as a day laborer. They also did some landscaping, things of that nature.
Q. And while we're on that topic, based on your knowledge of the LLC and its operations, could Coach Rodriguez or Coach West have afforded in their professional career for there to be something improper going on with student athletes?
A. I think it would be frowned upon.
Q. In fact, your father was investigated by the NCAA two times; correct?
A. To my knowledge.
Q. And one of those times was years ago that involved

225

Mr. McIntosh and another gentleman; correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And the second investigation was actually while this was going on, was it not?
A. Correct.
Q. Do you remember what those allegations were?
A. They were allegations of improper payments to athletes, allegations of they were giving things they should not have been given, transportation, things of that nature.
Q. Was there ever any sanction issued upon him by the NCAA in the second investigation?
A. Yes, there was.
Q. What was that?
A. I forget the exact year, but there was a year where he was not allowed to -- there was a year where he was not allowed to participate in the purchase of tickets through IPTAY as he had for many years.
Q. And was it your understanding that came down from the NCAA or Clemson itself?
A. That was a mandate that came from Clemson.
Q. He wasn't sanctioned by the NCAA the second time, was he?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. And that was at the same time what's now been alleged as improper payments to folks --

226

A. Yes.
Q. -- were being made? Don't you think that's something the NCAA would have picked up on?
A. I would think so.
Q. Would the same be true for Mr. Dwayne Coleman?
A. Yes.
Q. Mr. Anthony Waters?
A. Yes.
Q. Mr. Rocky McIntosh?
A. Yes.
Q. As I questioned earlier -- and I guess I'll ask you. Did I actually take trips as counsel for Palmetto State to look at properties in Louisville, Kentucky, and Knoxville, Tennessee on multiple occasions?
A. Yes, you did.
Q. And we also went to Atlanta -- I forgot that one earlier -- did we not?
A. A nice long ride, yes, sir.
Q. A long ride to talk about some investment opportunities?
A. Correct.
Q. So I did provide services; correct?
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know Tommy Biershank?
A. Yes, I do.

227

Q. How do you know Mr. Biershank?
A. Mr. Biershank was, in essence, the manager for J & P Security.
Q. And was J & P Security employed to provide security services at The Spur?
A. Yes.
Q. When did that happen?
A. Primarily that happened -- or, to my knowledge, that happened during the football season prior to the units being completed.
Q. Was there also security provided during the construction phase of that project?
A. Yes.
Q. Was it by J & P Security?
A. I believe so.
Q. And would Tommy Biershank have been involved in that?
A. Yes.
Q. The -- Item 87 in the summary of Exhibit 1, air travel, West Virginia University, 1100 Club golf tournament. Did you participate in that?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And who was there?
A. Myself, my father. During that trip we met with Coach Rodriguez.
Q. So three members of the LLC?

228

A. Yes.
Q. When did work begin in Blacksburg? Strike that. When did you first start exploring opportunities in Blacksburg?
A. Probably in 2006, to the best of my knowledge. The way that this was set up, and that's what -- the dates for me become difficult because, I think, as a long-term goal before the economy became what it is today is that we would have two projects -- two projects closing, two projects in construction, two projects in the works was the ultimate goal at that point in time. So as we're finishing up -- doing the project in Columbia, we are investigating or looking into the property in Tuscaloosa. At that point in time, you start looking at the property in Blacksburg or the ones that appear to be taking off. There were other parcels that we looked at that never came to anything.
Q. What was located on the parcel in Blacksburg?
A. In Blacksburg, apartments. Apartments. The property in Blacksburg contained 26 apartments. We also obtained one, two houses or four -- maybe two houses -- five houses? Sorry. One, two --
Q. Was there work that was done from a due diligence standpoint prior to that property being put under contract?
A. Yes. The property in Blacksburg -- the property in Blacksburg probably required more of my time than any of the other properties because of the complexity of bringing it to what it currently was to what we wanted it to be.

229

Q. As well to find cooperation from the City of Blacksburg during your work on that project?
A. Yes.
Q. So is it fair to say that was probably the most troublesome sight of the three that you actually started to act upon for Palmetto State?
A. I think it would be the most challenging.
Q. Fair enough. So there was expense involved --
A. Yes.
Q. -- in the Blacksburg --
A. There was a lot of time. There was a lot of expense.
Q. Okay. Are you familiar with Floyd Elliott?
A. Yes.
Q. Was he an investor in Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. He later became a member of The Legends of Blacksburg; correct?
A. That is correct.
Q. Was he involved in any contributions or investments in either The Spur or The Legends of Tuscaloosa?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. Okay. He did invest in Tuscaloosa, but that's neither here nor there. Who is Tony Gibson?

230

A. Tony Gibson was a coach for Coach Rodriguez at West Virginia during this time.
Q. Did you know him prior to being introduced to him by Coach Rodriguez?
A. I did not.
Q. Did Coach Rodriguez kind of look after Mr. Gibson?
A. Yes, he did.
Q. Mr. Gibson, I believe I'm stating this correctly, has been at several stops on the coaching circuit with Coach Rodriguez; correct?
A. Yes, he has.
Q. Were you or your father ever asked by Coach Rodriguez to help Mr. Gibson?
A. I don't know that I was ever directly asked, but I recall being asked by Coach Rodriguez -- from my perspective, it looked like Palmetto State were doing some things for Gibby -- or Coach Gibson.
Q. Coach Rodriguez ever object to that?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. Were you involved in marketing of units at The Spur in Columbia?
A. Yes.
Q. Was there a model unit there?
A. Yes.
Q. Is that something that the LLC paid the expense to 231

outfit for people to look at?
A. Yes.
Q. If you look at Line 131, there's a Palmetto State Enterprises payment for an upgrade package. Were you still trying to sell units at The Spur at that time?
A. Yes, I believe so.
Q. When was the auction held at The Spur in Columbia?
A. June of '07, I believe.
Q. Were you aware that members of the LLC other than you had meetings in destination cities?
A. Yes.
Q. Where do you remember those meetings taking place?
A. I remember there were some meetings in Charleston, Myrtle Beach. I think there was a meeting that they had in the Cayman Islands.
Q. And would they use the flight services listed on here to go to those meetings?
A. It's my assumption. I wasn't invited.
Q. You never got a -- well, I already asked you that. You didn't ever get a bonus when everybody else did, did you?
A. No, sir.
Q. Okay.
MR. TALLEY: I beg the Court's indulgence one sec. That's all the questions I have.
THE COURT: All right. Mr. Hunt?

232

EXAMINATION BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Mr. Greene, on the -- I'll direct your attention in Plaintiff's Number 1 exhibits, if you have them. Do you have them --
A. Yes, sir.
Q. -- up there? Do you have that?
A. Yeah, I think I got it right here.
Q. There's a -- I'd like for you to look an Number 31 on Page Number 12.
A. Yes.
Q. If you would, look at the -- at the actual check down there on page -- Check Number 31.
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. And it says -- it was made payable to Palmetto State Enterprises; right?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And also it says, The Spur closing, does it not?
A. Yes, it does.
Q. Yes, sir. Do you recall -- do you have any knowledge when your father was paid back for his writing the initial check for the binding of the property in Columbia for The Spur?
A. I do not.
Q. Do you know if he was paid back by the entity?
A. I do not.
Q. Been a lot made of -- about your father's work on 233

Mondays. Did he always work for your entity on Mondays, or do you recall?
A. No.
Q. Was he -- would he work for both entities all during the weeks?
A. Yes.
Q. And as -- and based on what you've seen, the trips -- the -- I think I heard you say, going to the Grand Caymans, West Virginia University, all around -- all around the areas, why -- in your opinion, why were some of these trips made? What was going on with those?
A. In all the trips that I -- in all the trips that I was aware of, all the trips that I went on, you know, at different points in time on those trips Palmetto State business was conducted. We were traveling to -- you know, to meet with different prospective clients, to meet with Coach Rodriguez, to investigate potential for new properties.
Q. To gauge interest possibly?
A. Yes.
Q. All right, sir. And those were -- every time they were gone -- I mean, your father -- when you were with -- with the -- these trips that were taken, was your father engaging people, chatting about what could and could not -- what could transpire in various projects?
A. Yes, even -- you know, even the trip that we went for the golf tournament, in that weekend we sat down with Coach Rodriguez for a couple of hours to discuss where projects were, where they were going, potentially talking about where that entity may go in the future.

234

Q. What about that trip to Louisiana when the -- when South Carolina -- were you part of that trip?

A. I was not.

Q. Did you know your dad had gone out there for that trip?

A. I don't know that -- I don't know that he went. I was not aware -- I knew that -- I knew that the marketing company for Columbia was going down there to set up a marketing booth to try to attract potential buyers.

Q. And that might have been a place to attract potential buyers because?

A. Well, South Carolina was there for a bowl game, and typically the -- typically the fans that follow them to the bowl games are the fans that have the money we were looking for.

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Or they had -- well, maybe not the money. They had the means to purchase our product.

Q. So it could be very well a very legitimate business expense?

A. Oh, absolutely.

Q. Yes, sir. So the idea wasn't -- in all of this -- in all of this spending and all of this -- all these transactions, there's a great deal of trying to churn, was there not?

235

A. Correct.

Q. Yes, sir. Was your dad good at that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. All right, sir. As a matter of fact, even the business about the plastic surgery that's on the list, is that not --

A. I would -- yes, he would say that that was a necessity for what he was doing.

Q. And what was he doing, sir?

A. What he was trying to do was to meet with individuals that had means to invest in our type of product, our type of company, and he felt like it was important -- you know, he would -- you know, he felt like it was important that although he was probably at this time 68, 69 to at least appear young, healthy, vibrant --

Q. Yes, sir.

A. -- energetic.

Q. Yes, sir.

A. He was very conscious of his appearance, the way he dressed, the way he looked.

THE WITNESS: That's not my phone.

THE COURT: I think that's the sign these lawyers have about talked out the sound system.

THE WITNESS: Oh, okay. Maybe you've been here -- you've been here before obviously.

236

MR. HUNT: I have no further questions, Your Honor. Thanks.

THE COURT: Mr. Price?

MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I believe I can get done by 5:30.

THE COURT: Why don't we shoot for 5:00 and call it a good compromise?

MR. PRICE: Yes, sir.

REEXAMINATION BY MR. PRICE:

Q. Mr. Greene, are you aware when, relative to January 1st, the Independence Bowl in Shreveport is generally played?

A. No.

Q. Do you know whether it's played before January 1st?

A. I don't know when they -- I do not know when they --

Q. Well, you know that evidently there was a marketing trip to Sam's Club or Sam's Town Hotel for the Shreveport Independence Bowl to sell Spur condos. My question is, do you have a general idea when the Shreveport Independence Bowl was played?

A. I do not.

Q. Okay. Are you aware of any bowl game short of maybe the mythical national championship game that is played on January 17th?

A. Not that I'm aware of.

237

Q. Okay. And if you don't mind, if you'll look at Plaintiff's Exhibit 2. There's a string of debits made at the Sam's Town Hotel from January --

A. I got to -- you got to help me find 2.

Q. I'm sorry. I'll be happy to. It's the Regions Bank one, and I'll even show you where I'm talking about it.

A. Yes.

Q. There's a string of debits made at the Sam's Town Hotel, I think, starting with Item Number 41 -- yes, sir, Item 41, beginning on January 10th and ending on January 17th. Do you see that?

A. I do.

Q. All right. Do you believe that there was any activity going on surrounding the bowl game in Shreveport, Louisiana, on the week of January 10th to January 17th, 2006?

A. It doesn't appear likely, no.

Q. Okay. Is it safe to say that knowing what we know about the ins and out of the college football schedule that probably the bowl games were played by then?

A. I would think that the bowl games are played by then. I do -- or am aware that there was a trip made to that bowl game by the marketing company. I can't speak to exactly the dates that are here or how they correspond. I was aware they were going, where they stayed, what they did. I could not -- I don't have the -- I don't have the --

238

Q. Understood, and that's a perfectly fine answer.
Looking on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 -- well, let me ask you this first: Did Mr. Greene -- your daddy, did he own a unit at The Spur?
A. He owned a unit with Strom.
Q. With Ed Straum?
A. With Ed Straum. Thank you.
Q. Okay. Do you know when they bought that?
A. I do not.
Q. My question for you is -- you were asked about the upgrade package. There's a check to Palmetto State from Palmetto State for an upgrade package that's shown as Number 131 on Exhibit 1, the big one.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know whether that was to buy the upgrade package for Mr. Greene's personal unit?
A. That upgrade package could have been for the -- I think that upgrade package would have been for the model unit that Palmetto State had at The Spur.
Q. What is the upgrade package?
A. The upgrade package is -- upgrade package in this instance might have been countertops, mirrors --
Q. Okay.
A. -- different finishes.
Q. So that's my question then. So when somebody bought a unit from Palmetto State, I guess they were generally priced according to the number of bedrooms probably; is that right?

239

A. Priced by unit with basics, yes.
Q. And then you had the right to buy fancy countertops and fixtures; correct?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Why in the world would Palmetto State pay itself for fancy countertops?
A. Well, Palmetto State's going to have to -- if they're going to have an upgrade for increased costs, it has to be shown somewhere I would assume.
Q. Okay. Mr. Biershank, Tommy Biershank, you testified that he worked for J & P Security?
A. Correct.
Q. Did he own J & P Security?
A. No.
Q. What did he do for J & P Security?
A. He was, in essence, in charge -- he was in charge of the sites that we performed duties at, sales.
Q. And I know that there's at least one check to Mr. Biershank, Number 82 on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1. Why, if that was a check made for services provided by J & P Security, was that made out to Mr. Biershank individually?
A. It -- it could be -- I can't speak 100 percent, but it could be that on a particular time that Mr. Biershank may have gathered some guys to go and do some things at The Spur. Unfortunately, he was just written a check directly with which to pay those people with.

Q. Do you have any knowledge that that was the circumstance?
A. I do not.
Q. Can you say that it is more likely than not that that was the circumstance?
A. That could have been what happened.
Q. Could have been what happened?
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, this is just pure speculation, pure speculation.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I don't understand if that's an objection or what.
MR. HUNT: I don't -- I guess -- I apologize. He did -- they did talk about Mr. Biershank earlier.
THE COURT: All right. Thank you, sir.
MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Did Mr. Greene -- do you know whether he ever owned another unit at The Spur besides the one he shared with Mr. Strom?
A. I don't know.
Q. Do you know whether he owned Unit 405 at The Spur?
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, he's on redirect here. I don't know where he's going with this.

241

MR. PRICE: I'm getting back to the upgrade package, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Let's limit it to that, and let's upgrade this towards the end of the day.
MR. PRICE: Yes, sir.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Do you know whether he owned Unit 405? Do you know whether he owned another unit individually that was foreclosed?
A. I do not know.
Q. Okay. Do you know whether the upgrade package went to that unit?
A. No.
Q. I want to ask you about the Clemson athletes, okay, and we'll just talk about them generally, Dwayne Coleman, Antonio Clay -- Anthony Waters was on there. You mentioned they provided services. You said something about security, landscaping. Where did they provide those services?
A. Those services were provided either at the Towers, at Coach Rodriguez's house, Coach Bowden's house, at The Spur in Columbia.
Q. Okay. When were they provided at The Spur in Columbia?
A. Up to the point of construction, I would assume.
Q. Well, you don't know when specifically?
A. I do not know when specifically.

242

Q. Okay. Of those places you listed, was it more likely that they provided them at the Clemson Towers in Clemson -- I'm talking about Clemson athletes -- at the Clemson Towers in Clemson, at Coach Bowden's house in Clemson, at your daddy's place at Riverpoint?

A. I would say services provided by the athletes in Clemson were more than likely provided at Coach Rodriguez's house and Coach West's house.

Q. But you don't know that?

A. You asked me -- to my knowledge, that's where that would typically take place.

Q. Okay. But to say -- there's a difference between whether the NCAA found it improper because no work was done -- the NCAA was not making -- when they investigated your dad the second time, they were not investigating whether or not that work was provided at The Spur or for a legitimate Palmetto State expense, were they?

A. I do not know.

Q. You're not aware of any NCAA regulation that requires Palmetto State money to be spent on Palmetto State business?

A. Say that again, please.

Q. Are you aware of any regulation that the NCAA has that requires Palmetto State money to be spent on Palmetto State business?

A. I'm not familiar with that.

243

Q. Okay. So my question is do you -- that investigation would have no correlation as to whether those payments were for legitimate Palmetto State business, would it?

A. Not that I -- I do not know.

Q. Was your father a member of the 1100 Club individually?

A. I do not know.

Q. Okay. Do you know whether your father was the member of the 1100 Club or Palmetto State Enterprises was the member?

A. I do not -- I did not know which was a member.

Q. Okay. Would you agree that if in the event it was Lamar Greene who joined the 1100 Club individually, then the payment for his membership by the LLC would not have been legitimate?

A. If my father was a member and if Palmetto State made the payment -- I couldn't speak to that. You'd have to ask the members.

Q. Okay. You testified that you understood Al Bell was on the board at NBSC?

A. It was my understanding.

Q. And that you had some role in procuring these construction loans? You personally had a role in procuring the construction loans; correct?

A. I was involved in some of the meetings, yes.

Q. Okay. And they got The Spur loan from Regions Bank ultimately?

244

A. Yes.

Q. They secured approval from NBSC and Regions; correct?

A. Both entities approved the construction loan.

Q. When you went back and looked for a loan in Alabama, what banks did you look for a loan from?

A. Bryant Bank.

Q. What banks?

A. Bryant Bank.

Q. Okay. Blacksburg?

A. Also with an entity that Fred Gibbs was with.

Q. Is that the bank that ultimately gave a loan in Blacksburg?

A. I think so. I'm not --

Q. Is that bank NBSC?

A. No.

Q. Okay. So --

MR. HUNT: Your Honor, where is this in --

THE COURT: How is this proper on redirect, and, second would be, how is it relevant?

MR. PRICE: Because had I been allowed to ask my next question, I would have asked, what business would Palmetto State have with NBSC where Al Bell sat on the board after the procurement of this construction loan in 2005?

THE COURT: Go ahead.

THE WITNESS: I would think from that perspective as -- 245

as any of this happens, 80 percent of the work on a project is before you secure the construction loan. So at that point in time, especially with the Columbia project, because there were no projects leading into it, there was no money to work from. So anything that happened in that time had to be funded somehow. It's my understanding that Mr. Bell worked with us to get us in line for that. It would be my understanding that there were going to be some fees paid to him for that assistance. It would also be my understanding that obviously those fees couldn't be paid until the loan was actually taken out and draws from that loan were acquired to repay expenses that were incurred building up to that.

REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:

Q. And so Mr. Bell was so instrumental in obtaining a loan that was not even taken out that he was legitimately paid $5,000 a month for the next two years?

A. I'd have to ask the members, but he did have a hand in securing that loan.

Q. Danny Cain, who is shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1, you referenced him as a day laborer.

A. Yes.

Q. Where does Mr. Cain live?

A. At that period of time, I think he lived in Gaffney.

Q. In Gaffney?

A. Yes.

246

Q. Okay. And so your testimony is that Mr. Cain drove from Gaffney all the way to Columbia and back for $500?
A. Mr. Cain would go where my father asked him, yes.
Q. Okay. And you believe that $500 was enough to compensate him for his travel and for whatever time he spent in Columbia doing whatever he may have been doing there?
A. If my father asked him to do it and he agreed to that amount, I would think that would be reasonable.
Q. Do you know whether he was doing work in Columbia on that day?
A. I can't testify that he was doing work in Columbia on that particular day. I do know that he went to Columbia to do work. I do know that he went – I do know that he went to Columbia to do work. I do not know the exact dates.
Q. Did he also do work at Clemson Towers?
A. Yes, he did.
Q. Did he also do work at your dad's house in Gaffney?
A. Yes, he did.
Q. Did he also do work at J & P in Gastonia?
A. Yes, he did.
Q. Okay. You were shown – Mr. Talley asked you to look at some checks that were made out to you, one check from Page 59, two checks on Page 50 of Plaintiff's Exhibit 1.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. When you expended money on behalf of the LLC and were – claimed a reimbursement, did you submit documentation of the expenses?

247

A. The expenses incurred would have been just for expenses for travel. I did not submit documentation for that.
Q. You didn't bring home the receipts?
A. No.
Q. Okay. Is item number – the checks on Page 50 or the check on Page 59, are they listed in this exhibit of unauthorized expenditures?
A. I guess so.
Q. I'll submit to you that they're not. If you could show me where they are –
A. Maybe not then.
Q. Now, there is one check to you, Item 103, for $6,250.
A. That's correct.
Q. Do you have documentation of whatever that was allegedly a reimbursement for?
A. There was documentation turned in for flights that were taken. There are as well entries in my flight logbook for flights taken on behalf of Palmetto State.
Q. Had you seen that exhibit before today, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1?
A. This exhibit?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. Yes.

248

Q. Okay. Did you bring any of that documentation about that charge with you?
A. I did not. I had that with me at the deposition.
Q. Did you know anything about your trial today?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. Did you know about it for today?
A. Yes, I did.
MR. PRICE: May I have the Court's indulgence momentarily?
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Did you ever participate in meetings to go over the books for Palmetto State?
A. Could have.
Q. I mean, did the members meet and talk about what these expenditures were for?
A. I never remember meeting with the members for that purpose.
Q. In working so closely with your dad, with Palmetto State, J & P Enterprises, J & P Security, did you have an understanding of what his income was?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you at any time sense that he may have been living above his means?
MR. HUNT: Your Honor –
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I object.

249

MR. HUNT: – that's objectionable.
MR. TALLEY: It's on redirect.
THE COURT: I sustain the objection. You can proffer it for the record, but I'm going to sustain the objection.
MR. PRICE: I'll just withdraw the question.
THE COURT: All right.
MR. PRICE: That's all my questions.
THE COURT: Any other very brief questions?
MR. TALLEY: Not at the time.
MR. HUNT: No, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Thanks, sir. You can step down.
(Thereupon, the trial was adjourned at 5:20 p.m.)

EXAMINATION BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Ms. Greene, my name is David Price. You and I met one time before at Mr. Talley's office. I represent the plaintiff in this action, Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC.
A. Yes, sir.
Q. If you can, just state your relation to

Mr. Lamar Greene.
A. I was his wife.
Q. Okay. And what do you do for a living now?
A. I'm disabled.
Q. How did you become disabled?
A. I was in a car accident in 2007.
Q. Okay. Before you became disabled, what did you do for a living?
A. I worked for J & P Enterprises.
Q. What is J & P Enterprises?
A. It's a textile manufacturing company.
Q. And when you worked there, who owned J & P Enterprises?
A. Lamar Greene, Jeff Greene, Paula Greene.
Q. Do you know who owns it now?
A. Jeff and, I think, Paula maybe.
Q. When you worked at J & P Enterprises prior to your accident, what were your duties there?
A. Accounts pay -- accounts receivable. I'm sorry. Accounts payable.
Q. Okay. What about accounts receivable?
A. I did that as well.
Q. Okay. Did you manage taxes?
A. Taxes and payroll.
Q. So were you basically the bookkeeper?
A. Bookkeeper, and I had help as well.

256

Q. All right. Who else helped?
A. Melissa Bowlin (phonetic).
Q. And what did she do?
A. She did payroll most of the time, and she did accounts payable as well. We both did the jobs.
Q. All right. What do you know about J & P Security?
A. J & P Security was a company owned by Jeff and Lamar. They did security work throughout the upstate.
Q. Where were its offices?
A. In Gastonia.
Q. The same offices as J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you do any work for J & P Security?
A. Yes.
Q. Same duties as you did at J & P Enterprises?
A. Payroll and taxes, yes.
Q. All right.
A. Invoicing.
Q. Have you ever heard of a company called Gaston Engineering?
A. No, sir.
Q. You've never heard of it at all?
A. No, sir.
Q. If you had ever endorsed the back of a check made out to Gaston Engineering, would you know that?

257

A. I -- yes.
Q. Okay. Did you ever do any work for Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC?
A. I did a spreadsheet when the trial came up.
Q. What do you mean?
A. When the -- this allegation came up against Lamar, I did a spreadsheet with the checks to give to Mr. Olson.
Q. Okay. What kind of spreadsheet did you do?
A. It was a listing of the checks.
Q. What checks?
A. All checks from -- that were given to me from the bank to put on a spreadsheet.
Q. Okay. So you did a spreadsheet of each of the checks out of Palmetto State accounts?
A. Each check, yes, that came out of the bank -- banking --
Q. Do you remember which bank?
A. I do not. I think there were various banks.
Q. Okay. When was that?
A. In 2008.
Q. Do you remember why you did that?
A. I think they were asking for copies of the checks and what they were written for and --
Q. Who's they?
A. Mike -- well, the company Palmetto State, Mr. Olson.

258

Q. Okay. What do you know about Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. I don't know very much about Palmetto State Enterprises.
Q. Do you know who the members were?
A. I remember early going that it was Lamar, Jeff -- Lamar, Rich Rodriguez, and Ron West.
Q. Do you know what Palmetto State did? What was its --
A. Built condos.
Q. -- businesses? Okay.
A. Construction of condos.
Q. Do you know anything about investments made by other people in the Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. No, sir.
Q. You don't -- you don't know anything about investments made by third parties into Palmetto State?
A. I didn't -- I didn't -- I didn't even see that. All this was taking place at Clemson, and most of the time I was in Gaffney.
Q. So you were never present when a third party wrote Mr. Greene a check to invest in Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. No, sir.
Q. Have you ever heard of a law firm called Gray, Layton & Kersh in Gastonia?
A. Yes, sir.

259

Q. What are they?
A. It was a law firm that was representing Lamar in a Marble Works lawsuit.
Q. Okay. Tell me more about that lawsuit.
A. The company was owned by Lamar and James Hazelton. It closed down, and Jamie was the manager there. Taxes were owed, and I think they were holding Lamar and Jamie both liable, so he went to this attorney for help.
Q. So, basically, Gray, Layton & Kersh represented Lamar in litigation with his partner about who was liable for the taxes?
A. Yes.
Q. I'm going to hand you an exhibit, Plaintiff's Exhibit 1. Do you recognize that exhibit?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay.
A. But it looks like it's been retyped.
Q. Okay. What do you mean by that? What do you recognize that exhibit as being?
A. It just looks like it's been retyped. It doesn't look like the -- I'm just going by what I'm --
Q. I understand -- I think I don't understand what you mean by it looks like it's been retyped. What's been retyped?
A. I think the whole thing has been retyped.
Q. Okay. So do you think that that is some variation of the spreadsheet you originally prepared?

260

A. Yes.
Q. The statements and records attached to it, have you ever seen those before?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. If you don't mind, turn to Page 100 of that exhibit.
A. Okay.
Q. There is a check hand-labeled Number 171. Do you see that? Check Number 1364 in the amount of $10,000.
A. 1364?
Q. Yes, ma'am, this one. See that Check Number 1364 in the amount of $10,000 made out to Gray, Layton & Kersh?
A. Yes.
Q. Do you agree that that's what that check says?
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know anything about what that check was for?
A. It was probably as a retainer fee for --
Q. For the Marble Works litigation?
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know whether Marble Works, Incorporated, had anything to do with Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. They did not.
Q. Okay. Ms. Greene, do you own property at 144 Riverpoint Drive in Clemson?

261

A. Yes.
Q. Are you aware that in 2006 Lamar Greene used funds from a Palmetto State bank account to purchase furniture at a place called Furniture Showcase?
A. Lamar and I were not living together at that time --
Q. Okay.
A. -- and I was not aware of that.
Q. Have you --
A. I was later but not when he did it.
Q. So later you became aware of it?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. At what point did you become aware that funds from a Palmetto State bank account were used to buy furniture there?
A. When I was doing the spreadsheet.
Q. Was any of that furniture purchased at Furniture Showcase delivered to 144 Riverpoint?
A. Very little.
Q. Okay.
A. But, yes.
Q. All right. Do you remember what furniture was replaced with the furniture bought at Furniture Showcase?
A. Yes.
Q. What?
A. A bedroom suite, a sofa, a chair, like an armoire -- end table, and a glass top table and some rod iron pieces and some flowers.

262

Q. That furniture that was purchased at Furniture Showcase, is that still there today?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. All of it?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you or Mr. --
A. I take that back. Except the brown chair -- leather chair. It's at Lamar's daughter's house.
Q. Okay. Did you or Mr. Greene ever own a unit at Clemson Towers?
A. I did not. He did.
Q. Unit 101?
A. Yes.
Q. Is it still owned by his Estate, do you know?
A. No, it's not.
Q. What happened to it?
A. He sold it.
Q. Was it sold with the furniture included?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you know what happened to those proceeds?
A. I do not.
Q. Are you aware of the funds that were used at Furniture Showcase to buy furniture that was delivered to

263

Unit 101 at Clemson Towers?
A. I was not -- I was not aware of that until later.
Q. At some point you became aware?
A. With the spreadsheet, yes.
Q. Tell me a little bit more about J & P Enterprises. When you were there, what kind of business did it conduct?
A. They manufactured textile machine parts and purchased parts from China.
Q. Okay. You worked there from when until when?
A. I want to say I went to work there probably -- it was maybe in 2002, later than 2004. That was on my deposition. I want to say 2002.
Q. Okay. And you went -- you worked there until your accident in February of 2007?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you do any work there now?
A. No, sir.
Q. When's the last time you worked there?
A. The last day I went in was 11 -- 12/20 of '11.
Q. Okay. After your accident, you must have gone there and worked some.
A. Trying to train a girl to take over.
Q. Okay. Is it fair to say you had very little role there from 2007 to 2011?
A. That's correct.

264

Q. Do you – when's the last time you did any work for J & P Security?
A. I think J & P Security closed down maybe – I want to say 2007, maybe 2008. I'm really not sure.
Q. Okay. And I –
A. Or maybe – I'm really not sure about the date.
Q. Were you ever separated from Mr. Greene?
A. Yes.
Q. When was that?
A. January of '06 through, I think, August or September of '06.
Q. While you were separated from Mr. Greene, did you continue to work at J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Were you paid during that time?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. How much were you paid?
A. $1,000 a week.
Q. Paid by who?
A. The company.
Q. The company. I think you told me you handled both accounts receivable and accounts payable?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Are you familiar – were you familiar at the time with what – where the income into J & P Enterprises was coming from that went to accounts payable and to payroll?

265

A. From vendors that we did business with.
Q. Specifically, I want to know is – I mean, were you the one checking the books every day to see how much money was in the operating account?
A. I did – well, we didn't do it every day, but finally later we went online to check.
Q. And were you the one marking the entries for accounts receivable?
A. Melissa and I both did.
Q. Okay. So you not only had a general idea where J & P made its money from, you had a – is it fair to say you had a fairly specific idea how much money was in the operating account at any one time?
A. I could call and find out, yes.
Q. Okay. And when you worked in accounts payable, one of the things you would check is to make sure that J & P Enterprises had enough money to pay for the things it was buying; correct?
A. That's right.
Q. And when you ran payroll, one of the things you would check is to make sure J & P –
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I'm going to object to the leading questions.
MR. PRICE: Okay.

266

MR. TALLEY: He's on direct examination of the witness.
THE COURT: All right.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. When you ran payroll, did you check –
A. Melissa mostly did payroll as far as – she mostly ran payroll.
Q. Do you know whether when Melissa ran payroll she checked the operating account to make sure there was enough money to bank payroll?
A. She would let us know.
Q. Okay. She would let you know?
A. Yes.
Q. So, in the event there was not enough money to make payroll, would she let you know?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Would she come to you?
A. Or Lamar or Jeff, whoever was there.
Q. Okay. But one of the Greenes?
A. Yes.
Q. So on whatever spreadsheet that you kept for J & P Enterprises' accounts receivable, were you able to track that money back and identify where it came from?
A. Yes, because we – it was always keyed in as – where it came from, and there was always a debit and a credit.
Q. And so that included being able to track back and determine where the money being used for your own pay came from?

A. Yes.
Q. Did J & P Enterprises ever file bankruptcy?
A. Yes.
Q. When was that?
A. I'm not sure what year. Maybe – maybe '05, '04.
Q. Would February of '06 sound correct?
A. That could be right, yes.
Q. Did you play a role in making the determination to file bankruptcy?
A. No, I did not.
Q. Who made that decision?
A. Lamar and Jeff.
Q. Do you know why J & P Enterprises filed for bankruptcy?
A. We had a lot of companies that were – that owed us money that filed for bankruptcy and just – the overhead was just astronomical.
Q. Were there any particular debts or incidents that were the catalyst for the bankruptcy filing?
A. I'm not sure of that. I know that a company, Texine (phonetic), filed for bankruptcy owing us, like, $78,000.
Q. So is it fair to say then that the companies that owed J & P Enterprises filed bankruptcy, and when J & P didn't get their money from them, that was why J & P Enterprises had to file bankruptcy?

268

A. I would say that, yes.
Q. Okay. Do you know when the cash flow problems for J & P Enterprises started?
A. I don't. Well, the manufacturing companies slowed down, a lot of plants closed, and it was – it was slow at that time.
Q. When you first started in 2002 or 2003, did J & P Enterprises have adequate cash flow?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So sometime between when you started and when they filed for bankruptcy in 2006, the cash flow became restricted?
A. It was on again off again throughout the period. I'm not saying it came restricted at the time I started work, no. I think it – it was restricted even then.
Q. In your role as the person keeping track of the books at J & P Enterprises, did you know the amount of debt that J & P Enterprises was accumulating?
A. Well, I didn't – I ran a balance sheet – financial report and a balance sheet at the end of the month, and that was gone over by Jeff and Lamar in the conference room.
Q. Did you compile the information on the balance sheet?
A. Yes.
Q. And you did that every month?
A. Yes.

269

Q. Okay. Did you ever have meetings with Mr. Lamar Greene or Mr. Jeff Greene?
A. I didn't meet with them.
Q. Okay. So you just showed them the statements and anything else they asked for, and that was it?
A. And they would go to the conference room. They also met on Mondays to go over with the shop manager, the stock clerk, and themselves, different things they needed to order, over reports.
Q. Was J & P Enterprises your and Mr. Lamar Greene's primary source of income?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Okay. So in your –
A. Well, Lamar – I'm sorry. Lamar was paid through Palmetto State.
Q. What did you consider to be your family's primary source of income?
A. Well, Lamar's money was his money. My money was my money.
Q. Okay. In the course –
A. But he paid – he paid the bills.
Q. In the course of being husband and wife, maybe sometime at home or something, did you and Lamar Greene ever discuss whether or not J & P Enterprises was going to have to file for bankruptcy?

270

A. No, sir.
Q. So you never discussed it at work?
A. No, sir.
Q. You never discussed it at home? It never came up?
A. Lamar was a very quiet man. He didn't discuss problems with me.
Q. Do you know what law firm represented J & P Enterprises in its bankruptcy filing?
A. Rayburn Cooper & Durham.
Q. Okay. I'm going to hand you another document – another exhibit marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 6. Have you ever seen that exhibit before?
A. No, sir.
Q. Okay. You didn't –
A. It doesn't look familiar to me.
Q. All right. There's a wire listed at the bottom of that on February 28th, 2006, to Rayburn Cooper & Durham for $16,039. Do you see that?
A. I do.
Q. Do you know what that wire was for?
A. I didn't make the wire, but I assume it was payment for their services.
Q. For attorney's fees?
A. Or – I guess. I can't be sure.
Q. Okay. You don't know whether that was for attorney's fees for the bankruptcy?

271

MR. TALLEY: Objection; asked and answered.
MR. PRICE: I don't know that that's been answered.
THE COURT: One last time, ask it. You can answer it.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Ma'am, do you know whether that was to pay attorney's fees for the bankruptcy?
A. I do not know that.
Q. Okay. Do you remember when I took your deposition in Mr. Talley's office?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you know that you were under oath on that day?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Okay. Do you remember when I asked you about that wire?
A. This wire?
Q. Yes, ma'am.
A. This one here?
Q. Yes, ma'am.
A. I don't recall that. I just remember this.
Q. Okay. Well, I'll show you the conversation, okay. I'm going to start on Page 78, Line 8, and I'm going to read my question, okay, and then I'll just ask you to read your answer. All right?
A. Okay.

272

Q. "If you look at the list at the bottom, there's a list of wires and cashier's checks. Do you see that? The third one on February 28th, 2006, was a wire to Rayburn Cooper & Durham in Charlotte, North Carolina, for $16,039. Do you know what that money was for?" And you said what?
A. "I didn't make the wire, so I don't know."
Q. I said, "Do you have a guess?" And you said?
A. Well, I said, "I'm sure it's for attorney's fees," but I still –
Q. I understand. And then I said, "For the bankruptcy for J & P Enterprises?" And you said?
A. "Yes."
Q. Okay. So is it fair to say that when I took your deposition on September 7th, 2011, you believed that wire was most likely for attorney's fees for the bankruptcy?
A. I'm sure I did, yes.
Q. Okay. I'm going to hand you another document – or another exhibit. This exhibit is marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 10. Have you ever seen that before?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. What is that exhibit?
A. Pardon?
Q. What is it, ma'am?
A. This is a list of checks that were deposited by myself in the bank.

273

Q. Okay. If you don't mind thumbing through those bank documents, there's canceled checks and deposit slips, confirm for me that appears to be your handwriting on those bank records.
A. Making out the checks, yes.
Q. Making out the deposit –
A. And the deposit slip for 8,900 was made out by Melissa. All the checks were signed by Lamar, and mostly the amount written in by Lamar. I can't make out Number 13 and 14. 17, yes. This is the bank signature card, yes. And – yes, yes.
Q. Okay. I'm going to go through those records then, and I'm going to ask you about them. Turning to the first page, that is a check drawn on Palmetto State's NBSC account made payable to J & P Enterprises in the amount of 4,300. Do you agree with that?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did you fill that check out?
A. I filled the check out, and Lamar signed it, yes.
Q. Okay. What was that check for?
A. For a wire transfer to China.
Q. Okay. To who in China?
A. Ascotech.
Q. What is Ascotech?
A. A manufacturer of textile machine parts and ships them.
Q. Do you remember why that check was written?

274

A. To make a wire transfer.
Q. Okay. Who told you to do that?
A. Lamar.
Q. All right. And what were the parts for?
A. For resale.
Q. For who by who?
A. J & P Enterprises.
Q. Was it written – why was it written on a Palmetto State account then?
A. Lamar gave – took the check out, gave it to us, and told us to make the wire transfer because there were no funds available to do that. But this check was also noted on the balance sheet keyed in –
Q. I understand. No funds available where to do what?
A. The funds were – all funds were not available to make the wire transfer.
Q. So J & P Enterprises did not have enough money in its operating account to buy the parts?
A. That's correct.
Q. So you filled out a check drawn on Palmetto State's account?
A. And he signed it. He signed it first.
Q. I understand. At the time you did that, did you ever question why you were writing a check on a Palmetto State Enterprises account to buy parts for J & P Enterprises?

275

A. I did not.
Q. You did it just because Lamar Greene told you to?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you – you had enough experience with bookkeeping to recognize where the check you were writing was drawn on, did you not?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So you knew what you were doing?
A. I knew that it came from Palmetto, yes.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I'm going to renew the objection of a while ago. Counsel's leading. And I know he can deem this as a hostile witness, but if that's what he wants to do, I wish he would go ahead and do that.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, respectfully, the rule as to questioning allows you to ask leading questions to the opponent – party opponent. She is a Defendant in this action.
THE COURT: All right. Go ahead.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Ms. Greene, Page 2, that's another check drawn on Palmetto State's NBSC account, is it not?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Dated July 12th, 2005, made payable to J & P Enterprises in the amount of $2,000?
A. Yes.
Q. Who filled out that check?

276

A. Lamar filled in the amount and signed it, and I completed it.
Q. And you completed it?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You wrote the payee, correct, J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You wrote the amount in words?
A. I didn't write the amount.
Q. You did not --
A. I wrote the amount in words, yes.
Q. Okay. What was that check for?
A. It was for a wire transfer, I'm sure.
Q. All right. A wire transfer for what?
A. Textile parts.
Q. Who told you to write that check?
A. Lamar gave me the check to fill in.
Q. All right. He just gave it to you and told you to make it out to J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes.
Q. You did not question why you were writing a $2,000 check out of a Palmetto State account to J & P Enterprises?
A. I did not do that, no, sir.
Q. All right. Page 3 is a check drawn on Palmetto State's First Citizens account. Do you agree?
A. Yes, sir.

277

Q. And that's in the amount of $4,000?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Who was that made out to?
A. It was made out to me.
Q. And you -- is that your handwriting?
A. That's my handwriting with my name, yes.
Q. So you wrote your own name on that check?
A. Yes.
Q. What was that check for?
A. It was for a certified check for Marble Works to pay down on the taxes that were due.
Q. Did Marble Works have anything to do with Palmetto State business?
A. No, sir.
Q. Can you tell us why you would have written a $4,000 check to yourself out of a Palmetto State account for Marble Works business?
A. To go to the bank, because it was in Palmetto -- to go to the bank that I knew to get a certified check to send into -- to the IRS for Marble Works.
Q. Did you fill out everything on that check but the signature?
A. He filled in the amount and the $4,000 in words.
Q. You put your own name on it?
A. Yes, sir.

278

Q. At the time you did that, did you realize that the check was out of a Palmetto State account?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you question yourself or even ask Mr. Greene why you all were writing a check out of a Palmetto State account for Marble Works' taxes?
A. He had given me the check so it could be sent off because I think he was advised by Rayburn Cooper & Durham that he needed to send the check in.
Q. Did you wonder at the time why you were sending a check drawn on a Palmetto State account?
A. I did not because he gave it to me.
Q. Did you think about it at all?
A. No, sir, because it was not my business. I mean, it was not my business account.
Q. As the bookkeeper for J & P Enterprises -- and were you keeping books for any of Mr. Greene's other businesses?
A. No, sir.
Q. Just J & P Enterprises?
A. And Security.
Q. Okay. Well, as the bookkeeper for J & P Enterprises, did you never look to see where these checks were coming from or what they were being used for?
A. They were always noted as a loan to officer. I mean, on the balance sheet there was always -- and what it was -- where it came from -- where it came from and that Lamar would owe it back.

279

Q. Noted on what balance sheet?
A. J & P Enterprises' account.
Q. So you --
A. Like, even this check --
Q. So that check for Marble Works' taxes would have been listed on J & P Enterprises' books as a loan to officer?
A. Yes.
Q. Doesn't that mean when you note something on the books as a loan to officer that J & P Enterprises made the loan to its officer?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. But that's not what was occurring there, was it?
A. No. It was made out to me, but it was actually put against Lamar so that he could repay -- he would have to repay Palmetto State the money that --
Q. Did you keep Palmetto State's books?
A. No, I did not.
Q. Then how do you know whether that was noted on Palmetto State's books as a loan to officer?
A. I do not. I said J & P Enterprises.
Q. Okay. So you're telling me that on J & P Enterprises' books that was noted as a loan to officer?
A. Yes.

Q. Okay. But J & P Enterprises didn't make that loan. That loan was made to J & P Enterprises; correct?
A. It was made as a loan from Palmetto State.
Q. From Palmetto State on J & P's books?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Assuming that's true then, did you ever have occasion to note a payment from J & P to Palmetto State on J & P's books?
A. I don't remember that.
Q. Did you never question at any course in the -- some of these checks -- the first check we looked at was '05. You worked there until February of '07. Did you never question why approximately two years had passed and J & P Enterprises had yet to make a single payment to repay the loan back to Palmetto State?
A. No, sir.
Q. Okay.
A. As I say, Lamar was in charge of this, and he would -- he would ask us to disburse checks accordingly.
Q. If you don't mind, ma'am, turn to Page 6. That check is made out to J & P Enterprises for $6,500; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. Is it drawn on Palmetto State's First Citizens account?
A. Yes.
Q. Who filled out that check?

A. I filled out the check, and he signed it.
Q. What was the purpose of that check?
A. To make a wire transfer to China.
Q. Did you know at the time that the check to J & P was from Palmetto State?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you ever question whether anybody had agreed to make that loan?
A. Lamar made the loan.
Q. Did you ever question -- did you know Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. West?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Did you ever question whether they had agreed for Lamar to make that loan?
A. No, sir, I didn't.
Q. Let me ask you, when you kept the books and were sitting down to do accounts payable and you realized that J & P Enterprises didn't have enough money in its operating account to meet its obligations for the month, did you go tell that to Lamar?
A. Melissa or I did, yes.
Q. Okay. Tell me exactly how that worked in practice.
A. If he'd call in and ask us to make -- wire transfers were usually written out on Mondays and given to us, and sometimes we would just hold the transfers to see if the accounts receivable would come in. And if it didn't, we would let him know that we didn't get the money in to make the wire transfers.

Q. Do you believe that this check on Page 6 was written after either you or Melissa let Mr. Greene know that J & P Enterprises did not have enough money to meet its obligations?
A. Probably, yes.
Q. Okay. And so did you never question the propriety of a situation where you informed Mr. Greene that J & P Enterprises doesn't have enough money to meet its obligations and magically Mr. Greene produces a check drawn on an account from a completely unrelated business to pay J & P obligations?
A. Lamar also had the code and the ability to call in himself to see what was available in the checking account.
Q. And that may be so, ma'am, but you filled out this check; right?
A. I did. At his instructions, yes.
Q. Okay. And you knew what you were doing at the time that you filled out the check?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. It's the deposit slip -- the deposit ticket on Page 4 and 5, is that your handwriting on that?
A. The only thing I have is a back of a copy.
Q. You don't have Page 4?

A. Oh, okay. Yes, that is my handwriting.
Q. That's your handwriting on the deposit slip?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You wrote PAL.LLC, $6,500, on that deposit slip?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So it's fair to say you not only filled out the check at Mr. Greene's instruction, you took the check and deposited it into the bank yourself?
A. I didn't take -- we have a courier that takes the money -- or a driver.
Q. So you filled out the deposit ticket, you put it in the courier's hand, and you instructed the courier to take it and deposit it?
A. Yes.
Q. If you don't mind, ma'am, please turn to Page 9. Is that another check to J & P Enterprises in the amount of $8,900?
A. Yes.
Q. Is that drawn on a Palmetto State First Citizens account?
A. Yes.
Q. Whose handwriting is that?
A. Everything but the signature is mine.
Q. Okay. What was that check for?
A. A wire transfer to China.
Q. Why was that check written out of a Palmetto Properties account to import parts from China?

284

A. At Lamar's instructions.
Q. You believe that check was written in response to somebody going to Lamar and telling him that there was no money to buy these parts in J & P's operating account?
A. He was there, yes.
Q. Okay. Page 7 is the deposit ticket.
A. Okay.
Q. Is that your handwriting?
A. No.
Q. Whose handwriting?
A. Melissa.
Q. That was the person who helped you with the books?
A. Yes.
Q. The next check then is on Page 12. Do you agree that's another check to J & P Enterprises in the amount of $2,500?
A. Yes.
Q. Do you agree that's another check drawn on Palmetto State's First Citizens account?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Who filled that check out?
A. I did, with Lamar's signature, and he had written in the amount.
Q. What is that check for?
A. Wire transfers to China.

285

Q. You realized at the time you filled that check out that that was drawn on Palmetto State's account?
A. Yes.
Q. The deposit ticket on Page 10, ma'am, is that your handwriting?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. I see a check for $2,500. I don't know what those letters next to that mean.
A. Lamar Greene.
Q. Okay. So you actually noted on the deposit ticket that that was money from Lamar Greene?
A. I did at that time, yes.
Q. Why did you note a check from Palmetto State Enterprises to be Lamar Greene's money?
A. I don't know, sir.
Q. Did -- in your experience, did Lamar Greene treat Palmetto's money as his own?
A. I don't know that.
Q. But that's your writing -- that's your "LG"; correct?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Okay. If you don't mind, ma'am, turn to Page 13. That is a check for Morgan & Bartos Builders, LLC, in the amount of $17,500. Do you agree?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And it's made out to Gaston Engineering. Can you see that?

286

A. Barely, yes.
Q. All right. If you don't mind, turn to Page 14. Do you agree that that is the back of that check?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Who actually endorsed that check?
A. It looks like I endorsed the check.
Q. Okay. Before, ma'am, you told me that you had never heard of Gaston Engineering.
A. I don't remember Gaston Engineering. I just remember him calling the office telling us that he was expecting a check to come in from Morgan & Bartos, that he was in Columbia, and he was paying -- I don't remember the name, but he was paying them from his account and to deposit this in his own personal account.
Q. Did you write the word "Gaston Engineering" on there?
A. I did.
Q. And you deposited that into Mr. Greene's own personal account?
A. Personal account, yes.
Q. Can you explain to us how you came to endorse a check on behalf of a company you'd never heard of and deposit that into your husband's personal account?
A. Like I said, he called from Columbia saying that he was paying a vendor. He had called and talked to Melissa, and she told me and -- or talked to Melissa or I, and as near as I can remember he did talk to Melissa and say -- tell her -- because she was earlier than I was getting to work -- that he was expecting a check from Morgan & Bartos and that was to go in his own personal account and for me to put it in there, and he was not close to a Palmetto bank.

287

Q. Did you know at the time what Morgan & Bartos was?
A. Morgan & Bartos were the builders for, I think, The Spur. I'm not sure.
Q. Okay. But you knew it was for one of the condos?
A. I knew they were the contractors, yes.
Q. Okay. And I'll submit to you that they actually built the one in Tuscaloosa. But you knew at the time that they were builders for one of the Palmetto State condos?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Page 17, ma'am, that's another check drawn on Palmetto State's First Citizens account; correct?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Made out to J & P Enterprises in the amount of $7,875?
A. Yes.
Q. What was that check for?
A. Wire transfer to China.
Q. For parts?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Parts for J & P Enterprises?

288

A. Yes, sir.
Q. Who filled that check out?
A. I did, except the signature.
Q. At the time you filled that check out, did you know it was being drawn on a Palmetto State account?
A. Yes.
Q. The deposit ticket on Page 15, ma'am, is that your handwriting?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Okay. Page 18, do you believe that to be a true and accurate copy of the signature card for the J & P Enterprises account at Clover Bank?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Is that your signature second from the top?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Okay. And you are one of only four people with signature authority on that account?
A. Yes.
Q. If you don't mind, ma'am, turn to Page 20.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I hate to interrupt, but the copy of the exhibit I was given doesn't have a Page 18 or 19.
MR. PRICE: Want that one?
THE COURT: Has that been straightened out?
MR. TALLEY: Yes, sir. Just for whatever reason, I'm sure it was a copying error, it goes from 17 to 20 in the copy had.

289

THE COURT: All right. Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Ma'am, turn to Page 20 in your exhibit, please. That is a check made to Clyde Turney Builders in the amount of $2,571.93. Do you agree with that?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Dated June 15th, 2007?
A. Yes.
Q. Who filled out that check?
A. I filled out the check at Lamar's instruction.
Q. What was the check for?
A. Repair on the Gaffney home.
Q. What Gaffney home?
A. The residence -- Gaffney residence.
Q. Where you lived?
A. I didn't live there at the time. I was hurt, and I was in Clemson. This was after the car accident.
Q. But that was one of the homes you shared with Lamar Greene?
A. Yes.
Q. Is that the residence you considered to be your actua primary residence?
A. Yes.
Q. What account was that check drawn on?

290

A. Palmetto Properties.
Q. What did the repair work on your house in Gaffney have to do with Palmetto State business?
A. Not anything.
Q. And why was it that check was written on a Palmetto State account?
A. Lamar -- Lamar did it. It was at his instruction for me to fill it out.
Q. But you filled it out?
A. Yes.
Q. And you knew at the time that you were writing a check for remodeling work on your own personal home that you were writing a check from a Palmetto State account?
A. At that time I was very sick, and I -- yes, I probably do, but I did not hire the man or anything to do the work. He was trying to get some remodeling done to sell the house.
Q. There's a check on Page 21. Do you agree that that's a check to J & P Security drawn on a Palmetto State account in the amount of $11,000.
A. Yes, sir.
Q. When was that check dated?
A. 8 of '07.
Q. Okay. Who filled out that check?
A. I did.
Q. Who signed that check?

291

A. I did.
Q. Why did you sign Lamar's name to that check?
A. He called the house with Mike Brown being there in my presence asking me to write a check to J & P Security because he had written a check to pay invoices from the J & P Enterprises' account to -- and placed it in the security account for security work done for -- for Palmetto State Enterprises at The Spur for security work.
Q. If it was a check to repay J & P Enterprises, why was the check made out to J & P Security?
A. The check was written on J & P Security. The check was written on J & P Security. He paid J & P Security back with a J & P Enterprises check. I just got it mixed up. But that's what he did, and then the money was deposited in the J & P Security account to put the money back in.
Q. Okay. So do you know whether J & P Security provided any security services at The Spur?
A. Yes, I do.
Q. All right.
A. I understand they did, yes. Well, Tommy Biershank was the manager and at the time was turn in for the security.
Q. Is it possible then that some payments to J & P Security may have been for legitimate company purposes?
A. Repeat that, please.
Q. Is it possible then that some payments from 292

Palmetto State to J & P Security might have been for legitimate Palmetto State purposes?
A. It was, yes.
Q. Was there ever a reason why payments to J & P Enterprises would be for legitimate Palmetto State business?
A. Repeat that, please.
Q. Is it ever – is there ever a reason why a payment to J & P Enterprises would have been for a legitimate business purpose of Palmetto State?
A. Are you saying, like, the wire transfers? Are you –
Q. Yes, ma'am. I'm asking what service could J & P Enterprises have ever provided to Palmetto State that would have been a legitimate benefit to Palmetto State?
A. I don't know that.
Q. Are you aware of anything?
A. No.
Q. Okay. Is it possible that you made the $11,000 check out to J & P Security in the hopes that it wouldn't arouse the same kind of suspicion that an $11,000 check to J & P Enterprises would?
A. No, sir, because there were actually invoices covering this amount. There were actually invoices.
Q. And at this time in August of 2007, was J & P Enterprises still in bankruptcy, to your knowledge?

293

A. I don't know that.
Q. Okay. Well, I guess what I want – I'm trying to understand is how did J & P Enterprises go from having cash flow problems so severe that it was taking money from Palmetto State to buy parts, but now apparently was floating Palmetto State an $11,000 loan?
A. What do you mean floating Palmetto State an $11,000 loan?
Q. Well, ma'am, what does the memo say on that check?
A. Check deposited from Palmetto to repay checks written by Lamar for Palmetto.
Q. I'm talking about the "for" line on the front of that check.
A. What's the check number?
Q. 21, ma'am, Page 21.
A. Loan repayment to J & P Enterprises.
Q. Okay. So, on the face of that check, we have to assume that you wrote a check to J & P Security to repay a loan from J & P Enterprises to Palmetto State?
A. Well, I – he could have written – he had written a check to deposit from J & P Enterprises into a security account that could have been – I'm just really not familiar with that now. I do see the check on the back of it where it was made out to J & P Enterprises from security account –
Q. And it says –

A. – on Page 23.
Q. And it says, check deposited from Palmetto Property to repay ENT, I think Enterprise checks, written by LG, I think Lamar Greene, for PAL.PROP, which I guess means Palmetto Property bills. Do you agree that's what that says?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So do you agree that this check was allegedly written to repay J & P Enterprises for an $11,000 loan that it apparently made to Palmetto State?
A. I don't think it was for – well, it was a reimbursement, I think.
Q. Okay. A reimbursement. And so I guess what I'm trying to understand, and maybe you can answer this question and maybe you can't, but how in a year's time did J & P Enterprises go from having cash flow problems so severe that it was taking money from Palmetto State to buy parts, then filed bankruptcy, to then being so flush with cash that it was paying $11,000 to Palmetto State bills?
A. Accounts receivable come in – I mean, we – J & P Enterprises did get – have accounts receivable coming in.
Q. When you did the spreadsheet of checks and did some work to provide information to Mr. Olson –
A. Yes, sir.
Q. – were you able to go back and identify what bills – what specific bills J & P Enterprises paid for Palmetto State?

295

A. Honestly, I was doing it hurriedly because it had to be done, like, the next day, and I worked during the night.
Q. So that's a no?
A. I don't know.
Q. Okay. I have just one more question, Ms. Greene, and then I'm going to leave you alone. Did you never realize – did you ever think any of the times that you were writing checks from Palmetto State accounts to pay for your own personal business or for work to your personal home that at the end of the day you might have been stealing money from somebody?
MR. TALLEY: Objection, Your Honor.
THE WITNESS: No, sir, I did not.
MR. TALLEY: Objection to the question. It's irrelevant as to –
THE WITNESS: I did not steal any money.
MR. TALLEY: – whether she thinks it's stealing money or not. I've let him have great liberty in his questions this morning, quite frankly, but –
THE COURT: If you could rephrase the question.
MR. PRICE: Okay.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Did you ever think at any point when you were filling out checks drawn on Palmetto State Enterprises for your own personal business, like remodeling your own personal home, that you were stealing money from somebody?

296

A. I did not.
MR. TALLEY: Same objection.
THE COURT: I'm going to allow it.
THE WITNESS: No, sir, I did not.
MR. PRICE: Thank you, ma'am. I have no –
THE WITNESS: This was Lamar's business. I never stole any money from Palmetto State.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. You knew enough to know where the checks you were writing – what accounts they were drawn on, did you not?
A. I did, but I never signed – I never stole money from them.
MR. PRICE: Thank you, ma'am. No further questions.
THE COURT: All right. Your witness.
MR. TALLEY: Thank you, Your Honor.
EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Ms. Greene, were you familiar with Lamar's pay structure from Palmetto State? And what I mean by that is, did you know how he was to be paid by the LLC for work he was doing?
A. He did mention that they had agreed to pay him $10,000 a month.
Q. And when he would get paid from Palmetto State, would that money go into a joint checking account that you all had?
A. No, sir.
Q. Never went into a joint account?

297

A. No, sir.
Q. Would you know when and if he got paid $10,000 a month?
A. No, I would not.
Q. How much time did he devote to Palmetto State's business?
A. A lot.
Q. Was he on the road a lot?
A. Yes.
Q. Would drive his car most of the time?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Sometimes they'd travel by air?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Is there a lot you've learned about Lamar since his passing?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. The fact that he had another child, did you ever know that while he was alive?
A. No.
Q. And you testified you weren't involved in the day-to-day operations of Palmetto State's business; is that correct?
A. He and Mike Brown were.
Q. Now, you had an accident in January.
A. February.
Q. February. I'm sorry. Is it correct that that required you to have numerous surgeries and be hospitalized for a long period of time?

298

A. Yes, sir.
Q. And during your recovery you actually spent more time at the 144 Riverpoint in Clemson than you did in Gaffney; correct?
A. To go to rehab, yes.
Q. Okay. Was Mike Brown there a good bit of the time in Clemson?
A. Always.
Q. Always.
A. Yes.
Q. Was he spending the night there?
A. He spent the night at the Towers, and he ate with us every meal.
Q. And would that have been from the time period of February of 2007 when you had that accident until August of '07 let's say?
A. September.
Q. September. He moved out in September?
A. Yes.
Q. Is that when he took over the company basically?
A. Yes.
Q. But your testimony is that for the majority of 2007 Mr. Brown was a constant figure in your life?

299

A. Yes, he was, every day.
Q. And was he there doing Palmetto State business?
A. Yes.
Q. Were you aware he was being paid at the same time?
A. I do remember him saying that he was going to be paid, yes.
Q. Did he leave –
A. And he mostly – he mostly did all the spreadsheets and did all – everything as far as the computer was concerned.
Q. When you say regarding the computer, was he familiar with the books of Palmetto State during that time, to your knowledge?
A. Yes, sir, he was.
Q. In fact, wouldn't they spread everything out on your dining room table and sit in there and figure out what they were going to do next?
A. Hours and hours and hours, yes. And Mike would be there without Lamar being there.
Q. And that was from February 2007 to September of 2007?
A. When I was there, yes.
Q. And it could have been before then because you were living in Gaffney; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. All right. Do you still have Exhibit 10?
A. Yes.

300

Q. Okay. If you'll look at what's marked Page 1, the check for $4,300.
A. Yes.
Q. You testified that you wrote that out, but Lamar signed it.
A. That's correct.
Q. All right. This money, did it go into a personal bank account of yours?
A. No, it did not.
Q. All right. And where it says Ascotech, did you write that?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. And Ascotech did business with J & P Enterprises?
A. A company from China.
Q. Okay. On the next page, a check for $2,000 you wrote J & P Enterprises, Inc.?
A. Yes.
Q. And on the back of that check it says, deposit only J & P Enterprises, Inc.?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. The next page, a $4,000 check, in the memo line did you write that out?
A. I did.
Q. Did this money have any benefit to you?
A. No, sir, because –

301

Q. Did you deposit and retain it?
A. I did not retain it. I got a certified check, and I tried to get a copy of the certified check from Palmetto Bank, but she told me the copy had either been lost or destroyed, from Lisa Harris.
Q. And on the next page, is that your writing indicating the source of the 2,500 and the 6,500 deposit?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. PAL.LLC, that means Palmetto State, LLC?
A. Yes.
Q. Page 6, did you fill out the memo line of that $6,500 check?
A. Yes.
Q. And it says, loan to J & P Enterprises?
A. That's correct.
Q. And at the bottom of that page, it says, deposited to J & P Enterprises' account?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. On the next page, you wrote – wait, is that your writing?
A. No. That's Melissa's writing.
Q. Melissa that worked with you?
A. Yes.
Q. And it says PALP. You believe that to mean Palmetto Properties?

302

A. Yes.
Q. And on Page 9, did you fill out the memo part of that check that says, China, Asco, Y-e-a, something and something else?
A. Yes. It was two different companies in China.
Q. All that did business with J & P Enterprises?
A. Yes.
Q. And on the back it was deposited into a J & P Enterprises account?
A. Yes.
Q. And then the next deposit slip, you testified that the LG was an indication for Lamar Greene?
A. Yes. I guess I did that because I felt like it was part of his company.
Q. And on Page 12, Check 1303, did you write in the memo line of that check "China"?
A. Yes.
Q. On Page 13, that's the Gaston Engineering check. If you look at Page 14, the account that was deposited in ends 9006. Was that Lamar's personal account at Palmetto Bank?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you receive any of the $17,500?
A. No, sir.
Q. Do you know what happened to the $17,500?
A. Like I said, he said he was paying a vendor in Columbia for doing work with his own personal check and to deposit it into his account, and all I remember was the Morgan & Bartos part. I don't remember the Gaston Engineering.

303

Q. And you thought Morgan & Bartos was the contractor at The Spur –
A. Yes.
Q. – in Columbia? On Page 15, did you fill out that deposit slip?
A. Yes.
Q. And did you write PAL State as the source of those funds?
A. Yes.
Q. And then on Page 17, Check 1322, the memo portion of that check, Ascotech, is that your writing?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. We'll stop there. Ms. Greene, you realize when you write a check you create a written record of something; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. All right. So if it was your intent to convert funds, why would you put in the memo portion exactly what it was going to?
A. I wouldn't.
Q. In fact, all the checks that we just looked at – I think you testified that it was put in the J & P books as a loan; is that correct?

304

A. Yes.
Q. To your knowledge, was there ever a demand from Palmetto State for repayment of that loan?
A. No, sir.
Q. As we sit here today, do you know if there's been a demand for that repayment?
A. No, sir.
Q. Have you been served any other lawsuit other than the one you're here testifying in today seeking repayment of these funds?
A. No, sir.
Q. So it was your intent on all the checks we just looked at in Exhibit 10 to credit that, so to speak, to Palmetto State; is that correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And that's why you wrote that on deposit slips, and that's why you filled out the memo portion of the checks as you did; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. Did you have any intent to hide what was going on?
A. No, sir. I had no reason.
Q. Were you just doing what you were told?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And all of the checks that we just looked at, did you receive any personal benefit from any of those moneys?

305

A. Never.
Q. Never went into your account?
A. No.
Q. Let's look at Page 20 of that same Exhibit 10. Here it is. In June of 2007, did you write this, "made payable to Clyde Turney Builder"?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Who instructed you to do that?
A. Lamar.
Q. And at that time you were living in Clemson; correct?
A. Yes.
Q. Was Mr. Brown living with you at that time?
A. He was there -- he was there all the time.
Q. He ever say anything about this check at that time?
A. No, sir.
Q. And then on Page 21, this check to J & P Security, it says "deposit to J & P Security." Did that -- what account did that get deposited into?
A. Into J & P Security's account.
Q. It didn't go into your personal account?
A. No, sir. It was for deposit only for J & P Security.
Q. Were you ever paid by J & P Security?
A. I have received checks from them, but not -- for doing some work at home, yes. Not a lot.
Q. Did you ever get paid for any J & P Security work on a condo project?

306

A. No, sir.
Q. And I think you testified earlier that you did invoicing for J & P Security?
A. Susan mainly did the invoicing when she was there, or Melissa. Sometimes I would help just according to how busy we were.
Q. I want to show you --
A. I did a lot of J & P Security invoicing, yes.
Q. All right. Well, let me show you what I represent to you is a stack of J & P Security invoices, and my question initially is, are you familiar with those documents?
A. I am.
Q. And, in fact, isn't that your handwriting on several of the first ones that says "not paid"?
A. Yes.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I'd move these in collectively as Defendants' 2.
(Thereupon, Defendants' Exhibit Number 2 was admitted into Evidence.)
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Ms. Greene, I'm going to hand you back what's now been marked as Defendants' Exhibit 2. And the first invoice -- and I'll represent to you there's three here made payable to the -- or billed to The Spur Homeowners' Association. Are you familiar with that entity?

307

A. I am.
Q. What is The Spur Homeowners' Association?
A. Well, this is before -- when all the homeowners were coming in for the ball games, they wanted security there because of people parking in their parking spaces, and they asked for security.
Q. Okay. So is it your testimony that --
A. That's what I was told.
Q. -- even after construction J & P Security was providing security services for the residents of The Spur?
A. Yes, sir, yes.
Q. And prior to that, if you look through Exhibit 2, there are invoices from J & P Security to Palmetto State Enterprises; is that correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And they're marked "paid"?
A. Yes.
Q. Would that be through the check in Exhibit 10?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You testified earlier that you dealt with a Lisa -- I forget the last name --
A. Harris.
Q. -- Harris at Palmetto Bank.
A. Yes, sir.

308

Q. And what was the substance of your dealings with her?
A. I called her to get the copy of this wire transfer that was made to Marble Works -- to the IRS from Marble Works.
Q. And is she the one that -- strike that.
A. I did have a copy of her e-mail, but --
Q. And so do I, somewhere.
MR. TALLEY: I'm sorry, Your Honor. I beg the Court's indulgence one second.
THE COURT: Yes, sir.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Is your understanding, based on the e-mail that you received, that the check had to be made payable to you in order for you to get the wire?
A. Yes.
Q. Is that why that check was made to you for $4,000?
A. Yes. Most banks require it to come from your bank, or they won't initiate a certified check or money order.
Q. You mentioned a gentleman named Tommy Biershank.
A. Yes, sir.
Q. How do you know Mr. Biershank?
A. He was managing J & P Security.
THE COURT: In case this hasn't already been spelled, can you spell Biershank for the record?
MR. TALLEY: Yes, sir. I'm sorry. On Exhibit 1, it's spelled, B-i-e-r-s-h-a-n-k.

309

THE WITNESS: That's correct.
THE COURT: Okay.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. And was Mr. Biershank involved with J & P Security at the time J & P Security was doing work for Palmetto State's --
A. Yes.
Q. -- properties?
A. Yes.
Q. So you would expect to see checks to Mr. Biershank from Palmetto State?
A. He was paid through -- he was paid through J & P Enterprises.
Q. Okay. Was he also doing work at The Spur?
A. He would be there some, I think. I'm not sure.
Q. Did he coordinate the --
A. Staff.
Q. -- people that would be on the site to do the work?
A. Yes.
Q. And when you say he was paid through J & P, did J & P Security do other security work besides Palmetto State's businesses?
A. Yes, they did. He was paid through J & P Security, yes.
Q. Okay. And part of his work would have been on The Spur?

310

A. Yes.
Q. Did you ever go to The Spur site before it was built in Columbia?
A. Yes -- no, not -- after it was under construction.
Q. Okay. So you never saw the raw land --
A. No.
Q. -- before construction began? Okay.
When Lamar and Rich and Ron would go on their Palmetto State trips, did you ever go?
A. No, sir.
Q. When Lamar would drive to Tuscaloosa or Blacksburg to visit these sites, how many times do you anticipate you -- how many times would you say you went with him on those trips?
A. I only went one time to Blacksburg, and that was on the way back from a ball game.
Q. Did you ever go to Tuscaloosa?
A. I went for the opening ceremony, and I went to one ball game.
Q. In Tuscaloosa?
A. Yes.
Q. And --
A. But I think that was at the time that I went to the ball game as well. Once.
Q. One trip?
A. Yes, sir.

311

Q. Okay. So -- all right.
During your time of employment with J & P Enterprises, who was in charge?
A. Lamar and Jeff.
Q. If you needed any type of approval on these wires we've talked about, who would that come from?
A. They were always -- the wire transfers were always made up by them in a meeting to determine what they needed with the stock clerk and the manager and Jeff and Lamar.
Q. Was that ever a decision you made individually?
A. And salesmen.
Q. Was that ever a decision you made individually?
A. To make the wire transfers?
Q. Right.
A. No, sir.
Q. What do you recall about the beginnings of Palmetto State Enterprises? Were you ever part of any discussions before this entity was launched?
A. No, sir.
Q. Do you know what the initial source of funds was for Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. I don't -- I don't know. I think they -- I think they borrowed money.
Q. And would that have been to build the project in Columbia initially?

312

A. Yes, sir.
Q. Prior to that, do you have any knowledge of personal funds Lamar put into the company?
A. I'm not sure, but I think there may have been, yes.
Q. Do you know what those funds would have been used for?
A. I'm not sure if his – I know that he – he cashed into life insurance policies, and I'm sure he used that cash value.
Q. Do you know when he did that?
A. I don't.
Q. Do you know –
A. And I don't know – I know we had a condo at Hilton Head that was sold, but I don't know where those funds – it went to some project.
Q. When did you sell the condo in Hilton Head?
A. I cannot give you a year.
Q. I'm sorry. What was your answer?
A. I cannot give you a year that that was sold.
Q. Do you know what the cash value of the life insurance was at the time it was cashed in?
A. I cannot tell you because I didn't see it.
Q. Okay. Would that have been something that went into his personal account?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you know a gentleman named Al Bell?
A. Yes, sir.

313

Q. How do you know Mr. Bell?
A. I met him once at the house, and then he came to the hospital.
Q. While you were in the hospital after your accident?
A. No. He came to see Lamar when he was in the hospital.
Q. When he was in the hospital after his heart surgery?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Do you remember when you met him at the house?
A. He just came by, but it was just a hello.
Q. Do you know if he was involved in any way with Palmetto State's business?
A. I don't know that.
Q. Do you have knowledge of any moneys that Lamar may have paid him personally for his work with Palmetto State?
A. I think on the spreadsheet there was some – there were some checks to Al Bell. I'm not sure.
Q. And were those checks that were written from Palmetto State, or were they checks that Lamar had personally invested into the company?
A. I don't know that.
Q. Do you recall in doing the spreadsheet what – what moneys you showed that Lamar had personally invested into the company?
A. It's been so long I don't remember.
Q. Were there moneys shown that he had personally invested?

314

A. I think so.
Q. Do you remember the dollar value of that?
A. No, sir.
Q. Do you remember what it was for?
A. No, sir.
MR. TALLEY: Sorry, Your Honor.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Do you know when Mr. Greene started drawing a salary from Palmetto State?
A. I don't know the date, but I know that he said it was discussed with Rich and Ron that he should be paid for all the travel and time that he spent in the company.
Q. So is it your understanding that at the time that discussion took place he had already been traveling and doing company business?
A. Without pay, yes.
Q. Do you know when he started this Palmetto State vision the year?
A. I don't know the year, no, I don't.
Q. But it's your understanding that there was work that had been done prior to him being paid anything from Palmetto State?
A. Yes.
Q. How many months do you think that was?

315

A. Probably a lot. I just don't remember.
Q. About a year?
A. At least.
Q. Was he on the road a lot during that time?
A. All the time.
Q. And what was he doing, to your knowledge, at that point?
A. Trying to line things up.
Q. Looking for land?
A. Looking for land. He really had a vision for things like that.
Q. When the contract was put on the land in Columbia, did you know about that?
A. No, sir.
Q. Do you know if a loan had been taken out at the time that land was put under contract?
A. I didn't know anything about the financial part of any of Palmetto State.
Q. All right. Did you ever see any of Lamar's personal bank statements?
A. Maybe once in a while, yes.
Q. Do you know where his personal bank account was?
A. He had one at Palmetto, and he – at First Citizens at one time.
Q. I want to show you a check, Ms. Greene, and ask if you recognize this Check Number 879 drawn on a Palmetto bank account. Have you ever seen that before?

316

A. No, sir.
Q. You haven't seen it?
A. No, sir.
Q. Okay. I want to show you this check, Check 1003, made to Al Bell. Have you ever seen that check before?
A. No, sir.
Q. Is that your writing right above the check?
A. This was something to do – yeah, it is a personal check, but I don't remember – I don't know why I was asked to do that.
Q. And is this your writing under this other check?
A. Yeah, company paid check – paid personal check. I don't remember these, but that is my writing there.
Q. Okay. And do you recall, looking at that document, what those notes you made would have been for?
A. I don't – I don't know. I don't know their relationship, and I don't know – maybe this is something he asked me to do when all these things came about, that he had paid personal checks – he pulled these out to show me. I don't know.
Q. And what – where you've written "paid personal check," what was that going to pay?
A. Now, I don't know that.

317

Q. Who's that check –
A. He paid Al Bell a personal check –
MR. PRICE: Your Honor –
THE WITNESS: – and I don't know if Al Bell –
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, objection.
THE COURT: Hold on, ma'am. Ma'am, let them –
MR. PRICE: I think it's well-established she has no personal knowledge of the exhibit. There's been a whole lot –
THE COURT: I gave you a little more leeway, so I gave him a little more leeway.
MR. TALLEY: As to that, Your Honor, I would just state she's identified her handwriting on the document. She can use that to refresh her recollection.
THE COURT: Okay. And if she can refresh her recollection with that, that's appropriate.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. So, looking at that document and seeing those checks, does that refresh your recollection as to what that might be?
A. I don't know. I don't know, unless this was something that he was going to take to Mr. Olson's office showing that he had paid Al Bell for – I don't know what Al Bell did.
Q. Okay. When you – when you were doing the spreadsheet you referenced earlier, did that involve compiling a lot of checks and making copies of documents?
A. It did. But I think it was mostly from a 318

Palmetto State –
Q. Okay.
A. – account.
Q. And this –
A. I'm not sure about this.
Q. This is a Palmetto State check for $10,000.
A. Okay. And this is a personal check.
Q. For how much?
A. 83,000.
Q. And they're both made to Al Bell?
A. Yes.
Q. So you think that's something you just compiled because Lamar asked you to?
A. Evidently, Al did something for The Spur, because I don't think he would have sent Lamar back a letter.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I object. Now we're just backdooring in the substance of the exhibit that we can't authenticate.
THE COURT: If she doesn't recall, then move on.
MR. TALLEY: All right.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Do you recall, looking at that and what you were just saying about the substance of that letter, what those payments would have represented?
A. I don't.

319

Q. Okay.
MR. TALLEY: No further questions.
THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?
MR. HUNT: If it please the Court, Your Honor.
EXAMINATION BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Mrs. Greene, I'm going to show you one of a series of checks.
MR. HUNT: I showed you this yesterday.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, we're about to attempt to discuss evidence that Ms. Greene just testified having no personal knowledge to.
THE COURT: Well, let me see where Mr. Hunt's heading with it.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. I'll show you a check numbered 879 on there, the one for $40,000.
A. William Taylor; is that correct?
Q. Yes, ma'am. And what does it say at the bottom of that?
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, we're backdooring in the –
THE WITNESS: Columbia –
MR. PRICE: – substance of the check.
THE COURT: Hold on please, ma'am.
MR. PRICE: We're – he's attempting to backdoor in the substance of an exhibit that can't be authenticated.

320

MR. HUNT: Your Honor, she --
THE COURT: All right. Let me point out to both of you all, I don't have a clue what the document is. So I am at a great disadvantage by not knowing what you all are arguing over. So do you have a copy for the Court?
MR. HUNT: Yes, Your Honor. I'm sorry. I apologize.
THE COURT: Thank you.
MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.
THE COURT: All right. And which check are you referring to?
MR. HUNT: The one for $40,000. I think it's 879, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Okay. If she has any personal knowledge, then she has the right to testify about it.
MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. What is that -- you -- I think I heard you testify that the Palmetto Bank was what your husband used as his personal account; is that not right?
A. Yes.
Q. And, as you look at that check, it's made out for how much?
A. $40,000.
Q. And to whom is it made?
A. William Taylor.

321

Q. Yes, ma'am. And what does it say in the memo line?
A. "Columbia property."
Q. And what else does it say on there?
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I object. He still hasn't asked her whether she has personal knowledge. When Mr. Talley asked her that, she said she didn't know what it was for.
THE COURT: I think there does have to be some foundation laid if you're attempting to introduce this check.
MR. HUNT: Well, Your Honor, the foundation -- the only -- he's deceased and she was his wife. The foundation I'm trying to lay is -- since I don't have anything else to do -- I don't have any other way by which I can get it authenticated -- is to -- that she knew his signature, she knew -- and she knew that was his banking account, et cetera.
THE COURT: If she knows the purpose of this check, then it is relevant. If she does not know the purpose of the check, then I sustain the objection.
THE WITNESS: It says "Columbia property," but I can't read what's under it. I can't make that out. It's so tiny, I can't make that out.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Well, let me ask you this: Was this about the time when Mr. Greene was getting started into the business with Palmetto State?
A. What's the date on that check?

322

Q. This check was dated August 30th of 2004.
A. That's a possibility, yes.
Q. And is that -- can you decipher down there what that -- one of the words on there is --
MR. PRICE: Same objection, Your Honor. We can either --
THE COURT: If she can identify it, she can testify, but you can't suggest to her what this is for or what the writing is.
MR. HUNT: Thank you, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Ms. Greene, do you have any idea what check 879 is for?
THE WITNESS: I don't.
THE COURT: Okay. That's fine.
THE WITNESS: Just what I see, "Columbia property."
THE COURT: All right. Thank you, ma'am.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Did your husband -- did your husband purchase any Columbia property in 2004?
A. I don't know if he made a down payment or something. I don't know that.
Q. But did he -- did he have any other property in Columbia, South Carolina, other than The Spur?
A. I don't know if he did. No, I don't know.
Q. Do -- all right.

323

A. I don't think so.
Q. Okay. You do not think so. And that's your opinion?
A. That's right.
Q. All right. So if there's a check that was made payable in 2004 for Columbia property which might very well -- in your opinion, could that have been the down payment for The Spur?
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, that's a question involving something that's not even in evidence.
MR. HUNT: Well, that's why I'm trying to get it in evidence, Your Honor.
MR. PRICE: You're speculating --
THE COURT: It seems like you're kind of trying to do an end run around in asking her things that she says she doesn't know.
MR. HUNT: And I understand, Your Honor. I'm -- I'm here, Your Honor --
THE COURT: I know. We're seeking truth and justice and all that. If you have any more questions, ask them and let's move on.
MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Did he buy any other -- did he buy -- again, my question, did he buy any other property in Columbia, South Carolina?
A. Not to my knowledge.

324

Q. All right.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I'd offer again that this check is a -- is a -- is part of --
THE COURT: You may proffer it, but there's no foundation for it to come in.
MR. HUNT: All right. That's what -- I will proffer it.
THE COURT: Yes, if you'll mark it as a proffer, please, ma'am.
(Thereupon, Estate's Exhibit Number 2 was marked for identification.)
THE COURT: And, for the record, she doesn't know what it's for, so I just think it is not an appropriate piece of evidence for the Court to consider. But certainly for appeal purposes -- the appellate court may view it different. So that's why it's being proffered.
MR. HUNT: Thank you.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. HUNT:
Q. I think I heard you testify a while ago that Mr. Brown came into the LLC -- the management of the company in early 2007; is that not right?
A. I'm not sure about the year, but I know that I was told that Rich Rodriguez sent him into --
Q. Right.
A. -- the LLC.

325

Q. Do you recall, and I heard you testify to the fact, there was lots of work that was done around your dining room table there in Clemson; is that not right?
A. Every day.
Q. Every day.
A. Every day that I was there when I was sick, yes.
Q. And did you -- did you ever see evidence of the books and the journals and those sorts of things of this business spread out around the table?
A. I did see them spread out, yes.
Q. Checks and --
A. I didn't look in there because I was never -- I couldn't walk. I was in a wheelchair and on a walker.
Q. So you don't know whether they were looking at checks or books of deposit or anything -- any of those things?
A. No, sir.
Q. But you did know they were trying to create -- they were trying to and did create The Spur down in Carolina and then the other condominium at -- over in Tuscaloosa; is that not right?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And there was a lot of work involved in these businesses, were there not?
A. Evidently, yes, yes, sir.
Q. And do you remember when he -- did you ever -- were you ever told when his compensation would start from this LLC?

326

A. No. It had already started when he told me.
Q. He had already -- but was he --
A. He had already -- he said that they discussed it, Ron and Rich, because he was traveling so much and always on the road.
Q. Right. And so he -- and so he started -- was -- do you know whether or not he was to receive compensation from the onset of the LLC or from another date? Do you know?
A. I don't know that. I don't know that. I cannot honestly answer that.
Q. With all these checks made to -- from Palmetto to J & P --
A. Yes, sir.
Q. -- and from other transactions, the point was made a while ago that they were, in fact, made by check, were they not?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you receive sums of cash from Palmetto --
A. No, sir.
Q. -- to J & P?
A. No, sir.
Q. So there was a clear -- there was a pretty clearly marked record, was there not?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And most everything you did and the things that you worked with there was a record thereof, was there not?

327

A. Yes, there was.
Q. There's a Plaintiff's Exhibit Number 1. I think you have a copy of it there.
A. Right here.
Q. I'd like to ask you some questions about some of the things on there. The first series, Numbers 11 -- Page 1, and we've got it indicated as Number 11, 12, through -- probably like -- there's several individuals there called "labor on The Spur." Do you know anything about that labor expended on The Spur?
A. No, sir.
Q. Down on number -- do you recall during this period of time in early 2005 -- had -- do you know whether or not the property in Columbia had been put under contract, purchased, or anything of the sort?
A. I don't.
Q. Do you remember when the property in Columbia was, in fact, purchased?
A. I do not.
MR. HUNT: I don't think I have any further questions.
THE COURT: Any other questions?
MR. PRICE: Yes, Your Honor, brief redirect.
REEXAMINATION BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Ms. Greene, earlier you testified that you don't think that there was ever a demand for repayment made to J & P Enterprises. Do you remember that?

328

A. Yes.
Q. What do you think this lawsuit is?
A. I haven't heard a demand for payment.
Q. Okay. In terms of seeing Mike Brown and Lamar Greene and whoever working around the dining room table, do you have specific knowledge what Mike Brown had access to in terms of bank records or books or things like that?
A. Everything, I would assume.
Q. You're assuming. Do you know that to be the case?
A. Everything was in there.
Q. What was everything?
A. The file cabinet, bank statements.
Q. How do you know what was in the file cabinet?
A. Because I was asked to put something in there once, and he had it in order.
Q. So you had access to the bank records.
A. I could have if I'd have wanted to, but at the time I was not able to do anything. I was in a wheelchair.
Q. Yes, ma'am. I'm trying to figure out what you -- whether or not you know exactly what Mike Brown had access to in terms of reviewing the books of Palmetto State.
A. Mike had bank statements on the table.
Q. How do you know that? Did you see them?

329

A. I had to go out the front door.
Q. But you just told Mr. Hunt that you never saw what they were looking at on the dining room table.
A. Well, you could see things like bank statements, folders, envelopes, checkbooks.
Q. Okay. You testified that Lamar Greene kept a lot of things from you while he was alive.
A. Yes, he did.
Q. Okay. Is it possible that Lamar Greene kept a lot of things from Mike Brown while Mike Brown was alive?
A. I don't know that.
Q. Is it possible?
A. I don't know that. I can't agree with you because I don't know that.
Q. Okay. But you do know that Mr. Greene kept a lot of things from his own wife.
A. Yes.
Q. Mr. Jeff Greene testified yesterday that he kept a lot of things from him.
MR. HUNT: Your Honor, he's pitting witnesses right now. I think that's improper.
MR. PRICE: I didn't pit a witness.
MR. HUNT: You certainly did. You said Jeff Greene.
THE COURT: I don't think you can raise an objection. I think that would be Mr. Talley's objection.

330

MR. TALLEY: Same objection.
MR. PRICE: I'll --
THE COURT: Let's move on.
MR. PRICE: -- move on.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Regarding Defendants' Exhibit 2 -- where is that? No, ma'am. The one Mr. Talley showed you.
THE COURT: For the record, that's Defendants' Exhibit 2?
MR. PRICE: Yes, sir, Defendants' Exhibit 2.
REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. These invoices at the top of this exhibit where you wrote "not paid," who are those invoices actually made to?
A. The homeowners' association at The Spur.
Q. The Spur Homeowners' Association?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Care of who?
A. In care of Landmark Resources.
Q. Do you know who Landmark Resources was?
A. I do not. I think they were handling the funds probably for the homeowners' association.
Q. Okay. That gets to my next point. So do you know whether there was a separate homeowners' association completely apart from Palmetto State Enterprises?
A. I don't know that.

331

Q. All right. Did you at any point do spreadsheets or manage the funds into the homeowners' association?
A. When the moneys first started coming in, the moneys were deposited into a First Citizens account.
Q. And you kept track of that?
A. I -- I don't think I did. I think Lamar did.
Q. Okay. But you do think that Landmark Resources was keeping track of the homeowners' association for The Spur at the point you wrote "not paid" on those invoices?
A. Yes, evidently.
Q. And those invoices were made out to some entity called The Spur Homeowners' Association, not to Palmetto State Enterprises; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. And is it fair to assume that there was some reason that they were done that way?
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I would object to the line of questioning. The exhibit was produced because in plaintiff's case they challenged the validity of J & P Security. I questioned her solely about it providing other security services outside of the work of Palmetto State properties.
THE COURT: How is this proper on redirect then?
MR. PRICE: I've never questioned the legitimacy of J & P Security. I've questioned whether J & P Security provided services to Palmetto State. And my understanding was -- maybe I misunderstood the exhibit. If it's being conceded by the Defendant that J & P Security at a minimum provided services to other entities than Palmetto State, I'll move on.

332

THE COURT: You can – let's move on with this witness then.

REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:

Q. The $4,000 check made to you to get a certified check to pay taxes in connection with Marble Works –

A. Yes, sir.

Q. – were those taxes – was that Mr. Greene's personal tax liability in connection with Marble Works?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Did you and Mr. Greene file your taxes jointly?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. So his tax liability was your tax liability; correct?

A. This was – this was a company. I would not consider his tax liability with Marble Works, because I had nothing to do with that, my liability, no.

Q. But that was a liability that Lamar Greene held because of Marble Works; correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And if Lamar Greene had a personal tax liability and you filed jointly with Lamar Greene, then you have that tax liability as well, do you not?

333

MR. HUNT: Your Honor –

THE WITNESS: I say not.

MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I object. There's no foundation laid. I don't know whether Marble Works was a Sub C, Sub S, what it was.

THE COURT: Gentlemen, we need to move on. We are so far down in the weeds. We need to move on. If you'll repeat or rephrase the question, please.

REEXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:

Q. I just want to know how a check that was written to you to get a certified check to pay Lamar Greene's personal tax liability when you were his wife and you filed jointly with him – how that check did not also benefit you?

A. The check did not benefit me. I don't think the check benefited me. This was to pay a liability that he owed himself along with Jamie Hazelton.

Q. J & P Enterprises was your primary source of income; correct?

A. Yes. I worked there.

Q. It was also Lamar Greene's primary source of income?

A. Yes.

Q. Lamar Greene paid your bills; correct?

A. I paid my own bills.

Q. Who paid the mortgages on your house in Gaffney and your house in Clemson?

334

A. Lamar.

Q. Who paid the power bill?

A. Lamar.

Q. Who paid the water?

A. Lamar.

Q. Who paid the gas?

A. Lamar.

Q. Who paid your car payment?

A. Lamar.

Q. Who paid your car insurance?

A. Lamar.

Q. Okay. So, to the extent that Lamar Greene used funds that he misappropriated from Palmetto State to pay those bills, it benefited you, did it not?

A. To pay what bills, a house payment?

Q. Any personal expenses of Lamar Greene.

A. He didn't pay house payments through Palmetto State.

Q. How do you know?

A. I know that.

Q. How?

A. Because there's no checks in the file showing that, unless there's something I haven't seen.

Q. Did Tommy Biershank do work for Lamar Greene other than at The Spur?

A. Yes.

335

Q. When you were doing that spreadsheet and listed a check for Tommy Biershank, were you able to find any documentation supporting what that work was for?

A. Security work.

Q. Where?

A. For all – you mean where the – where the security work was handled?

Q. Yes, ma'am.

A. Different places.

Q. Okay. Do you know who a man named Ike Morris is?

A. Mike Morris?

Q. Ike, like Ike Eisenhower?

A. I don't.

Q. You don't know who Ike Morris is?

A. No, sir.

MR. PRICE: Thank you, ma'am. No further questions.

THE COURT: Any other brief questions?

MR. TALLEY: No, sir.

THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?

MR. HUNT: None, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Let me – I have a question. On the Gaffney house where you and Mr. Greene lived, how is that house titled?

THE WITNESS: It's in mine and his name –

THE COURT: Okay.

336

THE WITNESS: – at the courthouse.
THE COURT: Okay.
THE WITNESS: I hold the mortgage.
THE COURT: All right. Thank you, ma'am. You can step down.
THE WITNESS: Thank you.
THE COURT: Anything else from Plaintiff?
MR. PRICE: None, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. You can go have a seat. Be careful of that step down, okay.
MR. TALLEY: May the witness be excused?
THE COURT: Any objection?
MR. PRICE: None, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Mr. Hunt, any objection?
MR. HUNT: None, Your Honor.
THE COURT: All right. Thank you so much, ma'am. Mr. Talley, any witnesses?
MR. TALLEY: Yes, sir.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, can we recess for five minutes?
THE COURT: Well, let me see what the lay of the land is.
MR. TALLEY: Yeah, that's – I just wanted to talk with Mr. Hunt and see if we can't potentially consolidate –
THE COURT: We'll start back at 11:30 and move quickly whatever we do from here on out. Thank you.

337

(Brief recess.)
THE COURT: All right, Mr. Talley.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I understand that the Plaintiff has closed his case. I'd like to move to dismiss the conversion cause of action, which as I understand from prior orders issued in this case, both before and after your involvement, as to my two clients, J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas and Julee Greene, on plaintiff's amended complaint – we're basically dealing with the fourth cause of action, which is for conversion, against Defendant Lamar Greene and/or Julee Greene, and then the seventh cause of action, which was initially termed as a fraud cause of action against Lamar Greene, J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, and Julee Greene.
However, if – I believe it was Judge Dennis in his order – when counsel and I argued some motions before him back before the holidays, counsel stated, and it's captured in Judge Dennis' order, that he termed that a conversion cause of action as well. My motion was it didn't meet the elements required for completing a fraud cause of action. So it's my understanding that the causes of action against my clients are both really a conversion cause of action.
Your Honor, obviously there's been a lot of evidence. There's been a lot of testimony given. I would cite to Your Honor the case of Mullis v. Trident Emergency Physicians.

That's a 2002 South Carolina Court of Appeals case where it says, "Conversion is defined as the unauthorized assumption and exercise of the rights of ownership over goods or personal chattel belonging to another to the alteration of their condition or to the exclusion of the rights of the owner."
You know, I would say at the outset – and Your Honor's well aware that conversion is a pretty strong cause of action from a civil standpoint – the minimal element required I think Plaintiff has failed to prove in both respects. The testimony offered in plaintiff's case is that all of the claims for improper payments to J & P Enterprises are in the form of checks, and Ms. Greene just testified that when she would fill out the memo line of those checks there was no intent to deceive. There was nothing to hide. It was clearly identified in the check and also in the deposit slip where the funds were coming from. She also testified that those – those moneys were put on the books of J & P Enterprises as a loan from officer.
Now, I realize I may be about to argue against myself, but if this was a default on a promissory note or a default on a loan payment or a collection action – I may be in a totally different realm at this point, but it's a conversion cause of action against the company. Even Mr. Greene, every check written or every dollar transferred from Palmetto State to J & P Enterprises is captured in a writing where there is a record.

Ms. Greene testified that Mr. Brown was present almost daily for a period of months and had access to all of this information, which goes back to what we brought up before about why he became so concerned all of a sudden late in 2007 the very month he had received $16,000 from this same company.
So when you look at the elements for conversion, was there an interest by the plaintiff in the thing converted. Well, I think it's clear that everybody has testified that these were funds that originated from Palmetto State Enterprises. The key in that is was it actually converted.
Second is the defendant converted the property to his own use. In respect to Ms. Greene, her testimony is very clear, there is absolutely no evidence in the record, that any of that money went into her personal bank account, that she of her own volition wrote any of those checks, made any of those transfers, that if anybody benefited from it, if anybody took the mens rea component, let's say, that's required for that, it was Mr. Greene, not her. She didn't even know who the builder was when asked about the check that she endorsed on the back or what project that builder was on.
And, lastly, that the use was without plaintiff's permission. Now, there's been no testimony offered to dispute the fact that at all times when these – these transactions were taking place Mr. Greene was the manager of the company. He had the authority to act. The other two, Mr. West, Mr. Rodriguez, and even Mr. Greene while he didn't even know he was a member, were not involved in the day-to-day bookkeeping, anything of that nature. So from the standpoint of a manager acting and if it was intended to be a loan properly documenting what the source -- or what those funds were going to be used for, that's exactly what happened.

We've pointed out and the record reflects that there are other loans to Mr. West for $5,400 -- the check's in Exhibit 1 -- that there were other payments made for benefits of the other members the 1100 Club at West Virginia and things of that nature that the manager now is not questioning. He's not out there seeking repayment for those loans that had zero to do with company business and went to the benefit of somebody else. He's trying to put all of this on J & P Enterprises, the Estate, and Julee Greene.

You heard testimony about the events that take place on a Monday. In the record is a billing statement from Leatherwood Firm in Greenville that shows there was company business being transacted on Monday. Mr. Brown's testimony as to how he put the spreadsheets captured in Exhibits 1 and 2 and the other bank records together is, I don't know, but I knew he went to Gastonia on Monday, so if I saw it on a Monday I put it in here. But it's clear that you just can't paint with that broad a brush and make that allegation and then say that anything that happened on a Monday was a conversion of funds.

I point out specifically in Exhibit 2, which the lion's share, especially on Page 2, are what appear to be gasoline charges at gas stations, what appear to be meals -- if you look at the records attached, the supporting documentation, it doesn't say where the gas stations were. It doesn't exactly identify where the restaurants were. His testimony was that Ms. Greene personally benefited because she was riding in the car that the gas was used for, that she was on all these meals together. She testified that she went on two trips. So Exhibit 2 is nothing more than guesswork as well, and his response at that point was, I didn't have a receipt, so I put it on the spreadsheet. But yet we're coming in claiming that there's a conversion cause of action for all of these things.

There are other examples I could go through, but just briefly, in Exhibit 1, Your Honor, they question the payment to my law firm. The evidence is clear that there was work performed. There were trips taken at the request of the manager as deals were trying to be put together in other states. He had no clue about that.

The cash -- there's $22,000 in cash identified on Exhibit 6. His testimony, I put in quotes, was he has no idea where it went or what it was used for, but since we don't know let's say it was all converted and charge it back to the Defendants.

As to the individuals listed and payments made,

Your Honor, this -- the case has been going on six years. We could have had witnesses subpoenaed to support the allegations they've made. It didn't happen. We could have had witnesses that they think were improperly paid deposed. It didn't happen.

Al Bell, another example there. The evidence is that Mr. Bell was very involved in doing initial consultation, even met with the manager at the time and the attorneys trying to put a deal together. But they now question the payments to him which went on over a great period of time, even personal funds that were used for that. Mr. Hunt pointed out, where's the action against Mr. Bell or where's Mr. Bell today? If they believe so strongly that this man was paid six figures too much, where is he? They don't have the evidence. It's all guesswork.

I just think, Your Honor, that when you make a conversion cause of action it is a -- it is obviously the plaintiff's burden. But to show that there was intent to, quote, defraud or to deceive, but then base all of that on very clear written records documented properly, keyed in as they should be, I just don't know where that conversion comes from.

THE COURT: Well, are you saying that if there's a paper trail then conversion cannot exist?

MR. TALLEY: No, sir, I'm not saying that. But what I'm saying is on -- in specific to J & P Enterprises, every check that's written to J & P Enterprises is either -- clearly says J & P Enterprises and on most of them in the bottom portion says it's a loan, and the testimony from the bookkeeper of the entity is that's how they put it into their system. Her exact testimony was, I expected Lamar to pay this back.

And that's why I say I realize I might be arguing against myself. But if there was a collection action brought by the entity for $150,000, that's one thing. They haven't done that. There's been no demand letter sent. There's no demand letter in evidence. There's no other suit filed seeking repayment of this loan. Let's just say it's a conversion cause of action; that they intended to deprive of us of that money, but there's no testimony to show that happened.

So I understand what Your Honor's saying, but my point is this: I don't know that if somebody was trying to convert money they would do it in as many writings as it's been done here.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Price, let me hear from you.

MR. PRICE: Well, Your Honor, I think Mr. Talley's adding a fourth element to the tort of conversion. The elements are an interest by the plaintiff in the thing converted. That's indisputable. The Defendant converted the property to its own use. That's indisputable. And the use was without the plaintiff's permission. That, based on the testimony of the current manager and the testimony of Ron West, who was a member the entire time, that's not really disputed. I think there's more than enough evidence to find that the use was without the plaintiff's permission.

If Your Honor finds that because Lamar Greene was the manager he could use these funds for anything having to do with himself and that he could solely confer permission to use those LLC funds for that, then what Your Honor's finding is that there could never be a cause of action for conversion against the manager of an LLC if he misappropriates LLC funds.

So this whole question of intent -- you asked, does it mean if there's a paper trail there can't be conversion, and I think I would go a step further and say the intent to deceive is not an element of conversion. What I would say is that, you know, it's hard to argue, well, there was no intent to permanently deprive, because we have payments to J & P Enterprises that go back to 2005. This is 2013, and the loan hasn't been repaid. So my question would be, how many years after the fact do we have to get before we can infer that there's an intent to permanently deprive?

The other thing, I would go back to the documentation, and, you know, it goes back to this whole question of mens rea. This is a civil case. This isn't a criminal case. And the plaintiff does have the burden, but the plaintiff doesn't have the burden beyond a reasonable doubt. The plaintiff has a burden by a preponderance of the evidence. And what the Plaintiff has shown you is countless expenditures that uncontrovertedly had nothing to do with Palmetto State business. Mr. Greene, before he passed away, testified that many of these things were personal. He didn't claim it as income. And then we have other ones that, you know, there's no question that it was for personal use. We have countless instances where the documentation does exist and appears to have been intentionally made to appear that it was legitimate when it was not, such as checks to Tom James Engineer when Tom James is a clothier that comes to the office and measures you for a suit.

And so how many of these charges do you have to have before you're entitled to assume that these undocumented charges were also converted? And, by that, I mean the preponderance of the evidence is more likely than not. So how many obvious misappropriations -- how many obvious attempts to deceive about the documentation of your misappropriation do there have to be before Plaintiff can rightly infer that these other undocumented expenditures were also a misappropriation or were more likely than not a misappropriation, which is the burden of proof here?

And so, you know, to the extent we're arguing a directed verdict, I think there's more than enough evidence that there was a conversion. I would submit that based on the evidence we've heard there's enough to submit an oral amendment to add a cause of action for civil conspiracy. But it is clear that there was concerted action by Mr. Greene to convert these funds to his personal use, that Ms. Greene allowed herself to be his instrumentality in that conversion on more than one instance, that she benefited globally from the conversion -- she was living the high life like Mr. Greene -- and that J & P Enterprises received money into its coffers every time it didn't have enough to operate its business, and that the money's never been repaid. It's been converted and thus far has been permanently deprived.

THE COURT: Mr. Hunt, any motions on behalf of the Estate?

MR. HUNT: Yes, sir, Your Honor.

Your Honor, I understand this mindset of the preponderance of the evidence, but I have a real problem with putting the -- with throwing as much up against the wall to see what sticks, and that's what I think Plaintiff has done. It offends me -- it offends me that --

THE COURT: What --

MR. HUNT: -- there's $100,000 --

THE COURT: Let me hear your motion. We're not in final arguments. If you have a motion for directed verdict --

MR. HUNT: Yes, sir, I do.

THE COURT: -- briefly state it for the record --

MR. HUNT: I do.

THE COURT: -- and I'm going to rule on it.

MR. HUNT: I do, because, Your Honor, I think they had a -- have a stronger burden than just having the current manager sit on the stand and say, we didn't have the receipt for this, so that's it. We have $100,000 on here, and about contemporaneous with that getting of that $100,000 was when the property in Columbia was purchased. There's no -- they didn't -- they didn't do a very good job of figuring it out.

If Al -- if you have this other guy in here, Al Bell, why wasn't he brought in? Why wasn't there an action -- there's more than just saying, we don't have receipts. We know he converted something, so all the rest of this stuff, we're just going to throw it all up there, and hopefully the Court will let it stick. And, Your Honor, I just find that that's wrong.

I think the conversion cause of action should be dismissed. I think that those things that they could have done -- those things that this Plaintiff could have done differently, to bring people in here to put them on the stand, did you go to Columbia to do this, you didn't, rather than just saying, we don't have any record of it. He was the manager. And I think the Plaintiff has the burden, and I think the Plaintiff has failed to meet its burden certainly as to the conversion.

But I certainly do think that as to a lot of this -- a lot of these things, and we cross-examined him, especially on the $100,000, the Al Bell business, we got an invoice from Leatherwood, all those things, I submit they should be -- the -- they don't prevail in that. They certainly don't prevail in their conversion portion of it. Then, also, the fact that he had 70,000 more dollars. He started working on this -- on this project in '04. He started -- he didn't start getting his salary until much later on. He was supposed to be getting $10,000 a month.

So, Your Honor, it's -- Plaintiff had the burden of not just putting the current manager on the stand and say, oh, well, we couldn't find the record and he didn't go on Mondays, so we knew he went to Gaffney -- I mean, Gastonia on Monday, so we're going to charge it. That's unfair. And that's -- and I know that Mr. Greene did do some things. He -- in his deposition he admitted he took some of those things to his own use, but some of these other things in here are certainly -- they're colorable -- it is colorable that they were, in fact, used for the ongoing of this enterprise.

THE COURT: All right. Thank you. I'm going to deny the motions. You can call your witness.

MR. TALLEY: I call Jeff Greene to the stand.

THE COURT: All right. If you can come round, please, sir. I'll just remind you you're still --

THE WITNESS: Still under oath?

THE COURT: -- under oath. Yes, sir.

EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:

Q. Mr. Greene, to your knowledge, when did the work of the LLC start?

349

A. The work of the LLC identifying the project for Columbia started soon into '05.

Q. In 2005?

A. The construction loan was taken out in -- the construction loan would have been taken out in '06, so I think it's '05 or '04.

Q. I'll submit to you that the construction loan was taken out in the summer of 2005.

A. If the construction loan was taken out in the summer of 2005, then the work in Columbia would have started in the beginning of 2004.

Q. What was done, to your knowledge, prior to the construction loan being taken out?

A. Prior to the construction loan -- in these projects, from my experience in the ones that we did, that 80 percent of the work is done before you take the construction loan out. Once you take the construction loan out, then it gets a lot easier. So prior to the construction loan being taken, there would have had -- there would have been the vision to build the project. There would have been time and effort into identifying the proper spot. There would have been time and effort put into marketing, time and effort into design, working with builders, working with cost, working with an architect, all of those things before -- anything that goes through zoning to get the property aligned so that you can build the structure that you want, all of that's done prior to the construction loan being taken out.

Q. Do you recall what the entity source of funds were prior to the construction loan?

A. I'm not sure of the entity before that, but as I worked with my father there he just made mention that at that particular time he was putting in the time and the effort and the money to make that go.

Q. Did you personally travel with him to Columbia prior to the construction loan?

A. I met him in Columbia on many occasions prior to that.

Q. Did you go to Columbia on your own sometimes prior to the construction loan?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Okay. What were the purposes of those trips?

A. Trips we made to Columbia were identifying -- again, identifying the property, working with marketing people, going for zoning issues, things of that nature.

Q. At that time was your dad being paid a salary?

A. At that time he indicated that he was not being paid a salary, that that would be taken care of once the construction loan was there. It was my understanding that Palmetto State did not have funds in place.

Q. When you would travel to Columbia on your own during that time, what funds would you use to put gas in your car?

351

A. I would use funds from J & P Enterprises.

Q. Okay. To your knowledge, was there a Palmetto State's account at that time?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Did you ever get paid back for the moneys you spent from J & P Enterprises doing Palmetto State's business?

A. No. There were times where if J & P Enterprises wrote checks as time went that those moneys were repaid if there was moneys spent for travel, planes, pilots, things of that nature.

Q. And after Palmetto State's bank account was --

A. That would have been after the -- that would have been in the projects after Columbia or after the construction loan was taken out at Columbia.

Q. So, prior to that time, is it fair to say you were using personal funds?

A. Yes.

Q. Was your dad doing the same thing?

A. It was my -- it was my assumption, yes.

Q. When you -- were you aware when the contract was put on the property in Columbia?

A. I remember identifying the property. It seemed like it was in the summer that he had indicated that he had found the property and had written the initial escrow check to hold it -- to hold the property so that we could begin to do this work.

Q. Was it your understanding that that was his personal funds to secure that property?

352

A. That was the indication I got from him.
Q. Okay. And do you know what that amount was?
A. I don't recall exactly what that amount would be, but it would be 10 percent of the purchase price, if my memory's correct.
Q. What was the purchase price?
A. I do not remember.
Q. And, to your knowledge, was that escrow deposit ever reimbursed to him?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. Do you know a gentleman named William Taylor?
A. I do not personally know or cannot place the name.
Q. Do you know who he is?
A. No. But I think it could be someone who was associated with the property in Columbia.
Q. I want to show you this Check 879. To your knowledge, is that the escrow deposit check on the property in Columbia?
A. Yes, I'd say that this is the escrow that –
MR. PRICE: Your Honor –
THE WITNESS: – for the deposit on the property in Columbia.
THE COURT: Hold on please, sir.
MR. PRICE: – I'm going to object to – this isn't in this witness' personal knowledge.

353

THE COURT: If you'll ask him if he has personal knowledge.
MR. TALLEY: Yes, sir.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Do you have personal knowledge of that Check 879 being the escrow deposit for the Columbia property?
A. From looking at the check, it indicates what it was. I had a personal conversation with my father that indicated that he was making that –
Q. Was the property –
A. – escrow.
Q. – put under contract about August of 2004?
A. To my knowledge, yes.
Q. Had you been going back and forth to Columbia prior to that time looking at that site?
A. Yes.
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I'd move this in as Defendants' Exhibit 3.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, I object. I still don't feel like there's been a foundation. We've certainly talked about it enough, but –
THE COURT: I'm going to go ahead and allow it. I think there's more weight to the admissibility at this point.
(Thereupon, Defendants' Exhibit Number 3 was admitted into Evidence.)

354

EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Mr. Greene, to your knowledge, was your father ever paid back that $40,000 that's represented on that check for the escrow deposit?
A. Not to my knowledge.
Q. And was that property ultimately titled in the name of Palmetto State for development?
A. Yes.
Q. Was it for his personal use at all?
A. No.
Q. How often would you travel with your father?
A. For Palmetto State?
Q. Yes, sir. I'm sorry.
A. In the beginning for Columbia, it would be – I would estimate, a day, a day and a half a week in the beginning during the site selection through all the other things that we did.
Q. Would you all ride together?
A. Typically not, because I live closer than he does. We just – I mean, I came from Rock Hill. He would be coming either from Gaffney or from Clemson.
Q. And it looks like, according to Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 – is that up there?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. If you look at the bank records, do you – do you have knowledge of this account existing prior to January 1st of 2005?

355

A. I do not.
Q. Okay. It looks like, as of January 1st, there was a balance of $21,290.13. Do you know the source of those funds?
A. I do not.
Q. Had any deposits been made by investors for The Spur project at the end of 2004?
A. Not to my knowledge. I don't recall any conversation with investors as – I do not recall any conversation with investors in that time period.
Q. Okay. And have you ever seen any Palmetto Properties, LLC, checks that have a number lower than 1001, which was written on January 6th?
A. No, sir. I would look at a check number 1001 as being the initial check starting in a thousand series.
Q. So there was some source of funds into Palmetto State prior to investor deposits, was there not?
A. That is correct.
Q. Do you know what the source of those funds might have been?
A. I do not have – I don't know what the source of those funds might have been. I know that my father was working during that time. I knew that he had some moneys, but I do not know where those would have come from.
Q. As the calendar year 2005 moved forward, did his trips and your trips regarding Palmetto State's business become more frequent?

356

A. After the beginning of 2005?
Q. Yes.
A. I would say after 2005 they just became very consistent.
Q. And define what you mean by that.
A. From a consistent standpoint, during the construction of Columbia, it was at least -- I was there at least a day or a day and a half a week. My father was there more than that. As our projects developed in other areas, that would be a -- that would be an estimation of time -- or at least the time that I spent. He spent much more.
Q. To your knowledge, would he use company funds to gas his car before he went to one of the sites?
A. Yes.
Q. Would he use company funds to pay for meals when you were present on these site visits?
A. Yes.
Q. At times did other folks working with the LLC, like Mr. Talmage, travel with you?
A. Typically what would happen is if we had other folks -- if we had the builder, if we had Mr. Talmage, if we had other guests there, it was always my father's -- it was always my father's M.O. to pick up the tab.
Q. So all of these entries on the exhibits that are considered to be J & P Enterprises transfers, do you have knowledge of how those are shown on the company books?

357

A. I do not.
Q. Okay. Have you seen it listed in any financial statements or balance statements -- or balance sheets? I'm sorry.
A. I have not seen Palmetto State listed on --
Q. I'm sorry. I was asking about J & P Enterprises.
A. Well, I'm saying on the J & P Enterprises --
Q. Okay.
A. -- balance statements I have not seen any notation for Palmetto State.
Q. All right. Have you seen any notation relative to the moneys that we've discussed into J & P Enterprises in the last two days?
A. Help me -- say it again.
Q. Have you seen any notation in the books of J & P Enterprises in regards to the funds that we've discussed during this hearing?
A. No.
Q. Okay. You were present when Ms. Greene testified earlier that she put it in there as a loan from owner.
A. Correct.
Q. Have you seen that notation?
A. Yes.

358

Q. Okay. And where would you have seen that?
A. I would see that on the balance statement.
Q. For who or for what entity?
A. For J & P Enterprises.
Q. As a balance due to be paid?
A. Correct.
Q. Do you have any documentation that purports how it's supposed to be paid back?
A. I do not.
Q. Do you have any demand letter or demand whatever from anybody associated with Palmetto State to pay those moneys back?
A. I'm not aware of any demand of that up to the time my father went in the hospital, and then certainly since then I'm not aware of any. As -- once he went in the hospital, then I would have seen everything that came through. So I am not aware of any request for repayments.
Q. What did Mike Brown say to you about these J & P Enterprises funds when he met with you in late 2007?
A. When we met in 2007 and he was showing me these spreadsheets, he brought this to my attention. I did not remember any specific comments that he made toward this. I think at the point in time I was a little flabbergasted at, you know, what I was walking into. I didn't expect to see -- Mike was kind enough to show it to me to let me know, you know, what he had seen at that time.

Q. What did you believe was the reason funds were going from Palmetto State to J & P Enterprises?
A. It was always -- from conversations that I had with my father -- at this point in time, he and I both were working full-time with J & P Enterprises, and we had a long conversation about if he was going to go into this, you know, how much of your load am I going to -- and my question to him, how much of your load am I going to carry here if you're not contributing time. You have to do that very soft with my father. There was no misunderstanding about who ran J & P Enterprises. It was his. But it was our understanding and our agreement that as he dedicated time to these projects the salary that he was going to receive from the projects that -- that some of that money could come back into J & P Enterprises.
There are times where I saw -- heard conversations, and it's just my -- you know, my knowledge of the way my father worked is rather than Palmetto State paying him and then him putting the money in, he would just write the checks directly to J & P Enterprises, and he kept his own balance sheet of what he was paid, what he was owed, and it would be my understanding that he -- you know, he took no more than he should have.
Q. Was it your understanding that his salary would go back to the time Palmetto State began?
A. He indicated to me that once this was started that his salary would go back to the time where he started dedicating the time and energy into it.

360

Q. Would that have been in 2004 when you started looking for property in Columbia?
A. 2004, yes.
Q. And, to your knowledge, was any payment ever made to your father for the work he did from 2004 through what Plaintiff listed on exhibit – on Exhibit 5 that shows a payment date of July 11, 2005?
A. Could you repeat your question, please?
Q. I'll try. Do you have any knowledge of payments to your father during the time period of 2004 through the first payment indicated on Plaintiff's 5, which is dated July 11th, 2005?
A. I have no knowledge of him receiving money prior to this July of 2005. In general conversations with him, he had indicated that the time and effort that he had put in before – that that money would be forthcoming. And, typically, in something of that nature you got to do the work ahead of time to create the vision, to create the opportunity of what you're going to benefit afterwards with being paid.
Q. Of the moneys that came into J & P Enterprises from Palmetto State, do you recall ever getting a lump sum distribution from those funds or taking a shareholder's draw or anything of that nature?
A. I do not – we did not take.

361

Q. Were you a salaried employee?
A. Yes.
MR. TALLEY: That's all the questions I have, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?
MR. HUNT: If it please the Court, Your Honor.
EXAMINATION BY MR. HUNT:
Q. During all this time and from 2004 when the vision came about – and whose vision was this?
A. This vision became a vision of – the concept of the vision was a vision my father had that went back – all the way back into about 1980 – to about 1980, and then through time he and I developed a couple pieces of property. And as we did the first property, we found that there was a need and a desire for a similar product but in a little different price range. And then after we finished that project, we discovered or had a feeling that there was a demand for what I always refer to as oceanfront property, which are condominiums that actually look at or are adjoined to football stadiums, and that was the concept that we carried forth from thereafter. So, you know, it was his vision.
Q. And he – he – who was with him in 2004 when he started scouting out around Columbia? Anyone?
A. His initial trips to Columbia, Mr. Jordan – Lew Jordan would go with him there. There was occasions where I would be there looking at property. There may have been trips Coach West may have accompanied him, but –

362

Q. Right.
A. – I'm not sure of other particular individuals.
Q. The Columbia property was the – the Columbia build, The Spur, was kind of the low hanging fruit, wasn't it, in your vision to build – I think I heard you testify yesterday as to have two going, have two thought about, have –
A. Yes.
Q. And in Columbia because of the way the stadium's sitting down there in a warehouse district, that sort of thing.
A. The vision fit Columbia so well because the property, in essence, was attached to the property for the stadium.
Q. Yes, sir, exactly. And that's – and so he started this work, and you say he was spending a great deal of his time down in Columbia?
A. Correct.
Q. Which culminated in his issuing his check for $40,000 to secure the property in August, the exhibit that's just been handed up; is that not right?
A. That is my understanding.
Q. And all this period of time your dad was working, wasn't receiving salary, but he brought this vision to these other investors in Palmetto State?
A. Correct.

363

Q. And the first check out of Palmetto State was in early 2005, was it not, sir?
A. That's my knowledge.
Q. And, quite possibly, some of these checks, while payable to Clemson Towers, on exhibit – I think you got Exhibit 1 up there – some of those – have you –
A. I have Exhibit 1.
Q. You have Exhibit 1?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Bad accounting, was it not, on the top – some of those top things for Clemson Towers?
A. Correct.
Q. Bad accounting certainly, but do you think that was an intention to deceive or convert by your dad?
A. I do not think this was an intention to convert or deceive. He's a lot smarter than – if he was going to convert or deceive, there wouldn't be a paper trail. He wouldn't have left checks, identified what they were for. He was smarter than that.
Q. All right, sir. When – are you aware of the date of the closing of the property in Columbia? There's a check on there midway down on your Exhibit Number 1. I think it's number – it's Exhibit Number 31 – Number 31 on Exhibit 1. Do you see that check?
A. Yes, sir.

364

Q. It's made payable to Palmetto State Enterprises, is it not?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. For $100,000. Are you aware of what that was for?
A. I can't speak to what this particular sum of $100,000 was. If -- I can't speak to what this check was for. I know that at the end of the option on the property that there was some extremely close timing on losing the property --
Q. Yes, sir.
A. -- not meeting the conditions in the sale of the property.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. As a matter of fact, it got to the point where there was even, I think, some funds provided from a third individual for a short period of time.
Q. Yes, sir. Does it appear to you your dad put that money in his pocket?
A. No, he didn't put this money in his pocket.
Q. Yes, sir. Was that about the time of the closing of The Spur down in Columbia?
A. This was, yes, sir.
Q. All right. Was there -- as to up on the upper part of that front page as well, sir, Lines 11, 12, 13, 14 -- those were smaller sums, but were you all having to do anything around Columbia to -- for -- with these guys, laborers? What was happening with the property in Columbia?

A. At that point in time -- I mean, the property was vacant. The property was run-down. At that point in time, we started getting the property in the condition that you could start bringing prospective investors, you could bring real estate people, you could bring bankers to look at and see -- as my father would say, you had to prepare the dog and pony show.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. And it took time and effort to, you know, just make the property presentable.
Q. Yes, sir. Are you aware of those guys listed on there going back and forth to Columbia for that purpose, doing those things?
A. Some of these -- you know, some of these guys I don't know. Danny Cain, in particular, I do know him. That would be a task of which he could do and would do.
Q. Yes, sir. Tell me this, what kind of -- was your dad good to keep good records?
A. I don't think my father could put together two receipts in his life.
Q. All right, sir.
A. His record keeping was suspect at best.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. The one paper trail he would create is when he wrote his checks. Typically, in the "for" category, he'd put what it was for, where the funds were going, and then at least you got the traceability that way. Day-to-day receipts for gas and for credit cards, you know, that was not his strong point. I can remember he just put them in his ashtray and had the ones he had and then gave them in lumps to whoever needed them.

366

Q. After having looked at all these records, been involved in this thing all this time, do you think your father was trying to deceive anyone?
A. It's my opinion that -- in this that my father did things he should not have done.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. There are, you know -- but did my father go to this extent? He did not. Did he do some things he shouldn't have done? Absolutely.
Q. And he admitted --
A. But it's not -- it's not to this extent. As I look at -- you know, as I look at this exhibit, just with the limited knowledge that I have, you know, I see things that are here that I know firsthand that I attended, that I was a part of, that they were expenses of Palmetto State. There are checks written that may not parallel exactly to travel, but I know that those checks went to those individuals with that purpose in mind.
Q. What -- which particular, sir, if you don't mind?
A. The ones that come to mind are the ones that are in 2007. You know -- I don't see very well, but the ones in particular -- I can't speak of individual check numbers, but I do know that we had conversation on some of the checks that went to Mike Huizenga.

367

Q. Yes, sir.
A. Mike was our pilot.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. Mike was a great guy, a great pilot. He was also at our beck and call.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. If we needed to go, you could call Mike and he'd come. I can remember flying myself to Blacksburg, Virginia, once for a meeting in the morning knowing that I needed to get to Washington D.C. that evening for a club meeting, and the plane that I was flying did not have the capabilities to fly in the weather. I picked up the phone, and he was there in an hour and 20 minutes.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. In the latter part of this, Mike had a terrible accident that really confined him to a wheelchair for a period of time.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. And he was just about losing everything, and I can remember talking to my father. I just said, Dad, you know, this guy makes what we do possible. Send him money. We'll get it on the backend.

368

Q. Yes, sir.
A. He's going to take us places. We're going to do things. We can work out that. It was a great benefit to Palmetto State to have his services.
Q. Yes, sir. Anything else?
A. That's the one that jumps at me the most. And that's one that as you look back through the records, you'll say we've written Mike a check for $5,000, and we don't have travel or a meeting or anything at that particular time. There's more to that story than looking through receipts and travel plans.
Q. Yes, sir. Are you aware of the meeting over in Louisiana after the bowl?
A. The only knowledge I have of the events in Louisiana was that there was a marketing function at that bowl game. When -- you know, I just know that that was happening.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. That's what I know. I didn't go, wasn't invited.
Q. Yes, sir.
A. I don't really like South Carolina, so I wouldn't have gone anyway.
MR. HUNT: I don't think I have any further questions.
THE COURT: Mr. Price?
EXAMINATION BY MR. PRICE:
Q. The payments to Mike Huizenga that's noted in 2007 as a loan, that was, in fact -- those were, in fact, then a loan to

369

Mike Huizenga; correct?
A. I don't know that I'd classify that as a loan to him. I would classify that as moneys that we sent him knowing that we would use his services and that stuff would balance itself out.
Q. Okay. But it wasn't for any specific services. It was because he was injured?
A. The money was sent to Mike to keep him in a position so that he could service us as we were accustomed to being serviced as time went forward.
Q. It was for a good cause, kind of like the money for Darren Bruce Ministries, but it's difficult to pinpoint what exactly the LLC got back for that; correct?
A. I think it's different from the moneys that went into Dan Bruce Ministries. To my knowledge -- I don't know what they did for the LLC. I can't speak to that. I can speak to the services that Mike provided us, and at this point in time sending him those checks would enable him to continue to provide those services. In essence, what it would have been is a prepayment for services to come.
Q. Yesterday Mr. Hunt asked you whether the -- it was important for your dad to look good to sell stuff, so, in that case, was plastic surgery a legitimate expense of Palmetto State. You remember that line of questioning?
A. I remember the line of questioning.
Q. Did you believe at that time that plastic surgery was a legitimate expense of Palmetto State?

370

MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I'm going to object. He's mischaracterizing his testimony.
THE COURT: Hold on. Rephrase the question, please.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Well, the question -- okay. The question is, do you believe that plastic surgery was a legitimate expense of Palmetto State?
A. I believe that my father would make the case that it was a legitimate expense of Palmetto State.
Q. Okay. And today I think you testified that you believe that the payments made to J & P Enterprises were a legitimate expense of Palmetto State because it was legitimate compensation owed your dad?
A. It was my understanding that that would be the compensation for him.
Q. Were you -- you testified that you didn't even know you had an ownership interest in Palmetto State until after this all came to light; correct?
A. That is correct.
Q. So were you present for any of the meetings amongst Lamar Greene and Mr. West and Mr. Rodriguez about how much your dad would be compensated and beginning when?
A. I was not -- I was not present for those meetings. I was present for meetings. It was --

371

Q. So were you present at the meeting -- do you have any personal knowledge to contradict the testimony that the agreement was to pay your dad $10,000 a month starting in July of 2005?
A. The information I have was that my father indicated that he was going to be paid that salary --
Q. Okay.
A. -- for the work that he did for the company.
Q. You were present at Ron West's deposition, were you not, at my office where we videotaped it?
A. No. Was I? I don't remember.
Q. Okay. Were you present at the meeting he testified about in the deposition?
A. I don't think so.
Q. Okay.
A. Was I?
Q. I don't know. I don't know. You may not have been present at the deposition, but were you present at a meeting between Lamar Greene, Rich Rodriguez, and Ron West where it was agreed what your dad would be compensated?
A. No.
Q. Were you aware that your dad, Ron West, and Rich Rodriguez each contributed $10,000 to get this LLC started?
A. Help me.
Q. Were you aware that Lamar Greene, Rich Rodriguez, and 372

Ron West each contributed $10,000 as kind of a buy-in to get the LLC started?
A. I was not aware.
Q. Okay. Were you aware that on January 4th, 2005, John Lovett invested $34,500 into this LLC?
A. Did not know that.
Q. Okay. You were asked about the first item on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1, which was a check. Do you have that in front of you, sir?
A. I think I do. Is this –
Q. Yes, there it is. The first check – the first item on that is a check dated January 4th, 2005, to Clemson Towers; correct?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Okay. To the extent – I think you were actually shown the statement right behind it that indicated a balance at some point the beginning of January. But to the extent there were funds in that account prior to January 4th, 2005, or on the date that first item was written, it's entirely possible that those came from the $10,000 that everybody bought in or John Lovett's investment; correct?
A. I do not have information of that.
Q. Do you know who John Lovett is?
A. I think he was a football coach at Clemson, but I don't know that I've ever met him.

373

Q. Were you personally present when anybody made investments in this LLC?
A. No.
Q. If you accept the argument that the payments made to J & P for J & P's benefit were legitimate compensation to your dad and you add that $154,772.65 to the $364,891 shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 6, which is the list of salary paid to your dad, okay, do you know – would you agree with me that that number is $519,653.65?
A. You got to help me more.
Q. Okay.
A. Help me understand what you're trying to get me to.
Q. Well, you've testified that the payments that were made for J & P's benefit were legitimate compensation to your father, and I believe your testimony is also that the $364,891 shown on Plaintiff's 6 was also legitimate compensation to your dad.
A. I don't know that I did that.
Q. Okay. Well –
A. I don't see the 360,000. You said it's 6. I may not be looking at the right thing.
Q. And I apologize. It's Plaintiff's Exhibit 5. So that was my fault.
A. Okay.
Q. The total payments –
A. Yes.

374

Q. – 364,000 –
A. Correct.
Q. – okay, plus the 154,000 that was made for J & P's benefit, that exact number, sir, is $519,653.65. Do you agree with that?
A. I agree with that math, yes.
Q. Okay. So if we were to say, well, maybe Mr. Greene was entitled to $10,000 a month prior to when he began getting paid in July 2005, would you agree that 519,000 equals roughly $10,000 a month for 52 months?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Okay. That's four years, four months; correct?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. So if we take the amount of money your dad was paid allegedly as compensation, just the salary where he wrote salary on the check and just the money to J & P, then, essentially, you've got a situation where he would have been paid $10,000 a month since March of 2003. Do you have any reason to believe that was the agreement in terms of what your dad would be compensated?
A. My understanding of the agreement is that that would start when he started doing the work for Palmetto State.
Q. And when was that?
A. That, to the best of my knowledge, would be in the early part of 2004.

375

Q. And, of course, those numbers don't include the stuff for plastic surgery, for Tom James Engineer; correct?
A. That is correct.
Q. Now, speaking of Tom James Engineer, do you have any reason to believe that Tom James was an engineer?
A. Tom James is not an engineer.
Q. Okay. So why would that be written on the checks if there wasn't a deliberate intent to deceive?
A. I can't answer that question.
Q. Okay. Regarding this question about whether your father invested $40,000 on the down payment for the Columbia property, were you present when that property was closed – that purchase was closed?
A. I was not present when that was closed.
Q. Do you have personal knowledge of the disbursements that were made at closing?
A. I do not have those.
Q. Can you sit here and testify with any certainty whether or not your father was repaid at closing?
A. It is my belief that he was not repaid at closing.
Q. Is that belief based on anything other than a hope?
A. A hope?
Q. Yes, a hope. What's the basis for that belief?
A. I do not have a basis other than I do not believe he was paid at that closing. I have no firsthand information of that.

376

Q. Okay. The loans on J & P balance sheet, I understood your testimony to be those are loans by owner?
A. I didn't testify to that.
Q. Okay. Well, Mr. Talley, I believe, asked you about how the loans are shown on J & P Enterprises' balance sheet.
A. Yes.
Q. How are they shown?
A. They would be shown as loans from officers.
Q. From officers. So they're not shown as a loan from Palmetto State?
A. They are not.
Q. And when J & P Enterprises filed bankruptcy in February of 2006, was there some effort made to sit down and identify all of J & P Enterprises' creditors?
A. There was.
Q. Okay. Was Palmetto State listed as a creditor?
A. It was not to my knowledge.
Q. Okay. But, at that point, Palmetto State had made what are alleged to be loans to J & P Enterprises; correct?
A. What are to be alleged, correct.
Q. Okay. Mr. Greene, in working closely with your father at J & P Enterprises, at Palmetto State -- with Palmetto State, was it ever evident that your father was living above his means?
A. No.

377

Q. It was not?
A. No.
Q. When did it become evident -- did it ever become evident to you?
A. That my father was living above his means?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. I had -- it did not, no. He had limited -- he had -- from my perspective, he had a lot of income and some limited expenses.
Q. Okay.
MR. PRICE: Thank you, sir. I have no further questions.
THE COURT: Any other questions?
MR. TALLEY: Yes, sir.
REEXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Mr. Greene, you were asked about being present for meetings with the members of the LLC --
A. Yes.
Q. -- by Mr. Price. Have you, since Mr. Brown made you and your father aware of his concerns in 2007, tried to sit down with the other members of the LLC?
A. I know that my father made countless attempts to sit down with Coach Rodriguez. He made several phone calls to try to sit with him to at least give him an explanation of what he was told, to at least try to show him why things were done, why they were -- Coach Rodriguez, for whatever reason, never met with my father.

I can remember one particular time that -- when Coach Rodriguez was still at West Virginia, my father was going up -- soon after this happened was going up to a football game, and typically Coach Rodriguez would provide tickets, help put that together, and I can remember Julee telling me that they had just gotten into West Virginia when they got a call from his secretary indicating that he wouldn't be available -- there was nothing available, and, in essence, she said that they just turned around and came back home.
I know that he called Coach Rodriguez on numerous occasions, sent e-mails, trying to get in touch with him. Coach Rodriguez would be the one that my father would go and attempt to meet with. Good, bad, or indifferent, he didn't have -- he just didn't think this could be handled through Coach West. So he went to Coach Rodriguez.
Q. Were you aware of letters that were sent asking for a meeting?
A. I know that there was communication from my father -- my father told me that he had sent letters, made phone calls, sent faxes, trying to get in touch with him every way he could.
MR. TALLEY: No further questions.
THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?
MR. HUNT: None, Your Honor.

379

THE COURT: All right. Thank you, sir. You can step down. You can go have a seat.
All right. Mr. Talley, any other witnesses?
MR. TALLEY: Yes, sir. But, if I may, just for the record, in the questioning Mr. Price just did regarding Exhibit 5, I'd just ask the Court to bear in mind the testimony of yesterday that the figure the Plaintiff put on Exhibit 5, by plaintiff's manager's own testimony, was incorrect as certain of those items were documented in other of the exhibits. Specifically --
THE COURT: Letter C.
MR. TALLEY: -- Letter C, Letter H.
THE COURT: H.
MR. TALLEY: I think we did Letter J. And then --
THE COURT: Hold it. You agree with that, Mr. Price?
MR. PRICE: No, sir. I only have a note that Letter C -- I'm sorry, Judge. I only have a note that Letter C was also included. I think there was some testimony whether the $30,000 bonus was legitimate or -- I mean, whether that was legitimate, but I don't see where any other of these charges were included somewhere else other than Letter C.
MR. TALLEY: Well, if I may, and you just stop me when I'm off base. I can ask Mr. Brown. But on Exhibit 6 -- Letter B appears on Exhibit 6 -- on Exhibit 6, it is listed as Item D. On Exhibit 5, it is list ed as Item B right before the 380

$7,500 that's Item C on Exhibit 5 we were talking about, so --
THE COURT: All right.
MR. PRICE: Your Honor, we'll concede that it appears that 85 -- $8,503 is listed twice and that our claim for damages should be reduced by that amount.
MR. TALLEY: But I -- as to Item H, as I recall, the testimony of Mr. Brown was that that was not salary. That was actually a bonus that was taken at the same time all members but for Mr. Jeff Greene received funds.
THE COURT: Are you going through this to try to avoid calling Mr. Brown again?
MR. TALLEY: Well, I think that we'll have to do that regardless. I'm just --
THE COURT: All right. Come --
MR. TALLEY: -- trying to save --
THE COURT: -- round, sir.
MR. TALLEY: -- time with Mr. Brown.
THE COURT: Just a reminder, you're still under oath.
THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.
EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Mr. Brown, I'm going to hand you what's been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2.
A. Oh, okay.
Q. It's the Regions account listing. I believe your testimony was earlier you actually made this spreadsheet; is that correct?

381

A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. The -- on Page 2 of that exhibit --
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. I think we talked in some detail about Page 1. But Page 2, let's just start at Item 64, Hot Spot, 44.94. Do you know where that Hot Spot's located?
A. Hold on one second. No, I do not know where it's located.
Q. Why is it on here?
A. Going back and looking at the dates, I concluded that that was a day that Lamar was not doing condo business.
Q. Then -- and what led you to that conclusion?
A. If you go look at the day before, 4/20, Jerry Kelly's transaction, that is a lunch place in Columbia, South Carolina, where we often ate lunch together when we were down there, and so I was going back and looking -- I don't have the exact calendar in front of me as to what days were what, but I went back and, based on my recollection, that was the day that -- the next day Lamar was not doing condo business.
Q. All right. And are you on Page 20 of Exhibit 2?
A. Page 20, yes.
Q. Okay. So, based on what you just said, on 4/20, Jerry Kelly's is in Columbia?
A. Yes.

382

Q. All right. And then the Hot Spot charge I asked you about was on 4/21?
A. Yes.
Q. And then on 4/24 there's a charge for the Townhouse that you've highlighted as well and included for $20.66?
A. Yes.
Q. What is the Townhouse?
A. I'd have to -- I'm not sure exactly what the Townhouse is.
Q. Isn't that a hotel in Columbia, South Carolina?
A. I'm not sure.
Q. But you included it anyway?
A. Yes.
Q. And then if you look on 4/25, there's another charge for Jerry Kelly's --
A. Yes.
Q. -- for $19.47.
A. Yes.
Q. So is it not plausible that Mr. Greene was in Columbia for a series of days consecutively in April of 2006 when The Spur was being constructed?
A. It's possible.
Q. If you look back on the second page of Exhibit 2, line -- beginning at Line 79, there's a Harris Teeter charge. Do you know where that Harris Teeter is located?

383

A. Say it again.
Q. The Harris Teeter charge, do you know where the Harris Teeter is located?
A. And what specific item are you asking, Scott?
Q. I'm sorry. I'm looking at -- we're talking about a lot of numbers. I'm not trying to confuse you. I'm looking -- I'm referencing the far left --
A. Yes.
Q. -- Item Number 79 --
A. 79.
Q. -- beginning at 79.
A. Question?
Q. Do you know where that Harris Teeter is located?
A. I do not know.
Q. And those charges that go down through Line 91, most of which you've highlighted on Page 23 of this Exhibit 2, do you know where the Boathouse is located, Amoco Oil, Chauffeurs Unlimited, High Cotton?
A. Well, what I did there, I went back and looked at where it said the Great Beach, Virginia, the top transaction for $4,114, and I just assumed because of that -- you know, that that's -- and Great Beach, Virginia, was where all these transactions took place. And if I remember correctly, I contacted Mr. West and asked him, did he ever know about a trip to Great Beach, Virginia, and he said no.

Q. Okay. Well, I would submit to you, sir, that grouped in on this same day –
A. Yes.
Q. – there are charges at the Isle of Palms and Mount Pleasant, both of which are in South Carolina, and you were present, were you not, during testimony that these members took a trip to Charleston?
A. Yes.
Q. Could it quite possibly be that these charges are all related to them being together in Charleston in May of 2006?
A. It possibly could be. But I would like to make the point that if these charges are on this, then why was he taking payments for reimbursement for stuff that had already been paid by this credit card?
Q. If you look at Item 97 –
A. Yes.
Q. – that appears on Page 25 of Exhibit 2 –
A. Page 25.
Q. – it's a $39.14 charge to Raceway.
A. Say that again.
Q. It's a $39.14 charge to Raceway.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you know where that Raceway is located?
A. I do not.
Q. If you look down at Item 98, Pilot, 26.84, do you know where that Pilot is located?

385

A. 98?
Q. It's on the same Page 25 of the exhibit.
A. I do not.
Q. But two days prior to that on June 28th there's another charge to Jerry Kelly's.
A. That's correct.
Q. Could you have perhaps been present for lunch that day at Jerry Kelly's?
A. I could have.
Q. So it's possible that prior to and after that Mr. Greene traveled from Columbia during construction of The Spur, is it not?
A. Yes. But also, too – what's the month during this time? At this point in time in – at Coach Rodriguez's request in starting to work with Jeff and them, I usually had a pretty good knowledge of days he was at The Spur and that usually on days that he's at The Spur the next day he was usually doing – back to doing J & P business.
Q. Is that a generalization you're making?
A. Yeah, I guess you can say it's a generalization. But with the lack of receipts, there was a lot of – there had to be a lot of detective work to try to figure out what was allowable and unallowable.
Q. On the trips you made to The Spur and were present for some of these lunches, et cetera, do you have receipts for that?

386

A. No. Mr. Greene usually paid for them.
Q. Okay. And you willingly ate off the Palmetto State's dime?
A. Pardon me?
Q. You willingly ate off the Palmetto State's dime?
A. Yes.
Q. So why were you allowed to and he wasn't, I guess?
A. Pardon me?
Q. Why were you allowed to and he wasn't?
A. If it was in the business of conducting Palmetto State business, it to me would have been a reasonable expense.
Q. So, other than assumptions you are making about these entries I've asked you about –
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. – you don't have anything to show this Court to say it was certainly not Palmetto State's business being conducted for that transaction?
A. Repeat the question.
Q. You don't have anything other than your assumptions to give to this Court to say that, I am certain that these items in Exhibit 2 were non-Palmetto State business?
A. What's your definition of assumptions?
Q. Well, that's your own word. As I stood there, you said you're assuming that – specifically on the Charleston trip, you're assuming since these – right before that was some charge in Virginia that this was not company related.

387

A. Yeah, you're correct there.
Q. So all we've got –
A. But – but in that case there actually what the evidence shows now is he paid for by credit card and then went back and asked for reimbursement by check for that same trip.
Q. Okay. And how do you – how do you lump the two together?
A. If you go to Plaintiff's Number 5 –
Q. Okay.
A. Are we talking 2005 or '7 here?
Q. Well, the Charleston trip I asked you about was 2006.
A. Okay. My mistake on that one. I was thinking it was the same time as the Myrtle Beach outing.
Q. And I thought that's where you were going. That's why I asked.
A. Okay.
Q. But there are – I mean, my point is this, Mr. Brown.
A. Yeah.
Q. I understand the Court wants us to move along, and I'd like to do that no more than anybody else. But you're in here asking for $1.8 million, and all we've got, is it not true, is assumptions you've made in many instances like in Plaintiff's Exhibit 2?

388

A. It's not my place to make that judgment on what's been presented.
Q. Okay. But you were -- you are in here as the representative of the Plaintiff asking this Court to put a $1.8 million judgment against an estate, a widow, and a company.
A. Yes, I am.
Q. And this is your evidence, is it not?
A. This and volumes that went into make this.
Q. Where's that?
A. If you go through and look at the depositions, materials that have -- I know were sent over to your office from Chris Olson's office.
Q. On Exhibit 6 --
A. 6, yes.
Q. -- the $22,005 in cash withdrawals.
A. Yes.
Q. Do you have any evidence showing what the $22,005 was spent on?
A. I do not.
Q. How did it come to be a part of your damages claim in this lawsuit?
A. There were cash withdrawals without any documentation to go behind what the cash was used for, and in a forensic accounting situation they would clearly ask if you don't have documentation to back up cash withdrawals. Whether it's in a business or with the IRS, it's considered unallowable.

389

Q. The records attached to Exhibit 6 do not show where the cash was spent; correct?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. And we were just looking at -- strike that.
Do you have Exhibit 5?
A. Let me see. Yeah, I got Exhibit 5.
Q. Okay. This is the one we were talking about with the Court, Item H.
A. H.
Q. Were you aware that each member took a bonus in or around August of 2006?
A. I was not aware.
Q. Okay. Have you become aware through this case that Mr. West and Coach Rodriguez both received $50,000 at that same time?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And so I thought I understood that we agreed yesterday that that would not be considered part of his salary?
A. Pardon me?
Q. I thought I understood yesterday that we agreed that $30,000, in light of the other transactions for the members, would not be considered part of his salary in this calculation?
A. I don't remember -- I don't specifically remember agreeing to that. I do remember questioning yesterday along that lines.

390

Q. Okay. But you've calculated in your Exhibit 5 $30,000 into his, what you believe to be, 27 months of salary eligibility?
A. That's correct.
Q. Were there other bonuses taken by the members?
A. Going back -- after being -- having access to the bank records and doing all this research, yes, there were bonuses paid to -- 50,000 to Rich Rodriguez and 50,000 to Ron West.
Q. Has Coach West and Coach Rodriguez had the chance to review this Exhibit 1?
A. They both have, and it's quite a long time ago.
Q. Okay. Did Coach West mention to you that Item 26, $900, was actually paid for his unit at Clemson Towers?
A. Pardon me?
Q. Item 26, to Clemson Towers, $900.
A. Did -- what's your question again?
Q. Did Coach West tell you that that was paid for his benefit -- his unit?
A. No.
Q. But because Lamar also owned a unit there you put it on the spreadsheet; is that correct?
A. Pardon me?
Q. Because Lamar also owned a unit at Clemson Towers you put it on the spreadsheet?

391

A. Which one is it again?
Q. It's Item 26.
A. 26. Yes.
Q. Okay. And even though if you look at Page 9, Check 1038, in the memo line it says "loan to West" --
A. Say it again.
Q. On Page 9 of Exhibit 1, the bottom right --
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. -- Check 1038, CTHOA, $900, the memo line says "loan to West."
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. But that still got put in your damages claim against these Defendants?
A. Yes.
Q. Why?
A. Because it was made out to Clemson Towers Homeowners' Association, which didn't have anything to do with building condos for Palmetto State.
Q. Have you spoken with Coach West about this?
A. No, I have not.
Q. Do you intend to do so?
A. Do I intend to do so?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. No.
Q. So he gets a pass on his funds used for non-condo purposes you just stated; is that right?

A. Pardon me?
Q. Why does he get a pass? I mean, if we're going by what checks are written for and what they say, this clearly says "loan to West."
A. Yes.
Q. And you're not concerned about it?
A. At this point in time, these are the records, these are what was able to be put together.
Q. Okay. And you put this together in 2007, 2008, I believe; right?
A. That's correct.
Q. So for five years we just give Coach West a pass, just bury these Defendants?
A. No.
Q. Well, how do you explain that?
A. Pardon me?
Q. How do you explain it then?
A. I didn't have enough hours or time in a day to go track down everybody that got money out of this account that was not used for Palmetto State.
Q. Well, that was pretty clear, is it not? I mean, it says it right there on the check, and you were still being paid by this Estate $500 a day.
A. I was being paid $500 a day, and the majority of my time at that point in time was to keep the LLC solvent and make sure business was finished and all of the creditors and everybody got paid their bills, et cetera. There wasn't enough money to go out and hire a complete team. It would have taken multiple individuals 24 hours a day to do this.

Q. Okay. But don't you think it would have been important if that was your mission at the time to identify any and all sources of funds that might be due to the LLC?
A. Say that again.
Q. Don't you think if that was your mission at that time it would have been important to identify any and all sources of funds due to the LLC?
A. It was.
MR. TALLEY: No further questions.
THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?
EXAMINATION BY MR. HUNT:
Q. Did you not even have enough time to track down $100,000?
A. Pardon me?
Q. Did you not even have enough time to track down $100,000 that's reflected on Plaintiff's Number 1, Item 31?
A. Say it again.
Q. Did you not have enough time to even track down what happened with that $100,000?
A. No, I did not.

MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.
THE COURT: Mr. Price?
EXAMINATION BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Mr. Brown, the lack of documentation was a real problem, wasn't it?
A. Yes, it was.
Q. Can you explain why there was absolutely no documentation?
A. Because there -- there was none ever kept in many cases. When this was first discovered and Chris Olson's attorneys were retained by the LLC, they asked for the documentation. They asked for documents from the Greenes, from Lamar, and none was ever produced.
Q. Were you able to rely on the documentation you could track down? I mean, could you trust that what was written on a check was actually what it was for?
A. Pardon me?
Q. Could you trust that what was actually written on a check was actually what that check was for?
A. No.
Q. So there was a lack of documentation.
A. Yes.
Q. There was a problem with the veracity of the documentation that did exist.
A. Yes.

Q. You were asked about some of these specific charges, like Number 65 on Plaintiff's Exhibit 2, which was a $20.66 debit to a hotel -- allegedly a hotel in Columbia.
A. Yes.
Q. In your experience with Lamar Greene, did Lamar Greene stay at the kind of hotel you could get for $20.66 a night?
A. No.
Q. What about this Item 79, Harris Teeter for $104.21? That's on the same day as a $4,114.63 debit in Great Beach, Virginia.
A. Mm-hmm.
Q. What football team plays in Great Beach, Virginia?
A. None.
Q. Okay. Were you able to identify any reason why there was -- any legitimate business reason why Lamar Greene was making business debits in Great Beach, Virginia?
A. No.
Q. Item 54, Exhibit 2, that's on Page 16, $148, Pink Pony. Do you know what Pink Pony is?
A. In Atlanta it's a strip club.
Q. Do you know what it would be anywhere else?
A. No.
Q. Number 94, Clemson Cleaners. How could dry cleaning be a legitimate company expense?
A. It couldn't.

396

Q. And one thing that I don't understand, maybe you can explain to me, why is it that if Mr. Greene took a trip with the other members, then every expense he incurred on that trip was a company expense?
A. Repeat the question.
Q. Why is it that when Mr. Greene, even if he took it with other members -- a trip with other members to the beach, that every expense that he may have incurred on that trip was a company expense?
MR. TALLEY: Objection; he's calling for pure speculation from the witness.
THE COURT: Rephrase -- repeat the question, please.
MR. PRICE: Okay.
EXAMINATION RESUMED BY MR. PRICE:
Q. Okay. When a person takes a trip --
A. Yes.
Q. -- they incur certain expenses; correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And some of those expenses can be legitimate business expenses.
A. Yes.
Q. And some can be less than legitimate business expenses.
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. What I don't understand is why is it that just because Lamar Greene was on a trip with another member of the

397

LLC that that expense incurred by Lamar Greene should be presumed to be a business expense?
A. Can't assume.
Q. Okay. Is there any evidence that Ron West or Rich Rodriguez were buying their meals with company funds?
A. No.
Q. Okay.
MR. PRICE: I have no further questions, Mr. Brown.
THE COURT: All right. Thanks, sir. You can step down.
THE WITNESS: Oh, thank you.
THE COURT: Anything else, Mr. Talley?
MR. TALLEY: I think I'm done, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?
MR. HUNT: Nothing else, Your Honor.
THE COURT: Anything else from the Plaintiff?
MR. PRICE: Plaintiff -- if Defendant is resting their case, we would make a motion for directed verdict at this time.
THE COURT: You can make it for the record, but I'm going to deny it.
MR. PRICE: Okay. Well, for the record, I am making a motion that there is no question of fact to be determined. I think it's been acknowledged the substantial portion of the funds that have been presented to the Court's attention were for expenses that had no relation to Palmetto State Enterprises and therefore should be -- certainly Palmetto State Enterprises should be granted directed verdict as to liability on this cause of action against Mr. Greene's Estate for breach of fiduciary duty and for liability on its causes of action against Palmetto State -- I mean, against Lamar Greene's Estate, Julee Greene, and J & P Enterprises for conversion. Even if there is some determination that needs to be made as to the amount of damages, I do think the directed verdict on the issue of liability is appropriate because there's no question of fact that these events occurred and in many cases have been acknowledged by the particular Defendants accused.

398

THE COURT: All right. You're protected on the record. Any other motions, gentlemen?
MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, I'd just renew our earlier directed verdict motion made at the close of --
THE COURT: I'm going to be consistent. I'm going to deny that as well.
All right. Mr. Hunt?
MR. HUNT: Same, sir.
THE COURT: Same ruling.
MR. HUNT: Yes, sir. Thank you.
THE COURT: All right. Let me -- I also need to read into the record that the Court has reviewed the voluminous depositions that were submitted at trial yesterday, including the deposition of Brenda Pressley that was taken June 29th,

399

2010. She is a CPA in North Carolina, and just some of the relevant portions of her deposition, she did personal tax returns of Lamar and Julee Greene and also J & P from 2004 through 2008. In her deposition she testified that she uses information supplied by the clients, in this case primarily, if not exclusively, Lamar Greene. Interesting was that she stated for 2005, 2006, and 2007 that Lamar Greene reported zero income from the Plaintiff. She also stated that if Lamar Greene had received any type of salary or income that should have been reported. Also, she testified that any payments that Lamar Greene would have received from Plaintiff for non-business-related expenses should likewise have been reported as taxable income, and she testified there were no such designations on any of the information she received in preparing tax returns. She also noted that there was no income reported to Lamar Greene from J & P during these times either and that he, according to her records, was a 52-percent owner in J & P and also president during the time from 2004 to 2008. She also testified that had J & P received any income from Plaintiff that should have been shown. She also testified there were no records that she was aware of representing any loans by Plaintiff to J & P.
Also reviewed the deposition of Dwight Morgan taken May 17th, 2012. Mr. Morgan was one of the owners of Morgan & Bartos, B-a-r-t-o-s, that worked on the Tuscaloosa project. His testimony revealed that Lamar Greene was actively involved in the project and that Lamar Greene at some point had come to him stating that he needed -- and somewhat of a paraphrase -- a $150,000 deduction or reduction due to poor cash flow and that Mr. Morgan was aware that an invoice would be made from Gaston Engineering in the amount of $150,000. At the same time, there would be a deduct in flooring in order to offset the $150,000. He also testified -- he being Mr. Morgan -- that the $150,000 was to be billed for what he called value engineering services and that at that time he did not know that Lamar Greene was involved in Gaston Engineering. He later testified he did become aware of that based upon Lamar Greene's telling him he was involved in Gaston Engineering. There were also later invoices totaling $37,500 from Gaston Engineering that were submitted to Mr. Morgan on the Tuscaloosa project. He also testified that he had no idea what Gaston's involvement was on the project itself.

I also reviewed the deposition of Ron West, one of the members of the Plaintiff LLC, that was taken March 19th, 2012. For the most part, his testimony was consistent with that of Mr. Brown. He did state that as far as he knew each member, being he, Mr. Rodriguez, and Mr. Greene, initially put in $10,000 into Plaintiff to start the LLC. Mr. West testified his primary role was to find investors and that Lamar Greene was the one primarily making business decisions for the Plaintiff. He did state that he and Mr. Rodriguez told Lamar Greene to not pay Al Bell for any type of services. He also -- Mr. West testified in his deposition that outside of Lamar Greene that Mike Brown would be the one in the best position to know the business dealings of the Plaintiff. Mr. West also testified that Lamar Greene was removed by he and Mr. Rodriguez due to questionable handling of money of the LLC.

I also reviewed the deposition of Lamar Greene. It was taken on two different dates, first being May 12th, 2008. At that point, he testified that J & P was owned exclusively by his son, Jeff, but that he was an officer, and he did state that Mondays were typically sales meetings in the office in Gastonia. He testified that he did have -- he being Lamar Greene -- did have check writing privileges for J & P. It was also clear that at that deposition he did not bring many of the subpoenaed financial documents. He also testified that he ran Plaintiff as managing member up to September or October of 2007 at what time -- at which time he was removed and that Mike Brown and Floyd Elliott became the co-managers of the Plaintiff.

He testified that Lew Jordan -- and I'm jumping around somewhat, of course, but I do want these pertinent facts in the record. He testified that Lew Jordan did not invest any money in The Spur and that he, Lamar Greene, owed him $175,000 commissions not related to the Plaintiff LLC, but rather related to Clemson Towers. He admits that the debt to Lew Jordan was a personal debt. He also admitted that he paid some of the Tower bills out of the funds paid into Plaintiff without the members being aware of these payments.

Another pertinent point, he testified, consistent with what I've heard in the last two days, that his salary was to be $10,000 a month for 43 months, plus two weeks, which according to his calculations would be $435,000. None of this was in writing. He testified it was oral arrangements and agreements with Mr. West and Mr. Rodriguez.

Starting at Page 40 of the deposition on May 12th, 2008, he listed any number of expenses that were paid via the plaintiff's bank account that he admitted were personal, and he didn't really know why they were shown on the plaintiff's records and that they were personal expenses of his. He stated that -- on Page 49 of his deposition that the loans he -- that the Plaintiff made to J & P were never authorized by members of the Plaintiff LLC.

He also testified that the $100,000 that was paid to Al Bell, at which time apparently Al Bell was on the board of Carolina First, was what he viewed as good faith money to attempt to have Mr. Bell use his sway and influence to get a loan with Carolina First for the condominium project. He testified that he was aware that Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. West said they were in opposition to Mr. Al Bell receiving any funds.

He also testified relative to Gaston Engineering that while it shared the same office and the same telephone number he was not aware of Gaston Engineering. He admits it was a false invoice that was paid by Plaintiff, but says it was approved by someone other than him. But he did admit that he got the money and that on the website for Gaston Engineering, at least at some point, Lamar Greene was shown as a principal. He did admit the plastic surgery was not an expense appropriately charged to the Plaintiff, and he also admitted that the furniture purchases were not properly Plaintiff LLC's responsibilities.

On the follow-up deposition taken November 14th, 2008, he admitted that the 2005 and 2006 tax returns showed that he generated no salary or income from Plaintiff. Also, on Page 125 of that deposition, he denied ever being at Sam's Town Hotel and testified that he had never been to Las Vegas, but I understand from the testimony Sam's Town Hotel is not in Las Vegas.

Mr. Greene also testified that he may or may not have signed the names of other people to certain lawsuits seeking collection of funds. Also testified that he was not aware if he had signed certain notes and mortgages in the form of a second mortgage on the Blacksburg condominium projects. He was also questioned relative to over a million dollars being transferred out of certain accounts at Regions. He stated only he and Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. West were authorized to sign on that account, but he didn't know -- he did know that they did not sign anything transferring the funds, but he doesn't know how over a million dollars was transferred out.

The reality is, based upon the deposition testimony of Mr. Greene, the Court does find that there are significant credibility issues and concerns. There is poor or non-existent recordkeeping, and it is clear that there was a significant degree of inappropriate self-dealing in transfers between -- when he was acting as a managing agent of the Plaintiff and J & P and other personal items that have been testified to.
And, gentlemen, I know I'm giving you all, like, an information dump, and this -- let me kind of move into what my ruling is now that I've kind of set the parameters first. I appreciate the fact that you all have been good lawyers in all this. This has been a 10,000-piece jigsaw puzzle that is very difficult for even the best lawyers to put together, and I know there have been difficulties throughout all of this.
And understand this, the reality is this was a high visibility, high glamour project from day one, big name coaches, big name condominiums, big name football schools, and everybody was happy with each other as long as money was coming in, and that's just the nature of the beast. And then when problems started to arise, obviously the relationship started unraveling. And then, based on the untimely death of Mr. Lamar Greene and coupled with that the lack of good records -- it's just an accounting nightmare, and unfortunately for, you know, Mr. Greene here, who seems like a very nice gentleman, he's forced with trying to re-create any number of things that he was not privy to, and the same holds true with Mr. Mike Brown. Trying to re-create this has just been a nightmare.

And obviously Lamar Greene, as a managing member, had a duty to the LLC to keep good records, to keep the financial matters straight, and I completely understand -- the mindset of Mr. Lamar Greene was probably, I know how to do this, I know what I'm doing, everything's going well, and so if I need to take some money from this pot to take care of this issue, I'll do it because I know it's going to all be straightened out later. And that sometimes is the mind of a developer and the mind of someone who has done well in business. So I do have that understanding that there is an obligation -- there was an obligation by Lamar Greene.
At the same time, moving into this lawsuit, I understand that, you know, the Court is also required to recognize that the plaintiff has the burden of proof, and it is by a preponderance of the evidence, and that it can't be a situation, as so forcefully argued by both of the defense counsel, where you throw something to the wall and see what sticks. And I'm certainly taking that into consideration in my ruling that I'm going to give in just a few minutes.
It is clear -- it is noted that there have been any number of inappropriate uses of the funds of the LLC. There were no corporate minutes, no corporate meetings, other than the canceled checks very little in the way of financial records, and it's also clear that both other partners, they got some bonuses, and they got some monetary benefits from the LLC that in the purest of senses perhaps they should not have received.

As far -- and I'm probably going to be approaching this backwards. As it relates to Mr. Brown's testimony, I do find that he, out of everyone still surviving in this, has been in the best position to identify the financial dealings of the corporation -- of the LLC, that he has spent significant time investigating this matter, that he has talked with the other members of the LLC, and so the Court does, you know, certainly give credence to his testimony and to his investigation.
There has clearly been, as noted earlier, intention to misrepresent certain funds -- the use of certain funds of the Plaintiff, including but not limited to the plastic surgery, the Tom James Engineering expenses, which clearly -- and nobody even argues that anymore that these were inappropriate. They were for a personal tailor and in no way related to legitimate business expenses. But then you've got the Gaston Engineering issues. You've got the multiple money transfers from the Plaintiff to J & P, and also you've got the, I think, significant issue of the fact that Mr. Lamar Greene did not report any of these fundings or transfers or income on his personal tax returns.
Now, as it relates to Ms. Julee Greene, it's clear to me that she was acting in an employee capacity and doing what she was directed to do by Mr. Lamar Greene. As it relates to the conversion cause of action, one element of course is that the person, in this case Ms. Greene, has received some type of benefit from the conversion; and I'm allowing recovery against Ms. Julee Greene in the amount of 1,600 -- excuse me, I'm sorry -- Check Number 1642, one half of that amount. The full amount is $2,571.93. That was for the home repairs in Gaffney. I find that she is responsible for one half of that amount because at the time the funds were used she was aware of it and it was directly benefiting her residence -- or the residence that she had a one-half ownership interest in.

As it relates to the other claims against Ms. Julee Greene, I'm going to find that the Plaintiff has been unable to meet its burden of proof. So as it relates to Ms. Julee Greene, the only recovery is one half of $2,571.93.
As it relates to recovery against J & P Enterprises, you know, I do find -- and I completely understand that Mr. Jeff Greene is in a difficult situation, and for that I apologize, but I do find that there is sufficient evidence that there has been conversion when I looked at the totality of the testimony, also, the testimony of Brenda Pressley, the CPA, in what her records show as well as what they don't show relative to these transfers.
So I am -- well, let me back up one other step. I'm also going to allow recovery against the Estate of Lamar Greene for conversion, and what I'm going to do, gentlemen, is go down through the exhibits. It may be best to, so you all can rest your wrists, take down the high points and get the transcript from our very fine court reporter. Because of necessity I'm going to have to go down through a lot of these exhibits item by item.

On Plaintiff's Number 1, which is the First Citizens account unallowable charges, I'm allowing recovery against J & P Enterprises for the amounts shown in green shown as J & P Enterprises loans. The record -- the testimony simply does not establish that these were ever intended to be loans other than shown on the check itself, but it's clear these were done during a time when J & P had significant cash flow issues. So some of these amounts are going to be fluid until the order is actually finalized, but I'm showing on Plaintiff's 1 the subtotal was $112,303, plus an amount of $8,146 representing Item 108, the Thorghian, T-h-o-r-g-h-i-a-n, parts loan which clearly was related to the business of J & P Enterprises, so that should be shown on the conversion amount.

Now, as it relates to recovery against Lamar Greene's Estate, I'm allowing recovery of the items except, as I'm getting ready to note, I disallow 11, 12, 13, 14, finding that there was testimony that these were related to work on The Spur project, S-p-u-r, in Columbia. I'm likewise disallowing

409

Number 20 for the same reason. I'm disallowing 21, the $5,657, because there was some testimony that that was relative to site selection work done by Lew Jordan. Disallowing 22, 23 as being labor amounts. Disallowing 26, the $900, since that appears to have gone to Mr. West's benefit, one of the members of the LLC. I'm disallowing 28, the $300 ad for Miss Teen pageant, finding that that was an ad for The Spur. I'm disallowing 30, the cabinet, because there does appear to be some connection to The Spur project. I'm disallowing 31, the $100,000, since Plaintiff has been unable to establish what that was for. I'm disallowing 32 since it appears that Gary Elder was at one point an investor, and also Mr. Brown candidly admitted he wasn't sure what that was for. I'm disallowing 35 and 36, the MAC Club, finding that that was involving the University of West Virginia, which tangentially could have been involved with the future development of condominium projects up there. I'm disallowing 39 just for lack of proof of what it's related to. Disallowing 40 since the testimony was that Mr. Huizenga was the pilot for the Plaintiff and that frequently going to bowl games was part of generating future leads for business. I'm disallowing 42 and 44 and 45, finding they are related to The Spur development. Disallowing 53, finding it related to The Spur project. Disallowing 56, finding lack of proof. Disallowing 62 and 63, lack of meeting the burden of proof. Disallowing 78, the Talley Law Firm, finding that was work appropriate for the

410

Plaintiff. Disallowing 82 for lack of proof. Disallowing 87, the air travel, because it appears it may be tangentially related to development business. Disallowing 89 for lack of proof. Disallowing 96 because of the testimony about Mr. Biershank. Disallowing 103, the $6,250 payment to Mr. Greene, because it is clear that he was intimately involved and, in fact, was a member. Disallowing 107, travel related to future development. Disallowing 69 and 70, disallowing 128, disallowing 139 for lack of proof of what it was spent for.

MR. PRICE: I'm sorry, Your Honor, 139?

THE COURT: Yes, sir.

MR. PRICE: You said --

THE COURT: Just lack of proof.

MR. PRICE: Yes, sir. You jumped between 107 -- you said 69 and 70.

THE COURT: I'm sorry. I meant 121 and 122. I was looking at the wrong column.

MR. PRICE: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you for clarifying that.

MR. TALLEY: Your Honor, just for clarification -- I'm sorry -- I have 107 -- and then if I understand what you're saying now, it was 107, 121, 122, 128, and the last number was 139?

THE COURT: Yes, sir.

MR. TALLEY: Okay, perfect.

411

MR. PRICE: Thank you, Judge.

THE COURT: Also disallowing 143 and 144, finding they're related to business of the Plaintiff. Disallowing 153 for lack of proof. Disallowing 157, finding it related to the business of the Plaintiff. Disallowing 160 and 163 based on Mr. Huizinga, as testified to by Mr. Jeff Greene, being the pilot. Disallowing 165, 166, 167, 168 as being related to The Spur project. So I believe that covers all of Plaintiff's 1.

And, gentlemen, I completely anticipate that, you know, Mr. Price will be gracious enough to start working on an order, and then we'll probably have to have a conference call because these are my preliminary rulings, and I'm certainly going to give all the lawyers time to look at it and then comment on it again.

Now moving to Plaintiff's Number 2, Regions account unallowable charges. Again, I am specifically excluding certain amounts. Excluding Number 4, 6, 7, 8, 9, 11, 14, 15, 16, 17, 19, 21, 24, 25, 27, 31, 32, 35, 37, 39, 40, finding those to be appropriately related to the Plaintiff or a lack of proof that they were not inappropriate -- or that they were not appropriate. Disallow -- excluding 49, 50, 51, 53, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 63, 64, 65, 66, 71, 72, 74, 76, 80, 81, 86, 90, 92, 93, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 105, 107, 110, 112, 113, 114, 116, 117, 118, 120, 122, 123, 127, 129, 130, finding all these appear to be properly related to travel expenses. Excluding 135, 136, 137, 140, 141, 142, 145, 148, 149, 153, 155, 156, 158, 159, 160, 162, 163, 164, all the way through 169, finding that they appear to be appropriately related to the plaintiff's business or that there was a lack of proof.

Moving to Plaintiff's 3, NBSC unallowable charges, allowing the complete or total recovery in the amount sought on that.

Plaintiff's 5, excluding C, which is $7,500, and I think it -- everybody agreed that should come out. Disallowing H, which is a bonus of $30,000 to Lamar Greene, because testimony is others in the partnership also -- or in the LLC also received bonuses. Also disallowing U, the Myrtle Beach outing, finding that appropriate. I'm also going to give Lamar Greene a credit of $40,000 for the down payment on the Columbia property that will be factored into all this, and I understand Mr. Price's objection to that.

On Plaintiff's 6, I'm disallowing the $22,005 since there's no proof of what the cash was spent on or that it was spent in an inappropriate way.

On Plaintiff's 7 -- and this is something, gentlemen -- I don't know if Plaintiff's 7, which is for the Gaston Engineering change orders of $187,500 -- I don't know if that is encompassed in some other exhibit.

MR. PRICE: No, Your Honor.

413

THE COURT: Okay. So I think that amount is fully recoverable. And I think I have now gone through all of the dollar amounts on the exhibits.

Mr. Price, are there any other exhibits that you're aware of?

MR. PRICE: No, sir. I have a couple questions as to J & P Enterprises.

THE COURT: Yes, sir.

MR. PRICE: I understood that you were going to award on Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 all the amounts in green, plus Item 108, which is the other parts check to China.

THE COURT: Yes, sir.

MR. PRICE: And I assume, but Your Honor has not stated, that you're also going to award all the amounts in green on Plaintiff's 2 and 3.

THE COURT: Yes, sir.

MR. PRICE: Is Your Honor going to award the wire shown on Plaintiff's Exhibit 6, which was to the firm for the bankruptcy?

THE COURT: Oh, yes, sir, thank you. Yes, sir, that wire to Rayburn, R-a-y-b-u-r-n, Cooper, clearly that was an expense of J & P, so recovery is proper for that, and I appreciate you pointing that out.

MR. PRICE: Second question, Your Honor. I assume that you are not holding J & P jointly and severally liable for whatever Mr. Greene is liable for after we do this math.

414

THE COURT: That's correct. It's going to be limited recovery against J & P, separate recovery against the Estate.

MR. PRICE: Is Mr. Greene's Estate jointly and severally liable for the amount that J & P is also liable for?

THE COURT: Mr. Hunt?

MR. HUNT: Your Honor, I think Your Honor knows my position. J & P is an ongoing entity at this point in time, and I have not only the heirs of the Estate but also a minor child, and there are other claims against this Estate. So I would -- it would strike me that the best way for recovery for Plaintiff in this particular instance is -- and maybe this is not responsive -- would be for it to be against J & P, and then the Estate can whittle down and do -- but I just hate to see the Estate bear all that burden. So I --

THE COURT: Mr. Price, my -- at this point I'm leaning towards it not being joint and severally simply because it's an act of the corporation, and the corporation is the one that benefited, but I'll certainly address that when we have our conference call after you draft up your order.

MR. PRICE: And one thing for Your Honor to consider is I think that the Estate's still the majority owner of the corporation. I don't know in terms of who actually -- I assume that this corporation being -- doing what it does, having 50,000 feet of -- square feet of manufacturing has machines, but I don't know if they're owned by the corporation or by the Estate. I just think in terms -- I think it's entirely appropriate that it be joint and several -- at least Mr. Greene would be liable for the moneys that were converted by J & P since he's the one that committed the acts, and then --

THE COURT: You want to weigh in on that, Mr. Talley?

MR. TALLEY: Well, Your Honor, just to follow up on the last point you made, I would ask respectfully that we leave that open. Quite frankly, I'm not going to stand here and represent to the Court that I completely understand the case law on how the individual acts of the one now deceased to the Estate potentially bind the corporation as well. I know there's some things out there, but I'd at least like the opportunity to look at it and potentially brief, Your Honor --

THE COURT: That's fine.

MR. TALLEY: -- prior to that call.

THE COURT: Once you get the order from Mr. Price, you all look at it, and I would suggest the three of you all have a conference call, and then whatever issues are still out there we'll -- we'll set up a conference call.

MR. HUNT: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: All right. Anything else at this point?

MR. PRICE: Briefly, Your Honor --

THE COURT: Other than disagreeing with me?

MR. PRICE: No, sir, I'm not going to disagree with you. I would just – I'll reserve that until you have a final order, and then if I feel appropriate make a motion at that time.

What I would say, Your Honor, is I'd like some guidance – had this case been tried by a jury, all we would have got was a verdict form. I'm not inclined to produce a 20-page order of findings of fact since Your Honor has read them into the record. I'm going to produce an order stating which items you've excluded and which you've awarded to who and let the record speak for itself for the most part as to the specific reasons and the specific findings of fact –

THE COURT: All right.

MR. PRICE: – if that's appropriate.

THE COURT: We'll address all that, and, you know, three good lawyers, I'm sure that we'll come up with something.

All right. And if you all will go through with the court reporter all the exhibits just to make sure that they are, in fact, staying here as opposed to going home in somebody's briefcase.

And two other things for the record, I have taken the original depositions out of the sealed envelopes and replaced the exhibit stickers on there. And I just look forward to getting the proposed order, and we'll go from there.

MR. HUNT: Thank you, sir.

THE COURT: Thank you, gentlemen.

MR. PRICE: Thank you, Judge.

(Thereupon, the trial concluded at 1:45 p.m.)

Amendments to sections of the RULES AND REGULATIONS for Checking Accounts, Savings Accounts, and Money Market Accounts Disclosure, effective June 22, 2007.

Printed below is a portion of the WITHDRAWALS section of the Disclosure, with added information indicated in bold type for easy recognition. Please be advised that the posting order of certain items has changed.

4. WITHDRAWALS.
You may make withdrawals by written authorization, by use of electronic terminals, or other electronic means approved by us or by such other means as we may agree. We may pay items drawn on your account in any order we determine, including paying certain categories of items (for example, electronic debits) prior to processing other items (for example, deposits), even if paying a particular item results in an insufficient balance in your account to pay one or more other items that otherwise could have been paid out of your account. If there is not enough money in your account to cover a withdrawal from your account, we will either return the item unpaid or pay it and overdraw your account. If we return the item unpaid, you agree to pay an insufficient funds fee. If we pay the item and overdraw your account, you agree to pay an overdraft item fee and the daily overdrawn account fee. The fact that we elect to pay an overdraft item in one or more instances does not obligate us to cover any future overdraft items.

Funds Availability Policy
Printed below is our Funds Availability Policy with changes indicated in bold type for easy recognition. Regulation CC requires we send consumer notification when changes are made to this Policy. Please be advised that in addition to making a couple of simple verbiage changes, we have amended our actual Policy to reflect the Bank's new practice of providing up to a specified amount of immediate credit on certain check deposits made by certain customers.

If you have any questions regarding this notification, please contact your local First Citizens office or our customer contact center at 1.888.612.444.

ABILITY TO WITHDRAW FUNDS

1. GENERAL POLICY
Our policy is to make funds from your deposits available to you on the first business day after the day we receive your deposit. Electronic direct deposits and funds from deposits of cash and wire transfers will be available on the day we receive the deposit. Also, we make up to $1,000 (for consumer customers) or $1,500 (for business customers that are not in our commercial analysis program) from a day's total check deposits available on the day of deposit, if the deposit is made to an account that has been open for more than 30 days and the deposit is made through one of our tellers. Once the funds are available, you can withdraw the funds in cash and we will use the funds to pay checks that you have written.

For determining the availability of your deposits, every day is a business day, except Saturdays, Sundays, and federal holidays. If you make a deposit to a teller in one of our branches on a business day before the close of business at that branch (generally 5:00 p.m.; 6:00 p.m. on Fridays at certain branches), we will consider that day to be the day of your deposit. If you make a deposit at one of our branches after the close of business at that branch or anytime on a non-business day, we will consider that the deposit was made on the next business day that we are open. Please note that because we balance ATMs anytime between the hours of 12:00 noon and 2:00 p.m., a deposit made through an ATM may be dated and credited one business day later than if you had made the deposit in the lobby or at a drive-in window. If you make a transfer deposit through Online Banking or Telephone Banking before 4:00 p.m. on a business day, we will consider that day to be the day of your deposit.

2. LONGER DELAYS MAY APPLY
In some cases, we will not make all the funds that you deposit by check available to you on the first business day after the day of your deposit and some funds availability that is initially provided on the day of deposit may be reversed or withdrawn. Depending on the type of check that you deposit, funds may not be available until the fifth business day after the day of your deposit. However, the first $100 of your deposits may be available on the first business day after the day of your deposit.

If we are not going to make all of the funds from your deposit available on the first business day after the day of your deposit, we will notify you at the time you make your deposit. We will tell you when the funds will be available. If your deposit is not made directly to one of our employees, or if we decide to take this action after you have left the premises, we will mail you the notice by the business day after we receive your deposit. If you will need the funds from a deposit right away, you should ask us when the funds will be available.

In addition, funds you deposit by check may be delayed for a longer period under the following circumstances:
- We have reason to believe a check you deposit will not be paid.
- You re-deposit a check that has been returned unpaid.
- You deposit checks totaling more than $5,000 on any one day.
- You have overdrawn your account repeatedly in the last six months.
- There is an emergency, such as failure of communications or computer equipment.

We will notify you if we delay your ability to withdraw funds for any of these reasons, and we will tell you when the funds will be available. They will generally be available no later than the eleventh business day after the day of your deposit.

3. SPECIAL RULES FOR NEW ACCOUNTS
If you are a new customer, the following special rules may apply during the first 30 days your account is open. Electronic direct deposits and funds from deposits of cash and wire transfers will be available on the day we receive the deposit. The first $5,000 of a day's total deposits of cashier's, certified, teller's, traveler's, and federal, state, and local government checks will be available on the first business day after the day of your deposit, if the deposit meets certain conditions. For example, the checks must be payable to you. The excess over $5,000 will be available on the ninth business day after the day of your deposit.

RONALD E. WEST, BEING FIRST DULY SWORN, TESTIFIED AS FOLLOWS:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:

Q. Mr. West, good morning. Thank you for being here. My name is Scott Talley, we spoke just a moment ago.

We're here to take your deposition today. I briefly will go over the rules with you. A little bit different in the sense that Mr. Owens is joining by phone; so after I go through this, I'm going to let him ask a few questions, and then I think he'll probably be on his way.

If any time I ask you a question you don't understand, ask me to repeat it. If you answer a question, I'm going to assume that you understood it and were answering the question that I asked.

If you have a question about anything that's going on, you have to direct that to me; you can't direct that to your attorney.

If at any point we take a break, you're not allowed to discuss what we're doing with him. If at any point you feel like you need a break, let me know. I don't think we'll be very long this morning, but happy to accommodate you in that regard.

Do you have any questions before we start?

A. No.

Q. One other thing, and I'm glad you just did it, any response needs to be verbalized so that the court reporter can take down everything that's being said. Obviously this equipment is not going to pick up a head-nod, and we want to make sure we get your response accurately.

A. Okay.

MR. TALLEY: With that, Mr. Owens, if you've got any questions, you may want to introduce yourself.

Page 6

MR. OWENS: Mr. West, my name is Kevin Owens. I represent Gaston Engineering in this case.

I don't anticipate that I'm going to have many, if any questions.

THE WITNESS: Do I need to respond to that? Okay.

MR. OWENS: Scott, you can go ahead. I'm going to wait.

MR. TALLEY: You're going to wait an hour or so?

MR. OWENS: Yeah.

MR. TALLEY: Fair enough.

Q. Have you ever been involved in a lawsuit before?
A. No, sir.
Q. Have you ever had your deposition taken?
A. No, sir, this is it.
Q. Where do you currently reside?
A. 100 Catawba Road, Clemson, South Carolina.
Q. How long have you lived there?
A. Since, built the house in '99.
Q. Where were you prior to that?
A. Tulane. I lived in Mandeville and commuted to Tulane.
Q. Do you have any family in Pickens County with a last name other than West?

Page 7

A. Well, I have my -- other than West?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. No.
Q. Are you married?
A. Yes.
Q. What's your wife's name?
A. Karen Rebecca West. Becky, she goes by Becky.
Q. Is she employed?
A. No, sir.
Q. Do you have any children?
A. Well, actually I have Brad West, who's Ronald Bradley West, who's up in Boone, North Carolina; I have Laurie Brook West.
Q. Where does she live?
A. She lives in the condos over at -- drawing a blank right now -- Woodlands.
Q. Is that here in Clemson?
A. Um-hmm. It's actually maybe a Central address, it's going out toward Central, the Woodlands.
Q. Okay. When did you begin your coaching career?
A. Started coaching in 1979.
Q. And have you been involved in coaching ever since?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Have you ever, other than Palmetto States, have you had any business ventures outside of the coaching profession?
A. No, not really. You know, I opened my own little S corp just privately.
Q. What did that company do?
A. I've still got it, still, I still have it.
Q. What does it do?
A. It's BD Unlimited. We buy, we bought a piece of property through it.
Q. So is it set up just to hold real estate?
A. Real estate, and it's set up as a total deal.

If you have any questions, you can contact my lawyer that set it up.

Q. Who is that?
A. Brian James in Easley.
Q. When did you form that corporation?
A. I can't remember the exact date. Seems like it was sometime last summer.
Q. Is it an LLC?
A. It's an N Corp.
Q. Are you the only shareholder member?
A. Well, basically, you know, my wife, I was able to, you know, she works in the company, so I actually give her, I gave her a little salary through the company. And then my son was involved in the company too.

Q. And what is that salary for, what's your wife doing?
A. She does bookkeeping and stuff like that.
Q. Where is the property?
A. Property that we own?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. We actually own, well we have a property at the beach. Exactly where, I can give you the address; I don't have the information right here, but --
Q. Is it Myrtle Beach area, Charleston?
A. No, it's Pawley's Island area.
Q. Is it a residential property?
A. It will be, that's what it is, when it's developed. It's called the Bays of Litchfield.
Q. So you're building?
A. I'm not going to build anything there. I was buying the property to try to resell the property.
Q. Is there anything on it?
A. No, it's just land right now. It's a pod in a subdivision.
Q. And do you have that financed through a bank?
A. Right.
Q. Who is that?
A. First Citizens financing.
Q. And you think you bought that sometime last summer?
A. I'd have to look at it. You know, I got the contract at the office. If you want to see it, I'll be glad to show it to you.

Q. Other than that, have you bought and sold properties other than that which you've lived in?
A. Now I bought a piece of property from, a condo from Mr. Greene.
Q. Where was that?
A. Clemson Towers.
Q. And when did you buy that?
A. Man.
Q. I'm not asking you for like June 3rd or --
A. I can't even comprehend the dates. I've had a lot going on in my life, I can't be exact on that.
Mr. Greene probably could be. I mean I can't be exactly what.
Q. That's here at Clemson Towers?
A. We bought the Clemson Towers property, and then we sold it.
Q. When did you sell it?
A. I can't remember the exact date I sold it. I mean I can go get the forms, if you want to see the forms, I got it in my office, the day we sold it.
Q. Other than the beach --
A. Go ahead.
Q. I didn't mean to cut you off.

Page 11

A. No, you didn't cut me off.
Q. Other than the beach property and the condo at Clemson Towers, have you ever done any other real estate?
A. Now how far you want me to go back? Because it's obvious you're wanting me to go back.
Q. No, I'm just asking you about real estate investment other than property --
A. I've bought houses and sold houses.
Q. All right, tell me about that?
A. I mean I can't, you want to go all the way back to Lubbock, Texas?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. Bought a house in Lubbock Texas.
Q. Did you live there?
A. Lived there.
Q. Back up.
The question is, I'm not asking you where you bought and lived; I'm asking you about investments, or properties you bought and sold as part of a business venture or something like that.
A. Private?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. I bought a lot over at Providence Ferry. I don't know the date. I can give you all the information since I've been at Clemson.

Page 12

Q. Is that something you hold personally, or do you have --
A. I sold it. I sold it. I personally bought it. It was financed through Bank of America, and sold the property.
I told you I bought a condo from Mr. Greene at Clemson Towers, and sold it.
I bought the property at Providence Ferry. I bought the property at, and sold that, and then I bought a property at Bays of Litchfield that I own right now that I pay a note on.
And I bought a condo at the Woodlands for my daughter, where she lives.
Q. And are all those held, or were they held in your personal name?
A. Just the one. All of them were held in my personal name. One to, Providence Ferry was. Providence Ferry was. Clemson Towers is. And then Clemson, and then the condo at the Woodlands.
And then the Bays is held under BD Unlimited.
Q. Do you still own Clemson Towers?
A. I sold it.
Q. You said it still is, and that's why I asked you.
A. No, no, I sold it. I got, you know, if you need any information, I'd be glad to give you all the information.

Page 13

Q. You're doing fine.
How did you come to know Mr. Greene?
A. Met Mr. Greene in 19-, I want to say -99, through Rich Rodriguez.
Q. Is 1999 when you came to Clemson?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Is that a yes?
A. Yes, sir. I'm sorry.
Q. And was --
A. The starting date would have been, you asked me if I came to Clemson in '99; I came to Clemson and played here, so I came here earlier in my life.
Q. But you came back to coach in 1999; is that right?
A. Right.
Q. Was Mr. Rodriguez already here?
A. We were together at Tulane, and we came together.
Q. Tell me about your meeting, I mean how did that come about?
A. Rich was living, and I can't remember where it was, Lamar could kind of help me on this, but was living somewhere in those older townhomes next to Lamar or down from Lamar, I'm not sure exactly.
And Rich's dad was coming in town, and I helped

Page 14

Rich out and let him borrow my boat. And then what had happened is, Lamar had that extra dock there at the Towers, and he kept a boat there. And that's kind of where we all talked, first time I was thinking, at the Clemson Towers there. Not the Clemson Towers, but what do you call it, Riverpoint? Riverpoint. In his back yard kind of.

Q. So that was just a chance meeting through a mutual acquaintance?

A. Yeah. And we met and we, I mean, thought the world of it, the conversation, just thought the world of him.

Q. How did it come to be that Palmetto States Enterprises was formed?

A. It was really Lamar's idea.

Q. And when was that?

A. I don't know exact dates. You'll have all the information, I'm sure. I just can't remember exact dates now.

Q. Was it close to the time you met in 1999?

A. No, no.

I think it was, I mean it's, let's see, I've been here ten years so, how long has the company been in existence.

Q. Well, the company was formed legally, I believe, around October of 2004.

A. That sounds right. I mean it seems like, though, that we, kind of that summer, if you're saying it was formed in 2004, I can remember Rich coming down, and me and Lamar and Rich kind of walking through the Clemson Towers, and seeing what the units looked like and how first class they were.

And that's kind of where it all started, I think that's kind of where it all started about.

Q. When you said that summer, do you think that's the summer --

A. I'm just saying, I'm just saying, when could Rich get down here, I can't remember exactly the dates. I could not tell you that and be honest with you.

Q. When this was going on, and I think I'm right about that, I think the state records say it was formed in October of 2004 --

A. I can't remember the exact dates.

Q. Did you still own Clemson Towers at that time?

A. Man, I can't remember that. I can't tell you that. I can go get the proof, and show you the dates, but I can't tell you that, sir.

Q. Tell me about your discussions as you went through Clemson Towers?

A. What do you mean?

Page 16

Q. Well, you said y'all were looking at units and --

A. This is how first class they were. I mean, you know, there's nothing wrong with the product, it's first class. It was done right.

Q. How did you get from that point to, we're going to form an entity, and we're going to do this elsewhere?

A. I think Lamar and me had had prior discussions, you know, me and him had.

But then, you know, Rich, wanted to get Rich involved. Can't remember all the details of it really, I really can't.

Q. But go back for a second. When you met in 1999, up until that time in 2004, how was your relationship over that five-year --

A. Friends.

Q. Did y'all have any other --

A. This is, this is, you know, I still to this day consider, you know, what happened, I mean I always thought of him as a great man and his wife. So that, you know, I know this is a business thing. This crushed me.

Q. I appreciate you're saying that.

And I'm just doing my job, sir. I'm here to ask some questions and see what you know. This is not meant to trick you, to get you to say something, anything.

Page 17

A. Oh, I know that.

Q. Tell me about that five-year period, I mean did y'all have any other business ventures together prior to this?

A. You're talking about prior to forming Palmetto States?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. You know, the only thing I remembered is, you know, Lamar was building the Clemson Towers, and I was able to buy a unit there. That's all I remember.

Q. Would everything else be just casual, you'd see him around town, or something like that?

A. Yeah, we'd have breakfast and stuff. We were good friends, I mean.

Q. How did Palmetto States get started, in your view?

A. Brilliant idea, I think, by that man right there.

Q. And the idea was what? I mean we know you went and built condos, but --

A. It was a successful business. Built condos in a tough market, right by stadiums. It's his idea, Mr. Greene's.

Q. And as I understand it, Mr. Greene's son, Jeff, you, and Mr. Rodriguez, were and still are the three memberships of Palmetto States; is that accurate?

Page 18

A. I assume we are. I don't know all the legal terms now since all this stuff has taken place, I don't really know how to answer that.
Q. Well, memberships in an LLC are like owning shares in a corporation.
A. Well, it was Jeff and Lamar and Rodriguez and West.
Q. What was your investment in the company?
A. We all put up, what, ten thousand, I think, dollars. I brought a deal here.
Q. Anything you've got you feel like you need to reference, that's fine.
A. That's up to you. You know, if you want it --
Q. Well, I mean I want you to answer accurately, so if you need to look at something to see if it's ten thousand or --
A. Well, I think it was ten. I mean I'm not. Yeah, we put up ten thousand dollars.
Q. Does that reflect when you put that money up?
A. No, it doesn't.
Q. Other than that ten thousand, have you invested any more money in Palmetto States?
A. Well, I wouldn't call it an investment. I've paid, I've had to pay a note that me and Mr. Greene co-signed for a guy.
Q. Tell me about that?

Page 19

A. I've been paying this. That's it right there.
Q. All right. Tell us who is Christopher Rumph?
A. He's a coach at Clemson.
MR. HODGE: How do you spell the last name?
MR. TALLEY: According to this, it's R-U-M-P-H.
Q. Is this your only copy of this?
A. I can get you a copy.
Q. We'll get one. But just for reference purposes, we probably ought to make the copy an exhibit.
A. Well, they hold the loan, Greenville First.
Q. That's all legal talk, sir, don't worry about that. If this is your only copy, I want to make sure you take it with you. But since we're talking about it, we're going to make a copy of it.
A. Okay. But you're asking me, I just, I mean I really haven't invested anything, but time.
(Defendants' Exhibit 1 marked for identification, West deposition, 11/20/08, RAM.)
CONTINUED EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Tell me about this note you're paying; it looks like it's at Greenville First?
A. Well, Lamar, I can't remember exact dates, but sometime, I want to say it was in August, prior to this note, Lamar, myself, and Chris Rumph, went to lunch at Pixie & Bill's. And Chris wanted to be involved. And I think Lamar had said that Chris could borrow this money, and he would, I don't know how the deal was, it was going to pay the interest off or something, he could borrow a lump sum, invest it into, I don't know if he invested it into the company or if it was the Blacksburg project, I don't know exactly all the details. And then what, because I didn't, all I did was cosign on the note. And I felt bad for Chris because Chris had to start paying it, and he didn't have the money to pay it. And then all this kind of blew up.

Q. I know you think I'm picking on you about dates, but I'm really not. But they're important. You said Chris had to start paying on it; do you remember when that was?
A. I don't know. I mean I don't remember, I just been honest with you, I don't remember exact dates. I tell you what, though, I would open my files up so you could see it. Or we can bring Chris in here, if you want to talk to him.
Q. How long have you been paying that?

Page 21

A. I want to say I started paying that in October.
Q. 2008?
A. No, it would be, what I'm saying is, this is 2008 October, right?
Q. November.
A. No, no. Let's go back a year.
Q. So you started paying it, you believe --
A. Not this August; we're talking about before all this stuff happened.
Q. So you think you started paying it around October of 2007?
A. Yeah. I mean it's all when this, this thing got kind of crazy.
Q. When Palmetto States was formed, what was your role?
A. I don't really know my role. Just doing, you know, we were trying to find guys that wanted to invest in the company.
Q. Did you do that?
A. We found some good guys.
Q. Who did you talk to about investing in the company?
A. Well, let's see, Larry Fedora is a personal friend of mine.
MR. OLSON: Spell that name as best you can for her?
THE WITNESS: F-E-D-O-R-A, head football coach

Page 22

at Southern Miss.
BY THE WITNESS:
A. Brian Karr, K-A-R-R.
You want me to list, I have to go back and get all the guys. John Lovett invested. Lovett, L-O-V-E-T-T.
Dabo Swinney invested. Brad Scott invested.
Q. Is that what you were primarily doing, seeking investors?
A. Well, I don't know what my role was. I mean I never had been basically told my role.
Q. What's your role today?
A. I'm a football coach.
Q. No, in the company. I understand that.
But in this company?
A. I don't know what's going on with this company. I've been completely out of this thing since the day this thing got haywire. I've not really had much involvement at all in this company.
Q. Have you asked for more involvement, or is that by choice?
A. I just don't, I mean I want the nightmare to go away. Do you understand that?
Q. Have you asked for accountings of moneys for the company?

Page 23

A. I know that when all this happened, they were going to do an accounting. I've never seen all that, I've never seen all that.
So I mean I know that they were going to do, I mean I basically, me and Chris met, and I gave this to Chris, because I haven't had time to deal with it.
It's obvious that we have some issues, so we have to get it solved.
Q. Right. What do you think those issues are?
A. Oh, everything from me goes back to this man right here, Chris Olson, what he told me.
Q. What was, well --
A. You want me to tell you what he told me?
Q. Well, he probably wouldn't want you to do that.
MR. OLSON: It's fine. That's fine.
Q. My question was going to be, that I stopped myself on, I'm certainly not trying to breach any privilege you and your attorney have.
But we talked a couple times about, when this all went down, and I think we can all agree this was sometime in the fall of 2007.
A. Can't remember the exact date.
Q. Okay. Well, just take my word for it for purposes of this. All right?

Page 24

What did you know at that time and what were you told?
A. Well, when Chris, well, first of all, Lamar, and I can't remember the exact date again, I want to say in September, came to me and he gave me a letter releasing me of all my responsibilities to Palmetto State.
And then he signed it. And it had a signature for Jeff, and it had a signature for Rich, and a signature for me. And that's why I came to Chris.
So I first came to Chris with that letter. And it was releasing me, and it said in the letter that I would receive anything from Tuscaloosa or The Spur, any proceeds, or something like that.
He basically told me, in conversation, that my, that my finances weren't in good enough order to be able to do the third project.
And that conversation took place, and that's why I really, I brought the letter to Chris. And I wanted to know, would that really release me.
Q. Were you ever involved in site selection for these condos?
A. We all did that. But, you know, Lamar, he did all the, man, Lamar did all the groundwork, and did a good job with it.

Page 25

And it was kind of like he wanted us to step on the property before he finalized. So he would, we flew, well, we actually drove the first time down to Columbia, I think. And we, we walked on it.
And Lamar had great vision. He could see it, and it was a restaurant there, I can't remember the name of the restaurant.
Q. You're talking about The Spur?
A. The Spur.
Kind of an old, beat-up restaurant, you know, and he said we could turn this into.
And then the Alabama one, these old apartments, just old apartments. And we flew over that and looked at it. We actually flew to other places too.
Q. Was the purpose of those trips looking for property?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Were you ever involved in designing the buildings?
A. No. Lamar did all that.
Q. Did you ever deal with the banks on getting loans for the property or the construction?
A. Well, the only thing that, you know, I called a banker in Greenville that I knew, and he loaned us some money for the company, to get it started.
Q. Who was that?
A. Gilmer.

Page 26

Q. G-I-L-M-E-R, or something close to that?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Which bank would that have been?
A. Greenville First.
Q. Other than that conversation with that banker, were you involved in any of the financing for the projects?
A. Well, I didn't, I didn't finance any of them. You talking about me financing them?
Q. You financing them, obtaining financing?
A. No, I remember meeting Fred Gibbs, but, who did the, oh, Davis Arnett, I told Lamar, you know, Davis was a guy that, when we first came here, he was at Seneca National Bank.

And he basically, we all built our homes, Rich did, I did, all of us, went through Davis on that, for contracts for our homes. And we said we had a good friend at Regions Bank, and that kind of deal.
Q. So is that how the --
A. I think that's how, because Lamar, you know, he kind of wanted to help us do it, and he felt like it was a good project. And that's kind of how it all started there.
Q. Mr. Arnett, did he not do The Spur construction loan as well?

Page 27

A. Um-hmm.
Q. Did you introduce Lamar to him?
A. Yeah, I believe I did. Yes, sir.
Q. Were you involved in any of the conversations with Mr. Arnett regarding that construction loan?
A. Yeah, I sat in some of the meetings, but not a lot of them.
Q. Who --
A. Actually me and Rich were kind of involved in that.
Q. What was your level of involvement?
A. Just, we knew Davis, introduced them. And we had a good product, and it was a good idea, and Davis wanted to do it.
Q. Who was the company contact for Mr. Arnett after that started?
A. Company contact?
Q. I mean did you have any conversations with him throughout The Spur construction?
A. Yeah, every now and then he might, he might call us. But it really wasn't, our deal wasn't, really Lamar kind of headed it up, he handled that with Davis.
Q. Was that by agreement of the members?
A. It's just that none of us had time to do it, and I know that he was kind of running the company, you know, Lamar was running the company.

Page 28

Q. Were you okay with that?
A. Well, within reason.
Q. Tell me what you mean by that?
A. It's like, you know, I don't have a problem with him running the company. I mean he had to run the company; but the point is, if it had anything to do with something that I should see and sign, I'd want to sign it, you know. I mean he can't just go put my name on a note or guarantee something without my signature. Because I feel like I, my worth is worth something.
Q. What payments have you received from the company?
A. The same that I think everybody's received. That right there.

MR. TALLEY: We can go off the record just a second.

(Discussion off the record.)

MR. TALLEY: We'll mark this as Exhibit 2.

(Defendants' Exhibit 2 marked for identification, West deposition, 11/20/08, RAM.)

Q. Does this, what's now been marked as Defendants' 2, does that show you being paid $60,000?
A. Yeah, but 10,000 was what you gave in, so really you got back 50, I guess. Yeah.

But, yes, yes, to answer your question.
Q. Have you received any loans from the company?
A. Yes, I would say I have. I don't know exactly the amount.

I actually gave a document to Mike Brown and had him sign it in September of last year. And I don't know exactly the amount. You would have to tell me or show me the checks.
Q. Is it more than one loan you've had from the company?
A. I don't know. I can't recall.

I actually gave you a document, Mike Brown, and I can go get the document. And then I had questions about something I wanted to make sure of, and I wrote it back in September of last year when all this happened.
Q. Whatever the amount is, have you paid any of it back?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did the company ever have business meetings between the principals, the members?
A. Yeah.
Q. Tell me about those?
A. He would, he sometimes would call Rich, and we'd be on a three-way, or we just, you know, we'd meet.
Q. What did y'all discuss?

Page 30

A. Projects, and stuff like that.
Q. As projects were ongoing, if you had questions, would you call Lamar?
A. Yeah, I mean, pretty much he ran it, you know, we didn't, I mean I didn't know, I don't know anything about it.
I mean it's obvious he knows what he's doing, you look at the Clemson Towers. So I really didn't know enough to be able to give him advice on it.
Q. Do you know a gentleman named Darren Bruce?
A. Yes, I do.
Q. Who is Darren Bruce?
A. Darren was our team chaplain at Tulane and at Clemson.
Q. Does he still fill that role here at Clemson?
A. No.
Q. What does he do now?
A. I think Darren's an evangelist and has his own church, or trying to.
Q. It looks like, through these documents, he was given certain moneys by the company; are you aware of that?
A. Yeah, one time I remember that me and Rich and Lamar wanted to help Darren on a fundraiser for some kids, underprivileged kids. And we all agreed it was a good deal, to help those kids in Anderson.

Page 31

Q. Do you remember how much that was for?
A. No. Do not remember exactly the figure.
Q. Were you parties to a conversation with the Clemson soccer coach about donations to the soccer program?
A. Trevor Adair? I'm just saying, who would it be? Give me a name?
Q. I don't know. I'm asking you.
A. Trevor Adair, he, I know that he solicited something about a game or something for, trying to get, had to come up with some kind of money to do a certain game at Clemson. I don't remember all the details. Or do something at Clemson.
And I know that he talked to Lamar about it. And Lamar may have helped him or whatever. I'm not aware of the figure he gave him, whatever, if he did help him, exact.
Q. Prior to, prior to being here today, when is the last time you talked to Mr. Greene?
A. It's been forever. I don't know exact date. It was actually in Billy D's office, Billy D'Andrea's office.
Q. Do you remember what that discussion was about?
A. Lamar wanted to save the project, the Blacksburg project, and he wanted some kind of form that I could sign, I don't know what, the form I would say, I think would remove Mike as a manager of something. I don't know all details. That he had a way to save the project.

And Billy D, you know, I told Billy D I would definitely come over there and help. Listen to Lamar. Billy D kind of set it up, the meeting, Billy D'Andrea.
Q. What conversations have you had with Mike Brown about the company in the last year?
A. Just how is it going, are we going to be able to get all the investors paid back, we're going to get out of debt, that kind of stuff.
Q. What response have you gotten?
A. We got a chance.
Q. And do you know what gives you that chance or what plans are in place right now, if any?
A. Well, there's a guy that wanted to buy the Blacksburg project, that actually Chris and Mike told me. I don't know who it is.
And then the other thing was, they've sold some condos at Alabama, which would give us a way to pay some investors back.
Q. Have you been any more involved in the last year than you were the three years prior to the company's operations?

Page 33

A. Involved this year?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. Not really, I haven't, I mean basically been sitting back, you know, let them kind of put the fires out and try to get everybody paid back. And move on.
Q. Has Mike Brown said anything to you about Mr. Greene?
A. Nothing, nothing that would, just basically the same deal that, you know, it wasn't actually Mike that told me; it was Chris Olson that told me.
And basically, you know, Chris told me that we had misappropriate funding on some things, missing moneys. And then, then he kind of told me the things that were missing, you know, that he showed me about three things that caught my attention.
Q. Did you ever try to call Mr. Greene?
A. About what?
Q. About moneys missing or things you were hearing or things you were being told?
A. Well, I saw evidence.
Q. But did you ever try to call him?
A. No, I just, I wanted to, I kind of wanted the parties to all sit down. But it never happened like that.
Q. Why didn't it?
A. I don't know. Never happened like that.
Q. You think that would have been a good thing?

Page 34

A. Might have been a good thing.
Just like right now, I think a good thing would be if, if we would get it all in the open and move on.
Q. Were you aware that that offer was extended over a year ago, to everybody sit down in a room, and let's talk through this thing? Were you aware of that?
A. No, I don't know particular details, I just don't remember all that. I don't even remember that.
Q. Did you ever see any financials on the projects, as construction was ongoing or sales were being made?
A. You know, just basically saw what Lamar gave me.
Q. Tell me what you know about the land purchase in Columbia?
A. The land purchase?
Q. Yes, sir. For The Spur.
A. I don't know all the details about it.
Q. Did you know what it cost?
A. I can't remember that. I'm sure you can tell me.
Q. Have you been contacted by investors recently?
A. Not recently, but in the past I have.
Q. Do you know what loans the company has that are still outstanding?
A. I would think it would be the Virginia Tech project. And then possibly the Meridian Bank project.

Page 35

And then I would consider this a loan, because me and Lamar signed that as a cosigner.
Q. And just to be clear, you're talking about the Rumph loan we discussed earlier; is that correct?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Is that yes?
A. Yes.
Q. Are you familiar with a gentleman named Al Bell?
A. Met Al Bell I know one time when we went to Athens.
Q. When was that, do you recall?
A. No, I can't remember.
Q. Let me ask it this way, was it before or after The Spur was being built?
A. I can't remember.
I just remember we all went to Athens, I remember that time I met him. I may have met him earlier at Lamar's many years, but I just don't remember.
Q. How did you come to know Mike Brown?
A. Mike was actually the trainer at Clemson, one of the trainers at Clemson when I played at Clemson.
Q. Did y'all stay in contact between your playing days and this business venture?
A. Yeah, on and off, yeah.
Q. Had y'all ever done any business together prior to this?

Page 36

A. No, sir.
MR. TALLEY: Give me one second. I'm sorry.
(Brief interruption.)
Q. Did Lamar ever help you in recruiting?
A. He hired some of our players.
Q. Explain that to me?
A. Well, you know, when kids come to universities, they can work.
Q. But they were already here at that time?
A. Yeah.
Q. What about prior to them getting here?
A. Not that I recall.
Q. He didn't go on a recruiting trip with you to Miami?
A. Oh. Yeah. But he didn't actually go see players. He actually went down there and he actually stayed with me.
Q. Were you down there recruiting?
A. Yeah. We're good friends, he actually stayed at the place where I stayed and we stayed in the same room. He didn't actually go see any players or nothing.
Q. Were those jobs promised to players before they got here?
A. You know, I think this is kind of irrelevant to this situation. I mean I don't, be honest with you, I'm not answering any questions on that, those terms.

I mean I don't understand where you're going.
Q. Well, I'm just trying to establish y'all's relationship.
A. Yeah, I think that's pretty clear. I've already established it. I think I said we were good friends.
Q. All right. How many times would you go over to Lamar's house?
A. I don't know, I didn't keep a head count.
Q. Was it pretty regularly?
A. Yeah, me and him, we had breakfast probably on average two to three times a week, two times a week probably. We were good friends.
Q. Was that....
A. We'd talk, and I mean I felt like he was part of my family. He was at my son's wedding.
Q. Would y'all still go to breakfast after the company was formed and while these projects were ongoing?
A. Oh, yeah.
Q. When did that stop, prior to --
A. When all this happened. The tornado hit.
MR. TALLEY: I don't have any further questions right now. Mr. Hodge may have some, Mr. Owens may have some.

Page 38

CROSS EXAMINATION BY MR. HODGE:
Q. What do you coach, Coach West?
A. Outside linebackers.
Q. Are you still working with Clemson?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Are you going to be with Clemson after the close of the year, or you just don't know?
A. Don't know.
Q. You mentioned that you got some loans; what were the amount of these loans?
A. I don't know. I mean I'd have to go in the records to look at it.
Q. Were they in the tens of thousands of dollars?
A. I don't think so. I mean I have to look at it. Would be less, I would think.
He's got the check. I mean I brought that letter.
Q. What was the decision process in getting paid the 50,000 in cash?
A. That was, that was Larmar's decision that all of us were going to receive some money.
Q. How did it come about at that particular time?
A. I can't remember all the details.
Q. Give me as many as you can remember?
A. I just can't remember.

Page 39

Q. Well 50,000 doesn't come along every day. So what was the impetus to all of a sudden get handed 50 grand?
A. We had been in business for a long time. We'd already been doing things. I don't remember the exact date.
I just know that I got some money and Rich Rodriguez got some money and Lamar got some money. That's all I know.
Q. Do you know this Gaston Engineering?
A. No, sir.
Q. Have you ever heard of them before?
A. I don't know about them.
Q. Do you know that that was the crowd that the check was allegedly written to by Palmetto States?
A. No, I didn't know, I don't know about them. I don't know anything about them.
Q. Do you know if they even exist?
A. I don't know. I don't know anything about them.
Q. So you've been doing this project for years and you don't know a thing about Gaston Engineering?
A. I don't know about Gaston Engineering.
Q. Okay. Never heard that name before?
A. Yeah, after these discussions, after these discussions, what you're talking about, after these discussions I heard of them.

Page 40

Q. Well, I want to know what you think they are. Because I'm trying to figure it out myself.
A. I think it's, I thought it was an engineering company, when I heard the statement of Gaston Engineering. Because the first time I heard about it was when we all came about this thing. Gaston Engineering, I thought it was a company in North Carolina. I didn't know where it was or anything.
Q. Did you ever call the phone number?
A. No.
MR. HODGE: All right. That's all.
MR. OLSON: Did you say that's all?
MR. HODGE: Um-hmm.
MR. OLSON: Kevin, this is Chris. Do you want to ask some questions?
MR. OWENS: No, I don't think I have any questions.
REDIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. I have just a few more.
Do you still have any contact with Davis Arnett?
A. I haven't talked to Davis.
Q. Were you aware he was terminated?
A. No, I was not.
Q. Have you ever heard the name Bill Teagard with --

Page 41

A. Yeah, I met Bill through, how did that come about. He took over the project, didn't he, Lamar?
Q. Just tell me what you know about him; and if you don't know, that's okay.
A. Well, no, I met him. We kind of met him, me and Lamar met him in Columbia one time at The Spur.
Then I went and saw him one time, I know at least one time in Atlanta, because I was down there. And got him an autographed, he's a big Danny Ford guy, and I got him an autographed picture of Danny Ford.
Q. Do you know a gentleman named Ike Morris?
A. Ike Morris. I don't really know that guy, I mean, I know Bill Teagard better than Ike Morris. I had conversations with Bill Teagard.
Q. Have you heard the name Ike Morris?
A. That name just.
Q. Was he involved in the financing of The Spur land in Columbia? Does that help you out at all?
A. Doesn't help me out at all.
Q. Do you know where the money came from to buy the land in Columbia?
A. Was Ike Morris Rich Rodriguez's guy?
I don't know. I can't remember. I can't remember that name.

Page 42

Q. Did Rich arrange for a loan to purchase the land in Columbia?
A. I can't remember if that's the guy.
Somebody helped us in West Virginia, that might be Ike. I mean I'm not sure that it's Ike Morris, I'm not sure exact name. But Rich really put it together, helped us get it.
Q. Have you signed any resolutions as a member of this company since October of 2007?
A. Now what would a resolution be?
Q. It would authorize certain things to be done. Have you signed any paperwork to that effect?
A. I can't remember.
Q. Have you done anything to authorize payments to Mike Brown?
A. I can't remember that either. I mean I don't remember it.
Q. How would you like to see this resolved?
A. John 8:32.
Q. I'm going to plead ignorance.
A. Go read it.
MR. OLSON: Tell him what it says.
BY THE WITNESS:
A. The truth hurts, but it will set you free.
Q. And what do you, how do you think that applies to this?

Page 43

A. If whatever is on the books, just let's get it solved.
Q. And as part of that, are you willing to pay back your loans to the company?
A. Yeah. If that's what I got to do.
I want to do what's right, just figure out what it is, let me see it, somebody show me. I want to do what's right.
MR. TALLEY: I think that's all I have.
RECROSS EXAMINATION BY MR. HODGE:
Q. How do we make a determination about the total loans that you have?
A. Are we still on the --
Q. Yeah.
How do we make a determination about the total loans that you have?
A. Well, it would have to be a check written to me. And if we don't have a check, I mean that would be the only way I know.
MR. OLSON: Let's go off the record a second.
(Discussion off the record.)
CONTINUED EXAMINATION BY MR. HODGE:
A. When we were off the record, we had a round-table discussion. And my curiosity was, when the word loan was mentioned, I was trying to find out an approximate amount.

And if I understand it, Coach West, you're telling me that you probably think it was an eight thousand dollar loan?
A. Or less.
Q. Or less.
A. I mean but I'm not, I think that's close.
MR. HODGE: That's good enough. Thank you.
FURTHER REDIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:
Q. Can I ask you other question.
Were any things ever paid with company funds on your behalf?
A. No.
Q. No homeowner's dues or anything like that?
A. Well, see, that's, you know, I don't, that's the thing that I wrote in the letter to Mike. And I had some questions in that letter. I wish I had that letter.
I don't know. And that's what I put in that letter is, I don't know exactly, not a homeowner's dues at my house; but I said something about in that letter, maybe that Clemson Towers, when I owned that property there, I wasn't sure.
And that's what I wanted to make sure I got everything dotted. I mean I didn't own that property very long anyway.

MR. TALLEY: Okay, thank you.

This is the deposition of BRENDA HANCE PRESSLEY, taken pursuant to Notice of the parties and in accordance with the North Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure before Renee M. Habrack, Notary Public, in the offices of Brenda H. Pressley, 116 South Main Street, Davidson, North Carolina, on the 29th of June, 2010, beginning at 11:56 a.m.

Page 5

The witness, BRENDA HANCE PRESSLEY, being first duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

EXAMINATION (Mr. Price):

Q. Mrs. Pressley, could you state your full name for the record please?

A. Brenda Hance Pressley.

Q. Okay. Before we get started, I want to just explain a couple things. My name is David Price. I am with the law firm Olson, Smith, Jordan & Cox in South Carolina. We have an office in Easley and office in Clemson. I am here on behalf of Chris Olson who represents an LLC called Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC. It's an LLC that Lamar was a member of and the LLC has sued Lamar Greene and a few other entities under the allegation that certain assets of the LLC were misappropriated. The sole reason we are deposing you today is to figure out what Lamar may have reported on his own personal tax returns and then for J & P Enterprises for their tax returns. And professional to professional, I know that all you did was work with the information that you were given, and all we are concerned about is what information were you given. So that being said, the rules in South Carolina require me to just tell you a few things. You're under oath, and so remember that as you give your answers. We are not trying to hold you hostage. I don't think this is going to take very long. So if you ever need a break, let me know. Okay?

A. Okay.

Q. If you don't understand a question that I ask, which is entirely possible, ask me to restate my question until you understand. If you answer, we will assume that you understood. The other thing is that she is creating a written transcript of everything that's said in this deposition. So when you answer, human nature is to nod your head or shake your head or say uh-uh or uh-huh, okay, but that's hard for her to put it in writing. So I would ask you to verbalize your yes or no answers by saying yes or no or something along those lines.

A. Okay.

Q. Okay. First question, Ms. Pressley, is what do you do for a living?

A. I am a CPA.

Q. A certified public accountant?

A. That's correct.

Page 7

Q. And you're licensed?

A. Yes, in the state of North Carolina.

Q. And how long have you been a licensed CPA in North Carolina?

A. About 12 years.

Q. Okay.

A. I guess.

Q. And as part of being a licensed CPA –

A. Actually, actually, I am sorry, 18 years. Sorry.

Q. As part of your business, do you prepare tax returns?

A. I do.

Q. Have you prepared tax returns for Lamar Clegg Greene?

A. I have.

Q. From when to when?

A. As far back as my records indicate it was 2004.

Q. Okay.

A. Up through 2008.

Q. All right. And have you prepared tax returns for J & P Enterprises of the Carolinas, Incorporated?

A. That's correct, yes.

Q. And from when to when?

A. From 2004 to 2008.

Q. Have you ever prepared tax returns for an entity called Gaston Engineering?

Page 8

A. No.

Q. Okay. Have you ever heard of Gaston Engineering, Incorporated?

A. No.

Q. All right. So, and we will look in a little bit more detail, but to your knowledge neither Lamar nor J & P ever disclosed any existence of Gaston Engineering to you?

A. No.

Q. Okay. Now just for some background, okay, because I am not an accountant and I don't know anything about preparing tax returns for a corporation, things like that, I would like some background on how you prepare tax return, what information you gather. Specifically how did you prepare Lamar's tax returns and J & P Enterprises' tax return?

A. Okay. I will begin with J & P Enterprises.

Q. All right.

A. It's a C corporation, which means it stands alone. It's not something that passes through to the owners.

Q. Uh-huh.

A. We prepare that based upon their accounting records. I think that their 2004 tax year was on a software called Real World, and then they switched to QuickBooks I think in 2005. We go in and print out the reports that are necessary to prepare the returns and bring them back to our office and do that.

Q. Okay. And by what kind of reports?
A. We do a balance sheet, income statement, and trial balance.
Q. All right. And have you produced those records today?
A. I have.
Q. Okay. Who prepares the reports?
A. The returns?
Q. No, ma'am. The reports that you base your returns on, the accounting records?
A. We would just go in and print out of their system. They would keep track of their daily accounting activity, all of their business activity in their system. We don't do audits or reviews, we simply go in and take a quick overview to make sure nothing looks out of whack, and then we just print the reports that I mentioned and come back and prepare the returns based on those figures.
Q. So you would have never -- you would have never matched the reports with like cancelled checks and tax statements and things like that?

A. No, no.
Q. That's something that would be done in an audit?
A. Correct.
Q. And to your knowledge was J & P Enterprises ever audited after 2004?
A. No.
Q. Okay. Tell me about Lamar, how did you prepare Lamar's tax returns?
A. We would take any documents that they provided to us like mortgage interest statements, interest income, 1099R, Social Security statements for benefits, unemployment, any income that they received they would have given me a document for, and any expenses for itemized deductions they should provide documents for.
Q. Okay.
A. We use those documents, our source documents is what we refer to that as.
Q. And your source documents, have you provided those today in connection with the tax returns you produced?
A. I have except for one year which was not in my system.
Q. That was 2006, correct?

Page 11

A. I believe that's correct, yeah.
Q. And we will talk a little bit more in detail about it when we look at these documents.
A. Okay.
Q. But you never personally matched whatever documents were produced to you by Lamar with bank records, accounting statements, things like that?
A. No. The official documents like a mortgage interest statement Form 1098 provided by the bank or mortgage lender was sufficient evidence for me.
Q. Now let me ask you if Lamar received an income from an LLC such as Palmetto State Enterprises, what tax, what document should he have provided to you to evidence that income?
A. A form K-1.
Q. A form K-1?
A. Yes, that was a partnership as I recall.
Q. Okay.
A. And whoever prepared that return should provide a K-1 to each of the partners.
Q. All right. And you never prepared any returns for Gaston Engineering, correct?
A. That is correct.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 for identification.)

Page 12

Q. Okay. I am going to hand you a document that is marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 1. I will just ask you to identify these documents. It's several documents marked collectively as Plaintiff's Exhibit 1.
A. Okay. This is the tax return for 2004 for the Greenes and it was prepared by my firm. The date that it was printed was October 13, 2006.
Q. Okay. So that was the 2004 tax return for Lamar and Juleene Greene?
A. Correct.
Q. That was their individual tax returns. Did Lamar Greene or Juleene Greene report any salary or income from Palmetto State Enterprises for the year 2004?
A. No. Records indicate that Palmetto State Enterprises was not in existence until 2005.
Q. Okay. Well in that case so set that one aside, I am going to hand you another stack of documents.
A. Okay.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 2 for identification.)

Page 13

Q. Collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 2, and I will ask you to identify these documents.
A. This is the 2005 income tax returns for Lamar and Juleene Greene prepared by my firm October 13, '06 was the print date.
Q. And those are the federal and state returns for 2005?
A. Correct.
Q. Does it include any source documents that you provided to prepare those returns?
A. Let's see. Yes, there are some source documents included with this package.
Q. Do you believe that all source documents that you were provided to prepare that return are included?
A. I do believe so, yes.
Q. Do you believe that that is a true and accurate copy of the returns you prepared and the source documents you were provided?
A. I do.
Q. Okay. Did Lamar Greene or Juleene Greene report any income or salary from Palmetto State Enterprises for the year 2005?
A. No.
Q. Okay. In the event that Lamar received either salary or other forms of income from Palmetto State, should it have been reported on his tax return?

Page 14

A. It should have.
Q. And what sort of documents should you have been provided that would have indicated that income?
A. A schedule K-1.
Q. Okay. I am going to hand you another stack of documents collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 3 and I will ask you to identify those.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 3 for identification.)
A. This is the individual income tax returns for tax year 2006 for Lamar and Juleene Greene prepared by my firm. November 8, '07 was the print date.
Q. Okay. And that's state and federal tax returns, correct?
A. Correct.
Q. Does it include the source documents that you prepared, you based your returns on?
A. This is the year that we are missing the source documents.
Q. Are you missing all of them or just some of them?

Page 15

A. I am missing everything that was provided by the client for that year. That evidently is the year that we had some poor administrative assistants and those items did not get scanned into our system. The only thing I have attached is a record of the account with the IRS.
Q. Do you believe if pressed or asked to that you could locate the original hard copies of those source documents?
A. I believe that I can make that request of Juleene Greene because we return all source documents. Whether or not she can find them, that you'd have to ask her.
Q. Is that a true and accurate copy of the state and federal tax returns that you prepared for Lamar Greene for the year 2006?
A. It is.
Q. Okay. Did Lamar Greene report any income or salary from Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC for the year 2006?
A. The name is reflected on Schedule E but there is no income or loss reflected. If memory serves, this was to be provided by Mike Brown and the Palmetto State Enterprises group and they never provided it as far as I know any documents for that year.

Q. Okay. In why do you say that Mike Brown should have provided you? First of all, what should he have provided?
A. A K-1. He or whoever he had prepare the returns, I have no knowledge of who that was.
Q. So whoever was managing the LLC at the time should have provided a Schedule K-1?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. Were you provided a Schedule K-1 –
A. I was not.
Q. – by Palmetto Estate?
A. Uh-uh.
Q. So based on the lack of a K-1 you did not report any salary or any other income to Lamar Greene from Palmetto State for the year 2006?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay.
A. Now I'd like to mention something here that you were saying you were not an accountant, so let me just kind of mention this. Palmetto State Enterprises is a partnership.
Q. Okay.
A. As a partner in that partnership, he would have gotten money either through draws as an owner draw or distribution, however you want to refer to it same thing. He would not have received a W-2. The other method would be called guaranteed payments which would be reported on the K-1.

Q. All right. If I were to tell you that Lamar has already testified that his agreement with his partners was that he would receive a $10,000 a month salary before draws and things like that –

A. That would be considered a guaranteed payment and it should be reflected on the K-1 which we never received.

Q. And we are going to get into some of that in a little bit more detail. All right?

A. All right.

Q. I am going to hand you another stack of documents.

A. Okay.

(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 4 for identification.)

Q. Collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 4, I will ask you to identify those documents.

A. This is the individual income tax returns for Lamar and Juleene Greene for 2007 tax year printed on October 14, 2008.

Page 18

Q. Okay. Does it include the source documents that you base those returns on?

A. Yes, it does.

Q. Do you believe it includes all of those source documents?

MR. TALLEY: I am sorry to interrupt, I am going to drop off, but you all carry on.

THE WITNESS: Thank you.

MR. PRICE: Let the record reflect that Scott had to drop off. He may be checking back in.

(WHEREUPON, Mr. Scott Talley has disconnected from the deposition at this time.)

A. Once again on Schedule E it reflects the name Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC. But once again there was no K-1 provided for that entity, so there is no information on the return other than the name is reflected.

Q. Okay. And do you believe that's a true and accurate copy of the state and federal tax returns that you prepared for the year 2007 –

A. I do.

Q. – with all supporting documents that you were provided?

A. I do.

(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 5 for identification.)

Q. Okay. I am going to hand you a list marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 5 and I am just going to submit to you that that is a list of payments that were made by Palmetto State to Lamar purportedly as salary. And my question to you is that assuming that Lamar was entitled to each of those payments as salary, should that have been reported on his tax returns for 2005, 2006, and 2007?

A. Well if they referred to it as salary, I would have to surmise that it was guaranteed payments which is the form that it takes in a partnership and it would have been reported on his different year tax returns as a guaranteed payment.

Q. Okay.

A. And would have been subject to income taxes.

Q. Okay.

A. Correct.

Q. Let me just look briefly, see if I have -- so if Lamar Greene received $56,000 of income that was purported to be salary for 2005 that would have been subject to income tax and should have been reported on his 2005 income tax return?

Page 20

A. Correct.

Q. And you previously testified that it was not?

A. That is correct.

Q. Okay.

A. It would have been reported on the K-1 along with any of his share of the business activities results of operations.

Q. If Lamar Greene received $186,500 in payments from Palmetto State that would have been purportedly salary and/or bonus salary for 2006, should that have been reported on his 2006 tax returns?

A. Yes.

Q. That would have been taxable income?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay. If Lamar Greene received a $104,381 of salary and/or bonus for 2007 from Palmetto State, should that have been reported on his 2007 tax returns?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay. Set these aside. I am going to hand you another document. Actually let's keep these separate because some of these we're going to look back again for J & P. All right?

Page 21

A. All right.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 6 for identification.)
Q. I am going to hand you a stack of documents that is collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 6. I am going to submit to you that the ones that are highlighted in yellow on this, it's a spreadsheet.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. It's really two spreadsheets, one of the spreadsheets had checks that were written out of a Palmetto State account, all right. And then, and that is pages, they are marked pages one through eight, then another document that I am going to write page nine on right now is a spreadsheet showing cash withdrawals out of the same Palmetto State account with First Citizens, and then behind that is several pages of bank statements and checks that show almost all of these payments.
A. Okay.
Q. Okay?
A. Uh-huh.
Q. I am going to submit to you when you look at this

Page 22

Plaintiff's Exhibit 6 each of these, each charge is numbered. Okay?
A. Uh-huh.
Q. And the payee on some of them is highlighted in either yellow or green. Green is a payment that was made to J & P Enterprises. Yellow I believe is a payment that Lamar admitted in his deposition was for personal reasons.
A. Okay.
Q. Okay. To back up, if Lamar Greene made personal payments from a Palmetto State account for non-business related expenses, should that have been, is that taxable as income?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So those payments should have been reflected on his tax returns?
A. Yes and no. I mean it could have theoretically been a distribution, but if there were any profits that he earned it would have been reflected on the K-1 he would have been taxed on those profits. If these -- these could have been classified as distributions of profits to him which would not be a taxable event.
Q. Okay. Why would a distribution of profit not be a taxable event?

Page 23

A. Because the profits are actually taxed from the K-1.
Q. Uh-huh.
A. Distributions of those profits later on are not a taxable event because they have already been taxed.
Q. Okay. And I notice that you have a business partner out there.
A. Uh-huh.
Q. And are y'all, are y'all formed as one entity?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. If your partner makes payments from your company account --
A. Uh-huh.
Q. -- just for personal items not related to your accounting practice, are you telling me that those payments would not have to be reflected on her tax return anywhere?
A. It depends, again, on how it's reflected on the corporate return. If it were reported on the corporate return as a distribution, the distribution is not taxable because the profits she would be taxed on her share of the profits of the business.
Q. Okay.

A. The distribution itself is not a taxable event.
Q. Okay. Well let me ask you then, without seeing Palmetto State's return maybe we can't get to the bottom of that, but let me ask you, were any of these payments that are highlighted in yellow, and you can just thumb through, I think we already know the answer, were any of these payments reflected on Lamar Greene's tax returns for '05, '06 or '07?
A. Let me take a look. Okay, as nothing was reported in terms of Palmetto State Enterprises, no K-1 was received, then none of these payments for his personal whatever expenses would have been reflected on his tax return. Whether they should have or not really depends again on how it was reported on the entity's return. J & P Enterprises, that is a C corporation and stands alone for income tax purposes, so that's different.
Q. Let's slow down because I am going to address them individually.
A. Okay.
Q. Speaking about Lamar Greene individually, and I just want to be sure that I have got my brain around it.

Page 25

A. Okay.
Q. I think what you said if those payments could be classified as distribution of profits then they don't have to be reported on his individual tax returns?
A. That's right.
Q. But it would have been reported as a distribution of profit to Lamar on the Palmetto State's tax returns?
A. Correct.
Q. If Palmetto State reported no profit or no distribution, in that event should Lamar have reported those payments?
A. That is correct, yes.
Q. And how should they have been reported on his tax return?
A. As taxable income.
Q. As taxable income?
A. Uh-huh.
Q. And that should have been reflected on his K-1 and shown as income from Palmetto State?
A. Yes.
Q. Now backing up, he reported no income for Palmetto State?
A. Correct.

Page 26

Q. '05, '06, '07?
A. Correct. There was no K-1 to my knowledge. I have never seen one.
Q. Meaning he didn't give you one?
A. Meaning he didn't get one from what I understood. I checked back with him several times and he said they are not giving him any information.
Q. If I were to tell you until 2008 Lamar was the managing partner of the LLC and taking care of all the day-to-day business, would you still, would you still state that he didn't provide you a K-1 or he just didn't get a K-1?
A. I would say that he just didn't get one because the story that I got from him was that the partners in West Virginia took over everything and cut him out.
Q. Did he tell you when that happened?
A. Sometime during 2006.
Q. 2006 is what he told you?
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Okay. Okay. I am going to hand you another document marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 7. And I want to back up and just readdress that. How did that come up in conversation with Lamar that he was cut out of the business in 2006?

Page 27

A. I had asked him for a K-1 because Mike Brown contacted me and said I was no longer going to be involved in Palmetto State Enterprises.
Q. Okay.
A. Which was fine. That the majority owners partners were taking that all over, Mike Brown told me this. So when I asked Lamar for a K-1 for 2006, he said that they had not provided one for him and that they had cut him out of the business.
Q. Okay. How had you been involved with Palmetto State prior to that?
A. Very limited. My records indicate that it was started in 2005 and Mike Brown was my contact. He was their record keeper. And in the interest of saving money he said that he was entering all of their information into spreadsheets from their bank statements and so forth and he provided me with spreadsheets, and I did the 2005 initial return for Palmetto State. Lamar had confirmed that Mike Brown was handling all of the activity, putting everything into their computer from their bank statements and I was not going to have to be involved in that because that was their way of saving money.
Q. Okay. Well let me ask you then, so you prepared the '05 return for Palmetto State?

Page 28

A. I did. I did.
Q. Did Palmetto State give Lamar a K-1 for '05?
A. Yes, but there was nothing on it because everything was capitalized. There was no finished project, no income.
Q. Okay. So there was no income, so Palmetto State reported no income for '05?
A. Correct.
Q. And the K-1 reflected no payments?
A. Correct.
Q. No payments to Lamar?
A. Correct.
Q. No salary?
A. No nothing.
Q. Or anything paid out of a Palmetto State account for his personal expenses?
A. That's correct.
Q. All right. Who prepared the K-1?
A. I did as part of the return.
Q. Based on the information that who provided to you?
A. Mike Brown.
Q. Okay.
A. In spreadsheets.
Q. Okay. And Lamar told you in '06 when you asked for a K-1 in '06 that he had been cut out of the business at that point?

Page 29

A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And so he didn't provide you, he did not provide you a K-1 in '06 purportedly because he wasn't provided one, correct?
A. That's correct. And that was basically told to me initially by Mike Brown.
Q. Okay.
A. That he, that they were not, they were taking it over in Virginia or West Virginia or wherever.
Q. And you're sure that that happened in '06?
A. Yeah. As I said, I had no information for 2006 whatsoever.
Q. Okay.
A. Was never provided anything.
Q. All right. And so you weren't provided a K-1 for '07 either?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. I am going to hand you another stack of documents collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 7.
A. Okay.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 7 for identification.)

Page 30

Q. There are some documents in here that are highlighted in green, some charges, it's actually very few. I think it's only three of them that are payments made to J & P Enterprises.
A. Okay.
Q. The rest of these were debits that were made out of a Palmetto State's account with Region's Bank we believe by Lamar. In the event that these -- and then behind that is the supporting bank statements --
A. Okay.
Q. -- and checks. In the event that Lamar made those payments out of a Palmetto State account for personal expenses, how should that have been reported on his tax return?
A. It should be taxable income. If there was no distribution of profits to him, it would be tax able income.
Q. So it's the same deal as with the First Citizens account that we just went over Plaintiff's Exhibit 6, and I don't need to ask you all those questions again?
A. Correct.

Page 31

Q. But I do want to ask you, were any of those payments reflected on Lamar's tax runs for 2005, 2006 or 2007?
A. No income was reported from Palmetto State Enterprises in any of those years for him.
Q. Okay. I will hand you another list and then with checks behind it. Okay?
A. Uh-huh.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 8 for identification.)
Q. Marked collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 8.
A. Okay.
Q. My question would be, first of all, two of these payments are highlighted in green, these were payments made to J & P Enterprises, so I am going to ask you about that again, but I would submit that these were checks that were written out of a Palmetto State account with MBSC that we believe were made by Lamar for personal expenses. Okay?
A. Okay.
Q. I am just asking you to look over these, all of these are in '05, just look over that and tell me whether or not any of those payments were reflected on Lamar's income tax returns for 2005?

A. No income was reported from Palmetto State Enterprises for 2005 on his personal return.
Q. Okay. And in the event that those were made out of a Palmetto State account for personal reasons, should they have been reported on his tax return?
A. Again, yes, probably so.
Q. Okay. Unless they were distributions of profits?
A. Correct.
Q. Same deal as with the other two exhibits before?
A. Right.
Q. Okay. All right. Give me just a minute. I don't want to get my papers all mixed up. Now we are going to talk about J & P Enterprises.
A. Okay.
Q. I don't need this one or these anymore and you don't either, so I am going to set them aside.
A. Okay.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 9 for identification.)
Q. All right. I am going to hand you a stack of documents collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 9 and I will ask you to identify those documents.

A. This is the C corporation return for J & P Enterprises for tax year 2004 printed on September 9, '05.
Q. Okay. And did you prepare those tax returns?
A. Yes.
Q. Is the supporting documents on which those tax returns are based included with those?
A. It is, yes.
Q. So that's 2004 tax return and all accounting records for J & P Enterprises?
A. Correct.
Q. Do you believe those are true and accurate copies of the 2004 tax returns and accounting records for J & P Enterprises?
A. I do, yes.
Q. All right. On that tax return does it list who the beneficial owner of J & P Enterprises is?
A. It shows Lamar Greene owns 52 percent and Jeff Greene owned 24 percent.
Q. Okay. There seems to be a missing 24 percent?
A. His daughter.
Q. His daughter?
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Should she have been on that tax return too?

Page 34

A. She should have been listed for the other 24 percent but she didn't receive any income, so it didn't really, it was sort of a moot point I guess.
Q. Okay. Did Lamar receive income?
A. He did not.
Q. Okay. Did Jeff receive income?
A. He did.
Q. Okay. But according to that tax return Lamar owned 52 percent of the stock for J & P Enterprises?
A. This sort of goes to a legal thing.
Q. Uh-huh.
A. I was told, and I don't know when it occurred so I don't have those records, but I was told that Lamar didn't really actually own it, that it was Jeff and Paula.
Q. Who told you that?
A. Lamar did.
Q. Lamar? When did Lamar tell you that?
A. I don't recall. It's been several years ago.
Q. Okay. But when I look at the front of that, does it not have to be signed by an officer?
A. It does.
Q. Okay. And what was that one signed by an officer?

Page 35

A. I am sure it was, but I don't know who signed it.
Q. Which officer do you have listed on there?
A. I don't have an officer listed. I have just got a place, the lines for the signature, the date, and the time.
Q. If we wanted to fine out who signed it, how do we do that?
A. You'd have to order a copy from the IRS.
Q. Okay.
A. Now he could theoretically be an officer, Lamar could be, but not be an owner.
Q. Uh-huh.
A. It's not required.
Q. Is he listed as an officer on that?
A. He is not listed.
Q. He is not listed as an officer?
A. No, it doesn't say. Well, yeah, it says officer. I am sorry. Beg your pardon. It says he was an officer. It says percent of time devoted to the business is five percent so.
Q. He is listed as what kind of officer, does it state?
A. It doesn't stipulate.
Q. All right. Give me a second. I am looking at the North Carolina annual report.

Page 36

A. Uh-huh.
Q. I am looking for '05, but let me ask you, is this an annual report, North Carolina Annual Report for '02?
A. You mean '04?
Q. Yeah, '04. I am sorry.
A. Let's see. There should be. Hang on. There is.
Q. Okay. Does that list officers?
A. No, it just has the box that the report hasn't changed since the prior year.
Q. All right. If the ownership of the stock were to change, would that have to be listed on the annual report?
A. Yes.
Q. Does the corporation have to disclose who owns its stock?
A. No.
Q. No?
A. Uh-uh.
Q. What does the term beneficial owner mean for accounting purposes?
A. Well we don't actually use that term but I would suggest that it means that they are the owner of the stock or whatever.
Q. What kind of term do y'all use?

Page 37

A. Shareholders.
Q. Shareholders?
A. Uh-huh.
Q. That's actually a more descriptive term. Okay. Let me go ahead and show you, first of all -- I guess let me back up. If, and actually let's not, let's not do it on that one, because you testified to your knowledge that Palmetto State didn't exist until '05, correct?
A. Correct.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 10 for identification.)
Q. All right. I am going to hand you another stack of documents collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 10.
A. Okay.
Q. I will ask you to identify those documents.
A. All right. This is the C corporation tax return for J & P Enterprises for tax year 2005 prepared by my firm and printed on July 28, '06.
Q. Okay. And does it include all the accounting records that you used to prepare that return?
A. It does not. This is the year I guess they didn't get scanned, but I may have actually hard copies of that. I'd have to look.

Page 38

Q. Okay.
A. But they might -- they would be in storage if I had them.
Q. Okay. And I think that -- well, I think we probably will have to ask you.
MR. PRICE: Let's go off the record for just a minute.
(WHEREUPON, there was a brief discussion held off the record.)
Q. Ms. Pressley, the documents identified as Plaintiff's Exhibit 10 is the tax returns that you have, state and federal tax returns that your firm prepared for J & P Enterprises?
A. Correct.
Q. What other stuff is there?
A. There is the North Carolina return and the North Carolina Annual Report which is actually filled out on this one.
Q. Okay. Now what documents do you believe are missing specifically?
A. The source documents which would be the reports, the balance sheet and the income statement from their computerized system.

Page 39

Q. And that's where they would print out and give to you, you never audited?
A. Correct.
Q. Just what they told you?
A. Correct.
Q. And you don't have, I think you testified that you don't have those documents scanned but you believe you may have the hard copies. Somebody in your office is looking to see if they are here. We are operating under the assumption they are not but that they are in storage, but that you may be able to provide them at a later date?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. And that is for 2005. Just go ahead and confirm for me that Plaintiff's Exhibit 10 is a true and accurate copy of the tax returns and the annual report that you prepared for J & P Enterprises for tax year 2005?
A. That is correct.
Q. Okay. If J & P Enterprises received payments from Palmetto State Enterprises in 2005, would those payments have to be reported?
MR. PRICE: Let's go off the record.
(WHEREUPON, there was a brief interruption.)

Page 40

MR. PRICE: Let the record reflect that Ms. Pressley's assistant brought in a document that we have attached as two pages that we have attached to the back of Plaintiff's Exhibit 10.
Q. Ms. Pressley, would you please identify that document for me?
A. It is the profit and loss statement for January through December 2005 for J & P Enterprises and it's the source document used to prepare the corporate tax return for 2005 for J & P Enterprises.
Q. So you believe you're still missing a balance sheet?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. But that's a true and accurate copy of the profit and loss statement that you were provided?
A. Yes.
Q. And that's the last two pages of that exhibit, correct?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Okay. My question before we went off, if J & P Enterprises received payments from Palmetto State Enterprises in 2005, should those payments have been reported on J & P Enterprises tax return?

Page 41

A. Yes, they would.
Q. Okay. How would they have been reported?
A. It depends on what form the payment was in. For example, if it were a loan to J & P Enterprises, then it would be reported on the balance sheet as a liability.
Q. Okay.
A. If it were reported as income, it would be reported in their revenue side of their profit and loss statement.
Q. All right. So if it was a loan, it wouldn't be shown on the profit and loss statement, it would be shown on the balance statement?
A. Correct.
Q. And we don't have a copy of that for 2005?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. If it was a payment, then it should have been shown on the profit and loss statement?
A. Correct.
Q. As what, income received?
A. Some sort of revenue, whatever that it would have been for, I wouldn't know.
Q. Okay. From what you have there marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 10, can you tell whether or not J & P Enterprises reported any revenue by way of payments from Palmetto State Enterprises?

A. I do not see anything that would tell me that in detail.
Q. Okay. And they should have self-reported that on their P&L statement that they gave you?
A. Correct.
Q. Now would Palmetto State have been required to give like, what do they call, a W-9 or anything like that?
A. They should have given a W-9 to J & P Enterprises simply to get their federal ID number. But as a corporation, a 1099 would not have been required to be sent from Palmetto State Enterprises to J & P Enterprises. So there would not be any hard document that says this was paid to J & P.
Q. Should Palmetto State have reported the payment to J & P on some tax returns of their own?
A. It would have been reported as an expense, I am assuming, or as a loan to J & P Enterprises on their corporate return.
Q. And a loan to would have been?
A. An asset.
Q. An asset shown on the balance sheet?
A. Correct.
Q. And what is the other one, did you say?

Page 43

A. A liability would have been reported on J & P Enterprises as an amount due to Palmetto State.
Q. Okay. But if it had been a, let me back up, a loan would have been shown, a loan to Palmetto -- a loan from Palmetto State to J & P would have been shown on Palmetto State's balance sheet as a what?
A. An asset.
Q. An asset?
A. Uh-huh.
Q. A payment from Palmetto State to J & P, should that have been reflected on Palmetto's tax return?
A. It would not necessarily have been separately recorded. It would have been in the expenses and you would have to have the details of those expenses to know.
Q. And would an expense, would that have been shown on the P&L statement or profit and loss statement?
A. For Palmetto State, yes.
Q. Okay. Let's back up again. We are talking about J & P Enterprises in 2005, they did not report, J & P Enterprises did not report any payments received from Palmetto State, correct?
A. I have no way of knowing that.
Q. Okay. But we can tell from the P&L statement that they gave you they didn't show any revenue?

A. I have no way of knowing that because it's basically summarized. See you have got sales, you have got some details here for separate things, but here's for freight, commissions, sales revenue, so it could have been in any of this. I don't have a way of knowing except to go back and try to look at the detail of their accounting system.
Q. So you'd have to go in their system?
A. I'd have to go back, and I am assuming that that detail would be in their details. If it were reported, it would have their name associated with it somehow.
Q. Okay. And we don't have a copy of the balance sheet, so we can't tell whether --
A. We couldn't tell anyway. I can -- here's what their balance sheet looked like, page four of the federal return.
Q. Uh-huh.
A. And you can see that loans are basically grouped together. You have got notes payable that are due within one year and then you have got another section for notes payable due beyond one year, and here's other current liabilities. We can look at statement nine to see if there is anything in there that tells us just to be certain. There is nothing in here on their other current liabilities that would indicate a loan from Palmetto State Enterprises, but again it could be in due within one year loans or due outside of one year.

Q. So I am going to summarize what I think you just told me, you tell me whether it's a fair statement or not.
A. Okay.
Q. We can't tell from the returns you prepared and the accounting records you were provided from J & P whether they reported any payments or loans from Palmetto State to J & P for 2005?
A. That is correct.
Q. Okay. If we were to get I guess the detail of J & P's accounting records, what they used to prepare the profit and loss statement and the balance statement that they gave to you, we would be able to figure that out?
A. Perhaps.
Q. Perhaps.
A. The reason I qualify that is if they had, say for example, invoiced Palmetto State Enterprises for some work that they did, then it would be in there because it would show where the invoice went out and it would show where they received the payment. If it were a loan, for example, then the loan might have been recorded as a deposit without, and unless they reported it as in a memo as in the deposit, you wouldn't know necessarily where that money came from.

Q. Okay. So it would be that you are just seeing deposits and you'd have to do some real detective work matching accounts and stuff to figure out where it came from?
A. Correct.
Q. So if, and I am, you know, I don't mind showing you, I am going to show you Plaintiff's Exhibit 6, and I will submit to you that we believe and Lamar has admitted for the most part that every one of those when there is a highlight in green, has J & P Enterprises as payee, Lamar wrote a check from Palmetto State account to J & P Enterprises.
A. Okay.
Q. But unless J & P did an invoice and did something in their accounting records to show they received those payments, we may know not know whether they were ever reported, we would have to go look and match up; how would we figure that out?

Page 47

A. What we may be able to do is go back, for example here in January of 2005 it shows two checks to J & P enterprises for a loan, you might be able to find the January deposit slips that might have the name of the company on it, if it's not in the system in a memo that says loan from Palmetto State.
Q. Okay.
A. So it could be reported, but again I'd have to go back into their system and look for those details.
Q. Again I am going to show you Plaintiff's Exhibit 7, again just submit to you that this too, it looks like there is only three but there are three items, Item 5, Item 18, Item 26 where I have highlighted payee as J & P Enterprises and we believe Lamar wrote a check from a Palmetto State's account from J & P Enterprises?
A. Okay.
Q. Then I am going to show you again where there is two more checks like that on Plaintiff's Exhibit 8.
A. Okay.
Q. Plaintiff's Exhibit 6, 7 and 8, if those checks were written from a Palmetto State's account to a J & P Enterprises account, we cannot tell by looking at your '05 return and the accounting records you have provided whether those payments were reported whether as a loan or as income?

A. That is correct.
Q. Okay. And we might if we went in detail but it may be as difficult as actually preparing deposit slips and matching up account records and things like that?
A. Perhaps so.
Q. But there is nothing on the return where they said that this is what we received as a loan or payment from Palmetto State?
A. No. It's not necessary for the tax return prep.
Q. Okay. Can you look on that form for '05 and tell me who J & P reported as its stock owners for 2005?
A. It was reported as Lamar Greene at 52 percent and Jeffrey Greene at 24 percent.
Q. Who signed that tax return?
A. This is my copy, so I don't know. It says president and see Lamar Greene, but for all I know they could have whited that out and somebody else signed it, so I really can't say.
Q. And the only way would be --
A. Request it from the IRS.

Page 49

Q. Uh-huh. Is stock percentage shown anywhere else, ownership percentage shown anywhere else on those documents, like on a report or anything?
A. Let's see. Don't see it anywhere else, no.
Q. Okay. On your annual report, does it list officers?
A. It does. Uh-huh.
Q. Who does it list as president?
A. It lists Lamar as president and Jeffrey as vice-president, the same as is on the -- well it doesn't have the officers name on the return itself, but on page two of the 1040 it shows Lamar and Jeff as officers just not their title.
Q. So is it fair to say then that at least from what you have -- let me back up. Do you believe that in 2005 Lamar was the president of J & P Enterprises?
A. When I prepared the returns in 2006, I did.
Q. Okay. And you believed that based on information they gave you?
A. Basically for omitted information. I mean unless they come back and tell me we have had our attorney change the ownership blah, blah, blah, then I wouldn't know.
Q. Okay. And I believe you did tell me if the ownership changes that doesn't necessarily have to be reported in a tax return or on the annual report?

A. It's not on the annual report, correct.
Q. If the officers change, does that have to be reported on the annual report?
A. It should be reported, yes.
Q. So if they report it on their annual report that Lamar is president, it's fair to assume they believe Lamar was president too?
A. Uh-huh.
Q. Okay. Very good. I am going to hand you another -- let's set these aside because we are not going to look at them again, Exhibit 9 and Exhibit 10. I'm going to hand you a stack of document collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 11, and I will ask you to identify those documents.

(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 11 for identification.)

A. This is the C corporation return for J & P Enterprises for tax year 2006 prepared by my firm and printed on September 7th of '07.

Page 51

Q. Okay. What else, are there supporting documents included with that?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. So you have a profits and loss statement and a balance sheet that you were provided for 2006 and that's included in those documents?
A. Yes. Absolutely.
Q. Is Plaintiff's Exhibit 11 a true and accurate copy of the tax returns and the annual report you prepared and the supporting documents you were provided by J & P Enterprises?
A. It is.
Q. Okay. Who is listed as the stock owners on that return?
A. It shows Lamar at 52 percent and Jeffrey Greene at 24 percent.
Q. Can you tell who signed that return?
A. We have it listed as Jeffrey Greene vice-president.
Q. But we don't know who signed it, the only way to know is to order from the IRS?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. Can you tell by looking at that whether any payments or loans from Palmetto State and J & P Enterprises were reported?

Page 52

A. I cannot.
Q. Okay. And you can't tell by looking at the balance sheet or the profit and loss statement either?
A. I cannot.
Q. And the only way we would ever know is to get the more detail whatever they were using to prepare that balance sheet and the profit and loss statement?
A. Correct.
Q. Okay. So if I handed you Plaintiff's Exhibit 6 again, which is the big stack of checks written out of the First Citizens account, you wouldn't be able to tell me whether any of those payments in '06 were reported on J & P Enterprises tax return?
A. I would not.
Q. Okay. Well give me that one back. I am going to hand you another set of documents marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 12 and I will ask you to identify.

(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 12 for identification.)

A. This is the C corporation tax return for J & P

Enterprises for tax year 2007 prepared by my firm, printed on September 13, '08.
Q. Okay. And does it include the supporting documents you have provided?
A. It does.
Q. So it includes a profit and loss statement provided by J & P and a balance sheet prepared provided by J & P?
A. Correct.
Q. Do you believe that that is a true and accurate copy of the tax returns, the annual report that you prepared in the profit and loss statement and balance sheet that you were provided?
A. I do.
Q. Okay. Does that tax return list a beneficial owner or list the stock owner of J & P Enterprises?
A. It only lists Jeffrey Greene at 24 percent.
Q. Okay. Do we know why the other 76 percent aren't reported?
A. Likely because there was no compensation. This is a compensation schedule.
Q. Okay. So we don't know at that point whether Lamar still owned 52 percent or not?
A. Do not.

Page 54

Q. Okay. Can you look at the annual report and tell me who was reported as the officers?
A. It simply blankets the same as the prior year.
Q. So if it's blank, then that means they are basically reporting to North Carolina that whoever was president in '06 is still president in '07?
A. Correct.
Q. So if they reported in '06 that Lamar was president then they by not changing it they reported in '07 that he was still president?
A. That's correct.
Q. Okay. Can you tell by looking at that whether any payments or loans from Palmetto State to J & P were reported on the tax returns?
A. Let's see, there is not enough detail in the reports. So, no, I cannot.
Q. Okay. Well let me recap that if they, if J & P received a loan from Palmetto State, it should have been reported as a liability, I mean it should have been included in the liabilities that were reported?
A. Correct.
Q. And if they received a payment, J & P received a payment from Palmetto State, it should have been reported as part of the revenue received for that year?

A. Yes.
Q. Okay. That means there was a payment not a loan?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. But we can't tell whether they factored in any of those payments as either a liability or revenue without looking at the detail by which they used to prepare their balance sheet and their profit and loss statement?
A. Correct. I'd like to interject something. Part of the process for us to do the return is to make sure that their bank statements are reconciled. Any payment that was made out to J & P Enterprises, a bank would not have cashed it, they would have put it in as a deposit, and that's the only way they would perform that transaction. So I have to assume based on that fact that they made the checks out to J & P Enterprises that they did get deposited into the bank account in each of those years that you have referred to. How it was reported, I can't tell from the details that I have here. There is not enough detail.
Q. Do you assume that if it was deposited into a bank account that you reconciled the statement and that if, that if you saw the statement for the account that check was deposited in that it's reported somehow on there as either included in the revenue or included as a liability?

A. I would assume so, yes.
Q. Okay. Do you know for sure though that you were provided statements for every account that a J & P check may have been deposited in?
A. Everything that was reflected on their accounting records, bank statements and so forth would have been, because I would have gone back and looked and made sure they reconciled it.
Q. But is it possible they had an account that they weren't giving their accounting statements for?
A. It's entirely possible, yes.
Q. We can't assume that you saw the statement for every J & P account?
A. I can't assume anything like that, no.
Q. So we are still back at the same place as to whether they reported that or not, correct?
A. Right. Again, looking in their system might provide that detail.
Q. Okay. Gaston Engineering, Gaston Engineering, Incorporated, G-a-s-t-o-n Engineering, Incorporated, you ever heard have them?
A. I have not.

Page 57

Q. So you have never filed any tax returns for Gaston Engineering?
A. I have not.
(WHEREUPON, Mr. Price handed the witness a document marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit 13 for identification.)
Q. Okay. I am going to show you some documents collectively marked Plaintiff's Exhibit 13 and basically what it is is a copy of the check and then a copy of the cancelled check for a check dated October 6, 2006 for $17,500 made out to Gaston Engineering and then there is another check, another cancelled check for $20,000 dated January 18, 2007 made out to Gaston Engineering appears to have been signed by Lamar Greene on the back, and then there is a check dated August 8, 2006 for $150,000 made out to Gaston Engineering, also appears to have been signed by Lamar Greene on the back.
A. Okay.
Q. You did not prepare any tax returns for Gaston Engineering, correct?
A. Direct.
Q. You have never heard of Gaston Engineering, correct?

Page 58

A. Correct.
Q. Can you tell whether any portion of any of those three payments were reported as income by Lamar Greene or by J & P Enterprises?
A. I can't say conclusively about J & P Enterprises. Lamar Greene did not have anything on his return reflecting the name of Gaston Engineering.
Q. Okay. I believe that's all I have for you today.
A. Okay.
Q. At Scott's request and also because I am going to ask you to track down, if nothing else, the balance statement for '05, anything else you might have relating to these tax returns, we are going to keep the deposition open and may have to revisit it at some point. Okay?
A. Okay.
Q. I do appreciate your time.
A. Okay.
MR. PRICE: And that's all I have, so we can go off the record.
(WHEREUPON, the foregoing deposition was adjourned at 12:57 p.m. on June 29, 2010.)

MARK LOWE, BEING FIRST DULY SWORN, TESTIFIED AS FOLLOWS:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. OLSON:

Q. Mr. Greene, you and I know each other, but my name's Chris Olson, and I represent Palmetto State Enterprises, LLC, who's the plaintiff in this lawsuit that's pending in Pickens County.

And I'm going to be asking you a number of questions about Palmetto State business and some general information about yourself.

It's important that you understand the question before you answer it. If you don't understand it, likely as not it's because I've asked the question poorly. If you tell me you don't understand and ask me to restate it, I'll be happy to do that.

Let's start first on general information about you. Your full name is Cleg Lamar Greene, and you go by Lamar Greene; is that correct?

A. Correct.

Q. And you're married to Julie Greene, and you live here in Clemson?

A. Correct.

Q. And that's in Pickens County, where you live?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you have any other residences other than your Riverpoint property here in Clemson?

A. No.

Q. Other than your wife, do you have any relatives that reside in Pickens County?

A. No.

Q. In the past three years, have you made any significant gifts, significant meaning a gift of money or property in excess of ten thousand dollars, to anybody?

A. No.

Let me clarify that. I made a contribution to IPTAY of more than that. I guess it was a contribution.

Q. All right. No inter-family gifts, though, to your -- how many children do you have?

A. Two.

Q. -- to your children or to your wife, of more than ten thousand dollars?

And what I'm talking about is like transferring property to them.

A. No.

I'm sure my wife has used more than ten thousand dollars on the checking account, though.

Q. Yes.

And the property that's owned here in Clemson for your home is the Riverpoint property, who is it owned by?

A. Julie and myself.

Q. All right. Fifty-fifty or equally?

A. Equal.

Q. Okay. And is there a mortgage on that property?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. During the last three or four years, have you made any loan applications, either for yourself or any of your businesses, with any bank or financial institution in which they would have required you to file a financial statement?

A. Yes.

Q. Can you tell me briefly with whom you have made loan applications in the last three or four years?

A. First Citizens Bank.

Q. And that would be First Citizens here in Clemson?
A. Yes.
Q. At the Clemson branch?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. And roughly when did you make that loan application?
A. You're talking about personally that we signed?
Q. Where they, all I'm interested in is whether they would have required a financial statement from you?
A. Yes, okay. First Citizens here in Clemson.
Q. And roughly when would that have been about? The year, I don't care about the day and month.
A. Approximately three years ago. It's been renewed a couple of times. It was a year, year long.
Q. And they would have probably at some point required up-dated financial statements on you?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Anywhere else?
A. Greenville First.
Q. Also within the last three years?
A. Yeah.
Q. And that would have been a loan for you personally or a loan for --
A. One for me personally, and one for Palmetto State.
Q. Anywhere else?
A. Chase Bank.

Q. Where is that?
A. I don't, I don't really know. It was through Dale Watts and Greenville Financing on 505, number 505 The Spur in Columbia.
Q. All right. How about for your company, J & P Enterprises, did you borrow any money for J & P Enterprises in which you'd have to give financial?
A. No.
Q. All right. Tell me, what businesses are you a principal in? And by a principal, I mean that you are an owner of more than ten percent of the business, or you are a director or officer of the company.
A. I'm an officer in J & P.
Q. Okay.
A. Through the years, attorney has transferred stock to Jeff.
Q. Okay.
A. And I'm sure it's all in his name.
Q. That J & P is all in his name?
A. Um-hmm. The stock, yes, sir.
Q. Right. J & P is a corporation?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. And who would the corporate attorney be for it, who would have transferred the stock?

A. In Gastonia, I'll call his name up in a minute.
Q. Okay. When you remember his name, would you furnish it to your lawyer?
A. Yes.
Q. What kind of business is J & P Enterprises in?
A. It manufactures replacement parts for machines in the textile industry, forklift trucks, and earth-moving equipment.
Q. And when do you think the last stock transfer to Jeff would have been made?
A. Several, we've been in business 28 years, so it's.
Q. Several years ago?
A. Yes.
Q. One of the things that we asked about or requested through a subpoena for today's deposition, was for you to bring bank records, project files, and the like, relating to projects at The Spur, Tuscaloosa and Blacksburg. Did you do that?
A. Yes.
Q. And you have those in front of you there?
A. Yes.
Q. And is that all of the records of those projects that are in your possession?
A. The bank statements, yes.
Q. Banking records in the name of Lamar or Julienne

Greene, Julienne I suppose it's pronounced, Greene. Did you bring those?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Why didn't you bring those?

A. I really didn't know, I didn't read it.

Q. Tell me what your position with J & P Enterprises is, if any? Are you an officer or director?

A. I'm an officer, yes.

You know, it's not a structured company, we don't have quarterly meetings. What we have is every Monday a sales meeting. We don't, it's a small, family owned business.

Q. Right.

A. So we, we're not structured for quarterly meetings, and so forth.

Q. Do you have a check writing authority or withdrawal authority for J & P Enterprises?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. Did you bring the records for J & P Enterprises that were subpoenaed from January 1, 2004, to date?

A. No.

Q. Why didn't you?

A. I didn't see it on there. But I can get them.

Q. Okay.

A. You're talking about the bank records for J & P?

Q. Yes.
A. Okay.
Q. Tax returns filed by Lamar Greene for calendar years 2004 '5, '6 and '7; did you bring those?
A. I did not bring those.
Q. Why not?
A. Didn't know I was supposed to.
Q. Did you read the subpoena that was delivered to you?
A. Not very carefully.

MR. OLSON: We'll have to continue this deposition to when those are produced, okay, I'm not going to make a big deal about it today. We'll just need to get back together for those. Okay?

MR. TALLEY: If I can, I'll state, I have 2005 records, which I'm happy to produce. You can make a copy of them, prior to that time.

MR. OLSON: Tax return?

MR. TALLEY: Um-hmm.

MR. OLSON: All right.

Q. Okay. Palmetto States Limited Liability Company, that's -- I'm going to ask you some leading questions which he can object to, but the reason I'm going to do it is to just kind of go through the information in a hurry.

Palmetto States Limited Liability Company is a South Carolina limited liability company; is that correct.

A. Correct.

Q. There are three members in that company, yourself, Rich Rodriguez and Ron West; is that correct?

A. That's correct.

Q. And at the time that it was founded or started, up until this past October, that is October of 2007, I believe it was a, quote, member managed company, as opposed to a, quote, manager managed company, according to the operating agreement and the documents filed with the State of South Carolina.

Is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. But as a matter of fact, you, of the three members you were the partner, you were the member that was acting in running the business, as opposed to Rodriguez or West?

A. Correct.

Q. All right. And then in October, the LLC was changed to make it a manager managed LLC, and Mike Brown and Floyd Elliott were appointed co-managers; is that correct?

A. I thought that was September 15th.

Q. Okay, but it was back in the fall sometime 2007. Okay.

MR. OLSON: Now, let me look at some documents here. Give me just a second to get them in front of me.

We're going to talk about investor agreements. And I'm going to move to introduce these as Plaintiff's Exhibit number 1. And after they're marked, I'm going to let Mr. Greene look at them and see if he agrees that's what they are. And to save stamps, I'm going to introduce these as a group, 1.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 1 marked for identification, Lamar Greene deposition, 5/12/08, RAM.)

Q. Mr. Greene, I'm showing to you Plaintiff's Exhibit number 1. Can you tell me if those are copies of all of the investor agreements for Palmetto States Enterprises, LLC?

A. (Witness reviewing documents.)

(Mr. Ed Smith enters the deposition room.)

MR. OLSON: Let's stop here for a second and let the record show that Ed Smith is here, representing Gaston Engineering.

And I was supposed to say at the start of this deposition, but forgot, that Charlie Hodge called, he had information that has been openly discussed that he didn't think that Mr. Greene was going to be here today for the deposition, so he didn't schedule himself to be here.

And I told him, when he called me just at the start of this, that it was, that we would continue this deposition to another date anyway, and he just wants to be able to ask whatever questions that he can, which is fine by me. Okay.

Q. All right. If you would, Mr. Greene, hand me those, hand me the investor agreements that have been marked as Plaintiff's Exhibit number 1.

And I'm going to hand them to you one by one as we go through them.

This first one, Lew Jordon: Mr. Jordan will receive -- I'm reading from it -- Mr. Jordan will receive $175,000 from the sale of unit number 511, The Spur, or 16 months from this date, April 25, '05, whichever is earliest.

Signed, Lamar Greene, Manager, J & P Properties, Lamar Greene.

Now, did Lew Jordon invest any money in The Spur?

A. No.

Q. And why was he going to be paid $175,000?

A. Because I intended to buy this unit and resell it.

Q. You intended to buy?

A. Yeah, 511.

Q. I don't understand why he's getting $175,000?

A. That's commissions that I owe him, commissions that I owed him.

Q. Commissions that you owed him?

A. Yes.

Q. Were the commissions that you owed him in any way related to Palmetto State Enterprises' business?

A. No.

Q. Was it related to an earlier real estate development --

A. Yes, the Towers.

Q. -- that you had done through J & P Enterprises, or yourself?

A. I don't recall a name. They were in reference to the Towers, Clemson Towers.

Q. Clemson Towers?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. Why did you think it was appropriate to use Spur money, Palmetto investors' money, to pay Mr. Jordan $175,000?

A. Because I thought we would be out of debt, and I was buying 511, I wound up buying 505.

Q. I'm not following you. My question is --

A. Excuse me for interrupting.

This is how he was going to get repaid, from a unit at The Spur, the profit on the unit at The Spur.

Q. You intended this to come out of your money --

A. Yes.

Q. -- your individual money?

A. Yes.

Q. So is that money still owed to Mr. Jordon?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. You acknowledge then that that's your individual obligation, and not an obligation of Palmetto Properties, LLC?

A. Yes, um-hmm.

Q. All right. And Larry Sloan, I'm going to read it, dated November 4th, 2005:

"Mr. Larry Sloan: Your investment of 200,000 will be returned to you, plus an additional 150,000, total 350,000, on or before April 6, 2007. Collateral for you will be Unit 309 at The Legends of Tuscaloosa, located at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, and is guaranteed by Palmetto State Enterprises and The Legends of Tuscaloosa, LLC."

Did you receive $200,000 --

A. Yes.

Q. -- from.

All right. Do you recall where the $200,000 Mr. Sloan gave to you was deposited?

A. Yes, in the First, First, either in the First, it wound up in First Citizens, but it was deposited with Fred Gibbs, Bank Capital.

Q. Okay, with Bank Capital? Fred Gibbs with Bank Capital is where it was deposited.

And why was it deposited there?

A. Because you show, we were getting contracts to meet the requirements on the bank, so many pre-sales. And a portion of this, and I'll have to look and see, ten percent of the sales price, was in Bank Capital, which was transferred to Nexity Bank in Birmingham.

And that's where the money was.

Q. Okay. Now I've got one for Mr. and Mrs. Roger McIntosh, I'm not going to read the whole thing, but it appears to be dated maybe April of 2007, for $150,000, for an investment in The Legends of Blacksburg.

Is that one of the investors?

A. Yes, it is.

Q. And down at the bottom, at the end of that, you say that, it says that, this investment is personally guaranteed by yourself, Rich Rodriguez and Ron West. And you signed that personal guarantee; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And did Ron West and Rich Rodriguez sign a personal guarantee?

A. No.

Q. Did Ron West and Rich Rodriguez give you permission to use them as personal guarantors?

A. As members of Palmetto State, yes.

Q. And how did they do that?

A. Told me to do what was necessary to get, we had to get money raised.

Q. Did you ever have an LLC resolution authorizing you to use Ron West and Rich Rodriguez' name on personal guarantees?

A. No.

Q. All right. You agree that you are personally obligated to Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh on that investment instrument?

A. I agree that the three of us are, because everybody knew the circumstances.

Q. And when did they know the circumstances?

A. Every time we talked about getting a loan I investor in.
Q. And what you're saying under oath is that you told Rich Rodriguez that you were going to use his name on a personal guarantee?
A. Him and Ron.
Q. And do you have anything in writing, an e-mail, a letter, an acknowledgment, a resolution, that says you had the authority to do that?
A. No.
Q. This next one -- where did Mr. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh's money get deposited?
A. First Citizens.
Q. In Clemson?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. And the next one is an investment or deposit, is this an investment or deposit? By deposit, I mean earnest money deposit.
A. I am not familiar with Mr. Wickline. Ron West handled this.
Q. Do you know where the money for that one went?
A. This has gone into Bank Capital, or it went into First Citizen. It wound up in First Citizens, because the only state that we can use deposits or investments is in the State of South Carolina.

Q. Right. Right.
A. I have information on all this from Bank Capital. And we can decipher through it.
Q. We'll look at it before the day's out.
All right, the next --
A. Just one second.
Mr. Wickline's name is right there on the very first line on his deposit.
Q. Okay. I understand that you didn't deal with that person, that Ron West did; but it is your understanding that that was just an investment, here is my money, do the best you can with it, or was it actually an earnest money deposit for a unit he's going to buy?
A. It went as an earnest deposit, earnest money deposit.
Q. Okay. All right. The next one I'm looking at --
A. I say that now, depends on how much, yeah, 51, 51,000.
Q. The next one I'm looking at is a note, and the mortgage dated 1 October 2005, from Palmetto, the mortgage is from Palmetto State Enterprises to Gary Elder, and so is the note for $200,000?
A. Yes, that's correct.
Q. And where was that money deposited?
A. First Citizens.

Q. All right, in Clemson?
A. Well, let me back up now.

33,000 of it was used as a deposit in Tuscaloosa; the rest was in First Citizens.

Q. All right. The next document I have is a contract of sale between Palmetto States and John and Carol Lovett on a unit at The Spur.

And it has an addendum to it that Palmetto State Properties agrees to guarantee a return of 12 percent on $345,000 after twelve months, or 17 percent on $345,000 after 18 months to John Lovett.

It is Mr. Lovett's choice to exercise either option. The deposit of 34-5 will be returned plus above earnings.

And attached also is an investment of $39,312 for Unit 210, The Legends of Tuscaloosa, in which he has a choice of closing on Unit 210, close and resell Unit 210, or get the deposit back plus an additional $39,312.

And the last one is, tell me what this last one is, dated August 2nd, 2006, with the Lovetts?

A. His investment came due 93,000, and he rolled it over to the Blacksburg; he didn't receive any money, rolled it over to the Blacksburg units.

Q. All right, so the $93,000 is a total of the first two? I mean he didn't get those, and it's not in addition to the first two; is that correct?

A. I think that's correct, yes, sir.

Q. All right. And where was Mr. and Mrs. Lovett's money deposited?

A. In First, it would be in the First Citizens. This one right here, 39,000.

Q. Now, this next one looks like a prospectus given to Bill Stewart of Morgantown, West Virginia. Did Mr. Stewart invest money?

A. Yes, he did.

Q. And did he invest according to that document?

A. He invested 200.

Q. $200,000?

A. Yes.

Q. And where was his money placed, his investment placed?

A. First, First Citizens.

Q. Okay. The bank records that we have from First Citizens from December of 2006, show $100,000 being deposited in December of '06 from Mr. Stewart, and then $200,000 being deposited in March of 2007.

So did he put a total of 300,000 up? Because we've got two different deposits.

A. I can't tell you the total; I know he invested twice.

Q. Okay. All right.

The next one is an investment of $100,000 in The Legends of Blacksburg, dated July 22nd, '07, by Lee D'Andrea. Where --

A. First Citizens.

Q. Did she make that investment, first of all?

A. Yes.

Q. And it was deposited in First Citizens?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. Okay. The next one is an investment by Dabo Swinney, dated July 20th, 2005. Did he give, did Dabo Swinney give money, or did he just agree to work and sell units, or what?

A. He sold units.

Q. Did he also invest money?

A. Yes.

Q. If I told you, if I told you that there was an investment of $32,500 on July 27, 2005, do you know what account that went into?

A. It would have been the First Citizens.

Q. And if it's not?

A. Wait a minute, it could have went to Bank Capital, one of the two.

Q. Either Bank Capital --

A. If that was a deposit on a unit, it went to Bank

Capital.

Q. If it was like an earnest money deposit, it went to Bank Capital; and if it was an investment, it went into First Citizens?

A. Correct.

Q. Okay.

A. Um-hmm.

And I have his commission check somewhere, if I just put my hand on it, where we paid him commissions for selling units at Tuscaloosa. And I can get it.

Q. The next one is from Floyd Elliott, dated April 10, 2005. And I can't tell, how much money did Floyd Elliott put up?

A. I'm saying it's 50. I don't recall. I'll have to look it up and see.

Q. Does that say which property it was an investment in, whether it was The Spur or Tuscaloosa?

Units 411 and 608, is that The Spur, you think?

A. I don't know. Let me find out.

Q. Okay, if you have something you think you can refer to there?

A. Yeah.

A. I have a colored chart of The Spur, and it would have his name on it.

Q. Let me see if I can help you with that.

$50,000 for Unit 411, 34,500 for Unit 608, total 84-5, deposited in Carolina First in the lawyer's escrow account.

Does that sound right, as deposits, purchase money deposits on units?

A. Carolina First?

Q. Yes.

Because as I understand it, the lender required those moneys go into some escrow account somewhere. Because it was Tuscaloosa, the money couldn't be used?

A. Trey Harrell law firm.

Q. As I pass these over, let's kind of keep them all together, because we're going to make them an exhibit to this.

All right. An investment instrument dated December 31, '06, Bill Stewart, $200,000?

A. That's correct.

Q. Where would that money have been deposited?

A. Unit 613 at Tuscaloosa.

Q. Okay.

A. And from that 200,000, whatever the ten percent of that unit would be in Bank Capital. Which in turn went to Nexity Bank.

Q. This appears to me to be something about Mr. and Mrs. Lovett's arrangement, because I see the name Lovett down there at the bottom. Does that evidence some sort of investment they made?

A. Yes.

Q. And this one is Terry Don Phillips; I understand that one's been paid off. Is that correct?

A. We paid off one of his, maybe two. I can't recall. Oh, Terry Don. I'm thinking about Billy. Yes, it's been paid.

Q. Here's one, well, in fact here are two, three, for Brad Scott. I understand they've been paid off?

A. That is correct.

Q. Here is another one for Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Roger McIntosh, for $250,000, Legends of Blacksburg. And that one also has words relating to a personal guarantee at the bottom?

A. It's guaranteed by Palmetto States and its principals, yes.

Q. And again you say you had permission from Ron West and Rich Rodriguez?

A. Ron signed several of these.

Q. Another one with Brad Scott. I understand that's been paid?

A. Yes.

Q. One for Tony Gibson?

A. Gibson. It's paid.
Q. That one's paid?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. One for Earl Williamson?
A. That's been paid.
Q. Been paid, okay.
One for Undra, U-N-D-R-A, Johnson?
A. It has not been paid. And I don't really know this gentleman. He's from somewhere in West Virginia; never met him, so I don't really know him.
Q. Do you know where the money was deposited?
A. Um-hmm, that would be Trey Harrell's.
Q. Another one for Undra Johnson?
A. I think this may be the same.
Yeah, that's the same.
Q. All right, one is handwritten and the other one is typed, but it's the same investment?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. One for Bill D'Andrea for $46,800. It's not signed. Was that money invested by Mr. D'Andrea?
A. I have a note here that it was refunded, check number 1328, on 11 of 7, and it's not signed, so I don't, I'd have to, I suspect it was refunded.
Q. Another one, which I understand from what you earlier said, is cumulative, is the cumulative number of John and Carol Lovett of $93,000?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. And another one for the Lovetts, which I assume is part of the $93,000?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that correct?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. One for Paul Mahaffey, giving him choices of three different investments; do you recall how much money Mr. Mahaffey put up?

A. A hundred.

Q. A hundred thousand dollars?

And where was that money deposited?

A. At First Citizens.

And I'm telling you First Citizens or Bank Capital, I can be off. But we can find it, because it's right here.

That's a proposal, not a contract.

Q. Right, proposal.

All right, now, I noticed in going through these investments, that several of these investors lived in other states other than South Carolina. For example, Mr. Mahaffey lives in Maine?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. Several of them were in West Virginia.

Are you, was this security registered?

A. No.

MR. TALLEY: Object to the form.

Q. Was this investment registered anywhere? Did you register it with any governmental agency?

A. No. Take the Fifth on it.

Q. By that, you are saying that you're pleading the Fifth Amendment, refusing to answer on the grounds it may tend to incriminate you?

A. Yes.

MR. TALLEY: Can we go off the record one second?

MR. OLSON: Yes.

(Discussion off the record.)

Q. All right. Now, the moneys from the investors and the moneys from the sale of condominium units and buyers' deposits were deposited in a number of different accounts, and I want to be sure I understand which accounts.

The First Citizens account here in Clemson --

A. Um-hmm.

Q. -- that we subpoenaed and have received copies of all of those account records.

Now that account actually was in what name?

A. Palmetto Properties or Palmetto State, one of them.

Q. All right. And what was Palmetto Properties?

A. Same thing as Palmetto State.

Q. Was there ever an LLC called Palmetto Properties?

A. I don't, I don't recall, I don't know.

Q. Did the account at First Citizens that we have copies of records for, and I can tell you was entitled Palmetto Properties, did you operate other business from that account, or simply Palmetto State's business?

A. Did not operate another company.

I took personal payment out of it for items.

Q. Did you pay bills for Clemson Towers out of it?

A. Yes.

Q. At the time that these investors made their investment, did you tell them that you were going to use their money to pay other bills?

A. No.

Q. Do you think they would have made the investment, had they known that?

A. I don't know.

Q. Would you have made the investment, had you known that?

A. If I had a guarantee, I probably would.

Q. All right. Another account that some of the moneys went into, was the Bank Capital loan account. Is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. In seeing, in looking at the First Citizens records, we're seeing that some checks were deposited into Palmetto Bank, into an account at Palmetto Bank. What account would that have been?

Did you have any kind of banking relationship --

A. Yeah, I have a personal account with Palmetto. And I have, and J & P has an account with them.

Q. And do you have today the account numbers of those accounts, do you have that with you today?

A. I don't have it with me.

Q. Can you furnish the numbers of those accounts?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. Any account that you have with Palmetto Bank, either with J & P, your name, or any other company that you are also the director of?

A. I don't have any of those with me, no.

Q. Is there a Palmetto States account at Palmetto Bank, or was there?

A. No. Not to my recollection.

Q. Is there or was there a Palmetto States account at Regions Bank?

A. Yes, there was.
Q. Tell me about that account. What was it there for?
A. Regions was one of the lenders in the construction loan.
Q. Okay.
A. And the account was set up with three credit cards, one for me, one for Ron, one for Rich.
Q. Okay.
A. And to operate our daily businesses, such as gasoline, food, lodging, and so forth, that's where that money come from.
Q. All right. Do you have copies of the records of the Regions Bank account, do you have bank records for that?
A. Yes, um-hmm.
Q. Let me ask you about something that I'm a little puzzled about.

One day last week we, we meaning this office, got copies of First Citizens bank account records in response to our discovery request to your lawyer.

I'm assuming you furnished your lawyer with those First Citizens account records that were sent over here?
A. If I didn't, I will. I think I did.
Q. Well, I understand from talking with Greg Cooley, the CPA that we agreed would do an accounting, that he never could get those records from you.

Now if that's true, how come your lawyer could and he couldn't?

A. I never knew that he wanted them.

Q. So if Greg Cooley is telling me that, that he couldn't get those records from you, he's either mistaken or lying?

A. I didn't give him the information. I doubt if he's lying. They're available. And I may have them here.

Q. Okay.

A. And to my recollection, when we opened the construction loan, $9,000 was put in this account; three credit cards were issued, credit cards had the same number on them, and it was for the daily operating expenses.

Q. All right.

MR. OLSON: Y'all want to take a break?

MR. TALLEY: Yes.

(Brief recess.)

MR. OLSON: Back on the record.

Q. There are three investments, Mr. Greene, that we can't find the deposits for. One by the D'Andreas dated 12/21/2005, for $48,000; one for Dabo Swinney,

July 27th, 2005, for $32,500; and one for, I believe his name is Earl, I may be mistaken, Williamson --

A. Williamson.

Q. -- of September 7, 2005, for $41,000?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. For a total of $121,500.

They didn't go into the First Citizens account, we know. So what you're telling me is, they went into one of these other accounts?

A. I have it right here.

Q. Okay.

A. Swinney went into Bank Capital, $40,296.

Q. Um-hmm?

A. D'Andrea, 33,186 into Bank Capital.

Q. Okay.

A. Who was the other one?

Q. Williamson.

A. Earl Williamson.

I don't have his at Bank Capital. We'll find where it goes.

Q. Let's talk about your pay. And I'm going to be referring to documents that your lawyer furnished us, plus some documents that I furnished.

Bear with me just a second, I've got to find my documents.

Q. First what I want to do is, these are First Citizens banking records that we produced for your lawyer's discovery. And I want to introduce a copy of this as Plaintiff's Exhibit number 2. And I'm going to ask you about several items in there, okay.

First of all, can you glance through this and agree with me that these are First Citizens bank records?

And incidentally, they are stamped on the lower right of each page, other than the first page which is a reference page, there's a number stamped. And that's our number; that's not a bank number, that's our number. Okay?

(Discussion off the record.)

Q. Can you agree those are First Citizens bank records --

A. Yes.

Q. -- on the business account called Palmetto Properties that was maintained at First Citizens bank?

A. Yes.

MR. OLSON: We would move then to introduce it as Plaintiff's Exhibit number 2.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 2 marked for identification, Lamar Greene deposition, 5/12/08, RAM.)

Q. Now I understand from the response that you've made in your interrogatories, that you thought that you were entitled to a total salary of $435,000, because that would be 43 months and two weeks at $10,000 per month. Is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. That salary would have begun, when, March of 2004?

A. You're looking at the numbers. That may be, I'm sure that's right.

Q. I'm just looking at documents that were produced for you or by you --

A. That's when we started work, started work on Palmetto Properties projects.

Q. All right. And who made the agreement to pay you $10,000 a month beginning in March of 2004?

A. Rich and Ron agreed to pay me 10,000 a month for managing Palmetto Properties.

Q. All right. And is that agreement in writing?

A. No.

Q. Is there any memo of that agreement?

A. No.

Q. Any --

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. And is it not true that at the time the loan was closed for The Spur project through the bank and the banker Davis Arnett, that that is when the salary was to start?

A. That's when they started paying me; the salary started way back. I mean we just didn't go to work the day the construction loan was signed.

Q. Oh, I understand that. But you didn't actually start drawing a salary until then, did you?

A. Not a salary, that's correct.

Q. All right. Yet you say now that there was an agreement to pay you a salary beginning in March of 2004?

A. I don't know the exact month, but I know it was for the entirety of Palmetto State.

Q. The 43-and-a-half months?

A. I'm thinking it was 42; if it's 43, that's okay.

Q. Now, if, when we look at the, at the records, the banking records of Palmetto States, and there was money available to pay you before the bank loan closed, and according to you an agreement that you would be paid, how come you didn't take a salary?

A. When we started this project we had $20,000 in the bank. We never generated any income until we started getting deposits and investors putting in.

I didn't want to use up the money.

Q. Okay. But you had investors' deposits all along there in 2004 and 2005, did you?

A. In '4, I don't remember when the first one came in.

Q. Okay. And in 2004, how much time each month were you spending on Palmetto States?

A. How much time. Three to four days a week.

Q. And what were you doing?

A. Locating property, chasing zoning requirements, what you had to do to rezone the properties, we did by ourselves, even started negotiating prices.

Q. How much time were you spending in 2004 and '5 on Clemson Towers?

A. Clemson Towers had been finished seven years, so it would be very little.

Q. You acknowledge, though, at a meeting with Davis Arnett, and Ron West maybe by phone, and Rich Rodriguez definitely by phone, it was agreed that the payment of salary would start when the loan was closed?

A. From First, from Regions, that is correct.

Q. All right.

A. Well, we didn't have any other place to get the money.

Q. Except for investors; correct?

Let me ask you something: If, if it was --

A. Excuse me, let me back up.

It was not by phone with Davis Arnett at Regions. He sent a thing around and we signed.

Q. Right.

A. But this was proposed on the deck at my house one night.

Q. Now, on what we have previously given to you, or to your lawyer, as being expenses which we did not believe, which the plaintiff did not believe were legitimate expenses for Palmetto States, but rather were direct benefits for you:

One, for example, dated February 26, 2005, check number 1020 from the First Citizens account to Barton Builder Spur Cabinet, $4,260. It's on, it's on this list that you have, if he wants to refer to it.

We can look at the checks to back it up, if you want to.

A. Which one are you talking about now?

Q. It's two thirds of the way down the page, February 26, 2005.

A. I got it.

Q. Check number 1020, Barton Builder Spur Cabinet.

And Barton Builder is the payee; and the For on the check says Spur Cabinets.

A. Right here on this summary.
Q. Yes.
A. 4260, personal.
Q. That's on the summary that you have once this litigation has started.

But here's my question: If that was legitimate salary to you, a legitimate benefit, why was it labeled Spur cabinet in the company books?

A. I don't know.
Q. Well, why, you're the one that wrote the check, you wrote Spur Cabinets on the check, why did you do that?
A. Let's see the check.
Q. February of '05.
A. February 26.
Q. February 26.

Let me show you, I'm showing you, it's the same item that's in this pile here. This check right here I'm pointing to, check has your signature, you agree you wrote the check, it's your writing on the check?

A. I don't believe, I don't think that's my writing right there. It doesn't match the rest of it.
Q. You're saying --
A. I'm saying I don't recognize my writing there.
Q. Okay. And what doesn't look like your writing?

A. Spur Cabinet.
Q. Spur Cabinet.
Well let me ask you, who else, who else could have written it? You wrote the check.
A. Well, I had a lady come summarize for taxes in '05. She sat in the house and summarized it, and asked me, when I'd come in, several questions. Could have been mislabeled, it could have been in error.
Q. Okay. But you acknowledge now that those, in fact those cabinets were for Clemson Towers; correct?
A. I don't know that.
Q. They weren't for The Spur, because construction, hadn't even broken ground for The Spur?
A. But we shopped for cabinet samples and so forth. But it probably was, but I don't know for certain.
Q. Okay. And I'm going to, I don't want to have to ask you this on all of them, because it's going to take us forever to go through it, but I've got to ask on each item in general.
But let's say that this item that you now have labeled, after this lawsuit starts, as personal income to you, but shown on the company books as a company expense for Spur cabinets on your tax return for that year, you show this as income?
A. I don't know.

Q. You're telling me it was salary, that's what this response says?

A. Was it shown on my tax return, I don't know.

MR. TALLEY: Can we go off the record for a second?

MR. OLSON: Yes.

(Discussion off the record.)

MR. OLSON: What I was going by is, on the response to discovery to you, he shows, or somebody shows that he was eligible to receive $435,000 eligible salary, and then they do some accounting and add expenses to it, and he, by this, he's claiming these items were in fact salary?

MR. TALLEY: You're missing the first three lines of the document.

MR. OLSON: Paid to Lamar Greene, 113,400-some dollars.

I mean I don't see where that's not salary.

MR. TALLEY: There are checks that have been broken down into three categories.

MR. OLSON: Right.

MR. TALLEY: That he acknowledges were not company business. That amount was made directly payable to him. That amount was made to J & P Enterprises. And this amount was made to a variety of entities, including the one you're questioning him about right now.

MR. OLSON: Okay.

MR. TALLEY: The total of that is 467,66-03.

Here is where he's trying to calculate what he feels like he should have been paid. And of course we dispute that, you dispute what we say here.

MR. OLSON: Sure.

MR. TALLEY: This is that total.

MR. OLSON: Okay.

MR. TALLEY: So this is not salary. I just want to be clear on that.

MR. OLSON: Let me start over on my question.

Q. If this, if this Spur cabinet for $4260 is actually a personal benefit to Lamar Greene, not a Spur expense, then you would agree it would be income to Lamar Greene?

A. No.

Q. Why would it not be?

A. Because it might be expenses against whatever, 4300.

Q. Let's go to another item then.

A. Okay.

Q. When we go to February of, 10th of '05, a check, check number 1123, this is on the second page, about halfway down on the second page of what I furnished to your lawyer, Tom James Engineering Spur, $2691.

You agree that Tom James is actually the clothier in South Carolina?

A. That's correct.

Q. And you bought clothes, and it was labeled, in the company records under your care, to be an engineering expense for The Spur?

A. Let's see the signature on that.

What month --

Q. 11/10/2005, check number 1123.

A. That's November '05?

Q. November '05, check number 1123.

Where my finger is right there.

A. That is my writing there.

Q. That is your writing?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. So my question is the same: If this was actually money that you were entitled to get somehow under your agreement with Rich Rodriguez and Ron West, why does it say Engineering Tuscaloosa for Tom James, your clothier?

A. I don't know why.

Q. But you're the one that wrote the check?

A. Yes, I am.

Q. And there, in fact it's not just one check to Tom James Engineering Spur, there are numerous checks throughout these records that are labeled the same way; is that not correct?

A. Yes, it is. That's correct.

Q. And so it's not a mistake, wouldn't you agree that it wasn't an accident that they're all labeled Engineering Spur to your clothes store; that didn't happen once, it happened every time you wrote a check?

A. What was the question now?

Q. It wasn't an accident; it was intentionally labeled by you, Engineering for Tuscaloosa, when in fact it was to your clothes store?

A. That's exactly right.

When you sit down and go through these, I don't know, I cannot call up a lot of names, at that particular time, until I get the records and chase it down.

Q. Tell me what a legitimate business purpose is to go buy yourself a suit of clothes, with company money, investor money, and label it Engineering for Tuscaloosa? What legitimate --

A. None.

Q. Okay. And since it was a clothing expense that benefitted you personally, did you declare that to be income on your 2005 tax return?

A. I'd have to look and see. I don't know. I don't do the tax returns.

Q. You and I both know you didn't?

MR. TALLEY: Object to the form.

Q. I mean there's no reason to kid around, because I'm going to get your records.

A. That's fine.

Q. And if it was a personal benefit to you, and it was approved by Ron and Rich Rodriguez, how come you didn't show it as income, if in fact you didn't on your tax return?

A. I don't know why it's not income. I just know now it balances out in here.

Q. All right. If you'll look back at an exhibit that we're going down, and I might as well introduce it as Plaintiff's Exhibit number 3. You have a copy in front of you.

MR. TALLEY: May I see that? There are a couple of different versions of it.

MR. OLSON: That's the one I sent you. Here's another copy of it, if you need to follow along with it.

I'm introducing this as being a summary of the financial records, so that we don't have to pull out each one.

If he wants to pull out each one, we'll be happy to do it, but it's a compilation of checks.

Plaintiff's Exhibit number 3.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 3 marked for identification, Lamar Greene deposition, 5/12/08, RAM.)

Q. And let's just go through this item by item. And then after we go through it item by item, if you want to pull out individual checks, I'll be happy to. But let's go through it item by item.

The first item on it, January 4, 2005, check number 1001, that's the first check that was written out of the company account; correct?

A. Correct.

Q. And it was made payable to Clemson Towers for $4000, and it didn't have one single thing to do with company business, did it?

A. That's correct.

Well, no, no it did not.

Q. Then check number 1005 is also made to Clemson Towers for $3000; didn't have anything to do with company business; correct?

A. I think that showed 5000.

Q. I may have it mislabeled. See if we can find the check.

MR. TALLEY: Is it December?

MR. OLSON: It's January 2005, check number 1005.

Q. We show it as 3000, right here.

A. I show it as 5.

Q. Okay, but then you agree that the copy of the check is 3000?

A. Yes.

Q. But again --

A. What's the note on the bottom of that check?

Q. It may say Salary. I don't know what it says.

A. I think that's what it says.

Q. Salary.

And so again my question is, since it was salary, that would be included in your 2005 income tax return?

A. Yes, um-hmm.

Q. Check number 1007, dated January 25, 2005, J & P Enterprise loan for $2500.

Did that have anything to do with Palmetto

States business, loaning money to J & P Enterprise?
A. No.
Q. And the next two items, the same thing?
A. Correct.
Q. And Rich Rodriguez and Ron West never authorized those loans?
A. Oh, no. They didn't authorize any loans, any expenses that I incurred.
Q. Okay. Check number 1010, dated February 3rd, 2005, Clemson Towers, $8000. Again, not company business; correct?
A. That's right. Personal.
Q. Check number 1011, Carolina First, Spur interest?
A. That's an application for a loan, construction loan.
Q. At Carolina First?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. So you're saying that was company business?
A. Yes.
Q. All right. Check 1012, Clemson Towers, $4000. Same answers as the other ones; correct?
A. Personal. Yeah.
Q. The next two items: J & P Enterprise loan for $2450 and $2000, loans to J & P, which were not company business; correct?

A. Correct.
Q. Mike Rogers, Labor Spur. That was Clemson Towers, correct? Because Spur hadn't even been started?
A. Construction hadn't started. But he made several trips with me to do something at that site.
Personal, we'll call it personal.
Q. Danny Cain, next check, $500, check number 1013, $500, Labor Spur?
A. He drove me to Spur all the time, he was my chauffeur, or drove while I did work, whatever.
Q. So you're saying that was a legitimate expense?
A. Yes.
Q. Who is Danny Cain?
A. He lives in Gaffney, and --
Q. Okay.
A. -- has worked for me on and off for a long time.
Q. Okay. He wasn't working on Clemson Towers?
A. He didn't do any work there. He did yard maintenance and stuff after the building was completed, we had a maintenance contracts.
Q. And how about Mike Rogers, did he --
A. Mike didn't drive me; he, he did work.
Q. Did he work at Clemson Towers?
A. Yes.
Q. Okay. Next item I want to ask you about, I'm skipping an item, is check number 1019, dated February 22, 2005, Lowes Unit 202, Spur, $3814. What was that?

A. What was the check number?

Q. Check number 1019.

A. I don't have a 1019 on this list.

Q. (Handing document.) Right where my thumb is.

A. (Witness reviewing document.)

That's personal.

Q. That's personal. Okay.

Why would it be, why would it be labeled Unit 202 Spur if it was personal?

A. When you go through them in a hurry, time, at the end of the year, and that was written in after the thing, looks like, you make mistakes.

Q. Okay. It was not written incorrectly to deceive the other members of the LLC, was it?

A. I would not deceive them, no.

Q. Item, we've already talked about item 1020 before, we're not going to go over it again.

Item 1017 Star Granite, Spur, Unit 502, $2100. You agree that you're not buying granite for -- correct?

A. We were buying granite; I can't say where it went.

Q. Wouldn't have gone to The Spur --

A. That's why I'm saying personal. Because we weren't building.

Q. I mean you don't buy granite before a building starts?

A. That's right.

Q. Item 1023, C. H. Martin Engineering, Spur, $2000. Who is C. H. Martin?

A. C. H. Martin is a, not site preparation, but puts in the understructure. Lives over here in Anderson. And Trehel referred me to him. And he took the plans and looked at pricing on water lines and drain lines, sewer lines, fire protection lines.

Q. For The Spur?

A. For The Spur.

Q. Okay.

A. And he said: I will review the things for $2000, and he up and died. So he would have gotten a contract, but he up and died.

Q. And that's when you got a new engineer?

A. Griffin took care of it. I was going to take it out of the contract.

Q. Check number 1024, J & P Enterprises, Spur land, $15,500, what's that?

A. Personal.

Q. And again, why is it labeled Spur land, if it was personal?

Mistake?

A. Yes. Yeah.

Q. I'm not going to ask you about Danny Cain.

Lew Jordon, Spur land, $5,657, what was that?

A. Paid him for finding a, help finding a property at Columbia.

And he also got another check for 30,000, I think it was, from the cooperating realtor.

Q. Some sort of commission split?

A. Yeah.

Q. And so you're saying that --

A. I paid him $5,657.

Q. And that was not from money you owed him from Clemson Towers?

A. No.

Q. Okay. All right, we've already talked about, I flipped the page to page 2, check number 1049, Tom James Engineering Spur, we've already talked about that.

Next item, item 1036, DCI, $924?

A. DIC, that was Spur windbreaker jackets. DIC is the company that made them or sold them or whatever.

Q. Check 1037, J & P Enterprises, travel, $1000; what's that?

A. Travel, expenses for traveling for....
Q. Why would the check be written to J & P?
A. Because they're paying my expenses.
Q. Okay. And this was reimbursing J & P Enterprises for business trips you took on behalf of The Spur or Tuscaloosa or somewhere?
A. Yes.
Q. Check 1038, Clemson Towers Homeowners Association?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You agree that's not business?
A. No, sir, I do not agree to that.
Q. That's a Clemson Towers Homeowners Association?
A. No, sir, that's Ron West. It's in his, Ron got several loans, and all I got to do is get the check.

That was his homeowners dues for Unit 103. He asked that we pay them.

Q. At Clemson Towers?
A. Yes.
Q. But I mean it's not company business?
A. No, no, it was a loan to Ron. And I got all those checks somewhere, if I can just put my hand on them.
Q. Okay. I'm not disputing you, I'm just trying to find out what your version of this is, that's all.
A. Okay, loan to Ron West.
Q. Okay. Check number 1043, Page, Scranton, et cetera, legal, $135?

A. That's something to do with Griffin looking at the documents and....

Q. Check number 1039, Miss Teen Pageant, $300?

A. That's an advertisement in that magazine for '05.

Q. For The Spur?

A. Yes.

And I can furnish a copy of the advertisement.

Q. Okay.

A. Now I did have a granddaughter in that, that I was very proud of. And she asked if we could make a, I thought it was a damn good idea, because it put The Spur in front of a lot of people.

Q. There's a debit on January -- excuse me -- June 2nd, 2005, to NCMC Mortgage for $1361. What was that?

A. I tried to trace that down. And I don't know what it is, but it was drafted from First Citizens.

Q. Okay.

A. And I don't have privilege to the records now.

I think that could be a draft, we had loans in West Virginia, we had them in Greenville, I don't know, that's a draft down there, I don't know where it went.

Q. But it's not your personal mortgage?

A. No.

Q. Another one to Barton Builders, check number 1046 for Spur cabinets; you agree that's the same as the others?

A. Yes.

Q. All right. We're going to get to this in full in a few minutes, but Al Bell, Consulting Agreement, where did the money to pay Al Bell come from?

A. It came from a personal account.

Q. Okay.

A. Let me give you a little background on this.

When we started this business, we each put up $10,000.

Q. Each, you, Ron and Rich?

A. Had 30,000 in the bank.

My job was to go find construction financing, financing for the land.

I went to Palmetto Bank, Wachovia, another bank. And you tell them, they want to know what the assets are, and you tell them, they don't want to listen to you. Just shut the door.

Al Bell, who I've known for a number of years, is on the board of directors at Carolina First and National Bank of South Carolina. He got an appointment and went with me first to Carolina First.

Q. Where he's on the board of directors?

A. Yes.

The president sent us to Columbia, said condominium loans are handled out of that.

You saw a check in here for $800 for a loan application, Carolina First. I'm sure they would have financed it, if we had waited on them.

We went to NBSC in Greenville. Met with the president. And within two days we had a commitment for the loan.

We actually signed that loan and took it down within ten days. So we had our construction loan. The thing that we did not have, was financing for the land. We didn't have a way to pay for it.

During this time Regions contacted us. Now I don't think he had any contact with Regions, but the word gets out among banks who is trying to borrow money.

They asked if they could enter into it and make a proposal. Their proposal was the best. We already had the loan at NBSC. When you added up all the numbers, it was more economical to go with Regions, so that's where I went, with Regions.

But Al opened the doors for us to get the loan that gave us a little bargaining power.

Q. And for that he was paid --

A. Hundred thousand.
Q. But all totaled, he's been paid 180,000 bucks?
A. And he had two units that he put a deposit up on at The Spur. And his units were 612 and 613.

And he told me, I thought we'd have to get three loans; we got the first one, we agreed to pay him a hundred thousand, and started paying him 5000 a month return on his two units. And you see that we don't owe him any money now, that was paid.

Q. So am I understanding this right, for $100,000, he was to use his influence as a director of Carolina First to talk Carolina First into getting you a loan?
A. And NBSC.
Q. And what was his connection to NBSC?
A. On the board of directors.
Q. And did the board of directors know that you paid him $100,000?
A. Um-um. He just went to them, we sat down with the president of them, explained to him what we needed, and he agreed to do it. Al says, I recommend them.
Q. But you ended up getting the loan from BB&T?
A. Regions.
Q. Excuse me. From Regions.

So the net effect was, you didn't, $100,000 with Al Bell didn't really benefit you anyway?

A. Yes, it did. We had a loan in place, NBSC.
Q. But you didn't close that?
A. Yes, we did.
Q. You closed --
A. Closed at NBSC, yes, sir.
Q. And then got a better deal somewhere else?
A. Yes.
Q. And does, where would the closing documents for that first loan be, copies of them?
A. I probably have them somewhere in my file. If we don't, we can go to NBSC and get them.
Q. All right. I'm going to come back to that in a few minutes.
A. So I paid him 83,000 out of my personal funds to get a loan.
Q. Okay.
A. That is somewhat of a comfort factor. We got the financing. We would not have gotten it without him. Recommended us.
Q. And at the time that you were getting the loan through Davis Arnett, in fact a discussion was held between you, Davis Arnett, Rich Rodriguez by telephone, and Ron West either by phone or in person, I'm not sure, in which that consulting agreement for Al Bell was proposed. And both Rich Rodriguez and Ron West, in front of the banker, said: We do not agree with that?

A. I don't recall that.

What we did do at the South Carolina Teen Pageant, playing golf, Rich called me and said: Can Al delay his payment to the end of the project. He asked me if I could get him to delay it.

I said: I think I can, I will go and see. And that's when I wound up paying him myself.

Q. But you --

A. I don't recall that, I don't recall that talk.

Q. All right. But if Davis Arnett does, then he's either lying or mistaken?

A. Yes. One of those two. And I doubt if he's lying.

Q. Check number 1122, Gary Elder, loan repayment?

A. I don't know, I don't know what that is.

Q. Was that a -- you don't know whether that was -- because he was an investor in Clemson Towers as well, wasn't he?

A. He bought a unit there.

Q. You don't know whether the payment to Gary Elder was for investment in this deal or Clemson Towers?

A. I do not recall.

Q. Same story on the next item, 1123, Tom James Engineering, Spur, for $691?

A. We've gone through that, 1123?
Q. 1123.
A. I don't see that.
MR. OLSON: Can you pull that check, a check dated November 10, 2005, check number 1123.
BY THE WITNESS:
A. What's the amount? I just don't have it listed there.
Q. We have it mislabeled, we have it labeled Engineering Spur; actually it says Engineering Tuscaloosa.
A. Tuscaloosa didn't exist then, I don't think.
Q. Is what the payment is for Engineering Tuscaloosa, is that your handwriting or somebody else's?
A. That looks like mine.
Q. All right. Check number 1128, Al Bell's debt repayment. What debt is that, $10,000?
A. Ten thousand onto the 83 made that 93,000 that he'd been paid.
Q. Okay. Check number 1126 and 1127, $2200 to West Virginia University Athletic Club. What's that got to do with Palmetto States business?
A. Well, it doesn't really have much. That's a fund that Rich has for playing, that's donations for, to finance his air travel. And he asked, said, Why don't you join this.

Q. Rich said that?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Check number 1139, Grading Company, $1500?
A. I don't know what that is. But I'd list it as personal.
Q. Back on the MAC club donations, did Rich know it came from Palmetto?
A. Yes, he did, because one of the, one of the two memberships were in Palmetto's name.
Q. Okay. Check number 1159, Tom James engineering again, $2139, same story?
A. Yes.
Q. Check number 1144, couldn't read the check, something Grass Tuscaloosa, $2000?
A. Shoreline restoration, I think is what it was, and that's personal.
Q. Personal?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Check 1153, Mike Huizinga, Orlando air travel, $2900?
A. To Orlando?
Q. Um-hmm.
A. I have it listed here as personal. But came back to Atlanta to a ball game and met with Rich, but I'll list it as personal.
Q. Okay. Check 1154, $3000 to Regions Bank. What is that?

A. That was money, $3000, transferred from First Citizens into that credit card account that I mentioned, so we'd have money to operate. It started with I think $9,000.

Q. Okay. Check number 1157, Ramon Arech, labor for Spur, $504?

A. This was to do the, took the landscaping, irrigation, and one other item out of Griffin's contract. And this is where we started doing the work ourselves.

Q. Okay. Following check, 1158, labor Spur, $240?

A. 240?

Q. Um-hmm.

A. Yeah.

Q. That was for labor on The Spur?

A. On the irrigation system, yes, sir.

Q. Next item, 1183, is labor on The Spur of $208; that's the same deal?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1184, H.C. Labor Spur; same deal?

A. What check number?

Q. Check number 1184. Says: H.C. labor Spur.

A. 1183.

I don't have that.

MR. OLSON: Pull that check for me, check number 1184, dated January 29, 2006.

Q. I can't read the check. It's where my thumb is up there?

A. Damned if I can read it either. How much is it?

Q. It's 160 bucks.

Let me ask you this, why are you putting irrigation in The Spur at this time when they're not under roof yet?

A. You get the pipes down, you know, before you start paving, for sure.

MR. OLSON: All right. Let me ask y'all, it's 12:15, do you want to stop for a quick lunch?

(Lunch recess at 12:15 p.m. until 1:00 p.m. of this same date.)

A F T E R N O O N S E S S I O N (1:00 p.m.)

C. LAMAR GREENE, PREVIOUSLY DULY SWORN, TESTIFIED FURTHER AS FOLLOWS:

MR. OLSON: I'm going to kind of interrupt the flow of this thing, of going through these item by item, because it occurred to me at lunch, probably ought to do Gaston Engineering because of Ed Smith being here for Gaston Engineering. And Gaston Engineering may choose not to come to the remainder of this deposition.

So I thought we'd just go ahead and get my questions about it out of the way, and then whatever questions you have.

MR. SMITH: All right.

MR. OLSON: I'm going to come back to the check numbers item by item, but we're going to talk about Gaston Engineering.

Q. Okay, Mr. Greene, Gaston Engineering, Inc., got its address as P.O. Box 977, Gastonia, 28053.

Any companies that you are involved in, do they get their mail at that same address?

A. You're asking me?

Q. Yes.

A. Not now. I did.

Q. You did?
A. Yes.
Q. And when did it change?
A. Year and a half ago, something like that, year ago.
Q. At one time the telephone number for Gaston Engineering, if you called it, it was answered J --
A. J & P.
Q. -- & P Enterprises. Why is that?
A. Only one line in.
Q. And --
A. Gaston Engineering was, nobody was ever there really, except occasionally. They done review work on prints, plans, this type stuff, and went out in the field.

They had an office in J & P, or room. We had one phone line, and it was answered J & P.

Q. And who owns Gaston Engineering, Inc.?
A. I don't know who really owned that.

But I do know that I saw, somebody showed me something on the internet that I was president of it.

I have two companies, or I've had two companies; I don't have anything on the internet, I don't know how the hell it got on. I guess anybody could put something on the internet.

Q. So you're telling me that you are not a shareholder, officer, or director of Gaston Engineering, and you never were?

A. That's right.

Q. And is your son, Jeff, a shareholder, director, or --

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. All right. Who do you deal with that came and used your office space or building space at J & P?

A. Rob Galloway.

Q. Rob --

A. Robert Galloway.

Q. And is he a registered engineer?

A. No. Not, I say no, I don't think so.

Q. Who is, do you know what his position with Gaston Engineering, Inc. is?

A. He just did the work. Evaluation, inspection, and so forth.

Q. If I did a record search for North and South Carolina of corporate records, and I couldn't find any corporate records for a company named Gaston Engineering, Inc., do you know why that would be?

A. Probably wasn't registered.

Q. Now, Gaston Engineering was paid $187,500 for, quote, "Value engineering at the Legends of Tuscaloosa"; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. And when you look at the checks made payable to Gaston Engineering, for those invoices, they were endorsed by Lamar Greene?
A. Yes.
Q. Now, if Lamar Greene doesn't have anything to do with Gaston Engineering, Inc., why is Lamar Greene endorsing checks made payable to Gaston Engineering?
A. They did two jobs for Palmetto States, reviewing plans, documents, making recommendations.

One was eleven, 17,000, another one was 20,000 on the invoice.

$150,000 invoice was to, I asked that Rob give me an invoice for 150,000, and that money was used to pay bonuses, 50 to Rich, 50 to Ron, 30 to me.
Q. So what was the purpose, I mean, so you're saying that that invoice of $150,000 was a false invoice?
A. Yes.
Q. And it was submitted to a federally insured bank to make a loan draw?
A. That's correct.
Q. And at the time you submitted it, you knew it was false?
A. Yes.
Q. And as a matter of fact, to enable that invoice to be paid, the construction contract for the Tuscaloosa project was altered, and $150,000 of flooring was taken from the contract in order to substitute $150,000 --

A. I don't know that.

Q. You don't know that? Are you familiar with the change orders to the contract?

A. Not really.

Q. Do you know whether you signed the change orders to the contract?

A. Any change orders I had to have signed, along with several other people.

Q. Did Ron West and Rich Rodriguez know about the $150,000 --

A. Yes, sir.

Q. -- Gaston Engineering invoice?

A. They knew that, when we met, Ron and I met and with Rich on the phone, Ron asked if we could get a hundred thousand dollar bonus payment.

My reply, we don't have that kind of money to get ahold to. We can get it, maybe 50,000. So we decided to get 150,000.

Q. And so Rich Rodriguez and Ron West knew that an invoice that was false was going to be created and submitted to the bank to get $150,000?

A. Yes. Ron did for sure.

Q. And what, maybe not Rich?
A. He was so far removed, I couldn't say whether he was or not.
Q. Are you aware of any loan requirement that the bank had on the Tuscaloosa loan, that the developer could not be a contractor or subcontractor on the project?
A. I don't know.
Q. Going back to the change orders, are you saying you are aware or you're unaware that $150,000 in flooring was taken off of the original contract so that the $150,000 value engineering could be added in?
A. No, I don't know that.
Q. And you would agree that you may in fact have signed change orders to the contract that did exactly what I just asked you, took the flooring out at 150,000 and put value engineering in for 150,000?
A. I don't know that. I signed every change order.
Q. Let me show you these AIA documents. And I want to represent to you, I think this is correct, these are the documents that we got in response to our discovery from you last week.

Can you recognize these as copies of the change orders?

A. (Witness reviewing documents.)

These are all the change orders that came through?

Q. I believe I handed them all to you, yes. They should be numbered 1 through 9.

A. What are you asking me? I don't understand.

Q. I'm asking you if you can recognize these as being the change orders for the Tuscaloosa project?

A. These are change orders on Tuscaloosa.

Q. For the Tuscaloosa project, okay.

MR. OLSON: We'll mark these as Plaintiff's Exhibit 4.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 4 marked for identification, Lamar Greene deposition, 5/12/08, RAM.)

BY THE WITNESS:

A. Let me comment on the change order.

Q. Okay.

A. Most of the change orders, after we got started and were having prospective buyers coming, we had a base-base package, carpet, solid surface cabinet tops and a grade of cabinets; and then we had upgrade packages.

And a realtor then selling said, Why don't you just, you need to change your base package because the competition in town supplies this, hardwood floor and stainless stuff and granite.

And that change orders involved a bunch of those items.

Q. Let me ask you about Plaintiff's Exhibit number 4. I'm going to hand you what is marked, is Change Order number 1. Did you sign that?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. And what was the reason for that change order?

A. I can't read it. I can't read it.

Q. Okay.

A. I see 150,000 out here.

Q. Okay.

A. I don't know what it was labeled as.

Q. All right. Would you agree that that's when Gaston Engineering was inserted at $150,000, and floor finishes deleted at 150,000, with the net change being zero?

A. I don't, I don't know.

Q. Okay. Change Order number 3.

Excuse me. Hang on just a second.

All right. I'm having difficulty putting my hands on them, but would you disagree that Change Order number 6 added wood floors, crown molding in for a total change increase of $187,000?

A. Yeah.

Q. And 150 of that increase was the same 150 that was taken out?

A. No, that's not correct.
Q. How is it different?
A. The crown molding and stuff were put in the units, crown molding.
Q. No, but I'm saying the wood floors part of that invoice is $150,000?
A. We replaced carpet with wood flooring.
Q. And that was the same floor finishes that were taken out when Gaston Engineering was put in?
A. I don't know.
Q. Would you agree that the net effect of the Gaston Engineering invoices increased the budget for the Tuscaloosa project for $187,000, by $187,000?
A. How much?
Q. $187,000.
A. Yeah, that would be right.
Q. And the person at Gaston Engineering, you said, was a Mr. Galloway?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. He knew you did this?
A. Yes, he did.
Q. And he okayed you submitting a false invoice in the name of his company?
A. Yes.

Q. And he okayed you endorsing payments made to Gaston Engineering yourself for deposit?
A. Yes.
Q. Was a construction draw for The Spur project ever made in the name of Gaston Engineering?
A. No.
Q. Did Gaston Engineering ever do any work on The Spur project?
A. No, not to my -- no.
Q. And tell me what work did Gaston Engineering actually do on the Tuscaloosa project?
A. They didn't do anything on the site. They reviewed the plans, made recommendations to me.
Q. And did they ever have any physical work product, any piece of paper that says, We recommend you do this, or any engineering drawing?
A. Yeah, yeah, I've gotten, they didn't do engineering drawing, but I've got recommendations.
Q. From them?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. I don't quite understand why, when you have an architect that you're paying and you have a general contractor, why you're consulting with a company that has the same phone number and physical address that you have and allows you to submit false invoices and endorse their checks, why would you have them do work for you?

A. They did work.
Q. Why would you have them?
A. You know, what was the construction loan down there, 18 million, 21 million, you need, you need all the eyes and recommendations you can get, in my opinion, to look at....
Q. Okay. And the experience, do you know what Mr. Galloway's experience in construction is?
A. He's been in it probably most of his life.
Q. In construction?
A. Yeah.
Q. Did he save you any money?
A. Yeah, he did.
Q. What did he save you money on?
A. On the type sheet rock that went in the building. Different crown molding.
Q. Did the contractor's principals, Dwight Morgan, did he ever have any dealings with Mr. Galloway?
A. No, sir. Not to my knowledge.
Q. Did Mr. Morgan know that the invoice for $150,000 was a false invoice?
A. I don't know.
Q. The invoice prepared for Gaston Engineering for $150,000, who was it prepared by, who physically prepared it?

A. I don't know who typed that up.

Q. Anybody at J & P?

A. I don't, I don't know if they did.

Q. Did Mr. Galloway give you invoices with his firm's letterhead on them, to enable you to prepare invoices, or did he prepare it himself?

A. I never prepared an invoice.

Q. You didn't prepare an invoice?

A. Um-um.

Q. So your answer was, you don't know who did, whether Mr. Galloway did or whether maybe somebody at J & P did?

A. I don't know.

Q. All right. Let me show you this Work performed, again I got it in response to discovery; what, who prepared that?

A. I don't know who prepared that. My name's up here where it's faxed; I done something.

Might have sent that to the bank or the architect, one, I don't know which.

MR. OLSON: Move to introduce this as Exhibit number, Plaintiff's Exhibit number 5.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 5 marked for identification, Lamar Greene deposition, 5/12/08, RAM.)

Q. You know, without being repetitive, here's what I don't, here's what I don't understand, I want you to explain it to me.

Why does a company, Gaston Engineering, with whom you have no relationship except you're a customer, I mean you're not a shareholder, director or officer, employee, why do they furnish you with a false invoice, or allow you to use their invoices and prepare a false invoice, submit it for a job they know they didn't do any work on, or didn't do that work on, allow the payment to be made, and you to endorse the check?

I mean I can't, I can't imagine the circumstances under which any --

MR. TALLEY: Hold on. I've been very, very lenient today. You know I have.

MR. OLSON: Okay.

MR. TALLEY: So hold your --

Q. Can you explain that to me?

A. No.

Q. Did you give Gaston Engineering any of the $150,000?

A. No, not the 150, no.
Q. Two invoices here from Gaston Engineering, one for 17-5 for Tuscaloosa, and one for $20,000 for Tuscaloosa, and this was, you stated that this was work that was done; is that correct?
A. Analysis of the prints, and so forth.
Q. Right, I mean the $20,000 invoice they actually did something for?
A. Yes.
Q. And the $17,000 invoice they did something for?
A. Yes.
Q. And when they paid, when these invoices were paid by the contractor -- I want you to look at -- tell me who endorsed the checks for Gaston Engineering?
A. I cashed them and gave Rob the cash.
Q. And he allows you to cash his checks?
A. Oh, yes. He does these two, three.
Q. Why would he do that?
A. He had a problem with IRS, he didn't want to show any income on two.

MR. OLSON: Move to introduce this as number 6.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 6 marked for identification, Lamar Greene deposition, 5/12/08, RAM.)

Q. Did you ever have a conversation with Ted Talmadge, the architect, that you were going to give him invoices for Gaston Engineering on The Spur project, and suggest that he pay those invoices to you?
A. To Ted Talmadge?
Q. Yes.
A. No.
Q. Was that draw from the Regions construction loan for $21,000 paid to Gaston Engineering on October 24th, 2006, and deposited in the First Citizens account?
A. Say that again now?
Q. Was there a $21,000 invoice paid by Regions on the construction draw for The Spur project to Gaston Engineering, and deposited in the First Citizens account?
A. I don't recall that.

MR. OLSON: I don't have any other questions about that, about Gaston.

MR. SMITH: And I don't think I'm going to ask any at this time. So you can go ahead.

MR. OLSON: Okay. All right.

(Discussion off the record.)

Q. Go back to our check ledger that we were talking about before lunch, when we were going down this list of expenses that we contested.

We had gone through or by the Al Bell consulting agreement and gone by Lowes.

A. I got to put my hand on mine.

Q. Okay.

A. Got it.

Q. Got it.

On April 21st, 2006, check number 1069, Best Buy for The Legends, $1309?

A. That was a computer for my house to do this work on.

Q. Okay.

A. And Ron West is the one insisted, didn't insist, he said, You need to get a computer and somebody to operate it.

Q. Okay. Check 1072 to J & P Enterprises, reimbursement for pilot?

A. 1072?

Q. Yes. Dated April 27th, 2006.

A. I don't see that. Do you see that on here?

MR. OLSON: Pull that check, check number 1072, April 27th, 2006.

MR. BROWN: For a pilot? 2300?

MR. OLSON: I've got 4000.

Q. Okay, this check, what was that for?

A. (Witness reviewing document.)

I'll have to look at J-P checks to see if they did in fact pay the pilot.

Q. Okay.

A. Because on several occasions that was, happened, especially if I wasn't along on the trip, didn't go on the trip.

Q. I'm going to show you now a check that we discovered after we'd made this list up, I need to ask you about.

This check right here, and this was a check written on the First Citizens account, made out to CPS for 13,000-some-odd dollars. What's that?

A. I'm trying to find it on the ledger.

I'll have to research; I don't know what that is.

Q. CPS is Carolina Plastic Surgery?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. Who had plastic surgery done?

A. I did.

Q. And was that a legitimate business expense of Palmetto Properties, LLC?

A. No.

MR. OLSON: Move to introduce this as Exhibit 7.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 7 marked for identification, Lamar Greene deposition, 5/12/08, RAM.)

Q. Check number 1076 and 1075 Antonio Clay and Dwayne Coleman, 100 and $150 respectively, what was that for?

A. Took them to Columbia to clean up the site prior to having a mini openhouse for people to come to.

Q. It was not for Clemson Towers?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. Julienne Greene, $4000?

A. For work she done in bookkeeping, et cetera.

Q. I don't want to, I don't want to embarrass you, but were you and your wife separated at the time that check was written?

A. I don't really know.

Q. Check 1078, same story on Tom James --

A. Mine.

Q. Is that a legitimate expense?

A. Personal, I have it marked personal.

Q. Okay. Check 1084, Palmetto State Enterprises, $3000.

That was money transferred to another account at another bank. Do you think that's the credit card account?

A. It is. Transferred, I think I transferred 3000 every time we got down low.

Q. Anthony Waters, thousand bucks?

A. This is in June, and Mike Brown asked me to help him get to San Diego. They hadn't got any money yet, he needed to get to San Diego, get a place to live, et cetera.

Q. Was that a legitimate expense of Palmetto State?

A. I don't know that it would be legitimate. I would think we'd get reimbursed for that, but I do know that Mike requested that I do it.

Q. Check 1087, Daren Bruce Ministries, $1000?

A. Ron West brought him by the house, introduced him to me, and asked that we make donations to him.

Q. Check number 1179, J & P Enterprises loan, $6500?

A. Personal.

Q. Okay. Check 1088, Palmetto State Enterprises, travel, Charleston, $3500. And that was transferred to another account in another bank?

A. That probably was transferred to Regions, but I don't know, not sure.

But that was, we had two outings, we had one outing per year and one other meeting. And our meetings have been in the Cayman Islands, Charleston, Myrtle Beach. The other meetings were around New Year's at ball games.

Q. Okay. May 25, 2006, there was a cashier's check issued for $4115; do you know what the purpose of that cashier's check was?

A. John Leake, L-E-A-K-E, was putting up a deposit, and it didn't clear Regions, not Regions, First Citizens said the check didn't clear.

We went back and forth. He got it paid, got the right amount of money in, and this is where he was reimbursed.

Q. Rocky McIntosh on check number 1176 for $3600?

A. Same thing as Anthony Waters.

Q. Okay. Check 1277, made payable to Palmetto State Enterprises for $2500. That went into another bank. Do you have any idea which one?

A. Personal.

Q. Check 1215, Furniture Showcase, Spur Decorating, $6792?

A. Personal.

Q. Why was it labeled Spur Decorating?
A. Probably went into 601 unit.
Q. And 601 is what?
A. A unit that Ed Straum and I own together at The Spur.
Q. At The Spur?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. And y'all used Furniture Showcase out of Easley for that?
A. Not all of it. Some of it.
Q. Would some of that have gone to decorate the Riverpoint home you live in?
A. No.
Q. Did any of it go to The Spur Unit 101?
A. Check number 1280 says Furniture Showcase, 2496, that one did.
Q. Yeah, I'm talking about check number 1215, the Furniture Showcase Spur Decorating, $6792, Riverpoint.
A. Well, that 67 I said was personal.
Q. Okay, that was personal.

Okay. Then the next one down, I'm going to go down to the next Furniture Showcase one, that check number 1280 that you just mentioned, what was that?
A. Personal.
Q. Okay. Then Glen Justice, Spur 201 labor, $2700.

What's that?

A. I don't know, I'll have to dig that out. I don't know.

Q. Not trying to embarrass anybody here, but I'm going to ask about the item number 1273, Talley Law Firm, did that have anything to do with Palmetto State?

A. I have it listed as personal. And I don't really know whatever it's for.

Q. Look, as long as it's personal, I'm not going to ask. L. J. Aviation, $18,339?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is that?

A. That's air travel to the Cayman Islands. We went from, Rich and Ron and Hubie came down, and we went and visited the sights, and then we flew to Miami, in terrible weather.

And Rich says, If you can get out of this contract, I'll have the plane come and get us.

When we returned from the Cayman Islands, it brought us back. And the people that were along were Rich, Ron, myself, and Tony Gibson.

Q. Okay. I'm dropping down a couple, check number 1218 to Tommy Biershank, Spur, $550?

A. He was involved, he helped, we took the irrigation and landscaping out of the contract down there. As a matter of fact, Mike worked with us several days down there on this. He brought labor there to planting and put in irrigation system or finish the irrigation system.

Q. Okay. Check number 1226, Furniture Showcase, $15,000?

A. What number?

Q. Check 1226.

MR. OLSON: Pull that check, July of '06, check 1226.

Q. What is Unit 101?

A. My unit at the Towers, 101.

Q. Check 1226, for 15,000, that is this check right here where my thumb is on?

A. Yeah, for 101.

Q. That's your personal unit?

A. Yes.

Q. Not Palmetto States business

All right. Mark Wilson, check number 1219, for $1500, marked 101. He's the tile installer for the Furniture Showcase, isn't he?

A. He worked at landscaping, finishing the irrigation at the Towers. I don't really know Mark.

Q. Okay. Dale Watts, check 1221, $1100, loan fee, Dale works for Interstate Mortgage. What is that?

A. He got financing for about six of the units at The Spur.

Q. Okay.

A. And I really don't know what that $1100 is for.

Q. Okay. Check 1225, Nevada Bob's, advertising --

A. Personal.

Q. Personal.

Check 1292, air travel, West Virginia University, 1100 Club Golf Tournament, $2765?

A. That's, we went there to the tournament and met with Rich. And every time I went up there, we reviewed our records and met. Business.

Q. Okay. Check 1295, B&E Engineering, testing, Blacksburg, $558?

A. There's several in there for that. And they did testing work in Blacksburg.

Q. And where is B&E Engineering located?

A. It's actually in Christianburg, I think.

Q. But it's up there in Virginia somewhere?

A. Yes.

Q. Same thing for the J & P Enterprise loan of $8900 on check number 1231?

A. Personal.

Q. Lew Jordan, check number 1233, $14,470?

A. Personal.
Q. Furniture Showcase, 1232, for $10,000, decorating?
A. Yeah, that's what I got here is a double entry, that same thing twice.
Q. Yeah, it's listed two times. But that was for the unit, right?
A. Personal.
Q. Okay. Check number 1244 to Floyd Elliott for $13,500?
A. I've got to research that. I don't know what that was for.
Q. Check 1237, Tommy Biershank, $2500?
A. Working at The Spur.
Q. Check 1297, Clemson Automotive, $835?
A. Tires for my vehicle.
Q. Okay. Same thing on the J & P Enterprise loan for check number 1303?
A. Personal.
Q. Clemson Athletic Department, $1500, IPTAY dues?
A. Personal.
Q. Next item, J & P Enterprise loan; that same deal, right?
A. Personal.
Q. 1254, Jeff Greene, Engineering Blacksburg. What's that, $6250?

A. He got a -- excuse me.
Q. You need some water?
MR. OLSON: We'll take a quick time-out here.
(Brief interruption.)
Q. We were on check number 1254, Jeff Greene, $6250.
A. It was a plane in, out of Charlotte, and he used it to go to Tuscaloosa one time, and Blacksburg four times. He paid for the plane, and that was his reimbursement.
Q. Okay. Check number 1314, Tony Gibson, $4000?
A. Yeah.
Q. What's that?
A. Tony was invested in The Spur. And he got his original investment back, and he was satisfied to wait a while.

He came to me and says: I'm going to have granite tops put in my house in Morgantown, and if you put them in, pay for them, then we'll be even-Steven.

That's what I did. That 4000 replaced 32,000.
Q. Okay. Check 1313, Furniture Showcase, Spur Decorating?
A. Personal.
Q. YAHU, Inc., Morgantown travel, for $2610?

A. Went to a ball game to meet Rich and go over plans with him.
Q. Check 1264, some Chinese parts loan?
A. J & P personal.
Q. That's J & P personal.
All right. J & P, next two items, the loans, I'm assuming they were the same?
A. Personal. If you're talking about 1322?
Q. Um-hmm.
A. Yeah.
Q. B&E Enterprises, Spur advertising, $1236?
A. That was at Blacksburg. And that was the windbreakers like DCI had down at the....
Q. The other B&E Enterprises --
A. -- showed as engineering.
Q. -- was engineering?
A. This I'm sure is the jackets.
Q. J & P Enterprises $2,248, check number 1257, for Spur landscaping?
A. 1257?
Q. Yeah, check 1257 for --
A. Personal.
Q. That's personal, okay.
Palmetto Properties, this must have been a cashier's check, bank, it says, Bank Payment, Spur, $4680 -- excuse me -- $46,800.

Do you recall what that might be?

A. I think so. We had a loan at First Citizens, maybe a hundred thousand; we went to two hundred; and that paid off, I think I'm right, that paid off one loan, and then you have a bigger loan left.

Q. Check number 1403, Lamar Greene repayment, $3000?

A. That is $3000, a personal check number 1619, that was written to Palmetto State. And that reimbursed, went in reimbursed one of the Regions accounts.

Q. So you had written a personal check for $3000?

A. Yeah.

Q. And that came out of what account?

A. Came out of my personal account at Palmetto.

Q. At Palmetto Bank, okay.

Check number 1430, William Buchanon, Spur Legal, $1000?

A. I can't recall what he did. I'm not familiar with that.

Q. Check 1305, Bill Kluck, Spur painting, $200?

A. That was some touch-up painting.

Q. At The Spur?

A. Yes.

Q. Check number 1440, YAHU, Atlanta, Jacksonville, $2900?

A. That is correct. Went to the ball game, met with Rich, also met with Bill Stewart, and that's when he invested, agreed to invest 200,000 in the business.
Q. Check number 1332, Furniture Showcase, for $10,646?
A. 1332?
Q. 1332. January 2007.

Okay, right there where my finger is.

Furniture Showchase, $10,646?
A. I can't read what's down there on the bottom. But I will say that it's personal. But I don't know that.
Q. Okay. Check 1450, Consolidated Fixtures, 2,800 --
A. Let's come back to that; he sees it here.
Q. Okay.
A. We had 408 and 405 at The Spur decorated. And that was additional stuff that we put in those units.
Q. Okay. Whose units were those, do you recall?
A. Were models.
Q. Model units, okay.

All right. Check 1450, Consolidated Fixtures, for $2890?
A. I don't, I don't, I can't, I can't recall that. I don't know.
Q. Check 1412, J & P Security, $2158?
A. We provided security frequently at the building site.

Q. You don't have any ownership of it?
A. Um-um.
Q. Check 1411, Landscape Architecture, Spur, $2475?
A. I got a quote, we came back and added, we didn't add, it was on the original landscape blueprint, Palmetto trees, ten of them, I think it was.
Q. At The Spur?
A. Yes.
Q. Check 1416, Carolina Real Estate, $10,000?
A. Okay, that was reimbursed by a personal check of 1650. And what that was, was a, what do you call that, retainer on the property that's for sale right across from Trehel.

Was going to see if we could put townhouses in there. That was the deposit to hold it. And we never could, the city wouldn't agree to --

Q. So it was like option money or something?
A. Yeah. And that was reimbursed, personal check 1650.
Q. You reimbursed that?
A. Yeah.
Q. And that would have come out of your Palmetto Bank account?
A. Yes.

No, no. I don't know that for sure, whether it was my personal or how that account.

Q. Okay. Check 1341, Palmetto State Enterprises, Upgrade Package, $3242.

It looks like that money was transferred to another bank account?

A. I have to research that, I don't know.

Q. If it was deposited in J & P Enterprises' account, what would be the reason for that?

A. We paid for an upgrade package in a unit somewhere down there.

Q. Check number 1305 for $2000?

A. 2000?

Q. $2000.

A. I think that's a double entry. That check we looked at a while ago was 1305. And this one says something I don't understand.

Q. Maybe, let's see if we can pull it.

February 2007, check number 1305.

Strike that.

Check 1463, Lamar Greene, Richmond Sales, $4500?

A. We had a kind of sales meeting in Richmond one night with the coach and several other people on the staff out selling condos.

We got ready to go, they would not take a check; and I put that on my credit card, and that's where I was reimbursed.

Q. Okay.

THE WITNESS: Were you there, Mike?

MR. BROWN: Yeah.

Q. Check number 1470, ESLC Trading Company, $10,000?

A. Personal.

Q. Check 1521, Dale Watt Loan, $10,000?

A. I have a promissory note from him. Again, this is a guy that financed several units at The Spur.

Q. So, what, he borrowed $10,000?

A. Yes.

Q. He ever pay it back?

A. Hasn't yet.

Q. And this is the loan officer that made loans to you, to the company?

A. He financed units at The Spur.

And I haven't called him. It was due September the 7th, and I just left it alone.

MR. OLSON: We're going to make a copy of this and make it Exhibit number 8.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 8 marked for identification, Lamar Greene deposition, 5/12/08, RAM.)

Q. Who is we?

A. Rich, myself, and a couple of his friends from Morgantown.

Q. Okay.

A. Don't ask us where we spent it for.

Q. Check 1631, Lamar Greene, Plane Reimbursement, $3750. Would you have records somewhere that show that you had paid $3750?

A. Personal check 1702.

Q. Palmetto Bank?

A. Yes.

Q. All right.

A. I should have it right here. It says, See attached.

Q. I'm going to get those records, so you don't have to, that's where you think it is, I'll work with you.

Check number 1636, Mike Hizuenga Loan for $5000?

A. Mike was our pilot that had flown us for two years when we needed him.

He had a very serious accident. He was out of work for about four months. He had bought, invested in a unit in Tuscaloosa, and he asked me if he could get a loan or get some of his money back out of that unit. And we paid him $5000 on three occasions.

He's back well and flying again.

Q. Why was it marked Loan?

A. He said he would take it as a loan or take it as a payment on his, either one we wanted to do.

Q. Was a decision ever made whether it was a loan or a payment?

A. Not really. We just sent him $5000, got it documented. We can call it a loan or repayment loan.

Q. Check number 1483, Interior Design, Spur, $2000?

A. That went to 408 and 205.

Q. At The Spur?

A. Yes.

Q. Carolina Tape and Supply, check number 1484, $3280?

A. Personal.

Q. Check 1534, 1100 Club, $1100?

Q. Clyde Turney Builder, $2571?

A. We put a deck, to stand on, inside the deck on 601 and the common area, roof-top thing at Columbia.

Q. Floyd Elliott, $3983?

A. I got to find that, I don't know what that is.

Q. Check number 1648, same deal on the 1100 Club, $1100?

A. That's right. That is the fund Rich's playing.

Q. Check number 1643, Floyd Elliott, $3000?

A. I'll have to find that, I don't know.

Q. Anthony Waters, same deal as earlier?

A. Yes.

Q. Lew Jordan, $14,450. That's Clemson stadium box?

A. Personal, yes.

What check was that?

Q. I don't have the number. Somehow we can't read the number on it, but it's 14,450.

A. Okay.

Q. Okay. Check number 1668, J & P Security loan repayment, $11,000?

A. I have it marked personal. I'll have to look into that.

Q. Okay. Check 1363, a legal retainer for $10,000?
A. Personal.
Q. Check 1490, Cindy Agnew, for $2474?
A. That's painting 601.

And the reason it's in there, that unit sold for, the most expensive unit we had, and it sold for 795,000. And in that sales agreement, I agreed to paint the inside, Ed Straum and I went in together.

And that was the painting there.

We also painted 505, which was really to raise money for the company, and part of it was painted to help in selling.

Q. All right. The last issue I'm going to ask you about today, because you need to leave by 2:30, right?

MR. TALLEY: Appreciate it.

Q. Is this: At The Legends of Blacksburg, new co-managers were appointed in the fall of 2007; would you agree with that?
A. Yeah.
Q. And after the fall, and all of the LLC documents were amended to make it a manager managed company, and Floyd Elliott and Mike Brown would be the co-managers, and you were no longer the manager.

Would that be correct?

A. That's right. I was not the manager in anything.
Q. In January of 2008, you signed a mortgage, creating a second mortgage against the property owned by the Legends of Blacksburg, to the guy who sold us the property.

Since you were no longer the manager, why did you do that?
A. In '08?
Q. In '08. Just recorded in January of '08.
A. In Blacksburg?
Q. Yes.
A. I was not a manager, but I was one of the principals. And we owed him the money.
Q. But do you understand that in January of '08, you, with your signature, could not bind the company?
A. I didn't, was not aware of it.
Q. Well, since you were no longer the manager, and the co-managers were the ones that could bind the company --
A. Well, the co-managers weren't borrowing the money, the principals were. And I don't believe either one of them signed any loans personally.
Q. The net effect of that is to create a second mortgage on that property; do you understand that?
A. Yes.

Q. And do you understand that the buyer, proposed buyer now for the property, that second mortgage is likely going to kill that deal?
A. I'm not familiar with it.
Q. Why would you pledge company assets --
A. Wait a minute --
Q. -- when you don't have the authority to do it?
A. That was not recorded in the first loan from Jack Lester. And he brought that to my attention, that it was never recorded.
Q. After you signed the mortgage, where did, did you give it to Jack Lester, or did you give it to lawyers, or what?
A. Sent it to his accountant.
Q. To his accountant?
A. Um-hmm.

Actually I was supposed to send it to Jack personally, but I sent it to the wrong place.

Q. And the Blacksburg LLC lawyers -- what's the name of that law firm?

MR. TALLEY: Albright & Baumgarden --

Q. -- Albright and Baumgarden, have recorded it; do you know why they would have recorded it?
A. Who recorded it?

Q. The closing lawyers for the LLC.
A. On the land up there?
Q. Yes.
A. Left out of the first wave of signing.
Q. Do you, do you acknowledge that you were not authorized by the company to sign that document?
A. No.
Q. Tell me what your authorization was, if you claim you were authorized?
A. The principal, the managers never signed for any money, to my knowledge.

Who borrowed the money, the principals. I'm still a principal of it.

Q. Okay.
A. I am responsible for debts, I'm responsible for securing loans.
Q. But you would agree that you were, that there was no company resolution that authorized you to sign that document?
A. I don't know. It was left out, left out by mistake in the first loan on the land.
Q. Do you claim that there was written authorization from the company authorizing you to sign that?
A. I don't, I don't claim it, because I don't know.
Q. And you agree that you were no longer a manager or a co-manager?

A. I was not a manager or a co-manager; just a principal.

Q. And you agree that it was a manager managed company?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. All right. Okay.

MR. OLSON: We'll reconvene and I'll call and we'll set another time.

C. LAMAR GREENE, BEING PREVIOUSLY DULY SWORN, TESTIFIED FURTHER AS FOLLOWS:

MR. OLSON: You're already under oath from the previous deposition. We could reswear you, but the Court says you're still under oath, so we're not going to reswear you, it's a waste of time and energy for her to do it.

Q. Mr. Greene, let me, let's jump right in on this stuff.

Were there any other bank accounts in the name of Palmetto State Enterprises other than the First Citizens account that we talked about at the last deposition, and the Regions Bank account that we talked about at the last deposition?

A. I don't know whether NBSC, what name that was in, where we got the original loan.

Q. Was there an account --

A. What kind of account? Excuse me.

Q. Checking account.

A. As well as I can remember, I don't know whether it was or was not.

Q. An NBSC account?

A. Yeah.

Q. All right. Let me ask, that's what I was asking, asking you about, because we've just actually two days ago finally determined that there was an NBSC account in the name of Palmetto State.

Where is the statement to that account going?

A. I don't know.

Q. And it's not going to you?

A. Um-um.

Q. Are there funds in that account?

A. NBSC?

Q. In the NBSC.
A. I'm going to say no. I don't really know.
Q. Were you the person who signed the checks on that account, on the NBSC account?
A. We would have had three people that could have signed.
Q. And who would the three have been?
A. Myself, Ron and Rich.
Q. At some point The Spur project in Columbia, as people signed contracts to buy units, they would put down earnest money; is that correct?
A. Yes.
Q. And a lawyer by the name of Trey Harrell actually received that earnest money initially?
A. Earnest money. That's correct.
Q. But there was an agreement that Palmetto States could use the earnest money in the building and construction and, for the project --
A. That's correct.
Q. -- before closing.
A. And I think that's a law in South Carolina. It's the only state that I know of that we've run into that allows that.
Q. Right. And so it wouldn't have been unusual for Trey Harrell to write checks from his escrow to Palmetto States representing various earnest money deposits that people had put down?

A. Probably all of the deposits were eventually transferred to First Citizens.

Q. Now, we have found, found some checks; I've circled three of them on this exhibit right here, A, B, and C. Those checks total $304,500, made payable to Palmetto State.

Were those, was that earnest money people were paying for units?

A. Yeah, I'm, yes, as far as I know it was.

Q. Okay. And we find that that, I think, I think Mike got those actually from Trey Harrell's office, and we don't have the account itself, the records from the account itself at NBSC.

But we don't have any record of that $304,000 ever being spent or, on behalf of Palmetto States. And so what I'm asking you is, what happened to that $304,000?

A. That's money would have been in First Citizens.

Q. Okay. So when we get the account records from NBSC, we're going to see where that would have been transferred into First Citizens?

A. Yes.

Q. All right.

A. From NBSC now, this came from Harrell, Trey Harrell.
Q. Right.
A. I don't know that it ever went to NBSC.
Q. Okay.
A. And it may have. There's deposits on, when we started we had to get deposits for, to satisfy that loan.
Q. Okay. If I told you that it did go into NBSC?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. All right. Then we, meaning Palmetto States, doesn't have any evidence that shows that it ever came, actually came to Palmetto States; it went in that NBSC account, but from there we don't know what happened to it?
A. I'm assuming that it went to First Citizens.
Q. Okay. So the First Citizens' records should show --
A. Deposits.
Q. -- deposits matching those. Okay. All right.
A. And if they came out of there, there must be a paper trail as to where they went.
Q. I want you to assume what I'm telling you is true, because you can't verify this absolutely today yourself without us spending about three hours doing it on this one item, which we're not going to do.

But assume that the records of First Citizens don't show that money ever going to First Citizens: then what would have happened?

A. Let's find out where it went. I don't know.

MR. OLSON: Okay. Let's mark this as an exhibit to the deposition.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 9 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. Okay. I got, since the last deposition, I got, through your lawyer, copies of your 2004, 2005, 2006 Federal Income Tax Returns.

And I want you to look, we're not going to really even talk about the 2004, so if you want to, you can put that aside. But I do want to talk to you about the 2005 tax return.

At the first deposition you talked about having an agreement with Palmetto States of paying you $10,000 a month salary. Do you recall that?

A. Yeah, nothing written.

Q. Yes. Yeah, just an oral agreement?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. And that you sometimes took that money in salary, and it was marked on the check stub, Salary; and then sometimes you took it in ways that it wasn't actually marked on the check stub Salary, but it benefitted you.

For example, there was some furniture that was purchased through a furniture store in Easley. And there was some cosmetic surgery that was done that was paid for by Palmetto States.

And you, as I recall, told me that you were entitled to all of that because it was all salary?

A. That's correct.

Q. And you started drawing that salary in 2005, didn't you?

A. I don't recall a date, but I'm sure you've got it there.

Q. And I want you to tell me, if that's true, why your 2005 federal income tax return doesn't show one penny salary from Palmetto States?

A. I'll have to ask the accountant. I don't know. This is the first time I've seen this.

Q. You signed it, it was sent it, didn't you?

A. I don't read it. If I read it, I probably wouldn't know what I was looking at.

I sign a lot of things that I don't read.

Let's back up on the salary, and let me comment on that.

Q. Okay.

A. The first meeting that we had, to start this project of finding land, was in the last quarter of '03. And the first meeting that was ever held was McDonald's in Clinton, South Carolina, with Wilder Realty, to ask questions, interview them really is what it was. He brought his whole staff there.

There's a mix-up whether we were meeting at his office or somewhere else. But that's when we had the meeting.

Starting construction is the easiest part of this whole exercise. You start by finding, you got an idea, people say, yeah, that's good, we'll pursue it. Then you go find land that fits our criteria. Then you find out who owns it, will they sell it.

Then you met with zoning boards and variance boards. Haven't seen any yet we didn't have to get a change in something, height, set-back, parking space, whatever.

That takes a long time. And the places that we went to before we ever really got started was, first one was Athens, Georgia; then Columbia, Auburn, Tuscaloosa, Lubbock, Virginia Tech, Virginia.

That's seven. And that's the meat of this exercise. If you don't get all of your answers, questions, then it's for zero, you can't be going any further. So you don't start to work the day that you start pouring concrete.

Q. But my question is more on the tax return --

A. I can't answer that, I don't know.

Q. Well let me ask something. You were acting as the manager, and you were a member of Palmetto States, LLC?

A. Yes.

Q. Correct?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. And do you agree that it would have been your responsibility to have had 1099s prepared for the LLC, to show what salary you received?

A. We had a tax return. First tax return was prepared by Pressly. Pressly CPA is in Lexington, North Carolina. I'd have to to get that tax return out to see what she prepared.

Q. Okay. If necessary, I'm going to depose the CPA.

A. That's fine.

Q. And I'm satisfied that what the CPA is going to say is, the reason that there was no salary shown in your 2005 tax return for Palmetto States, is because you didn't tell her about it?

MR. TALLEY: Is that a question?

MR. OLSON: That's a question.

MR. TALLEY: Can you restate it.

Q. Did you tell your CPA that you received salary from Palmetto States?

A. I don't recall.

Q. Can you think of any reason why she wouldn't have put it on your tax return, if you'd have told her?

A. I cannot recall. We've got more tax credits than will ever be used. Show it on the front page. It's not going to affect the bottom line.

Q. And then again in 2006, from your earlier deposition, you claimed that both direct payments by Palmetto State to you shown, entered on the check as salary, and then indirect payments of things that benefitted you were salary.

And look at your 2006 tax return and tell me, of that salary which totals, according to my math, $186,500, why not one cent of that's shown as income?

A. First of all, I would dispute the hundred thousand, because we've got this list of stuff that we intend to go down today on some of this.

So the hundred thousand, I don't agree with that; we will dispute it. And then we will get the accountant deposed.

Q. And let me ask you this, have you filed your 2007 tax return yet?

A. 2007.
Q. That would have been last year's tax return. The final deadline would have been October 15, 2008.
A. I think we filed it last week. But I'm not sure on that. Very recently.
Q. And would it have shown, where we show that you received $104,381 salary?
A. It won't show 104 thousand, because we dispute it. We'll get to that bottom number maybe today.
Q. Would it have shown any salary from Palmetto State?
A. I will have to ask the accountant.
Q. Okay. Well, according to our records, and I understand you dispute this, but you don't dispute that there were sizable sums of money paid to you as salary? I think we both agree.
A. Absolutely, yes, sir, I agree to that.
Q. And we've got, in 2005, total of 56,000; 2006, 186,500, and 2007, 104,000, totaling $346,000.

And to my knowledge, not one cent of that is declared as income on your federal and state income tax returns?
A. I'll repeat, I don't agree with that number, and we will get to the bottom. You can pick a number, any number, and say that's it.

Q. If the number is only a hundred thousand, not one cent of it is reported on your state and federal income tax return; is that correct?
A. I can't answer that, I don't know.
Q. Did you have 1099 forms prepared for the LLC?
A. I don't prepare them. I don't know whether they were or not.
Q. Did you direct your CPA to prepare them?
A. Did I?
Q. Yes.
A. She had all the records on it, because she had filed one tax return. So I don't know that, I don't know.
Q. All right. From 2004 through 2007 did both you and Jeff Greene work at J&P Enterprises?
A. Yes.
Q. And what was your normal weekly work schedule at J&P? What days would you work for J&P, and when would you not?

Would you work Mondays typically?

A. I know I worked every day for J&P. Unless, when this come along, I take, when needed, time for this, I took care of that.

My full job is for J&P Enterprises. And that's about a six-and-a-half day work week.

Q. And you would drive back and forth from Clemson to Gastonia to work at J&P?

A. No, I would drive from Gaffney sometimes. My job was traveling, selling, so I stayed out a pretty good bit.

Q. Okay.

A. And it was also doing import, export business, twice a year to China, two or three times a year to Mexico.

So I don't have a slight job; I got something to do every damn day.

Q. Let me ask you this, would it be fair to say that from 2004 to 2007, on at least Monday through Friday, and it may have been more than that, but at least Monday through Friday that you were working either for J&P Enterprises or these various condo projects for Palmetto States?

A. If you back that back up '03, I'd say yes.

Q. Part of 2003 too?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Okay. Did you work a lot on the weekends on behalf of either J&P or Palmetto States in the various condominium projects?

A. Did I work?

Q. Weekends, Saturdays and Sundays, in addition to Monday through Friday?

A. Weekend work would be reviewing what I'd done that week. Office is in my home here in Clemson.

Q. Okay.
A. So work, some on both days, sometimes all day.
Q. During those years, 2003 through 2007, did you regularly travel each year with the same group or basically the same group to the Daytona 500 in Daytona, Florida?
A. No.
Q. You didn't do that, okay.
A. I went to, I go to Daytona every year; not with the same group.
Q. Okay. And your going to Daytona, did it have anything to do with J&P Enterprises?
A. Yes.
Q. How is that? Do you have a condo project in Daytona, Florida?
A. No, I did not.
Q. Did you drive by anyplace that you had a condo project on the way?
A. Sure did.
Q. Where was that?
A. Columbia.
Q. Columbia is on the way to Daytona?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. Okay. Is that why you wrote off the Daytona 500 expenses against J&P?

A. Say that again?

Q. Is that why you wrote off Daytona 500 expenses against J&P, because you rode by the condos in Columbia?

MR. TALLEY: I object to the form of that question on the basis of relevance.

Q. Go ahead and answer it.

A. I don't know.

Q. Does J&P Enterprises have customers in Texas, Mexico, and China?

A. We have where we import from. I guess I import, where you buy, like a customer.

Q. Did you and your son, Jeff, travel on business to Texas, Mexico and China in 2003, '4, '5, '6, '7?

A. We never went to Texas together, to my knowledge; but we went, and I'm not sure about Mexico. We go to China, we don't travel alone there.

Q. When you went to China and other places, when you're going to China, you were doing that for J&P?

A. Yes.

Q. And what airlines would you use?

A. The one that had the best rate.

Q. Have you ever been to a Sam's Town Hotel and Casino?

A. No, sir, and I'm glad you brought that up.

We have, on our loan from Regions, we have three, they issued us three credit cards, one for me, one for Ron and one for Rich. And those credit cards had the same number on it, and we got a monthly statement.

Now, I've never been to Las Vegas; it was either Ron or Rich or both charged almost nine thousand dollars at the Sam's Hotel. Not me.

Q. You understand I don't --

A. I'm answering your question just straight as I know how, Chris. See, that's another one, you just pick a damn number and say, Hey, this is it.

Q. I know we can quibble over some numbers; we won't quibble over two million dollars' worth of numbers.

A. Oh, that's right, absolutely.

Q. In your travels for J&P, did you and Jeff sometimes have to rent cars?

A. If we rented a car, it would be on J&P, would be in Texas, be the only place.

Q. Why Texas? I thought you told me a minute ago you weren't sure you traveled to Texas?

MR. TALLEY: If we need to -- that's not what he said.

MR. OLSON: Is that not what he said?

MR. TALLEY: No. Off the record.

(Discussion off the record)

CONTINUED EXAMINATION BY MR. OLSON:

Q. Did you travel to Texas?

A. Yes.

Q. What was the purpose of going to Texas?

A. Look at property at Lubbock, at the stadium, meeting with realtors there.

And also had a customer not too far from there.

Q. Customer for who?

A. J&P.

Most all except, that I can recall, all except twice we would visit real estate customer and J&P customer.

Q. The Regions Bank account in the name of Palmetto State, what was the purpose of that account?

A. Travel expense.

Now there's a loan there; you're talking about the construction loan?

Q. No, I'm talking about the checking account?

A. Business expense. That's just what I told you, there's three credit cards issued on that account.

Q. And do you recall previously testifying in your deposition that you kept a balance in that account of around three thousand dollars?

A. We started, again I'm not sure, but I think it was probably 5000 it opened with; and on several occasions I transferred money from First Citizens to that account.

MR. OLSON: Let's take a five minute time-out.

(Brief recess.)

Q. Mr. Greene, I just handed you the originals of what was furnished to us; they're not actually originals, but it's originals of what was furnished to us by the bank, from the Regions Bank account.

And I wanted to ask you about them.

We've just gone over that you recall testifying back in May that you kept the balance around $3000 in that account?

A. I don't recall that, but if you've got, probably in that neighborhood.

Q. And if you'll flip over the cover page, and look at the balance on the first statement from May of 2005, what is that balance?

A. 142, am I looking at, 142,000.

Q. $1,142,415?

A. Yeah. Um-hmm.

Q. And the second month's balance, June 2005, 50,704, excuse me, 50,707?

A. This is not the credit card account. It's in the construction loan side somewhere.
Q. Let me see it back.
A. (Handing document.)
Q. Look at the third page and tell me what the name on the account is? What type of account is that?
A. I don't know what I'm looking at.
Q. Business checking? Right here?
A. Okay.
Q. Now after seeing that, would you agree that's a checking account records?
A. But I don't know whether it's in the construction end or not.
Q. Okay.
A. And all the deposits is 220, I don't know whether that was transfers from Harrell, I don't know where that come from.
Q. Okay.
A. And there's one, 857.

And I would suspect that that's construction draws and those kind of numbers. But I don't really know.

MR. HODGE: Is this Plaintiff's 11?

MR. OLSON: We're going to put these records, as being the Regions Bank account record for the business checking account into evidence. We're going to have to make of copy of them, this is our only copy, and we're going to make a copy for everybody at the end of the day.

If you want me to, I'll stop now and make a copy. I'm not going to really go through this any more than what I've just asked.

MR. HODGE: Is that number 10 or 11?

MR. OLSON: It's going to be 10.

BY THE WITNESS:

A. I don't know what the name of it is. It's, you know, expense account with the cards, three, possibly 5000 max in those. I have the statements; I'm sure Mike has them. This is not that same account.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 10 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. Let's change the subject, go to something else.

At some point during Palmetto State Enterprises' existence, did you approach Ron West about removing him from either Palmetto States Enterprises or The Legends of Tuscaloosa?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you recall about when that was?

A. Shortly before they relieved me of the job. I don't know, two, a month, two months, short time.
Q. So if the records show that back in the fall of 2007 you were no longer the, managing the LLCs, it was a couple of months before then?
A. Approximately.
Q. Approximately. Okay.

To your knowledge, at any time was there a corporate resolution or an LLC resolution ever created authorizing any member to obligate other members of the LLC on personal guarantees on promissory notes to individual investors?

A. Say that again now?
Q. Did any of the LLCs of which you were a member, in connection with these condominium projects, ever enact a resolution, a resolution is a written document, and my question would be, a resolution authorizing any member or manager to sign individual guarantees for other members?
A. I don't know of any resolutions we had except incorporating. The manager had the authority to run the company and commit whatever needed to be.
Q. Are you aware that on the organization documents for the LLCs, that those documents specifically state that individual members will not be liable for obligations?

A. No.

Q. You're not aware of that?

A. (Unintelligible.)

Q. Do you recall when The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC, was actually formed? And by that I mean something is filed with the State of Virginia so that it is a legal entity?

A. Can't tell you. I don't know.

Q. If I told you the records show, on June 28, 2007, would you disagree with that?

A. June of '07.

You have it in your hand now, so I'm sure that's --

Q. Believe me on it, or I can dick around and pull it out.

A. I believe you.

Q. And who were the members of The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC, at the time it was formed?

A. Myself, Jeff, Ron, Rich, Floyd.

Q. Just give me a minute on that.

Let me show you the Operating Agreement for The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC. Then look at the signature page, and tell me who the members were?

A. Is this the signature page?

Q. Yes.
A. Mine and Jeff's name is the only one on it.
Q. And on that Operating Agreement, would you show me anything that shows that Ron West or Rich Rodriguez or Floyd Elliott was a member on June 28 --
A. Not on this, but I can show you one.
Q. What record would that be?
A. I'll get it back and see. I don't know what it's called, but those names are on the signature page.
Q. Okay.
A. The other operating agreements, two of the three members can expel one. In that one, three out of five, a majority, can expel a person.
Q. As part of your work for Palmetto States or The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC, were you collecting funds from private investors?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. What state do you reside in?
A. South Carolina and North Carolina.
Q. Let me show you these one at a time.
Can you identify what that is?
A. That's a 250,000 investment from Rocky McIntosh.
Q. And who prepared that document?
A. I don't know who prepared it, but I'm going to say probably Mike Brown prepared it.

Q. And is that your signature at the bottom of it?
A. Yes, it is.
Q. And does that investment instrument say it is guaranteed by Palmetto States and its principals, Lamar Greene, Rich Rodriguez, and Ron West?
A. Yes, it does.
Q. So you agree that that is your signature on this personal guarantee?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And you acknowledge that you have personally guaranteed this obligation?
A. Along with the other members, yes, sir.
Q. But you have?
A. Yes, sir.

MR. OLSON: And introduce this as Exhibit 11.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 11 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. And the date of that investment is what?
A. 11/8/06, I guess.

Wait a minute. Yeah, that's the only dates on here. No, there's one, ten-six.

Q. But you would agree that that's six to eight months before The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC, is formed?

A. I don't know whether it's six to eight months; it was before.
Q. And this next one, tell me what that is?
A. Investment from Bill Stewart.
Q. And who is it signed by, guaranteeing it?
A. Me and Jeff.
Q. Okay. And you acknowledge that is your signature and that you personally guaranteed that investment?
A. I as manager of Palmetto States did, yes.
Q. But I mean you agree that it has the same language as Exhibit 11, that it says the investment's guaranteed by Palmetto States and its principals, Lamar Greene, Rich Rodriguez, and Ron West?
A. Yes.
Q. Now when you said that Jeff Greene signed it, Jeff signed it as a witness, I mean he didn't sign it as a guarantee?
A. Right.

MR. OLSON: Introduce this as number 12.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 12 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. And this next one to Mr. Paul Mahaffey?
A. My signature.

Q. And it also is a personal guarantee by you; and you allege that it's also a personal guarantee by others?
A. Well, I don't, my signature, does it confirm this? What is my signature -- excuse me, I need an interpretation here.
MR. TALLEY: Just answer the question.
Q. That's your signature, Lamar Greene?
A. Yes, um-hmm, right.
Q. And you agree it says, the document says that it's guaranteed personally by you, Lamar Greene, Rich Rodriguez and Ron West?
A. Yes.
MR. TALLEY: That's 13?
MR. OLSON: 13.
(Plaintiff's Exhibit 13 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)
CONTINUED EXAMINATION BY MR. OLSON:
Q. And the next one, to Mr. and Mrs. Roger McIntosh, same document?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Signed by you?
A. Yes, as the manager.
Q. Personally guaranteed by you? Up in the body?

A. By, yes, by me and the other two members.

MR. OLSON: Okay, this will be number 14.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 14 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. And the last one to Katherine Lee D'Andrea, also personally guaranteed by you?

A. Yes.

Q. And you allege the others?

A. Yes.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 15 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. Do you agree that those personal guarantees on your part total eight hundred thousand dollars?

A. I'm sure you added them up; I don't know.

Q. Let me ask you this: You agree, don't you, that there were different members in Palmetto State and The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC?

In other words, the owners of those two companies were not identical, yet some were, but you had others that weren't? For example, Jeff is not a member of Palmetto States, is he?

MR. BROWN: Yeah.

MR. OLSON: Okay, he is, excuse me.

Q. Floyd Elliott is not a member of Palmetto States; would you agree with that?

A. I don't know. I'll have to get the records out and see.

Q. You don't know whether Floyd Elliott was part of Palmetto States?

A. I do not. You know, I just told you that, Chris.

Q. Well, get the records out and take a look?

A. I don't have them with me, but we'll darn sure get them.

Q. Let's go on while Mike is pulling that out, I don't want to delay.

MR. BROWN: That's Palmetto States Operating Agreement.

Q. Got a number of signature pages here, because apparently they were signed at different places.

This is the Operating Agreement of Palmetto States. And if you look at all the signature pages, I think you're going to see all the members. If you would, tell me who those would be?

A. Is this the first page? There's three on here, myself, Jeff and Rich.

Q. Okay.

A. And Ron.

Q. Do you see Floyd Elliott's name on there?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Do you agree that Floyd Elliott is not a member of Palmetto States?

A. If his name's not on here, he wouldn't be.

Q. All right. So the question is this: Why are you pledging assets of one LLC to another LLC that has different members?

A. Can't answer that, I don't know.

All of the moneys that was contributed by investors, wherever it came from, went into the First Citizens, Palmetto States account. Every dollar that came in was there. Deposits went into that account.

With the exception of what Harrell may have transferred to, or Wilder transferred into NBS, South Carolina National Bank, that was not in operation very long, month, two months max.

Q. Okay. Looking at Exhibits 11, 12, 13, 14 and 15, various, the various guarantees, do you agree that all of them except the D'Andrea one, number 15, were signed prior to The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC, being formed?

A. When was the Blacksburg signed?
Q. June 28, 2007.
A. All these would be prior.
Q. Except for the D'Andrea, which is June, you would agree with that?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. All right. What is the physical address of J&P Enterprises? And by that I'm talking about the street address.
A. 5640 Gallagher Drive, Gastonia.
Q. North Carolina?
A. Yes.
Q. And the mailing address for J&P Enterprises is P.O. Box 977, Gastonia?
A. No. 5640 Gallagher Drive.
Q. You don't have a P.O. Box for J&P?
A. Um-um.
Q. Did you ever have a P.O. Box?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. When did you cease having that P.O. Box 977?
A. In the neighborhood of two years ago, year and a half, two years ago. Don't know exactly when.
Q. Okay. And the telephone number, including the area code, for J&P Enterprises, is one of the numbers 704-866-1919?

A. I don't know that number.

MR. BROWN: 7919.

MR. OLSON: 704-866-7919?

MR. BROWN: That's it.

Q. You don't know that number?

A. I don't, no. I only known one number, 704-861-1867.

Q. Where does J&P Enterprises bank?

A. They bank at Clover Community Bank and Palmetto.

No, no. J&P is at Clover, Clover Bank.

Q. So J&P does not bank at Palmetto?

A. No.

Q. And has not banked at Palmetto?

A. You're talking about a checking account?

Q. Yes.

A. We've had loans from there.

Q. Yes, I'm talking about a checking account.

A. We don't have, J&P does not have an account at Palmetto Bank.

Q. And has not had?

A. Can't say for sure about that.

Q. We talked about this a little the last time, the relationship between J&P Enterprises and Gaston Engineering.

You told me you didn't have anything to do with Gaston Engineering; do you recall that?

A. I don't recall that.
Q. Did you have anything to do with Gaston Engineering?
A. They had an office in our building.
Q. But I'm talking about, you were not a principal or anything like that --
A. No.
Q. -- of Gaston Engineering?
A. No.
Q. Are you aware that there is a website for Gaston Engineering that shows you as a principal?
A. No.

MR. TALLEY: I object. We went through all this last time, so asked and answered.

MR. OLSON: Did we go through the website?

MR. TALLEY: I'm pretty sure we did.

MR. OLSON: We hadn't discovered that long ago.

Q. Let me ask you this, off the internet --

MR. TALLEY: Same --

BY THE WITNESS:

A. Let me say about the internet, I'm computer ill-, I don't know how to turn them on, so I don't use it, and I don't know where that came from.
Q. So Gaston Engineering, according to a web address www.plantfloor.com, shows Mr. Lamar Greene as president; that's incorrect?

A. I'm not aware of that, no, sir.

Q. And you're --

A. Is that a corporation, or what is that?

Q. This is just something off of the internet.

A. I don't know about that.

Q. You are not and you never have been an officer for Gaston Engineering?

A. No, sir.

MR. BROWN: Do you want to enter that as evidence?

MR. HODGE: I'd like it put into evidence.

MR. TALLEY: Can I see it, please?

MR. HODGE: Just a second.

So that will be Plaintiff's 16?

MR. OLSON: Yes, Plaintiff's number 16.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 16 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

BY THE WITNESS:

A. May I ask a question?

Q. You can ask me one; you can't ask your lawyer one.

A. I can't ask him?

Q. No, you cannot, no.

THE WITNESS: What do you think?

MR. TALLEY: He's right.

Q. Did you have a personal checking account, meaning one under the name Lamar Greene, or you and your wife, or you or your wife, at Palmetto Bank?

A. I have a personal, and it's called a Senior Checking Account.

Q. Senior Checking Account, okay.

I'm going to show you what is, was part of an exhibit at your earlier deposition, which was an invoice submitted to Morgan and Bartos by Gaston Engineering, Inc., which I believe you said you had either prepared or had prepared for $20,000, and the accompanying payment from Gaston Engineering, endorsed by you for Gaston Engineering.

And I recognize it's a poor copy, but when you look at the check, do you see that Palmetto Bank is where that check was deposited?

A. I'm sure that's where it was deposited.

Q. And why would it have been deposited there?

A. He wanted cash, and that's where I could get the cash from.

MR. OLSON: We're going to mark this as one exhibit, number 17.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 17 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. Do you know anything about a draw, or request for payment and a payment, on The Spur construction loan at Regions Bank, in the amount of $21,300, payable to Gaston Engineering?

This is not Tuscaloosa; this is a different one, this is The Spur.

A. I can't call it up now, I can't.

Q. I'm going to show you this.

A. Yes.

Q. Do you recognize that?

A. I recognize my signature, yes.

Q. Do you know why Gaston Engineering received $21,300?

A. For work that had been done.

Q. What work?

A. Consulting work.

Q. And who actually did the, who was the engineer that performed the work?

A. There was about three of them, I can't recall the names.

Q. Is Gaston Engineering still located at your office in Gastonia?

A. Hasn't been anybody in there in a year, maybe longer.

MR. OLSON: Move to introduce this as the next exhibit, number 18.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 18 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. Do you know Paul Mahaffey?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. How long have you known him?

A. Since the '70s.

Q. Did you solicit an investment from him in the amount of a hundred thousand dollars?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. Tell me how that --

A. Did I solicit; I asked him if he'd like to invest.

Q. Ask him, solicit.

And tell me what he invested in?

A. You know, I don't know whether it said Palmetto State or what it said; but the funds went into the Palmetto State account at First Citizens.

All of those funds, that's where they went.

Q. Are you aware that Paul Mahaffey filed a civil action against Palmetto State Enterprises?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Paul Mahaffey speak to you before filing the action?
A. I think I recommended that he do it, yes.
Q. Let me show you the cover sheet and, the cover sheet to the Complaint. The signature down there at the bottom, Paul Mahaffey, whose signature is that, do you know?
A. I don't know.
Q. It's not yours?
A. Not mine.
Q. Now I'm going to tell you --
A. I don't think, I don't think, that don't look like mine, if you look at the rest of them.
Q. Well, now you would remember signing somebody's name to a lawsuit other than your own, wouldn't you, if you did that?
A. Yeah, I would. I can't, I don't know whether that's my signature, doesn't look like it.
Q. If it is your signature, what in the world would cause you to sign another man's name to a lawsuit?
A. I don't know how to answer that.
Q. Did Paul Mahaffey authorize you to sign his name for that lawsuit?
A. He asked me to try to collect his money.
Q. Did he authorize you to sign his name?

A. No.
Q. So if that is your signature, and he didn't authorize it, then it's a forgery?
A. No. I'm going to say we discussed it, how he could get payment. And I don't remember all the details of that.
Q. Okay.
MR. OLSON: Introduce this as Exhibit number 19.
THE WITNESS: And that's a suit against who? Me, Palmetto, or who?
(Plaintiff's Exhibit 19 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)
BY THE WITNESS:
A. Paul is aware of this.
Q. You're saying that Paul is aware?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Aware of what?
A. The suit.
Q. Is he aware of who signed his name to it?
A. I can't answer that.
Q. To be clear about this, you're saying it is not your signature --
A. I didn't say that.
Q. -- you don't know whether it's your signature?

A. I said it doesn't look like my signature.
Q. But at any rate, you are sure he didn't authorize you to sign his name to the lawsuit?
A. I'm going to say that's right.
No, I'm going to retract that. I'll retract that.
Q. You're saying he did authorize you to sign his name?
A. I think he did.
Q. And so if that is --
A. He asked me to see what I could do to get his money back, and we had discussions a long time.
Q. All right. Now, you've said you think he authorized you to sign his name?
A. I didn't say authorize. He authorized me to see what I could do to get his money.
Q. Okay. I mean it's, I want to tell you it's important whether he authorized you to sign his name or not. That's what I'm trying to find out.
A. I can't answer that.
Q. And you can't answer whether that in fact is your signature, not his?
A. Doesn't look like it, but it could be a stamp, it could be whatever.
MR. OLSON: I'm actually about to get done with your questions, and I've got one more thing to go over with you, and I've got to dig it out from his records. So let's take a little break.

(Recess.)

Q. Can you read the heading of that document?

A. I can read the heading.

Q. Would you agree, I know you haven't had an opportunity to read it all, but would you agree that that is the Bank Capital construction loan agreement for the Blacksburg project?

A. I can't read it to tell you what.

Q. Go down to the signature pages.

MR. BROWN: Can I read it for the record?

MR. OLSON: I'll read it.

Q. This construction loan agreement is entered into as of September 21, 2007, by and between Bank Capital and Financial Services, a South Carolina corporation, lender, and The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC, a Virginia limited liability company, for a loan in total amount of $26,100,000.

And then it is a multi-, multi-, multi-page loan agreement. Go to the last page, it should have signatures on it.

MR. BROWN: It's on my signature, since I was manager at that time.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 20 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

Q. Paragraph 1.5.1.16, and I'm going to show you this, which has been marked as Exhibit number 20.

What does that paragraph provide?

A. I don't know.

THE WITNESS: Can you read that, counsel?

Q. Can you not read it?

A. I can't read it --

Q. Okay, give it back to me.

Let me ask you this, does it provide: No other encumbrance is contemplated for the mortgaged property, and borrower, would be The Legends of Blacksburg, LLC, agrees that no junior lien of any nature against any or all or any portion of the mortgaged property shall be given, permitted, or suffered by borrower without the lender's written consent.

THE WITNESS: What does that mean?

MR. OLSON: You can tell him what it means.

MR. TALLEY: Just tell him what you think it means.

THE WITNESS: Do what?

Q. Let me ask you: To you, that doesn't mean you can't put a second mortgage on the property without the lender agreeing?

A. Second mortgage -- I don't know. I don't know that.

Q. I thought you were, you had gone around and negotiated all of these property purchases and construction loans and financing and all of this, and you don't know what that paragraph says?

A. I do not.

Q. What do you think it means?

A. I don't really know, I don't know what that paragraph means.

But I do know we didn't take that loan down 26 million, or whatever that number was. Not while I was in there.

Q. Do you deny that it means you can't put a second mortgage on the property?

A. I don't know that.

Q. Do you deny it?

A. No, I don't deny it, because I don't know.

Q. Did you put a second mortgage on the property?

A. Did I?

Q. Yes, to Mr. Lester.
A. He owned the property to begin with.
Q. Did you put a second mortgage on the property?
A. Did I?
Q. Did you?
A. Not that I know of.
Q. You don't recall signing a note and mortgage to Mr. Lester about six months after the closing?
A. Three hundred thousand?
Q. Five hundred thousand.
A. Now at the closing I asked him to defer that for some period of time. And I think it might have been a year. That was at the closing.
Q. Okay.
A. He agreed to do that.
Q. And that was at the same closing that this loan was closed; correct?
A. He was only at the closing of the property, of his property.
Q. Right.
A. He wasn't at the construction loan closing.
Q. Was the construction loan closing done simultaneously?
A. No. I said no, but I don't really know about that.
Q. Well, let me ask you this. If that provision means that you can't put a second mortgage on the property, did you violate that provision when you gave him a second mortgage?

A. The property has to be cleared for the --

MR. TALLEY: Let's go back to the top.

BY THE WITNESS:

A. Second, now which is the second mortgage we're talking about, or is it a second mortgage?

What was the original sale for the land? What was the original cost?

Q. You're the one that bought it, Mr. Greene. I don't know.

A. You know what, I didn't buy it.

Q. Who did?

A. I signed for it.

Q. And you don't know what it cost you?

A. The big tract was 3-3 million, and the tracts all around it, somewhere in the neighborhood of four million.

Q. Okay.

A. To Jack, it would be three, three-point-something. But it was several other tracts bought around it that he didn't own.

Q. Do you recall executing a note and a mortgage to Jack Lester after you were no longer the manager for that LLC, for $500,000?

A. NO.
Q. You don't recall doing that?
A. It was before then.
But I haven't been back up there since I was relieved off the job.
Q. Okay. You were removed as manager from the LLC when?
(Handing document.)
A. What date is this? October the 4th, '07.
I don't know when that note was, the three hundred was.
MR. BROWN: Do you want to enter that into evidence?
MR. OLSON: Yes, it's going to be Exhibit number 21.
(Plaintiff's Exhibit 21 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)
MR. TALLEY: That's the minutes?
MR. OLSON: Yes.
Q. So you agree, you agree that the minutes of the meeting of The Legends of Blacksburg show that you were removed on October 4th, 2007, according to Exhibit 21?

A. About that time, I don't know about that.
Q. And let me show you this, a copy of something that's called a Deed of Trust. And you look over there on the signature page, and tell me who signed it, what the date of that is?
A. 20th day of December '07.
Q. Two months after you were removed?
A. Yes. Well, whatever it was.

And how this, how this money came along, we didn't have a second mortgage, or we owed him X number of dollars, we didn't have enough dollars to pay him.

I asked him to take a -- now, I didn't, I didn't, the 20th then, I guarantee you I was not in Blacksburg.

From the day he relieved, I haven't been to any site.

Q. And the loan agreement, the construction loan agreement with Bank Capital, in which I contend it says you can't put a second mortgage on the property, was September 21, 2007, three months before you put a second mortgage on the property?
A. That's what the dates are, yes.
Q. That's right.
A. But we didn't -- okay. We'll get to that in our time.

MR. OLSON: Mark this as a Plaintiff's Exhibit, 22.

(Plaintiff's Exhibit 22 marked for identification, L. Greene deposition, 11/14/08, RAM.)

CONTINUED EXAMINATION BY MR. OLSON:

Q. You said you're not sure of the dates, I believe. But in any event, you had an agreement at the time of purchase that you were going to give Jack Lester a second mortgage?

A. No.

Q. When did the --

A. At closing on that, when it came due.

Q. Okay. All right. You made an agreement with Jack Lester --

A. To pay him X number of dollars for property. We didn't have that X number of dollars. I asked him to take a note on some amount, three or five hundred, whatever it was.

Q. All right. And you made that agreement with him at closing?

A. Yes.

Q. Okay.

A. Actually might have been a day before closing.

Q. Okay. And so even according --
A. He would defer his....
Q. Even according to, if that provision in the loan agreement says you can't put a second mortgage on it, which is what I say it says, you did it anyway; correct?
A. If that's the date is correct, I did.
Q. And did you tell Bank Capital you did that?
A. Why sure. They knew about it.
Q. Bank Capital knew of the second mortgage?
A. Red Gibbs knew about it, yes.
Q. The second mortgage?
A. I don't know if it was a mortgage or what, but he knew that we had not paid it in full.

MR. OLSON: I don't have any other questions. Thank you.

CROSS EXAMINATION BY MR. HODGE:

Q. Got a couple of questions.

When we first began this second deposition, you referenced, I think it was Plaintiff's Exhibit 10, the Regions Bank records.

In May of '05, a balance is reflected of 1,142,000; and then records in June of '05 reflected a balance of $50,707.

So what I want to know is, what happened to that approximately 1.1 million?

A. That was not in our, the only account we had personal was a checking thing. I don't know what account that was in, but you'll have to get Davis on that to explain that. It was in the construction loan somewhere.

Q. Well, I mean --

A. It was --

Q. Did you have signature authority on that account?

A. On the construction loan, no, sir.

Q. On this Regions Bank account that was referenced as Plaintiff's Exhibit 10.

A. Is that the credit card? That's the only thing that --

MR. HODGE: Show him Plaintiff's Exhibit 10.

BY THE WITNESS:

A. Simply trying to see where these checks came from and who they went to. I see that on a couple of pages here, but I don't see any million dollar changes or whatever.

And there's a check for $186,601; I'd like to see that check.

MR. BROWN: Should be a copy of it on the next page.

THE WITNESS: And a check of 189 thousand.

Q. Well, to go back to my question, I asked you, did you have signature authority on this account?

A. Yes.

Q. And is your address 144 Riverpoint, Clemson, South Carolina, 29631?

A. That's correct.

Q. Did anybody else have signature authority on that account?

A. Yes. Ron and Rich.

Q. Did Ron West or Rich Rodriguez transfer a million dollars out of that account?

A. I'm sure they did not.

Q. So what I want to know is, what happened to the million dollars?

A. Yeah, I'd like to know, too. We ought to track that down, where it went. Somebody cashed it and deposited it somewhere.

Yes, sir, I'd really like to know that myself.

Q. Well, Mr. Greene, don't you think you'd be in the best position to know, since you're the only one that had the signature authority that's --

A. I did not have signature authority, was not the only one, sir.

Q. Well, you told me Rich Rodriguez and Ron West didn't write a check for a million dollars?

A. And I didn't either, to my knowledge, unless I transferred it to First Citizens or to the....

Q. Explain the First Citizens deal to me. What account is that? I've heard that mentioned throughout; understand that I can't really see all the documents that are being passed back and forth.

Does Palmetto States have another account at First Citizens?

A. No.

Q. All right, when you refer to First Citizens account, who's the name, what name is that account in?

A. Palmetto State.

Q. Okay. So Palmetto State had an account at Regions Bank?

A. Yes.

Q. And then they also had an account at First Citizens?

A. Yes.

Q. Is that what you're telling me?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. Well, why would you have switched, why would you have taken a million dollars out of one and put it into the other?

A. I've got to track that down. I can't answer. I don't remember writing a check for a million bucks.

Q. Okay.
A. And the only thing that could, well, it couldn't even be deposits, that much, I don't think.
Let's see where it went and who cashed it. That's what we've got to find out, Charlie, because I don't know.
Q. When we went through these personal guarantees that you executed, that would be Plaintiff's Exhibits 11 through 15, none of those mentioned Floyd Elliott, did they?
A. No, no.
Q. Is that true?
A. The loans? Floyd Elliott loans?
Q. Personal guarantee that was to Bill Stewart, Paul Mahaffey, Roger, Mr. and Mrs. Roger McIntosh, and Katherine D'Andrea.
A. No.
Q. Those only had your signature on them; correct?
A. That's right.
Q. And I understood you to look at that Operating Agreement and verify that Floyd Elliott was not a member of Palmetto States?
A. He did not come in as a member until the Blacksburg.
Q. Now, have you got any off-shore accounts?
A. No.

Q. Have you transferred money to your son or your family in the last two or three years, in cash amounts?
A. I have reimbursed him for some travel expense and plane expense. As far as transferring to him?
Q. So you've reimbursed your son. How much did that total?
A. I don't know, ten, eleven thousand over three years, two years, whatever the time limit was. And I think he's got it documented pretty good, what it was.
Q. In terms of your personal accounts, which banks do you have business with now?
A. Palmetto.
Q. Is that it?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Which banks did you have business with in '05 through the present?
A. Personal?
Q. Yes.
A. That would all be Palmetto.
Q. You didn't have any other banks?
A. I can't recall, but the one that I use all the time, Palmetto Bank.
Q. How about your wife?
A. I don't know where her accounts are.
Q. You don't know where your wife's accounts are?

A. I don't know, she won't tell me.
Q. Does she have an independent source of income?
A. She does not.
Q. So any money that she has is money that you generate?
A. No, she works for J&P Enterprises and gets a salary from there.
Q. Now, the same question I asked you about personal accounts. I know that you're affiliated with this J&P?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. How many banks does J&P do business with?
A. When you say do business, you're talking about loans, checking?
Q. Both.
A. Do business with Palmetto, Clover, and at one time we done business with RBS, had a checking account there, Royal Bank of Canada, RBC, that was located in Gastonia. And that goes about 15 to ten years.
Q. All in the name of J&P?
A. It would be, yes.
Q. Now how about Gaston Engineering?
A. Don't have a bank account for them.
Q. When checks were made to Gaston Engineering and sent to the J&P address, what accounts would those moneys be deposited in?

A. They were never deposited, I don't think; just got cash and paid the guys.
Q. So that money would be cashed and it would be paid out?
A. Yes.
Q. To who?
A. To, there's three guys in that company.
Q. What company?
A. Gaston Engineering, that done engineering work on building, check prices, that type stuff.
Q. Well, who are these three guys?
A. Think about it; I got the names in front of me, I got to call them up.
Q. Now, you understand you're under oath?
A. I do. And I'm telling you I can't call the names up. Because I also take medication for Alzheimer's, and sometime I can't call up a name, and just say quit, but it will come up before too long.
Q. Who's president of Gaston Engineering?
A. I don't know.
Q. You don't know?
A. No.
Q. What is Gaston Engineering?
A. It was a, I would say a consulting firm.
Q. How do you know that?

A. I first ran into them at the Towers.
Q. Ran into who?
A. The guys that owned Gaston Engineering.
Q. Okay. Where is Gaston Engineering's physical location?
A. I don't know where it is now. We used to rent them an office.
Q. You used to rent them an office?
A. Um-hmm.
Q. Did they have a separate telephone line?
A. I can't, I don't know. We have about five or six lines into the plant, and I don't know whether one of them was theirs or not.
Q. So how much money was paid to Gaston Engineering?
A. Hundred thousand that went, I think it was a hundred that went for bonuses to Ron, Rich and myself; and approximately 50 for work that was done by them.
Q. And who had to pay out the 150 thousand?
A. Bartos and Morgan. That's where the money, out of the construction loan.
Q. So the construction loan paid 150 thousand, and you and Rich and Ron split a hundred of it, and then you paid 50 more, you say, in cash?
A. Yes.
Q. Why did you pay in cash?

A. I do a lot of things in cash, Rich was paid in cash, Ron was paid in cash, I was paid in cash. That ain't nothing new with me.
Q. Well, did you report your 50,000 to the IRS, did you report it as income?
A. No, I did not; I don't know whether the accountant did or not.
Q. What did you do with that 50,000?
A. Which 50 you talking about?
Q. Excuse me, not 50. What did you do with your part of that hundred thousand you said you split with --
A. Thirty thousand came to me.
Q. What did you do with it?
A. Put it in my pocket.
Q. Do you recognize that that would be considered income, and you should report it to the taxing authorities?
A. It should be reported, yes.
Q. Did you file an amended return?
A. We just filed the taxes; the '07 taxes were filed like three days ago.
Q. Your testimony under oath has been that Gaston Engineering has three guys; you can't identify them by name. You say that --
A. Rob, Rob. Robert. I'll get his name in a minute.

Q. Why did Bartos write a check to Gaston Engineering for 150 thousand, instead of writing a check for 50,000, and the hundred be written in separate increments to you individuals?

A. They wrote a check for 20, 30, and we had 50, 50 and 30, about 130 I guess it would be.

Q. Did you understand my question?

A. Not really, sir.

Q. Well, if a check was written for 130 thousand, whatever the amount was, if it was written to Gaston Engineering, why wasn't all of it given to Gaston Engineering?

A. Because the three of us, Ron, Rich and myself, on the telephone, Ron was at my house, we agreed to take 50,000 each as a bonus.

Q. Mr. Greene, did you not just tell me that you didn't have anything to do with Gaston Engineering?

A. That's correct.

Q. So you took a check that was written to a company that you didn't have anything to do with, and you cashed the vast majority of the money?

A. I got that --

Q. Why would you do that?

A. To pay the partners.

Q. To pay the partners. The money was supposed to be paid to Gaston Engineering; why didn't you give it to Gaston?

A. Because they didn't do any work on that.

Q. They didn't do any work. Well, why did you, why did Bartos issue them a check for $150,000 if they didn't do any work?

A. Because I asked him to, I told him what it was, what it was for.

Q. You told him what it was for?

A. Um-hmm.

Q. Why would you tell him to write a check to Gaston Engineering when you weren't part of Gaston Engineering --

A. That's right.

Q. -- per your testimony?

A. That's right.

Q. Why would you do that?

A. I didn't want to write it to me.

Q. Why not?

A. I didn't want that check coming to me.

Q. Why didn't you tell him to write it to General Motors?

A. They wasn't on the bonus system, sir.

Q. They weren't on the bonus system. But Gaston Engineering was on a bonus system?

A. No, sir.
Q. I mean I just don't understand why you just made up that name, Gaston Engineering, for them to write a check to?
A. Well, I don't know who else we could write it to.
Q. You don't know who else you could write it to.
Let me ask you this, what was the money really supposed to be for?
A. The bonuses?
Q. The hundred and something thousand dollars.
A. Bonuses.
Q. Bonuses?
A. Yes.
Q. I mean bonuses for what? This project was not even off the ground; why would you be issuing bonuses?
A. We set there in my house, on the telephone hook-up, and said we would declare that bonus.
Q. You sat there on a telephone hook-up and decided you'd take money from a loan and declare it as a bonus?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you not see that you could be cheating the investors by doing such a thing?
A. Well, you could, but, you know, yeah, yeah, you could.

Q. What did you and Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. West do to earn such a bonus?
A. What did we do?
Q. Yeah. What did you do?
A. Well, I ran the company; they solicited investors; they visited the sites; and they had their name signed on several million bucks.
Q. So that earned, that somehow justified earning 150,000 extra dollars?
A. Well, we thought it did, or we wouldn't have done it.
Q. Now, I want to know why any of that money, if this was really for bonuses, why any of that money went to this Gaston Engineering, which you said didn't do any work?
A. I didn't say they didn't do any work.
Q. What work did they do?
A. Reviewed plans, see if there was a cheaper, better way to do the construction of the building.
Q. They send you an invoice?
A. I'm sure they did.
Q. I haven't seen one. I'd like to know what, I think the investors would like to know what Gaston Engineering did.

Now if they didn't do anything, we might as well come clean now. Because if we find out later that they didn't do anything, then there are going to be consequences to your testimony.

Do you understand that?

A. I do.

MR. TALLEY: Off the record.

(Discussion off the record.)

Q. Who generated the invoice that Mr. Talley has been kind enough to tell me that there's an invoice floating around? Who generated that invoice to Gaston Engineering?

A. Well, which one? There's like three or four, three invoices.

Q. Any of them.

A. I generated it for one, the 150.

Q. You generated an invoice for a company that you don't have anything to do with?

A. That's correct.

Q. Well, do you not see that that's wrong? I mean not just unlawful, but just wrong?

A. Well, yes, that's correct.

Q. Okay. The other invoices generated by Gaston Engineering, did you do those as well?

A. They probably told someone in our office; but they should have given them an invoice to do that.

And to finish that story, Rich was paid in cash, Ron was paid in cash, and I was paid in cash.

Q. Did Mr. Rodriguez and Mr. West make capital contributions?

A. Did they do what now?

Q. Did they put money out for this venture?

A. Yes.

Q. How much?

A. Ten thousand.

Q. Ten thousand.

Why didn't you just classify it as repayment of capital contribution?

A. That I don't know.

Q. Did they report their income?

A. I don't know.

MR. HODGE: All right, I've had enough fun. That's all I can do right now.

CROSS EXAMINATION BY MR. TALLEY:

Q. Mr. Greene, have you ever been to Sam's Town Hotel and Casino?

A. No, sir.

Q. You've been asked, this is Exhibit 10, about a transfer from this Regions account.

Was there not money owed for the land purchase in Columbia to one of the West Virginia football boosters?

A. Yes, there was.

Q. How much was that?

A. It was two million that we borrowed from him. And the interest on that was, I don't remember, it was more than two million, but not big amount.

Q. Was he paid back in June of 2005?

A. He was paid before the closing.

Q. Is that this wire for 2,177,751, is that to Ike Morris, in West Virginia?

A. It's his company; it wouldn't be to Ike Morris.

Q. And who arranged that money to come to the company?

A. Rich.

MR. TALLEY: I think that's all I have.

MR. OLSON: Thank you.
