Re: Gavin V. Jones v. State
Appellate Case No: 2018-001099
Original Case No: 2012-CP-04-0861

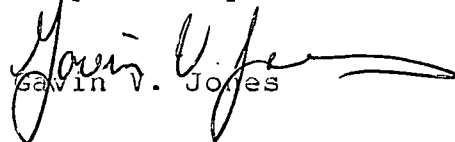

Dear Honorable Kitchings,

In the last letter received from your office, dated January 22, 2019, I was given ten (10) days to make corrections. Also, the State was given thirty (30) days from date of service to file their initial brief and designation of matter.

As you know, to date, there has been nothing filed with the court nor served upon me by the State. Yet, the State has been served since January 29, 2019. Respectfully and numbly I ask, therefore, is the State unable to defend this action and does this constitute an inordinate delay on their part since there has been no response? Surely they know that they, too, are held accountable to the rules of court -- they are trained professionals. But what do I know, I am only a layman?

With all due respect, I ask what would you have me to do since the State has failed to reply and more than sixty (60) days has elapsed and, to my knowledge, no extension has been requested by the State?

Respectfully submitted,

Gavin V. Jones
