MOTION TO CONSOLIDATE

Pursuant to Rules 214 and 240, SCACR, Appellants herein move this Honorable Court for an Order consolidating this matter with Appellate Case No. 2019-001141. This Motion is based on the following:

Appellate Case No. 2016-000514 (closed):

The instant matter was commenced before the South Carolina Workers' Compensation Commission by Respondent's filing of a Form 50 in September of 2014, seeking a permanent wage loss award under S.C. Code Ann. § 42-9-20. (Appellate Case No. 2016-000514, R. p. 36). The Single Commissioner awarded Respondent 340 weeks of permanent partial disability benefits, and this decision was affirmed by the Appellate Division. (Id. at R. pp. 1- 34). Appellants appealed this Decision and Order to this Court and properly commenced weekly disability benefits in March 2016 during the appeal, pursuant to S.C. Code Ann. § 42-17-60. (Id. at R. p. 113). This Court issued an Opinion on January 17, 2018, explicitly reversing the Appellate Panel's award of 340 weeks' compensation and remanded to the Workers' Compensation Commission for a new calculation of benefits consistent with the plain language of S.C. Code Ann. § 42-9-20. [Adickes v. Philips Healthcare, Op. No. 2018-UP-027 (S.C.Ct.App filed January 17, 2018)].

Appellate Case No. 2019-001141:

Appellate Case No. 2016-000514 was remitted to the SCWCC on May 14, 2018. Appellants opted to continue paying weekly benefits to offset Respondent's final permanency award, under the assumption that the Appellate Division would issue an order shortly after the remittitur. Rather, the Appellate Division assigned the case to Commissioner Susan Barden, a hearing was subsequently held and her Order was not issued until eight months thereafter. (Ex. 5 – 8<sup>1</sup>). Commissioner Barden awarded Respondent wage loss benefits for a period of 200 weeks and 5 days. (Ex. 7). Appellants appealed Commissioner Barden's Award to the Appellate Division.

As months continued to pass while the parties awaited a decision from the Appellate Division, Appellants became concerned about not being able to recoup an overpayment. Thus, the decision was made to suspend Respondent's weekly benefits on February 5, 2019, as Appellants had paid beyond the proper calculation of his permanent wage loss award. Over a year after the remittitur, on June 20, 2019, Commissioner Barden's award was affirmed in its entirety by the Appellate Division. (Ex. 9 - 11). Appellants appealed the June 20, 2019 Decision and Order of the Appellate Division to this Court, and that appeal is presently pending in Appellate Case No. 2019-001141.

Current Order Challenged on Appeal:

While the above appeal was pending before the Appellate Division, another hearing was held in this case, this time before Commissioner Melody James. Respondent sought fines associated with alleged medical delays and recommencement of his weekly benefits with penalties. (Ex. 12 - 13). Commissioner James issued an Order on June 19, 2019, wherein she found that Respondent's permanent wage loss award had not been fully paid and there was no order allowing Appellants to stop payment of benefits commenced pursuant to S.C. Code Ann. § 42-17-60, so Appellants had illegally terminated his benefits. (Ex. 14 - 15). As such, she ordered recommencement and subjected Appellants to a 10% penalty on all unpaid weekly benefits. (Ex. 16 - 17). Commissioner James also held that Appellants had wilfully disobeyed a prior Order for a period of 27 days, and were subject to fines of $200.00/day pursuant to S.C. Code Ann. § 42-3-175. (Id.). On appeal, the Appellate Division upheld Commissioner James' Award in its entirety, yet increased the daily fine imposed to $500.00/day. (Ex. 18 - 20). This is the Order currently being challenged in Appellant's Notice of Appeal filed simultaneously with this Motion.

ARGUMENT AND CITATION OF AUTHORITY

Rule 214, SCACR, permits this Court to consolidate multiple appeals from the same judgment, decision or decree. As detailed above, the current Order being challenged on appeal and the Order challenged in Appellate Case No. 2019-001141 both stem from the same underlying Order - this Court's January 17, 2018 Opinion. Further, both appeals deal with the same question of law, which is the proper calculation of Respondent's permanent wage loss award under S.C. Code Ann. § 42-9-20. As such, Appellants contend that consolidation of these appeals is warranted in order to avoid duplicative briefing and dual appellate records, thereby promoting efficiency and furthering the interests of judicial economy.

For the reasons stated herein and upon the good cause shown, Appellants herein request this Honorable Court order this appeal to be consolidated with Appellate Case No. 2019-001141.

PURPOSE OF HEARING:

Determination of issue on remand from the Court of Appeals

COMMISSIONER:

Susan S. Barden

FILED:

January 17, 2019

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

This matter was originally tried before the Honorable Gene McCaskill who issued an Order on August 27, 2015, in which he found that Claimant had reached maximum medical improvement; found that Claimant had suffered a permanent loss of wage earning capacity; awarded 340 weeks of benefits under § 42-9-20 commencing when the wage loss began on January 17, 2014; and ordered ongoing and future medical care.

contained in the Commission file. The clear reading of § 42-9-20 and the application as shown in Bass v. Kenco shows that these weeks are not credited against the 340 weeks and essentially add seven weeks and five days to the award.

ORDER

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Claimant is entitled to an award of wage loss benefits beginning on January 17, 2014 to be paid by Defendants as per the following:

1. Claimant is limited to 340 weeks from the date of injury March 22, 2011;
2. As such, the award beginning on January 17, 2014 is for 193 weeks as Claimant worked 147 weeks between March 22, 2011 and January 17, 2014.
3. Defendants do not receive credit for the seven weeks and five days of temporary total disability paid, and these weeks extend the period and are added to the award.
4. This makes the total award payable to Claimant 200 weeks and five days.
5. Defendants began making weekly payment of the award under § 42-17-60 when the Order of the Commission's Appellate Panel was filed and continue to make those payments. Thus, any weekly payments made since the appeal was filed shall be credited against the amount due to Claimant.
6. More than 340 weeks have elapsed since the injury so all of the weeks owed have accrued and would not be subject to commutation.
7. Pursuant to § 42-17-60 and § 34-31-20(B) interest would be due to Claimant on benefits owed between January 17, 2014 and when weekly payments were commenced at the time of appeal. No interest would be due on weeks after the date weekly payments began. The interest rate per the statute was 7.50% per annum during the weeks compensation was owed yet not paid.

Appellate Panel Decision and Order filed on June 20, 2019

Appearances: Claimant represented by William L. Smith II, Esquire and supporting case law.

Having heard oral arguments on behalf of the parties, considered the briefs, and viewed the record as a whole, the Appellate Panel affirms the hearing commissioner's order in full and makes the following conclusions of law:

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Claimant's wage loss began on January 17, 2014.
2. The Court of Appeals did not reverse the date wage loss began. The Court of Appeals simply ruled that the 340 week allowable period begins with the date of injury and not at a later date. In fact, the order states, "The record is clear Adickes did not suffer a wage loss until he was terminated from Employer. He cannot be compensated for "lost wages" while he worked and earned his usual full-time salary. Under the Appellate Panel's interpretation, Adickes would receive permanent partial disability wage loss compensation for the period he worked full-time and earned a full-time salary. We hold the appellate Panel erred by extending the timeframe and award for permanent partial disability benefits in contravention of the plain language of § 42-9-20 and the legislative intent for compensation."
3. Defendants raised their argument that benefits could not start until maximum improvement before the Court and the Court did not reverse or remand on that ground.
4. The issue of maximum medical improvement is immaterial in a wage loss claim. Bass v. Kenco 622 S.E.2d 577, and benefits can be awarded before or after maximum medical improvement. This issue for determination of benefits under § 42-9-20 is the employee's capacity or incapacity to earn the wages he was receiving at the time of injury. Keeter v. Clifton Mfg. Co., 225 S.C. 389, 392, 82 S.E.2d 520, 522 (1954).
5. The affirmed order does not contain a date of maximum medical improvement and to find such a date would be determining an issue beyond the scope of the remand from the Court of Appeals.
6. Defendants do not receive credit against the 340 weeks for the seven weeks and five days of previous temporary total disability paid. These weeks are shown on the Form 18 contained in the Commission file. The clear reading of § 42-9-20 and the application as shown in Bass v. Kenco shows that these weeks are not credited against the 340 weeks and essentially add seven weeks and five days to the award.

ORDER

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED: The Decision and Order of the single commissioner filed in the above entitled matter on January 17, 2019 is hereby affirmed by the Appellate Panel of the South Carolina Workers' Compensation Commission.

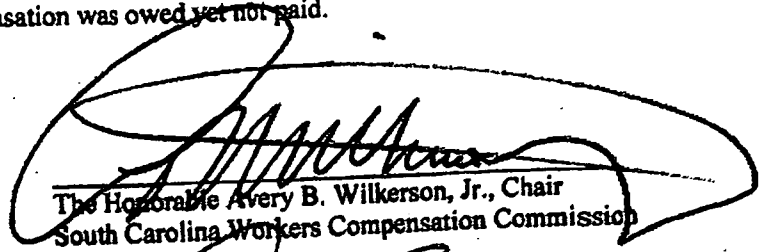

1. Claimant is limited to 340 weeks from the date of injury March 22, 2011;
2. As such, the award beginning on January 17, 2014 is for 193 weeks as Claimant worked 147 weeks between March 22, 2011 and January 17, 2014;

3. Defendants do not receive credit for the seven weeks and five days of temporary total disability paid, and these weeks extend the period and are added to the award;
4. This makes the total award payable to Claimant 200 weeks and five days;
5. Defendants began making weekly payment of the award under § 42-17-60 when the Order of the Commission's Appellate Panel was filed and continue to make those payments. Thus, any weekly payments made since the appeal was filed shall be credited against the amount due to Claimant;

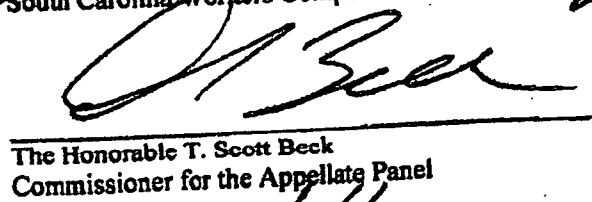

~~6. More than 140 weeks have elapsed since the injury so all of the weeks owed have accrued and would not be subject to commutation;~~

7. Pursuant to § 42-17-60 and § 34-21-20(B) interest would be due to Claimant on benefits owed between January 17, 2014 and when weekly payments were commenced at the time of appeal. No interest would be due on weeks after the date weekly payments began. The interest rate per statute was 7.50% per annum during the weeks compensation was owed yet not paid.

Determination of issues as set forth on the Form 50, 52
and by operation of R.67-603

COMMISSIONER:

Melody L. James

FILED:

June 19, 2019

The delays in authorization described in the emails are confirmed by the Walgreen's Pharmacy records that show when prescriptions were filled. APA pp 128-143.

The record shows defendants started making weekly payments by way of a form 15 dated March 22, 2016. The record also shows that Commissioner Barden denied defendant's request to stop paying benefits by order dated October 2, 2018. APA p 74. Thereafter, Commissioner Barden heard the issue on remand from the Court of Appeals and issued an order on January 17, 2019 ordering defendants to pay 200 weeks and five days of benefits with any weekly payments made since the appeal was filed to be credited against that amount. A substantial number of weeks remain unpaid so there is not full payment under the current order.

Defendants filed another appeal to Commissioner Barden's order by way of form 30 filed on January 21, 2019. There is no order in the file or record allowing defendants to stop payment of the weekly benefit. The form 18 in the Commission file dated March 19, 2019 shows defendants have paid no weekly benefits since February 5, 2019.

Based on the above-stated evidence and a review of the entire record, the following are made as:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. A form 15 was filed on March 22, 2016 starting weekly benefits.
2. There is no order in the file allowing defendants to stop payment of weekly benefits.
3. The award has not been fully paid under the current order.
4. Defendants illegally stopped payment of weekly benefits on February 5, 2019.
5. Defendants are required to reinstate weekly payments at $704.92 commencing February 6, 2019.
6. §42-17-60 provides that, "In case of an appeal from the decision of the Commission on questions of law, the appeal does not operate as a supersedeas and, after that time, the employer is required to make weekly payments of compensation and to provide medical treatment ordered by the Commission involved in the appeal or certification until the questions at issue have been fully determined in the accordance with the provisions of this title." Here, defendants filed a further appeal from Commissioner Barden's order for the issue that was on remand from the Court of Appeals. Thus, the questions at issue have not been fully determined in accordance with the provision of this title.

7. Since defendants illegally stopped payment of weekly benefits, they are subject to fines and penalties.
8. Defendants have been under order to provide medications directed by Dr. Mandell since August 27, 2015.
9. Despite repeated requests and demands defendants denied or failed to authorize prescription medications despite being under order to do so. The failure to authorize medications after this many requests while being under order to do so constitutes willful disobedience of an order and defendants are subject to fines for such disobedience.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Pursuant to §42-17-60, defendants are required to make payment of weekly benefits beginning February 6, 2019, as they illegally terminated weekly compensation benefits.
2. Pursuant to §42-9-90 defendants are hereby fined ten (10%) of the total unpaid weekly disability installments, beginning February 6, 2019.
3. Pursuant to §42-3-175, defendants are fined $200.00 per day for the period of 27 days for willful disobedience of the order requiring provision of medication as prescribed by Dr. Mandell.

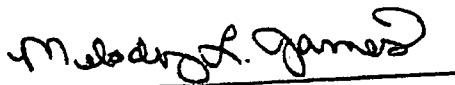

4. Pursuant to §42-3-175 defendants are required to reimburse Claimant's attorney for the $50.00 hearing filing fee.

ORDER

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that defendants will pay the following amounts:

1. Weekly benefits to the Claimant beginning February 6, 2019 in the amount of $704.92 per week.
2. An amount of ten (10%) percent of the unpaid disability installments (beginning February 6, 2019) to be paid to the Claimant for illegal termination of benefits pursuant to §42-9-90.
3. Fines payable to the State of South Carolina General Fund pursuant to §42-3-175 in the amount of $5,400.00.
4. $50.00 payable to Claimant's attorney, Chappell, Smith & Arden, for costs associated in enforcing the order.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED!
