
APPEAL FROM LEXINGTON COUNTY
Common Pleas Court
Appellate Case No. 2018-002157

State of South Carolina Appeals Court

Case No. 2016-CP-32-01385

Presiding Honorable Judge Allison Lee

Richie D. Barnes,

Respondent,

v.

MOTION TO STRIKE DISMISSAL

James Reese,

Appellant.

RECEIVED

JAN 17 2020

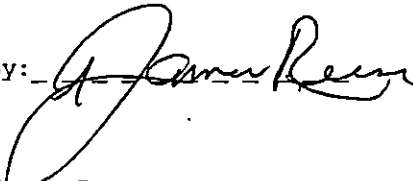

SC Court of Appeals

I, James Reese, with good faith and intent now move this competent court to grant to me, James Reese, in my favor, a motion to strike respondent's Richie D. Barnes motion for dismissal on the following grounds that i, James Reese, Appellant, suffer from physical disability as well as legal disability regarding the rules of law. I now require the aid of this court to protect the disabled and provide an opportunity to remedy any procedural defect or error.

I, James Reese, suffer from visual blindness that causes extreme health conditions such as headaches, migraines, loss of focus, and extreme sensitivity to light or extraneous reading. This is substantial proper grounds to support my motion to strike respondent's dismissal and any other act allowing such dismissal or penalty would cause irreparable harm and prejudice against the appellant, James Reese.
