

Dear South Carolina Court of appeals, the basis argument for my appeal is ineffective counsel. I feel as though my attorney wasn't doing much to fight my case on my behalf. He didn't inform me much of what I was facing and on stipulations involving my case. The judge inform me more than my attorney did than the 2 years he's been my lawyer. and that was after I pled. I felt pressured into taking the plea by my own attorney. I was Co-hearsed of things I should say and do. I feel as though I got way too much time for it to be my first time in trouble and the situation was very bias that I went in front of a female judge with my case being that my victim was a female. Thank you for giving me an opportunity to argue my case. I'm still kind of confuse as to how this appeal works my attorney didn't tell me much about it. To whom it may concern I would be very grateful if someone could write me back with further details explaining in depth thanks.
