STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA	IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
COUNTY OF LAURENS	C.A. No.: 2014-CP-30-250
Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs, v. Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System, Defendants.	ORDER GRANTING SUMMARY JUDGMENT

LYNN W. LANCASTER
2017 MAR -6 A 10: 1
LAURENS COUNTY
CLERK OF COURT

This matter came before the Court on January 6, 2016 for oral argument on Plaintiffs' motion to amend their complaint and Defendants' motion for summary judgment. After carefully reviewing the entire factual record, the memoranda of law submitted by the parties, listening to oral arguments, and reading the salient case law, for the reasons more fully explained below, the Court hereby grants Defendants' motion for summary judgment on the grounds that the Court finds that there is no material question of fact to be presented to a jury and Defendants owed no duty to Plaintiffs to ensure that Plaintiffs' physician had medical malpractice liability insurance coverage for their claims against him.[1]

[1] At the hearing, the Court heard Plaintiffs' motion to amend first and orally granted leave for Plaintiffs to file their Second Amended Complaint; however, there are a couple of reasons why that does not affect the Court's ruling on Defendants' motion for summary judgment. First, when faced with a properly supported motion for summary judgment, as is the case here, Rule 56(e), SCRCP, expressly provides that Plaintiffs may not rest on the allegations in their pleadings. See e.g., Humana Hospital Bayside v. Lightle, 305 SC 214, 216, 407 S.E.2d 637, 638 (1991); Klippel v. Mid-Carolina Oil Inc., 303 S.C. 127, 129, 399 S.E.2d 163, 164 (Ct. App. 1990). In other words, on a motion for summary judgment, what matter is not what is alleged in the underlying complaint, but whether there are any facts in the record which create a genuine issue of material fact. Hayes v. City of Charlotte, 10 F.3d 210, 215 (4th Cir. 1993) (the non-moving party is "required at the summary judgment stage to go beyond its pleadings and come forward with specific facts in support of its claim"). Second, the court has carefully considered the facts alleged in the Second Amended Complaint, and they simply do not create a genuine issue of material fact or change the Court's determination that no duty was owed.

Introduction

While Plaintiffs' Complaint contains numerous allegations, the crux of their claim is they contend that Laurens and/or GHS[2] should be liable for default judgments they obtained in separate medical malpractice actions filed against Dr. Byron Brown and his OB/GYN practice. Plaintiffs have been unable to collect on those judgments, because Dr. Brown no longer resides in the country and his medical malpractice carriers denied coverage. Plaintiffs allege that Laurens should be held liable for those judgments on the theory that Laurens owed them a duty to ensure there was medical malpractice coverage for their claims against Dr. Brown.

Facts

This case arises out of surgeries that were performed on Plaintiffs Chris Katina McCord and Janice Sherfield at Laurens County Hospital ("Hospital") from December 2008 to May 2009 by Dr. Byron Brown. It is undisputed that at the time of the surgeries, Dr. Brown had surgical privileges at the Hospital, but he was not employed by the Hospital.[3] Dr. Brown had his own practice with an office located offsite from the Hospital. It is undisputed that pursuant to the Hospital Medical Staff Bylaws ("Bylaws"), Dr. Brown had to maintain medical malpractice insurance in order to retain privileges at the Hospital. And, it is undisputed that at the time of the surgeries, he was in compliance with the Bylaws, as Dr. Brown had a claims-made medical malpractice liability insurance policy through Joint Underwriting Association ("JUA") with coverage limits of $200,000 per claim and $600,000 annual aggregate. In addition, Dr. Brown

[2] GHS is named as a defendant solely upon the basis that Plaintiffs allege that subsequent to the acts giving rise to the causes of action, Laurens entered into an agreement of consolidation or merger with GHS in which GHS may have assumed Laurens's liabilities. (Sec. Am. Compl. ¶ 3.)

[3] There was a February 14, 2002 Agreement between Dr. Brown and Laurens whereby Laurens agreed to subsidize Dr. Brown's practice for three years (hereinafter "Subsidy Contract), because the Hospital felt there were an insufficient number of OB/GYN physicians in the area. However, the Subsidy Contract made clear that Dr. Brown was an independent contractor who was free to admit patients at any hospital and maintain privileges to perform surgeries at any hospital.

had excess coverage through Patients' Compensation Fund, which pushed his total coverage up to $1,000,000 per claim and $3,000,000 annual aggregate.

A few months after the surgeries on Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield, in July, 2009, Dr. Brown decided to switch his medical malpractice insurance from JUA to MAG Mutual. He bought a claims-made policy from MAG Mutual, which covered claims arising on or after July 9, 2009. When he made the change he declined to purchase either "tail" or "prior bad acts" coverage, which meant there would be no coverage for previously unreported claims that occurred prior to July 9, 2009. As a result, since neither Mrs. McCord nor Mrs. Sherfield put Dr. Brown, or anyone else, on notice that they planned to file a claim against him until well after July 9, 2009, there was no insurance coverage for either of their claims.

Following their surgeries, both Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield continued to experience incontinence issues and both had to seek additional medical care in an attempt to resolve those issues. As a result, they both decided to pursue legal actions against Dr. Brown. The McCords filed their Complaint against Dr. Brown and his practice on December 9, 2011. They did not name Laurens as a defendant in that action or assert any allegations against Laurens. The Sherfields filed their Complaint against Dr. Brown and his practice on September 25, 2012. Like the McCords, they did not name Laurens or assert any allegations against Laurens.

While those actions were pending, Dr. Brown moved out of the country and refused to continue participating in the defense of the actions. As a result, both the McCords and Sherfields were ultimately able to obtain default judgments against Dr. Brown and his practice. (See C.A. No. 11-CP-30-1141, March 11, 2014 Judgment in the amount of $1,480,457 for Chris Katina McCord and $50,000 for Christopher McCord and C.A. No. 12-CP-30-753, March 11, 2014 Judgment in the amount of $1,468,580 for Janice Sherfield and $50,000 for Jerry Sherfield.)

SCP 3/10

Shortly thereafter on March 26, 2014, Plaintiffs filed the instant action.

Summary Judgment Standard

Summary judgment is appropriate when it is clear that there is no genuine issue of material fact and the conclusions and inferences to be drawn from the facts are undisputed. Calvert v. House Beautiful Paint and Decorating Ctr., Inc., 313 S.C. 494, 443 S.E.2d 398 (1994). "The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite the disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." Dawkins v. Fields, 354 S.C. 58, 69, 580 S.E.2d 433, 438 (2003) (quoting George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001)). When a plaintiff cannot establish facts to meet all the elements of the cause of action, summary judgment is appropriate. Bessinger v. Bi-Lo, Inc., 329 S.C. 617, 496 S.E.2d 33 (Ct. App. 1997); Hunter v. Dixie Home Stores, 101 S.E.2d 262, 232 S.C. 139 (1957). A party may not rely upon an issue of fact that is not genuine or an inference which is not reasonable to rebut a motion for summary judgment. Main v. Corley, 281 S.C. 525, 316 S.E.2d 406 (1984).

In order to prevail on either of their causes of action, Plaintiffs must establish that Defendants breached a legal duty owed to them. "A legal duty is that which the law requires to be done or forborne with respect to a particular individual or the public at large." Byerly v. Connor, 301 S.C. 441, 443 415 S.E.2d 796, 798 (1992). A legal duty may be created by statute, a contractual relationship, status, property interest, or some other special circumstance. Madison v. Babcock Ctr., Inc., 371 S.C. 123, 136, 638 S.E.2d 650, 656 (2007). The court must determine, as a matter of law, whether the law recognizes a particular duty. Id. If there is no duty, then the defendant is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law. Id.

Legal Analysis

I. No Contractual Duty Owed

Plaintiffs' first cause of action is breach of contract. In ruling on a motion for summary judgment, it is the court's duty to interpret and enforce the contract the parties actually made for themselves and the court cannot, under the guise of interpretation, create a better or different contract than the one the parties actually made. See Sphere Drake Ins. Co. v. Litchfield, 313 S.C. 471, 438 S.E.2d 275, 277 (Ct. App. 1993) (court "is limited to interpretation of the contract made by the parties" and "is without authority to alter a contract by construction or to make a new contract for the parties"); Chan v. Thompson, 302 S.C. 285, 395 S.E.2d 731, 734 (Ct. App. 1990) ("The rights of the parties must be measured by the contract which the parties themselves made, regardless of its wisdom, reasonableness, or failure of the parties to guard their rights carefully") (citations omitted). If the contract is unambiguous, it must be construed according to the terms the parties have used, and the terms are to be interpreted in their plain, ordinary, and popular sense. Litchfield, supra.

The document that Plaintiffs contend forms the basis of their breach of contract claim is the Conditions of Admission form which they executed prior to each of their surgeries (hereinafter "the Contract"). Specifically, Plaintiffs point to the first sentence of the paragraph titled "Financial Agreement" which states,

> "The undersigned agrees he signs as agent or as patient that in consideration of the services to be rendered to that patient, he hereby individually obligates himself to pay the account of the hospital, in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital."

Plaintiffs contend that sentence created a duty on the part of the Hospital to ensure that Dr. Brown had medical malpractice insurance coverage for their claims against him; however, the Court finds Plaintiffs' contentions unavailing.

First, taking the terms in their plain, ordinary and popular sense, the purpose of the sentence is unambiguous. It simply obligates patients to pay the bills they receive for the services rendered to them by the Hospital. "Services to be rendered," in the context of that paragraph, refers to those services that the Hospital actually provides and bills for, such as room charges, medications, and meals, not ensuring that an independent physician has medical malpractice insurance.

Plaintiffs contend that the "services to be rendered" include: compliance with state and federal laws and regulations; compliance with the Bylaws, and; compliance with the contracts between the Hospital and privileged physicians. However, those things aren't actually services rendered by the Hospital. At most, they go toward the standard of care for how services should be rendered by the Hospital. In essence, Plaintiffs seem to be contending that the Contract implies that services will be rendered in a certain manner; however, South Carolina does not recognize a cause of action for breach of an implied contract in the context of medical care. Banks v. Medical Univ., 314 S.C. 376, 444 S.E.2d 519 (1994).

In addition, Plaintiffs' interpretation is unreasonable, because it requires one to ignore the plain and unambiguous language contained in other parts of the Contract. The paragraph entitled "Medical and Surgical Consent" states,

> The patient's care is under the direction of the attending physicians and the hospital is not responsible for any act or omission of the physicians.... The undersigned recognizes that most medical staff members furnishing services to the patient, including the radiologists, pathologist, anesthesiologists, and the like (are) independent contractors and not employees of the hospital.

That paragraph should have made it clear to Plaintiffs that the Hospital was not responsible for any acts or omissions of Dr. Brown. To the extent that Dr. Brown's failure to purchase tail coverage could be construed as a violation of the Bylaws, it would be his violation of the Bylaws, not the Hospitals'. It cannot be reasonably argued that the Hospital promised to ensure that Dr. Brown maintained medical malpractice insurance when the Hospital clearly stated that it was not responsible for anything Dr. Brown did or failed to do.

II. No Other Basis for a Duty Owed

Plaintiffs also assert a negligence cause of action against Defendants, but to the extent Plaintiffs are alleging the duty owed to them arose under contract, their claims must be redressed under the terms of the contract, and a tort action will not lie. See Tommy L. Griffin Plumbing & Heating Co. v. Jordan, Jones, & Goulding, Inc., 320 S.C. 49, 54-55, 463 S.E.2d 85, 88 (1995). In an effort to sustain both their contract and negligence causes of action, Plaintiffs' argue that the Contract created a "special relationship" between the parties and that distinct and separate tort duties arose from that relationship (Pl. Mem. In Opp., pp. 16-21); however, the Court finds that assuming, without deciding, that there was a special relationship between the parties, the relationship did not create a duty on the part of Laurens to ensure that Dr. Brown had medical malpractice insurance to cover Plaintiffs' claims.

Plaintiffs contend that Laurens owed them a duty to ensure that Dr. Brown complied with the terms and conditions of the Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract. As an initial matter, there is no evidence in the record that Dr. Brown failed to comply with the requirements of the Bylaws and/or the Subsidy Contract. It is undisputed that at the time of the surgeries on Plaintiffs, Dr. Brown had the required insurance. Plaintiffs contend that he fell out of compliance when he switched policies in July of 2009 and failed to purchase tail coverage; however, there is nothing in the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract that specifically required Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, nor is there any evidence in the record that Laurens considered Dr. Brown to be in violation of the Bylaws or in breach of the Subsidy Contract by his failure to purchase tail coverage.

Nevertheless, even if the Bylaws and/or the Subsidy Contract required Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, that requirement would not inure to the benefit of Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs contend they were intended beneficiaries of the requirement that Dr. Brown maintain insurance, but there is nothing in either the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract that states that the insurance requirement is there for the benefit of patients, and Plaintiffs' contention is inconsistent with South Carolina law. See Trancik v. USAA Ins. Co., 354 S.C. 549, 581 S.E.2d 858 (Ct. App. 2003) ("Third-party-liability-insurance contracts are generally indemnity contracts whereby the insurer, or the first party, agrees to pay the insured, or the second party, the amount of any damages the insured may become legally liable to pay a third party; thus, the third party, or the incidental beneficiary, does not have a contractual relationship with the insurer and cannot maintain an action against the insurer for breach of the insurance contract.") At most, Plaintiffs would be incidental beneficiaries of the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract, but that would not give them standing to bring an action to enforce those documents. Id.

Regardless, even if Plaintiffs were intended beneficiaries, such status would only give them standing to sue Dr. Brown as the promisor, not Laurens as the promisee. Under the terms of both the Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract, the obligation to maintain insurance belonged to Dr. Brown. To the extent his failure to purchase tail coverage meant he had not fulfilled his obligations, Plaintiffs would, at best, have been able to sue Dr. Brown for breach of the Bylaws and Subsidy Contract, but that would not give them the right to sue Laurens. See Sullivan v. U.S., 625 F.3d 1378 (Fed. Cir. 2010) (holding plaintiffs could not maintain a breach of contract action against Postal Service for failing to enforce a contract with a transportation company, and noting that the contract provision requiring the contractor to purchase liability insurance for its vehicles was intended to protect the Postal Service from potential risk and plaintiffs were at best incidental beneficiaries); Hesse v. Long and Foster Real Estate, Inc., No. 1:11cv506, 2012 WL 1427793 (E.D.Va.2012) (noting that no jurisdiction recognizes a theory of liability whereby a third party to a contract can sue the non-breaching party for failure to enforce the contract).

Finally, Plaintiffs make several allegations regarding medical malpractice incidents in the United States, (Sec. Am. Compl. ¶¶ 5-8), and essentially make a public policy argument for the Court to find a duty in this case; however, it is the job of the legislature, not the judiciary, to consider such arguments and enact laws accordingly. Holman v. Bulldog Trucking Co., 311 S.C. 341, 348, 428 S.E.2d 889, 893 (Ct. App. 1993) ("When the Legislature has enacted a rule embodying a particular policy choice, the courts have no power to annul the Legislature's judgment by substituting their own views of sound public policy."); see also Henderson v. Evans, 268 S.C. 127, 232 S.E.2d 331 (1977) (It is not the province of the courts to perform legislative functions.) Plaintiffs' contentions in this case are inconsistent with the public policy of South Carolina as currently set forth by the legislature. Plaintiffs argue that Laurens is mandated by South Carolina law to comply with certain requirements for licensing and operating a hospital (Pl. Mem. In Opp. to Sum. J., pp. 8-11); however, there is no law in South Carolina that requires doctors to maintain medical malpractice insurance, much less any law that puts the burden on hospitals to ensure that doctors maintain medical malpractice insurance.

Further, Laurens and GHS are both governmental entities subject to the South Carolina Tort Claims Act, S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-10, et seq. (1976, as amended), and they and their agents and employees are, therefore, entitled to all rights, privileges, defenses, limitations, and immunities afforded by the Act and afforded by the doctrine of sovereign immunity, as is retained by the Act. See Murphy v. Richland Mem. Hosp., 317 S.C. 560, 455 S.E.2d 688 (1995) (citing Benton v Roger C Peace, 313 S.C. 520, 443 S.E.2d 537 (1994)). Pursuant to the Act, a governmental entity cannot be held liable for the acts or omissions of an independent contractor. S.C. Code § 15-78-60(20); see also Smith v. Reg'l Med. Ctr., 394 S.C. 110, 713 S.E.2d 656 (Ct. App. 2011) (holding governmental hospital could not be held liable for the negligent acts of an independent contractor physician). Therefore, it is the public policy of this State and the intent of the legislature that Laurens cannot be held liable for Dr. Brown's failure to have insurance coverage for Plaintiffs' claims. To hold otherwise under the facts of this case would be an unreasonable expansion of the law. See Huggins v. Citibank, 355 S.C. 329, 333, 585 S.E.2d 275, 277 (2003) ("The concept of duty in tort liability will not be extended beyond reasonable limits.")

CONCLUSION

The Court finds that Defendants owed no legal duty to Plaintiffs regarding Dr. Brown's medical malpractice insurance. Defendants also set forth proximate cause and statute of limitations arguments in favor of summary judgment; however, in light of the Court's finding that no duty was owed, the Court need not address those arguments.

For the reasons stated herein,

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED AND DECREED that Defendants' motion for summary judgment is granted, and all of Plaintiffs' claims against Defendants are hereby dismissed with prejudice.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

PLAINTIFFS' RULE 59(e) MOTION
TO ALTER OR AMEND JUDGMENT
(Rule 59(e), SCRCP)

LAURENS COUNTY CLERK OF COURT
2017 MAR -9 A 10:
LYNN W. LANCASTER

Plaintiffs, Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, by and through undersigned counsel, respectfully move this Court pursuant to Rule 59(e), of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure to alter or amend its judgment rendered February 28, 2017, granting Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment.

In support of this motion, Plaintiffs rely on the Second Amended Complaint and Demand for Jury Trial, Plaintiffs' Memorandum in Opposition to Motion for Summary Judgment, Plaintiffs' Supplement to Memorandum in Opposition to Motion for Summary Judgment, Attachments to Memorandums, filed affidavits and depositions, and Plaintiffs' Memorandum in Support of Plaintiffs' Motion to Alter or Amend Judgment. (Memorandum).

As set forth in the Memorandum, the Court failed to consider or misapprehended the law in that:

1) The Order erroneously finds that:
"...the crux of their claim is they contend that Laurens and/or GHS should be liable for default judgments they obtained in separate medical malpractice actions filed against Dr. Byron Brown and his OB/GYN practice."

2) The Order fails to find that:
the contracts between Plaintiffs and Laurens County Health Care System ("Laurens County Hospital or Hospital") were ambiguous because the "services to be rendered to the patient" were not defined in the four corners of the contract;

3) The Order fails to find that:
a reasonable interpretation of "services to be rendered to the patient" is for Laurens County Hospital to require privileged physicians, including Byron A. Brown, MD ("Dr. Brown"), to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract including maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage;

4) The Order fails to find that:
Laurens County Hospital breached the contract with Plaintiffs by failing to require Dr. Brown to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract by maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage;

5) The Order fails to find that:
a special relationship creating a duty of due care arose between Laurens County Hospital and Plaintiffs by Laurens County Hospital providing services for surgeries performed in the hospital and Plaintiffs agreeing to undergo and pay for services rendered by Laurens County Hospital; and

6) The Order fails to find that:
Laurens County Hospital failed to exercise due care in monitoring, supervising or requiring Dr. Brown to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract by maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage.

Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court's Order and Judgment of February 28, 2017 be vacated and that this matter be scheduled for trial on the merits.

Respectfully submitted,

LYNN W. LANCASTER
2017 MAR -9 A 10:
LAURENS COUNTY
CLERK OF COURT

Plaintiffs respectfully request that this Court reconsider and alter or amend its Order dated February 28, 2017 and the findings and rulings contained therein, as follows:

1) The Order erroneously finds that:
"...the crux of their claim is they contend that Laurens and/or GHS should be liable for default judgments they obtained in separate medical malpractice actions filed against Dr. Byron Brown and his OB/GYN practice."

2) The Order fails to find that:
the contracts between Plaintiffs and Laurens County Health Care System ("Laurens County Hospital or Hospital") were ambiguous because the "services to be rendered to the patient" were not defined in the four corners of the contract;

3) The Order fails to find that:
a reasonable interpretation of "services to be rendered to the patient" is for Laurens County Hospital to require privileged physicians, including Byron A. Brown, MD ("Dr. Brown"), to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract including maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage;

4) The Order fails to find that:

Laurens County Hospital breached the contract with Plaintiffs by failing to require Dr. Brown to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract by maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage;

5) The Order fails to find that:
a special relationship creating a duty of due care arose between Laurens County Hospital and Plaintiffs by Laurens County Hospital providing services for surgeries performed in the hospital and Plaintiffs agreeing to undergo and pay for services rendered by Laurens County Hospital; and

6) The Order fails to find that:
Laurens County Hospital failed to exercise due care in monitoring, supervising or requiring Dr. Brown to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract by maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage.

The grounds for the request of Plaintiffs to reconsider and alter or amend the Order are set forth below:

1) The Order erroneously finds that:
"...the crux of their claim is they contend that Laurens and/or GHS should be liable for default judgments they obtained in separate medical malpractice actions filed against Dr. Byron Brown and his OB/GYN practice."

The findings referenced above and any similar findings in the Order are erroneous. Plaintiffs do not allege that the Hospital is liable for the default judgments entered against Dr. Brown under a third-party liability claim. Rather, Plaintiffs allege that the Hospital is liable for failures by its own employees in two ways. First, Plaintiffs allege the Hospital breached an express contract between itself and Plaintiffs in failing to enforce its own Medical Staff Bylaws ("Bylaws"). Second, Plaintiffs allege the Hospital breached the duty of due care in hospital administration that arises in the special relationship between hospital and patient by failing to enforce its own Bylaws. These failures by Hospital employees resulted in damages to Plaintiffs of the value of the insurance coverage lost of $1,000,000 per claim/$3,000,000 limit that would have been available absent the breaches of contract and/or failure to adhere to the standards of due care in hospital administration by Hospital employees as detailed below (Paragraphs 71, 73 of Second Amended Complaint). The amount of insurance coverage that would have been available for Mrs. McCord, absent Laurens County Hospital's breaches of contract, amounts to $1,740,392.75 and $58,787.40 for Mr. McCord, plus interest from March 11, 2014 and $1,000,000 for Mrs. Sherfield, plus interest from March 11, 2014.[1]

Accordingly the above-referenced finding is erroneous.

2) The Order fails to find that:
the contracts between Plaintiffs and Laurens County Health Care System ("Laurens County Hospital") were ambiguous because the "services to be rendered to the patient" were not defined in the four corners of the contract.

Plaintiffs allege and Defendants admit that Laurens County Hospital and Plaintiffs entered into four separate contracts (paragraphs 21, 22, 25, 26, 31, 70, 72 Second Amended Complaint and Attachment 1- Request for Admission #5). It is also undisputed that Laurens County Hospital owed a duty to Plaintiff to adhere to the terms of these four contracts. Thus, Plaintiffs are in privity of contract with Laurens County Hospital and can maintain an action for breach of contract and recover any damages resulting from the breach. Fabian v. Lindsay, 765 S.E.2d 132, 139 (S.C. 2014).

The contracts include written documents entitled "Conditions of Admission". (Attachment 1 and Attachment 5). The written documents provide that "in consideration of the services to be rendered to the patient, he hereby individually obligates himself to pay the account of the hospital, in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital."

[1] Dr. Brown committed malpractice during each of the three surgeries, i.e., 12/18/09, 2/19/09, and 4/17/09, he performed on Mrs. McCord (see McCord, et al v. Byron A. Brown, MD, et al; C.A. File No. 11-CP-30-1141). This constituted three separate acts of negligence claims under the claims made policy with a limit of $1,000,000 each claim. Mrs. McCord would be entitled to recover on two claims up to $1,000,000 each and Mrs. Sherfield would be entitled to recover on the third claim $1,000,000 plus interest.

The "services to be rendered" are not limited by contract to those services for which separate charges are made or limited to those charges on a rate sheet. For example, the charges to Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield contain general categories like "OR Services, Anesthesia, respiratory therapy and recovery room". (Attachment 2). Obviously, additional services that are not separately listed are included.

The Order found that services to be rendered "refers to those services that the Hospital actually provides and bills for, such as room charges, medications, and meals, not ensuring that an independent physicians has medical malpractice insurance." (Order, page 6). This could be one construction of the contract language; but, it is not the only construction as a matter of law, especially when viewed in a light most favorable to Plaintiffs.

There are other vital services performed by the hospital for patients which the hospital does not bill separately. South Carolina law requires each hospital to have a "single organized medical staff that has overall responsibility for the quality of medical care provided to patients". (Attachment 29 - §44-7-260(D) S.C. Code). Further, the medical staff shall "with the approval of the hospital governing body, adopt bylaws, rules and regulation to govern its operation as an organized medical staff." (Attachment 30 – DHEC Regulations Chapter 3 – Medical Staff. Section 301. Appointments)

The services of the hospital medical staff are critically important to the life and well-being of the patient. For example, one important service is to properly privilege the physicians practicing in the hospital. The costs to the hospital for providing such service is not paid for by a direct charge to the patient but is paid out of the general income received from patient fees.

Neither the "services to be rendered" nor the services that were rendered by Laurens County Hospital can be determined from the four corners of the contract. The CEO of Laurens County Hospital agreed when he testified as follows:

> Q. ... the conditions of admission state that services are to be rendered by the hospital to the patient?
> A. Right.
> Q. my question to you, quite simply, is the range of services to be rendered to the patient is not listed in this document, correct?
> A. Yes
> Q. Is that correct?
> A. Yes
> (Attachment 32 – D'Alberto deposition 44:19-23)[2]

Since the scope of the services language in the contract, i.e., "services to be rendered", cannot be determined within the four corners of the contract, then the term "services" is ambiguous. Carolina Ceramics, Inc. v. Carolina Pipeline Co., 161 S.E.2d 179, 181 (S.C. 1968) (holding that a contract is ambiguous if it is capable of being understood in more senses than one, if the agreement is obscure in meaning, or has indefiniteness of expression, or has a double meaning.) "Summary judgment is improper where the motion presents a question as to the construction of a written contract, and the contract is ambiguous because the intent of the parties cannot be gathered from the four corners of the contract." H.K. New Plan Exchange Property Owner 1, LLC v. Cohen, 649 S.E.2d 181, 184 (S.C. App. 2007)(citations omitted).

[2] The attachments to the Supplement to Memorandum In Opposition to Motion for Summary Judgment which were not numbered have been numbered 28 through 34 to assist in referencing.

The Rule 30(b)(6), SCRCP designee for Laurens County Hospital, Sandra Thompson, testified that the Conditions of Admission forms were prepared by Laurens County Hospital, that the forms had been used by Laurens County Hospital for at least 15 years prior to the surgeries, and that the forms were used in all the McCord and Sherfield surgeries. (Attachment 6 – Thompson deposition, 48:19-50:17). Additionally, it is apparent that Laurens County Hospital is the sophisticated party in this transaction. Thus, the terms of the contract are to be liberally construed in favor of plaintiffs and any reasonable interpretation of "services to be rendered" favorable to patients would be mandated. Contracts §206, Restatement 2d of Contracts.

Mrs. McCord testified that it was her intent and understanding that part of the "services to be rendered" by the hospital was the compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws, compliance with the contracts with physicians who directly or indirectly affected her medical care, and compliance with Rules and Regulations of South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control. (Attachment 35 - McCord deposition 105:19 to 106:18).

The testimony of Mrs. Sherfield was similar. She also testified that it was her intention that the hospital would comply with all state and federal laws, for the hospital to require that all its privileged surgeons, specifically Dr. Brown, comply with the hospital rules and regulations, for the hospital to require its surgeons to comply with any contract they may have with the hospital about patient protection, and that she considers the hospital requirement that doctors maintain professional liability insurance is protection to her. (Attachment 36 - Sherfield deposition 67:20 to 68:12). Also, Mrs. Sherfield knew, at the time of execution of the contract, that Laurens County Hospital required any doctor privileged there to have professional liability insurance. (Attachment 36 - Sherfield Deposition 71:5 to 72:9).

The scope and meaning of the term "services to be rendered" is disputed by the parties. Since the intent of the parties and the construction of the term "services to be rendered" is different and cannot be gathered from the four corners of the contract, the contract is ambiguous.

The construction of an ambiguous contract is a question of fact to be determined by the jury. Café Associates, Ltd. V. Gerangross, 406 S.E.2d 162 (1991); Peoples v. South Carolina Power Co, 164 S.E. 605 (1932).

The failure to include the above finding in the Order is error. Such finding would raise a fact question which would preclude the granting of summary judgment.

3) The Order fails to find that:
a reasonable interpretation of "services to be rendered to the patient" is for Laurens County Hospital to require privileged physicians, including Byron A. Brown, MD ("Dr. Brown"), to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract including maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage.

Laurens County Hospital is required by the South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control to appoint a medical staff responsible to the governing authority for the clinical work of the hospital and to require the medical staff to adopt bylaws, rules, and regulations to govern the operation of the hospital. (Attachment 30 - DHEC Regulation 61-16; §44-7-260(A) S.C. Code of Laws). This agency is charged with promoting and protecting the state's public health. Thus, the requirement of Hospitals to adopt and adhere to bylaws, rules, and regulations are designed to protect the health and safety of patients in South Carolina hospitals.

The medical staff of Laurens County Hospital adopted bylaws that required members of the medical staff to "maintain valid professional liability insurance coverage in the amounts deemed necessary by the Board from time to time ... for continuing appointment to the medical staff." (emphasis added) (Attachment 8 – Section 3.21(e) of Medical Staff Bylaws) The amount of professional liability insurance coverage required by the Board of Trustees of Laurens County Hospital was "malpractice insurance coverage limits as defined by Joint Underwriters Association and Patient's Compensation Fund, or coverage limits of one million/three million dollars." (Attachment 31 - Answer to Interrogatory 21).

Also, Laurens County Hospital entered into contracts with physicians that would affect individual rights and benefits of the patients. On February 14, 2002, Laurens County Hospital and Dr. Brown entered into a contract in which Laurens County Hospital agreed to subsidize and guarantee his net practice collection of $27,000 per month for 36 months and then to be repaid prorata over the next ten years. (Attachment 9 – Subsidy Contract). The total amount disbursed to Dr. Brown in subsidy payments was $644,447. The payments were to be repaid by being forgiven on a prorated basis over ten years at $5370 per month beginning July 2005 until June 2015, as long as Dr. Brown complied with all provisions of the Medical Staff Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract which included maintaining professional liability insurance with minimum limits of $1,000,000/$3,000,000 aggregate. (Attachment 10 – Subsidy Contract Repayment/Forgiveness Schedule; Attachment 9 – Article II, IV, V, VI Subsidy Contract).

As noted earlier, the medical staff of Laurens County Hospital was required to adopt medical staff bylaws to govern the operation of the hospital. The bylaws adopted required the medical staff to ensure that the Licensed Independent Practitioners, i.e., the physicians privileged to practice in Laurens County Hospital, "shall maintain valid professional liability insurance coverage". Further, the Subsidy Contract between Laurens County Hospital and Dr. Brown required Dr. Brown to maintain professional liability insurance "in a minimum amount of $1,000,000 per claim/$3,000,000 aggregate of JUA/PCF coverage". (Attachment 9 – Exhibit. 29, Article VI Subsidy Contract).

The CEO of Laurens County Hospital testified that monitoring physicians compliance with that portion of the medical staff bylaws that requires physicians practicing in the hospital to maintain valid professional liability insurance would be a function of medical staff leadership. (Attachment 32 - D'Alberto deposition 32:5-17). As noted above, both Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield testified that part of their decision in choosing to undergo their elective procedures at Laurens County Hospital instead of another institution was their understanding that the Hospital would follow its own rules set up to protect the health and safety of its patients.

The expert witness in hospital administration for Plaintiffs, John C. Hyde, II, PhD, MSHA, BS, testified that the requirement for doctors practicing in the hospital to maintain professional liability insurance has been the prevailing standard in American hospitals since the "late 70's" and that he had never heard of a hospital allowing physicians to "go, quote, bare", i.e., without professional liability insurance coverage. (Attachment 33 - Hyde deposition pages 25:14-17; 47:23-25).

Also, the expert witness in hospital administration for Defendants, James Weiss, MSHA, MBA, FACHE, testified that:

* it was common practice in 2008 and 2009 to require physicians to carry and maintain medical malpractice insurance (58:4-8);

* "it's a requirement standard in the industry that the governing body required medical staff to have ... to mandate that the ... the practitioners have medical malpractice " (62:45 to 63:2); and

* the patient benefits from the medical malpractice insurance because there is a sum of money that can pay the patient (59:25 to 60:10)
(references to Attachment 28 - Weiss deposition)

There is a sound and valid basis for hospitals to require physicians to maintain professional liability insurance coverage. The hospital experts for both Plaintiffs and Defendants acknowledged that two major medical articles were reliable authorities that related to preventable injuries and deaths of patients in hospitals. (Attachment 28 - Weiss deposition 46:16-20; 46:8-15; Attachment 33 - Hyde deposition 197:2-4; 196:23 to 197:1). The medical articles are "To Err is Human" published by the Institute of Medicine (Attachment 11) and "Adverse Events in Hospitals: National Incidences Among Medicare Beneficiaries" published by the United States Department of Health and Human Services. (Attachment 12).

The number of preventable deaths in American hospitals each year was estimated by the Institute of Medicine to be between 44,000 and 98,000 – the lower figure exceeded the deaths caused by motor vehicle wrecks and breast cancer. The Institute of Medicine characterized this as "the nation's epidemic of medical errors." The Inspector General's report is even more alarming. The report shows, in part, that an estimated 180,000 Medicare patients die each year from adverse medical events and that an estimated 13.5% of hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries experienced adverse events during their hospital stay.

These respected studies by the Institute of Medicine and the United States Department of Health and Human Services confirm the wisdom of hospitals adopting bylaws requiring physicians practicing in the hospital to maintain professional liability insurance as a service to the patients.

Plaintiffs submit that this requirement in the hospital bylaws is further evidence to support the position that a reasonable interpretation of the term "services to be rendered" includes the requirement of Laurens County Hospital to ensure compliance by Dr. Brown with the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract. Based on the testimony of the expert witnesses for the parties, Dr. Hyde and Mr. Weiss, the prevailing standard for hospitals in America is to require physicians who practice in the hospital to maintain professional liability insurance.

The Order correctly states that "there is no law in South Carolina that requires doctors to maintain medical malpractice insurance". (Order, page 9). However, the decision of Laurens County Hospital for its medical staff to be responsible for physicians practicing in the hospital to maintain professional liability insurance does not need legislative approval – it is a service to the patients that Laurens County Hospital and, according to Dr. Hyde and Mr. Weiss, the vast majority of hospitals in America have undertaken for the benefit of their patients.

Thus, Plaintiffs submit that a reasonable interpretation of "services to be rendered" would include Laurens County Hospital requiring Dr. Brown to adhere to the Hospital bylaws, rules, and regulations including maintaining professional liability insurance.

The failure to include the above finding in the Order is error. Such finding would raise a fact question which would preclude the granting of summary judgment.

4) The Order fails to find that:
Laurens County Hospital breached the contract with Plaintiffs by failing to require Dr. Brown to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract by maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage.

Dr. Brown failed "to maintain professional liability insurance coverage in compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws (Attachment 8 - §3.2.1(e) Medical Staff Bylaws) and the Subsidy Contract (Attachment 11 – Article VI Subsidy Contract).

The insurance policy in effect during the one year term beginning July 9, 2008 was a JUA Claims-Made policy with policy number JBC 00041. (Attachment 15). The three claims of medical malpractice against Dr. Brown by Mrs. McCord arising out of her surgeries and the claim of medical malpractice against Dr. Brown by Mrs. Sherfield were covered under the Claims-Made policy during the term from July 9, 2008 to July 9, 2009. (Attachment 4, Attachment 15, Attachment 16).

The JUA policy was not renewed after July 9, 2009. The insurance for year July 9, 2009 to July 9, 2010 was provided by MAG Mutual Insurance Company ("MAG Mutual") which was also a claims-made policy. (Attachment 20 – paragraphs 3 and 4 Affidavit of Brent S. Reece). Thus, in order to maintain coverage for the claims of Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield, either Extended Reporting Period Endorsement or Prior Acts coverage needed to be obtained. (see Attachment 16). Dr. Brown was given over six months from July 9, 2009 to January 14, 2010 to exercise the option to purchase Extended Reporting Endorsement from JUA. (Attachment 17). Dr. Brown did not purchase Prior Acts Coverage from MAG Mutual (Attachment 20 – paragraphs 3 and 4 Affidavit of Brent S. Reece).

Laurens County Hospital failed to require Dr. Brown to maintain the professional liability insurance that covered the claims of Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield. Plaintiffs allege this failure to maintain professional liability insurance was a violation of the Medical Staff Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract.(paragraph 58 Second Amended Complaint). The grounds for this allegation, in part, are that the employee of Laurens County Hospital solely responsible for making sure the physicians had professional liability insurance, namely Lynn Reeves, did not make any effort or attempt to require Dr. Brown to maintain valid professional liability insurance. Mrs. Reeves was not trained or educated concerning medical malpractice insurance policies as partially evidenced by the fact that she:

* did not know what a claims-made policy was;
* did not know what an occurrence policy was; nor
* was she familiar with tail coverage or extended coverage. (Reeves deposition 15:17-22; 2:11 to 23:8; 37:6-10; 41:7-10)

Mrs. Reeves further testified that "it was not part of my responsibility" to inform patients nor inform any other employee of Laurens County Hospital, including the Credentialing Committee, if she knew that a claim needed to be filed because of a change in insurance. (Reeves deposition 34:7-19)

It is undisputed that professional liability insurance was not maintained on the McCord and Sherfield claims for the remaining time that Dr. Brown had privileges at Laurens County Hospital. (see Attachment 26 – privileges in effect until at least February 17, 2010). Plaintiffs contend that this is a clear violation of the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract that Laurens County Hospital failed to enforce.

The Order erroneously characterizes this action as a third party action by Plaintiffs. For example, the Order states "At most, Plaintiffs would be incidental beneficiaries of the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract, but that would not give them standing to bring an action to enforce those documents." (Order, page 8). Also, citing Virginia case Hearse v. Long and Foster Real Estate, Inc. "noting that no jurisdiction recognizes a theory of liability whereby a third-party to a contract can sue the non-breaching party for failure to enforce the contract." (Order, page 8).

The complaint alleges that Laurens County Hospital breached the contract with the McCords and Sherfields in seven separate particulars for failures of Laurens County Hospital employees. (paragraph 73, Second Amended Complaint). There is no allegation of an action for a third-party claim. Further, it is correct that "at the time of the surgeries on Plaintiffs, Dr. Brown had the required insurance." (Order, page 7). However, the inquiry does not stop there because, as the Order notes "It is undisputed that pursuant to the Hospital Medical Staff Bylaws ("Bylaws"), Dr. Brown had to maintain (emphasis added) medical malpractice insurance in order to retain privileges at the Hospital." (Order, page 2). It is also undisputed that during the six months from July 9, 2009 to January 14, 2010 that Dr. Brown was privileged at Laurens County Hospital, he did not "maintain professional liability insurance" covering the claims of Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield. Further, Laurens County Hospital took no action to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract.

Plaintiffs submit that Laurens County Hospital clearly breached the contract with Plaintiffs or, at the very least, a factual issue is presented as to the intentions of the parties in applying the requirement "to maintain professional liability insurance" to the claims of Plaintiffs.

Thus, Plaintiffs submit that failure to find a breach of contract by Laurens County Hospital or to find the existence of a factual issue as to the intentions of the parties was error. Such finding would raise a fact question which would preclude the granting of summary judgment.

5) The Order fails to find that:
a special relationship creating a duty of due care arose between Laurens County Hospital and Plaintiffs by Laurens County Hospital providing services for surgeries performed in the hospital and Plaintiffs agreeing to undergo and pay for services rendered by Laurens County Hospital.

Plaintiffs allege that the providing of services by Laurens County Hospital related to surgeries performed by Dr. Brown at Laurens County Hospital had a serious effect on the quality of life and life expectancy of Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield and created a special relationship between Laurens County Hospital and its patients undergoing surgery. (paragraph 80, Second Amended Complaint).

This is the same relationship that exists between patients and hospitals throughout the United States. The patients elect to undergo surgery that could have serious consequences to their health and life expectancy. The patients elect to use the hospital and pay the hospital fees. The hospital agrees to provide the services to operate the hospital according to state and federal laws and regulations and to protect the patient, in part, by requiring the physicians to comply with the hospital policies and procedures, medical staff by-laws, and any contracts between the hospital and physicians.

The Patients elected to undergo surgery that could have serious consequences to their health and life expectancy. The hospital provides certain services such as independently determining the scope of practice and types of surgeries each physician can perform in the hospital and protecting the patients by operating the hospital in accordance with state law and regulations. (See paragraphs 13, 41, and 80 of Second Amended Complaint). The patient is virtually putting his life in the hands of the hospital employees. It is difficult to imagine anyone arguing that the relationship between a hospital and a patient is not a special relationship.

The South Carolina Supreme Court issued three significant opinions recognizing that a special relationship creating a duty of due care can arise out of the relationship between two parties.

The South Carolina Supreme Court in Meddin v. Southern Ry-Carolina Division, et al., 62 S.E.2d 109 (SC 1950), quoted with approval the United States Supreme Court, Atlantic & Pacific R. Co. v. Laird, 164 US 393 (1896) as follows:

> if the relation of the plaintiff and defendants be such that a duty arises from that relationship, irrespective of contract, to take due care, and the defendants are negligent, then the action is one of tort.
> Id. 62 S.E. at 112

Further, the court held that "the negligent and willful failure to perform certain legal duties, not arising out of the particular contract between the plaintiffs and this defendant, but arising out of the relationship created by the contract..." Id. 62 S.E.2d at 113.

The South Carolina Supreme Court, in a case presenting a certified question from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, held that a consulting firm owed a duty to the South Carolina State Ports Authority to exercise due care to accurately report objective factual data concerning the Charleston Port if it knew or should have known that the report was to also be used by a competitor. The duty of the tort-feasor arises from the relationship to the injured party. South Carolina Ports Authority v. Borg-Allen & Hamilton, Inc., 346 S.E.2d 324, 325-326.

The court further held that a cause of action is met if the following are proved:

1) the existence of a duty on the part of the defendant to protect the plaintiff (because of the special relationship) (emphasis added);
2) the failure of defendant to discharge that duty; and
3) injury to the plaintiff resulting from the defendant's failure to perform.

Id. 436 S.E.2d at 325

The South Carolina Supreme Court issued an opinion in Tommy L. Griffin Plumbing and Heating Co. v. Jordan, Jones and Goulding, Inc. 463 S.E.2d 85 (1995) to a novel question in South Carolina – whether design professionals incur tort liability to a contractor for purely economic loss. At the time, a tort action for economic loss was not recognized. However, the South Carolina Supreme Court noted:

> In the last few years, a growing number of states have refused to apply the "economic loss" rule to actions against design professionals when there is a "special relationship" between the design professional and the contractor.
> (Id, 463 S.E.2d 87)

Also, the Supreme Court noted:

> applying these concepts (i.e., a special relationship creating a duty of care outside the terms of the contract) to professional liability, we have long held lawyers and accountants liable in tort for malpractice (citations omitted). These professionals owe a duty to the client ... which arises separate and distinct from the contract for services. (citations omitted).

> We see no logical reason to insulate design professionals from liability when the relationship between design professionals and the plaintiff is such that the design professional owes a professional duty to the plaintiff arising separate and distinct from any contractual duties between the parties or with third parties. (citations omitted). Whether such duty exists will depend on the facts and circumstances of each case.

The Supreme Court in Meddin v. Southern Ry-Carolina Division, et al. and Tommy L. Griffin Plumbing and Heating Co. v. Jordan, Jones and Goulding, Inc. held that a duty of due care_arising from a special relationship existed between the parties. As noted in Griffin, "(W)hether such a duty exists will depend on the facts and circumstances of each case." Tommy L. Griffin Plumbing and Heating Co. v. Jordan, Jones and Goulding, Inc. 463 S.E.2d at 89. Likewise, the Supreme Court in Cullum Mechanical Construction, Inc. v. South Carolina Baptist Hospital, et al., 463 S.E.2d 838, 842, cited Griffin noting "whether the design professional owes a duty depends on the facts and circumstances of each case" and further "(W)e find it is a factual issue whether these circumstances give rise to a special relationship between architect and Cullum." Thus, the existence of the special relationship and the duties that arise from that relationship would be a factual issue. Factual issues are to be determined by the jury and preclude summary judgment.

The Court found "that assuming, without deciding, that there was a special relationship between the parties". This finding, i.e., assuming a special relationship, established a duty of Laurens County Hospital to Plaintiffs. Once a duty has been established, it is further the function of the court to formulate the standard of conduct to which the duty requires the defendant to conform. J. Doe v. WAL-MART Stores, Inc., et al., 711 SE2d 908, 912 (S.C. 2011).

After the standard of conduct has been established, it then becomes the function of the fact finder to determine if the standard of conduct has been breached.

> The fact finder may consider relevant standards of conduct from various sources in determining whether a defendant breached a duty owed in a negligence case. Madison ex rel. Bryant v. Babcock Center, Inc., 638 S.E.2d 650, 659 (S.C. 2006). The standard of care in a given case may be established and defined by the common law, statutes, administrative regulations, industry standards, or a defendant's own policies and guidelines. (emphasis added)

As noted earlier, the experts for both Plaintiffs and Defendants agree that the prevailing standard is for hospitals to require physicians practicing in the hospital to maintain professional liability insurance. (Attachment 33 – Hyde deposition 25:14-17, 47: 23-25; Attachment 28 – Weiss deposition 58:4-8, 62:45 to 63:2, 59:25 to 60:10). Laurens County Hospital adopted Medical Staff Bylaws that mandate physicians that are granted privileges to maintain professional liability insurance. (Attachment 8 - §3.2.1(e) Medical Staff Bylaws).

Plaintiffs submit that a factual issue exists whether the standard of conduct was breached because Laurens County Hospital did not follow its own "policies and guidelines" to require Dr. Brown to maintain professional liability insurance covering the claims of Plaintiffs.

Plaintiffs further respectfully submit that the Court erred in determining that "the relationship did not create a duty on the part of Laurens to ensure that Dr. Brown had medical malpractice insurance to cover Plaintiffs' claims." The basis for this ruling appears to be that "at the time of the surgeries on Plaintiffs, Dr. Brown had the required insurance." (Order – page 7). However, it is undisputed that the professional liability insurance coverage of Plaintiffs claims was not maintained even though the plain language of the Medical Staff Bylaws requires that valid professional liability insurance be maintained.

Further, it appears that another basis of the Court's opinion is "there is nothing in the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract that specifically required Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, nor is there any evidence in the record that Laurens considered Dr. Brown to be in violation of the Bylaws or in breach of the Subsidy Contract by his failure to purchase tail coverage." While it is accurate that there is nothing in the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract that specifically required Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, it is also accurate to state that the only way for Dr. Brown to comply with the requirement "to maintain valid professional liability insurance coverage" is to purchase either tail or extended coverage. Plaintiffs submit that the intent to maintain insurance coverage is the primary consideration rather than specific instructions how the intent is to be accomplished. Also, it is accurate to state that there is not any evidence in the record that Laurens County Hospital considered Dr. Brown to be in violation. The reason Laurens County Hospital did not know Dr. Brown was in violation is because the person responsible, Lynn Reeves, was not trained or educated to even know what a claims-made policy or an occurrence policy was. (Attachment 22 - Reeves deposition 15:17-22, 21:11 to 23:8). The failure to know that which should be known is not a valid defense.

Further, it appears that another basis of the Court's opinion is "Plaintiffs contend they are intended beneficiaries of the requirement that Dr. Brown maintain insurance ..." The Plaintiffs do not make such contention nor allege that they are third party beneficiaries; rather, Plaintiffs allege that Defendants breached the contract between Plaintiffs and Defendants – a first party contract. (paragraph 73 Second Amended Complaint).

Plaintiffs content that the Motion for Summary Judgment should be denied because a factual issue has been established to determine if the standard of conduct has been breached by Laurens County Hospital.

6) The Order fails to find that:
Laurens County Hospital failed to exercise due care in monitoring, supervising or requiring Dr. Brown to comply with Hospital Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract by maintaining valid professional liability insurance coverage.

South Carolina law requires that "(E)ach hospital must have a single organized medical staff that has overall responsibility for the quality of medical care provided to the patients." (Attachment 29 – Section 44-7-269(D) South Carolina Code of Laws). Additionally, state law requires that the medical staff, with approval of the hospital governing authority, adopt "bylaws, rules and regulations to govern its operation as an organized medical staff." (Attachment 30 – Section 301. Appointment DHEC Regulation).

Laurens County Hospital adopted Medical Staff Bylaws that required Licensed Independent Practitioners, i.e., privileged physicians, "shall maintain valid professional liability insurance coverage in amounts deemed necessary by the Board from time to time" during the time of their "continuing appointment to the Medical Staff." (Attachment 8 – Section 3.2.1(e) Medical Staff Bylaws).

Additionally, Laurens County Hospital, in the Subsidy Contract, required that Dr. Brown must maintain "professional liability insurance in a minimum amount of $1,000,000 per claims/$3,000,000 aggregate or JUA/PCF coverage. (Attachment 9 – Article VI. Professional Liability Insurance Subsidy Contract).

To perform its functions specified in the state statute, DHEC regulation, and medical staff bylaws Laurens County Hospital was required to monitor and supervise physicians privileged by Laurens County Hospital to maintain the "quality of medical care provided to the patients." (Attachment 29 - §44-7-260(D) S.C. Code)

The hospital staff exercised its responsibility to monitor and supervise the quality of medical care being rendered by Dr. Brown during the period July 9, 2009 until after January 14, 2010. It was discovered that Dr. Brown was potentially committing malpractice on numerous occasions during surgeries on patients. The evidence of malpractice during this period is partially demonstrated by the Affidavit of Sandra Thompson, who was Risk Manager of Laurens County Hospital, as follows:

* concerns arose regarding the October 27, 2009 surgery by Dr. Brown on Dixie Mitchell as being malpractice;
* concerns were raised by Rufus Watkins, MD and Dr. Brown himself about Dr. Brown properly performing the surgeries;
* in early December 2009, eleven charts of patients of Dr. Brown were sent for review by Dr. Madis who submitted his report to the hospital;
* Dr. Stribling, the Chief of Surgery of Laurens County Hospital, raised concerns about a surgical complication caused by Dr. Brown that occurred on December 11, 2009;
* Dr. Stribling raised concerns to Dr. Brian Weaver, Chief of Staff, on December 14, 2009 that resulted in Dr. Brown voluntarily relinquishing certain privileges on a temporary basis on December 15, 2009.

(Attachment 23 – Affidavit of Thompson)

The memo dated January 22, 2010 by Dr. R.W. Watkins sets forth that it was common knowledge among all eleven Scrub Techs that Dr. Brown injured numerous patients during surgeries. The memo stated, in part, that:

There was a general concern that there were an inordinate number of inadvertent injuries to the bladder, bowel, and ureters, especially with the sling procedure. There was (sic) concerns that when performed by this MD the procedure was dangerous and it was stated there were injuries in "almost every case" and that the procedures "caused more harm than good."

(Attachment 24 – Report of R.W. Watkins)

The December 2009 letter from the Chief of Surgery, Dr. Stribling, to the Chief of Staff, Dr. Weaver, sets forth the gravity of concern the medical staff had about the surgical performance of Dr. Brown. Dr. Stribling states "a situation that is of great concern to me. I worry greatly about what appears to be a continuing pattern of surgical misadventures by Dr. Byron Brown. ..... Because of what appears to me to me (sic) a worrisome pattern of complications, I will, as Chief of Surgery, respectfully ask Dr. Brown to temporarily relinquish his privileges to do all pelvic surgery..." (Attachment 25 – Letter from Dr. Stribling).

The next day, Dr. Brown relinquished his privileges at Laurens County Hospital to perform hysterectomies, anterior and posterior repairs, and urethral slings until the beginning of 2010. (Attachment 21 – letter from Dr. Brown resigning certain privileges). Two months later, Dr. Brown voluntarily entered into an agreement with Laurens County Hospital to significantly reduce the gynecological surgeries he was allowed to perform and agreed to take a leave of absence from the hospital staff positions he held. (Attachment 26 – Agreement between Laurens County Hospital and Dr. Brown).

The September 15, 2011 Memorandum of MAG Mutual documents that Dr. Brown self-reported ten separate claims (two for Mitchell for separate surgeries) against his insurance policy. (Attachment 27 – Memo of MAG Mutual).

The foregoing is substantial evidence that officials at Laurens County Hospital knew that Dr. Brown was causing serious injuries to patients during surgeries at Laurens County Hospital. The injuries were discovered during the time period from July 9, 2009 to January 14, 2010.

Thus, Laurens County Hospital had knowledge of numerous potential claims of malpractice by Dr. Brown for surgeries performed at Laurens County Hospital. Plaintiffs allege that Laurens County Hospital failed to exercise due care to require Dr. Brown to maintain valid professional liability insurance either by obtaining Extended Reporting Coverage or Prior Acts coverage knowing that numerous patients of Dr. Brown were victims of his malpractice. (paragraphs 81, 82, 83 Second Amended Complaint).

A factual issue has been presented to determine if Laurens County Hospital failed to exercise due care in monitoring, supervising, or requiring Dr. Brown to maintain valid professional liability insurance. This factual issue precludes summary judgment.

CONCLUSION

Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court alter or amend its Order and deny the Motion for Summary Judgment.

Respectfully submitted,

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

C.A. No.: 2014-CP-30-250

Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs,

v.

Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System,

Defendants.

DEFENDANTS' MEMORANDUM IN OPPOSITION TO PLAINTIFFS' MOTION TO ALTER OR AMEND JUDGMENT

In response to the Court's February 28, 2017 Order granting summary judgment on behalf of Defendants, Plaintiffs have filed a motion to alter or amend the judgment. Much of Plaintiffs memorandum is focused on the same arguments they put forth in their original memorandums in opposition to summary judgment. Defendants do not feel it necessary to address those arguments again as the Court has already fully considered them and should deny Plaintiffs' motion to alter or amend for the same well thought out reasons that are set forth in the Order.

However, now in their instant motion, Plaintiffs also appear to be changing their position or attempting to set forth a few new arguments that Defendants feel compelled to address. As an initial matter, Plaintiffs' attempt to introduce new evidence into the record and/or make new arguments is inappropriate as it is well established that a party cannot use a motion to alter or amend to present an issue to the court that the party could have raised prior to judgment but did not. Gartside v. Gartside, 383 S.C. 35, 677 S.E.2d 621 (Ct. App. 2009). Regardless, for the reasons set forth below, Plaintiffs' new arguments should not have any impact on the Court's prior decision to grant summary judgment for Defendants.

1. Plaintiffs Change Their Damages Claim

Plaintiffs begin by arguing that, contrary to the Court's finding, they are not seeking to hold Defendants liable for the default judgments they obtained against Dr. Brown. (Pl. Mem. pp. 2-3.) In so doing, Plaintiffs allege that they are merely attempting to recover the amount of insurance coverage they contend should have been available for each of their claims. While Defendants appreciate that Plaintiffs now admit their alleged damages are not equal to the default judgments, this is the first time they have admitted as much. In fact, in their Seconded Amended Complaint, which was filed after the motion for summary judgment hearing, they continued to allege damages equal to the default judgments they received against Dr. Brown. (See Sec. Am. Compl. pp. 22-23.) Regardless, Plaintiffs' new position on their alleged damages is still erroneous.

As an initial matter, it is unclear how many claims Plaintiffs believe Mrs. McCord was entitled to make[1], but it is clear from the JUA policy in effect at the time that her three surgeries would have been treated as one claim subject to a single $1,000,000 limit. (See JUA Policy pp. 7 and 12, attached hereto as Exhibit A.) Therefore, at most, there would have been a total of $1,000,000 in coverage for both the McCords and the Sherfields.

However, as Defendants previously noted in their Reply Memorandum in Support of Summary Judgment, it is purely speculative to say that, even if there had been coverage, Plaintiffs would have definitely been able to recover. Dr. Brown's policy had a $3,000,000 annual aggregate, and it is certainly a possibility that, in light of the other claims which were made against Dr. Brown in 2009, there may have been very little or no coverage left by the time

[1] In footnote 1 on page 3 of Plaintiffs' memorandum, Plaintiffs initially state that Mrs. McCord would have a claim for each of her three surgeries; however, later in the same footnote they state that she would be entitled to recover on two claims. On page 12 of the Memorandum, they again allege that she would have three claims of medical malpractice.

McCord and Sherfield made their claims. In addition, the testimony from Plaintiffs' insurance expert confirmed that Dr. Brown's move out of the country and subsequent refusal to participate in the defense of the case could have provided grounds for his carrier to deny coverage for the claims altogether. (See Dep. Of James M. Carson, Ph.D., July 7, 2016, pp. 18-19, attached as Exhibit A to Defendants' Reply Mem. in Supp. of Sum. Judg.)

2. Plaintiffs' Subjective Interpretation of the Contracts is Irrelevant

Next Plaintiffs argue that the Court erred in finding the contracts between Plaintiffs and Defendants unambiguous. In so doing, Plaintiffs filed and submitted for the Court's review their entire deposition transcripts. As previously noted, Plaintiffs cannot make new arguments or introduce new evidence into the record on a motion to alter or amend. Gartside, supra. However, even if considered by the Court, Plaintiffs' deposition testimony does not create a genuine issue of material fact or establish any ambiguity in the Conditions of Admission forms.

Plaintiffs argue that it was their intent and understanding that "services to be rendered" by the hospital included the hospital ensuring that Dr. Brown complied with the Medial Staff Bylaws as well as the Subsidy Contract he had with the hospital. (Pl. Mem. p. 6) However, Mrs. McCord testified that she had never seen the Medical Staff Bylaws or had any knowledge of what they said. (McCord dep. p. 81:2-22.) She also stated that she didn't know anything about the Subsidy Contract between Dr. Brown and Laurens prior to the instant lawsuit. (McCord dep. p. 73:18-21.) Mrs. Sherfield also stated that she had no idea what was in the Bylaws or Subsidy Contract. (Sherfield dep. p. 70:11-22.)

Plaintiffs also contend that Mrs. Sherfield knew at the time she executed the Conditions of Admission form that Laurens required doctors privileged there to have insurance. (Pl. Mem. pp. 6-7.) That is a mischaracterization of what Mrs. Sherfield testified to. While she initially stated that she knew about the insurance requirement, Mrs. Sherfield later confirmed that her belief there was a requirement was not based on any knowledge she had of the hospital Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract, but rather her erroneous belief, based upon what her aunt had told her, that there was a law in South Carolina that required physicians to maintain medical malpractice insurance. (Sherfield dep. pp. 71:10 – 72:13.) Mrs. Sherfield's erroneous belief based upon what her aunt told is insufficient to create a genuine issue of material fact. See Yarborough and Co. v. Schoolfield Furniture Industries, Inc., 275 S.C. 151, 268 S.E.2d 42 (1980) (excluding affidavits based almost entirely on hearsay); James F. Flanagan, South Carolina Civil Procedure (second edition), at p. 450 ("dispute of fact must be established by evidence that would be admissible at trial")

Regardless, Plaintiffs' current subjective interpretation of the unambiguous language of the Conditions of Admission form does not matter. The law in South Carolina is well settled that one party's subjective interpretation of a contract is irrelevant when a court is constructing the contract's terms. M & M Group, Inc. v. Holmes, 379 S.C. 468, 476-77, 666 S.E.2d 262, 266 (Ct. App. 2008) (stating "[p]arties are governed by their outward expressions and the court is not free to consider their secret intentions"); Silver v. Abstract Pools & Spas, Inc., 376 S.C. 585, 593, 658 S.E.2d 539, 543 (Ct. App. 2008) (party to contract "is not permitted to reinterpret written contract terms midstream because he is unhappy with the contract he executed"); Ecclesiastes Prod. Ministries v. Outparcel Assocs., 374 S.C. 483, 498, 649 S.E.2d 494, 501 (Ct. App. 2007) ("Parties [to a contract] are governed by their outward expressions and the court is not at liberty to consider their secret intentions."); Bannon v. Knauss, 282 S.C. 589, 593, 320 S.E.2d 470, 472 (Ct. App. 1984) ("Interpretation of the contract is governed by the objective manifestation of the parties' assent at the time the contract was made. It does not depend on the subjective, after the fact meaning one party assigns to it.") (internal citation omitted).

Plaintiffs have admitted they did not discuss the "services to be rendered" language with anyone at the hospital prior to their surgeries. (McCord Dep. p. 107:12-15, Sherfield Dep. p. 47:14-20.) They did not discuss whether Dr. Brown had medical malpractice insurance with anyone at the hospital. (McCord Dep. p. 58:15-25, Sherfield Dep. p. 58:9-17.) There is simply no evidence that, at the time the parties entered into the contract, either party outwardly expressed an intention that "services to be rendered" would include anything regarding Dr. Brown's insurance. To the contrary, the Conditions of Admission form expressed in clear and unambiguous language that the hospital was not responsible for any acts or admissions of Dr. Brown.

Apparently, in addition to the Conditions of Admission form, Plaintiffs also wish to impose their subjective beliefs on contracts they were not parties to and did not know anything about prior to this lawsuit. Plaintiffs argue that Dr. Brown was required by the Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract to "maintain" medical malpractice insurance. While Plaintiffs admit that Dr. Brown had insurance at all times while he was privileged at Laurens, they contend that he failed to "maintain" insurance when he failed to purchase tail coverage to cover their claims; however, there is nothing in the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract that required Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage or have coverage for every possible claim that could be made against him. And as Defendants have previously noted, there is nothing in the record which suggests that Laurens considered Dr. Brown to have been non-compliant with the insurance requirement in either the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract. Plaintiffs' alleged subjective beliefs to the contrary are irrelevant.

3. Plaintiffs are not Third-Party Beneficiaries

Curiously, Plaintiffs conclude their breach of contract argument by disputing the Court's characterization of their claims as attempts to make third-party claims. (Pl. Mem. pp. 14-15.) Defendants fail to understand how Plaintiffs can argue on the one hand that Defendants owed them a duty to enforce the insurance requirements of the Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract, while on the other hand disputing the characterization of their claims as third-party claims. Nevertheless, Defendants are not going to argue with Plaintiffs. Since they now admit they were not third-party beneficiaries (Pl. Mem. p. 20), there is absolutely no basis for their argument that Defendants owed them a duty to enforce the insurance requirements of either the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract.

4. "Special Relationship" did not Create Duty to Ensure Dr. Brown Purchased Tail Coverage

Finally, Plaintiffs argue the Court erred in not finding a duty arose due to the "special relationship" between the parties. It is difficult to follow Plaintiffs' argument, but it appears that Plaintiffs are contending that their status as a patient of the hospital created a duty on the part of Defendants to ensure that Dr. Brown had insurance for their claims. In so doing, Plaintiffs, as they have done previously, misstate the law in an attempt to create a question of fact. Plaintiffs contend there is a question of fact as to whether or not Defendants exercised due care in ensuring that Dr. Brown adhered to the insurance requirements of the Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract; however, Plaintiffs are skipping a step. Before questions about whether Defendants exercised due care fulfilling a particular duty can be asked, the Court must first decide whether that specific duty even existed.

Defendants would certainly admit that there are duties owed to patients outside of the contractual duties created by the Conditions of Admissions form. Medical malpractice actions typically involve such duties. However, the question is not whether Defendants owed Plaintiffs any duty; the question is whether Defendants owed Plaintiffs a particular duty, and despite what Plaintiffs may contend, that is a legal question, not a factual question. While the court may consider several factors, including statutes, regulations, contractual relationships, status, property interests, or other special circumstances, it is for the court and the court alone to determine whether the law recognizes a particular duty. Madison v. Babcock Ctr., Inc., 371 S.C. 123, 136, 638 S.E.2d 650, 656 (2007); see also Doe ex rel. Doe v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 393 S.C. 240, 246, 711 S.E.2d 908, 911 (2011). If there is no duty, then the defendant is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law. Id. In this case, the Court has correctly found that the law does not recognize the particular duty Plaintiffs seek to impose upon Defendants, and thus summary judgment is appropriate.

In addition, Plaintiffs rely on several cases in support of their "special relationship" argument that are distinguishable from the instant case. In South Carolina Ports Authority, the Court held that a duty of care ran from a consultant to the commercial competitor the consultant was hired to critique when the consultant undertook to objectively analyze and compare the attributes of the commercial competitors for the purpose of giving one a market advantage over the other. 289 S.C. at 376-77. In Tommy L. Griffin Plumbing & Heating Co., the Court held the economic loss rule and lack of privity did not prevent a contractor from maintaining a tort action against a design engineer. 320 S.C. 49. In both cases, the Court held the defendants owed a duty to the plaintiffs to perform their contractual duties owed to a third party with due care. That is not what Plaintiff is arguing should be done in this case. Rather, Plaintiffs are seeking to have Defendants held liable for Dr. Brown's failure to exercise due care in performing his contractual duty to maintain insurance.

Ultimately, it appears Plaintiffs are arguing that due to the "special relationship" Defendants had a duty to protect them from Dr. Brown's acts or omissions. Plaintiffs rely on Doe ex. rel. Doe v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., but that case provides an exception for the general rule that one does not owe a duty to control the conduct of another or to warn a third person or potential victim of physical danger. Here, Plaintiffs are not contending that Defendants should have prevented Dr. Brown from physically harming them, but rather Defendants should have prevented Dr. Brown from causing them financial harm. Further, Doe held that a "defendant may have a common law duty to warn potential victims under the "special relationship" exception when the defendant has the ability to monitor, supervise, and control an individual's conduct and when the individual has made a specific threat of harm directed at a specific individual." 393 S.C. at 247 (internal citations omitted) (emphasis added). As an initial matter, as correctly noted in the Order, Defendants did not have the ability to force Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, so the required control element is missing. And in addition, there is not any evidence that Laurens knew of any specific threat on the part of Dr. Brown to harm Plaintiffs.

Finally, Plaintiffs' entire theory that Defendants owed them a duty to ensure that Dr. Brown had insurance coverage for their claims runs counter to both the terms and conditions of the Conditions of Admission form and the Tort Claims Act. From a contractual perspective, the undisputed evidence in the record shows Plaintiffs were put on notice that the hospital was not responsible for the acts or omissions of Dr. Brown. And from a tort perspective, the Tort Claims Act clearly holds that a governmental entity cannot be held liable for the acts or omissions of an independent contractor. Plaintiffs were allegedly injured both physically and financially by Dr. Brown's acts and omissions. To the extent they seek to recover for those injuries, they must look to Dr. Brown, and Dr. Brown alone.

Despite Plaintiffs' attempts to confuse the issues and create questions of fact, the sole legal question before the Court was fairly simple - did Defendants owe a legal duty to Plaintiffs to ensure that Dr. Brown had insurance coverage for their claims at the time those claims were made? For the reasons stated in the Order, as well as those reasons set forth in Defendants' memorandums in support of summary judgment that the Court considered but elected not to rule on, the Court properly decided that no such duty existed; therefore, the Court should deny Plaintiffs' instant motion and reaffirm its Order granting summary judgment on behalf of Defendants.

IV. LIMITS OF LIABILITY

The limit of liability stated in the declarations as applicable to each "claim" is the limit of the Association's liability for loss resulting from any medical incident causing injury or death, regardless of the number of:

1) Persons injured,
2) Claims made,
3) Claimants, or
4) Subsequent related or derivative claims.

The limit of liability stated in the declarations as "annual aggregate" is the total limit of the Association's liability during the policy period.

V. CONDITIONS

A. Insured's Duties

1. The insured has a duty to notify the Association in writing within 30 days if the insured's medical practice changes so that the Association can determine the insured's risk classification and what premium is owed to the Association. The Association will calculate the premium for insured's risk classification for this policy using the information available at the time. If the information is incomplete or incorrect, the Association will have the right to recalculate the insured's premium. The Association has the right to adjust premiums at any time based on rates and rating plans in effect at the time.

2. Upon the insured becoming aware of any medical incident or alleged injury, written notice containing the fullest information obtainable with respect to the circumstances, time and place thereof, and the names and addresses of the injured person and of available witnesses shall be given by or for the insured to the Association or any of its authorized agents as soon as practicable. The insured shall promptly take at their expense all reasonable steps to prevent other injury from arising out of the same or similar conditions, but such expense shall not be recoverable under this Policy.

3. If claim is made or suit is brought against the insured, the insured shall immediately forward to the Association every demand, notice, summons, complaint or other legal documents received by him or his representative.

4. The insured shall cooperate with the Association and, upon the Association's request, assist in making settlements, in the defense of suits and in enforcing any right of contribution or right of indemnity against any person or organization who may be liable to the insured because of bodily injury with respect to which insurance is afforded under this policy. The insured shall do nothing after loss to prejudice or impair such rights, and shall attend depositions, hearings, and trials and assist in securing and giving evidence and obtaining the attendance of witnesses.

5. The insured shall in no way alter any medical record after a medical incident has occurred. An addendum to the original record by the insured which is signed and dated shall not be considered an alteration.

1) fully and permanently retired from the practice of medicine; and
2) been continuously insured with the association for at least five years immediately preceding your retirement; and
3) attained the age of 55; and
4) met your premium payment(s) obligation;
5) for those meeting requirements (1), (3) and (4) above, but not (2), a 20% credit will be applied to the extended reporting period endorsement premium for each full year you have been continuously insured with us immediately preceding your retirement.

In order to this retirement benefit for the extended reporting period endorsement, acceptable proof of your retirement must be sent to the association in writing promptly following your retirement.

VII. DEFINITIONS

Unless otherwise stated in a respective coverage part or endorsement, where any of the following terms are found in bold print within this policy, they will have only the meaning shown below:

A. Automobile means a land vehicle, self-propelled or not, a trailer, or a semi-trailer. This includes any machinery or apparatus attached, whether or not subject to motor vehicles registration or designed for use principally on public roads.

B. Bodily injury means bodily harm, sickness, or disease, including death resulting therefrom.

C. Claim(s) means a demand for money damages. Administrative proceedings (including, but not limited to, disciplinary matters) and criminal proceedings are not claims.

D. Declarations means the Declarations Page issued by the Association to the Insured, which lists the applicable coverages and coverage amounts.

E. Medical Incident means any act, error, or omission in your providing or failure to provide professional medical services.

Any such act, error or omission, together with all related or concurrent acts, errors or omissions in the furnishing of such services to any one person shall be considered one medical incident, regardless of the length of time or number of contacts such person may have with the insured.

F. Personal or advertising injury means injury arising out of one or more of the following offenses:

- false arrest, detention or imprisonment;
- malicious prosecution;
- the wrongful eviction from, wrongful entry into, or invasion of the right of private occupancy of a room, dwelling or premises that a person occupies, by or on behalf of its owner, landlord or lessor;
- oral or written publication of material that slanders or libels a person or organization or disparages a person's or organization's goods, products or services; or
- oral or written publication of material that violates a person's right of privacy.

COUNTY OF LAURENS	C.A. No.: 2014-CP-30-250
Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs, v. Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System, Defendants.	Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that pursuant to Rule 56 of the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, Defendants Laurens County Health Care System ("Laurens") and Greenville Health System ("GHS") hereby move the Court for an order granting summary judgment in their favor. Defendants are entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law because under the laws of South Carolina and the facts of this case, Defendants owed no duty to Plaintiffs to ensure that Plaintiffs' physician, who had privileges to perform surgery at Defendants' hospital but was not employed by Defendants, had medical malpractice liability insurance coverage for their claims against him.

Background

While Plaintiffs' Complaint contains numerous allegations, the crux of their claim is they believe that Laurens and/or GHS[1] should be liable for the default judgments they obtained

[1] There are no allegations that GHS is independently liable to Plaintiffs. GHS is named as a defendant solely upon the basis that Plaintiffs allege that subsequent to the acts giving rise to the causes of action, Laurens entered into an agreement of consolidation or merger with GHS. Compl. ¶ 3. Though they don't directly allege it, presumably, Plaintiffs believe that as part of that agreement, GHS may have assumed responsibility for Laurens's pre-existing liabilities.

against Dr. Byron Brown and his OB/GYN practice.[2] Plaintiffs have been unable to collect on those judgments, because Dr. Brown no longer resides in the country and his medical malpractice carrier denied coverage on the basis that the claims were not timely made. While Plaintiffs' situation is unfortunate, they are unjustified in their attempts to recover from Laurens, because Laurens was, as a matter of law, not responsible for the acts or omissions of Dr. Brown and Laurens certainly was not Dr. Brown's insurer.

Facts

This case arises out of surgeries that were performed on Plaintiffs Chris Katina McCord and Janice Sherfield at Laurens County Hospital ("Hospital") from December 2008 to May 2009 by Dr. Byron Brown. It is undisputed that at the time of the surgeries, Dr. Brown had surgical privileges at the Hospital, but he was not employed by the Hospital.[3] Dr. Brown had his own practice with an office located offsite from the Hospital. It is undisputed that pursuant to the Hospital Medical Staff Bylaws ("Bylaws"), Dr. Brown had to maintain medical malpractice insurance in order to retain privileges at the Hospital (relevant portions of the Bylaws are attached hereto as Exhibit B). And, it is undisputed that at the time of the surgeries, he was in compliance with the Bylaws, as Dr. Brown had a claims-made medical malpractice liability insurance policy through Joint Underwriting Association ("JUA") with coverage limits of $200,000 per claim and $600,000 annual aggregate. In addition, Dr. Brown had excess coverage through Patients' Compensation Fund, which pushed his total coverage up to $1,000,000 per

[2] See C.A. No. 11-CP-30-1141 (McCord), and C.A. No. 12-CP-30-753 (Sherfield). Orders were entered for both cases on March 11, 2014. Neither Laurens nor GHS were parties to either case.

[3] There was a February 14, 2002 Agreement between Dr. Brown and Laurens whereby Laurens agreed to subsidize Dr. Brown's practice for three years (hereinafter "Subsidy Contract, attached hereto as Exhibit A), because the Hospital felt there were an insufficient number of OB/GYN physicians in the area. However, the Subsidy Contract made clear that Dr. Brown was an independent contractor who was free to admit patients at any hospital and maintain privileges to perform surgeries at any hospital.

claim and $3,000,000 annual aggregate.

A few months after the surgeries on Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield, in July, 2009, Dr. Brown decided to switch his medical malpractice insurance from JUA to MAG Mutual. He bought a claims-made policy from MAG Mutual, which covered claims arising on or after July 9, 2009. When he made the change he declined to purchase either "tail" or "prior bad acts" coverage, which meant there would be no coverage for previously unreported claims that occurred prior to July 9, 2009. As a result, since neither Mrs. McCord nor Mrs. Sherfield put Dr. Brown, or anyone else, on notice that they planned to file a claim against him until well after July 9, 2009, there was no insurance coverage for either of their claims.

Following their surgeries, both Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield continued to experience incontinence issues and both had to seek additional medical care in an attempt to resolve those issues. As a result, they both decided to pursue legal actions against Dr. Brown. They both retained Joseph G. Wright, III of McGowan, Hood & Felder, LLC as their counsel. Mrs. McCord had retained Mr. Wright by July, 2010, while Mrs. Sherfield retained him in May 2011. A Notice of Intent ("NOI") was filed on behalf of Mrs. McCord on July 29, 2011. The NOI mediation took place on December 1, 2011. It is admitted that as of that mediation, Mr. Wright was aware of the possibility that Dr. Brown did not have medical malpractice insurance coverage for the claims being brought by both the McCords and Sherfields.

Despite knowledge of the fact that Dr. Brown lacked insurance coverage for their claims, the McCords and Sherfields continued their legal actions against him. The McCords filed their Complaint against Dr. Brown and his practice on December 9, 2011. They did not name Laurens as a defendant in that action or assert any allegations against Laurens. The Sherfields filed their Complaint against Dr. Brown and his practice on September 25, 2012. Like the McCords, they did not name Laurens or assert any allegations against Laurens.

While those actions were pending, Dr. Brown moved out of the country and refused to continue participating in the defense of the actions. As a result, both the McCords and Sherfields were ultimately able to obtain default judgments against Dr. Brown and his practice. (See C.A. No. 11-CP-30-1141, March 11, 2014 Judgment in the amount of $1,480,457 for Chris Katina McCord and $50,000 for Christopher McCord and C.A. No. 12-CP-30-753, March 11, 2014 Judgment in the amount of $1,468,580 for Janice Sherfield and $50,000 for Jerry Sherfield.) Shortly thereafter on March 26, 2014, Plaintiffs filed the instant action.

Summary Judgment Standard

Summary judgment is appropriate when it is clear that there is no genuine issue of material fact and the conclusions and inferences to be drawn from the facts are undisputed. Calvert v. House Beautiful Paint and Decorating Ctr., Inc., 313 S.C. 494, 443 S.E.2d 398 (1994). "The purpose of summary judgment is to expedite the disposition of cases which do not require the services of a fact finder." Dawkins v. Fields, 354 S.C. 58, 69, 580 S.E.2d 433, 438 (2003) (quoting George v. Fabri, 345 S.C. 440, 452, 548 S.E.2d 868, 874 (2001)). When a plaintiff cannot establish facts to meet all the elements of the cause of action, summary judgment is appropriate. Bessinger v. Bi-Lo, Inc., 329 S.C. 617, 496 S.E.2d 33 (Ct. App. 1997); Hunter v. Dixie Home Stores, 101 S.E.2d 262, 232 S.C. 139 (1957). A party may not rely upon an issue of fact that is not genuine or an inference which is not reasonable to rebut a motion for summary judgment. Main v. Corley, 281 S.C. 525, 316 S.E.2d 406 (1984).

In order to prevail on either of their causes of action, Plaintiffs must establish that Defendants breached a legal duty owed to them. "A legal duty is that which the law requires to be done or forborne with respect to a particular individual or the public at large." Byerly v.

Connor, 301 S.C. 441, 443 415 S.E.2d 796, 798 (1992). A legal duty may be created by statute, a contractual relationship, status, property interest, or some other special circumstance. Madison v. Babcock Ctr., Inc., 371 S.C. 123, 136, 638 S.E.2d 650, 656 (2007). The court must determine, as a matter of law, whether the law recognizes a particular duty. Id. If there is no duty, then the defendant is entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law. Id.

Legal Analysis

I. No Contractual Duty Owed

Plaintiffs' first cause of action is breach of contract; however they cannot point to a single document wherein Laurens directly promised them that it would ensure that Dr. Brown would have medical malpractice insurance coverage for their claims against him. In ruling on a motion for summary judgment, it is the court's duty to interpret and enforce the contract the parties actually made for themselves and the court cannot, under the guise of interpretation, create a better or different contract than the one the parties actually made. See Sphere Drake Ins. Co. v. Litchfield, 313 S.C. 471, 438 S.E.2d 275, 277 (Ct. App. 1993) (court "is limited to interpretation of the contract made by the parties" and "is without authority to alter a contract by construction or to make a new contract for the parties"); Chan v. Thompson, 302 S.C. 285, 395 S.E.2d 731, 734 (Ct. App. 1990) ("The rights of the parties must be measured by the contract which the parties themselves made, regardless of its wisdom, reasonableness, or failure of the parties to guard their rights carefully") (citations omitted). If the contract is unambiguous, it must be construed according to the terms the parties have used, and the terms are to be interpreted in their plain, ordinary, and popular sense. Litchfield, supra.

Here Plaintiffs are seeking to read into a contract terms and conditions that simply are not there. The document that Plaintiffs contend forms the basis of their breach of contract claim is the Conditions of Admission form which they executed prior to each of their surgeries (copies of each of applicable Conditions of Admission forms are attached hereto as Exhibit C, hereinafter "the Contract"). Specifically, Plaintiffs point to the first sentence of the paragraph titled "Financial Agreement" which states,

> "The undersigned agrees he signs as agent or as patient that in consideration of the services to be rendered to that patient, he hereby individually obligates himself to pay the account of the hospital, in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital."

Plaintiffs contend that sentence somehow created a duty on the part of the Hospital to ensure that Dr. Brown had medical malpractice insurance coverage for their claims against him; however, such an interpretation is completely unreasonable.

First, taking the terms in their plain, ordinary and popular sense, the purpose of the sentence is unambiguous. It simply obligates patients to pay the bills they receive for the services rendered to them by the Hospital. "Services to be rendered," in the context of that paragraph, simply refers to those services that the Hospital actually provides and bills for, such as room charges, medications, and meals. The Hospital has never billed a patient for ensuring that an independent physician had medical malpractice insurance coverage, and it didn't bill Plaintiffs for any such "service" in this case; therefore, that could not reasonably be considered a "service to be rendered."

Plaintiffs contend that the "services to be rendered" include: compliance with state and federal laws and regulations; compliance with the Bylaws, and; compliance with the contracts between the Hospital and privileged physicians. However, those things aren't actually services rendered by the Hospital. At most, they go toward the standard of care for how services should be rendered by the Hospital. In essence, Plaintiffs seem to be contending that the Contract implies that services will be rendered in a certain manner; however, South Carolina does not recognize a cause of action for breach of an implied contract in the context of medical treatment.

Second, Plaintiffs' interpretation is unreasonable, because it requires one to ignore the plain and unambiguous language contained in other parts of the Contract. The paragraph entitled "Medical and Surgical Consent" states,

> The patient's care is under the direction of the attending physicians and the hospital is not responsible for any act or omission of the physicians.... The undersigned recognizes that most medical staff members furnishing services to the patient, including the radiologists, pathologist, anesthesiologists, and the like (are) independent contractors and not employees of the hospital.

That paragraph made it very clear to Plaintiffs that the Hospital was not responsible for any acts or omissions of Dr. Brown. To the extent that Dr. Brown's failure to purchase tail coverage could be construed as a violation of the Bylaws, it would be his violation of the Bylaws, not the Hospitals'. Plaintiffs cannot reasonably argue that the Hospital promised to ensure that Dr. Brown maintained medical malpractice insurance when the Hospital clearly stated that it was not responsible for anything Dr. Brown did or failed to do.

II. No Other Basis for a Duty Owed

Plaintiffs' second cause of action is negligence; however their claim appears to be based upon the same duty alleged in their breach of contract claim. See Compl. ¶¶ 66-67. To the extent Plaintiffs are alleging the duty arose under contract, their claims must be redressed under the terms of the contract, and a tort action will not lie. See Tommy L. Griffin Plumbing & Heating Co. v. Jordan, Jones, & Goulding, Inc., 320 S.C. 49, 54-55, 463 S.E.2d 85, 88 (1995).

To the extent Plaintiffs are arguing negligence as an alternative to breach of contract on the realization that there actually was no contractual duty, the claim fails because there is no legal authority in South Carolina which suggests that a hospital owes a duty to its patients to ensure that a doctor maintain medical malpractice insurance. There is no such duty because it would be completely unreasonable to impose such a duty, especially given the fact that there is no legal requirement in South Carolina that a doctor maintain medical malpractice insurance to begin with. See Huggins v. Citibank, 355 S.C. 329, 333, 585 S.E.2d 275, 277 (2003) ("The concept of duty in tort liability will not be extended beyond reasonable limits.") Further, even if there were such a duty, Plaintiffs still would not have a viable claim against Laurens, because Laurens's alleged breach of that duty did not proximately cause Plaintiff's injuries and their claims are barred by the statute of limitations.

a. Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract Did Not Create a Duty Owed to Plaintiffs

Plaintiffs contend that Laurens owed them a duty to ensure that Dr. Brown complied with the requirements that he maintain medical malpractice insurance contained in the Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract. As an initial matter, there is no evidence that Dr. Brown failed to comply with the requirements of the Bylaws and/or the Subsidy Contract. It is undisputed that at the time of the surgeries on Plaintiffs, Dr. Brown had the required insurance. Plaintiffs contend that he fell out of compliance when he switched policies in July of 2009 and failed to purchase tail coverage; however, there is nothing in the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract that specifically required Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, nor is there any evidence in the record that Laurens considered Dr. Brown to be in violation of the Bylaws or in breach of the Subsidy Contract by his failure to purchase tail coverage.

Nevertheless, even if the Bylaws and/or the Subsidy Contract could somehow be interpreted to have put a requirement on Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, that requirement would not inure to the benefit of Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs contend that they were intended beneficiaries of the requirement that Dr. Brown maintain insurance, but there is nothing in either the Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract that states that the insurance requirement is there for the benefit of patients, and Plaintiffs' contention is inconsistent with South Carolina law. See Trancik v. USAA Ins. Co., 354 S.C. 549, 581 S.E.2d 858 (Ct. App. 2003) ("Third-party-liability-insurance contracts are generally indemnity contracts whereby the insurer, or the first party, agrees to pay the insured, or the second party, the amount of any damages the insured may become legally liable to pay a third party; thus, the third party, or the incidental beneficiary, does not have a contractual relationship with the insurer and cannot maintain an action against the insurer for breach of the insurance contract.") At best, Plaintiffs would be incidental beneficiaries of the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract, but that would not give them the right to sue to enforce those documents. Id.

Regardless, even if Plaintiffs could be considered intended beneficiaries, such status would only give them standing to sue Dr. Brown as the promisor, not Laurens as the promisee. Under the terms of both the Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract, the obligation to maintain insurance belonged to Dr. Brown. To the extent his failure to purchase tail coverage meant he had not fulfilled his obligations, Plaintiffs would, at best, have been able to sue Dr. Brown for breach of the Bylaws and Subsidy Contract, but that would not give them the right to sue Laurens. See Sullivan v. U.S., 625 F.3d 1378 (Fed. Cir. 2010) (holding plaintiffs could not maintain a breach of contract action against Postal Service for failing to enforce a contract with a transportation company, and noting that the contract provision requiring the contractor to purchase liability insurance for its vehicles was intended to protect the Postal Service from potential risk and plaintiffs were at best incidental beneficiaries); Hesse v. Long and Foster Real Estate, Inc., No. 1:11cv506, 2012 WL 1427793 (E.D.Va.2012) (noting that no jurisdiction recognizes a theory of liability whereby a third party to a contract can sue the non-breaching party for failure to enforce the contract).

And to the extent that Plaintiffs may be contending as much, the Bylaws and/or the Subsidy Contract did not create a duty owed to Plaintiffs as the result of a voluntary undertaking on the part of Laurens. First, a voluntary undertaking exists when one undertakes to render services to another which he should recognize as necessary for the protection of someone else. See Restatement (Second) of Torts § 323(a) (1965). In regards to the Bylaws and/or the Subsidy Contract, Laurens did not undertake to render any services. Again, pursuant to both those documents, it was Dr. Brown who undertook to render OB/GYN services and agreed to maintain medical malpractice insurance while rendering those services. Nowhere in either of those documents does Laurens state that it will ensure that Dr. Brown will maintain insurance.

But regardless, even if Laurens had undertaken the responsibility to ensure that Dr. Brown maintain insurance, it would not have created a duty owed to Plaintiffs, because the undertaking did not make Plaintiffs situation worse, nor did Plaintiffs rely on the undertaking to their detriment. See Staples v. Duell, 329 S.C. 503, 494 S.E.2d 639 (Ct. App. 1997) (holding defendant's failure to follow an internal policy which voluntarily undertook to conduct inspections of rural property was not actionable). It is admitted that Plaintiffs had never seen or read the Medical Staff Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract prior to their surgeries, and they had no knowledge of the terms and conditions of those documents. (See Plaintiffs' Responses to Defendants' Requests for Admissions, ¶¶ 6-8, attached hereto as Exhibit D.) They did not discuss those documents or the requirement that Dr. Brown have medical malpractice insurance with anyone at the Hospital prior to their surgeries. (Id.) They simply knew nothing about the medical malpractice insurance requirement, and thus, they could not have relied on that requirement to their detriment.

Finally, to hold that Laurens owes a duty to its patients to ensure that physicians comply with the Bylaws would be contrary to public policy and the intentions of the Legislature in South Carolina. As previously mentioned, there is no law in South Carolina that requires doctors to maintain medical malpractice insurance. In addition, Laurens and GHS are both governmental entities subject to the South Carolina Tort Claims Act, S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-10, et seq. (1976, as amended), and it and its agents and employees are, therefore, entitled to all rights, privileges, defenses, limitations, and immunities afforded by the Act and afforded by the doctrine of sovereign immunity, as is retained by the Act. See Murphy v. Richland Mem. Hosp., 317 S.C. 560, 455 S.E.2d 688 (1995) (citing Benton v Roger C Peace, 313 S.C. 520, 443 S.E.2d 537 (1994)). Pursuant to the Act, a governmental entity cannot be held liable for the acts or omissions of an independent contractor. S.C. Code § 15-78-60(20); see also Smith v. Reg'l Med. Ctr., 394 S.C. 110, 713 S.E.2d 656 (Ct. App. 2011) (holding governmental hospital could not be held liable for the negligent acts of an independent contractor physician). Therefore, it is the public policy of this State and the intent of the Legislature that Laurens cannot be held liable for Dr. Brown's failure to have insurance coverage for Plaintiffs' claims. Further, the Act retains immunity for governmental entities for failing to enforce written policies, S.C. Code § 15-78-60(4); therefore, even if Laurens owed Plaintiffs a duty to enforce the Bylaws, it would have immunity for any failure to do so.

b. Laurens's acts or omissions did not proximately cause Plaintiffs' injuries

Plaintiffs' inability to collect their judgments has not been the result of any act or omission on the part of Laurens. The current predicament can be blamed on several things, but none of those things are Laurens's fault. First, had Plaintiffs put Dr. Brown on notice of their claims at the time they first became aware of the injuries he allegedly caused them, there would have been coverage through Dr. Brown's JUA policy. It was not Laurens's fault that they each decided to wait so long to tell anyone that they felt they had been injured by Dr. Brown's negligence. Second, it was not Laurens's fault that Dr. Brown switched insurance carriers and failed to purchase tail coverage. And finally, it was not Laurens's fault that Dr. Brown decided to move out of the country.

In their Complaint, Plaintiffs allege that Laurens had a duty to inform them that Dr. Brown had a claims-made policy in sufficient time for them to make a claim, Compl. ¶ 59; however, their own expert refuted that contention and stated that in his opinion, Laurens had no duty to do anything until it found out that Dr. Brown had switched policies and failed to purchase tail coverage or prior bad acts coverage. (See Depo of Charles Hyde, II, Ph.D., April 8, 2016, p. 123:18-23. Relevant excerpts are attached hereto as Exhibit E) But at that point, the damage had been done and there was nothing anyone, other than Dr. Brown, could do to rectify the situation. Plaintiffs allege that Laurens should have done something to force Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, but Laurens could not force Dr. Brown to do anything. Dr. Brown was not an employee of Laurens. Laurens had no direct control over him. The most Laurens could have done was terminate his privileges and require him to repay the amounts forwarded under the Subsidy Contract, but there is no evidence that doing either of those things would have prompted Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage. In fact, Laurens ultimately did both those things and it did not have any impact on Dr. Brown's decision to not purchase tail coverage.

Plaintiffs' expert conceded that Laurens could not have forced Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, but argued that Laurens had a duty to purchase tail coverage on Dr. Brown's behalf since he refused. However, Plaintiff's own insurance expert conceded that in order for a company to be able to purchase liability insurance coverage for a person, it must have an insurable interest in that person. (See Dep. Of James M. Carson, Ph.D., July 7, 2016, pp. 35:17 – 36:8. Relevant excerpts are attached hereto as Exhibit F) Therefore, for Laurens to have had an insurable interest in Dr. Brown, there had to be a possibility that Laurens could be held vicariously liable for Dr. Brown's actions, but as noted above, that was not a possibility under the Tort Claims Act. See Smith, supra. Accordingly, under the law, Laurens could not have purchased tail coverage on Dr. Brown's behalf even if it wanted to.

The fact is that once Dr. Brown made the decision to switch carriers and decline to purchase tail coverage or prior bad acts coverage, there was nothing anyone, other than Dr. Brown, could do to ensure that Plaintiffs would be compensated for the injuries he allegedly caused them. It was solely Dr. Brown's fault that Plaintiffs were injured and it was Dr. Brown's fault (not withstanding Plaintiffs' failure to timely file their claims) that Plaintiffs have been unable to collect any money for their alleged injuries.

c. Plaintiffs' claims are barred by the statute of limitations

Under the Tort Claims Act, the applicable statute of limitations is two years. S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-110. South Carolina applies the discovery rule to claims for negligence. Republic Contr. Corp. v. South Carolina Dep't of Highways & Pub. Transp., 332 S.C. 197, 503 S.E.2d 761 (S.C. Ct. App. 1998). Under the discovery rule, the statutory period begins to run when a person knew or by the exercise of reasonable diligence should have known that he had a cause of action. S.C. Code Ann. § 15-3-535 (2008); Smith v. Smith, 291 S.C 420, 426, 354 S.E.2d 36, 40 (S.C. 1987). The test is objective based upon when a person could or should have known that a cause of action might exist in his or her favor, rather than when a person obtains actual knowledge of either the potential claim or of the facts giving rise thereto. Burgess, supra; see also Austin v. Conway Hosp., Inc., 292 S.C. 334, 339, 356 S.E.2d 153, 156 (S.C. Ct. App. 1987) (quoting Rogers v. Efird's Exterminating Co., Inc., 284 S.C. 377, 379, 325 S.E.2d 541, 542 (1985)). Further, the Supreme Court of South Carolina held in Wiggins v. Edwards, 314 S.C. 126, 128, 442 S.E.2d 169, 170 (S.C. 1994):

> The focus is upon the date of discovery of the injury, not the date of discovery of the wrongdoer: The important date under the discovery rule is the date that a plaintiff discovers the injury, not the date of the discovery of the identity of another alleged wrongdoer. If, on the date of injury, a plaintiff knows or should know that she had some claim against someone else, the statute of limitations begins to run for all claims based on that injury. (emphasis added).

Applying the law to the facts of this case, it is clear that Plaintiff's claims are barred as matter of law. Plaintiffs are trying to recover damages sustained when they were allegedly injured by Dr. Brown; therefore, the statute of limitations for all claims based on those injuries began to run when those injuries occurred. Mrs. McCord felt she had been injured by Dr. Brown following her second surgery on February 19, 2009; therefore, all of her claims began to accrue on February 19, 2009. Mrs. Sherfield was told immediately following her surgery on May 29, 2009 that there had been complications; therefore, all of her claims began to accrue on May 29, 2009. Plaintiffs did not file this action until March of 2014, nearly three years beyond the statute of limitations.

Plaintiffs will likely argue that their claims against the hospital did not begin to accrue until they discovered that Dr. Brown did not have medical malpractice insurance coverage for their claims against him, but that position would be inconsistent with the damages Plaintiffs are seeking to recover. Plaintiffs have alleged that they are entitled to recover the full amount of the judgments they received against Dr. Brown. Those judgments were compensation for the injuries allegedly caused by Dr. Brown during the aforementioned surgeries. Therefore, in this case, Plaintiffs are again seeking to be compensated for the injuries they sustained during those surgeries, and as previously stated, all claims to recover for those injuries began to accrue at the time of the injuries in 2009. Wiggins, supra.

Nevertheless, even assuming that Plaintiffs claims did not accrue until they knew about the problem with Dr. Brown's insurance, their claims against Defendants would still be barred by the applicable statute of limitations. It is admitted that as of December 1, 2011 Plaintiffs, through their attorney, were aware of the possibility that Dr. Brown did not have medical malpractice insurance coverage for their claims against him. (See Plaintiffs' Response to Defendants' Requests for Admission, ¶ 5.) Therefore, even assuming the lack of insurance caused a distinct and separate injury, which again would be inconsistent with Plaintiffs' claimed damages in this case, Plaintiffs were aware of that injury as of December 1, 2011, which means they were still several months beyond the applicable statute of limitations when they filed this action on March 26, 2014.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons stated herein, Laurens and GHS respectfully requests this Court enter an order granting them summary judgment on all claims and for such other and further relief as this Court may deem just and proper.

AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT IS SUBJECT TO ARBITRATION

AGREEMENT made this 14th day of February 2002 by and between Byron Brown, M. D. (hereinafter referred to as "Physician") and Laurens County Health Care System hereinafter referred to as "Hospital").

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, Physician is an OB/GYN having his medical degree in the State of South Carolina; and

WHEREAS, Hospital is a political subdivision of the State of South Carolina charged with the responsibility of providing quality health care to the citizens of Laurens County; and,

WHEREAS, Hospital has performed an assessment of the existing needs of the Laurens County community, and the assessment indicates there exists within the community a demand for physicians trained in the specialty of OB/GYN to efficiently and conveniently satisfy patient care needs;

WHEREAS, Physician is licensed to practice medicine in South Carolina; and

WHEREAS, Physician desires to establish an OB/GYN practice in Laurens County, State of South Carolina and Hospital agrees to assist Physician in establishing the practice in Laurens County, South Carolina:

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the terms, conditions, covenants, agreements and obligations herein stated it is now mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto as follows:

ARTICLE I: OBLIGATIONS OF THE HOSPITAL

A. Contingent upon the Physician's fulfillment of his obligations and this Agreement and subject to the limitations herein set forth, the Hospital agrees to subsidize the net practice collections of Physician for a 36-month period beginning on July 1 [illegible], 2002, contingent upon approval of credentialling at the hospital and opening of an office in Laurens County, unless otherwise agreed in writing, not to exceed $27,000 per month in any month under this Agreement.

B. The net practice income for the purposes of this Agreement equals all collections by Physician for professional fees and office or hospital practice and any other income from the practice of medicine, less reasonable, professional expenses attributable directly to Physician necessary to conduct the practice of medicine during the 36-month period. Professional expenses shall include all expenses normally and reasonably associated with the operation of the medical practice directly attributable to Physician and which are deductible for federal income tax purposes, with the exception of the following: contributions to retirement or deferred compensation plans; federal, state, and local income taxes; professional liability insurance.

B. A sample monthly calculation may be as follows:

Net practice collections	$10,000
Subsidy amount	$27,000
Hospital payment	$17,000

In the event net practice income for any month exceeds $27,000, one-half (1/2) of the excess shall be paid by Physician to Hospital to be applied against subsidy amounts already advanced, or the following month's subsidy shall be reduced by a like amount.

ARTICLE II: PHYSICIAN OBLIGATION

A. Establishment of Practice and Time Commitment:

1. On or before July 1, 2002, the Physician shall establish his practice in Laurens County, South Carolina. Physician shall, in good faith and with due diligence, pursue the practice on a full-time basis for at least 40 hours per week for 48 weeks per year to include office and hospital practice and shall, in good faith, use his best efforts to develop a successful practice. Physician shall maintain reasonable hours so that the practice can be developed. He will maintain his license to practice medicine in South Carolina, and his provisional/active status on the medical staff in good standing throughout the term of this Agreement and repayment period and shall comply with all provisions of the medical staff By-laws of the Hospital as well as any other policies, procedures, rules, and regulations issued by the Hospital which govern its medical staff.

2. Physician hereby covenants and agrees to furnish and to make available to Hospital a reporting by the 10th day following the prior month ended, or as soon as practical after month-end. The report will consist of gross billings, gross collections, professional expenses, net practice income or net practice loss, records of deposits to the account of Physician and his banking institution, office visits and hospital visits. Any subsidy payment due to Physician shall be paid on or before the 15th day of the month for the preceding month, provided the first payment shall be due Aug 15, 2002.

3. Physician hereby authorizes the Hospital to conduct an audit of Physician's books and records upon reasonable notice during normal business hours.

4. Physician agrees to provide his best efforts to bill within a reasonable time period after services are rendered and will make attempts to collect receivables as expediently as possible.

5. The Physician must treat Medicaid and Medicare patients, and do so in a nondiscriminatory manner.

6. Physician agrees to provide services based on an on-call rotation to all patients he is requested by other Physicians in Laurens County to see at the Laurens County Hospital for purposes of consultation, emergency services, or otherwise, regardless of type of insurance or patient's ability to pay.

7. No benefit or payment hereunder shall, in any way, be based upon referral of patients or be volume sensitive.

8. The Physician shall exercise diligence to assist the Hospital in controlling the costs of the Hospital related to medical services including completing medical records on a timely basis and participating in the Hospital's quality assurance, utilization review, and peer review programs.

9. The Physician shall cooperate with the Hospital and shall properly notify the Hospital regarding legal claims, investigations, or lawsuits involving this Agreement or any medical services provided by the Physician.

10. The Physician agrees that, during the term of this Agreement, he will provide professional services to the community and to the Hospital patients including providing periodic medical care within his specialty to medically indigent; reasonable on-call rotation in the emergency room; and presentations to community groups and organizations as appropriate.

ARTICLE III: MOVING EXPENSES

Moving expenses incurred by the Physician's family will be reimbursed by the Hospital in conformance with the provisions of this Agreement. Unless otherwise provided herein reimbursable expenses are limited to expenses associated with moving Physician's household goods and travel, meals and lodging expenses incurred during the move to Physician's new residence. Upon proper documentation, Hospital will reimburse Physician or moving company based on prior arrangements. Payment for moving expenses will not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00).

ARTICLE IV: REPAYMENT

The physician shall repay any subsidy made pursuant to this agreement. Hospital has determined that there is a benefit and value to the Hospital and community if physician maintains a private medical practice and office in Laurens County. Therefore, for each month the physician maintains his hospital practice, medical practice, and office in Laurens County after the [illegible] year term of this Agreement, the Hospital will forgive repayment of [illegible] of the unpaid subsidy. Any unpaid subsidy not forgiven shall become immediately due and payable at such time as physician leaves Laurens County or ceases to maintain a private medical practice and office in the county or maintain privileges at Laurens County Hospital. The unpaid subsidy shall bear interest at the rate of Wall Street Journal Prime plus 7% determined as of the [illegible] month of this Agreement.

ARTICLE V: TERMINATION

Notwithstanding any other provisions contained herein, the Hospital may elect to terminate its obligations set forth in this Agreement, upon the happening of any of the following events:

(1) Physician fails to maintain a South Carolina medical license through the suspension or revocation by the State of South Carolina or Physician is placed on probation.

(2) Physician's medical staff privileges at Hospital are terminated or suspended in accordance with the Hospital's Medical Staff By-laws.

(3) Physician's professional liability insurance is canceled.

(4) Physician's application for appointment to Medical Staff at Hospital is denied for whatever reason.

(5) Disability of Physician for more than sixty (60) days.

(6) Written mutual consent of both Hospital and Physician.

(7) Conviction of a felony or a crime of moral turpitude or serious misdemeanor.

(8) Material breach of this Agreement by Physician provided Physician is given written notice of this breach and gives thirty (30) days after notice to cure same.

Should agreement be terminated because of any of the above reasons except for material breach by Hospital or death or long-term disability of Physician, Physician will be required to repay all subsidy advances immediately. However, the Hospital may allow payments over a period of time at its option. Physician may elect to terminate his obligation contained herein upon the failure of the Hospital to meet any of its obligations as set forth in previous articles of this Agreement. Election to terminate this Agreement by either party must be made in writing and delivered to the respective addresses of the Physician and Hospital.

The Hospital may purchase a life insurance policy in the Physician's name and will serve as beneficiary during the time of the income guarantee and subsequent repayment. After that period, the Physician will be given the option to assume ownership, change the beneficiary and assume payment of the policy.

ARTICLE VI: PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

The Physician shall furnish to the Hospital proof of insurance. Said policy shall cover professional liability in a minimum amount of $1,000,000 per claim/$3,000,000 aggregate or JUA/PCF coverage. Physician shall furnish to the Hospital evidence that the premium on said policy is prepaid and that said policy is in full force and effect. Further, Physician shall notify his insurance company that if said policy is canceled for any reason, notice of cancellation shall be provided by insurance company to the C.E.O. of the Hospital.

ARTICLE VII: INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR

It is expressly understood and agreed that Physician is an independent contractor expected and entitled to freely and independently exercise his judgment in accordance with good medical practice in the care and treatment of his patients. Physician shall exercise his skill, learning, intelligence, and experience in evaluation, diagnoses, medication, treatment, and hospitalization of his patients according to his informed judgment and shall not be constrained in the exercise of his independent judgment by the terms or conditions of this Agreement. Physician is free to admit patients to any Hospital of Physician's choice and to maintain staff privileges at other hospitals. Physician is under no obligation to admit patients to Laurens County Hospital. The sole purpose of this Agreement is to induce the Physician to establish his practice in the area of the Hospital because of the Hospital's belief that there are not a sufficient number of OB/GYN Physicians in the area.

ARTICLE VIII: REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS

The Hospital and the Physician will operate at all times in compliance with federal, state and local law, rules, and regulations, the policies, rules and regulations of the Hospital, the applicable standards of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations and all currently accepted and approved methods and practice of medicine. In the event that there shall be a change in federal or state law (including case law, statute, or regulation) or the interpretation thereof, or in the event facts material to this Agreement, known to one party are not disclosed to the other, or material facts known to either party are later developed, any of which when applied to either of the parties to this Agreement make compliance with Agreement illegal or onerous, then in such event, Physician and Hospital agree, upon written notice from the other, to renegotiate this Agreement, within thirty (30) days of said notice, to bring the Agreement into compliance with federal or state laws or to relieve the onerous aspects hereof. Upon renegotiation of this Agreement under the above, neither party shall have any further obligations to the other except to the extent such further obligations may be set out in a renegotiated agreement.

ARTICLE IX: LAW

The interpretation and enforcement of this agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of South Carolina.

ARTICLE X: ASSIGNABILITY

The right and obligations of the Hospital hereunder shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the successors and assigns of the Hospital. Physician may not assign his rights or obligations under this Agreement without written approval of Hospital, except that the Physician shall be required to assign this Agreement to any corporate entity succeeding to his practice and shall promptly give the hospital notice of such assignment.

ARTICLE XI: AMENDMENTS

Any amendments to this Agreement shall be effective only if in writing and signed by the Hospital and the Physician.

ARTICLE XII: ENTIRE AGREEMENT

This Agreement constitutes the entire Agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter.

ARTICLE XIII: NO WAIVER

No waiver of a breach of any provision of this Agreement shall be construed to be a waiver of any breach of any other provision. No delay in acting with regard to any breach of any provision of this Agreement shall be construed to be a waiver of such breach.

ARTICLE XIV: AUTHORIZATION FOR AGREEMENT

The execution and performance of this Agreement by Physician and Hospital have been duly authorized by all necessary laws, resolutions or corporate action, and this Agreement constitutes the valid and enforceable obligations of Physician and Hospital in accordance with its terms.

The Hospital has caused its name to be hereunto subscribed by duly authorized officer thereunto and Physician has hereunto subscribed his name as of the day and year first-above written.

ARTICLE XV: ARBITRATION

Any dispute, controversy or disagreement arising from this contract shall be submitted to arbitration pursuant to the Uniform Arbitration Act of South Carolina, § 15-48-10 et. Seq.

ARTICLE XVI: ACCESS TO BOOKS AND RECORDS

Upon the written request of the Secretary of Health and Human Services, or the Comptroller General, or any of their duly authorized representatives, the Physician will make available those contracts, books, documents, and records necessary to verify the nature and extent of the costs of providing services under this Agreement. Such inspection shall be available up to four (4) years after the rendering of such services. If the Physician carries out any of the duties of this Agreement through a subcontract with a value of $10,000 or more over a twelve (12) month period with a related individual or organization, the Physician agrees to include this requirement in any such subcontract. This section is included pursuant to and is governed by the requirements of Public Law 96-499, Sec. 952 (Sec. 1861 (b) (1) of the Social Security Act) and the regulations promulgated thereunder. No attorney-client, accountant-client or other legal privileges will be deemed to have been waived by the Hospital or the Physician by virtue of this Agreement.

ASSIGNMENT OF PHYSICIAN BENEFITS: In the event that I, the patient in addition to hospital benefits, am entitled to physician or physicians benefits of any type whatsoever, arising out of a policy of insurance insuring me or any other party's liability to me, I hereby assign said benefits to any physician rendering care or treatment during this stay or outpatient visits, to be applied to my bill.

FINANCIAL AGREEMENT: The undersigned agrees [illegible] as agent or as patient that in consideration of the services to be rendered to the patient, he hereby individually obligates himself to pay the account of the hospital, in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital. Should the account be referred to an attorney for collection, the undersigned shall pay reasonable attorney's fees and collection expenses. All delinquent accounts may bear interest at the legal rate. I do hereby appoint the Hospital as my true lawful attorney to act in my behalf to collect the above mentioned claims and to give full and final receipt for me for all amounts so collected, and to endorse for me any checks made payable to me for benefits or claims collected under the above agreements. In the event insurance benefits exceed the actual amount of hospitalization, I hereby authorize and direct the Hospital to apply any overpayment that I may otherwise be entitled to, to any account that may exist at the Hospital for myself, my spouse, or my children or any other account for which I am responsible.

RELEASE OF MEDICAL INFORMATION: I hereby authorize the Hospital and the Physician to furnish necessary information from the medical record requested by my insurance company, its designated agency, or sponsoring third parties (to include Medicare and Medicaid) where benefits have been assigned for purposes of benefit payment. This information may be transmitted in writing or verbally for the sole purpose to receive benefit payment for services rendered. During my hospitalization at the Hospital, I authorize my treating physicians to direct copies of my medical records to other physicians as they deem necessary for continuity of care while an inpatient.

PERSONAL VALUABLES: The hospital is not responsible for personal property retained in the patient's room and will not be responsible for any personal property of the patient unless it is accepted for safekeeping by the hospital and receipts are issued therefore.

TESTING TO PROTECT HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES AND OTHERS: I consent to appropriate tests for the purpose of infection, such as, but not limited to, the Hepatitis B virus or HIV, if deemed necessary for the protection of others. I authorize the withdrawal of blood or other body fluids for this purpose.

Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs, vs. Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Healthcare System, Defendants.	)	RESPONSES TO DEFENDANTS' FIRST REQUESTS FOR ADMISSIONS TO PLAINTIFFS

Plaintiffs respond to Defendants' First Requests for Admissions to Plaintiffs as follows:

1. Admit that on December 1, 2011 Plaintiffs' attorney, Joseph G. Wright, was present at a mediation involving several of his clients' claims against Dr. Byron A. Brown, including the claims asserted by Chris Katina McCord and Christopher McCord.

RESPONSE:

Admitted.

2. Admit that as of December 1, 2011, Mr. Wright was aware of the fact that MAG Mutual Insurance Company was denying medical malpractice insurance coverage for Dr. Brown on claims that arose prior to July 9, 2009.

RESPONSE:

Admit in part that as of December 1, 2011, Mr. Wright was aware that MAG Mutual Insurance Company denied coverage on claims asserted by Chris Katina McCord and Christopher McCord.

3. Admit that as of December 1, 2011, Mr. Wright was aware of the fact that Joint Underwriting Association ("JUA") was denying medical malpractice insurance coverage for Dr. Brown on any claims that had not been reported to JUA prior to July 9, 2009.

RESPONSE:

Admit in part that knowledge of JUA denying coverage on claims asserted by Chris Katina McCord/Chris McCord and Janice Sherfield/Jerry Sherfield was acquired in February-March 2012.

4. Admit that as of December 1, 2011, Mr. Wright was aware of the possibility that Dr. Brown did not have medical malpractice insurance coverage for the claims brought by Mr. and Mrs. McCord.

RESPONSE:

Admit.

5. Admit that as of December 1, 2011, Mr. Wright was aware of the possibility that Dr. Brown did not have any medical malpractice insurance coverage for the claims brought by Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield.

RESPONSE:

Admit.

6. Admit that Plaintiffs did not read the Laurens County Hospital's Medical Staff Bylaws prior to their surgeries with Dr. Brown.

RESPONSE:

Admit.

7. Admit that no employee or agent of Defendants discussed the Medical Staff Bylaws with Plaintiffs prior to their surgeries with Dr. Brown.

RESPONSE:

Admit.

8. Admit that Plaintiffs had no knowledge of Dr. Brown's "Subsidy Contract" (as defined in paragraph 15 of the Amended Complaint) prior to their surgeries with Dr. Brown.

RESPONSE:

Admit.

9. Admit that no employee or agent of Defendants discussed medical malpractice insurance with Plaintiffs prior to their surgeries with Dr. Brown.

RESPONSE:

Admit.

1 right this moment, it is anticipated that there
2 will be very shortly?
3 A. Right.
4 Q. What I'm asking, though, is that if I wanted to 5 buy a life insurance policy for you, who I have no
6 insurable interest, no relationship to, I would
7 not be allowed to do that, would I?
8 A. Right, in general. In recent years, there's ways
9 to do that in secondary markets, but I think
10 that's a side point that we're not probably really 11 focused on. So in general, that's correct. But 12 just a footnote that there are -- markets have 13 developed that actually allow people to purchase
14 life insurance policies, usually blind, on lives
15 that they have no insurable interest in, more as 16 an investment.
17 Q. Let's make it more specific. If I wanted to buy
18 an umbrella liability policy for you, I would not
19 be allowed to do that, would I?
20 A. Probably not.
21 Q. Again, because I have no insurable interest in 22 you? I could not be responsible for your 23 liability, and therefore an insurance company is 24 not going to allow me to buy a liability policy
25 for you; is that right?

1 A. Correct.
2 Q. So in regards to liability policies, the only way
3 that a third party is going to be allowed to buy a 4 liability policy for someone else is that they 5 could somehow or another be held responsible for 6 that person's liability; is that generally
7 correct?
8 A. Generally, yes.
9 Q. So in this case, do you have any opinion as to 10 whether or not in July or August of 2009, when 11 Laurens County became aware of -- or I think the 12 allegation is should have been aware of the fact 13 that Dr. Brown had switched insurance policies and 14 had not purchased tail coverage or extended-period
15 coverage, do you have any opinion as to whether or 16 not Laurens Hospital could have purchased that 17 coverage for him?
18 A. They certainly weren't the named insured. And so 19 any insurance that it could have or would have 20 purchased would have been a different policy.
21 They would have been the named insured. They 22 might have sought coverage under that, but it'd be 23 a different contract.
24 Q. But how could Laurens, who has -- again, under the 25 laws of South Carolina -- and I don't know if

MEMORANDUM IN OPPOSTION TO MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

2016 AUG 15 P 12: 01
LYNN M. LANCASTER

This case is an action against Laurens County Health Care System ("Laurens County Hospital") and Greenville Healthcare System ("GHS") for breach of contract and breach of the duty to exercise due care in the special relationship between Laurens County Hospital and patients who underwent surgery at Laurens County Hospital. The patients are Chris Katina McCord and Janice Sherfield (sometimes collectively referred to as "Patients") and their spouses are Christopher McCord and Jerry Sherfield, respectively. The Patients allege in the First Cause of Action that they entered into several contracts with Laurens County Hospital and Laurens County Hospital breached the contracts by failing to fully perform the services it provided. (See paragraphs 70, 71, 72, and 73 of the Second Amended Complaint)[1]. Also, the Patients allege in the Second Cause of Action that there was a special relationship between Laurens County Hospital and its patients undergoing surgery and that Laurens County Hospital was negligent in exercising due care which resulted in damages to the Patients. (See paragraphs 81, 82, and 83 of Second Amended Complaint).

[1] The Motion to Amend Complaint and the Second Amended Complaint were filed March 31, 2016; however, the motion has not as yet been heard. Plaintiffs expect that the motion will be granted since the amendment is in accordance with facts obtained in discovery, will conform the pleadings to the evidence, and will not cause undue prejudice to Defendants.

The defendants admit to entering into a separate contract with the Patients for each of the four surgeries performed by Byron A. Brown, MD ("Dr. Brown") at Laurens County Hospital. (Attachment 1 – Defendant's Supplemental Response to Request for Admission #5). One of the written documents states "services to be rendered" by Laurens County Hospital. The parties dispute what "services" are included in the contracts that are to rendered by Laurens County Hospital. For example, Laurens County Hospital was paid for providing "OR Services", "Anesthesia", and "Recovery Room" services; however, there is no description of the services. (Attachment 2 – Exhibit 1 and Exhibit 2). Patients submit that the services include, but are not limited to, Laurens County Hospital complying with state law and DHEC regulations relating to the operation of the hospital, complying with its own Medical Staff Bylaws promulgated in accordance with state law and DHEC regulations, and complying with contracts that Laurens County Hospital entered into with physicians, specifically, Dr. Brown, that affect the health, safety, and legal rights of the Patients.

There is, however, no disagreement that Laurens County Hospital and the Patients entered into four separate contracts regarding surgeries by Dr. Brown; that valuable consideration was paid to Laurens County Hospital by, or on behalf of, Patients; and that the scope and extent of the "services to be performed" were not described in the contracts.

The plaintiffs allege that Laurens County Hospital breached the contracts by not enforcing the Medical Staff Bylaws which required physicians privileged by Laurens

County Hospital to have and maintain professional liability insurance; by not enforcing the terms of its contract with Dr. Brown which also required Dr. Brown to maintain professional liability insurance; and by not complying with the prevailing standard of hospitals which requires physicians to maintain professional liability insurance. Further, Patients allege that Laurens County Hospital had a special relationship with the Patients and failed to exercise due care in the special relationship it had with its patients undergoing surgery in the hospital. As a result of Laurens County Hospital breaching and negligently failing to exercise due care, there was no insurance coverage to pay the judgments rendered against Dr. Brown. Since Dr. Brown was judgment proof and had permanently left the United States to reside in New Zealand, the plaintiffs have suffered the following damages:

*	Chris Katina McCord	$1,740,392.75, plus interest;
*	Christopher McCord	$ 58,789.40, plus interest;
*	Janice Sherfield	$1,468,580.00, plus interest;
*	Jerry Sherfield	$ 50,000.00, plus interest.

(See paragraphs 73, 74, 75, 81, and 83 of the Second Amended Complaint)

After the breach of contract with the Patients, Laurens County Hospital entered into an agreement with Greenville Healthcare System ("GHS"). The agreement between Laurens County Hospital and GHS was effective July 1, 2013 whereby GHS agreed to assume, perform, and discharge any and all obligations of Laurens County Hospital related to the hospital which existed as of July 1, 2013. The liabilities and obligations of Laurens County Hospital to Plaintiffs for breach of contract and negligence related to the operations of the hospital that existed as of July 1, 2013 and were thus assumed by GHS. (Attachment 3 – portion of Greenville Health System and Laurens County Health Care System agreement effective July 1, 2013, Section 2.3 Assumption of Liabilities).

A. STANDARD OF REVIEW

In a motion for summary judgment, the evidence and inferences which can be drawn therefrom are to be viewed in a light most favorable to the nonmoving party. Summary Judgment is a drastic remedy, it should be cautiously invoked so that no person will be improperly deprived of a trial of the disputed facts. Baird v. Charleston County, 571 S.E. 2d 69 (1999).

Summary judgment is improper where the motion presents a question as to the construction of a written contract, and the contract is ambiguous because the intent of the parties cannot be gathered from the four corners of the contract. Where a contract is unclear, or is ambiguous, and capable of more than one construction, the parties' intentions are matters of fact to be submitted to the jury. If a contract is ambiguous, parol evidence is admissible to ascertain the true meaning and intent of the parties. H.K. New Plan Exchange Property Owner 1, LLC v. Cohen, 649 S.E.2d 181, 184 (S.C. App. 2007), citing Bishop v. Benson, 374 S.E.2d 517, 518-519; Wheeler v. Globe Rutgers Fire Ins. Co. of City of N.Y., 118 S.E. 609, 610 (1923); Penton v. J.F. Cleckly Co., 486 S.E.2d 742, 745 (1997).

B. TERMS OF THE CONTRACT

The plaintiff Chris Katina McCord ("Mrs. McCord") underwent three surgeries at Laurens County Hospital on December 18, 2008, February 19, 2009, and April 17, 2009. The plaintiff Janice Sherfield ("Mrs. Sherfield") underwent surgery at Laurens County Hospital on May 29, 2009.

The surgeries on Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield were performed by Dr. Brown who was an obstetrician/gynecologist granted privileges to perform the surgeries by Laurens County Hospital. It has been judicially determined that Dr. Brown committed medical malpractice during each surgery and the following are verdicts and judgments rendered against Dr. Brown:

*	Chris Katina McCord	$1,740,392.75;
*	Christopher McCord (loss of consortium)	$ 58,789.40;
*	Janice Sherfield	$1,468,580.00;
*	Jerry Sherfield (loss of consortium)	$ 50,000.00.

(Attachment 4 – Exhibit 5 and Exhibit 6)[2]

It is admitted that the Patients and Laurens County Hospital entered into a contract – actually four separate contracts. The defendants allege that the contract is a unilateral contract and plaintiffs allege that the contract is a bilateral contract. However, the result is the same whether the contract is unilateral or bilateral because Laurens County Hospital undertook to perform services for the Patients under the contract. The issue is did Laurens County Hospital fully perform the services it undertook to perform?

The contract is set forth, in part, by the document entitled "Conditions of Admission" which was executed prior to each of the surgeries performed on Mrs.

[2] A jury verdict was returned for $2,960,000 in favor of Pamela and Carroll Neighbors against Dr. Brown on July 25, 2014 which was reduced for noneconomic damages caps and prejudgment interest added for a net judgment of $1,125,464.35, which was later settled for an undisclosed amount; a jury verdict was returned for $2,000,000 in favor of Lisa and Jeffrey Dennie against Dr. Brown on August 29, 2014 which was reduced because of noneconomic damages caps and prejudgment interest added for a net judgment of $1,609,445.44, which was later settled for an undisclosed amount. The cases of Dixie Mitchell and Betty and Donald Ward against Dr. Brown were settled for undisclosed amounts.

McCord and prior to the surgery performed on Mrs. Sherfield. (Attachment 5 - Exhibit 8 and Exhibit 9)[3]. The operative language is as follows:

> The undersigned (patient) agrees .... that in consideration of the services to be rendered to that patient, he hereby individually obligates himself to pay the account of the hospital, in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital. (emphasis supplied).

Laurens County Hospital billed Mrs. McCord $56,962 and billed Mrs. Sherfield $51,269 for services rendered and was paid an agreed upon price for these services. (Attachment 2).

There is a dispute between the parties as to what should have been included in the services rendered by Laurens County Hospital for which it was paid. Plaintiffs submit that the following are included in the requirements of Laurens County Hospital in performing services relating to the hospitalizations of the Patients:

* compliance with state law and regulations;
* compliance with federal law and regulations;
* compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws by Laurens County Hospital and the privileged physicians, specifically the portions that affect the health, safety, and legal rights of the patients; and
* compliance with the contracts between Laurens County Hospital and privileged physicians, specifically the portions that affect the health, safety, and legal rights of the patients.

Since the scope of the services language in the contract, i.e., "services to be rendered", cannot be determined within the four corners of the contract, then the term "services" is ambiguous. Carolina Ceramics, Inc. v. Carolina Pipeline Co., 161 S.E.2d 179, 181 (S.C. 1968) (holding that a contract is ambiguous if it is capable of being understood in more senses than one, if the agreement is obscure in meaning, or has indefiniteness of expression, or has a double meaning.)

[3] The Conditions of Admission for the McCord December 18, 2006 surgery cannot be located; however, Sandra Thompson, the Manager of Quality Resources which includes Risk Management, testified that the document was probably executed, but can't be located. (Attachment 6 – Thompson deposition, 49:17-25).

The ambiguous language in a contract should be construed liberally and most strongly in favor of the party who did not write or prepare the contract and is not responsible for the ambiguity. Any ambiguity in a contract, doubt, or uncertainty as to its meaning should be resolved against the party who prepared the contract or is responsible for its verbiage. Ecclesiastes Production Ministries v. Outparcel Associates, LLC, 649 S.E.2d 494, 499 (S.C. App. 2007) citing Myrtle Beach Lumber Co., Inc. v. Willoughby, S.E.2d 423, 426 (1987) (quoting 17A C.J.S. Contracts §324).

The construction of an ambiguous contract is a question of fact to be determined by the jury. Café Associates, Ltd. V. Gerangross, 406 S.E.2d 162 (1991); Peoples v. South Carolina Power Co, 164 S.E. 605 (1932).

The Rule 30(b)(6), SCRCP designee for Laurens County Hospital, Sandra Thompson, testified that the Conditions of Admission forms were prepared by Laurens County Hospital, that the document in this form had been used by Laurens County Hospital for at least 15 years prior to the surgeries, and was used in all the McCord and Sherfield surgeries. (Attachment 6 – Thompson deposition, 48:19-50:17). Additionally, it is apparent that Laurens County Hospital is the sophisticated party in this transaction and prepared this standard contract. Thus, the terms of the contract are to be liberally construed in favor of plaintiffs and any reasonable interpretation of "services" favorable to patients would be mandated. Contracts §206, Restatement 2d of Contracts.

The plaintiffs submit that a reasonable construction of the contract term "services" is that Laurens County Hospital would comply with state law and regulations, comply with federal law and regulations, comply with its Medical Staff Bylaws, and comply with its contracts with privileged physicians, specifically the portions that affect the health, safety, and legal rights of the patient.

C. HOSPITAL LEGAL REQUIREMENTS

Laurens County Hospital is mandated by South Carolina statute and South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental Control ("DHEC") to comply with certain requirements for licensing and operating a hospital. §44-7-260 S.C. Code of Laws; Regulation 61-16 Minimum Standards for Licensing Hospitals and Institutional Infirmaries. Additionally, Laurens County Hospital is subject to requirements of its accreditation agency, the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals ("Joint Commission"). The accreditation by Joint Commission of Laurens County Hospital is vital to the operation of the hospital. For example, Laurens County Hospital would not be able to submit bills for Medicare and Medicaid patients if the accreditation was lost – this would, in effect, force the hospital to close its doors. (Attachment 6 – Thompson deposition, 46:20-47:8).

The requirements imposed by South Carolina law and the Joint Commission are for the protection and safety of patients. (Attachment 7 – Hyde deposition, 212:17-213:1). Thus, plaintiffs submit that when a patient enters into a contract with Laurens County Hospital for an intended surgical procedure, then it is reasonable to expect Laurens County Hospital to comply with South Carolina statutes and regulations and comply with requirements of its accreditation agency, especially as such relate to the protection, safety, and benefits of the patients.

A hospital cannot provide any services to patients until after it has been licensed (§44-7-260 (A) S. C. Code of Laws) and deemed in compliance with the regulations which set forth the minimum standards for operation of hospitals in South Carolina. (DHEC Regulation 61-16).

Section 202. Control states, in part, that the governing board "shall be the supreme authority in the hospital responsible for the management control of the hospital and appointment of the medical staff." Further, that the "medical staff shall be responsible to the governing authority for the clinical work of the hospital."

Section 301. Appointment states, in part, that each "hospital must have a single organized medical staff that has overall responsibility for the quality of medical care provided to patients." Further, this "organized group, shall, with the approval of the hospital governing body, adopt bylaws, rules, and regulations to govern its operation."

In compliance with DHEC regulations, Laurens County Hospital adopted Medical Staff Bylaws. (Attachment 8 – Exhibit 4A, portion of Medical Staff Bylaws). Section 3.2.1(e) Basic Qualifications sets forth the following requirement for "initial and continuing (emphasis added) appointment" to the Medical Staff:

> (e) "LIPs (i.e., Licensed Individual Practitioners) shall maintain (emphasis added) valid professional liability insurance coverage in the amounts deemed necessary by the Board from time to time and shall provide a current certificate of insurance as recommended;"

Thus, the medical staff at Laurens County Hospital is designated by the governing body of the hospital to require LIP's, such as Dr. Brown, to "maintain valid professional liability insurance in the amounts deemed necessary by the Board."

Plaintiffs also submit that it is reasonable to expect, as part of the services rendered during their hospitalization, for the Medical Staff to comply with and require the LIP's to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws. This would include the requirement of the doctors performing surgery, in this case Dr. Brown, to have and "maintain professional liability insurance coverage" which would compensate patients for injuries and damages suffered from physician malpractice.

Laurens County Hospital also entered into contracts with LIP's that would affect rights and benefits of the patients. On February 14, 2002, Laurens County Hospital and Dr. Brown entered into an agreement in which Laurens County Hospital agreed to subsidize and guarantee his net practice collection of $27,000 per month for 36 months and then to be repaid prorata over the next ten years. (Attachment 9 – Exhibit 7, Subsidy Contract). The total amount disbursed to Dr. Brown in subsidy payments was $644,447. The payments were to be repaid by being forgiven on a prorated basis over ten years at $5370 per month beginning July 2005 until June 2015, as long as Dr. Brown complied with all provisions of the Medical Staff Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract which included maintaining professional liability insurance with minimum limits of $1,000,000/$3,000,000 aggregate. (Attachment 10 – Exhibit 29, Subsidy Contract Repayment/Forgiveness Schedule; Attachment 9 – Exhibit 7, Article II, IV, V, VI Subsidy Contract).

Thus, a legal requirement of Laurens County Hospital was for the Medical Staff to adopt Bylaws to govern the operation of the hospital. These Bylaws required the Medical Staff to ensure that the Licensed Independent Practitioners, i.e., the physicians privileged to practice in Laurens County Hospital, "shall maintain valid professional liability insurance coverage". Further, the Subsidy Contract between Laurens County Hospital and Dr. Brown required Dr. Brown to maintain professional liability insurance "in a minimum amount of $1,000,000 per claim/$3,000,000 aggregate of JUA/PCF coverage". (Attachment 9 – Exhibit. 29, Article VI Subsidy Contract).

The plaintiffs submit that a reasonable interpretation of the contract is for Laurens County Hospital to comply with the legal requirement of South Carolina law which is for the medical staff to enforce its Bylaws that govern the operation of the hospital and to enforce contractual requirements on the physicians, especially when the requirements affect the health, safety, and legal rights of the patients.

D. PREVAILING PRACTICE – HOSPITALS REQUIRE PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

The Institute of Medicine, which acts under the responsibility of the National Academy of Sciences that was established by Congress in 1863 as an advisor to identify issues of medical care in the United States, published a report in 1999 entitled "To Err is Human". This was a sentinel report on health care in U.S. hospitals that noted "at least 44,000 people, and perhaps as many as 98,000 people, die in hospitals each year as a result of medical errors that could have been prevented" (emphasis supplied). This death total exceeds the deaths from motor-vehicle wrecks and breast cancer. (Attachment 11 – Exhibit 13, excerpts). The death total does not include patients who are harmed by preventable errors and suffer substantial medical bills together with physical and psychological discomfort. (Attachment 7 – Hyde deposition, 195:23-196:8). The Institute of Medicine termed the situation in our nation's hospitals as an "epidemic of medical errors".

In 2010, the Office of Inspector General of the United States Department of Health and Human Services published a report entitled "Adverse Events in Hospitals: National Incidences Among Medicare Beneficiaries". The report noted as follows:

* an estimated 13.5 percent of hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries experienced adverse events during their hospital stay;[4]
* an estimated 15,000 Medicare patients die each month (which is 180,000 patients per year) from adverse events that contribute to their death; and
* 44 percent of adverse and temporary harm events were clearly or likely preventable.

(Attachment 12 – Exhibit 14, excerpts from DHHS study).

In 2013, a report published in the Journal of Patient Safety from a literature review reported that a more accurate number of premature deaths associated with preventable harm to patients in hospitals was estimated at more than 400,000 per year. Further, that the number of patients suffering serious harm, short of lethal harm, in hospitals was between 4,000,000 to 8,000,000 per year. (Attachment 13 – Exhibit 15).

A witness for the plaintiffs who is a professor at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in the Department of Health Services and Family Medicine and has considerable experience teaching and working for private institutions in hospital management issued the following opinions in his deposition that:

* there is and has been an epidemic of medical negligence causing serious injuries and deaths to patients in hospitals in the United States;
* because of this epidemic of medical negligence, it is both the common practice and a prevailing requirement for hospitals to require its physicians to carry and maintain professional liability insurance;
* the purpose of the hospitals requiring surgeons that operate in the hospitals to carry and maintain professional liability insurance is so patients injured due to the negligent conduct of surgeons have a means to recover damages for injuries wrongly inflicted; and [4] Adverse event is defined as harm to a patient as a result of medical care.

* the professional liability insurance is for the benefit of the injured patient in addition to the benefit of the hospitals.

(Attachment 7 – Hyde deposition, 197:16-198:18).

Accordingly, a reasonable interpretation of the contracts between the patients and Laurens County Hospital is that the doctors who are privileged and allowed by Laurens County Hospital to practice medicine in the hospital are to have and maintain professional liability insurance which is the prevailing practice in the United States.

E. BREACH OF CONTRACT BY LAURENS COUNTY HOSPITAL

In 2002, Dr. Brown was given initial privileges by Laurens County Hospital, and he obtained a professional liability insurance policy in compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract. The policy was an Occurrence Policy issued by JUA/PCF which had a limit of $1,000,000 Per Claim/$3,000,000 Annual Aggregate. (Attachment 14 – Exhibit 30, Occurrence Policy).

Dr. Brown maintained professional liability insurance occurrence coverage from JUA/PCF until July 9, 2008. If malpractice occurred during the term of the policy period, then there was insurance coverage for the malpractice. For the term beginning July 9, 2008, the JUA/PCF policy was changed from an Occurrence to a Claims-Made policy. The primary difference in coverage between the two is that both require the malpractice to occur during the term of the policy period, but Claims-Made also requires that the claim be reported during the policy period. If the claim is not made during the policy period, then the malpractice event is not covered since the insurance coverage is not maintained after the policy period. (Attachment 15 – Exhibit 34, Claims-Made Policy; Attachment 16 – Exhibit 31, Claims-Made vs. Occurrence).

During the term from July 8, 2008 to July 9, 2009, Dr. Brown committed malpractice during the surgeries on McCord (December 8, 2008; February 19, 2009; and April 17, 2009) and on Sherfield (May 29, 2009). Dr. Brown changed insurance companies from JUA/PCF to MAG Mutual Insurance Company ("MAG Mutual") for the term July 9, 2009 to July 9, 2010. In order to maintain coverage for non-reported claims prior to July 9, 2009, Dr. Brown needed to purchase Extended Reporting Endorsement ("Tail") from JUA/PCF or purchase Prior Acts Coverage from MAG Mutual.

Dr. Brown had the ability to obtain Tail insurance from JUA/PCF by paying the premium of $28,023 prior to January 14, 2010. The Tail Insurance would extend into perpetuity and essentially convert the policy to an occurrence form. (Attachment 17 – Exhibit 37, JUA letter; Attachment 18 – Davison deposition 32:11-25). JUA/PCF also had available premium financing which Dr. Brown had used to finance the 2008 premium. (Attachment 19 – Exhibit 35, Brown financing 2008 premium). Dr. Brown also had the ability to purchase Prior Acts Coverage from MAG Mutual by paying the premium of $11,861; but declined the purchase. (Attachment 20 – Exhibit 43, paragraph 4 Affidavit of Reece).

If either Tail coverage or Prior Acts Coverage is not obtained under a Claims-Made policy when non-renewed, then this would be a failure to maintain insurance coverage. (Attachment 7 – Hyde deposition, 202:18-25).

During the six month period of time from July 9, 2009 to January 14, 2010, Laurens County Hospital allowed Dr. Brown to continue performing surgery on patients[5] and continued to forgive his debt at the rate of $5,730 per month since Laurens County Hospital allowed the hospital privileges of Dr. Brown to continue. It is alleged by Patients that Laurens County Hospital had the ability to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract to maintain professional liability insurance coverage on the plaintiffs and other injured patients. For example, the privileges of Dr. Brown could have been revoked for failure to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract – both of which required Dr. Brown to maintain professional liability insurance. The revoking of privileges would have resulted in Dr. Brown not being able to earn a living performing surgery in the hospital. Also, Dr. Brown would not have received a monthly forgiveness of debt of $5,730. Also, Laurens County Hospital could have demanded that Dr. Brown immediately pay the balance due of over $300,000 that was advanced to Dr. Brown under the Subsidy Contract if he remained in default for not maintaining professional liability insurance. (Attachment 9 – Exhibit 7, Subsidy Contract).

The fact that Laurens County Hospital allowed Dr. Brown to violate and continue in violation of the Medical Staff Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract constituted a breach of contract with the plaintiffs as well as failure to properly train its employees, failure to inform the employee responsible for ensuring that Dr. Brown maintained professional liability insurance that Dr. Brown was under investigation for committing malpractice on numerous patients of Laurens County Hospital, and failure to inform patients that claims needed to be filed by July 9, 2009. (See paragraph 81 of Second Amended Complaint).

F. NEGLIGENCE - BREACH OF DUTY IN SPECIAL RELATIONSHIP

The South Carolina Supreme Court in Meddin v. Southern Ry-Carolina Division, et al., 62 S.E.2d 109 (SC 1950), quoted with approval the United States Supreme Court, Atlantic & Pacific R. Co. v. Laird, 164 US 393 (1896) as follows:

> if the relation of the plaintiff and defendants be such that a duty arises from that relationship, irrespective of contract, to take due care, and the defendants are negligent, then the action is one of tort.
> Id. 62 S.E. at 112

Further, the court held that "the negligent and willful failure to perform certain legal duties, not arising out of the particular contract between the plaintiffs and this defendant, but arising out of the relationship created by the contract.... Id. 62 S.E.2d at 113.

The South Carolina Supreme Court, in a case presenting a certified question from the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, held that a consulting firm owed a duty to the South Carolina State Ports Authority to exercise due care to accurately report objective factual data concerning the Charleston Port if it knew or should have known that the report was to also be used by a competitor. The duty of the tort-fearsor arises from the relationship to the injured party. South Carolina Ports Authority v. Borg-Allen & Hamilton, Inc., 346 S.E.2d 324, 325-326.

The court further held that a cause of action is met if the following are proved:

1) the existence of a duty on the part of the defendant to protect the plaintiff (because of the special relationship);

2) the failure of defendant to discharge that duty; and
3) injury to the plaintiff resulting from the defendant's failure to perform.

Id. 436 S.E.2d at 325

The South Carolina Supreme Court issued an opinion in Tommy L. Griffin Plumbing and Heating Co. v. Jordan, Jones and Goulding, Inc. 463 S.E.2d 85 (1995) to a novel question in South Carolina – whether design professionals incur tort liability to a contractor for purely economic loss. At the time, a tort action for economic loss was not recognized. However, the South Carolina Supreme Court noted:

> In the last few years, a growing number of states have refused to apply the "economic loss" rule to actions against design professionals when there is a "special relationship" between the design professional and the contractor.
> (Id, 463 S.E.2d 87)

Also, the Supreme Court noted:

> applying these concepts (i.e., a special relationship creating a duty of care outside the terms of the contract) to professional liability, we have long held lawyers and accountants liable in tort for malpractice (citations omitted). These professionals owe a duty to the client ... which arises separate and distinct from the contract for services. (citations omitted). We see no logical reason to insulate design professionals from liability when the relationship between design professionals and the plaintiff is such that the design professional owes a professional duty to the plaintiff arising separate and distinct from any contractual duties between the parties or with third parties. (citations omitted). Whether such duty exists will depend on the facts and circumstances of each case.
> (Id. 463 S.E.2d 89

Subsequently, the South Carolina Supreme Court cited Tommy L. Griffin favorably by reversing a lower court order of summary judgment and stating "Further, we noted that whether the design professional owes a duty depends on the facts and circumstances of each case and holding "We find it is a factual issue whether these circumstances give rise to a special relationship between Architect and Cullum." Cullum

Mechanical Construction, Inc. v. South Carolina Baptist Hospital, 544 S.E.2d 838, 842 (2001).

The plaintiffs allege that the providing of services by Laurens County Hospital to the Patients created a special relationship. The Patients elected to undergo surgery that could have serious consequences to their health and life expectancy. The hospital provides certain services such as independently determining the scope of practice and types of surgeries each physician can perform in the hospital and protecting the patients by operating the hospital in accordance with state law and regulations. (See paragraphs 13, 41, and 80 of Second Amended Complaint). The patient is virtually putting his life in the hands of the hospital employees. It is difficult to imagine anyone arguing that the relationship between a hospital and a patient is not a special relationship.

The plaintiffs allege that Laurens County Hospital breached the duty of care with the plaintiffs in one or more of the following particulars:

a) failure to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws which require the physicians privileged to perform surgery to maintain current, valid professional liability insurance coverage in an amount satisfactory to Laurens County Hospital;
b) failure to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Subsidy Contract requirement of maintaining professional liability insurance in the minimum amount of $1,000,000 per occurrence and $3,000,000 aggregate;
c) failure to require Dr. Brown, as a condition of having continuing privileges to perform surgery at Laurens County Hospital, to purchase Extended Reporting Endorsement Coverage (Tail) from JUA under a claims-made policy upon change to another insurance company;
d) failure to require Dr. Brown, as a condition of having continuing privileges to perform surgery at Laurens County Hospital, to purchase Prior Acts Endorsement Coverage from MAG Mutual under a claims-made policy upon change to another insurance company;
e) failure to train, instruct, or employ employees who were knowledgeable about the differences between Occurrence and Claims-Made policies, and who were knowledgeable about Extended Reporting Endorsement Coverage (Tail) and who were knowledgeable about Prior Acts Endorsement Coverage;

f) failure to inform the employee who was responsible for ensuring that Dr. Brown maintained professional liability coverage in accordance with the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract that Dr. Brown was under investigation by Laurens County Hospital for injuries to surgical patients potentially caused from inappropriate surgical/ medical treatment and malpractice; and

g) failure to inform surgical patients of Dr. Brown who received unexpected complications during surgeries performed at Laurens County Hospital that to preserve insurance coverage for their claim, that the claim need to be filed before June 9, 2009 when Laurens County Hospital knew, or should have known, that the patients most probably did not have this information; and Laurens County Hospital had the ability to identify and notify the patients.

The person Laurens County Hospital assigned to monitor the physicians to ensure compliance with the requirement to maintain professional liability insurance was Lynn Reaves who was manager of medical staff services. Ms. Reaves was the person solely responsible on behalf of the hospital, in addition to the Board of Directors, for requiring that the physicians maintain the proper insurance according to the Medical Staff Bylaws. (Attachment 22 – Reaves deposition, 17:6-12). Unfortunately, the Manager of Medical Staff Services had not been properly trained or educated concerning professional liability insurance policies, as partially evidenced by the following:

* did not know the insurance coverage differences between a claims made policy and an occurrence policy because no one from Laurens County Hospital ever explained or informed her of the difference;
* did not know the necessity of Extended Coverage Reporting (Tail Coverage) nor the necessity of Prior Acts Coverage when insurance companies were changed under a claims made policy;
* did not know when Extended Coverage Reporting (Tail Coverage) or Prior Acts Coverage needed to be purchased or the amount of the cost to purchase;
* did not know the effect of change in insurance companies on existing potential claims of patients injured at Laurens County Hospital by the malpractice of Dr. Brown;

* never asked insurance companies to explain coverage even though the insurance policies advised interested persons to contact the company for further information;
* did not know what the retroactive date meant in the MAG Mutual insurance certificate nor the steps to determine its meaning; and
* did not inquire about restrictive endorsements contained in the insurance policy although the insurance certificate stated to contact insurance company for further information.

(Attachment 22 – Reaves deposition, 41:7-10; 25:20-26:2; 37:6-10; 23:19-25; 24:8-12; 24:13-18).

In addition, Ms. Reaves did not know that patients injured by the malpractice of Dr. Brown needed to file a claim with JUA by July 8, 2009. Even though such information was available to a person knowledgeable in professional liability insurance and even though Ms. Reaves knew, or should have known, that the patients injured by Dr. Brown did not have this information, Ms. Reaves did not know to notify the patients that a claim needed to be filed by July 8, 2009. Even worse, Ms. Reaves testified that even if she had known of patients who were injured by Dr. Brown, that she would not have monitored the insurance policy of Dr. Brown more closely nor taken steps to inform appropriate personnel at the hospital that the injured patients needed to be informed of their rights because "that would not have been part of my duties for the hospital." (Attachment 22 – Reaves deposition, 39:12-40:6).

Additionally it was known by the hospital staff during the period of July 9, 2009 to January 14, 2010, (i.e., the period during which Dr. Brown had the right and opportunity to purchase Tail insurance) that Dr. Brown was potentially committing malpractice on numerous occasions.

The Affidavit of Sandra Thompson, who was Risk Manager, confirms that:

* concerns arose regarding the October 27, 2009 surgery by Dr. Brown on Dixie Mitchell as being malpractice;

* concerns were raised by Rufus Watkins, MD and Dr. Brown himself about Dr. Brown properly performing the surgeries;
* In early December 2009, eleven charts of patients of Dr. Brown were sent for review by Dr. Madis who submitted his report to the hospital;
* Dr. Stribling, the Chief of Surgery of Laurens County Hospital, raised concerns about a surgical complication caused by Dr. Brown that occurred on December 11, 2009;
* Dr. Stribling raised concerns to Dr. Brian Weaver, Chief of Staff, on December 14, 2009 that resulted in Dr. Brown voluntarily relinquishing certain privileges on a temporary basis on December 15, 2009.

(Attachment 23 – Affidavit of Thompson)

The memo dated January 22, 2010 by Dr. R.W. Watkins sets forth that it was common knowledge among all eleven Scrub Techs that Dr. Brown injured numerous patients during surgeries. The memo stated, in part, that:

> There was a general concern that there were an inordinate number of inadvertent injuries to the bladder, bowel, and ureters, especially with the sling procedure. There was (sic) concerns that when performed by this MD the procedure was dangerous and it was stated there were injuries in "almost every case" and that the procedures "caused more harm than good."

(Attachment 24 – Exhibit 25, Report of R.W. Watkins)

The December 2009 letter from the Chief of Surgery, Dr. Stribling, to the Chief of Staff, Dr. Weaver, sets forth the gravity of concern the medical staff had about the surgical performance of Dr. Brown. Dr. Stribling states "a situation that is of great concern to me. I worry greatly about what appears to be a continuing pattern of surgical misadventures by Dr. Byron Brown. ..... Because of what appears to me to me (sic) a worrisome pattern of complications, I will, as Chief of Surgery, respectfully ask Dr. Brown to temporarily relinquish his privileges to do all pelvic surgery..." (Attachment 25 – Exhibit 26, Letter from Dr. Stribling).

The next day, Dr. Brown relinquished his privileges at Laurens County Hospital to perform hysterectomies, anterior and posterior repairs, and urethral slings until the beginning of 2010. (Attachment 21 – Exhibit 27, letter from Dr. Brown resigning certain privileges). Two months later, Dr. Brown voluntarily entered into an agreement with Laurens County Hospital to significantly reduce the gynecological surgeries he was allowed to perform and agreed to take a leave of absence from the hospital staff positions he held. (Attachment 26 – Exhibit 28, Agreement between Laurens County Hospital and Dr. Brown).

The September 15, 2011 Memorandum of MAG Mutual documents that Dr. Brown self-reported ten separate claims (two for Mitchell for separate surgeries) against his insurance policy. (Attachment 27 – Exhibit 12, Memo of MAG Mutual).

The foregoing is substantial evidence that officials at Laurens County Hospital knew that Dr. Brown was causing serious injuries to patients during surgeries at Laurens County Hospital. The injuries were occurring during the time period from July 9, 2009 to January 14, 2010. Dr. Brown had the right to obtain Tail coverage from JUA during this time which would reinstate the insurance coverage on the McCord and Sherfield claims. Since the Tail coverage was not obtained by Dr. Brown from JUA nor Extended Coverage from MAG Mutual, the professional liability coverage was not maintained in compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract.

The plaintiffs submit that a factual issue presents as to whether Laurens County Hospital, which was in a special relationship with McCord and Sherfield and with its patients undergoing surgery, negligently breached the duty of care by failing to inform McCord and Sherfield of the claim deadline before July 9, 2010; by failing to require Dr.

Brown to maintain the professional liability insurance while Laurens County Hospital had financial leverage over Dr. Brown; by failing to train, instruct, or employ employees knowledgeable in insurance matters; by failing to monitor physicians committing malpractice to maintain professional liability insurance; and by failing to communicate with other employees regarding malpractice committed by physicians.

G. CASE FILED WITHIN STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

1. Breach of Contract

An action for breach of contract must be brought within three years of the date the action accrues. S.C. Code §15-3-530(1). The discovery rule determines the date of accrual for a breach of contract cause of action. Pursuant to the discovery rule, a breach of contract accrues not on the date of the breach, but rather on the date the aggrieved party either discovered the breach or could or should have discovered the breach. Maher v. Tietex Corp, 500 S.E.2d 204 (S.C. App. 1998).

The Notice of Intent to File Suit in McCord was filed July 29, 2011. The pre-suit mediation was held December 1, 2011 and it was disclosed that MAG Mutual Insurance Company was not providing insurance coverage for the claim. McCord then subpoenaed JUA for the insurance records of Dr. Brown. The insurance records were subpoenaed in January 2012 and responses were probably received in the February-March 2012 time frame. Sometime thereafter, it was learned that JUA did not issue Tail insurance coverage to Dr. Brown. Further, it was months later before McCord received documents from Laurens County Hospital in discovery which included the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract. Sherfield did not contact the law firm until May 5, 2012.

The Notice of Intent to File Suit in Sherfield was filed May 25, 2012. On March 11, 2014, Judge Addy entered judgment in favor of McCord and Sherfield. (Attachment 4 – Exhibit 5 and Exhibit 6)

It would have been some months after December 2011 when documents were produced in the McCord lawsuit that would allow McCord to discover the breach of contract by Laurens County Hospital. It would have been even later for Sherfield because she did not contact the law firm until May 2012. However, even using the earliest date of December 2011 as the date of discovery or "accrual" of the breach of contract cause of action, the commencement of action against Laurens County Hospital on March 11, 2014 was well within the three year statute of limitations. Thus, the statute of limitations does not apply to the breach of contract cause of action.

2. Negligent Breach of Duty of Care

An action for negligence under the South Carolina Tort Claims Act must be "commenced within two years after the date the loss was or should have been discovered." S.C. Code §15-78-10. It is clear that a cause of action for negligence cannot accrue until there is an injury. An injury must first occur before a party can maintain an action to enforce it since injury is an element of a cause of action in tort. McAlhany v. Carter, 781 S.E.2d 105 (S.C. App. 2015).

The plaintiffs did not suffer a loss by the actions of Laurens County Hospital nor have a right to sue Laurens County Hospital until judgment was rendered against Dr. Brown. At that point, the negligent acts of Laurens County Hospital employees resulted in a loss, i.e., judgments would have been covered by professional liability insurance but was not available. The judgments in favor of McCord and Sherfield were rendered March 11, 2014. (Attachment 4 – Exhibits 5 and Exhibit 6). The action against Laurens County Hospital was filed 15 days later on March 26, 2014, well within the two year time period.

The complaint against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System was filed within the three year time period for breach of contract actions and was filed within the two year time period for negligent breach of duty of care.

H. EXCEPTION TO WAIVER OF IMMUNITY IN TORT CLAIMS ACT DOES NOT APPLY IN THIS CASE

Laurens County Hospital contends that paragraph 4 of S.C. Code §15-78-60 provides immunity to Laurens County Hospital; however, the immunity provisions do not apply to the breach of contract cause of action.

The title of this Act is "South Carolina Tort Claims Act". S.C. Code §15-78-20. The purpose of the Act, in part, is stated as "Public Policy Regarding Tort Liability" ... "Contract Liability Unaffected". S.C. Code §15-78-20. Specifically, "d) Nothing in this chapter affects liability based on a contract nor does it affect the powers of the State or its political subdivisions to contract." S.C. Code §15-78-20 (d).

Thus, it is clear that the South Carolina Tort Claims Act does not apply to breach of contract which is the first cause of action.

The second cause of action is a negligence cause of action for failure to exercise due care by Laurens County Hospital in providing services related to surgeries performed by Dr. Brown at Laurens County Hospital that had serious affect on the quality of life and life expectancy of McCord and Sherfield. A special relationship required Laurens County Hospital to exercise due care in providing services which plaintiffs allege Laurens County Hospital failed to do. (See paragraphs 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 80, 81 and 82 of Second Amended Complaint).

The South Carolina Tort Claims Act does not provide immunity for Laurens County Hospital failing to exercise due care in providing services to its patients with whom it has a special relationship. This is a general negligence action. (See: Dawkins v. Union Hospital District, 658 S.E.2d 501 (S.C. 2014) holding action against hospital for injuries to patient from fall when patient attempted to use bathroom was a negligence claim, not a malpractice claim.)

There is also a legal question that has not been established which is "Are Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System political subdivisions of the State of South Carolina or some other corporate form such as a public service district?" The distinction is relevant because the South Carolina Tort Claims Act appears to cover just "the State, political subdivisions, and employees, while acting within the scope of official duty." S.C. Code §15-78-20(b).

Recently, various newspapers have reported that the Greenville Health System governing board has denied the State of South Carolina from conducting an audit because Greenville Health System took the position that it is not a political subdivision of the State; but, rather, a public service district. Also, the Greenville Health System filed and threatened to file legal actions to determine its legal status so that it may enter into contracts with out-of-state corporations. Suffice it to say that there has been no evidence that Laurens County Hospital or Greenville Health System are political subdivisions of the State of South Carolina. If Greenville Health System or Laurens

County Hospital make this claim, the plaintiffs request the opportunity to conduct discovery, including depositions and document production, on this issue.

The plaintiffs submit that the immunity of the South Carolina Tort Claims Act does not cover breach of contract which is the First Cause of Action. Also, the South Carolina Tort Claims Act does not cover negligent breach of the duty of care in a special relationship which is the Second Cause of Action. Further, there is no evidence that either Laurens County Hospital or Greenville Health System is a political subdivision of the State and entitled to the protection of the South Carolina Tort Claims Act.

CONCLUSION

The plaintiffs request that the Motion for Summary Judgment be denied for the reasons set forth above.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA	IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
COUNTY OF LAURENS	C.A. No.: 2014-CP-30-250
Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs, v. Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System, Defendants.	Defendants' Reply Memorandum in Support of Summary Judgment

In response to Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment, Plaintiffs have filed a "Memorandum in Opposition to Motion for Summary Judgment" dated August 11, 2016 (hereinafter "Plaintiffs' Memo") and a "Supplement to Memorandum in Opposition to Motion for Summary Judgment" dated December 8, 2016 (hereinafter "Plaintiffs' Supplement"). While many of Plaintiffs' arguments were anticipated and addressed in Defendants' initial motion and memorandum, Defendants feel compelled to file this reply memorandum to address a few issues raised by Plaintiffs' memorandums. Defendants will address each issue in the order in which they were raised by Plaintiffs:

1. On page 5 of Plaintiffs' Memo, Plaintiffs state that it "has been judicially determined that Dr. Brown committed medical malpractice..." Technically, that is not correct. Plaintiffs obtained default judgments against Dr. Brown. A factfinder never determined that Dr. Brown committed malpractice. That is important because Plaintiffs now contend that Defendants should be responsible for damages that neither Defendant, nor anyone else, contested in court.

2. On pages 6 and 7 of Plaintiffs' Memo, Plaintiffs argue that the term "services" is ambiguous and should include things like complying with state laws and regulations. While Defendants anticipated this argument and addressed it in their initial memorandum, Plaintiffs' own use of the term "services" further demonstrates how disingenuous the argument is. In the first sentence on page 9, Plaintiffs contend that "a hospital cannot provide any services to patients until after it has been licensed…" How can "services" include complying with laws and regulations if, by Plaintiffs' own admission, hospitals have to be in compliance with the laws and regulations before they can provide any "services."

3. On page 9, Plaintiffs quote Section 3.2.1(e) of the Medical Staff Bylaws. As noted there, the section states LIPs "shall maintain valid professional liability insurance coverage in the amounts deemed necessary by the Board from time to time and shall provide a current certificate of insurance as recommended." Plaintiffs and their expert, Dr. Hyde, have tried to insert the words "at all times" after "maintain" to support their argument that Dr. Brown was required under the Bylaws to purchase "tail coverage." However, those words simply are not there. In fact, other than briefly referencing the amount of coverage required, The Bylaws are silent as to any specifics about the professional liability coverage that is required. They do not specify whether the policy should be claims made or occurrence based. They do not specify what endorsements or exclusions may or may not be in the policy. There is simply nothing in The Bylaws, or any other evidence in the record, indicating that Laurens required Dr. Brown to maintain professional liability insurance that would cover all claims made against him.

4. On page 15, Plaintiffs contend that Laurens had several options in which it could have forced Dr. Brown to purchase tail coverage, but all of Plaintiffs' contentions are purely speculative.

There is no evidence that Dr. Brown would have agreed to purchase tail coverage if Laurens threatened to suspend his privileges or threatened to demand immediate repayment of the amount owed under the Subsidy Contract. In fact, it is undisputed that Laurens did each of those things and it had no impact on Dr. Brown's decision to forego tail coverage.

5. Beginning on page 16. Plaintiffs argue that they should be allowed to maintain a negligence action against Defendants, because there were duties breached that did not arise out of the contract between the parties: however, it is unclear what duties Plaintiffs are referring to. The duties identified on pages 18 and 19 that they allege arose from the "special relationship" are the exact same duties they spent the first 15 pages of their memo arguing were contractual duties. The law does not allow Plaintiffs to argue a breach of the same duty under both a contract and tort theory. See Tommy L. Griffin Plumbing & Heating Co. v. Jordan, Jones, & Goulding, Inc., 320 S.C. 49, 54-55. 463 S.E.2d 85, 88 (1995).

6. Beginning on page 23, Plaintiffs argue that the case was filed within the statute of limitations. As an initial matter. at this time, Defendants are only alleging the defense bars Plaintiffs' tort cause of action, not their contract cause of action. Plaintiffs do not dispute that the McCords were aware of the possibility that there was no insurance coverage by December 1, 2011. Plaintiffs contend in the last line on page 23 that "Sherfield did not contact the law firm until May 5, 2012." Defendants believe this to be a typo as the records produced during discovery show that Sherfield filled out a client questionnaire on May 5, 2011 and had entered into a retainer agreement with counsel by December 2011. Further, Plaintiffs already admitted that their counsel was aware as of December 1, 2011 of the possibility that Dr. Brown did not have any medical malpractice insurance coverage for the claims brought by Mr. and Mrs.

Sherfield. (see Plaintiffs' Resp. to Def. First Req. for Admissions, ¶ 5, attached as Exhibit D to Defendants' motion)

7. On page 24, Plaintiffs argue that they did not suffer a loss by the actions of Laurens or have a right to file suit against Laurens until a judgment was rendered against Dr. Brown. This point highlights many of the fallacies of this case. First it proves that Plaintiffs are essentially contending that Laurens should indemnify Dr. Brown when there is no evidence that Laurens ever agreed to do so. Second, contrary to their contentions, had Dr. Brown purchased tail coverage or extended bad acts coverage, they would not have automatically recovered the entirety of their judgments. Dr. Brown had a $1M/$3M policy, so at most they would have received $1M each, and it is certainly a possibility that given the fact that several other claims were made against Dr. Brown in 2009, he may have already exceeded his $3M annual aggregate, which would have precluded Plaintiffs from receiving any insurance proceeds. In addition, the testimony from Plaintiffs' insurance expert confirmed that Dr. Brown's move out of the country and subsequent refusal to participate in the defense of the case could have provided grounds for his carrier to deny coverage for the claims. (See Dep. Of James M. Carson, Ph.D., July 7, 2016, pp. 18-19, attached hereto as Exhibit A). Finally, Plaintiffs knew as of December 1, 2011 that there may not be coverage for their claims against Dr. Brown, but in an attempt to get around the statute of limitations, Plaintiffs now argue that they were not actually injured until they were unable to collect the judgments against Dr. Brown in March of 2014. However, if their claims are dependent upon their inability to collect the judgments, then their claims still have not ripened as they have another six years in which they could enforce the judgments against Dr. Brown. See S.C. Code § 15-35-810.

8. In the last part of Plaintiffs' Memo, Plaintiffs argue that there is a legal question as to whether Defendants are subject to the Tort Claims Act. As noted in Defendants initial memorandum, there are no allegations that GHS is independently liable to Plaintiffs, so GHS's status is irrelevant, though Defendants would point out that the South Carolina Supreme Court has held the Tort Claims Act applicable to GHS. See Benton v Roger C Peace, 313 S.C. 520, 443 S.E.2d 537 (1994). All negligent acts or omissions are asserted against Laurens prior to its agreement with GHS, so the only question is whether Laurens was subject to the Tort Claims Act at the time of the alleged negligent acts or omissions. Plaintiffs do not and cannot dispute that it was as Plaintiffs' counsel has acknowledged the applicability of the Tort Claims Act to Laurens in numerous prior cases in front of this court.

9. In Plaintiffs' Supplement, they argue that because South Carolina statutes specify that hospitals are to operate for the benefit of the inhabitants of the area, they are intended beneficiaries of the hospital's operations, including its bylaws. While hospitals without question provide a benefit to the citizens of the community, not everything the hospital does is for the benefit of individual citizens. It is a business, and it has to do many things to ensure that it stays in business, which includes things that may not benefit individual citizens. For example, the hospital's services generally are not provided for free. At times those services can come at a great cost to individual citizens. The same is true with the bylaws. While some bylaws certainly provide a benefit to patients, others are enacted solely for the benefit of the hospital to ensure that its business interests are protected.

10. On page 2 of Plaintiffs' Supplement, they misquote Defendants' expert. Mr. Weiss specifically denied that the professional liability insurance requirement in the Bylaws was there for the benefit of the patients. (Weiss dep., p. 58:9-14). Plaintiffs take the quoted portion from page 67:2-20 of Weiss's deposition out of context and change the pronoun "they" at the beginning to "the patients," but when the sentence is read in its full context, it is clear that when Mr. Weiss said "they" he was referring to the hospital.

11. On page 3, they cite p. 71:12-21 of Weiss's deposition for the proposition that the failure of the medical staff to enforce the Bylaws would be a violation of their duties. Again, when read in its full context, it is clear that Weiss only agreed that if the medical staff failed to enforce some of the Bylaws (he was specifically asked about a hypothetical situation in which a doctor would be allowed to perform a surgery he was not credentialed to perform), it could be a violation of their duties. He did not agree that the medical staff owed a duty to patients to enforce all of the Bylaws.

12. On page 3, Plaintiffs again argue that Laurens had access to information about Dr. Brown committing malpractice that Plaintiffs did not have any way of discovering, and that had Laurens shared that information with Plaintiffs, they would have filed a lawsuit before the policy expired. Defendants will point out again that there is no evidence that Laurens had any knowledge of Dr. Brown potentially committing malpractice until several months after he switched insurance carriers and declined to purchase tail or prior bad acts coverage. And once Laurens found out, they immediately began an investigation which ultimately led to Dr. Brown's privileges being revoked.

In conclusion, Plaintiffs have submitted "voluminous" amounts of information and set forth a litany of "facts" in an attempt to confuse the issue and create a question of fact, but this case is not nearly as complicated as Plaintiffs would have this Court believe. They each filed suit against Dr. Brown alleging medical malpractice, and they each obtained default judgments against him. They have been unable to collect those judgments, so they now want to have

Defendants held responsible for the judgments despite the fact that Defendants were not a party to those actions and had no opportunity to defend those actions, which would be a fairly obvious violation of the Due Process Clause.

At the end of the day, the question for this Court is fairly simple - did Laurens owe a legal duty to Plaintiffs to ensure that Dr. Brown had insurance coverage for their claims at the time those claims were made? That is a question that must be answered by this Court and one that cannot be left for a jury to decide. Madison v. Babcock Ctr., Inc., 371 S.C. 123, 136, 638 S.E.2d 650, 656 (2007). If this Court determines that there was no such duty, then Defendants are entitled to summary judgment as a matter of law. Id.

EXHIBIT A

1 Q. And what are some other reasons that coverage may 2 not have applied?
3 A. Well, every -- wouldn't be an insurance contract
4 without exclusions. And so, like other policies,
5 there's a host of exclusions and a section of 6 exclusions of course. And so anything from fraud
7 to violating statutes and a whole host of other
8 reasons.
9 Q. If the doctor failed to cooperate in the defense
10 of the claim, would that be a reason for denying 11 coverage?
12 A. One of the duties is to cooperate with the 13 insurer. And so it's usually not in the 14 exclusions section, but it's more part of the 15 duties that you follow for coverage. And so I 16 wouldn't say it necessarily gave rise to denial of 17 coverage, but it certainly can be problematic in 18 how the insurer is able to handle the claim or the 19 coverage.
20 Q. In your experience, has an insurance company ever 21 denied coverage because the insured refused to 22 cooperate in the claim?
23 A. I've never been involved in a case where that was 24 the question. And I don't have particular 25 knowledge that that has been a cause for denial of 1 coverage. So I'm not sure if that's been a reason

2 that's been used.
3 Q. But certainly there's language in most insurance
4 policies, liability insurance policies, that 5 request or require that the insured cooperate in 6 any defense of a claim on the policy; is that
7 correct?
8 A. Yes.
9 Q. And if the insured did not do that, the insured
10 would then be in breach of the contract between 11 the insured and the insurance carrier, correct?
12 A. I'm not sure if I'd use the word breach, but 13 certainly they -- if they weren't cooperating, as 14 you say, then that would be against the policy
15 terms.
16 Q. In an insurance contract, the insurance company --
17 so if we say in this case JUA. JUA's obligations 18 under the insurance policy would be to the 19 insured, to Dr. Brown, correct?
20 A. Dr. Brown was the named insured, so yes.
21 Q. And the insurance company owes their obligations 22 and their duties to the insured. Am I correct in 23 that?
24 A. The insured would be the primary person in this 25 case that the insurer owes allegiance to.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

C.A. FILE NO. 14-CP-30-250

Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs,

vs.

Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System,

Defendants.

SECOND AMENDED COMPLAINT AND DEMAND FOR JURY TRIAL

2017 JAN 11 AM 11:09
CLERK OF COURT
LYNN W. LANCASTER

Plaintiffs, complaining of Defendants herein, would respectfully show unto the Court and allege that:

1. Plaintiffs, Chris Katina McCord ("Mrs. McCord") and Christopher McCord ("Mr. McCord"), are residents of the County of Laurens, State of South Carolina and are presently and were husband and wife at all relevant times herein.

2. Plaintiffs, Janice Sherfield ("Mrs. Sherfield") and Jerry Sherfield ("Mr. Sherfield"), are residents of the County of Laurens, State of South Carolina and are presently and were husband and wife at all relevant times herein.

3. Defendant, Laurens County Healthcare System, d/b/a Laurens County Hospital ("Laurens County Hospital"), was, at all relevant times herein, upon information and belief, a private non-profit corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of South Carolina with its principal place of business in Laurens County, South Carolina. Subsequent to the acts giving rise to the causes of action herein, upon information and belief, Laurens County Hospital entered into an agreement of consolidation or merger with Greenville Health System dated July 1, 2013.

4. Defendant, Greenville Health System ("GHS"), is a political subdivision of the State of South Carolina with its principal place of business in Greenville County, South Carolina. Subsequent to the acts giving rise to the causes of action herein, upon information and belief, GHS entered into an agreement with Laurens County Hospital entitled Lease and Contribution Agreement Between Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System ("Agreement"). Under Section 2.3 Assumption of Liabilities, GHS agreed, among other things, to assume, perform and discharge any and all liabilities and obligations of Laurens County Hospital related to the hospital which existed as of July 1, 2013. The liability and obligation of Laurens County Hospital to McCord and Sherfield was related to the hospital and existed as of July 1, 2013. Accordingly, the McCord and Sherfield liability and obligation was assumed by GHS and GHS agreed to perform and discharge the liability and obligation to McCord and Sherfield.

5. In 1999, the Institute of Medicine published a report entitled "To Err Is Human" which estimated that as many as 98,000 people a year die in U.S. hospitals because of medical errors. On an annual basis, in the United States, there are more deaths in hospitals due to medical errors than deaths from motor vehicle accidents. This is in addition to patients who do not die but suffer serious injuries from medical errors as experienced by Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield.

6. In 2010, the Office of the Inspector General for the Department of Health and Human Services estimated that medical negligence contributed to the deaths of 180,000 Medicare patients a year.

7. In 2013, the Journal of Patient Safety estimated that between 210,000 and 440,000 patients suffer some type of preventable harm in U.S. hospitals that contributed to their death.

8. United States hospitals were aware in 2008 and 2009 of the medical malpractice epidemic that caused the high incidence of deaths and serious injuries to patients in hospitals; consequently, it was common practice for hospital administrations to require physicians that are allowed to treat patients and perform surgery in hospitals to carry and maintain medical malpractice insurance.

9. The purpose of hospitals requiring physicians that it allows to perform surgery to carry and maintain medical malpractice insurance is, in part, to benefit and protect innocent patients who are injured while in the hospital due to negligent conduct of the surgeon to have a means to recover damages for the injuries wrongfully inflicted upon them.

10. The public policy of South Carolina in 2008 and 2009 required hospitals to monitor patient care through oversight, to ensure that the patient received quality medical care, to have as a high priority the safety of the patients, and to protect the patients while in the hospital.

11. The State of South Carolina in 2008 and 2009 had in force policies, procedures, programs, statutes, and funding to support the public policy to monitor patient care through oversight, to ensure that the patients received quality medical care, to have as a high priority the safety of the patients, and to protect the patients while in the hospital, such as:

* funding of Medicaid to pay hospitals for patient care;
* funding for the Medical University of South Carolina and the University of South Carolina Medical School for physician training to deliver healthcare in the hospitals of South Carolina; and
* tax reductions and financial grants to hospitals in South Carolina.

12. Laurens County Hospital, like other hospitals in South Carolina, adopted Medical Staff Bylaws to monitor patient care through oversight, to ensure that the patients received quality medical care, to have as a high priority the safety of the patients, and to protect the patients while in the hospital by requiring the following:

a) To ensure that all patients admitted to or treated in any of the facilities, departments, or services of the Hospital shall receive the quality of patient care that is achievable commensurate with community resources available;

b) To be accountable to the Board for ensuring an optimal level of professional performance of all LIPs ("physicians") authorized to practice in the Hospital through the appropriate delineation of Clinical Privileges and through an ongoing review and evaluation of each physician's performance in the Hospital;

c) To provide oversight of care, treatment and services provided by members of the Medical Staff, assure uniform quality of patient care treatment and services and be accountable to the Board for same;

d) To initiate and maintain rules and regulations for the proper functioning of the Staff;

e) To account and report to the Board concerning organizational performance improvement activities in the Hospital;

f) To assure the qualifications and competence of physicians through a credentialing procedure, including mechanisms for appointment and reappointment and the delineation of Clinical Privileges;

g) To evaluate and monitor the quality of patient care;

h) To develop and monitor compliance with these Bylaws, the Rules and Regulations of the Staff, and other Hospital policies, all as may be in effect and as may be from time to time amended;

i) To assure that the same level of care will be provided for all patients receiving a similar service, regardless of the location in which the service is provided.

13. Laurens County Hospital independently determines the scope of practice and types of surgeries each physician can perform in the hospital. The scope of practice and types of surgeries the hospital approves for each physician is referred to as privileges granted by Laurens County Hospital.

14. One of the requirements for being privileged initially and continuing at Laurens County Hospital was for the physician to possess current, valid professional liability insurance in an amount satisfactory to the hospital. This requirement is to make certain that the physician has medical malpractice insurance to compensate any patients that the physician injured by malpractice.

15. On February 14, 2002, Byron A. Brown, MD ("Dr. Brown") and Laurens County Hospital entered into an agreement in which Laurens County Hospital agree, among other things, to assist Dr. Brown in establishing his practice in Laurens County, South Carolina, by agreeing to subsidize and guarantee his net practice collection of $27,000 per month for 36 months ("Subsidy Contract") and then to be repaid prorata over the next ten years. Dr. Brown agreed to pursue the medical practice on a full-time basis, to comply with all provisions of the Medical Staff Bylaws of Laurens County Hospital, to provide services in his specialty on an on-call rotation basis to all patients he is requested by other physicians to see at Laurens County Hospital, and to provide professional services to the community and to patients at Laurens County Hospital.

16. An important condition of the Subsidy Contract, as well as compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws, was the requirement that Dr. Brown maintain professional liability insurance and failure to maintain the professional liability insurance made the Subsidy Contract subject to termination. Further, that the professional liability limits be a minimum of $1,000,000 per claim / $3,000,000 aggregate; that proof that the premiums on said policy have been prepaid be furnished; and that the policy remain in full force and effect. Additionally, Dr. Brown was required to notify his insurance company that if said policy was cancelled for any reason, that notice of cancellation was to be provided by the insurance company to the Chief Executive Officer of Laurens County Hospital.

17. Dr. Brown obtained a Professional Liability Policy, i.e., medical malpractice insurance policy, issued by South Carolina Medical Malpractice Insurance Joint Underwriting Association ("JUA") Policy Number JBM00560 in the amount of $200,000 each claim and $600,000 annual aggregate for the policy period July 9, 2002 to July 9, 2003 ("JUA Policy") and additional unlimited coverage from the South Carolina Patients' Compensation Fund ("PCF").

18. Dr. Brown maintained professional liability insurance coverage from JUA/PCF until July 9, 2009.

19. Dr. Brown received the sum of $644,447 in subsidy payments from Laurens County Hospital from 2002 until June 2005. The Subsidy Contract provided the subsidy payments would be forgiven on a prorated portion over ten years which was $5,370 per month beginning July 2005 and continuing until June 2015.

20. Laurens County Hospital had the authority to terminate its obligations to Dr. Brown under the Subsidy Contract if the professional liability insurance was canceled and require Dr. Brown to repay all subsidy advances immediately.

21. On December 18, 2008, Mrs. McCord presented to Laurens County Hospital for elective surgery to be performed by Dr. Brown. Before admission to the hospital, Mrs. McCord and the agents, servants, and employees of Laurens County Hospital entered into a contract and executed certain documents, one of which is entitled "Conditions of Admission". The express and implied terms of the contract included, among other things, a promise by Mrs. McCord to pay, or cause to be paid, the account of the hospital in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital and the hospital agreed to render services to Mrs. McCord.

22. The "Conditions of Admission" document did not specify the services to be rendered to the patient by Laurens County Hospital, however, the services would include, at a minimum, the requirements of Laurens County Hospital to provide the following essential services:

* compliance with state law and regulations;
* compliance with federal law and regulations;
* compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws by Laurens County Hospital and the privileged physicians, specifically the portions that affect the health, safety, and legal rights of the patients; and
* compliance with the contracts between Laurens County Hospital and privileged physicians, specifically the portions that affect the health, safety, and legal rights of the patients.

23. The Conditions of Admission document was prepared by agents, servants, or employees of Laurens County Hospital and has been used by Laurens County Hospital since, at least, 1993.

24. On December 18, 2008, Dr. Brown performed surgery on Mrs. McCord by implanting mesh and a sling during surgery without assessing Mrs. McCord for signs or symptoms of incontinence. The surgery was unnecessary and Mrs. McCord was severely injured by the malpractice of Dr. Brown.

25. On February 19, 2009, Mrs. McCord again presented to the Laurens County Hospital for corrective surgery to be performed by Dr. Brown. Before admission to the hospital, Mrs. McCord and the agents, servants, and employees of Laurens County Hospital entered into a contract and executed certain documents, one of which is entitled "Conditions of Admission". Dr. Brown performed additional surgery on Mrs. McCord. Again, Mrs. McCord was severely injured during this surgery by the malpractice of Dr. Brown.

26. On April 17, 2009, Mrs. McCord again presented to the Laurens County Hospital for corrective surgery to be performed by Dr. Brown. Before admission to the hospital, Mrs. McCord and the agents, servants, and employees of Laurens County Hospital again entered into a contract and executed certain documents, one of which is entitled "Conditions of Admission". Dr. Brown performed additional surgery on Mrs. McCord. Again, Mrs. McCord was severely injured during this surgery by the malpractice of Dr. Brown.

27. Dr. Brown committed numerous acts of medical malpractice on Mrs. McCord that caused significant injuries resulting in 33 corrective surgeries to date with additional future medical treatment which will be needed for treating the injuries caused by Dr. Brown's negligence.

28. Laurens County Hospital submitted medical bills to Mr. and Mrs. McCord in the amount of $56,962.00 for the three surgeries which occurred at Laurens County Hospital and, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the contract, Mr. and Mrs. McCord paid, or caused to be paid, an agreed upon amount to Laurens County Hospital.

29. The malpractice claims of Mrs. McCord against Dr. Brown for the surgeries he performed on December 18, 2008, February 19, 2009, and April 17, 2009 were covered under the JUA Policy at the time of the surgeries.

30. It has been judicially determined that Dr. Brown was negligent and inflicted damages on Mrs. McCord as a result of his malpractice in the amount of $1,740,392.75, plus interest, and to Mr. McCord in the amount of $58,789.40,plus interest.

31. On May 29, 2009, Mrs. Sherfield presented to Laurens County Hospital for elective surgery to be performed by Dr. Brown. Before admission to the hospital, Mrs. Sherfield and the agents, servants, and employees of Laurens County Hospital entered into a contract and executed certain documents, one of which is entitled "Conditions of Admission". The express and implied terms of the contract, among other things, included a promise by Mrs. Sherfield to pay, or cause to be paid the account of the hospital in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital and the hospital agreed to render services to Mrs. Sherfield.

32. On May 29, 2009, Dr. Brown performed surgery on Mrs. Sherfield by implanting mesh without assessing Mrs. Sherfield for signs or symptoms of incontinence. The surgery was unnecessary and Mrs. Sherfield was severely injured during this surgery by the malpractice of Dr. Brown.

33. Dr. Brown committed acts of medical malpractice on Mrs. Sherfield that caused significant injuries resulting in 11 corrective surgeries to date with additional future medical treatment which will be needed for treating the injuries caused by Dr. Brown's negligence.

34. Laurens County Hospital submitted medical bills to Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield in the amount of $51,269.00 for the surgery which occurred at Laurens County Hospital and, in accordance with the terms and conditions of the contract, Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield paid, or caused to be paid, an agreed upon amount to Laurens County Hospital.

35. The malpractice claims of Mrs. Sherfield against Dr. Brown for the surgery he performed on May 29, 2009 were covered under the JUA Policy at the time of the surgery.

36. It has been judicially determined that Dr. Brown was negligent and inflicted damages on Mrs. Sherfield as a result of his malpractice in the amount of $1,468,580, plus interest, and to Mr. Sherfield in the amount of $50,000, plus interest.

37. The JUA Policy was issued July 9, 2002 for a one year period and renewed each year thereafter until July 9, 2008. The JUA Policy was an Occurrence Policy which meant that if malpractice occurred during the term of the policy, then insurance coverage would be in effect.

38. For the term beginning July 9, 2008, the JUA Policy was changed from an Occurrence to a Claims-Made policy and the Policy Number was changed to JBC00041. The primary difference in coverage between the two is that both require the bad acts to occur during the policy period, but Claims-Made also requires that the claim be reported during the policy period.

39. Laurens County Hospital required insurance companies to provide certificates of medical malpractice insurance for the purpose of monitoring physician compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws and, in Dr. Brown's case, the Subsidy Contract to benefit and protect patients by ensuring that funds are available to compensate patients who are injured due to physician malpractice during surgery at Laurens County Hospital.

40. The importance of physicians maintaining malpractice insurance is partially reflected by the requirement Laurens County Hospital set forth in the Medical Staff Bylaws and the provisions of the Subsidy Contract that physicians must maintain malpractice insurance coverage to continue being allowed to practice medicine in the hospital.

41. The providing of services by Laurens County Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. McCord and the providing of services by Laurens County Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield created a special relationship. This is the same relationship that exists between patients and hospitals throughout the United States. The patients elect to undergo surgery that could have serious consequences to their health and life expectancy. The patients elect to use the hospital and pay the hospital fees. The hospital agrees to provide the services to operate the hospital according to state and federal laws and regulations and to protect the patient, in part, by requiring the physicians to comply with the hospital policies and procedures, medical staff by-laws, and any contracts between the hospital and physicians.

42. Laurens County Hospital had the means to be informed about the medical malpractice coverage of Dr. Brown which neither Mr. and Mrs. McCord nor Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield had. Thus, Laurens County Hospital is the sophisticated party in the special relationship between Laurens County Hospital and its patients.

43. During the policy period of 7/9/2008 to 7/9/2009, the negligence of Dr. Brown caused injury to Chris Katina McCord and Janice Sherfield so that the claims arose while the JUA Claims Made Policy was in effect. Additionally, the spousal claims of Christopher McCord and Jerry Sherfield also arose while the JUA Claims Made Policy was in effect.

44. For the policy period of 7/9/2009 to 7/9/2010, Dr. Brown changed insurance companies from JUA to MAG Mutual Insurance Company ("MAG Mutual"). In order to maintain coverage for non-reported claims prior to 7/9/2009, Dr. Brown needed to purchase Extended Reporting Endorsement ("Tail") from JUA or purchase Prior Acts Coverage from MAG Mutual.

45. If Laurens County Hospital had properly monitored the professional liability insurance coverage of Dr. Brown, Laurens County Hospital would have known that the change in the insurance policy providing professional liability insurance coverage for Dr. Brown would require, for insurance coverage to be maintained on existing potential claims of patients, either:

a) the purchase of Extended Reporting Coverage ("Tail") from JUA;
b) the purchase of Prior Acts Coverage from MAG Mutual; or
c) filing a claim with JUA prior to July 9, 2009.

46. Laurens County Hospital had the means to require Dr. Brown to maintain the professional liability insurance because the Medical Staff Bylaws required professional liability insurance coverage to be maintained as did the Subsidy Contract and failure to comply would subject Dr. Brown to a loss of privileges and cancellation of the obligations of Laurens County Hospital under the Subsidy Contract to continue forgiveness of the subsidy outstanding at the rate of $5,370 per month.

47. The person solely responsible for collecting insurance certificates documenting compliance by the physicians privileged to practice at Laurens County Hospital with the malpractice insurance requirements set forth in the Medical Staff Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract was the Manager of Medical Staff Services and ultimately the Board of Directors of Laurens County Hospital was responsible for making sure the physicians complied with the Medical Staff Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract.

48. Unfortunately, the Manager of Medical Staff Services had not been properly trained or educated concerning medical malpractice insurance policies, as partially evidenced by the following:

* did not know the insurance coverage differences between a claims made policy and an occurrence policy because no one from Laurens County Hospital ever explained or informed her of the difference;
* did not know the necessity of Extended Coverage Reporting (Tail Coverage) nor the necessity of Prior Acts Coverage when insurance companies were changed under a claims made policy;
* did not know when Extended Coverage Reporting (Tail Coverage) or Prior Acts Coverage needed to be purchased or the amount of the cost to purchase;
* did not know the effect of change in insurance companies on existing potential claims of patients injured at Laurens County Hospital by the malpractice of Dr. Brown;
* never asked insurance companies to explain coverage even though the insurance policies advised interested persons to contact the company for further information;
* did not know what the retroactive date meant in the MAG Mutual insurance certificate nor the steps to determine its meaning; and

* did not inquire about restrictive endorsements contained in the insurance policy although the insurance certificate stated to contact insurance company for further information.

49. During 2009, Dr. Brown severely injured a number of patients while performing surgery at Laurens County Hospital.

50. Concerns about the frequency and severity of injuries to patients undergoing surgery at Laurens County Hospital that were caused by Dr. Brown were raised by other surgeons on, or before, October 2009.

51. As a result of these concerns, the Risk Manager of Laurens County Hospital selected patient charts to be reviewed by outside gynecological surgeons because of concerns about the surgical competence of Dr. Brown. Nine charts were initially sent to Mark Madis, MD ("Dr. Madis") for his review.

52. In December 2009, while this review was underway, the Chief of Surgery reported to the Chief of Staff a serious injury caused to another patient by Dr. Brown that prompted a letter demand for Dr. Brown to temporarily relinquish surgical privileges because the situation with Dr. Brown was of "great concern" and "appears to be a continuing pattern of surgical misadventures" that has developed into a "worrisome pattern of complications."

53. Dr. Brown complied with the request of the Chief of Staff and temporarily relinquished his surgical privileges in December 2009.

54. On December 30, 2009 the report of Dr. Madis documented numerous occurrences outside the standard of care by Dr. Brown and recommended additional training and supervision of Dr. Brown.

55. Additional charts were selected by the Risk Manager for review by Dr. Madis and John Monroe, MD ("Dr. Monroe"), another gynecologist.

56. The Risk Manager did not inform the Manager of Medical Staff Services of the serious occurrences of potential malpractice of Dr. Brown under investigation nor inquire as to the status of Dr. Brown's insurance coverage for the injured patients.

57. At this time, Laurens County Hospital was forgiving a portion of the $644,000 subsidy provided under the Subsidy Contract at the rate of $5,370 per month because the privilege to perform surgery at Laurens County Hospital had not been withdrawn.

58. The failure, however, of Dr. Brown to maintain malpractice insurance coverage was a violation of the Subsidy Contract and a violation of the Medical Staff Bylaws for which Laurens County Hospital had the authority to terminate the privileges of Dr. Brown and demand payment of the balance due of the subsidy payments which would have been approximately $300,000 in January 2010.

59. Laurens County Hospital had the means to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws and the Subsidy Contract by purchasing either Extended Coverage from JUA or Prior Acts coverage from MAG Mutual.

60. The claims of Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield for injuries received from the malpractice of Dr. Brown vested subject only to notification to JUA of the claims during the policy term.

61. Laurens County Hospital should have known that Dr. Brown had changed from an Occurrence Policy to a Claims-Made policy for the term beginning June 9, 2008, and that claims for injuries that occurred from medical malpractice during this time were subject to be non-covered if JUA was not timely put on notice prior to termination of the policy; or Extended Reporting Endorsement coverage was not purchased from JUA; or Prior Acts Coverage Endorsement was not purchased from MAG Mutual.

62. Laurens County Hospital also should have known that if a letter in the format set forth on Exhibit 1 was submitted prior to termination of the JUA Policy that the notice condition of the JUA Policy would be satisfied for the claims of Mr. and Mrs. McCord.

63. Laurens County Hospital also should have known that if a letter in the format set forth on Exhibit 2 was submitted prior to termination of the JUA Policy that the notice condition of the JUA Policy would be satisfied for the claims of Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield.

64. Laurens County Hospital also had the ability to inform the patients who suffered complications from surgery performed by Dr. Brown since 7/9/2008 that notification needed to be made in writing to JUA under the Claims-Made policy before the policy terminated in order for the injured patients to perfect their claims for payment under the JUA Policy.

65. Laurens County Hospital should have known that the innocent victims had no way of discovering the information known to Laurens County Hospital that notice of a claim for malpractice committed by Dr. Brown during surgeries at Laurens County Hospital needed to be given to JUA under the Claims-Made policy by a certain date to perfect a claim for payment under the JUA Policy.

66. Laurens County Hospital would have known, if proper inquiry had been made, that Dr. Brown intended to change insurance companies for his professional liability insurance, that the JUA Claims-Made policy required Extended Reporting Coverage be made available to Dr. Brown, and that the offer to purchase Extended Reporting Coverage was available until January 14, 2010.

67. Laurens County Hospital did not inform directly or by public notice any of the patients who received complications or injuries during surgeries performed at Laurens County Hospital by Dr. Brown that notice of a claim must be made to JUA prior to expiration of the insurance policy to perfect the claims of patients for injuries due to medical malpractice of Dr. Brown.

68. Consequently, neither Mrs. McCord, Mr. McCord, Mrs. Sherfield, nor Mr. Sherfield provided notice to JUA prior to 7/9/2009 of their respective claims for damages resulting from injuries suffered due to the medical malpractice of Dr. Brown; nor did Laurens County Hospital require Dr. Brown to maintain insurance coverage in accordance with its contract with Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield by requiring Dr. Brown to carry Extended Reporting Endorsement Coverage from JUA or Prior Acts Coverage Endorsement from MAG Mutual.

FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

69. The relevant and consistent allegations of paragraphs 1-68 are incorporated herein by this reference.

70. Laurens County Hospital and Mr. and Mrs. McCord had a meeting of the minds as to the essential and material terms of the contract, to wit: Mr. and Mrs. McCord would pay, or cause to be paid, the agreed upon price for the services and facilities provided by Laurens County Hospital and Laurens County Hospital would provide services that, in part, would require compliance by Dr. Brown with the Medical Staff Bylaws, would require compliance with its Subsidy Contract with Dr. Brown to maintain professional liability insurance coverage in the minimum amount of $1M/$3M; and would appropriately monitor the quality of patient care rendered by physicians performing surgery at Laurens County Hospital.

71. Laurens County Hospital and Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield had a meeting of the minds as to the essential and material terms of the contract, to wit: Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield would pay, or cause to be paid, the agreed upon price for the services and facilities provided by Laurens County Hospital and Laurens County Hospital would provide services that, in part, would require compliance by Dr. Brown with the Medical Staff Bylaws, would require compliance with its Subsidy Contract with Dr. Brown to maintain professional liability insurance coverage in the minimum amount of $1M/$3M; and would appropriately monitor the quality of patient care rendered by physicians performing surgery at Laurens County Hospital.

72. Laurens County Hospital received valuable consideration from Mr. and Mrs. McCord and from Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield pursuant to the terms of the contract.

73. Laurens County Hospital breached the contract with Mr. and Mrs. McCord and Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield in one or more of the following particulars:

a) failure to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws which require the physicians privileged to perform surgery to maintain current, valid professional liability insurance coverage in an amount satisfactory to Laurens County Hospital;

b) failure to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Subsidy Contract requirement of maintaining professional liability insurance in the minimum amount of $1,000,000 per occurrence and $3,000,000 aggregate;

c) failure to require Dr. Brown, as a condition of having continuing privileges to perform surgery at Laurens County Hospital, to purchase Extended Reporting Endorsement Coverage (Tail) from

JUA under a claims-made policy upon change to another insurance company;

d) failure to require Dr. Brown, as a condition of having continuing privileges to perform surgery at Laurens County Hospital, to purchase Prior Acts Endorsement Coverage from MAG Mutual under a claims-made policy upon change to another insurance company;

e) failure to train, instruct, or employ employees who were knowledgeable about the differences between Occurrence and Claims-Made policies, and who were knowledgeable about Extended Reporting Endorsement Coverage (Tail) and who were knowledgeable about Prior Acts Endorsement Coverage;

f) failure to inform the employee who was responsible for ensuring that Dr. Brown maintained professional liability coverage in accordance with the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract that Dr. Brown was under investigation by Laurens County Hospital for injuries to surgical patients potentially caused from inappropriate surgical/ medical treatment and malpractice;

g) failure to inform surgical patients of Dr. Brown who received unexpected complications during surgeries performed at Laurens County Hospital that to preserve insurance coverage for their claim, that the claim need to be filed before June 9, 2009 when Laurens County Hospital knew, or should have known, that the patients most probably did not have this information; and Laurens County Hospital had the ability to identify and notify the patients;

h) in such other manners as will be shown from the evidence at trial.

74. The damages suffered by Mrs. McCord from the breach of contract by Laurens County Hospital total $1,740,392.75, plus interest from March 11, 2014, and the damages suffered by Mr. McCord from the breach of contract by Laurens County Hospital total $58,789.40, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

75. The damages suffered by Mrs. Sherfield from the breach of contract by Laurens County Hospital total $1,468,580, plus interest from March 11, 2014 and the damages suffered by Mr. Sherfield from the breach of contract by Laurens County Hospital total $50,000, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

76. Dr. Brown is judgment proof and outside the jurisdiction of the United States.

77. Consequently, Mrs. McCord is informed and believes that she is entitled to judgment against Laurens County Hospital in the amount of $1,740,392.75, plus interest from March 11, 2014, and Mr. McCord is informed and believes that he is entitled to judgment against Laurens County Hospital in the amount of $58,789.40, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

78. Consequently, Mrs. Sherfield is informed and believes that she is entitled to judgment against Laurens County Hospital in the amount of $1,468,580, plus interest from March 11, 2014, and Mr. Sherfield is informed and believes that he is entitled to judgment against Laurens County Hospital in the amount of $50,000, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

79. The relevant and consistent allegations of paragraphs 1-78 are incorporated herein by this reference.

80. The providing of services by Laurens County Hospital related to the surgeries performed by Dr. Brown at Laurens County Hospital had a serious affect on the quality of life and life expectancy of Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield and created a special relationship between Laurens County Hospital and its patients undergoing surgery.

81. Laurens County Hospital failed to exercise due care in this special relationship in the following particulars:

a) failure to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws which require the physicians privileged to perform surgery to maintain current, valid professional liability insurance coverage in an amount satisfactory to Laurens County Hospital;

b) failure to require Dr. Brown to comply with the Subsidy Contract requirement of maintaining professional liability insurance in the minimum amount of $1,000,000 per occurrence and $3,000,000 aggregate;

c) failure to require Dr. Brown, as a condition of having continuing privileges to perform surgery at Laurens County Hospital, to purchase Extended Reporting Endorsement Coverage (Tail) from JUA under a claims-made policy upon change to another insurance company;

d) failure to require Dr. Brown, as a condition of having continuing privileges to perform surgery at Laurens County Hospital, to purchase Prior Acts Endorsement Coverage from MAG Mutual under a claims-made policy upon change to another insurance company;

e) failure to train, instruct, or employ employees who were knowledgeable about the differences between Occurrence and Claims-Made policies, and who were knowledgeable about Extended Reporting Endorsement Coverage (Tail) and who were knowledgeable about Prior Acts Endorsement Coverage;

f) failure to inform the employee who was responsible for ensuring that Dr. Brown maintained professional liability coverage in accordance with the Medical Staff Bylaws and Subsidy Contract; that Dr. Brown was under investigation by Laurens County Hospital for injuries to surgical patients potentially caused from inappropriate surgical/ medical treatment and malpractice;

g) failure to inform surgical patients of Dr. Brown who received unexpected complications during surgeries performed at Laurens County Hospital that to preserve insurance coverage for the claim that the claim need to be filed before June 9, 2009 when Laurens County Hospital knew, or should have known, that the patients most probably did not have this information and Laurens County Hospital had the ability to identify and notify the patients; and

h) in such other manners as will be shown from the evidence at trial.

82. As a result of the negligence of Laurens County Hospital, the insurance coverage on the claims of Mr. and Mrs. McCord and Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield was extinguished without their knowledge and through no fault of their own. Also, the insurance coverage was not extended because Laurens County Hospital did not require Extended Reporting Coverage or Prior Acts Coverage.

83. The aforementioned acts and derelicts of Laurens County Hospital were negligent and careless and caused the following damages:

* Chris Katina McCord in the amount of $1,740,392.75 , plus interest from March 11, 2014;
* Christopher McCord in the amount of $58,789.40, plus interest from March 11, 2014;
* Janice Sherfield in the amount of $1,468,580, plus interest from March 11, 2014; and
* Jerry Sherfield in the amount of $50,000, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

84. Consequently, Mrs. McCord is informed and believes that she is entitled to judgment against Laurens County Hospital in the amount of $1,740,392.75, plus interest from March 11, 2014, and Mr. McCord is informed and believes that he is entitled to judgment against Laurens County Hospital in the amount of $58,789.40, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

85. Consequently, Mrs. Sherfield is informed and believes that she is entitled to judgment against Laurens County Hospital in the amount of $1,468,580, plus interest from March 11, 2014, and Mr. Sherfield is informed and believes that he is entitled to judgment against Laurens County Hospital in the amount of $50,000, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs Chris Tina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield request that the Court enter judgment as follows:

a) for a trial by jury;

b) under the First Cause of Action:

   i) judgment in favor of Chris Katina McCord and against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System in the amount of $1,740,392.75 , plus interest since judgment from March 11, 2014;
   ii) judgment in favor of Christopher McCord and against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System in the amount of $58,789.40, plus interest from March 11, 2014;
   iii) judgment in favor of Janice Sherfield and against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System in the amount of $1,468,580, plus interest from March 11, 2014; and

iv) judgment in favor of Jerry Sherfield and against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System in the amount of $50,000, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

c) under the Second Cause of Action:

i) judgment in favor of Chris Katina McCord and against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System in the amount of $1,740,392.75 , plus interest from March 11, 2014;
ii) judgment in favor of Christopher McCord and against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System in the amount of $58,789.40, plus interest from March 11, 2014;
iii) judgment in favor of Janice Sherfield and against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System in the amount of $1,468,580, plus interest from March 11, 2014; and
iv) judgment in favor of Jerry Sherfield and against Laurens County Hospital and Greenville Health System in the amount of $50,000, plus interest from March 11, 2014.

d) for the costs of this action; and

e) for such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

COUNTY OF LAURENS

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs,

vs.

Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System,

Defendant.

C.A. No.: 2014-CP-30-250

ANSWER TO SECOND AMENDED COMPLAINT

Defendants Laurens County Healthcare System ("Laurens") and Greenville Health System ("GHS") (collectively hereinafter referred to as "these Defendants"), answering Plaintiffs' Second Amended Complaint, would hereby show the Court:

These Defendants contend that a response to Plaintiffs' Second Amended Complaint is not necessary in light of the Court's decision to grant these Defendants' motion for summary judgment. In ruling on the motion for summary judgment, the Court took under consideration Plaintiffs' allegations in the Second Amended Complaint, thus rendering the necessity of responding to the allegations moot. These Defendants are responding to Plaintiffs' Second Amended Complaint solely out of an abundance of caution, and in no way intend to acknowledge that this case has not been dismissed or waive any grounds for dismissal. Defendants incorporate herein by reference all defenses and arguments set forth in Defendants' motion for summary judgment and all memorandums filed in support thereof, and deny any allegations in Plaintiffs' Second Amended Complaint that are inconsistent therewith.

FOR A FIRST DEFENSE

1. Defendants admit the allegations in Paragraph 1 of Plaintiffs' Complaint upon information and belief.

2. Defendants admit the allegations in Paragraph 2 of Plaintiffs' Complaint upon information and belief.

3. In response to Paragraph 3, Laurens states that at all times relevant to this action it was a governmental entity and healthcare facility pursuant to the South Carolina Tort Claims Act § 15-78-10 et seq. located in Laurens County, South Carolina, and it denies any allegations inconsistent therewith. As to the remaining allegation of Paragraph 3, Defendants would admit only that effective July 1, 2013, Laurens and GHS entered into a lease and contribution agreement, which is incorporated herein by reference.

4. In response to Paragraph 4, GHS states that it is a governmental entity pursuant to the South Carolina Tort Claims Act § 15-78-10 et seq. with its principal place of business in Greenville County, South Carolina, and it denies any allegations inconsistent therewith. As to the remaining allegations of Paragraph 4, Defendants would admit only that effective July 1, 2013, Laurens and GHS entered into a written lease and contribution agreement. The agreement speaks for itself, and Defendants deny any allegations in Paragraph 4 which are inconsistent therewith.

5. Defendants are without sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations of Paragraph 5; therefore, those allegations are denied.

6. Defendants are without sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations of Paragraph 6; therefore, those allegations are denied.

7. Defendants are without sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations of Paragraph 7; therefore, those allegations are denied.

8. Defendants are without sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations of Paragraph 8; therefore, those allegations are denied.

9. Defendants deny the allegations in Paragraph 9.

10. The allegations of Paragraph 10 of Plaintiffs' Complaint are legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants would deny the allegations as stated.

11. The allegations of Paragraph 11 of Plaintiffs' Complaint are legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants would deny the allegations as stated.

12. In response to Paragraph 12 of Plaintiffs' Complaint, Laurens admits only that it adopted Medical Staff Bylaws, the terms and conditions of which are incorporated herein by reference. Laurens denies any allegations in Paragraph 12 that are inconsistent therewith.

13. Laurens generally admits the allegations of Paragraph 13.

14. In response to Paragraph 14, Laurens admits only that pursuant to its Medical Staff Bylaws, it requires new Licensed Independent Practitioner (LIP) applicants to provide proof of malpractice insurance in an amount determined by the hospital. These Defendants deny the remaining allegation of Paragraph 14.

15. In response to Paragraph 15, Laurens admits only that it entered into a contract with Dr. Byron Brown, M.D. on or about February 14, 2002, the terms and conditions of which are incorporated herein by reference. Laurens denies any allegations in Paragraph 15 that are inconsistent therewith.

16. In response to Paragraph 16, Laurens would admit only that the Subsidy Contract and the Medical Staff Bylaws contained provisions regarding the requirement that Dr. Brown maintain medical malpractice insurance coverage. The full terms of those provisions are incorporated herein by reference, and Laurens denies any allegations in Paragraph 16 that are inconsistent therewith.

17. Defendants admit the allegations of Paragraph 17 upon information and belief.

18. Defendants admit the allegations of Paragraph 18 upon information and belief.

19. In response to Paragraph 19, Laurens would crave reference to Article IV of the February 14, 2002 contract with Dr. Brown and deny any allegation that is inconsistent therewith. Further responding, Laurens would generally admit the allegation that it made subsidy payments to Dr. Brown and that a portion of those payments were forgiven pursuant to the Subsidy Contract.

20. Paragraph 20 states a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Laurens would crave reference to the terms and conditions of the Subsidy Contract and deny any allegations inconsistent therewith.

21. In response to Paragraph 21, Defendants admit only that according to her medical records, on December 18, 2008, Mrs. McCord was admitted to Laurens County Hospital for a surgery to be performed by Dr. Brown. As part of the admissions process, Mrs. McCord executed several documents including consent forms and a Conditions of Admission form, the terms and conditions of which are incorporated herein by reference. Defendants deny any allegation in Paragraph 21 that is inconsistent therewith.

22. The allegations of Paragraph 22 are denied. See also Defendants' Motion for Summary Judgment.

23. Defendants generally admit the allegations of Paragraph 23.

24. In response to the first sentence of Paragraph 24, Defendants admit only that Dr. Brown performed surgery on Mrs. McCord on December 18, 2008. Defendants would crave reference to Mrs. McCord's medical records for the details of that surgery and would deny any allegation that is inconsistent with those records. The remainder of Paragraph 24 contains legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants deny the allegations as stated.

25. In response to the allegations of Paragraph 25, Defendants admit only that according to her medical records, on February 19, 2009, Mrs. McCord was admitted to Laurens County Hospital for surgery to be performed by Dr. Brown. Defendants would crave reference to Mrs. McCord's medical records for the details of that surgery and would deny any allegation that is inconsistent with those records. As part of the admissions process, Mrs. McCord executed several documents including consent forms and a Conditions of Admission form. The Conditions of Admission is incorporated herein by reference, and Defendants deny any allegation in Paragraph 25 that is inconsistent therewith. The remainder of Paragraph 25 contains legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants deny the allegations as stated.

26. In response to the allegations of Paragraph 26, Defendants admit only that according to her medical records, on April 17, 2009, Mrs. McCord was admitted to Laurens County Hospital for surgery to be performed by Dr. Brown. Defendants would crave reference to Mrs. McCord's medical records for the details of that surgery and would deny any allegation that is inconsistent with those records. As part of the admissions process, Mrs. McCord executed several documents including consent forms and a Conditions of Admission form. The Conditions of Admission is incorporated herein by reference, and Defendants deny any allegation in Paragraph 26 that is inconsistent therewith. The remainder of Paragraph 26 contains legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants deny the allegations as stated.

27. Paragraph 27 contains legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants are without sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations; therefore, the allegations are denied.

28. In response to Paragraph 28, Laurens admits only that it billed Mrs. McCord for the services she received. Laurens would crave reference to those bills for the exact amounts that were billed. As to the remaining allegation in Paragraph 28, Laurens admits only that according to its records, Mrs. McCord currently has an accounts-receivable balance of zero for the relevant services rendered.

29. Paragraph 29 contains a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants would admit only that the claims likely would have been covered under the JUA Policy had they been timely made.

30. Paragraph 30 contains a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants would admit only that upon information and belief, Plaintiffs have obtained default judgments against Dr. Brown in civil actions Defendants were not parties to.

31. In response to Paragraph 31, Defendants admit only that according to her medical records, on May 29, 2008, Mrs. Sherfield was admitted to Laurens County Hospital for a surgery to be performed by Dr. Brown. As part of the admissions process, Mrs. Sherfield executed several documents including consent forms and a Conditions of Admission form, the terms and conditions of which are incorporated herein by reference. Defendants deny any allegation in Paragraph 31 that is inconsistent therewith.

32. In response to the first sentence of Paragraph 32, Defendants admit only that Dr. Brown performed surgery on Mrs. Sherfield on May 29, 2009. Defendants would crave reference to Mrs. Sherfield's medical records for the details of that surgery and would deny any allegation that is inconsistent with those records. The remainder of Paragraph 32 contains legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants deny the allegations as stated.

33. Paragraph 33 contains legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants are without sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations; therefore, the allegations are denied.

34. In response to Paragraph 34, Laurens admits only that it billed Mrs. Sherfield for the services she received. Laurens would crave reference to those bills for the exact amounts that were billed. As to the remaining allegation in Paragraph 34, Laurens admits only that according to its records, Mrs. Sherfield currently has an accounts-receivable balance of zero for services rendered related to this action.

35. Paragraph 35 contains a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants would admit only that the claims likely would have been covered under the JUA Policy had they been timely made.

36. Paragraph 36 contains a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants would admit only that upon information and belief, Plaintiffs have obtained default judgments against Dr. Brown in civil actions Defendants were not parties to.

37. In response to Paragraph 37, Defendants would crave reference to the JUA Policy as it speaks for itself. Defendants deny any allegation that is inconsistent with the specific terms and conditions of the JUA Policy.

38. In response to Paragraph 38, Defendants would crave reference to the JUA Policy as it speaks for itself. Defendants deny any allegation that is inconsistent with the specific terms and conditions of the JUA Policy. Plaintiffs' characterization of a "claims-made" policy states a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants would generally admit the allegations upon information and belief.

39. The allegations in Paragraph 39 are denied.

40. The allegations in Paragraph 40 are vague and ambiguous. Plaintiffs do not appear to be making a factual statement, but rather appear to be stating their own personal opinion to which no response is necessary.

41. Paragraph 41 states a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants deny the allegations as worded.

42. The allegations of Paragraph 42 are denied.

43. Paragraph 43 states legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants would admit only that Plaintiffs claims arose while the JUA Policy was in effect.

44. Defendants generally admit the allegations of Paragraph 44 upon information and belief.

45. The allegations of Paragraph 45 are denied.

46. In response to Paragraph 46, Defendants admit only that it had the ability to suspend or terminate Dr. Brown's privileges if he failed to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws. As to the Subsidy Contract, Defendants would defer to the terms and conditions therein and deny any allegations inconsistent therewith. To the extent alleged, Defendants specifically deny that Dr. Brown was not in compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws or the Subsidy Contract in regards to the requirement to maintain insurance.

47. The allegations of Paragraph 47 are vague and ambiguous as it is not clear whether they are referring specifically to Dr. Brown or to all physicians; therefore, the allegations are denied as worded.

48. The allegations of Paragraph 48 are denied.

49. Defendants are without sufficient information to admit or deny the allegations of Paragraph 49 as stated. Defendants would admit only that they are aware of other patients who have made claims against Dr. Brown.

50. Defendants object to and move to strike the allegations contained in Paragraphs 50-

55 on the basis that they contain confidential peer review information. Further responding without waiving said objection, Defendants admit only that a peer review investigation into Dr. Brown was initiated in November 2009, which ultimately resulted in Dr. Brown agreeing to relinquish certain privileges.

51. In response to Paragraph 56, Defendants admit only upon information and belief that the Risk Manager did not directly communicate with the Manager of Medical Staff Services regarding the peer review investigation.

52. The allegations of Paragraph 57 are vague and ambiguous in that it is not clear what Plaintiffs mean by "at this time." Therefore, the allegations are denied as worded.

53. The allegations of Paragraph 58 are denied.

54. The allegations of Paragraph 59 are denied.

55. The allegations of Paragraph 60 state a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants defer to the terms and conditions of the JUA policy, which are incorporated herein by reference, and deny any allegations inconsistent therewith.

56. The allegations of Paragraph 61 are vague and ambiguous in that it is not clear when Plaintiffs contend that Laurens should have known that Dr. Brown changed insurance policies. Further, it appears Plaintiffs are stating their personal opinion rather than making a factual allegation, thus no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations as worded.

57. Paragraphs 62 and 63 appear to be Plaintiffs stating their personal opinions rather than asserting factual allegations, thus no response is required. To the extent a response is required, Defendants deny the allegations as worded.

58. The allegations of Paragraphs 64-66 are denied.

59. In response to Paragraph 67, Laurens admits only that it had no duty to provide patients information or attempt to advise patients on a doctor's medical malpractice liability insurance policy.

60. In response to Paragraph 68, Defendants admit only that upon information and belief Plaintiffs failed to make timely claims to JUA for their alleged injuries. Defendants deny the remaining allegations in Paragraph 68.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

61. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants incorporate the answers to the previous paragraphs in response to Paragraph 69.

62. Paragraphs 70-72 contain legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, the allegations of Paragraph 70-72 are denied.

63. The allegations of Paragraph 73 are denied, including all subparts therein.

64. The allegations of Paragraphs 74 and 75 are denied.

65. In response to Paragraph 76, Defendants only admit upon information and belief that Dr. Brown currently resides outside the United States. The remaining allegations of Paragraph 76 contain a legal conclusion to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, the allegations are denied.

66. The allegations of Paragraphs 77 and 78 are denied.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

67. To the extent a response is necessary, Defendants incorporate the answers to the previous paragraphs in response to Paragraph 79.

68. Paragraph 80 contains legal conclusions to which no response is necessary. To the extent a response is necessary, the allegations of Paragraph 80 are denied as stated.

69. The allegations of Paragraph 81, including all subparts therein, are denied.

70. The allegations of Paragraphs 82 – 85 are denied.

71. Defendants deny each and every other allegation, including Plaintiffs' Prayer for Relief, not heretofore expressly explained modified or admitted.

FOR A SECOND DEFENSE

72. Defendants allege and would show that at all times relevant to this action each was a governmental entity health care facility within the meaning of the South Carolina Tort Claims Act, S.C. Code Ann. § 15-78-10, et seq. (1976, as amended) and are, therefore, entitled to all rights, privileges, defenses, limitations, and immunities afforded by the Act and afforded by the doctrine of sovereign immunity, as is retained by the Act.

73. Defendants allege that Plaintiffs' claims for actual damages are either governed or limited by the provisions of § 15-78-120(a) of the South Carolina Tort Claims Act.

74. Defendants allege that Plaintiffs may not recover punitive damages in accordance with § 15-78-120(b) of the South Carolina Tort Claims Act.

FOR A THIRD DEFENSE

75. Defendants would show that Plaintiffs' Complaint fails to state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action under any of the causes of action asserted and, therefore, Plaintiffs may not recover herein.

FOR A FOURTH DEFENSE

76. Defendants would show that Plaintiffs' claims are barred by the applicable statute of limitations.

FOR A FIFTH DEFENSE

77. Defendants would show the damages sustained by Plaintiffs were due to the negligence, recklessness, willfulness, and wantonness of Plaintiffs and that such negligence, recklessness, willfulness, and wantonness was greater than the alleged negligence on the part of Defendants, such negligence and recklessness admitted solely for the purposes of this paragraph, and acted as a direct and proximate cause of the damages claimed by Plaintiffs. Therefore, Plaintiffs are barred from recovering under the principles of comparative negligence. However, should it be determined that any negligence or recklessness on the part of Defendants was greater than that of Plaintiffs, any recovery which Plaintiffs prove must be reduced by the amount of Plaintiffs' negligence, which Defendants pray should be determined by special interrogatories to be answered by the jury.

WHEREFORE, having fully answered, Defendants pray that, consistent with the Court's order granting summary judgment, this case be dismissed with costs, and for such other and further relief as this Court may deem just and proper.

Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs, v. Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System, Defendants.	Defendants Supplemental Response to Plaintiffs' Initial Requests for Admission

Defendants supplement their responses to Plaintiffs' Initial Requests for Admission as follows:

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Defendants object to each and every one of the Requests for Admission to the extent that they request information that is protected by the attorney-client privilege, is considered attorney work-product, was prepared in anticipation of litigation, was created or generated after and/or as a result of this lawsuit being filed, or is protected by the peer review privilege. By responding to the Requests for Admission, Defendants are not conceding that Plaintiffs have stated a cause of action, are not waiving any other objections to discovery, or any objections to admissibility of evidence. Subject thereto,

5. Do you admit that representatives of Laurens Hospital and McCord and Sherfield entered into a contract for each of the following surgeries:

a. McCord December 18, 2008 surgery;
b. McCord February 19, 2009 surgery;
c. McCord April 17, 2009 surgery; and
d. Sherfield May 29, 2009 surgery?

RESPONSE: Defendants object to this Request to the extent it calls for a legal conclusion and/or an application of the law to the facts. Subject thereto and upon further consideration of the applicable law, Defendants would admit that the Conditions of Admission documents executed by Plaintiffs prior to each of the above referenced surgeries constituted unilateral contracts whereby Plaintiffs agreed, among other things, to "guarantee payment of all charges incurred for the account of the patient," to be "responsible for any charges not covered by insurance, Medicare, Medicaid, or other benefits," and to "pay the account of the hospital, in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital." The Conditions of Admission documents speak for themselves and Defendants deny that the documents create any duties or obligations beyond those clearly set forth within the four corners of the documents.

THE CERTIFICATIONS ON THE REVERSE APPLY TO THIS BILL AND ARE MADE A PART HEREOF.

THIS AGREEMENT IS SUBJECT TO ARBITRATION PURSUANT TO S.C. CODE SECTION 15-48- 10, ET. SEQ, AS MODIFIED HEREIN

LEASE AND CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT BETWEEN LAURENS COUNTY HEALTH CARE SYSTEM AND GREENVILLE HEALTH SYSTEM

This LEASE AND CONTRIBUTION AGREEMENT (this "Agreement") is made, effective as of the 1st day of July, 2013, by and between Laurens County Health Care System (the "Lessor") and Greenville Health System (the "Lessee").

WITNESSETH:

WHEREAS, Lessor is the successor, through consolidation, to the Laurens Hospital System and the Clinton Hospital System, which were separate special purpose districts of the State of South Carolina;

WHEREAS, by Ordinance No. 147 (the "Ordinance") adopted by the Laurens County Council, the governing body of Laurens County, on August 9, 1982, Laurens Hospital System and Clinton Hospital System were consolidated, pursuant to Section 6-11-410, et seq., of the South Carolina Code of Laws, to form Lessor as one countywide special purpose district;

WHEREAS, Lessor is charged pursuant to the Ordinance with the responsibility to provide adequate hospital facilities in the geographic area of Lessor;

WHEREAS, in fulfilling its aforementioned responsibility, Lessor is authorized and empowered under the Ordinance to lease its hospital facilities to an eleemosynary corporation incorporated under the laws of South Carolina or other organization to operate the hospital;

WHEREAS, Lessee is not-for-profit, tax-exempt organization and political subdivision of the State of South Carolina, established in 1947 by the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina pursuant to Act No. 432 of the Acts and Joint Resolutions of the General Assembly;

WHEREAS, Lessee is a comprehensive, integrated delivery system which owns and operates acute care hospitals, including a tertiary referral hospital and community hospitals, and related specialty health care facilities;

WHEREAS, Lessee employs more than 600 physicians who provide a continuum of care to people in Lessee's service area and beyond;

WHEREAS, Lessor has determined that the public health needs of Laurens County can best be met by entering into an arrangement with Lessee, whereby Lessee will lease certain assets from Lessor and provide high quality healthcare services to the people of Laurens County;

WHEREAS, Lessor has chosen to faithfully fulfill its duties and responsibilities under the Ordinance by affiliating with Lessee as provided herein; and,

WHEREAS, Lessor and Lessee wish to enter into this Agreement, pursuant to which Lessor shall lease its assets to Lessee, and Lessee shall assume the operations and liabilities of Lessor and provide high quality healthcare services to the people of Laurens County as part of Lessee's integrated delivery system.

(vi) All books, records and other information collected and maintained in connection with the Leased Facilities including, without limitation, patient records and employee records;

(vii) All judgments, choses in action and intangibles owned by the Lessor and related to the Leased Facilities;

(viii) All trade names, service marks and trademarks used by the Lessor, whether or not registered;

(ix) All insurance reserves and trust agreements;

(x) All licenses, permits and approvals, including certificate of need approvals, held by or issued to the Lessor, which are necessary or desirable for the use, occupancy and operation of the Leased Facilities, to the extent such licenses, permits and approvals may lawfully be assigned to or assumed by Lessee;

(xi) All assumable Medicare and Medicaid provider numbers for the Leased Facilities and all clinical laboratory improvement amendment numbers for the Leased Facilities;

(xii) All Lessor's leasehold interests, including but not limited to, leased medical office buildings or space;

(xiii) All assets of Lessor used in the operation of Hospital and other health care facilities and not listed above and not otherwise classified as Leased Facilities, including but not limited to, any leased medical office buildings or space.

The foregoing shall be collectively referred to herein as the "Operating Assets." Upon the transfer of any of the Operating Assets to Lessee pursuant to this Section, the term "Operating Assets" shall mean all Operating Assets theretofore received by Lessee.

(b) All of the hospital, health care, administrative and related activities conducted as of the Commencement Date hereof or in the past by the Lessor in the course of owning and operating the Leased Facilities, all of which shall be collectively referred to herein as the "Existing Operations."

(c) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 2.2, Lessor shall retain an amount of cash not to exceed $100,000.00 (the "Cash Retention"), which amount shall be excluded from the definition of Operating Assets. Lessor shall use the Cash Retention to open a banking or other financial account in its name ("Lessor's Bank Account"), and shall apply such Cash Retention to expenses incurred in connection with entering into this Agreement and any related transactions (collectively, the "Transaction Expenses"). Any funds to be deposited by Lessee into Lessor's Bank Account pursuant to the annual budget for the Leased Facilities as provided in Article 3 hereof shall be reduced by the amount of the Cash Retention, if any, remaining after Lessor pays all Transaction Expenses.

SECTION 2.3. Assumption of Liabilities. Effective as of the Commencement Date and continuing until the expiration or earlier termination of this Agreement, and except as otherwise provided elsewhere in this Agreement, Lessee assumes, and agrees to perform and discharge: (i) any and all liabilities and obligations of the Lessor related to the Leased Facilities, Operating Assets and Existing Operations which exist as of the Commencement Date (all of which liabilities shall be collectively referred to herein as the "Assumed Liabilities").

A hearing was held before the undersigned the 11th day of March, 2014 to determine damages. Based upon the evidence presented, I found and ordered the judgment to be entered in favor of Chris Katina McCord and Christopher McCord and against Byron A. Brown, MD and Laurens County Obstetrics and Gynecology, LLC as follows:

Chris Katina McCord

Economic Loss	$1,101,832.00
Non-economic Loss	$ 378,625.00
Judgment for Chris Katina McCord		$1,480,457

Christopher McCord

Economic Loss	$ none
Non-economic Loss	$ 50,000.00
Judgment for Christopher McCord		$ 50,000

I further found and ordered that the respective judgments exceed the Offers of Judgment made by Plaintiffs on December 29, 2011 (to wit: Chris Katina McCord $750,000 and Christopher McCord $50,000). Accordingly in compliance with Rule 18, South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure, an amount equal to eight percent interest computed on the amount of the award from the date of the offer to the entry of judgment which shall be added to the above total judgment. This amount is $260,235.95 for Chris Katina McCord and $8,789.04 for Christopher McCord. (See attached computation from G. Richard Thompson, PhD dated March 24, 2014.)

Thus, the total judgment for Chris Katina McCord is $1,740,692.95 and the total judgment for Christopher McCord is $58,789.04.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION

GENERAL DUTY NURSING: The hospital provides only general duty nursing care. Under this system nurses are called to the bedside of the patient by a signal system. If the patient is in such condition as to need continuous or special family duty nursing care, such must be arranged by the patient or legal representative. The hospital is not responsible for failure to provide the same and is hereby released from any and all liability arising from the fact that said patient is not provided with such additional care.

IMAGERY: I understand that photographs, videotapes, digital, or other images may be recorded to document my care, and I consent to this. I understand that Laurens County Health Care System will retain the ownership rights to these photographs, videotapes, digital, or other images, but that I will be allowed access to view them or obtain copies. I understand that these images will be stored in a secure manner that will protect my privacy and that they will be kept for the time period required by law or outlined in Laurens County Health Care System's policy. Images that identify me will be released and/or used outside the institution only upon written authorization from me or my legal representative.

MEDICAL AND SURGICAL CONSENT: The patients care is under the direction of the attending physicians and the hospital is not responsible for any act or omission of the physicians. The undersigned consents to any x-ray examination, laboratory procedure, anesthesia, debridement, biopsy, medical or surgical treatment or hospital services rendered the patient under the general and special instructions of the physician. The undersigned recognizes that most medical staff members furnishing services to the patient, including the radiologists, pathologist, anesthesiologists, and the like (are) independent contractors and not employees of the hospital.

ASSIGNMENT OF INSURANCE BENEFITS AND THIRD PARTY CLAIMS: I/we hereby guarantee payment of all charges incurred for the account of the patient and hereby assign any hospital benefits, major medical benefits, PIP benefits, sick benefits, or injury benefits due because of any insurance policy and the proceeds of all claims resulting from the liability of the third party payable by any person, employer or insurance company to or for the patient unless we pay account in full upon discharge. If eligible for Medicare, I request Medicare services and benefits. I understand I am responsible for any charges not covered by insurance, Medicare, Medicaid, or other benefits.

ASSIGNMENT OF PHYSICIAN BENEFITS: In the event that I, the patient in addition to hospital benefits, am entitled to physician or physicians benefits of any type whatsoever, arising out of a policy of insurance insuring me or any other party's liability to me, I hereby assign said benefits to any physician rendering care or treatment during this stay or outpatient visits, to be applied to my bill.

FINANCIAL AGREEMENT: The undersigned agrees he signs as agent or as patient that in consideration of the services to be rendered to that patient, he hereby individually obligates himself to pay the account of the hospital, in accordance with the regular rates and terms of the hospital. Should the account be referred to an attorney for collection, the undersigned shall pay reasonable attorney's fees and collection expense. All delinquent accounts may bear interest at the legal rate. I do hereby appoint the Hospital as my true lawful attorney to act in my behalf to collect the above mentioned claims and to give full and final receipt for me for all amounts so collected, and to endorse for me any checks made payable to me for benefits or claims collected under the above agreements. In the [illegible] benefits exceed the actual amount of hospitalization. I hereby authorize and direct the Hospital to apply any overpayment that I may otherwise be [illegible] that may exist at the Hospital for myself, my spouse, or my children or any other account for which I am responsible.

1 STIPULATIONS
2 It is stipulated by and between counsel for
3 the respective parties that all objections are
4 reserved until the time of trial, except as to
5 the form of the questions.
6 This deposition is being taken pursuant to the
7 South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.
8 - - - -
9 The reading and signing of this deposition is 10 not waived by the deponents and counsel for 11 the respective parties.
12 Whereupon,
13 Lynn Reaves and Sandra Thompson, being duly
14 sworn and cautioned to speak the truth, the 15 whole truth, and nothing but the truth,
16 testified as follows:
17 MR. WRIGHT: Let me start by noting that we
18 have marked as Exhibit 16 the deposition
19 subpoena in this case.
20 (Exhibit Number 16 Introduced)
21 MR. WRIGHT: And the first topic would be
22 regarding professional liability insurance
23 coverage of Byron Brown. And as I understand
24 it, Ms. Reaves is the designee for that. Is
25 that correct?

Page 4

1 MR. SHAW: Are you asking me, or are you asking
2 her?
3 MR. WRIGHT: You.
4 MR. SHAW: Me?
5 MR. WRIGHT: Yeah.
6 MR. SHAW: Yes, that is correct.
7 MR. WRIGHT: Okay.
8 EXAMINATION OF LYNN REAVES
9 BY MR. WRIGHT:
10 Q. Ms. Reaves, a little bit of background. Would you
11 give us who your employer is and what your position
12 is?
13 A. Greenville Health System, and I'm the manager of 14 Medical Staff Services.
15 Q. The manager of what now?
16 A. Medical Staff Services.
17 Q. And what are your primary duties?
18 A. The credentialing and privileging of physicians.
19 Q. All right. And how long have you been employed by 20 Laurens Hospital and/or Greenville Hospital System?
21 A. Twenty-five years.
22 Q. And when did you become employed by Greenville
23 Hospital System?
24 A. Two years ago this past July.
25 Q. Now, in the last 25 years have you held any other

Page 45

1 A. My current employer is Greenville Health System,
2 and I serve Greenville Health System in the 3 capacity of Manager of Quality Resources where I
4 have responsibility for quality, risk management
5 and onsite compliance.
6 Q. Manager of Quality Resources.
7 A. Resources.
8 Q. And could you explain a little bit more about what 9 your -- your primary duties and responsibilities
10 are?
11 A. Day to day I manage -- I have a staff of two and a 12 half individuals, two full-time and one part-time.
13 We collect data, review data, analyze data,
14 facilitate performance improvement teams, provide 15 information to physicians regarding evidence-based 16 practice as requested. I also am responsible for 17 risk management where I'm responsible for all of 18 the onsite claims, lawsuits, discovery requests.
19 Also in reviewing charts, conducting case reviews,
20 referrals to -- for physician review. Things like 21 that. And then for the compliance piece, that is 22 regulatory compliance. I'm responsible for 23 insuring that our Joint Commission survey goes 24 well, that the hospital maintains as far as 25 possible compliance with standards and regulations,

Page 46

1 and also with legal compliance.
2 Q. You've got a full plate.
3 A. I do.
4 Q. All right. And how long have you held the position
5 of Manager of Quality Resources or similar 6 positions?
7 A. Well, the Manager of Quality Resources was -- 8 became my job title when we affiliated with 9 Greenville Health System on July 1st, 2013. Prior
10 to that when I was employed directly by Laurens
11 County Health Care System I was the administrator 12 for quality and risk and compliance. That probably 13 -- and I'm just estimating because I'm not good at 14 dates. I had held that position for probably ten
15 years prior to affiliation.
16 Q. And in the position that you held for ten years
17 prior to the affiliation, is that basically the 18 same duties and responsibilities?
19 A. Yes.
20 Q. Now, you mentioned Joint Commission. Could you
21 explain what Joint Commission is?
22 A. Joint Commission is a regulatory agency. It is not 23 a direct governmental body. It is a private, not 24 for profit 501(c)(3) that CMS grants deeming status
25 to, and they survey hospitals on a tri-annual basis

1 for CMS.
2 Q. All right. And the certification that's given by
3 Joint Commission means what to the hospital?
4 A. It means that we are eligible to participate in the 5 Medicare and Medicaid Program, any governmental-
6 funded programs.
7 Q. Okay. Which is pretty important?
8 A. Oh, yes. Yes.
9 Q. All right. As far as government regulations, that 10 would be DHEC regulations?
11 A. It could be.
12 Q. Does DHEC issue regulations governing the operation
13 of a hospital in South Carolina?
14 A. They do. They have Regulation 61 -- I think it's 15 61-17 that regulates licensure of hospitals.
16 Q. And you're responsible for insuring compliance to 17 DHEC regulations?
18 A. Yes.
19 Q. What about federal regulations; are there federal 20 regulations also?
21 A. Yes. There are the CMS Conditions of Participation
22 for participation in Medicare and Medicaid
23 programs. And those are directly tied in with 24 Joint Commission standards as well.
25 Q. Okay. And what was your -- your position in 2008-

1 2009, you had the same responsibilities?
2 A. Yes.
3 Q. Could you give us your education background?
4 A. Okay. I graduated high school in 1975 in 5 Lexington, Alabama, Lexington High School. I have 6 attended Auburn University for a brief period of 7 time. Then attended University of North Alabama.
8 Also attended Newberry College. And I'm currently 9 a student at Walden University in my final semester
10 I guess you would say with a -- working on a degree
11 -- Bachelor's of Science in Healthcare Management.
12 Q. Okay. And when -- when were you first employed
13 with Laurens Hospital?
14 A. 1993.
15 Q. Okay. Now, as far as the items on the 30(b)(6)
16 notice, let me talk with you about the conditions
17 of admission form.
18 A. All right.
19 Q. All right. And I'm going to show you Exhibit 8. I 20 think it's already been marked, but I'm going to 21 mark it again. And Exhibit 9.
22 (Exhibit Numbers 8 and 9 Introduced)
23 Q. And to identify those for the record, Conditions of 24 Admission 8 relate to Ms. McCord with a date of 25 2/18/09. And then the second one, the date of

1 4/16/09. Correct?
2 A. Correct.
3 Q. And as far as Exhibit Number 9, it's with Janice 4 Sherfield with a date of 5/27/09.
5 A. Yes.
6 Q. Okay. Now, let's talk about Ms. McCord's
7 conditions of admission, 2/18/09.
8 A. All right.
9 Q. But before we do that, there was a surgery on 10 February the 18th, '09. And I believe that -- that 11 the information we have is that for all of these 12 surgeries -- and I'll show you your answer to 13 Exhibit Number -- I mean Interrogatory Number 5.
14 For all the surgeries it was requested that a 15 conditions of admission form be executed, correct?
16 A. Correct.
17 Q. And that according to the request for production
18 13, a diligent search was made but the hospital has 19 been unable to locate a 12/18/08 condition of 20 admissions form; is that correct?
21 A. That's correct.
22 Q. But would you agree that more probably than not the 23 conditions of admission form was signed for the 24 12/18/08 McCord surgery?
25 A. I would agree with that, yes.

Page 50

1 Q. Okay. Now, relating to the -- to the conditions of
2 admission form that you have in front of you, I
3 think they're all basically the same except for the 4 signatures, it has on here where I've highlighted
5 all the places that it relates to Laurens County
6 Health Care System.
7 A. Uh-huh. Yes, sir.
8 Q. And it appears that this is a form that was 9 prepared by or at the direction of Laurens County
10 Health Care System; is that correct?
11 A. That would be correct.
12 Q. Okay. Now, as far as specific date, I'm not really
13 concerned about that. But do you know
14 approximately when this form was drafted or 15 prepared by or on behalf of Laurens County Health
16 Care System?
17 A. This form was in use when I came here in 1993.
18 Q. 1993. All right. Now, Exhibit Number 8 has the 19 witness signing as Teressa A. Franks. Do you see 20 that?
21 A. Yes.
22 Q. Now, is Nurse -- or Mrs. Franks -- was she an 23 employee or is she now an employee of Laurens
24 County Health Care System or Laurens -- let me back
25 up. You're an employee of who? Greenville

Page 51

1 Hospital System or --
2 A. Currently, yes.
3 Q. Currently. Okay. Was she an employee of Laurens
4 County Health Care System at the time she signed
5 this?
6 A. I don't specifically know.
7 Q. Okay. The next one is Nadine Mintern who is a
8 witness on 4/16/09.
9 A. Yes.
10 Q. Was she an employee of Laurens County Health Care
11 System?
12 A. In that case I do know this individual, and yes, 13 she was.
14 Q. Okay. And then for Mrs. Sherfield, Exhibit Number
15 9, Peggy A. Harris, was she an employee of Laurens
16 County Health Care System?
17 A. I'm not familiar with that individual, so I'm not 18 sure.
19 Q. Would you agree that the policy or intention of 20 Laurens County Health Care System is to have a
21 representative or employee of Laurens County
22 Hospital sign as a witness for these documents?
23 A. That is the practice, yes.
24 Q. Okay. Now, let me show you what's been marked as 25 Exhibit 24.

Page 52

1 (Exhibit Number 24 Introduced)
2 Q. I thought I had an extra one of these. Now, this 3 is a document -- well, let me -- let me go to this 4 first. Exhibit 22 are the answers to 5 interrogatories. And I'm going to show you the 6 answer to Interrogatory Number 9. And I'm also 7 going to show you the verification. You -- you
8 verified these answers to the best of your ability
9 as being true and accurate, correct?
10 A. Correct.
11 Q. Okay. And then in Number 9 it states that -- that 12 the amount of $190 was garnished from the income
13 tax return of Mrs. McCord for Laurens County
14 Hospital; is that correct?
15 A. That's what it says, yes.
16 Q. Okay. And then in Interrogatory Number 11 the sum 17 of $100 was garnished from the state tax return of 18 Mr. and Ms. Sherfield for Laurens Hospital?
19 A. That's what this says, yes.
20 Q. And you believe these to be true, correct?
21 A. I believe those to be true, yes.
22 Q. Okay. And now the one you have in front of you,
23 Exhibit 24, in your position are you aware that --
24 that a claim for $2400 -- $2,476.38 was made
25 against the income tax refunds for Mr. and Mrs.

Page 194

1 the -- when you said only financial harms that they're
2 suffering, then I went off on the clinical side.
3 Q. (By Mr. Shaw) And what I meant by that --
4 A. Okay.
5 Q. -- is harms suffered as a result of what you
6 claim to be the hospital's breach of the duty owed to 7 them.
8 A. Well, the harm there is, like I've said, they 9 are enjoined, or they do -- do not have recourse to go
10 after the financial coverage that should have been 11 afforded to them by requiring Brown -- Dr. Brown to have 12 adequate coverage. So that's -- all they're trying to 13 get from the hospital is the -- the amount that should 14 have been covered under Brown's policy.
15 Q. All right. Doctor, I think that's all I've got 16 for you.
17 A. Thanks.
18 MR. WRIGHT: Let me ask you a few questions.
19 THE WITNESS: Sure.
20 EXAMINATION BY MR. WRIGHT:
21 Q. Dr. Hyde, when I -- during your answers to my 22 questions, would you -- if you're asked for opinions, 23 would you confine your opinions to a reasonable degree of 24 certainty in the field of hospital administration?
25 A. I will and I always do, so, yes, sir.

Page 195

1 Q. Okay. Now, just so you know -- and I want you
2 to take this as a fact -- the JUA policy is not a consent
3 policy. Okay?
4 A. Okay.
5 Q. JUA can settle the policy without the 6 physician's consent.
7 A. Okay.
8 Q. The MagMutual policy is a consent policy --
9 A. Okay.
10 Q. -- if that comes up.
11 MR. SHAW: Well, I object to that because I
12 don't know where that's in any sort of record that I
13 have. I don't have a copy of any of those policies.
14 MR. WRIGHT: Yeah, you do.
15 MR. SHAW: The full policies?
16 MR. WRIGHT: Yeah.
17 MR. SHAW: None of that has been produced to 18 me.
19 MR. WRIGHT: They're in the exhibits. I sent 20 you a copy of all the exhibits.
21 MR. SHAW: Of the full policy?
22 MR. WRIGHT: Yeah. Uh-huh. I'll show you.
23 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Now, you were asked about the 24 Institute of Medicine publication. And that would be 25 Exhibit 13. According to the 1999 Institute of Medicine

1 publication "To Err is Human," how many hospital deaths
2 per year are caused from physician negligence?
3 A. Anywhere from 44,000 to 98,000.
4 Q. Okay. Now, does that cover patients who do not 5 die but suffer serious injuries from medical errors such 6 as was suffered by Ms. McCord and Ms. Sherfield?
7 A. No. That's only deaths. It's not injuries or 8 any level or significance of injury.
9 Q. Ten years later -- and this is Exhibit 14 --
10 the Inspector General for the Department of Health and 11 Human Services issued a report. Do you have that report
12 in front of you?
13 A. I do. And I'm reading it right now. I'm 14 looking at it.
15 Q. And how many deaths from Medicare patients per 16 year?
17 A. Let me get to that. My copy is highlighted.
18 This isn't.
19 Q. Well, we'll come back to that.
20 A. Well, I'm -- I'm getting close to it. I
21 just -- I'm sorry. I had to -- yeah, if you would, I'll 22 keep on looking.
23 Q. All right. Do you consider the report of the 24 Inspector General for the Department of Health and Human 25 Services to be reliable?

Page 197

1 A. Extremely reliable. Yes, sir.
2 Q. Do you consider the report "To Err is Human" to 3 be reliable?
4 A. I do.
5 Q. The next article is Exhibit 15, the Journal of 6 Patient Safety.
7 A. Yes.
8 Q. And do you consider that report to be reliable?
9 A. I do.
10 Q. And in that document, is it true that it's been 11 estimated that between 210,000 and 440,000 patients
12 suffer some type of preventable harms in U.S. hospitals
13 that contribute to their death?
14 A. Yes. That's the results section that says
15 that.
16 Q. Okay. Now, Dr. Hyde, in your opinion -- as an 17 expert in the field of hospital administration, is it 18 your opinion that there has been and is an epidemic of 19 medical negligence causing serious injuries and deaths to 20 patients in the hospitals in the United States?
21 A. Absolutely. You look at the progression and 22 you see that it's continually going up and -- and also 23 realize the fact that there's underreporting going on.
24 Q. Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion, based 25 upon the fact there is an epidemic of medical malpractice

Page 198

1 that's causing serious deaths and injuries in the United
2 States, is it the common practice of hospitals to require
3 physicians to carry and maintain professional liability
4 insurance?
5 A. Yes. I'm sorry. I was waiting. It's 6 definitely not only a requirement, it's prevailing and -- 7 and, like I said before, I've never seen a hospital that 8 didn't require that that was open more than two days.
9 Q. Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion, is one
10 of the purposes for the hospital requiring that 11 professional liability insurance be carried by surgeons
12 that operate at a hospital is to benefit and protect 13 innocent patients who are injured while in the hospital
14 due to the negligent conduct of the surgeons to have a 15 means to recover damages for injuries wrongfully 16 inflicted upon them?
17 A. Yes, sir. That's one of the benefits and one 18 of the -- one of the requirements to have.
19 Q. All right. Let me turn your attention to the 20 public policy of South Carolina.
21 A. Okay. Do I have that as an exhibit, or are you
22 just going to --
23 Q. No.
24 A. Okay. Okay.
25 Q. Yeah. We're going to get to it.

Page 199

1 A. Okay.
2 Q. As far as public policy of South Carolina, do
3 you have an opinion whether the public policy of South
4 Carolina requires hospitals to monitor patient care
5 through oversight?
6 A. Absolutely.
7 MR. SHAW: Objection.
8 THE WITNESS: Sorry.
9 A. I absolutely do.
10 Q. (By Mr. Wright) And have you reviewed the 11 regulations of the South Carolina Department of Health
12 and Environmental Control, regulation 61-16?
13 A. Yes, sir. I've got that in front of me -- or 14 will have.
15 Q. Let me -- hang on just a second.
16 A. I've got that short form somewhere.
17 Q. Dr. Hyde, I'm referring to section 202 of the 18 DHEC regulations that state that "The governing board
19 shall be the supreme authority in the hospital
20 responsible for the management control of the hospital
21 and appointment of medical staff." In your opinion, is 22 that the board of directors of the hospital?
23 A. It is the governing board.
24 Q. And next section -- next sentence, is it a 25 requirement under the law of South Carolina for the

Page 200

1 hospital to have a written set of bylaws for the 2 operation of the hospital?
3 A. Yes, it is. That's a requirement.
4 Q. And is a further requirement, in your 5 professional opinion, that the chief administrative 6 officer of the hospital shall be responsible for the 7 administration of the facility and shall see that all the 8 bylaws and amendments are complied with?
9 A. Yes, sir.
10 Q. Is that a state law?
11 A. It is. It's a state law through DHEC, D- --
12 MR. SHAW: Objection.
13 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Now, if you would, Doctor, 14 turn to Exhibit 4-A, which is a portion of the -- 15 A. I've got it, the medical staff bylaws.
16 Q. -- medical staff bylaws. And in the preamble
17 to the medical staff bylaws on page 4 --
18 A. I've got it somewhere. Sorry.
19 Q. Here you are. You can tag along.
20 A. Okay.
21 Q. Is it a requirement of these bylaws for the 22 medical staff to concentrate on quality patient care
23 under the ultimate authority of the board?
24 MR. SHAW: Objection.
25 A. Yes, sir.

Page 201

1 Q. (By Mr. Wright) And these bylaws, according to 2 the preamble, were established by whom?
3 A. By the board and approved by the board.
4 Q. Okay. And that's the governing body of the
5 hospital; is that correct?
6 A. Correct. The supreme authority, according to 7 South Carolina law and/or rules and regulations.
8 Q. And according to item 3.2.1 of the medical 9 staff bylaws, as far as the requirement for continuing 10 appointment to the medical staff under item E is the 11 requirement that the physicians' privilege shall have and 12 maintain valid professional liability insurance coverage?
13 A. Yes, sir.
14 Q. Now, in this particular case, you've been asked 15 some questions about the insurance policy at issue, which 16 was a claims-made policy; is that correct?
17 A. Yes.
18 Q. In your professional opinion, if the 19 claims-made policy is not -- if the protection under the 20 claims-made policy is not continued by the physician, is 21 that maintaining the insurance coverage?
22 A. No.
23 MR. SHAW: Objection.
24 A. It's -- it's failure to maintain a continuous
25 insurance or insurability and protection.

Page 202

1 Q. (By Mr. Wright) All right. All right. So in
2 this particular case, as it's been pointed out, the
3 insurance coverage that was available to Ms. McCord and 4 Ms. Sherfield was subsequently divested of them because
5 the insurance coverage that Dr. Brown subsequently
6 obtained either did not obtain extended coverage
7 endorsement or prior claims endorsement, correct?
8 A. That -- that's absolutely --
9 MR. SHAW: Objection.
10 A. -- correct.
11 THE WITNESS: Sorry.
12 MR. SHAW: That's all right. I didn't
13 understand that question, so I was objecting.
14 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Let me restate it. In this
15 particular case, do you have an opinion whether or not 16 the insurance coverage that was at one time available for
17 Ms. McCord under her three surgeries and Ms. Sherfield
18 under her surgery was not maintained because there was no
19 subsequent purchase of expanded coverage endorsement or
20 prior claims endorsement by Dr. Brown?
21 A. Absolutely correct. That's -- that's the
22 reason that they did not have coverage, because he had
23 failed to buy those --
24 Q. In your --
25 A. -- limits.

Page 203

1 Q. Yeah. In your professional opinion as a
2 hospital administrator, would you consider that fact
3 where the insurance coverage became divested as being a
4 violation of the medical staff bylaws?
5 A. Absolutely. It's clear that it says have in
6 effect at all times the minimum professional liability
7 insurance. And it -- that is a de facto violation if it
8 does not cover part of the -- the patient population that
9 this individual had.
10 Q. All right. Let me ask you to look at Exhibit
11 number -- I think it's 7, the subsidy contract.
12 A. Yes, sir. Got it.
13 Q. Dr. Hyde, look at -- that's the contract
14 between Laurens County Hospital and whom?
15 A. And Dr. Byron Brown.
16 Q. And, Dr. Hyde, if you would, look at article 5,
17 I believe.
18 A. I've got it. Termination.
19 Q. Well, let me ask you to go over to article 6.
20 A. Okay.
21 Q. Does this article require that physician to 22 maintain professional liability insurance?
23 A. It does.
24 Q. In what amounts?
25 A. In the amount of 1 million per claim or

Page 204

1 3 million aggregate.
2 Q. Okay. All right. Now, if you would, look over
3 on article 2A on page 2.
4 A. I've got it.
5 Q. Where it says, "Throughout the term of the 6 agreement and the repayment period" -- which we'll get
7 into a little bit later -- "the physician, Dr. Brown,
8 must comply with all provisions of the medical staff
9 bylaws of the hospital as well as other policies and 10 procedures, rules, and regulations." Do you see that?
11 A. I do.
12 Q. Now, in your opinion, did Dr. Brown comply with 13 provisions of the medical staff bylaws and this contract
14 by maintaining the insurance and the required minimum
15 limits?
16 A. No. He failed to comply. I think it's a
17 breach of the contract.
18 Q. All right, sir. And under article 5, item 3
19 under there, if the hospital -- if the physician fails to 20 maintain the professional liability insurance, it gets
21 canceled, then what is the right of the hospital?
22 A. Well, bottom line is they can cancel the 23 contract -- "may elect to terminate or cancel the 24 contract."
25 Q. All right. And, if you note in article 4 where

Page 205

1 it says "Repayment," do you see that where the subsidy
2 will be forgiven at a rate prorated out for ten years,
3 I -- .
4 A. I do see ten years, 120 months.
5 Q. Yeah. Now, if you would, turn over to
6 Exhibit 29. And what is the amount that the hospital was
7 waiving of that debt of Dr. Brown each month?
8 A. $5,370 per month.
9 Q. And as of May the 31st, 2011, which is a little
10 bit over a year and a half later, what is the amount
11 that's owed by Dr. Brown to the hospital?
12 A. $257,781.
13 Q. In your professional opinion, did the hospital
14 have the right that if Dr. Brown did not maintain the 15 insurance, to require the full amount of the $257,000 to 16 be repaid?
17 A. Yes. It's stipulated in the contract. They 18 terminate the contract and then ask for whatever the 19 outstanding balance was at that time.
20 Q. When you testified earlier about the hospital
21 had right to require Dr. Brown to purchase the other
22 insurance to be in compliance, if they had not -- if
23 Dr. Brown had not purchased that and they had requested
24 it, could the full amount of the indebtedness been called
25 upon and set to repayment by Dr. Brown?

1 A. Yes. That $257,000, odd cents -- or odd
2 dollars.
3 Q. All right. Now, Exhibit Number 35, if you
4 would, look at that.
5 A. Yes.
6 Q. This is a check, Premium Financing Specialists,
7 Inc. Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion, was that a
8 financing mechanism that Dr. Brown could have used to pay
9 the premiums as he had in the past?
10 A. Yes. It basically is somebody paying it at 11 once and then getting paid to take periodic payments and
12 charge interest.
13 Q. Okay. I'm going to skip over a lot of that
14 because of time. Now, you were asked about the document,
15 Conditions of Admission. And that would be either
16 Exhibit 7 or Exhibit 8, so, if you would, turn to that.
17 A. Sure. It's number 8.
18 Q. Okay. Now, you're aware from the testimony of 19 Ms. Reeves that this document was prepared by employees
20 of Laurens County Hospital?
21 A. That was my understanding that it was, yes.
22 And that's my recollection of her testimony.
23 Q. All right.
24 MR. SHAW: I'm sorry. Whose testimony?
25 MR. WRIGHT: Reeves, I think.

1 MR. SHAW: I don't think she testified to that.
2 Might have been Sandra Thompson, but I don't --
3 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Okay. Well, one of them
4 testified to that. And I believe she testified it had
5 been in existence since 1993.
6 A. I recall it being testified to. I didn't
7 remember who. It was one of the two, but, yes.
8 Q. All right. Now, did Laurens County Hospital
9 choose to list all of the services that it provides in 10 that document or did it just refer to all services that
11 may be rendered?
12 A. I think it -- to me, it was a blanket
13 reference --
14 Q. Let me show you right there.
15 A. It says, "The undersigned agrees he signs as 16 agent in consideration of services to be rendered." It
17 doesn't say just -- it said all services, or I take that
18 to be services, period, including everything.
19 Q. All right. So I'll ask you again. Did -- the 20 hospital, when it was drawing this agreement up, did it
21 choose to delineate all of the different services that it
22 was going to provide to Ms. McCord or Ms. Sherfield, or 23 did it just refer generally to all services?
24 A. Generally all. It didn't specify or have a
25 laundry list of everything.

1 Q. Based upon your background, training, and
2 experience, in your opinion, when hospitals enter into
3 contracts with their patients, do the hospitals -- are
4 the hospitals required to comply with all state laws and
5 regulations?
6 A. Absolutely.
7 Q. In your professional opinion, when a hospital
8 enters into a contract with its patients, is the hospital
9 required to comply with all federal laws and regulations?
10 A. Absolutely. Yes, sir. That apply to them, of 11 course.
12 Q. Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion, when a
13 hospital enters into a contract with its patients, is it
14 required to comply with regulations and promulgations set
15 forth by its accreditation agency, the Joint Commission?
16 A. Yes.
17 Q. Dr. Hyde, when a hospital enters into a
18 contract with its patient, is there a requirement that
19 the hospital comply with the medical staff bylaws that it
20 has drawn up, it has approved, the medical staff has 21 approved, and that relate specifically to portions that
22 affect the rights and safety of the patient?
23 MR. SHAW: Objection.
24 A. Again, absolutely they're required to do that.
25 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Dr. Hyde, in your professional

1 opinion, as part of the contract, is the hospital
2 required to comply with contracts that it enters into
3 with physicians, surgeons that are going to perform
4 operations on the patients, and when those provisions in
5 the contract comply -- I mean relate to the health,
6 safety, welfare, or legal rights of the patient? Are
7 they required to comply with those?
8 A. Again, yes, sir.
9 Q. And, Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion,
10 did the hospital comply with the requirements of state
11 law, which was the adoption of the bylaws, that the 12 bylaws required that the physicians have and maintain
13 professional liability insurance?
14 MR. SHAW: Objection.
15 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Did the hospital comply with 16 that?
17 MR. SHAW: Objection.
18 A. No. They failed to comply with that section of 19 the expecta- -- of the bylaws and also the requirement by 20 the state that they -- that they are bound to apply -- or 21 comply -- comply with the bylaws.
22 Q. (By Mr. Wright) And how about, in your
23 professional opinion, did the hospital comply with the 24 obligations under the contract with the physician
25 requiring that physician to maintain insurance coverage

Page 210

1 that would have covered and maintained Ms. McCord and
2 Ms. Sherfield?
3 A. No. They failed to comply with that also.
4 Q. Okay. Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion,
5 do you have an opinion -- or let me back up. Dr. Hyde,
6 in your professional opinion, is the fact that the 7 governing board of the hospital required in its bylaws,
8 the medical staff bylaws that were prepared by the 9 medical staff, to require all physicians to maintain 10 minimum insurance, and the hospital required, in this 11 particular case, Dr. Brown, that it was giving money to,
12 to maintain insurance -- professional liability insurance
13 in minimum amounts of 1 million and 3 million, is that an 14 indication, in your opinion, of the importance of 15 professional liability insurance in a hospital setting so
16 that injured parties, through no fault of their own,
17 would have a means to recover a portion of their 18 injuries?
19 MR. SHAW: Objection.
20 A. Of course it is. It's obvious to me that 21 that's -- they fulfilled on paper their obligation that 22 they were going to do it, but they failed to do that.
23 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Let me ask you a few questions
24 about the relationship between hospitals and their 25 patients.

1 A. Sure.
2 Q. Now, patients that go into the hospital for 3 surgery to be performed, how would you classify that as 4 far as potential problems that may occur or benefits to 5 the patient?
6 A. Well, the patient enters any hospital with the 7 expectation that the hospital is going to provide care at 8 the standard of care, they're going to require their 9 physicians to perform according to their standard of 10 care, they're going to require the physicians and 11 other -- any other staff member to do what's required of 12 them vis-à-vis bylaws, rules and regulations, standards, 13 laws, federal, state regulations. But the patient has 14 expectation that the hospital is going to take care of 15 them and mandate the compliance of all the individuals
16 that work there, whether or not they're employed or not,
17 that they're going to perform a way -- according to the 18 way they should vis-à-vis standards and/or policies,
19 procedures, bylaws, rules and regulations.
20 Q. It's been said by some that the primary 21 consideration of the hospital and the hospital staff is 22 for the safety of the patient. Do you agree with that 23 statement?
24 MR. SHAW: Objection.
25 A. Well, I do. And it goes back to Hippocrat- --

Page 212

1 the Hippocratic Oath saying "Above all, do no harm." So
2 we're set with the fact that we've got to mandate our 3 compliance and mandate others' compliance that we're not
4 going to have any harm to the patient. So safety is a
5 corollary of no harm -- or quality is a corollary of no
6 harm.
7 Q. (By Mr. Wright) And as far as the medical 8 staff bylaws that refer to the quality of patient care, 9 is that the same phrase, quality of patient care, used in 10 hospital journals and Joint Commission statements as far
11 as the way the hospital is supposed to render treatment
12 and services to patients?
13 A. It's about as universal as you can get. It's 14 across all of the -- all of the above and more. It's -- 15 that's what we're in the business for, quality of care
16 and to try to do no harm to the patient and protect them.
17 Q. Okay. Do you consider the protection of the 18 patient to include the fact of having the hospital
19 monitor and require maintaining professional liability
20 insurance by the surgeons that perform surgery in the 21 hospital?
22 A. I do. And, obviously, everybody else does
23 because it's -- it's a uni- -- I guess it's a generality
24 and uniformity across every place I know of that mandates
25 medical staff, like this facility did, have adequate and

Page 213

1 appropriate liability coverage for medical malpractice.
2 Q. All right. Dr. Hyde, do you have an opinion
3 whether or not it is common practice or common
4 occurrence, I guess you would say, for people that 5 undergo surgery that could have a serious effect on their 6 quality of life and even life or death? Does that 7 usually happen in hospitals?
8 MR. SHAW: Objection.
9 A. It does. I didn't get all of that question, if 10 you could sort of give me a different way. But I -- 11 Q. (By Mr. Wright) As far as when people -- when 12 the patients go into the hospital --
13 A. Okay.
14 Q. -- they put themselves in an environment -- or 15 I'm asking you is it common for them to put themselves
16 into an environment whereby they undergo surgery that 17 could have a substantial effect, either positive or 18 negative, on their future quality of life and even life
19 and death?
20 A. Oh. I see the question now. Yes, sir.
21 They're putting their lives, bodies, everything in our
22 hands expec- -- expecting that we're going to take care
23 of them, that we're going to do whatever it takes to make 24 sure that we can try to comply with that. I say "try."
25 Things can occur. But, yet, if somebody undergoes

1 anesthesia, they may be close to death -- if they have a
2 body cavity opened up, they're close to death. They're 3 expecting us to give them quality outcomes and safety and 4 security.
5 Q. When you referred earlier to a special
6 relationship, is this what -- would this be embodied in 7 your definition of a special relationship?
8 A. I was getting ready to add that. The special 9 relationship -- we're not talking about buying tires or 10 cars or something that -- or a Coke versus Pepsi. We're 11 talking about a special relationship between somebody
12 that knows very little about what's going on and somebody
13 that knows so much about what's going on. So there is a 14 knowledge differential.
15 And it gets back to what I was trying to say,
16 agency theory. The patient is truly making the physician
17 or the hospital an agent because they don't have the 18 wherewithal to understand all of what's going to happen
19 to them or all the hazards they could encounter during 20 this process. So that -- and I've seen this before, not 21 in South Carolina but other states and other documents
22 that say this is a very specialized or special 23 consideration arrangement. So, therefore, you have that 24 expectation from both parties because of, like I said,
25 knowledge differential of what's going on and the

1 severity of the outcome potential.
2 Q. Dr. Hyde, in addition to the hospital drawing
3 up and preparing the contract, do you have an opinion
4 which one of the parties -- either the hospital or the 5 ladies, patients -- is the sophisticated party in that
6 relationship?
7 A. Oh, I definitely have an opinion of that.
8 Q. And what is that?
9 A. That, like I was trying to say earlier about 10 patients, patients may be sophisticated in a lot of 11 things, but they're not sophisticated in health care or 12 medical care or hospital care. Again, it's that 13 knowledge differential where the sophistication lies with 14 a facility, not with the patient. So, therefore, the 15 patient is not expected to know what happened to them,
16 what caused what happened to them, or even what's going 17 to happen to them in best circumstances during that 18 procedure. They have entrusted to this special group
19 their lives, bodies, whatever, and hoping that the group
20 does what the group is supposed to. In this case, the 21 group would be hospital employees and/or physicians.
22 Q. All right, sir. Now, I believe you testified 23 you read the deposition of Ms. Reeves, the manager of 24 medical staff services?
25 A. Yes, sir, I did.

Page 216

1 Q. And do you recall she testified she's 2 responsible for making sure that physicians complied with 3 the insurance requirements set forth in the medical staff
4 bylaws?
5 A. I did see that, yes, sir.
6 Q. Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion, do you
7 consider that the manager of the medical staff services
8 was properly trained or educated concerning medical 9 malpractice insurance policies when she did not know the 10 difference of the coverages between a claims-made policy
11 and an occurrence policy?
12 MR. SHAW: Objection.
13 A. I didn't think that -- from what her deposition
14 told me after reading it -- that she knew much about this 15 process at all and didn't know the nuances of what it
16 takes to be able to catch different major issues long
17 before they blow up in your face.
18 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Do you have an opinion whether 19 or not you think -- do you have an opinion whether or not 20 she was properly trained or educated concerning medical 21 malpractice insurance policies when she testified that no 22 one from the hospital ever explained or informed her of 23 the difference between claims-made policy and occurrence
24 policy?
25 MR. SHAW: Objection.

Page 217

1 A. Yeah. I can't see what education or training
2 she had, if anything, to not know that fundamental of a
3 difference in question. That's one of the fundamental 4 questions when it comes to insurance; what type? What's 5 the difference? What does it mean? I was, again,
6 appalled just that somebody didn't have that knowledge
7 that was doing this role.
8 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Do you think she was properly
9 trained when she did not know the necessity of extended
10 coverage reporting, nor the necessity of prior acts
11 coverage, nor what either one of those meant?
12 A. No. I did not think she was properly trained.
13 Q. In your opinion, was she properly trained or 14 educated when she did not know the effect of the change
15 in insurance companies on existing potential claims of 16 patients injured at Laurens County Hospital by the 17 malpractice of Dr. Brown? Was she properly trained?
18 A. No, I -- she was not properly trained.
19 Q. In your opinion, was she properly trained and 20 did she properly follow up when she had questions when 21 she never asked the insurance companies to explain
22 coverage even though the insurance policies advised
23 interested persons to contact the company for further
24 information?
25 A. Again, no, she was not properly trained,

NAME

The physicians, osteopaths, and dentists who have been appointed to the Medical Staff and granted Clinical Privileges to attend to patients in the Hospital shall be collectively known as The Medical Staff or Staff of Laurens County Health Care System.

ARTICLE II

PURPOSES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

2.1 Purposes

The purposes of the Staff are:

2.1.1 To ensure that all patients admitted to or treated in any of the facilities, departments, or services of the Hospital shall receive the quality of patient care that is achievable commensurate with community resources available;

2.1.2 To be accountable to the Board for ensuring an optimal level of professional performance of all LIPs authorized to practice in the Hospital through the appropriate delineation of Clinical Privileges and through an ongoing review and evaluation of each LIP's performance in the Hospital;

2.1.3 To provide oversight of care, treatment and services provided by the members of the Medical Staff, assure uniform quality of patient care treatment and services and be accountable to the Board for same;

2.1.4 To be accountable to the Board for reporting the results of organizational performance improvement activities conducted in accordance with the Hospital's committee designated to improve organizational performance;

2.1.5 To provide an appropriate educational setting that will assist in maintaining patient care standards and that will lead to continuous advancement in professional knowledge and skill;

2.1.6 To initiate and maintain rules and regulations for the proper functioning of the Staff;

2.1.7 To provide a method whereby issues concerning the Staff and Hospital may be discussed by the Staff with the Board and the President/CEO; and

2.1.8 To create any other purposes that may be determined necessary, from time to time, by agreement between the Board and the Staff.

2.2 Responsibilities

The responsibilities of the Staff are:

2.2.1 To account and report to the Board concerning organizational performance improvement activities in the Hospital:

2.2.2 To assure the qualifications and competence of LIPs. through a credentialing procedure, including mechanisms for appointment and reappointment and the delineation of Clinical Privileges;

2.2.3 To implement, if necessary, a continuing education program based primarily on the type and nature of care offered by the Hospital and the needs and findings demonstrated through the organizational performance improvement program;

2.2.4 To review the utilization of Hospital resources based on the requirements of the Hospital's utilization review plan;

2.2.5 To evaluate and monitor the quality of patient care.

2.2.6 To initiate and pursue Professional Review Actions with respect to LIPs when warranted;

2.2.7 To develop and monitor compliance with these Bylaws, the Rules and Regulations of the Staff, and other Hospital policies, all as may be in effect and as may be from time to time amended;

2.2.8 To assist in identifying community health needs, to assist in setting appropriate institutional goals, and to recommend programs to meet those needs and goals;

2.2.9 To assure that the same level of care will be provided for all patients receiving a similar service, regardless of the location in which the service is provided;

2.2.10 To participate in the on call coverage of unassigned patients;

2.2.11 To carry out other responsibilities which may be added from time to time by agreement between the Board and the Staff; and

2.2.12 To exercise the authority granted by these Bylaws as necessary to adequately fulfill the foregoing responsibilities.

ARTICLE III

STAFF APPOINTMENT

3.1 Nature of Appointment

Staff appointment is a privilege extended by the Hospital and is not a right of any LIP. Staff Appointment and Clinical Privileges shall be extended only to professionally competent LIPs who continuously meet the qualifications, standards, and requirements set forth in these Bylaws. Appointment to the Staff shall confer on the appointee only such Clinical Privileges and Prerogatives as have been granted by the Board in accordance with these Bylaws. No LIP shall admit or provide services to patients in the Hospital unless he or she is appointed to the Staff or has been granted Privileges in accordance with the procedures set forth in Article X of these Bylaws. This requirement also applies to those physicians in administrative positions who desire Medical Staff membership and to those physicians who provide medical services to Hospital patients by contract.

3.2 Qualifications for Appointment

3.2.1 Basic Qualifications

The following shall be requirements for initial and continuing appointment to the Medical Staff:

(a) LIPs shall possess an unrestricted license to practice medicine, osteopathy, dentistry, or podiatry in the State of South Carolina;

(b) LIPs shall document their experience, background, training, demonstrated ability, and physical and mental health status with sufficient adequacy to demonstrate to the Staff and Board that any patient treated by them will receive care of the generally recognized professional level established by the Hospital and that they are qualified to provide a needed service within the Hospital;

(c) LIPs shall be determined, on the basis of documented references, to adhere strictly to the legally enforceable ethics of their respective professions, to work cooperatively with others, and to be willing to participate in the discharge of Staff responsibilities;

(d) LIPs shall have a record free from current Medicare/Medicaid/ TRICARE sanctions. Practitioners shall furnish all information concerning felony convictions, and any and all allegations or convictions of criminal activity related to his or her professional practice, that would raise questions of criminal propensity or undesirable conduct;

(e) LIPs shall maintain valid professional liability insurance coverage in the amounts deemed necessary by the Board from time to time and shall provide a current certificate of insurance as recommended;

(f) LIPs (with the exception of pathologists and radiologists) shall have valid and unrestricted South Carolina and Federal Drug Enforcement Administration registrations;

(g) LIPs shall be eligible for full Staff membership or Clinical Privileges only after the results of a query to the National Practitioner Data Bank have hearing or appeal. An applicant who has received an adverse decision regarding an application shall not be allowed to reapply for a period of two (2) years after notice of such decision is sent.

7.2.4 Statement of Release and Immunity From Liability

The following are express conditions applicable to any applicant, to any person appointed to the Staff, and to anyone having or seeking Privileges to practice his or her profession in the Hospital during his or her term of appointment or reappointment. In addition, these statements shall be referenced on the application form, and by applying for appointment, reappointment, or Clinical Privileges the applicant expressly accepts these conditions during the processing and consideration of his or her application, regardless of whether he or she is granted the desired appointment, reappointment, or Privileges:

(a) The applicant or appointee extends permission to, and releases from liability, this Hospital and its representatives (and any third party which provides information in connection with the application, as long as the information is provided in good faith and without significant misstatements) with respect to any and all civil liability which might arise from any acts, communications, reports, recommendations, or disclosures involving an applicant or appointee, performed, made, requested, or received by this Hospital and its representatives, to, from, or by any third party, including other appointees to the Staff, concerning:

(1) activities relating, but not limited, to:

1. appointment or Clinical Privileges, including Temporary Privileges;

2. reappraisals undertaken for reappointment or for increase or decrease in Clinical Privileges;

3. reduction or suspension of Clinical Privileges or revocation of Staff appointment, or any other disciplinary sanction;

4. suspension;

5. appellate reviews;

6. focused professional practice evaluations and ongoing professional practice evaluations;

7. Hospital and Medical Staff, Departmental, service or committee activities relating to the quality or patient care or the professional conduct of an appointee to the Staff or of any individual granted Privileges to practice in the Hospital; and applicant's fitness for appointment to the Medical Staff. At least four (4) of the six (6) professional references shall be provided by physicians who practice in the same medical specialty and who exercise substantially similar Clinical Privileges for which the LIP is applying. Professional references for physicians practicing for the first time after completing his or her residency program should typically be provided by the applicant's academic supervising physicians. Special circumstances regarding the ability of the LIP to provide such professional references shall be considered on a case by case basis by the appropriate Department Chairman.

Professional references refer, as appropriate, to the applicant's relevant training and/or experience, current competence, fulfillment of obligations as a member of a Medical Staff, and any effects of health status on performance and/or Privileges to be recommended.

7.2.9 Information on Liability Insurance Coverage:

Information as to whether the applicant currently has professional liability insurance coverage in the amount determined from time to time by the Board. New applicants must provide proof of malpractice insurance for the last ten (10) years.

7.2.10 Information of Affiliations with Other Hospitals or Facilities

The names and locations of all hospitals and other health care facilities where applicant currently has clinical privileges to provide patient care.

7.2.11. A criminal background check shall be conducted on each new applicant.

7.2.12 The application shall require the applicant to provide accurate answers concerning the following items. The applicant shall agree to immediately notify the Medical Staff Office in writing should any of the information regarding these items change during the period of their Medical Staff membership or Privileges. If the applicant provides information identifying a problem with any of the following items, the applicant will be required to submit a written explanation of the circumstances involved.

(a) Have any disciplinary actions been initiated or are any pending against you by any state licensure board?

(b) Has your license to practice in any state ever been relinquished, denied, limited, suspended, or revoked, whether voluntarily or involuntarily?

(c) Have you ever been asked to surrender your license?

(d) Have you ever been suspended, sanctioned, or otherwise restricted from participating in any private, federal, or state health insurance program (for example, Medicare, TRICARE, or Medicaid)?

(t) Have any judgments or settlements been made against you in professional liability cases?

(u) Recent photograph of the applicant to verify identity.

(v) Results of any previously mandated drug testing and other health testing in relation to Privileges requested.

(w) Proof of certification by the Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG) for all foreign school graduates.

7.3 Processing the Application

7.3.1 Applicant's Burden

The applicant shall signify his or her willingness to appear for interviews in regard to his or her application and have the burden of producing adequate information for a proper evaluation of his or her experience, background, training, demonstrated ability, previous performance, physical health status, and, upon request of the MEC or the Board, mental health status, and of resolving any doubts about these or any of the other basic qualifications specified in Section 3.2.1.

7.3.2 Exclusivity Policy:

Applications for initial appointment or for Clinical Privileges related to Hospital facilities or services covered by exclusive agreements will not be accepted or processed unless submitted in accordance with the existing contract or agreement with the Hospital. Non-acceptance of an application based on this Section 7.3.2 shall not entitle the applicant to the procedural rights as provided in Article X and in the Fair Hearing Procedures, because such action is not based upon the competency or professional conduct of the applicant.

7.3.3 Verification of Information

The applicant shall deliver a completed application to the President/CEO, who shall in timely fashion seek to collect or verify (from primary sources whenever possible) the references, licensure, training/experience, competence and other qualification evidence submitted in the application. Upon receipt of an application, the President/CEO or his designee shall make a query to the National Practitioner Data Bank for the purpose of reviewing the applicant's record. The President/CEO or his designee shall seek comments from the applicant's residency director concerning the applicant's competency to perform the Clinical Privileges requested, and the President/CEO shall also seek to obtain information from at least one personal reference in each place where the applicant has trained for at least six months, as well as from each hospital where the applicant currently has Privileges. The President/CEO shall promptly notify the applicant of any problems in obtaining the information required and it shall then be the applicant's

THIS AGREEMENT IS SUBJECT TO ARBITRATION

AGREEMENT made this 14th day of February 2002 by and between Byron Brown, M. D. (hereinafter referred to as "Physician") and Laurens County Health Care System hereinafter referred to as "Hospital").

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, Physician is an OB/GYN having his medical degree in the State of South Carolina; and

WHEREAS, Hospital is a political subdivision of the State of South Carolina charged with the responsibility of providing quality health care to the citizens of Laurens County; and,

WHEREAS, Hospital has performed an assessment of the existing needs of the Laurens County community, and the assessment indicates there exists within the community a demand for physicians trained in the specialty of OB/GYN to efficiently and conveniently satisfy patient care needs;

WHEREAS, Physician is licensed to practice medicine in South Carolina; and

WHEREAS, Physician desires to establish an OB/GYN practice in Laurens County, State of South Carolina and Hospital agrees to assist Physician in establishing the practice in Laurens County, South Carolina:

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the terms, conditions, covenants, agreements and obligations herein stated it is now mutually agreed by and between the parties hereto as follows:

ARTICLE I: OBLIGATIONS OF THE HOSPITAL

A. Contingent upon the Physician's fulfillment of his obligations and this Agreement and subject to the limitations herein set forth, the Hospital agrees to subsidize the net practice collections of Physician for a 36-month period beginning on July 8 2002, contingent upon approval of credentialling at the hospital and opening of an office in Laurens County, unless otherwise agreed in writing, not to exceed $27,000 per month in any month under this Agreement.

B. The net practice income for the purposes of this Agreement equals all collections by Physician for professional fees and office or hospital practice and any other income from the practice of medicine, less reasonable, professional expenses attributable directly to Physician necessary to conduct the practice of medicine during the 36-month period. Professional expenses shall include all expenses normally and reasonably associated with the operation of the medical practice directly attributable to Physician and which are deductible for federal income tax purposes, with the exception of the following: contributions to retirement or deferred compensation plans; federal, state, and local income taxes; professional liability insurance.

B. A sample monthly calculation may be as follows:

Net practice collections	$10,000
Subsidy amount	$27,000
Hospital payment	$17,000

In the event net practice income for any month exceeds $27,000, one-half (1/2) of the excess shall be paid by Physician to Hospital to be applied against subsidy amounts already advanced, or the following month's subsidy shall be reduced by a like amount.

ARTICLE II: PHYSICIAN OBLIGATION

A. Establishment of Practice and Time Commitment:

1. On or before July 8, 2002, the Physician shall establish his practice in Laurens County, South Carolina. Physician shall, in good faith and with due diligence, pursue the practice on a full-time basis for at least 40 hours per weeks for 48 weeks per year to include office and hospital practice and shall, in good faith, use his best efforts to develop a successful practice. Physician shall maintain reasonable hours so that the practice can be developed. He will maintain his license to practice medicine in South Carolina, and his provisional/active status on the medical staff in good standing throughout the term of this Agreement and repayment period and shall comply with "all provisions of the medical staff By-laws of the Hospital" as well as any other policies, procedures, rules, and regulations issued by the Hospital which govern its medical staff.

2. Physician hereby covenants and agrees to furnish and to make available to Hospital a reporting by the 10th day following the prior month ended, or as soon as practical after month-end. The report will consist of gross billings, gross collections, professional expenses, net practice income or net practice loss, records of deposits to the account of Physician and his banking institution, office visits and hospital visits. Any subsidy payment due to Physician shall be paid on or before the 15th day of the month for the preceding month, provided the first payment shall be due Aug 15, 2002.

3. Physician hereby authorizes the Hospital to conduct an audit of Physician's books and records upon reasonable notice during normal business hours.

4. Physician agrees to provide his best efforts to bill within a reasonable time period after services are rendered and will make attempts to collect receivables as expediently as possible.

5. The Physician must treat Medicaid and Medicare patients, and do so in a nondiscriminatory manner.

6. Physician agrees to provide services based on an on-call rotation to all patients he is requested by other Physicians in Laurens County to see at the Laurens County Hospital for purposes of consultation, emergency services, or otherwise, regardless of type of insurance or patient's ability to pay.

7. No benefit or payment hereunder shall, in any way, be based upon referral of patients or be volume sensitive.

8. The Physician shall exercise diligence to assist the Hospital in controlling the costs of the Hospital related to medical services including completing medical records on a timely basis and participating in the Hospital's quality assurance, utilization review, and peer review programs.

9. The Physician shall cooperate with the Hospital and shall properly notify the Hospital regarding legal claims, investigations, or lawsuits involving this Agreement or any medical services provided by the Physician.

10. The Physician agrees that, during the term of this Agreement, he will provide professional services to the community and to the Hospital patients including providing periodic medical care within his specialty to medically indigent; reasonable on-call rotation in the emergency room; and presentations to community groups and organizations as appropriate.

ARTICLE III: MOVING EXPENSES

Moving expenses incurred by the Physician's family will be reimbursed by the Hospital in conformance with the provisions of this Agreement. Unless otherwise provided herein reimbursable expenses are limited to expenses associated with moving Physician's household goods and travel, meals and lodging expenses incurred during the move to Physician's new residence. Upon proper documentation, Hospital will reimburse Physician or moving company based on prior arrangements. Payment for moving expenses will not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000.00).

ARTICLE IV: REPAYMENT

The physician shall repay any subsidy made pursuant to this agreement. Hospital has determined that there is a benefit and value to the Hospital and community if physician maintains a private medical practice and office in Laurens County. Therefore, for each month the physician maintains his hospital practice, medical practice, and office in Laurens County after the [illegible] year term of this Agreement, the Hospital will forgive repayment of [illegible] of the unpaid subsidy. Any unrepaid subsidy not forgiven shall become immediately due and payable at such time as physician leaves Laurens County or ceases to maintain a private medical practice and office in the county or maintain privileges at Laurens County Hospital. The unpaid subsidy shall bear interest at the rate of Wall Street Journal Prime plus 2% determined as of the [illegible] month of this Agreement.

ARTICLE V: TERMINATION

Notwithstanding any other provisions contained herein, the Hospital may elect to terminate its obligations set forth in this Agreement, upon the happening of any of the following events:

(1) Physician fails to maintain a South Carolina medical license through the suspension or revocation by the State of South Carolina or Physician is placed on probation.

(2) Physician's medical staff privileges at Hospital are terminated or suspended in accordance with the Hospital's Medical Staff By-laws.

(3) Physician's professional liability insurance is canceled.

(4) Physician's application for appointment to Medical Staff at Hospital is denied for whatever reason.

(5) Disability of Physician for more than sixty (60) days.

(6) Written mutual consent of both Hospital and Physician.

(7) Conviction of a felony or a crime of moral turpitude or serious misdemeanor.

(8) Material breach of this Agreement by Physician provided Physician is given written notice of this breach and gives thirty (30) days after notice to cure same.

Should agreement be terminated because of any of the above reasons except for material breach by Hospital or death or long-term disability of Physician, Physician will be required to repay all subsidy advances immediately. However, the Hospital may allow payments over a period of time at its option. Physician may elect to terminate his obligation contained herein upon the failure of the Hospital to meet any of its obligations as set forth in previous articles of this Agreement. Election to terminate this Agreement by either party must be made in writing and delivered to the respective addresses of the Physician and Hospital.

The Hospital may purchase a life insurance policy in the Physician's name and will serve as beneficiary during the time of the income guarantee and subsequent repayment. After that period, the Physician will be given the option to assume ownership, change the beneficiary and assume payment of the policy.

ARTICLE VI: PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY INSURANCE

The Physician shall furnish to the Hospital proof of insurance. Said policy shall cover professional liability in a minimum amount of $1,000,000 per claim/$3,000,000 aggregate or JUA/PCF coverage. Physician shall furnish to the Hospital evidence that the premium on said policy is prepaid and that said policy is in full force and effect. Further, Physician shall notify his insurance company that if said policy is canceled for any reason, notice of cancellation shall be provided by insurance company to the C.E.O. of the Hospital.

ARTICLE VII. INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR

It is expressly understood and agreed that Physician is an independent contractor expected and entitled to freely and independently exercise his judgment in accordance with good medical practice in the care and treatment of his patients. Physician shall exercise his skill, learning, intelligence, and experience in evaluation, diagnoses, medication, treatment, and hospitalization of his patients according to his informed judgment and shall not be constrained in the exercise of his independent judgment by the terms or conditions of this Agreement. Physician is free to admit patients to any Hospital of Physician's choice and to maintain staff privileges at other hospitals. Physician is under no obligation to admit patients to Laurens County Hospital. The sole purpose of this Agreement is to induce the Physician to establish his practice in the area of the Hospital because of the Hospital's belief that there are not a sufficient number of OB/GYN Physicians in the area.

ARTICLE VIII: REGULATORY REQUIREMENTS

The Hospital and the Physician will operate at all times in compliance with federal, state and local law, rules, and regulations, the policies, rules and regulations of the Hospital, the applicable standards of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations and all currently accepted and approved methods and practice of medicine. In the event that there shall be a change in federal or state law (including case law, statute, or regulation) or the interpretation thereof, or in the event facts material to this Agreement, known to one party are not disclosed to the other, or material facts known to either party are later developed, any of which when applied to either of the parties to this Agreement make compliance with Agreement illegal or onerous, then in such event, Physician and Hospital agree, upon written notice from the other, to renegotiate this Agreement, within thirty (30) days of said notice, to bring the Agreement into compliance with federal or state laws or to relieve the onerous aspects hereof. Upon renegotiation of this Agreement under the above, neither party shall have any further obligations to the other except to the extent such further obligations may be set out in a renegotiated agreement.

ARTICLE IX: LAW

The interpretation and enforcement of this agreement shall be governed by the laws of the State of South Carolina.

ARTICLE X: ASSIGNABILITY

The right and obligations of the Hospital hereunder shall enure to the benefit of and be binding upon the successors and assigns of the Hospital. Physician may not assign his rights or obligations under this Agreement without written approval of Hospital, except that the Physician shall be required to assign this Agreement to any corporate entity succeeding to his practice and shall promptly give the hospital notice of such assignment.

ARTICLE XI: AMENDMENTS

Any amendments to this Agreement shall be effective only if in writing and signed by the Hospital and the Physician.

ARTICLE XII: ENTIRE AGREEMENT

This Agreement constitutes the entire Agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter.

ARTICLE XIII: NO WAIVER

No waiver of a breach of any provision of this Agreement shall be construed to be a waiver of any breach of any other provision. No delay in acting with regard to any breach of any provision of this Agreement shall be construed to be a waiver of such breach.

ARTICLE XIV: AUTHORIZATION FOR AGREEMENT

The execution and performance of this Agreement by Physician and Hospital have been duly authorized by all necessary laws, resolutions or corporate action, and this Agreement constitutes the valid and enforceable obligations of Physician and Hospital in accordance with its terms.

The Hospital has caused its name to be hereunto subscribed by duly authorized officer thereunto and Physician has hereunto subscribed his name as of the day and year first-above written.

ARTICLE XV: ARBITRATION

Any dispute, controversy or disagreement arising from this contract shall be submitted to arbitration pursuant to the Uniform Arbitration Act of South Carolina, § 15-48-10 et. Seq.

ARTICLE XVI: ACCESS TO BOOKS AND RECORDS

Upon the written request of the Secretary of Health and Human Services, or the Comptroller General, or any of their duly authorized representatives, the Physician will make available those contracts, books, documents, and records necessary to verify the nature and extent of the costs of providing services under this Agreement. Such inspection shall be available up to four (4) years after the rendering of such services. If the Physician carries out any of the duties of this Agreement through a subcontract with a value of $10,000 or more over a twelve (12) month period with a related individual or organization, the Physician agrees to include this requirement in any such subcontract. This section is included pursuant to and is governed by the requirements of Public Law 96-499, Sec. 952 (Sec. 1861 (b) (1) of the Social Security Act) and the regulations promulgated thereunder. No attorney-client, accountant-client or other legal privileges will be deemed to have been waived by the Hospital or the Physician by virtue of this Agreement.

Dr. Brown's guarantee, signed 2/14/02 states in Article IV that:
"Therefore, for each month that physician maintains his hospital practice, medical practice, and office in Laurens County after the 3 year term of this Agreement, the Hospital will forgive repayment of 1/120 of the unrepaid subsidy. Any unrepaid subsidy not forgiven shall become immediately due and payable at such time as physician leaves Laurens County or ceases to maintain a private medical practice and office in the county or maintain privileges at Laurens County Hospital. The unpaid subsidy shall bear interest at the rate of Wall Street Journal Prime plus 2% determined as of the 120 month of this Agreement."

Dr. Brown received a 1099 last year for the amount of $64,445, which is $5,370 per month. The current balance outstanding as of May 31, 2011 is $257,781.

My suggestion is to have our atty write a demand letter to Dr. Brown.

Dr. Byron Brown

Enclosed please find the final payment under the 36-month subsidy period – pending a detailed report from your accountant on activity (we agreed that this would be the period since you established the solo practice effective 9-20-2004). The Guarantee payments made to you during the 36-month period amounted to a total of $844,447. Under the contract, as you continue to serve patients in Laurens County, a pro-rated-portion of the payment is forgiven over the following ten years. The forgiveness schedule - assuming you meet the continued requirements of the contract would be as follows:

1099 Taxable Income
Months	Calendar Year	Income
7	2005	$37,590
12	2006	$84,440

Shaping the Future for Health

TO ERR IS HUMAN:
BUILDING A SAFER HEALTH SYSTEM

Health care in the United States is not as safe as it should be--and can be. At least 44,000 people, and perhaps as many as 98,000 people, die in hospitals each year as a result of medical errors that could have been prevented, according to estimates from two major studies. Even using the lower estimate, preventable medical errors in hospitals exceed attributable deaths to such feared threats as motor-vehicle wrecks, breast cancer, and AIDS.

Medical errors can be defined as the failure of a planned action to be completed as intended or the use of a wrong plan to achieve an aim. Among the problems that commonly occur during the course of providing health care are adverse drug events and improper transfusions, surgical injuries and wrong-site surgery, suicides, restraint-related injuries or death, falls, burns, pressure ulcers, and mistaken patient identities. High error rates with serious consequences are most likely to occur in intensive care units, operating rooms, and emergency departments.

Beyond their cost in human lives, preventable medical errors exact other significant tolls. They have been estimated to result in total costs (including the expense of additional care necessitated by the errors, lost income and household productivity, and disability) of between $17 billion and $29 billion per year in hospitals nationwide. Errors also are costly in terms of loss of trust in the health care system by patients and diminished satisfaction by both patients and health professionals. Patients who experience a long hospital stay or disability as a result of errors pay with physical and psychological discomfort. Health professionals pay with loss of morale and frustration at not being able to provide the best care possible. Society bears the cost of errors as well, in terms of lost worker productivity, reduced school attendance by children, and lower levels of population health status.

Errors...are costly in terms of loss of trust in the health care system by patients and diminished satisfaction by both patients and health professionals.

A variety of factors have contributed to the nation's epidemic of medical errors. One oft-cited problem arises from the decentralized and fragmented nature of the health care delivery system—or "nonsystem," to some observers. When patients see multiple providers in different settings, none of whom has access to complete information, it becomes easier for things to go

ADVERSE EVENTS IN HOSPITALS: NATIONAL INCIDENCE AMONG MEDICARE BENEFICIARIES

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

OBJECTIVES

To estimate the national incidence of adverse events for hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries, assess the preventability of such events, and estimate associated costs to Medicare.

BACKGROUND

The term "adverse event" describes harm to a patient as a result of medical care, such as infection associated with use of a catheter. The term "never events" refers to a specific list of serious events, such as surgery on the wrong patient, that the National Quality Forum (NQF) deemed "should never occur in a health care setting." The Tax Relief and Health Care Act of 2006 mandates that the Office of Inspector General report to Congress regarding the incidence of never events among Medicare beneficiaries, the payment for services in connection with such events, and the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) processes to identify events and deny payment.

We selected a nationally representative random sample of 780 Medicare beneficiaries from all beneficiaries discharged during October 2008. Physician reviewers determined (1) whether an adverse event occurred, (2) whether the event was on the NQF list of Serious Reportable Events or the Medicare list of hospital-acquired conditions (HAC), (3) what the level of harm was to the patient, and (4) whether the event was preventable. To establish an estimated adverse event incidence rate, we included events on the NQF and the HAC lists and events resulting in the most serious harm as defined by a patient harm index (prolonged hospital stay, permanent harm, life-sustaining intervention, or death). We also determined the cost to Medicare for hospital care resulting from the events. Lastly, we identified additional events that resulted in temporary patient harm but were not comparable to the more serious events in our overall rate and assessed their preventability and cost.

FINDINGS

An estimated 13.5 percent of hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries experienced adverse events during their hospital stays. Of the nearly 1 million Medicare beneficiaries discharged from hospitals in October 2008, about 1 in 7 experienced an adverse event that met at least 1 of our criteria (13.5 percent). This rate projects to an estimated 134,000 Medicare beneficiaries experiencing at least 1 adverse event in hospitals during the 1-month study period. We calculated incidence rates for adverse events that met our three criteria: 0.6 percent of beneficiaries had an NQF Serious Reportable Event, 1.0 percent had a Medicare HAC event, and 13.1 percent experienced an adverse event resulting in the four most serious categories of patient harm. An estimated 1.5 percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced an event that contributed to their deaths, which projects to 15,000 patients in a single month.

An additional 13.5 percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced events during their hospital stays that resulted in temporary harm. Temporary harm events are those that require intervention but do not cause lasting harm. Although many cases represent fairly minor occurrences, such as hypoglycemia, others were classified as temporary harm only because the patients were in the hospital for lengthy periods as a result of other, more serious, diagnoses, allowing hospitals enough time to address the harm prior to discharge. Additionally, 28 percent of beneficiaries who experienced adverse events also had temporary harm events during the same stay.

Physician reviewers determined that 44 percent of adverse and temporary harm events were clearly or likely preventable. Physicians determined that 44 percent of all events were preventable and 51 percent were not preventable. (For the remaining 5 percent of events, physicians were unable to make determinations.) Events related to surgery or procedures were less likely to be preventable than other types of events, such as hospital-acquired infections. Preventable events were linked most commonly to medical errors, substandard care, and lack of patient monitoring and assessment. Physician reviewers assessed events as not preventable when they occurred despite proper assessment and care or when the patients were highly susceptible to the events due to health status. Nearly all events on the NQF and Medicare lists were assessed as preventable, a key criterion of both lists.

Hospital care associated with adverse and temporary harm events cost Medicare an estimated $324 million in October 2008. Sixteen percent of sample beneficiaries in the Medicare Inpatient Prospective Payment System who experienced events incurred additional Medicare costs as a result. The added costs equate to an estimated 3.5 percent of Medicare's expenditure for inpatient care during October 2008. To give these figures an annual context, 3.5 percent of the $137 billion Medicare inpatient expenditure for FY 2009 equates to $4.4 billion spent on care associated with events. Two-thirds of Medicare costs associated with events were the result of entire additional hospital stays necessitated by harm from the events. Additionally, these Medicare cost estimates do not include additional costs required for followup care after the sample hospitalizations.

RECOMMENDATIONS

As the Federal Government's principal agency for protecting the health of Americans, the Department of Health & Human Services (HHS) is uniquely positioned to lead national efforts to reduce adverse events in hospitals. As part of a national strategy to improve health care quality mandated by the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA), HHS is to identify areas that have the potential for improving health care quality. Because many adverse events we identified were preventable, our study confirms the need and opportunity for hospitals to significantly reduce the incidence of events. A number of agencies within HHS share responsibility for addressing this issue, most prominently the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ) as a coordinating body for efforts to improve health care quality and CMS as an oversight entity and the Nation's largest health care payer.

Therefore, we recommend the following:

AHRQ and CMS should broaden patient safety efforts to include all types of adverse events. This broader definition would apply to a number of activities, including setting priorities for research, establishing guidelines for hospital reporting, developing prevention strategies, measuring health care quality, and determining payment policies.

AHRQ and CMS should enhance efforts to identify adverse events. Identifying adverse events assists policymakers and researchers in directing resources to the areas of greatest need, setting clear goals for improvement, assessing the effectiveness of specific strategies, holding hospitals accountable, and gauging progress in reducing incidence.

- AHRQ should sponsor periodic, ongoing measurement of the incidence of adverse events.
- AHRQ should continue to encourage hospital participation with Patient Safety Organizations, entities intended to receive adverse event reports from hospitals, and forward the information to a national AHRQ database.

- CMS should use Present on Admission Indicators in billing data to calculate the frequency of adverse events occurring within hospitals.

CMS should provide further incentives for hospitals to reduce the incidence of adverse events through its payment and oversight functions. The ACA makes several changes to the HAC policy, including allowing the Secretary of HHS to expand the list of HACs. The ACA gives the HAC policy greater significance by using the list of HACs to implement Medicare payment penalties, create performance measures, and prohibit Medicaid payments for associated care. The conditions of participation for Medicare and Medicaid require that hospitals have programs to demonstrate quality improvement where evidence shows practices can improve outcomes.

- CMS should strengthen the Medicare HAC policy, such as by expanding the policy to include more events that harm beneficiaries.

- CMS should look for opportunities to hold hospitals accountable for adoption of evidence-based practice guidelines.

AGENCY COMMENTS

We received comments on the draft report from AHRQ and CMS. AHRQ concurred with our recommendations, stating that adverse events affect hospital patients at an "alarming rate" and that it must continue working to improve patient safety. AHRQ stated that it intends to foster continued improvement in both identifying and reducing adverse events through operational programs, research efforts, and further collaboration with other agencies. CMS also concurred with our recommendations, stating that it is committed to the reduction of adverse events in hospitals and other health care settings and that although it has taken significant steps to address these issues, more work needs to be done. CMS stated that it will "aggressively pursue" broadening the scope and definition of patient safety efforts to be more inclusive of various types of adverse events and more closely monitor and address hospital quality of care. CMS also outlined several current and planned efforts to both create incentives and provide support for patient safety improvements by hospitals.

We made minor changes to the report based on technical comments.

OBJECTIVES

To estimate the national incidence of adverse events for hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries, assess the preventability of such events, and estimate associated costs to Medicare.

BACKGROUND

Statutory Mandate and Office of Inspector General Response

The Tax Relief and Health Care Act of 2006 (the Act) requires that the Office of Inspector General (OIG) report to Congress regarding the incidence of "never events" among Medicare beneficiaries; the extent to which the Medicare program paid, denied payment, or recouped payment for services furnished in connection with such events; and the processes that the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) uses to identify such events and deny or recoup payment.[1] OIG is also to make recommendations for such legislation and administrative action as OIG determines is appropriate. (For relevant text of the Act, see Appendix A.) To meet the requirements of the Act, OIG released a series of reports beginning in 2008 and will publish additional reports based on ongoing work.[2]

Adverse Events in Hospitals

Following a review of Medicare policies and expenditures, as well as consultation with CMS and the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality (AHRQ), we chose to focus our work on inpatient acute care hospitals. For fiscal year (FY) 2009, Medicare costs for inpatient care were $137 billion, constituting 28 percent of total expenditures.[3] As a condition of participation in the Medicare and Medicaid programs, Federal regulations require that hospitals develop and maintain Quality Assessment and Performance Improvement (QAPI) Programs.[4] As a part of their QAPI programs, hospitals must "track medical errors and adverse patient events, analyze their causes, and implement preventive actions."[5] Federal regulations do not require specific program characteristics. The QAPI provisions also require that hospitals establish programs to demonstrate improvement in quality indicators for which there is evidence that practices will improve outcomes.[6] As an additional quality effort, Quality Improvement Organizations (QIO) contract with CMS to assist hospitals in improving the quality of care for Medicare beneficiaries, including addressing patient safety issues.[7]

A variety of terms, lists, and definitions are used to identify health care events that result in patient harm. For purposes of the Act, the term "never event" means an event that is listed and endorsed as a serious reportable event by the National Quality Forum (NQF)[8] as of November 16, 2006.[9] The NQF uses the term "serious reportable events" to describe a specific list of events associated primarily with patient death or serious disability that are both egregious and preventable, concluding that they "should never occur in a health care setting." These became known as "never events." (For a list of NQF Serious Reportable Events, see Appendix B.) The NQF list is often used by patient advocates and health care payers in establishing patient safety policies.[10] The health care community now uses the term "adverse event" more commonly than "never event" to refer to harm experienced by a patient as a result of medical care. After consulting with congressional committee staff in 2007, we expanded our approach to be consistent with patient safety research and industry trends.

As used in this study, an adverse event is defined as harm to a patient as a result of medical care or in a health care setting. Although an adverse event indicates that the care resulted in an undesirable clinical outcome and may involve medical errors, adverse events do not always involve errors, negligence, or poor quality of care and are not always preventable.[11] Research and policy to improve patient safety and reduce the incidence of adverse events often focus on identifying and addressing systemic problems that may lead to patient harm and avoid labeling the event as an outcome of negligence or poor quality. Additionally, researchers, policymakers, and health care entities sometimes adopt different standards for distinguishing between degrees of patient harm in determining whether they classify an occurrence as an adverse event. Thus, entities tracking events may find different results depending on the list used to identify and classify events.

The National Coordinating Council for Medication Errors Reporting and Prevention (NCC MERP) Index for Categorizing Errors can be used to classify adverse events by level of patient harm. The NCC MERP Index was initially developed to categorize the effect of medication errors and considers whether the occurrences had an effect on the patients and, if so, how harmful they were. The index includes categories for circumstances or occurrences that presented a risk but did not cause harm, often referred to as "near misses," and those that caused harm. Table 1 shows the NCC MERP Index for Categorizing Errors.

Table 1: The NCC MERP Index for Categorizing Errors

Researchers have used the NCC MERP index for measuring and distinguishing other types of adverse events, rather than only medication errors. For example, the Institute for Healthcare Improvement (IHI), a nonprofit organization that advises hospitals regarding health care quality, uses a modified version of the NCC MERP index to measure the degree of patient harm, regardless of whether the harm was the result of an error.[12]

Present on Admission Indicators and Medicare's Hospital-Acquired Conditions Policy

Medicare reimbursement to acute care hospitals through the Inpatient Prospective Payment System (IPPS) is generally determined by grouping codes representing patient conditions into Diagnosis-Related Groups (DRG) based on the average cost of care for patients with similar conditions.[13] Hospitals may submit Medicare claims under IPPS using nine diagnosis codes and six procedure codes for each hospital stay. Historically, if a Medicare beneficiary experienced an adverse event that resulted in assignment of a more costly DRG, CMS paid the higher DRG.[14]

Beginning October 1, 2007, hospitals are required to assign a Present on Admission (POA) Indicator to each principal and secondary diagnosis for acute IPPS claims for all discharges.[15] This was an initial step in complying with the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 (DRA), which required CMS to select at least two hospital-acquired conditions (HAC) for which hospitals would not be paid higher Medicare reimbursement.[16]

In response, CMS issued regulations outlining a policy to deny hospitals higher payment for hospital admissions complicated by any of 10 categories of HACs.[17] The DRA required that the conditions meet the following criteria:

- conditions that are high cost, high volume, or both;
- conditions that, when present as a secondary diagnosis, result in assignment of a case to a DRG that has a higher payment;
- conditions that could be reasonably prevented by using readily available evidence-based guidelines; and
- conditions that are identifiable based on one or more unique diagnosis codes.[18]

Effective October 1, 2008, CMS began denying hospitals higher payment for care associated with these conditions.[19] Examples of HACs include catheter-associated urinary tract infections and patient injury because of a fall. For the full list of Medicare HACs, see Appendix C.

Determining the Incidence of Adverse Events

Research indicates that identifying adverse events retrospectively is a complex and difficult task, requiring extensive clinical knowledge, adequate documentation, and subjectivity on the part of the researcher.[20] Medical records review is often considered the most definitive method for detecting adverse events because it can provide detail about both the adverse event and the circumstances, such as the patient's condition prior to and following the event.[21] However, medical records reviews can be costly, requiring hospital staff to make records available and substantial effort by physicians or other clinicians to review them. To limit physician medical records reviews required to identify adverse events, cases can be screened to identify potential adverse events using other methods, such as nurse reviews of medical records and analysis of POA indicators in hospital claims data.

Nurse review of medical records. Medical records screening can identify potential adverse events based on information in the medical records. The IHI Global Trigger Tool (GTT) uses a review of medical records to identify "triggers" that could signal patient harm, thereby identifying potential adverse events. A trigger could be a description of the harm itself or a reference that indicates harm occurred (such as a return to surgery). The review is designed to be completed by nurse reviewers, with the results then confirmed or refuted by a physician. Barriers to medical records screening include incomplete records and high labor costs for review.

Analysis of POA indicators. Automated computer programs can review Medicare billing data, specifically the POA indicator codes assigned to each diagnosis, to identify conditions that developed during hospital stays and possibly constitute adverse events. Although these programs enable examination of large numbers of hospital stays, barriers exist to POA analysis, including inaccurate or incomplete data. CMS's POA coding requirement began in October 2007, and the accuracy and completeness of hospital coding of POA indicators have not yet been validated. Additionally, conditions can be acquired in hospitals that are not related to medical care and therefore not adverse events.

OIG case study. Prior to this study, we conducted a case study of the incidence of adverse events occurring during October 2008 for a random sample of 278 Medicare beneficiaries' hospital stays in 2 counties.[22] We estimated that 15 percent of Medicare beneficiaries in the two counties experienced events meeting at least one of the following criteria: events on the NQF list of Serious Reportable Events; events on Medicare's list of HACs; or events involving prolonged hospital stays, permanent harm, life-sustaining intervention, or death (classified as F-I level of harm on the NCC MERP index). An additional 15 percent of beneficiaries experienced events involving temporary harm (classified as E level of harm on the NCC MERP index). The case study served in part to test the usefulness of various methods for identifying adverse events. We found that, combined, nurse screening of medical records and analysis of POA indicator codes in billing data identified 94 percent of occurrences that physicians ultimately determined to be adverse or temporary harm events.[23]

Determining the Preventability of Adverse Events

To provide additional context regarding adverse events, some researchers have assessed whether adverse events were preventable and described the circumstances associated with events. A 2008 review of eight preventability studies found that the median percentage of adverse events judged preventable was 43.5 percent.[24] Assessing preventability can provide greater understanding of the causes of adverse events, which can be used to develop actionable solutions to the systemic problems that lead to events. Also, preventability is a statutory criterion of Medicare's nonpayment policy for HACs; CMS was required to select only conditions that can be "reasonably prevented by using readily available evidence-based guidelines."[25]

Reducing the Incidence of Adverse Events

Reducing the incidence of adverse events in hospitals is a critical component of efforts to improve patient safety and quality care. The Institute of Medicine (IOM) report, To Err Is Human: Building a Safer Health System, focused widespread attention on the problem of adverse events. IOM cited two studies that used medical records reviews to identify adverse events and assess whether events were preventable. IOM concluded that preventable adverse events caused "at least 44,000 and perhaps as many as 98,000 deaths in hospitals each year" and outlined a national plan to address adverse events.[26]

As part of its plan, IOM recommended the creation of a nationwide system for the collection of standardized adverse event data by State governments. As reported by OIG, 25 States and the District of Columbia had adverse event reporting systems in 2008, 11 of which used the NQF list of Serious Reportable Events or a modified version of the list to define what events are reportable.[27] To date, no national adverse event reporting system exists and there are no Federal standards regarding State systems.

Following the IOM report, the Federal Government formed the Center for Quality Improvement and Patient Safety (CQuIPS) within AHRQ to provide national leadership in improving patient safety. In a 2009 report, AHRQ identified its core agency objectives for CQuIPS as developing a solid evidence base, designing useful tools for providers, and disseminating information for implementation.[28] As mandated by Congress, AHRQ releases an annual report to the Nation about health care quality that is produced by CQuIPS and includes measures of patient safety.[29] The National Healthcare Quality Report includes measures of the incidence of certain types of adverse events, using data from sources such as the Medicare Patient Safety Monitoring System (MPSMS), an AHRQ-CMS collaborative effort to identify adverse events through analyses of medical records and Medicare claims data for beneficiaries' hospital stays.[30] AHRQ is also responsible for implementation and oversight of the certification process for Patient Safety Organizations (PSO) created by the Patient Safety Act and Quality Improvement Act of 2005.[31] PSOs are in the early stages of development, but are intended to receive adverse event reports from hospitals and forward the information to a national AHRQ database from which CQuIPS will analyze aggregated data. AHRQ developed a set of event definitions and reporting tools known as the Common Formats, which PSOs can choose to use and which contain data elements that AHRQ determined are important for a complete and useful adverse event report.[32] A variety of organizations are eligible to become PSOs, including hospital associations, hospital chains, and patient safety consulting groups.[33] For a 2009 OIG study, staff from selected PSOs reported barriers that could limit hospital participation in PSOs and questioned the usefulness of submitting data for aggregation.[34] Finally, the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 appropriated $300 million to AHRQ to sponsor and disseminate research that compares the effectiveness of clinical care options, the purpose of which is to promote evidence-based medical care.[35]

In March 2010, Congress passed health care reform legislation in the form of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (ACA).[36] The ACA includes a number of provisions to take effect over multiple years, including expanded funding and authority to the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) to address health care quality issues. Among the initial efforts to implement the ACA, the Secretary is to establish a national strategy for quality improvement in health care by January 1, 2011.[37] The law requires that the strategy address eight national priority areas, one of which is to improve patient safety.[38] It also increases funding to CQuIPS for research grants to explore best practices.[39] Among its payment provisions, the ACA expands the Medicare HAC policy to mandate hospital payment penalties for high rates of HACs,[40] create new quality measures,[41] and require State Medicaid agencies to deny higher reimbursement for care associated with HACs.[42]

METHODOLOGY

Scope

This report estimates the national incidence of adverse events based on a representative sample of Medicare beneficiaries discharged from inpatient acute care hospitals during October 2008. Our results are projectable to all Medicare beneficiaries hospitalized during this period nationwide. To determine the estimated rate of adverse events, we used criteria developed by NQF, CMS, and NCC MERP. We included in the estimated national incidence rate all patient harm that occurred during the hospital stay, regardless of whether it was preventable. Also, the report provides a physician assessment of the extent to which identified events were preventable and analysis of billing data to estimate the cost to the Medicare program for increased reimbursement resulting from all events and preventable events.

Sample Selection

We selected a sample of Medicare beneficiaries from the National Claims History (NCH). Of the 999,645 beneficiaries discharged from acute care hospitals during October 2008, we selected a random sample of 785 beneficiaries. We excluded 5 beneficiaries as ineligible because the hospital was currently under OIG investigation, resulting in a sample of 780 beneficiaries. In July–October 2009, we requested and received medical records from hospitals regarding sample beneficiaries' hospital stays. Fifty-four of the beneficiaries had more than 1 hospital stay during October (50 had 2 stays and 4 had 3 stays). Combined, sample beneficiaries had 838 hospital stays with discharges in October 2008 and an average length of stay of 5.2 days.[43]

Identifying Adverse Events and Determining Preventability

We conducted a two-stage review to identify adverse events experienced by each beneficiary. The first stage used three screening methods to identify cases likely to include an event. This enabled us to reduce the number of cases requiring the second-stage physician review. During the first stage, we identified cases that met one or more of the following conditions: (1) certified medical coders identified codes in the Medicare claims data that were listed as not present on admission, (2) nurse reviewers found evidence of a potential adverse event in the medical records, or (3) the beneficiary had a hospital admission within 30 days after discharge for his or her last sample hospital stay ending in October 2008.[44]

We identified 420 cases for the second stage of review, which entailed a review of the full medical records by physicians to identify events. To ensure consistency across physician reviewers, we facilitated weekly conference calls during which all physician reviewers discussed cases that either were complex or had possible implications for other cases. We included events experienced by patients during hospital stays or during prior, contiguous outpatient visits (wherein patients were transferred directly from outpatient care to inpatient care within the same facility). For example, we included in our count an adverse event that occurred in a hospital emergency department immediately preceding admission to inpatient care. We did not include events that occurred prior to a beneficiary's arrival on the hospital campus. When an initial event caused a series of related events for the same patient, we collapsed the events into a "cascade event," which counted as a single event.[45] For a glossary of selected clinical terms used to describe events, see Appendix D.

As part of the structured protocol, physician reviewers also determined the extent to which the identified events were preventable. Generally speaking, physicians assessed events as preventable when they determined that harm could have been avoided through improved assessments or alternative actions. Physicians assessed an event as not preventable when they determined that harm could not have been avoided given the complexity of the patient's condition or the care required. The physician protocol used the following response scale for assessing the preventability of events: clearly preventable, likely preventable, clearly not preventable, likely not preventable, and unable to determine. Physicians used their clinical experience and judgment to make preventability determinations. They considered all evidence in [44] We reviewed records for admissions that occurred within 30 days of the last beneficiary discharge. Therefore, the 30-day window for reviewing readmissions did not span a fixed timeframe but began on the unique final discharge date for each beneficiary with the last possible admission occurring on November 30, 2008 (30 days following the final possible October 31, 2008, discharge).

[45] Based on OIG interviews with IHI staff, IHI defines a cascade event as one in which an initial event causes a series of related events for the same patient and advocates collapsing these into a single event.

the medical records, including the actions of hospital and medical staff and the patient's condition. Assessing an event as clearly preventable or clearly not preventable required a greater degree of certainty on the part of the reviewer. For detailed information about the methodology for identifying events and determining preventability, see Appendix E.

Data Analysis

We performed analysis and generated estimates about adverse events for three categories: incidence of events, preventability of events, and Medicare cost associated with events. We also calculated separate estimates regarding these categories for temporary harm events. For estimates and corresponding 95-percent confidence intervals for all statistical analyses, see Appendix F.

Adverse event incidence analysis. We calculated the estimated national adverse event incidence rate as the percentage of Medicare beneficiaries with at least one adverse event. We defined adverse events as events that met at least one of the following criteria:

1. the event was on the NQF list of Serious Reportable Events, as the Act mandates;
2. the event was on Medicare's list of HACs for which it denies higher payment; or
3. the event resulted in one of the four most serious categories on the NCC MERP index (classified on the index as F-I):
   - prolonged hospital stay,
   - permanent harm,
   - life-sustaining intervention, or
   - death.

We also calculated individual rates for adverse events on the NQF list, the Medicare HAC list, and events classified as F-I on the NCC MERP index. The overall adverse event incidence rate does not include events that physician reviewers identified as temporary harm events, defined as events that required intervention but did not cause lasting harm (classified as E level harm on the NCC MERP index). We excluded these temporary harm events from our overall rate because we determined, in consultation with physician reviewers, that the effect of these events was not comparable to the more serious events meeting the three criteria. We calculated a separate incidence rate for beneficiaries who experienced only temporary harm events. We projected incidence rates to the population of Medicare beneficiaries discharged from inpatient acute care hospital stays during October 2008.

As an additional measure of adverse event rates, we calculated 2 ratios of adverse event incidence density: events per 1,000 patient days and events per 100 hospital admissions. These measures are commonly used by hospitals and medical researchers.[46] For the resulting metrics and an explanation of the calculation method, see Appendix G.

Preventability analysis. The findings related to preventability are based on determinations made by the physician reviewers for each adverse event and temporary harm event. We calculated percentages for each preventability classification and for different types of events, the results of which are projectable to the population. We also conducted statistical tests to identify differences in preventability rates between adverse events and temporary harm events and across various categories of adverse events, such as medication-related and infection-related events.

Medicare cost analysis. We estimated the cost to Medicare resulting from care associated with adverse events and temporary harm events. This analysis included only Medicare claims that were paid under the IPPS and were subject to the Medicare HAC policy (84 percent of sample beneficiaries).[47] Certified medical coders reviewed the medical records, the medical review protocols, and the associated Medicare claims to identify diagnosis and procedure codes that would not have been included in the claims if the events had not occurred. We then used CMS's MS-DRG Grouper and Medicare Code Editor Version 27 (Grouper) to determine the DRG for the claims and used the FY 2009 IPPS personal computer Pricer (Pricer) to determine the resulting Medicare reimbursement amounts.[48] For each claim, we calculated the DRG and reimbursement amount, including information from the hospital Medicare claim. We then calculated the reimbursement amount excluding diagnosis and procedure codes that coders determined were the direct result of any adverse event or temporary harm event experienced by the beneficiary. We projected the difference between the two hospital reimbursement amounts to estimate the additional cost to Medicare for care associated with events. When an entire hospital stay was the result of an adverse event, we included the total reimbursement amounts indicated by the Pricer as the cost of the adverse event.

[47] The cost analysis does not include claims for beneficiaries whose Medicare coverage is not paid under the IPPS. This includes Medicare managed care organizations and care provided at hospitals excluded from the Medicare IPPS system, including hospitals in the State of Maryland and some specialty hospitals nationwide, such as cancer treatment centers and critical access hospitals. CMS, HAC Fact Sheet. Accessed at http://www.cms.gov/HospitalAcqCond/Downloads/HACFactsheet.pdf on September 29, 2010.

[48] The Grouper software classifies hospital claims into MS-DRG categories expected to have similar hospital resource requirements. MS-DRGs are based on the nine diagnoses associated with HACs and corresponding POA indicators, six procedure codes, and demographic data contained in the NCHs. MS-DRGs typically split into two or three individual classes based on the presence of a complication or comorbidity. This software was developed by CMS and 3M and is sold by the National Technical Information Service. Accessed at http://www.ntis.gov on September 29, 2010.

Limitations

Beyond the challenges associated with identifying adverse events and assessing preventability, the methodology presents two specific limitations. First, it is unlikely that the study identified all adverse and temporary harm events within the sample. To the extent that the study did not identify an event, it was likely because the three screening methods failed to flag the case for physician review or because documentation in the medical records was incomplete. Second, cost estimates did not include all costs of care associated with events, excluding stays not covered under the Medicare IPPS, additional hospital stays caused by sample events but occurring after October 2008, additional care outside the hospital (such as followup physician office visits or rehabilitation services), and changes in Medicare outlier payments.[49]

Standards

This study was conducted in accordance with the Quality Standards for Inspections approved by the Council of the Inspectors General on Integrity and Efficiency.

[49] Medicare outlier payments are supplemental payments to hospitals for patients who incur extraordinarily high costs. Outlier payments are based on the degree to which costs on a claim exceed specific hospital and MS-DRG fixed-loss thresholds and fluctuate depending on the MS-DRG to which the claim is grouped. The Pricer analysis involved a revision of the MS-DRG. This revision resulted in new outlier payments for three sample cases and increased outlier payments for two sample cases. The revised outlier payments decreased the cost attributed to adverse events in our estimate.

An estimated 13.5 percent of hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries experienced adverse events during their hospital stays

Of the nearly 1 million Medicare beneficiaries discharged from hospitals in October 2008, about 1 in 7 experienced an adverse event (13.5 percent), defined as an event that met at least 1 of the following 3 criteria: the event was on the NQF list of Serious Reportable Events; the event was on Medicare's list of HACs; or the event resulted in 1 of the 4 most serious categories on the NCC MERP index (prolonged hospital stay, permanent harm, life-sustaining intervention, or death). This incidence rate projects to approximately 134,000 Medicare beneficiaries experiencing at least 1 adverse event in hospitals during the study period. Table 2 lists the incidence rate for each of the three criteria.

We classified the identified adverse events into four clinical categories: events related to medication (31 percent), events related to ongoing patient care (28 percent), events related to surgery or other procedures (26 percent), and events related to infection (15 percent). Table 3 lists the 128 adverse events found in the sample within these categories. See Appendix H for a list of the events with more complete descriptions, the level of harm patients incurred, and indications of whether the events were on the NQF and HAC lists.

Of beneficiaries who experienced adverse events, 18 percent had more than one adverse event. Most of the beneficiaries who experienced multiple events had two events, but others had as many as three unrelated events in the same hospitalization. For example, an elderly heart patient with a history of mental illness experienced three adverse events of different types, including two events that prolonged hospitalization and a third that required life-sustaining intervention. (This beneficiary also experienced three temporary harm events associated with patient care.)

Less than 1 percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced an event on the NQF list of Serious Reportable Events

An estimated 0.6 percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced an event on the NQF list, which projects to approximately 6,400 beneficiaries nationally for the study period. The low number of NQF events in the sample is notable because of the prominence of the list as a measure of patient harm and its use by a number of State adverse event reporting systems and other entities. We identified a total of five NQF events in the sample: two medication-related deaths and three Stage III pressure ulcers.[50] One of the medication-related deaths illustrates the nature of the NQF list as a measure of the most egregious preventable outcomes. In this case, a disabled Medicare beneficiary with muscular dystrophy affecting the respiratory system entered the hospital for signs of respiratory failure. Medical staff at the hospital gave the beneficiary a medication known to further suppress respiration, resulting in progressive respiratory distress and subsequent death. Physician reviewers concluded that medical staff administered the wrong medication because they lacked clinical understanding of the patient's unique condition.

Many serious events that we identified were not on the NQF list of Serious Reportable Events, including some events that resulted in patient deaths and serious disability. The NQF list focuses largely on serious disability or death, but is restricted to a specific set of events. Of the 18 adverse events that physician reviewers found to result in serious disability or patient death, only 2 were on the NQF list (i.e., the medication errors resulting in death). The three Stage III pressure ulcers identified in the sample were sufficiently treated prior to [50] Pressure ulcers are classified into four stages by the National Pressure Ulcer Advisory Panel (NPUAP): Stage I is intact skin with nonblanchable redness; Stage II is a shallow ulcer or blister indicating damage to the epidermis; Stage III is damage extending through all the layers of the skin; and Stage IV is damage through all the layers of the skin and underlying muscle, tendons, or bone. discharge from the hospital and determined by physicians to have caused only temporary harm.

Medicare HACs rarely occurred, affecting just 1 percent of beneficiaries
An estimated 1 percent of hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries experienced Medicare HACs, which projects to approximately 10,000 beneficiaries nationally. We identified a total of nine Medicare HACs experienced by beneficiaries in the sample: five catheter-associated urinary tract infections, two vascular catheter-associated infections of the central line, one patient fall resulting in injury (a compression fracture), and one Stage III pressure ulcer. One beneficiary experienced two of these events, resulting in a total of eight sample beneficiaries with Medicare HACs. Two catheter-associated urinary tract infections caused more substantial harm than is typically associated with this condition: one resulted in a prolonged hospital stay and the other in permanent harm. The two vascular catheter-associated infections of a central line resulted in prolonged hospital stays. None of the nine Medicare HACs identified by physicians on the medical records were included in the associated Medicare claims. In four of the nine cases (all catheter-associated urinary tract infections), diagnosis codes on the claims identified the infections, but they were not the precise codes that CMS uses to identify these HACs. The other five claims had no diagnosis codes related to the HACs. Therefore, the HACs were not identifiable through the claims data that CMS uses to implement the HAC policy.

Thirteen percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced adverse events classified in the most serious categories on the NCC MERP harm index
Based on our physician medical review, 13.1 percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced adverse events classified in the four most serious harm categories on the NCC MERP harm index: events resulting in prolonged hospital stay, events resulting in permanent harm, events requiring life-sustaining intervention, and events contributing to death. This rate projects nationally to approximately 130,000 beneficiaries experiencing such adverse events during the study period. Often, adverse events within the same clinical category, such as infection, resulted in a different level of harm depending on the intervention required and the condition of the patient. Table 4 lists the percentage of adverse events in the sample that were classified in the four most serious harm categories and the projected national numbers of events by level of patient harm.

An estimated 1.5 percent of hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries experienced events that contributed to their deaths

Among the 128 adverse events that we identified in the sample, 12 events (9 percent of 128 events) contributed to the deaths of beneficiaries. This projects to an estimated 1.5 percent of hospitalized Medicare beneficiaries experiencing events that contributed to death or approximately 15,000 beneficiaries during the study period. Seven of the twelve deaths were related to medication, either the result of improper administration of medication (wrong drug or wrong dosage) or inadequate treatment of known side effects. The most common type of medication-related death (five deaths) involved excessive bleeding from blood-thinning medication. The two other medication-related deaths involved inadequate insulin management resulting in hypoglycemic coma and respiratory failure resulting from oversedation. Of the five non-medication-related deaths, two were from bloodstream infections; two involved aspiration (which led to pneumonia and cardiac arrest, respectively); and the other involved a ventilator-associated pneumonia. As stated previously, only 2 of the 12 adverse events that contributed to death were on the NQF list and none were Medicare HACs.

Twenty-seven percent of beneficiaries who experienced adverse events had at least one "cascade" event, wherein multiple, related events occurred in succession

The sample included a total of 28 cascade events, defined as adverse events that included a series of multiple, related events. We counted these as single events. These cascade events were some of the most serious adverse events identified in the sample, with nine cases requiring life-sustaining intervention and six cases contributing to death. The most common type of cascade events were events related to surgery and other procedures (nine events). Two of these events began with excessive bleeding following surgery or a procedure. For example, one beneficiary had excessive bleeding after his kidney dialysis needle was inadvertently removed, which resulted in circulatory shock, a transfer to the intensive care unit, and emergency insertion of a tube into the trachea (windpipe) to ease breathing. When the tube was removed the following day, the patient aspirated (inhaled foreign material into his lungs), which required a life-sustaining intervention.

An additional 13.5 percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced events during their hospital stays that resulted in temporary harm

An additional 13.5 percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced events during the study period classified as E level harm on the NCC MERP index, defined as events that required medical intervention but did not cause lasting harm. This rate projects to approximately 134,000 Medicare beneficiaries experiencing temporary harm events during the study period. Of these beneficiaries, 22 percent had more than one unrelated event (the highest occurrence was five unrelated events in a single hospital stay). Additionally, 28 percent of beneficiaries who experienced adverse events (and are included in our primary rate) also had temporary harm events during the same stay.

Events classified as temporary harm represented a wide array of conditions, such as prolonged vomiting and hypoglycemia (see Table 5). The most common events related to medication (42 percent). Although many cases of temporary harm represented fairly minor occurrences, we classified others as temporary because the patients were in the hospital for a lengthy period because of other, more serious, diagnoses, allowing the hospital enough time to address the harm prior to discharge. Physician reviewers indicated that many temporary harm events could have developed into more serious adverse events, but hospitals provided timely intervention. For example, Stage I or Stage II pressure ulcers can escalate quickly to Stage III or Stage IV without proper care[51] and episodes of hypoglycemia can lead to stroke and even death.[52]

Physician reviewers determined that 44 percent of adverse events and temporary harm events were clearly or likely preventable

Physician reviewers assessed the extent to which events were preventable based on information in the medical records, their clinical experience with similar circumstances, research literature about the preventability of specific events, and group discussion to reach consensus. Combining adverse events and temporary harm events, physicians determined that 44 percent were preventable and 51 percent were not preventable.[53] (There was no statistically significant difference between the preventability rates of adverse events and temporary harm events.)[54] For the remaining 5 percent of events, physicians were unable to make determinations because of incomplete documentation in the medical records or extreme complexities in the patients' conditions or in the hospital care provided. Table 6 provides the percentage of events by the physician preventability assessment.

Physician reviewers assessed the preventability of events similarly for three of the four clinical categories (medication, patient care, and infections). However, events related to surgery and other procedures were significantly less likely to be determined preventable than events in the other three clinical categories; only 17 percent of surgical events were preventable in contrast to 50 percent or more in each of the other three groups.[55] Physician reviewers indicated that the reasons surgical events were more likely to be assessed as not preventable were the high level of complexity in both the care involved and the patients' conditions. Table 7 provides the percentage of preventable events by clinical category.

Within the clinical categories, physician reviewers sometimes gave the same preventability assessment for events with similar characteristics. For example, they assessed 10 of 12 events related to allergic reactions as not preventable. But for other types of events, preventability determinations for similar events differed based on the patients' conditions and risk factors. For example, in two cases of excessive stomach bleeding caused by blood thinners, physicians assessed one event affecting a relatively healthy patient as preventable and the other event affecting a patient with stomach ulcers as not preventable because of the patient's susceptibility. In another case, physician reviewers determined that some pressure ulcers were not preventable because of the poor conditions of the patients and because documentation in the medical records showed that the hospital staff employed appropriate preventive care. However, physicians assessed another pressure ulcer case as preventable because the medical staff declined to order a specialty mattress for an at-risk bedridden patient until after the pressure ulcer had developed, even though the medical record indicated that the specialty bed was available.

[55] The Cochran-Mantel-Haenszel chi square test was significant at the 95-percent confidence level for the overall relationship between preventability and clinical category ($p<0.0001$) as well as for each set of pair-wise comparisons between the surgical category and each of the other three clinical categories ($p<0.01$ for each pair). Preventability rates were 62 percent for infections, 50 percent for medication, and 50 percent for patient care.

Counting only preventable events, the estimated national incidence rate of adverse events among Medicare beneficiaries would be 7.4 percent

The estimated adverse event incidence rate of 13.5 percent is based on all adverse events' meeting one of the three criteria, regardless of whether the events were preventable. Including only the adverse events determined by physician reviewers to be clearly or likely preventable, the estimated incidence rate of adverse events among Medicare beneficiaries would be 7.4 percent. The 13.5 percent rate of additional beneficiaries experiencing temporary harm events would be 6.3 percent if only preventable events were included.

Eleven of the thirteen NQF Serious Reportable Events and Medicare HACs in the sample were preventable, a key criterion of both lists

Although we found few in the sample, all but two adverse events on the NQF and HAC lists were assessed as clearly or likely preventable.[56] After the adverse events on each list were separated, four of the five events on the NQF list were preventable and eight of the nine Medicare HACs were preventable (one event was on both lists). A key criterion of both lists is that the events be largely preventable. The two events on the lists that physicians assessed as not preventable were (1) an NQF event consisting of a pressure ulcer that progressed from Stage I to Stage III in a chronically ill patient with multiple complications and susceptibility to skin breakdown and (2) a Medicare HAC consisting of a compression fracture incurred during a fall by a morbidly obese patient.

Preventable events were most commonly linked to medical errors, substandard treatment, and inadequate patient monitoring or assessment

Physician reviewers selected one or more rationales to support each preventability determination from a list developed by the physician panel. To develop these rationales, physicians gleaned information from medical records, such as clinical staff actions, hospital environmental factors, and patient condition unrelated to the event. Among events assessed as preventable, 58 percent were linked to errors by clinical staff in medical judgment, skill, or patient management. Such errors often involved prescribing or administering the wrong medication. Nearly half of preventable events (46 percent) involved care provided in a substandard way, most frequently because of delay in diagnosis or

Other common factors associated with preventable events were inadequate monitoring of patients (38 percent) and inadequate assessment of patients (23 percent). These factors often led to delays in treatment and worsening of patient conditions. In several of these cases, patients displayed symptoms of infection but were not given antibiotics until they reached the point of sepsis. In one case, the patient exhibited signs of shock upon arrival at the hospital, but clinical staff did not monitor the patient's blood pressure for the first 8 hours and did not provide related treatment for another 16 hours. This delay caused the patient to experience severe hypotension, requiring life-sustaining intervention.

Physician reviewers assessed events as clearly or likely not preventable when the events occurred despite proper procedures or when the patients were highly susceptible to the events

For 62 percent of the nonpreventable events in our sample, physician reviewers found that care was rendered according to accepted standards of practice. In these cases, physicians determined that the care provided was sufficient and appropriate and that there was no evidence of errors or other problems. This rationale was often given in combination with the second most common factor—that the patients' other conditions made them highly susceptible to the event (50 percent of nonpreventable events). For example, one beneficiary, admitted to the hospital with a bowel obstruction, experienced a surgical cut of the intestine that would have been difficult to avoid because of significant damage to the bowel from prior surgery.

Other common rationales for assessing events as not preventable also focused on the difficulty of providing care. For 35 percent of nonpreventable events, physicians determined that the medical and hospital staff could not have anticipated the events given information available about the patients at the time of care delivery. For 29 percent of nonpreventable events, physicians determined that the patients' diagnoses were unusual or complex, making care particularly difficult. Finally, in 14 percent of nonpreventable cases, the adverse events were anticipated by caregivers, but the harm associated with the adverse events was considered less harmful than not providing care. For example, in four sample cases, patients experienced harm as a result of an overload of intravenous fluid, yet the medical review found that the patients were in such dire need of fluids (e.g., at risk for hypoglycemic shock) that caregivers had little choice but to execute vigorous intravenous fluid replacement despite the risk of overload.

Hospital care associated with adverse events and temporary harm events cost Medicare an estimated $324 million in October 2008

Sixteen percent of sample beneficiaries under the Medicare IPPS who experienced events incurred additional Medicare hospital costs as a result. Most of the additional costs (87 percent) resulted from care associated with adverse events, with temporary harm events generating the remaining costs.[57] These additional costs project to an estimated $324 million, which equates to 3.5 percent of the $9.2 billion that Medicare spent for inpatient care during October 2008.[58] To give these figures an annual context, 3.5 percent of the $137 billion Medicare inpatient expenditure in FY 2009 equates to $4.4 billion spent on care associated with adverse events.[59]

Costs associated with preventable events accounted for an estimated $119 million of the $324 million additional cost, equating to 1.3 percent of the $9.2 billion Medicare inpatient expenditures for the month or about $1.8 billion annually.

Despite this outlay, most events did not affect Medicare costs; none of the Medicare HACs resulted in a higher reimbursement

Of beneficiaries who experienced adverse events or temporary harm events in hospitals covered under the Medicare IPPS, 84 percent did not incur additional costs for care associated with the events. This occurred primarily because many Medicare claims for beneficiaries who experienced events did not include diagnosis or procedure codes relating to the events. When Medicare claims included codes associated with the events, the codes often had no effect on costs because the claims included other costly diagnoses or procedure codes that elevated the reimbursement to equivalent or higher amounts.

[57] One Medicare claim included codes for two events—one adverse event and one temporary harm event—and incurred an identical payment impact. This claim overlaps both groups and consequently the percentages do not total 100 percent: 87 percent of costs resulted from care associated with adverse events and 15 percent of costs resulted from care associated with temporary harm events.

[58] These cost estimates include only claims under the IPPS, representing 708 sample Medicare claims (85 percent), but do not include costs for the remaining 130 sample beneficiaries (15 percent) who had sample admissions not covered under IPPS.

[59] The annual cost estimate of $4.4 billion is 3.5 percent of the $137 billion Medicare inpatient costs for FY 2009, which assumes the same proportion of costs for adverse events for the other 11 months that we found in October 2008. Annual Medicare inpatient cost figures are from CMS, 2009 CMS Statistics Book, Table III.6, Office of Research, Development, and Information, CMS Pub. No. 03497, December 2009, p. 30.

None of the nine Medicare HACs identified in the sample resulted in a higher level of Medicare reimbursement. Although the Medicare HAC policy is intended to limit costs associated with the specified events, our review showed that none of the HACs in the sample would have invoked a higher Medicare reimbursement. None of the associated Medicare claims included the specific diagnosis codes that CMS uses to identify HACs. However, even if the codes had been included on the claims, the HAC policy would still not have resulted in payment reductions for these cases because other diagnosis or procedure codes would have elevated the reimbursement to a higher amount.

Two-thirds of Medicare costs associated with events were the result of additional hospital stays necessitated by harm from events

Sixty-five percent of the additional costs to Medicare ($210 million of the $324 million) were the result of entire, additional hospital stays required to treat the harm resulting from the adverse events. In some of these cases, the events occurred during outpatient services at the hospital (such as an emergency room visit or an outpatient surgery) and necessitated unplanned admissions to the inpatient facilities. In other cases, the events occurred during inpatient care and the beneficiaries were released from the hospital, but the aftereffects of the events necessitated subsequent hospital stays within the study period. The average Medicare cost of these additional hospital stays for sample beneficiaries was $13,745, compared with an average additional cost of $5,601 for event-related care that hospitals provided during the initial hospital stay in situations that did not necessitate additional stays.[60, 61]

Medicare cost estimates do not include additional costs required for followup care after the sample hospitalization

Because our cost analysis included only hospital stays that ended during October 2008, Medicare costs associated with care resulting from adverse events and temporary harm events are greater than our estimate. Beneficiaries may have had additional event-related hospital stays beyond our study period and may have incurred expenses to Medicare or personal expenses for followup care not reflected in inpatient claims, such as physician office visits, medication, and rehabilitation services during and after our study period.

[60] Averages reflect only costs greater than zero.

[61] The Student's T-test comparing difference of means was significant at the 95-percent confidence level (p=0.0104).

As an example of an event resulting in subsequent Medicare costs not captured by our cost analysis, one sample beneficiary was initially admitted to the hospital in mid-October 2008 for a stroke. During this hospital stay, he experienced an allergic reaction to medication and was discharged with no additional cost associated with the event. However, following discharge, the allergic reaction progressed to a life-threatening condition known as Stevens-Johnson Syndrome.[62] The beneficiary returned to the hospital during October for treatment, incurring the cost of an entire hospital stay as a result of the event, but was misdiagnosed and again discharged. The patient then incurred two additional hospital stays within the next 30 days to correctly diagnose and treat the condition. The total estimated inpatient cost to Medicare for the latter three hospital stays was $43,050, all necessitated by the event. Only $10,982 of this amount was incurred during the study period and included in our cost estimate. Physician reviewers determined that the medication-related event was preventable because the medication was known to be highly reactive and the condition was not diagnosed correctly, delaying treatment.

[62] This condition typically begins with a skin rash and fever and, if untreated, progresses to an array of conditions constituting serious harm, such as lung damage and renal failure.

In the decade since the IOM report, the need to improve patient safety has received much attention from Federal and State governments, advocacy groups, and the health care industry. Despite this attention, we found that 13.5 percent of Medicare beneficiaries experienced adverse events during their hospital stays in October 2008, most of which resulted in prolonged hospital stays, permanent harm, life-sustaining interventions, or death. An additional 13.5 percent of beneficiaries experienced temporary harm as the result of events. Physician reviewers determined that 44 percent of events were preventable and that preventable events often involved medical errors, substandard care, and inadequate monitoring or assessment of patients. We found that in addition to causing the harm to patients, adverse events and temporary harm events increased costs to Medicare by an estimated $324 million in a single month, or 3.5 percent of Medicare inpatient expenditures, suggesting potential savings from reducing the incidence of events.

As the Federal Government's principal agency for protecting the health of Americans,[63] HHS is uniquely positioned to lead national efforts to reduce adverse events in hospitals. As part of the national strategy to improve health care quality mandated by the ACA, HHS is to "identify areas in the delivery of health care services that have the potential for rapid improvement in the quality and efficiency of patient care."[64]

Because many adverse events that we identified were preventable, our study confirms the need and opportunity for hospitals to significantly reduce the incidence of events. A number of agencies within HHS share responsibility for addressing this issue, most prominently AHRQ as a coordinating body for efforts to improve health care quality and CMS as the Nation's largest health care payer and an oversight entity.

Therefore, we recommend the following:

AHRQ and CMS should broaden patient safety efforts to include all types of adverse events

Efforts to improve patient safety often focus on a small subset of events that harm hospital patients. For example, NQF Serious Reportable Events or Medicare HACs represented only a fraction of [63] HHS, HHS Agency Mission Statement, updated February 2004. Accessed at http://www.hhs.gov/about/ on March 23, 2010.

[64] P.L. 111-148 § 3501.

the adverse events we identified in this report. Additionally, patient safety provisions in the ACA often refer specifically to reducing medical errors, rather than to the broader range of adverse events. AHRQ and CMS should avoid focusing patient safety efforts too narrowly on a small list of specific events, possibly failing to address the wider array of events that lead to most instances of patient harm. Rather, AHRQ and CMS should promote a definition of adverse events that more fully encompasses harm resulting from medical care. This broader definition would apply to a number of patient safety activities, including setting priorities for research, establishing guidelines for hospital reporting of events, developing prevention strategies, measuring health care quality, and determining payment policies.

AHRQ and CMS should enhance efforts to identify adverse events

Identifying adverse events assists policymakers and clinical researchers in directing prevention resources to the areas of greatest need, setting clear goals for improvement, assessing the effectiveness of specific strategies, holding hospitals accountable, and gauging progress in reducing incidence.

- AHRQ should sponsor periodic, ongoing measurement of the incidence of adverse events. To facilitate measurement, AHRQ should establish a standard protocol for identifying events and analyzing information about incidence and causes. AHRQ should also consider providing hospitals with methods for measuring their incidence of events, goals for incidence reduction, and benchmarks or other means for comparing rates among providers.
- AHRQ should continue to encourage hospitals to report to PSOs. Hospital reporting of adverse event information to PSOs can provide AHRQ with aggregated data about the nature and causes of events. To maximize the usefulness of PSO-reported data for national measurement and analysis, AHRQ should continue working toward establishing standard adverse event definitions and reporting formats and encouraging hospital reporting.
- CMS should use POA indicators in hospital billing data to calculate the frequency of adverse events occurring within hospitals. These POA indicator data represent a rich source of information for identifying certain adverse events in claims data. CMS should establish routine methods for using POA indicators to guide patient safety improvement efforts. For example, CMS could direct that QIOs use POA indicators to monitor hospital rates of specific conditions.

CMS should provide further incentives for hospitals to reduce the incidence of adverse events through its payment and oversight functions
CMS, as both a payer and an oversight entity, is positioned to influence hospitals to provide high-quality care. CMS should explore avenues to reduce the incidence of adverse events through both program participation and payment policy.

- CMS should strengthen the Medicare HAC policy. We found that HACs represent a small proportion of preventable events and that they are not always coded as such in Medicare claims. The ACA makes several changes to the HAC policy, including allowing the Secretary to expand the list of HACs. The law also gives the HAC policy greater significance by using the list of HACs to implement Medicare payment penalties, create performance measures, and prohibit Medicaid payments for associated care. Given their low incidence, continued use of the 10 HACs already established by CMS may limit the intended effect of the statute. To strengthen the policy, CMS should consider expanding the list of Medicare HACs to include more conditions that may result in harm to beneficiaries. CMS should also take additional steps to ensure that hospitals accurately code Medicare claims to show when HACs occur, as recommended in our prior report.[65]

- CMS should look for opportunities to hold hospitals accountable for adoption of evidence-based practice guidelines. The conditions of participation for Medicare and Medicaid require that hospitals have programs to demonstrate quality improvement where evidence shows practices can improve outcomes. CMS should further influence hospitals to reduce adverse events through enforcement of the conditions of participation. This could include more closely examining patient safety issues through the survey and certification process, as recommended in our prior report.[66] This could also include encouraging hospitals to adopt evidence-based practices shown to prevent adverse events.

NOTICE TO POLICYHOLDERS

New Professional Liability Policy Occurrence Form – SCJUA PD-100 (Ed. 09/03)
Effective October 1, 2003

The Board of Directors of the South Carolina Medical Malpractice Liability Insurance Joint Underwriting Association, with the approval of the South Carolina Department of Insurance, attach herewith a revised policy form that is being issued to all individual healthcare providers, as well as professional associations upon renewal. Please take a moment to read the enclosed policy and the suggestions below and feel free to contact your insurance agent should you have questions. We wish to thank you for selecting the South Carolina Medical Malpractice Liability Insurance JUA as your professional liability carrier. We pledge our continued commitment to serving the healthcare providers of South Carolina.

Suggestions to Policyholder

1. Do not contract any expense; assume any liability; make any settlement; nor agree to a review of a case by any arbitration committee, medicolegal panel or other quasi-judicial body without the consent of the JUA.
2. Retain complete records reflecting dates, diagnosis and treatment. Do not overlook making entries of telephone conversations. Records will refresh your memory and serve as the basis for your defense. Claims may arise many years after services are rendered.
3. Contact the JUA or its representative immediately after any unusual occurrence, accident or mistake in your practice or before attending an inquest in any case which may give rise to a claim against you.
4. Contact the JUA before complying with any request to discuss or make a statement concerning professional services you have rendered if a claim is filed or anticipated. We want to be of service to you.

PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY POLICY

South Carolina Medical Malpractice Liability Insurance
Joint Underwriting Association

OCCURRENCE COVERAGE FORM

Throughout this policy, the words you, your and Insured refer to the Named Insured shown in the declarations and any other person or entity qualifying as an Insured.

In consideration of the receipt of premium, in reliance upon the statements contained in the application and underwriting questionnaire, and the compliance by the Insured with the terms and conditions set forth herein, subject to the declarations attached hereto and made a part hereof, limits of liability, exclusions, conditions and other terms of this Policy, the South Carolina Medical Malpractice Liability Insurance Joint Underwriting Association, herein called the Association, agrees with the Insured as follows:

I. WHO IS THE INSURED

If you are designated in the declarations as:

A. An individual – each individual named in the declarations is an insured and Insuring Agreements, Section II A(1), applies to you.

B. A Partnership, Association or Corporation – the partnership, association or corporation described in the declarations and any member, partner, officer, or director thereof is the Insured with respect to acts or omissions arising in the scope and course of the operations of such Partnership, Association or Corporation and Insuring Agreements, Section II A(2), applies to you.

II. INSURING AGREEMENTS

A.

(1) Coverage – Individual Professional Liability

To pay on behalf of the Insured all sums which the Insured shall become legally obligated to pay as damages because of any claim or claims made against the Insured arising out of a medical incident while in the performance of professional services rendered or which should have been rendered, during the policy period, by the Insured. The Association shall have the right and duty to defend any suit against the Insured alleging damages, even if such suit is groundless, false or fraudulent, but the Association shall have the right to make such investigation and settlement of any claim or suit as may be deemed appropriate by the Association. However, we will have no duty to defend the Insured against any "suit" to which this insurance does not apply. The Association shall not be obligated to pay any claim or judgment or to defend any suit after the applicable limit of the Association's liability has been exhausted by payment of judgments or settlements.

If the Insured elects coverage for the employees as reflected in the declarations, the Association agrees to pay on behalf of the Insured all sums the Insured shall be obligated vicariously to pay as damages because of any claim or claims made against the Insured arising out of a medical incident which is caused by your employee during the policy period. This coverage applies to all employees, except those listed herein, while acting within the scope of their employment and working under your supervision. This coverage does not apply to the following employees: physicians, dentists, pharmacists, chiropractors, podiatrists, nurse anesthetists, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, perfusionists, and surgical techs.

(2) Coverage – Partnership, Association or Corporation Professional Liability

To pay on behalf of the insured all sums which the insured shall become legally obligated to pay as damages because of any claim or claims made against the insured arising out of a medical incident which occurs during the policy period by any person for whose acts or omissions the professional partnership, association or corporate insured is legally liable. This coverage shall not apply with respect to the legal liability for the actions of any physician, dentist, pharmacist, chiropractor, podiatrist, nurse anesthetist, physician assistant, nurse practitioner, nurse midwife, perfusionist, or surgical tech unless they have an individual professional liability policy. The Association shall have the right and duty to defend any suit against the insured alleging damages, even if such suit is groundless, false or fraudulent, but the Association shall have the right to make such investigation and settlement of any claim or suit as may be deemed appropriate by the Association. However, we will have no duty to defend the insured against any "suit" to which this insurance does not apply. The Association shall not be obligated to pay any claim or judgment or to defend any suit after the applicable limit of the Association's liability has been exhausted by payment of judgments or settlements.

B. Supplementary Payments

The Association will pay, in addition to the applicable limit of liability, all expenses incurred by the Association, all costs taxed against the insured in any suit defended by the Association, and all interest on that portion of any judgment up to the amount of the limit of liability shown in the declarations which accrues after entry of the judgment and before the Association has paid or tendered or deposited in court that part of the judgment which does not exceed the limit of the Association's liability thereon.

C. Territory

This policy applies to medical incidents which occur during the policy period within the United States of America, its territories and possessions, or Canada and further providing the insured practices at least eighty percent (80%) of his time in South Carolina.

III. EXCLUSIONS – CLAIMS NOT COVERED

This insurance does not apply to any claims:

A. Arising from any act, error, or omission committed by any insured that is dishonest, fraudulent, malicious, criminal or deliberately wrongful.

B. Arising from any act, error, or omission which has been prohibited by any licensing body or credentialing organization.

C. Arising from your affiliation with any hospital, sanitarium, clinic with bed and board facilities, nursing home, laboratory, or other business enterprise as an owner, operator, director, medical director or executive officer. This exclusion does not apply to your direct liability for providing, or failing to provide professional services to your patients or as a member of a formal accreditation, standards review or similar professional board or committee, including the directives of such board or committee.

D. Arising from disputes about your fees, including collecting fees from third parties, except that portion of any claim arising from a medical incident.

E. Alleging a refund or credit for fees paid to any insured from any source for professional services rendered by any insured.

F. Arising out of allegations of Medicare, Medicaid, or private insurer fraud.

G. Arising from discrimination on any basis whatsoever.

H. Arising out of any act, error or omission in which you expected or intended injury or damage, regardless of whether you expected or intended the specific injury or damage sustained.

I. Alleging bodily injury or property damage in any way involving the ownership, maintenance or use of an automobile, watercraft or aircraft.

J. For injury or damage to:

- your employee or independent contractor working for you, arising out of his or her work; or any obligation for which the insured or any carrier acting as insurer may be held liable under any workers' compensation, unemployment compensation or disability benefits law or under any similar law;

- the spouse or relative or such employee or independent contractor as a consequence of injury or damage to the employee or independent contractor.

This exclusion applies:

- whether you are liable as an employer or in any other capacity; and
- to any obligation to share damages with or repay someone else who must pay damages because of the injury.

K. Alleging any direct or consequential injury or damage arising out of any:

- refusal to employ;
- termination of employment; or
- coercion, demotion, reassignment, defamation, harassment, humiliation, discrimination, or other employment-related practices, policies, acts, or omissions.

L. Arising from

- a tanning bed, massage therapy, synthetic hair implants, chelation therapy; or
- the prescription of drugs not approved by the FDA, or any other type of experimental or non-standard therapy administered without written informed patient consent.

M. Arising from any type of sexual action, undue familiarity, or sexual disease transmission. Sexual action includes, but is not limited to, any behavior with sexual connotation or purpose – whether performed for sexual gratification, harassment, assault, molestation, discrimination, intimidation, coercion, or other reason. This exclusion applies even if an alleged cause of the damages was the insured's negligent hiring, placement, training, supervision, act, error or omission.

N. Alleging injury for which you:

- are also insured under a nuclear energy liability policy; or
- would be insured under that policy but for the exhaustion of its limit of liability.

A nuclear energy liability policy is issued by:

- American Nuclear Insurers;
- Mutual Atomic Energy Liability Underwriters;
- Nuclear Insurance Association of Canada; or any of their successors.

O. Arising out of any business relationship between you and any past or present patient, client, employee or employer.

P. Arising out of any unfair trade or collection practice, or arising out of any anti-trust violation or uncompetitive practice.

Q. Alleging property damage to:

- property you own, rent, occupy, borrow or use;
- premises you have sold, given away or abandoned;
- property in your care, custody or control.

R. Alleging bodily injury or property damage on or arising out of premises you own, rent or occupy.

S. Alleging liability of others you assume under any contract or agreement.

T. Arising out of any act for which you did not have a license to perform such act as required by law.

U. Arising out of the performance of professional services while you were under the influence of a drug or intoxicant.

V. Arising out of any act or medical incident covered under any policy in effect before this policy. This exclusion applies whether or not that prior policy has any limits of coverage remaining.

W. Arising out of the actual, alleged, or threatened discharge, dispersal, release, or escape of pollutants, or any direction or request, to test for, monitor, clean up, remove, contain, treat, detoxify, or neutralize pollutants.

X. Caused directly or indirectly by war, including undeclared war, civil war, insurrection, rebellion, revolution, warlike act by a military force or military personnel or destruction or seizure for use for a military purpose.

Y. Alleging any personal or advertising injury.

Z. Arising from any violation of a statute, ordinance or regulation including, but not limited to, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), and any fines or penalties related thereto. This exclusion does not apply to a claim made by your patient alleging the disclosure of medical information to an unauthorized person or entity.

IV. LIMITS OF LIABILITY

The limit of liability stated in the declarations as applicable to each "claim" is the limit of the Association's liability for loss resulting from any medical incident causing injury or death, regardless of the number of:

1) Persons injured,
2) Claims made,
3) Claimants, or
4) Subsequent related or derivative claims.

The limit of liability stated in the declarations as "annual aggregate" is the total limit of the Association's liability during the policy period.

V. CONDITIONS

A. Insured's Duties

1. The insured has a duty to notify the Association in writing of any change in the insured's medical practice. To the extent such change increases the insured's risk classification, the Association will adjust the premium for this policy and collect the difference in premium as of the date of such change. The Association has the right to adjust premiums at any time based on rates and rating plans in effect at the time.

2. Upon the insured becoming aware of any medical incident or alleged injury, written notice containing the fullest information obtainable with respect to the circumstances, time and place thereof, and the names and addresses of the injured person and of available witnesses shall be given by or for the insured to the Association or any of its authorized agents as soon as practicable. The insured shall promptly take at their expense all reasonable steps to prevent other injury from arising out of the same or similar conditions, but such expense shall not be recoverable under this Policy.

3. If claim is made or suit is brought against the insured, the insured shall immediately forward to the Association every demand, notice, summons, complaint or other legal documents received by him or his representative.

4. The insured shall cooperate with the Association and, upon the Association's request, assist in making settlements, in the defense of suits and in enforcing any right of contribution or right of indemnity against any person or organization who may be liable to the insured because of bodily injury with respect to which insurance is afforded under this policy. The insured shall do nothing after loss to prejudice or impair such rights, and shall attend depositions, hearings, and trials and assist in securing and giving evidence and obtaining the attendance of witnesses.

5. The insured shall in no way alter any medical record after a medical incident has occurred. An addendum to the original record by the insured which is signed and dated shall not be considered an alteration.

6. The insured shall not assume any financial obligation or pay out any money without the prior consent of the Association. If the insured does, it will be at the insured's own expense.

If you fail to comply with your duties outlined under this policy, your failure to do so may result in the denial of coverage by the Association.

B. Special Verdicts or Special Interrogatories

As a condition of coverage, insured agrees that insured's appointed or personal defense counsel, upon request made by Association, shall make a motion to the trial court and otherwise consent to the submission of a special verdict form or special interrogatories to the jury to determine on what causes of action or on what claims a jury's verdict is returned or any other reasonable factual inquiry for the jury as may be determined by the Association.

C. Action Against the Association

No action shall lie against the Association unless, as a condition precedent thereto, there shall have been full compliance with all of the terms of this Policy by the insured, nor until the amount of the insured's obligation to pay shall have been finally determined either by judgment against the insured or by written agreement of the claimant and the Association. Any person or organization or the legal representative thereof who has secured such judgment or written agreement shall thereafter be entitled to recover under this Policy to the extent of the insurance afforded by this Policy. No person or organization shall have any right under this Policy to join the Association as a party in any action against the Insured to determine the Insured's liability, nor shall the Association be impleaded by the Insured or his legal representative. Bankruptcy or insolvency of the Insured or of the Insured's estate shall not relieve the Association of any of its obligations hereunder.

D. Other Insurance

A medical incident covered under this policy may also be covered under another policy issued to you, or for which you are an Insured. This policy will apply in excess of such other coverage no matter how such other coverage is described. On an excess, contingent, or primary basis, this policy will come into effect only after such other insurance has been exhausted. This clause will not apply to coverage which is expressly stated to apply in excess of this specific policy.

When the insurance afforded by this policy and any other insurance both apply to a medical incident on the same basis, whether primary, excess or contingent, the Association shall not be liable under this policy for a greater proportion of the damages than the applicable limit of liability under this policy for such damages bears to the total applicable limits of liability of all valid and collectible insurance for the medical incident.

E. Recovering Damages from a Third Party

You may be able to recover all or part of a loss from someone other than the Association. You therefore must do all that is possible after a loss to preserve any such right of recovery. If the Association makes a payment under this policy, that right of recovery, to the extent of any payments made by the Association on your behalf will belong to us. You will do whatever is necessary, including signing documents, to assist the Association in obtaining that recovery.

F. Policy Changes

This policy contains all the agreements between you and the Association concerning this insurance. The Named Insured in the declarations, or their authorized agent, is authorized to make changes in this policy with the Association's consent. This policy can only be changed by a written endorsement we issue and make a part of this policy.

Notice to any agent or knowledge possessed by any agent or by any other person shall not effect a waiver or a change in any part of this policy or estop the Association from asserting any right under the terms of this policy; nor shall the terms of this policy be waived or changed, except by endorsement issued by the Association to form a part of this policy.

G. Assignment

The interest under this policy of any Insured is not assignable without the express written consent of the Association and shall not bind the Association until its consent is endorsed hereon; if, however, the Named Insured shall die, such insurance as is afforded by this policy shall apply to the Named Insured's legal representative, as the Named Insured, but only while acting within the scope of his duties as such.

H. Special Rights and Duties of First Named Insured

You agree that when there is more than one person or organization covered under this policy, the first Named Insured in the declarations shall act on behalf of all of you as to:

- giving and receiving notice of cancellation;
- payment of premiums and receipt of return premiums;
- acceptance of any endorsements to this policy.

I. Special Statutes

Any and all provisions of this policy which are in conflict with the statutes and regulations of the State of South Carolina are understood, declared and acknowledged by this Association to be amended to conform to such statutes and regulations.

J. Declarations

By acceptance of this policy, the Named Insured agrees that the statements in the application, underwriting questionnaire and declarations are the Insured's agreements and representations and that this policy is issued in reliance upon the truth of such representations and that this policy and application therefore embody all agreements existing between the Insured and the Association.

K. Licensure

In consideration of the premiums charged, it is a condition precedent to continued coverage that the insured have a proper Healthcare Providers License and qualifications.

L. Liability for Assessment

Pursuant to the provisions of a Joint Resolution of the South Carolina General Assembly and Regulation R5-75 of the South Carolina Department of Insurance, this policy shall be assessable during the lifetime of the Association, the assessment not to exceed one annual premium at the rate in effect for the policy period for which the assessment is necessary. Failure to pay any assessment made by the Association will result in the termination of coverage for any claims occurring during the policy period assessed and any claims reported after the date of assessment.

M. Sole Agent

The Named Insured in the declarations, or their authorized agent, shall act on behalf of all Insureds with respect to giving and receiving notice of cancellation, accepting any endorsement issued to form a part of this policy and receiving return premium if any, and is charged with the responsibility for notifying the Association of any changes of members, partners, officers, directors or employees or any other change which might affect the insurance hereunder.

N. Cancellation and Non-Renewal Provisions

a) This policy may be canceled by the insured by mailing to the Association, or any of its authorized representatives, written notice. The cancelation shall become effective on the date requested by the Insured or the date the notice is received by the Association, whichever is later.

b) This policy may be canceled by the Association by mailing or delivering written notice to the Insured at the Insured's last known address:

1) at least 10 days prior to the effective date of cancellation if the Insured has failed to pay a premium when due, whether the premium is payable directly to the Association or indirectly under a premium finance plan or extension of credit; or
2) at least 30 days prior to the effective date of cancellation if the Association cancels for any other reason.

This notice shall also be sent to the Insured's agent and shall include the reason(s) for the cancellation.

c) If this policy has been in effect for 90 days or more, or is a renewed policy, the Association may cancel this policy only for one or more of the following reasons:

1) nonpayment of premium;
2) material misrepresentation of fact which, if known to the Association, would have caused the Association not to issue the policy;
3) substantial change in the risk assumed, except to the extent that the Association should reasonably have foreseen the change or contemplated the risk in writing the policy;
4) substantial breaches of contractual duties, conditions, or warranties.

d) If the Insured cancels this policy, earned premium shall be computed in accordance with the standard short rate tables and procedures. If the Association cancels this policy, earned premium shall be computed pro rata. Premium adjustments shall be made within a reasonable period of time after cancellation, but payment or tender of such unearned premium shall not be a condition of cancellation.

e) If the Association elects not to renew this policy, the Association shall mail or deliver written notice of the nonrenewal, including the reason for the nonrenewal, to the Insured at the Insured's last known address and to the Insured's agent not less than 30 days prior to the expiration date provided in the policy.

VI. DEFINITIONS

Unless otherwise stated in a respective coverage part or endorsement, where any of the following terms are found in bold print within this policy, they will have only the meaning shown below:

A. Automobile means a land vehicle, self-propelled or not, a trailer, or a semi-trailer. This includes any machinery or apparatus attached, whether or not subject to motor vehicles registration or designed for use principally on public roads.

B. Bodily injury means bodily harm, sickness, or disease, including death resulting therefrom.

C. Claim(s) means a demand for money damages. Administrative proceedings (including, but not limited to, disciplinary matters) and criminal proceedings are not claims.

D. Declarations means the Declarations Page issued by the Association to the Insured, which lists the applicable coverages and coverage amounts.

E. Medical Incident means any act, error, or omission in your providing or failure to provide professional medical services.

Any such act, error or omission, together with all related or concurrent acts, errors or omissions in the furnishing of such services to any one person shall be considered one medical incident, regardless of the length of time or number of contacts such person may have with the insured.

F. Personal or advertising injury means injury arising out of one or more of the following offenses:

- false arrest, detention or imprisonment;
- malicious prosecution;
- the wrongful eviction from, wrongful entry into, or invasion of the right of private occupancy of a room, dwelling or premises that a person occupies, by or on behalf of its owner, landlord or lessor;
- oral or written publication of material that slanders or libels a person or organization or disparages a person's or organization's goods, products or services; or
- oral or written publication of material that violates a person's right of privacy.
- the use of another's advertising idea in your "advertisement"; or
- infringing upon another's copyright, trade dress or slogan in your "advertisement"

G. Policy period means the period commencing on the effective date shown in the declarations. This period ends on the earlier of either the expiration date or the effective date of cancellation of this policy. If any person becomes an insured under this policy after the effective date, the policy period with respect to that person begins on the date they became an insured.

H. Pollutants means any solid, liquid, gaseous, or thermal irritant or contaminant, including: smoke, vapor, soot, fumes, acids, alkalis, chemicals and waste. "Waste" includes material to be recycled, reconditioned or reclaimed.

I. Professional services means those services for which you are licensed, trained and qualified to perform in your capacity as a healthcare provider. Professional services also mean your services as a member of a formal accreditation, standards review, or similar professional board or committee, including the directives of such board or committee.

J. Property damage means (1) physical injury to, or destruction of, tangible property including the loss of use of it; or (2) loss of use of tangible property, which has not been physically injured or destroyed.

K. Suit means a civil proceeding in a court of law or an arbitration proceeding to which the insured is required to submit or to which the insured has submitted with the consent of the Association.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have caused this policy to be signed by our Chairman and countersigned where required by law on the Declarations Page by our duly authorized representative.

Professional Liability Policy

Claims Made Coverage Form – SCJUA PL-200 (Ed. 10/06)

The Board of Directors of the South Carolina Medical Malpractice Liability Insurance Joint Underwriting Association attached herewith the Declarations Page and Endorsements (if applicable) of your Claims Made Coverage policy form. Please note that if claims made coverage is discontinued, a Reporting Endorsement ("Tail Coverage") must be purchased to provide coverage for claims which have occurred but not yet reported.

The JUA would like to specifically direct your attention to the "Insured's Duties" section which begins on page 7 of the policy form. This section requires an insured to promptly notify the JUA in a wide variety of circumstances, included but not limited to:

- any change in your medical practice
- any knowledge of an adverse medical incident or alleged injury
- any letter from an attorney or patient alleging improper treatment, requesting medical records, or advising you to notify your insurance carrier
- *any demand, notice, summons, complaint, subpoena or other legal document
- *any request for records, deposition request or other inquiry as it may relate to an adverse medical incident of a patient regardless of whether it appears that you are being implicated.

If you are presented with any of these circumstances, please contact the JUA immediately (864-240-5400) in order that we may provide you with the appropriate information and assist you if necessary. Failing to do so could jeopardize your insurance coverage or worsen the risk associated with an adverse medical incident.

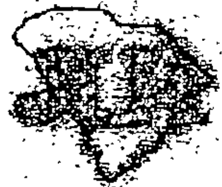
In addition, with respect to any claim or potential claim, do not discuss the circumstances with anyone until you have received authorization from the JUA. Do not make any alterations or changes to the existing medical or office records.

Thank you for selecting the South Carolina Medical Malpractice Liability Insurance JUA as your professional liability carrier. We pledge our commitment to serving the healthcare providers of South Carolina.

ASSESSABLE POLICY



PROFESSIONAL LIABILITY POLICY

South Carolina Medical Malpractice Liability Insurance

Joint Underwriting Association

CLAIMS MADE COVERAGE FORM

This policy is complete only when a declarations page is attached.

PLEASE READ THE POLICY CAREFULLY

THIS POLICY IS LIMITED TO LIABILITY FOR ONLY THOSE CLAIMS THAT ARE FIRST MADE [illegible] AND REPORTED TO THE ASSOCIATION DURING THE POLICY [illegible] AN EXTENDED REPORTING [illegible].

Throughout this policy, the words you, your and Insured refer to the Named Insured shown in the declarations and any other person or entity qualifying as an insured.

In consideration of the receipt of premium, in reliance upon the statements contained in the application and [illegible], and the compliance by the Insured with the terms and conditions set forth herein, subject to the declarations attached hereto and made a part hereof, limits of liability, exclusions, conditions and other terms of this Policy, the South Carolina Medical Malpractice Liability Insurance Joint Underwriting Association, herein called the Association, agrees with the Insured as follows:

I. WHO IS THE INSURED

If you are designated in the declarations as:

A. An individual – each individual named in the declarations is an insured and Insuring Agreements, Section II A(1), applies to you.

B. A Partnership, Association or Corporation – the partnership, association or corporation described in the declarations and any member, partner, officer, or director thereof is the Insured with respect to acts or omissions arising in the scope and course of the operations of such Partnership, Association or Corporation and Insuring Agreements, Section II A(2), applies to you.

II. INSURING AGREEMENTS

A.

(1) Coverage – Individual Professional Liability

To pay on behalf of the Insured all sums which the Insured shall be legally obligated to pay as Damages for Claims first made against the Insured and reported to the Association during the Policy Period, or Extended Reporting Period, as applicable, arising out of a medical incident

while in the performance of professional services rendered or which should have been rendered by the Insured, or by any person for whose acts the Insured is legally responsible, provided always that such Medical Incident happens:

a. on or after the effective date shown on the Declarations; or

b. at any time prior to the policy effective date shown on the Declarations, if;

1. such Medical Incident happens on or subsequent to the prior acts date on the Declarations and;

2. there is no prior policy or policies which provide insurance (including any Automatic or Optional Extended Reporting Period or similar provision of such policies) for such Medical Incident, unless the available limits of liability of such prior policy or policies are insufficient to pay any Medical Incident, in which event this policy will be specific excess over any such prior coverage, subject to this policy's terms, limits of liability, exclusions and conditions.

The Association shall have the right and duty to defend any Suit against the Insured seeking Damages to which this insurance applies even if any of the allegations of the Suit are groundless, false or fraudulent. The Association, at its option, shall select and assign defense counsel; however, the Insured may engage additional counsel, solely at the Insured's expense, to associate in their defense of any Claim covered hereunder. Claims Expenses incurred by the Association shall be paid in addition to the applicable limits of liability.

The Association shall also have the right to investigate any Claim and/or negotiate the settlement thereof, as it deems expedient.

Furthermore, no Insured shall admit liability, assume any obligations, incur any costs, charges or expenses or enter into any settlement without the Association's written consent.

In no event shall the Association be obligated to pay any Damages or Claim Expenses or to defend, or continue to defend, any Suit after the applicable limit of the Association's liability has been exhausted by payment of judgments or settlements.

Employee Coverage Election -- If the insured elects coverage for the employees as reflected in the declarations, the Association agrees to pay on behalf of the insured all sums the insured shall be obligated vicariously to pay as damages because of any claim or claims first made against the Insured and reported to the Association during the Policy Period, or Extended Reporting Period, as applicable, arising out of a medical incident while in the performance of professional services rendered or which should have been rendered by the Insured and reported to the Association during the Policy Period, or Extended Reporting Period, as applicable, which is caused by your employee. This coverage applies to all employees, except those listed herein, while acting within the scope of their employment and working under your supervision, provided always that such Medical Incident happens:

a. on or after the effective date shown on the Declarations; or

b. at any time prior to the policy effective date shown on the Declarations, if;

1. such Medical Incident happens on or subsequent to the prior acts date on the Declarations and;

2. there is no prior policy or policies which provide insurance (including any Automatic or Optional Extended Reporting Period or similar provision of such policies) for such Medical Incident, unless the available limits of liability of such prior policy or policies are insufficient to pay any Claim, in which event this policy will be specific excess over any such prior coverage, subject to this policy's terms, limits of liability, exclusions and conditions.

This coverage does not provide a separate limit of coverage for the employees as each employee shall share in the limit of liability for the named insured identified on the declarations of this policy.

This coverage does not apply to the following employees: physicians, dentists, pharmacists, chiropractors, podiatrists, nurse anesthetists, physician assistants, nurse practitioners, nurse midwives, perfusionists, and surgical techs.

(2) Coverage – Partnership, Association or Corporation Professional Liability

To pay on behalf of the Insured all sums which the Insured shall be legally obligated to pay as Damages for Claims first made against the Insured and reported to the Association during the Policy Period, or Extended Reporting Period, as applicable, arising out of a medical incident while in the performance of professional services rendered or which should have been rendered by the Insured, or by any person for whose acts or omissions the professional partnership, association or corporate insured is legally liable, provided always that such Medical Incident happens:

A. on or after the effective date shown on the Declarations; or

B. at any time prior to the policy effective date shown on the Declarations, if;

1. such Medical Incident happens on or subsequent to the prior acts date on the Declarations and;

2. there is no prior policy or policies which provide insurance (including any Automatic or Optional Extended Reporting Period or similar provision of such policies) for such Medical Incident, unless the available limits of liability of such prior policy or policies are insufficient to pay any Medical Incident, in which event this policy will be specific excess over any such prior coverage, subject to this policy's terms, limits of liability, exclusions and conditions.

This coverage shall not apply with respect to the legal liability for the actions of any physician, dentist, pharmacist, chiropractor, podiatrist, nurse anesthetist, physician assistant, nurse practitioner, nurse midwife, perfusionist, or surgical tech unless they have an individual professional liability policy.

The Association shall have the right and duty to defend any Suit against the Insured seeking Damages to which this insurance applies even if any of the allegations of the Suit are groundless, false or fraudulent. The Association, at its option, shall select and assign defense counsel; however, the Insured may engage additional counsel, solely at the Insured's expense, to associate in their defense of any Claim covered hereunder. Claims Expenses incurred by the Company shall be paid in addition to the applicable limits of liability.

The Association shall also have the right to investigate any Claim and/or negotiate the settlement thereof, as it deems expedient.

Furthermore, no Insured shall admit liability, assume any obligations, incur any costs, charges or expenses or enter into any settlement without the Association's written consent.

In no event shall the Association be obligated to pay any Damages or Claim Expenses or to defend, or continue to defend, any Suit after the applicable limit of the Association's liability has been exhausted by payment of judgments or settlements.

B. Supplementary Payments

The Association will pay, in addition to the applicable limit of liability, all expenses incurred by the Association, all costs taxed against the Insured in any suit defended by the Association, and all interest on that portion of any judgment up to the amount of the limit of liability shown in the declarations which accrues after entry of the judgment and before the Association has paid or tendered or deposited in court that part of the judgment which does not exceed the limit of the Association's liability thereon.

C. Territory

This policy applies to medical incidents which occur during the policy period within the United States of America, its territories and possessions, or Canada and further providing the Insured practices at least eighty percent (80%) of his time in South Carolina.

D. When A Claim Is Deemed First Made

A claim is made the earliest of:

a. when the named insured notifies insurer or insurer's agent in writing of a circumstance involving a particular person which is likely to result in a claim; or
b. when the named insured receives written notice that a Claim has been made against a named insured.

All claims arising out of the same or related Medical Incidents shall be considered as having been made at the time the first such claim is made, and shall be subject to the same limit of liability.

III. EXCLUSIONS – CLAIMS NOT COVERED

This insurance does not apply to any claims:

A. Arising from any act, error, or omission committed by any insured that is dishonest, fraudulent, malicious, criminal or deliberately wrongful.

B. Arising from any act, error, or omission which has been prohibited by any licensing body or credentialing organization.

C. Arising from your affiliation with any hospital, sanitarium, clinic with bed and board facilities, nursing home, laboratory, or other business enterprise as an owner, operator, director, medical director or executive officer.

D. Arising from disputes about your fees, including collecting fees from third parties, except that portion of any claim arising from a medical incident.

E. Alleging a refund or credit for fees paid to any insured from any source for professional services rendered by any insured.

F. Arising out of allegations of Medicare, Medicaid, or private insurer fraud.

G. Arising from discrimination on any basis whatsoever.

H. Arising out of any act, error or omission in which you expected or intended injury or damage, regardless of whether you expected or intended the specific injury or damage sustained.

I. Alleging bodily injury or property damage in any way involving the ownership, maintenance or use of an automobile, watercraft or aircraft.

J. For injury or damage to:

- your employee or independent contractor working for you, arising out of his or her work; or any obligation for which the insured or any carrier acting as insurer may be held liable under any workers' compensation, unemployment compensation or disability benefits law or under any similar law;
- the spouse or relative or such employee or independent contractor as a consequence of injury or damage to the employee or independent contractor.

This exclusion applies:

- whether you are liable as an employer or in any other capacity; and
- to any obligation to share damages with or repay someone else who must pay damages because of the injury.

K. Alleging any direct or consequential injury or damage arising out of any:

- refusal to employ;
- termination of employment; or
- coercion, demotion, reassignment, defamation, harassment, humiliation, discrimination, or other employment related practices, policies, acts, or omissions.

L. Arising from

- a tanning bed, massage therapy, synthetic hair implants, chelation therapy; or
- the prescription of drugs not approved by the FDA, or any other type of experimental or non-standard therapy administered without written informed patient consent.

M. Arising from any type of sexual action, undue familiarity, or sexual disease transmission. Sexual action includes, but is not limited to, any behavior with sexual connotation or purpose – whether performed for sexual gratification, harassment, assault, molestation, discrimination, intimidation, coercion, or other reason. This exclusion applies even if an alleged cause of the damages was the insured's negligent hiring, placement, training, supervision, act, error or omission.

N. Alleging injury for which you:

- are also insured under a nuclear energy liability policy; or
- would be insured under that policy but for the exhaustion of its limit of liability.

A nuclear energy liability policy is issued by:

- American Nuclear Insurers;
- Mutual Atomic Energy Liability Underwriters;

- Nuclear Insurance Association of Canda; or any of their successors.

O. Arising out of any business relationship between you and any past or present patient, client, employee or employer.

P. Arising out of any unfair trade or collection practice, or arising out of any anti-trust violation or uncompetitive practice.

Q. Alleging property damage to:

- property you own, rent, occupy, borrow or use;
- premises you have sold, given away or abandoned;
- property in your care, custody or control.

R. Alleging bodily injury or property damage on or arising out of premises you own, rent or occupy.

S. Alleging liability of others you assume under any contract or agreement.

T. Arising out of any act for which you did not have a license to perform such act as required by law.

U. Arising out of the performance of professional services while you were under the influence of a drug or intoxicant.

V. Arising out of any act or medical incident

1. which has been reported to another insurance carrier prior to the first date coverage is provided under the policy;
2. which occurred prior to the first date coverage is provided under this policy, if on such date, the insured knew or believed, or had reason to know or believe, that such medical incident had occurred;
3. which occurred during a period in which the insured was not covered under a policy of professional liability insurance;
4. which occurred during a period in which the insured was covered under any policy in effect before this policy. This exclusion applies whether or not that prior policy has any limits of coverage remaining.

W. Arising out of the actual, alleged, or threatened, discharge, dispersal, release, or escape of pollutants, or any direction, or request, to test for, monitor, cleanup, remove, contain, treat, detoxify, or neutralize pollutants.

Y. Alleging any personal or advertising injury.

Z. Arising from any violation of a statute, ordinance or regulation including, but not limited to, the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA.), and any fines or penalties related thereto.

IV. LIMITS OF LIABILITY

The limit of liability stated in the declarations as applicable to each "claim" is the limit of the Association's liability for loss resulting from any medical incident causing injury or death, regardless of the number of:

1) Persons injured,
2) Claims made,
3) Claimants, or
4) Subsequent related or derivative claims.

The limit of liability stated in the declarations as "annual aggregate" is the total limit of the Association's liability during the policy period.

V. CONDITIONS

A. Insured's Duties

1. The insured has a duty to notify the Association in writing within 30 days if the insured's medical practice changes so that the Association can determine the insured's risk classification and what premium is owed to the Association. The Association will calculate the premium for insured's risk classification for this policy using the information available at the time. If the information is incomplete or incorrect, the Association will have the right to recalculate the insured's premium. The Association has the right to adjust premiums at any time based on rates and rating plans in effect at the time.

2. Upon the insured becoming aware of any medical incident or alleged injury, written notice containing the fullest information obtainable with respect to the circumstances, time and place thereof, and the names and addresses of the injured person and of available witnesses shall be given by or for the insured to the Association or any of its authorized agents as soon as practicable. The insured shall promptly take at their expense all reasonable steps to prevent other injury from arising out of the same or similar conditions, but such expense shall not be recoverable under this Policy.

3. If claim is made or suit is brought against the insured, the insured shall immediately forward to the Association every demand, notice, summons, complaint or other legal documents received by him or his representative.

4. The insured shall cooperate with the Association and, upon the Association's request, assist in making settlements, in the defense of suits and in enforcing any right of contribution or right of indemnity against any person or organization who may be liable to the insured because of bodily injury with respect to which insurance is afforded under this policy. The insured shall do nothing after loss to prejudice or impair such rights, and shall attend depositions, hearings, and trials and assist in securing and giving evidence and obtaining the attendance of witnesses.

5. The insured shall in no way alter any medical record after a medical incident has occurred. An addendum to the original record by the insured which is signed and dated shall not be considered an alteration.

6. The insured shall not assume any financial obligation or pay out any money without the prior consent of the Association. If the insured does, it will be at the insured's own expense.

If you fail to comply with your duties outlined under this policy, your failure to do so may result in the denial of coverage by the Association.

B. Special Verdicts or Special Interrogatories

As a condition of coverage, insured agrees that insured's appointed or personal defense counsel, upon request made by Association, shall make a motion to the trial court and otherwise consent to the submission of a special verdict form or special interrogatories to the jury to determine on what causes of action or on what claims a jury's verdict is returned or any other reasonable factual inquiry for the jury as may be determined by the Association.

C. Action Against the Association

No action shall lie against the Association unless, as a condition precedent thereto, there shall have been full compliance with all of the terms of this Policy by the insured, nor until the amount of the insured's obligation to pay shall have been finally determined either by judgment against the Insured or by written agreement of the claimant and the Association. Any person or organization or the legal representative thereof who has secured such judgment or written agreement shall thereafter be entitled to recover under this Policy to the extent of the insurance afforded by this Policy. No person or organization shall have any right under this Policy to join the Association as a party in any action against the insured to determine the insured's liability, nor shall the Association be impleaded by the insured or his legal representative. Bankruptcy or insolvency of the insured or of the insured's estate shall not relieve the Association of any of its obligations hereunder.

D. Other Insurance

A medical incident covered under this policy may also be covered under another policy issued to you, or for which you are an insured. This policy will apply in excess of such other coverage no matter how such other coverage is described. On an excess, contingent, or primary basis, this policy will come into effect only after such other insurance has been exhausted. This clause will not apply to coverage which is expressly stated to apply in excess of this specific policy.

When the insurance afforded by this policy and any other insurance both apply to a medical incident on the same basis, whether primary, excess or contingent, the Association shall not be liable under this policy for a greater proportion of the damages than the applicable limit of liability under this policy for such damages bears to the total applicable limits of liability of all valid and collectible insurance for the medical incident.

E. Recovering Damages from a Third Party

You may be able to recover all or part of a loss from someone other than the Association. You therefore must do all that is possible after a loss to preserve any such right of recovery. If the Association makes a payment under this policy, that right of recovery, to the extent of any payments made by the Association on your behalf will belong to us. You will do whatever is necessary, including signing documents, to assist the Association in obtaining that recovery.

F. Policy Changes

This policy contains all the agreements between you and the Association concerning this insurance. The Named Insured in the declarations, or their authorized agent, is authorized to make changes in this policy with the Association's consent. This policy can only be changed by a written endorsement we issue and make a part of this policy.

Notice to any agent or knowledge possessed by any agent or by any other person shall not effect a waiver or a change in any part of this policy or estop the Association from asserting any right under the terms of this policy; nor shall the terms of this policy be waived or changed, except by endorsement issued by the Association to form a part of this policy.

G. Assignment

The interest under this policy of any insured is not assignable without the express written consent of the Association and shall not bind the Association until its consent is endorsed hereon; if, however, the Named Insured shall die, such insurance as is afforded by this policy shall apply to the Named Insured's legal representative, as the Named Insured, but only while acting within the scope of his duties as such.

H. Special Rights and Duties of First Named Insured

You agree that when there is more than one person or organization covered under this policy, the first Named Insured in the declarations shall act on behalf of all of you as to:

- giving and receiving notice of cancellation;
- payment of premiums and receipt of return premiums;
- acceptance of any endorsements to this policy.

I. Special Statutes

Any and all provisions of this policy which are in conflict with the statutes and regulations of the State of South Carolina are understood, declared and acknowledged by this Association to be amended to conform to such statutes and regulations.

J. Declarations

By acceptance of this policy, the Named Insured agrees that the statements in the application, underwriting questionnaire and declarations are the insured's agreements and representations and that this policy is issued in reliance upon the truth of such representations and that this policy and application therefore embody all agreements existing between the insured and the Association.

K. Licensure

In consideration of the premiums charged, it is a condition precedent to continued coverage that the insured have a proper Healthcare Providers License and qualifications.

L. Liability for Assessment

Pursuant to the provisions of a Joint Resolution of the South Carolina General Assembly and Regulation R5-75 of the South Carolina Department of Insurance, this policy shall be assessable during the lifetime of the Association, the assessment not to exceed one annual premium at the rate in effect for the policy period for which the assessment is necessary. Failure to pay any assessment made by the Association will result in the termination of coverage for any claims occurring during the policy period assessed and any claims reported after the date of assessment.

M. Sole Agent

The Named Insured in the declarations, or their authorized agent, shall act on behalf of all insureds with respect to giving and receiving notice of cancellation, accepting any endorsement issued to form a part of this policy and receiving return premium if any, and is charged with the responsibility for notifying the Association of any changes of members, partners, officers, directors or employees or any other change which might affect the insurance hereunder.

N. Cancellation and Non-Renewal Provisions

a) This policy may be cancelled by the insured by mailing to the Association, or any of its authorized representatives, written notice. The cancellation shall become effective on the date requested by the insured or the date the notice is received by the Association, whichever is later.

b) This policy may be cancelled by the Association by mailing or delivering written notice to the Insured at the insured's last known address:

1) at least 10 days prior to the effective date of cancellation if the insured has failed to pay a premium when due, whether the premium is payable directly to the Association or indirectly under a premium finance plan or extension of credit; or
2) at least 30 days prior to the effective date of cancellation if the Association cancels for any other reason.

This notice shall also be sent to the insured's agent and shall include the reason(s) for the cancellation.

c) If this policy has been in effect for 90 days or more, or is a renewal policy, the Association may cancel this policy only for one or more of the following reasons:

1) nonpayment of premium;
2) material misrepresentation of fact which, if known to the Association, would have caused the Association not to issue the policy;
3) substantial change in the risk assumed, except to the extent that the Association should reasonably have foreseen the change or contemplated the risk in writing the policy;
4) substantial breaches of contractual duties, conditions, or warranties.

d) If the insured cancels this policy, earned premium shall be computed in accordance with the standard short rate tables and procedures. If the Association cancels this policy, earned premium shall be computed pro rata. Premium adjustments shall be made within a reasonable period of time after cancellation, but payment or tender of such unearned premium shall not be a condition of cancellation.

e) If the Association elects not to renew this policy, the Association shall mail or deliver written notice of the nonrenewal, including the reason for the nonrenewal, to the insured at the insured's last known address and to the insured's agent not less than 30 days prior to the expiration date provided in the policy.

VI. ADDITIONAL BENEFITS

A. Extended Reporting Period

With respect to Coverage Part A, if this policy is canceled or non-renewed, except if for non-payment of premium, the insured may purchase an extended reporting period, commencing on the effective date of such cancellation or non-renewal and continuing thereafter for an unlimited duration, for reporting a claim against an insured to which Coverage Part A otherwise applies. In no event shall the extended reporting period apply to any claim made for a medical incident which occurs after the policy period.

The extended reporting period may be purchased by giving notice to the association within thirty (30) days after the effective date of the cancellation or non-renewal and by paying the applicable premium for such extended reporting period in accordance with the rules, rates and rating plans of the association then in effect.

The purchase of an extended reporting period does not extend the policy period or expand the coverage provided under this policy. The extended reporting period applies only to claims against an insured which are reported to the association during the extended reporting period.

B. Death or Disability Benefit

If an individual insured should die or become totally disabled while this policy is in effect, the association will issue an extended reporting period endorsement without requiring the payment of any additional premium. By total disability we mean total and permanent disability resulting in your complete inability to practice medicine due to sickness or injury. In order to qualify, such total disability must continue for a period of six (6) consecutive months while your policy is still in effect. In order to obtain a waiver of premium for the extended reporting period endorsement, acceptable proof of your death or total disability must be sent to the association in writing

C. Retirement Benefit

If an individual insured should retire while this policy is in effect, the association will issue an extended reporting period endorsement without requiring the payment of any additional premium provided the following conditions are met:

1) fully and permanently retired from the practice of medicine; and
2) been continuously insured with the association for at least five years immediately preceding your retirement; and
3) attained the age of 55; and
4) met your premium payment(s) obligation;
5) for those meeting requirements (1), (3) and (4) above, but not (2), a 20% credit will be applied to the extended reporting period endorsement premium for each full year you have been continuously insured with us immediately preceding your retirement.

In order to this retirement benefit for the extended reporting period endorsement, acceptable proof of your retirement must be sent to the association in writing promptly following your retirement.

VII. DEFINITIONS

Unless otherwise stated in a respective coverage part or endorsement, where any of the following terms are found in bold print within this policy, they will have only the meaning shown below:

A. Automobile means a land vehicle, self-propelled or not, a trailer, or a semi-trailer. This includes any machinery or apparatus attached, whether or not subject to motor vehicles registration or designed for use principally on public roads.

B. Bodily injury means bodily harm, sickness, or disease, including death resulting therefrom.

C. Claim(s) means a demand for money damages. Administrative proceedings (including, but not limited to, disciplinary matters) and criminal proceedings are not claims.

D. Declarations means the Declarations Page issued by the Association to the insured, which lists the applicable coverages and coverage amounts.

E. Medical Incident means any act, error, or omission in your providing or failure to provide professional medical services.

Any such act, error or omission, together with all related or concurrent acts, errors or omissions in the furnishing of such services to any one person shall be considered one medical incident, regardless of the length of time or number of contacts such person may have with the insured.

F. Personal or advertising injury means injury arising out of one or more of the following offenses:

- false arrest, detention or imprisonment;
- malicious prosecution;
- the wrongful eviction from, wrongful entry into, or invasion of the right of private occupancy of a room, dwelling or premises that a person occupies, by or on behalf of its owner, landlord or lessor;
- oral or written publication of material that slanders or libels a person or organization or disparages a person's or organization's goods, products or services; or
- oral or written publication of material that violates a person's right of privacy.

- The use of another's advertising idea in your "advertisement"; or
- Infringing upon another's copyright, trade dress or slogan in your "advertisement"

G. Policy period means the period commencing on the effective date shown in the declarations. This period ends on the earlier of either the expiration date or the effective date of cancellation of this policy. If any person becomes an insured under this policy after the effective date, the policy period with respect to that person begins on the date they became an insured.

H. Pollutants means any solid, liquid, gaseous, or thermal irritant or contaminant, including: smoke, vapor, soot, fumes, acids, alkalis, chemicals and waste. "Waste" includes material to be recycled, reconditioned or reclaimed.

I. Professional services means those services for which you are licensed, trained and qualified to perform in your capacity as a healthcare provider. Professional services also mean your services as a member of a formal accreditation, standards review, or similar professional board or committee, including the directives of such board or committee.

J. Property damage means (1) physical injury to, or destruction of, tangible property including the loss of use of it; or (2) loss of use of tangible property, which has not been physically injured or destroyed.

K. Suit means a civil proceeding in a court of law or an arbitration proceeding to which the insured is required to submit or to which the insured has submitted with the consent of the Association.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have caused this policy to be signed by our Chairman and countersigned where required by law on the Declarations Page by our duly authorized representative.

RE: Policy # JBC00041 - Claims Made Coverage
Extended Reporting Endorsement (Tail Coverage)

This is to remind you that your policy was cancelled or non-renewed effective 7/9/2009 12:00:00AM. Accordingly, an Extended Reporting Period Endorsement must be purchased to provider coverage for any medical incident which occurred on or after the retroactive date set forth in the policy and prior to the effective date of the cancellation or non renewal, but which is first reported after the effective date of the cancellation or non renewal. The cost of the Extended Reporting Period Endorsement effective 7/9/2009 12:00:00AM is $28,023.00. The Extended Reporting Period Endorsement may be purchased by giving written notice to the JUA and by paying the applicable premium shown below within the next thirty (30)

It may not be necessary to purchase an Extended Reporting Period Endorsement if your current insurance carrier will provide Prior Acts Coverage.

Extended Reporting Period Endorsement Premium Notice Slip must be returned for proper processing. Please detach on the dotted line and return with your payment within 30 days.

9 The reading and signing of this deposition is

11 respective parties.
12 Whereupon,
13 Burns Davison, being duly sworn and cautioned 14 to speak the truth, the whole truth, and 15 nothing but the truth, testified as follows:
16 EXAMINATION
17 BY MR. JOEY WRIGHT:
18 Q Okay. Would you state your name and address for 19 the record?
20 A Burns Harris Davison III, and my work address 550
21 South Main, Suite 525, Greenville, South Carolina
22 29601.
23 Q All right. Now, we have previously received a
24 number of documents from Tom McCall several years
25 ago. I sent you a copy of those, didn't I?

Page 29

1 available for Dr. Brown, specifically, and
2 physicians, generally, to finance the premiums; is
3 that correct?
4 A Yes.
5 Q And these are some of the documents regarding the 6 financing?
7 A Correct.
8 Plaintiffs' Exhibit Number 36, Fax and 9 supporting documents in reference to 10 "Extended Reporting Endorsement (Tail
11 Coverage)."
12 Q Okay. Show you Document Number 36. These are a 13 series of letters which I'll go over. They're the 14 same letter, but there're notations that are 15 different in each one. Maybe the last letter is a 16 little bit different. The first page, JUA-10, is a 17 letter from Amy Bryant to Dr. Brown, stating that, 18 "JUA is required to offer you the opportunity to 19 purchase an extended reporting endorsement" if he 20 is not going to renew the policy. And this is what 21 you talked about a while ago, right?
22 A Correct.
23 Q Okay.
24 A And this would be the same "tail," in quotes, that 25 Mr. Kirby's statement, that was done at the

Page 30

1 beginning of this policy period, referred to.
2 Q All right. Now, when it says "JUA is required to 3 offer you," required by whom?
4 A By the policy.
5 Q By the policy. Okay.
6 And, so, the date that she wrote that letter
7 was September the 9th, correct?
8 A That's what it says, yes.
9 Q Okay. And then there is a notation on 11/2, a "2nd
10 request"? See that?
11 A Yes.
12 Q I take it that's the second request to Dr. Brown?
13 A Yes.
14 Q And then there is another notation, 12/2/09, which 15 is a third request -- noted as a "3rd request"?
16 A Yes.
17 Q And I take it that's a third -- in any case, a 18 third attempt to contact Dr. Brown and talk with 19 him about the extended reporting endorsement?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Okay. The second page, JUA-045, is -- is the same
22 document with just the "2nd request" on it,
23 correct?
24 A Yes.
25 Q And the third page looks like the same as the first

Page 31

1 page?
2 A Correct.
3 Q And then the last page, JUA-046, is from Ms. Bryant
4 again, and she is sending an extended reporting
5 endorsement invoice. And, so, she's sending him
6 another letter, right?
7 A The fourth page, JUA-48?
8 Q Yeah, uh-huh.
9 A My reading is that -- that Ms. Bryant finally 10 connected with somebody, either Dr. Brown or Cindy, 11 who I presume is in his office, and they
12 acknowledged wanting to see whatever the extended
13 reporting period quote would be.
14 Q All right. Okay. Oh, and -- and -- and -- and the 15 next page, 053, the notation that AB has basically 16 says that, "Dr. Brown called me back and said did
17 not know if MagMutual picked up his retro date. I 18 advised him we would send him the offer to purchase
19 the 'tail'"?
20 A Correct.
21 Plaintiffs' Exhibit Number 37, Letter to 22 Byron A. Brown in reference to "Policy
23 #JBC00041 - Claims Made Coverage Extended
24 Reporting Endorsement (Tail Coverage)."
25 Q Okay. All right. And then let me show you Exhibit

Page 32

1 Number 37, which is a -- an invoice -- appears to 2 be an invoice, from JUA to Dr. Brown, dated
3 12/16/09. And it appears to be the invoice for the 4 extended reporting period; is -- is that what it
5 looks like to you?
6 A I don't know that I would call it an "invoice." I
7 would -- it -- it -- it's titled a "notice."
8 Q Okay.
9 A I would more -- more -- more -- more call it a
10 "proposal" or an "offer."
11 Q Offer. Okay. All right, sir. And the offer was 12 that the extended reporting period endorsement
13 would be extended from 7/9/2009 if Dr. Brown paid
14 $28,023 within the next 30 days; is that correct?
15 A Yes.
16 Q And -- and, so, pay the $28,023. The extended
17 reporting period endorsement would last from the 18 date of the policy ending 7/8/08 -- 7/9/08, for how 19 long? How long does that extended reporting period
20 last?
21 A Into perpetuity.
22 Q Perpetuity.
23 A Essentially, it -- it converts it to something
24 similar to what would be -- what we talked about 25 being the occurrence form.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA	)	IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS
COUNTY OF LAURENS	)	C.A. FILE NO. 14-CP-30-250
Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs,	)	AFFIDAVIT
vs.	)
Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Healthcare System, Defendants.	)

The undersigned, Brent S. Reece, being duly sworn, deposes and says as follows:

1. My name is Brent S. Reece and I am Vice President of Underwriting for MAG Mutual Insurance Company ("MAG Mutual") and have served in that role since March of 2011.

2. I am authorized to give this affidavit on behalf of MAG Mutual as its representative pursuant to the South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure Rule 30(b)(6) and have personal knowledge of the facts contained herein.

3. On or about July 17, 2009, MAG Mutual issued a physicians and surgeons professional liability claims made insurance policy to Laurens County Obstetrics and Gynecology, LLC ("LCOG"), which protected Dr. Byron A. Brown, M.D. ("Dr. Brown") policy number PSL 1800678 00 with a policy period of 07/09/2009 to 07/09/2010 with a retroactive date of 07/09/2009, and with limit layers of $1,000,000 (each loss)/$3,000,000 (aggregate) (the "Policy") as summarized in the Declarations Page to the policy attached as Exhibit 1 hereto.

4. The Policy was not issued with Prior Acts Coverage; however, Prior Acts Coverage was available, but it was declined by Dr. Brown on June 11, 2009 (in the application for coverage) and again on June 30, 2009 (in the premium estimate acceptance). Had it been selected, the Prior Acts coverage would have cost approximately ($11,861) in additional premium for the first year of coverage.

ATTACHMENT 20

5. The Policy was renewed on two separate occasions for the following time periods; as evidenced by the respective declarations pages attached hereto as Exhibit 2.
   * PSL 1800678 01 07/09/2010 to 07/09/2011
   * PSL 1800678 02 07/09/2011 to 07/09/2012

6. Each of these two renewal policies would have contained retroactive coverage back to July 9, 2009, the date Dr. Brown was originally insured by MAG Mutual. No earlier retroactive date would have been made available to Dr. Brown for either of these two renewals.

7. The written communications between MAG Mutual and Laurens County Health Care System (a/k/a "Laurens County Hospital") from 7/17/2009 to 4/12/2012 relating to the insurance policy issued to LCOG (and thereby covering Dr. Brown) are attached as Exhibit 3.

9. The documents listed in items #1 through #7 in the Memorandum dated September 15, 2011 from Michael Meyer to Matt Mitcham are attached as Exhibit 4.

1 STIPULATIONS
2 It is stipulated by and between counsel for
3 the respective parties that all objections are
4 reserved until the time of trial, except as to
5 the form of the questions.
6 This deposition is being taken pursuant to the
7 South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.
8 - - - -
9 The reading and signing of this deposition is 10 not waived by the deponents and counsel for 11 the respective parties.
12 Whereupon,
13 Lynn Reaves and Sandra Thompson, being duly
14 sworn and cautioned to speak the truth, the 15 whole truth, and nothing but the truth,
16 testified as follows:
17 MR. WRIGHT: Let me start by noting that we
18 have marked as Exhibit 16 the deposition
19 subpoena in this case.
20 (Exhibit Number 16 Introduced)
21 MR. WRIGHT: And the first topic would be
22 regarding professional liability insurance
23 coverage of Byron Brown. And as I understand
24 it, Ms. Reaves is the designee for that. Is
25 that correct?

Page 4

1 MR. SHAW: Are you asking me, or are you asking
2 her?
3 MR. WRIGHT: You.
4 MR. SHAW: Me?
5 MR. WRIGHT: Yeah.
6 MR. SHAW: Yes, that is correct.
7 MR. WRIGHT: Okay.
8 EXAMINATION OF LYNN REAVES
9 BY MR. WRIGHT:
10 Q. Ms. Reaves, a little bit of background. Would you
11 give us who your employer is and what your position
12 is?
13 A. Greenville Health System, and I'm the manager of 14 Medical Staff Services.
15 Q. The manager of what now?
16 A. Medical Staff Services.
17 Q. And what are your primary duties?
18 A. The credentialing and privileging of physicians.
19 Q. All right. And how long have you been employed by 20 Laurens Hospital and/or Greenville Hospital System?
21 A. Twenty-five years.
22 Q. And when did you become employed by Greenville
23 Hospital System?
24 A. Two years ago this past July.
25 Q. Now, in the last 25 years have you held any other

1 A. The Credentials Committee, MEC and our board
2 approve -- approve all credentialing files.
3 Q. I'm talking about maintaining the insurance.
4 A. Maintaining the insurance is the responsibility of 5 the physician.
6 Q. My question to you, was there anyone else that was 7 responsible on behalf of the hospital for requiring 8 that the physicians maintain the proper insurance
9 according to the medical staff bylaws other than 10 yourself who collected the face sheets?
11 A. Ultimately our board was responsible for making
12 sure physicians adhered to our bylaws.
13 Q. The board. Okay. And in the period from 2008 to 14 say 2010 did any members of the board meet with you 15 to discuss the insurance coverages of the 16 physicians?
17 A. No, sir.
18 Q. And do you recall who was president of the board in 19 --
20 A. No, sir.
21 Q. -- 2008 to 2010?
22 A. No, sir.
23 Q. Do you recall any members of the board?
24 A. No, sir.
25 Q. Okay. All right. Now, how did you receive -- and

Page 18

1 we're talking about the first -- first cover sheet.
2 How did you receive the form?
3 A. Generally the physicians turn this in. It's 4 dependent upon the insurance company.
5 Q. All right. Well, with JUA and PCF how was it
6 handled?
7 A. Generally the physician turns those in.
8 Q. So a physician would bring by that policy every 9 time there was a renewal?
10 A. Yes, sir.
11 Q. And you would not receive the policy -- the 12 information directly from JUA and PCF?
13 A. Sometimes we would if the physician put us down as 14 a -- as the one to receive the copy. There's some 15 insurance companies where we receive the copy, and 16 there's some where it goes directly to that 17 physician.
18 Q. Can you tell from looking at the face sheets
19 whether this was a policy that you received 20 directly, or whether it was brought by?
21 A. No, sir.
22 Q. Do you have any logs about when you received it?
23 A. No, sir.
24 Q. Can you tell from the face sheet whether it was 25 sent directly to you or it went to the physician?

Page 19

1 A. No, sir, I can't tell.
2 Q. And so for the next year you have a face sheet for 3 the period beginning July of 2003, correct?
4 A. Yes.
5 Q. And the next sheet, you have the face sheet for 6 July of 2004, correct?
7 A. Yes, sir.
8 Q. And I believe July of 2004 the claim amount was 9 changed to a million dollars per claim or three 10 million dollars aggregate, correct?
11 A. Yes.
12 Q. Is that correct?
13 A. Yes, sir, that's what it says here.
14 Q. And again, same question on all of those. Do you
15 know whether any of these so far were sent to you
16 directly by the insurance company or by the doctor
17 bringing it by?
18 A. No, sir. I -- I do not know. Only the doctor's 19 address is on here, so I don't think I would have 20 received it directly from the insurance company.
21 Q. Now, what action would be taken by you if the 22 doctor did not bring by the insurance certificate
23 for the required amount according to the bylaws?
24 A. That's one of the qualifications to be reappointed
25 and to stay in good standing is to have current

Page 20

1 insurance. So we would have continued to request
2 that information right up until the day this 3 current policy expires. I would continue to 4 request that information. I've not run into a
5 situation where they didn't provide me with a new 6 face sheet.
7 Q. And did you have any policy or procedure or 8 direction that, if that were not done, what you
9 were supposed to do?
10 A. Our bylaws I'm sure specify what we are supposed to 11 do. But I've not run into that situation myself.
12 Q. How long before the policy expired would you have 13 the policy?
14 A. It varies. I start requesting it about 60 days 15 out. And some I get a month or so before. Some of 16 them I get the day before.
17 Q. All right. And if you would, skip on over to the 18 face sheet dated 7/9/2007 to 7/9/2008.
19 A. Okay.
20 Q. All right. Now, do you see the word under 21 "assessable" -- excuse me for pointing --
22 "occurrence"?
23 A. Yes.
24 Q. Do you know what that means?
25 A. At that point it changed to an occurrence based.

Page 21

1 Q. I'm asking you do you know what that means?
2 A. I would just say that at that point it changed to 3 an occurrence based policy.
4 Q. What was it before?
5 A. It does not specify in there.
6 Q. Do you know what type of policies then preceded 7 this one?
8 A. No, sir.
9 Q. And we're talking about 7/9/2007, correct?
10 A. Yes, sir.
11 Q. And I think we've gone over this, but do you know
12 what an occurrence policy is?
13 A. No, sir.
14 Q. All right. Now, if you reviewed a policy
15 certificate and it did not comply with the medical 16 staff bylaws such as with the limit requirements,
17 what would you do?
18 A. Take it to my credentials chair.
19 Q. And?
20 A. Let him review it. And he would -- he would deal
21 with the physician.
22 Q. And when you say deal with the physician, what do
23 you mean?
24 A. He would take that up with the physician.
25 Q. Okay. And?

Page 22

1 A. I'm not sure what their process would be at that 2 point.
3 Q. All right. So who would make the decision whether 4 or not the insurance certificate or policy or 5 limits would comply with the bylaws?
6 A. The credentials chair would review it. If it
7 didn't meet, then I feel certain he would take it
8 on to our chief of staff and they would make that 9 decision.
10 Q. Well, did you have occasion to present it to the 11 credentialing -- any certificates to the 12 Credentials Committee?
13 A. Credentials Committee reviews them every two years
14 when they do reappointments.
15 Q. I mean, did you personally have -- ever take any --
16 A. No, sir.
17 Q. You did not. Do you recall who the credentialing
18 chair was in 2008 and 2009?
19 A. No, sir, I don't.
20 Q. But you had no meetings with him regarding 21 insurance coverage of the LIPs, correct?
22 A. Just during normal routine credential reviews.
23 Q. And what involvement would you have especially as 24 it related to Dr. Brown?
25 A. Just having the file available for them to review.

Page 23

1 Q. Just having the file?
2 A. Uh-huh.
3 Q. That would be your responsibility?
4 A. Yes, sir.
5 Q. All right. Then the next certificate, if you'd 6 look at that, that would be dated 7/9/2008?
7 A. Yes, JUA 2008. Yes, sir.
8 Q. And I'll show you here where it says, "Claims
9 Made."
10 A. Uh-huh.
11 Q. Do you know what that means?
12 A. No, sir. Again, I don't know the difference
13 between the two.
14 Q. Okay. Now, the next one, move on over, this is a 15 MAG Mutual certificate 7/9/2009. Do you see that?
16 A. Yes, sir.
17 Q. And it has an effective date 7/9/2009?
18 A. Yes, sir.
19 Q. What's your understanding as far as when the 20 insurance coverage with MAG Mutual for professional 21 liability insurance took effect?
22 A. On 7/9/2009.
23 Q. And so what's your understanding as far as medical 24 negligence claims that occurred prior to 7/9/2009?
25 A. I'm not sure.

1 Q. You don't have any -- you're not sure of that?
2 A. We have face sheets here for JUA/PCF up to that
3 date.
4 Q. So it's your understanding that JUA and PCF would 5 cover claims prior to then?
6 A. It's my understanding that is the insurance he had 7 prior to this.
8 Q. It also states, "Please inquire directly with the 9 insured for individual restrictive endorsements
10 that may apply." Did you ever inquire about any 11 individual restrictive endorsements?
12 A. No, sir.
13 Q. Did you have any conversations -- or have you had 14 any conversations since you were serving in your 15 present position with either representatives of 16 JUA, PCF Insurance Company or MAG Mutual Insurance
17 Company?
18 A. No, sir.
19 Q. And then the final policy that we've been provided
20 with -- or certificate of insurance from MAG Mutual
21 for the policy period beginning July the 9th, 2010,
22 that one was issued directly to Laurens County
23 Hospital, correct? Or at least that's what the 24 paper says?
25 A. Yes, sir.

Page 25

1 Q. It was just pointed out to me that in answer to 2 Interrogatory Number 1 by your legal counsel that 3 Dr. Christopher Nelson was chair of the Medical 4 Staff Credentialing Committee. Are you familiar
5 with Dr. Nelson?
6 A. Yes, sir.
7 Q. And was Dr. Nelson the chair during the period of 8 2008-2009?
9 A. I'm not a hundred percent certain.
10 Q. Do you know what period Dr. Nelson has served?
11 A. He is our current credentials chair.
12 Q. Current. Okay. Do you know how long he's served 13 in that position?
14 A. I don't.
15 Q. I mean, do you know if it's been like six months or 16 --
17 A. No.
18 Q. -- a couple of years?
19 A. It's -- it's been a couple of years.
20 Q. All right. And do you have an understanding of 21 what the change from JUA/PCF insurance to MAG
22 Mutual in 2009 caused regarding the professional
23 liability coverage for claims submitted by Mr.
24 McCord and Mrs. Sherfield?
25 A. No, sir.

Page 26

1 Q. You don't have any idea how it affected them?
2 A. No, sir.
3 Q. Are you aware that Dr. Brown performed three 4 separate surgeries on Mrs. McCord, being July the -
5 - I mean, December 19th, 2008, February 19th, 2009
6 and April 17th, 2009?
7 MR. SHAW: Objection.
8 A. No, sir. It's my understanding that I'm not here
9 today on behalf of what I personally know, but what 10 the hospital knows. And I can't speak to that 11 subject.
12 Q. Well, what you know at the time you were handling
13 this file is what the hospital knows, correct?
14 MR. SHAW: Objection.
15 A. And I did -- I did not know anything about any 16 file, any -- none of that information comes through 17 my office.
18 Q. All right. What about the information of the 19 operation complications from Mrs. Sherfield May 20 29th, 2009; did that come through your office?
21 A. No, sir.
22 Q. Did the fact that Dr. Brown was found to be 23 professionally negligent by the circuit judge from 24 his professional negligence to Mrs. McCord, did
25 that come through your office?

Page 27

1 MR. SHAW: Objection.
2 A. I can't speak on behalf of what the hospital knew
3 or did not know on behalf of that subject. I
4 haven't been called today to --
5 Q. I'm asking about as far as the insurance.
6 A. -- speak on behalf of the hospital.
7 Q. I think that affects the insurance. Yes, ma'am.
8 A. No, sir, I don't know anything about that as far as 9 the insurance.
10 Q. All right. I have to ask you these questions. If 11 you know, fine, tell me. If you don't, you don't.
12 Were you aware that a money judgment was awarded
13 against Dr. Brown in favor of Mr. and Mrs. McCord
14 in the amount of over $1,600,000?
15 A. No, sir.
16 Q. Were you aware that a money judgment was awarded in 17 favor of Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield for professional 18 negligence of Dr. Brown in an amount exceeding 1.5
19 million dollars?
20 MR. SHAW: Objection.
21 A. Again, I can't say what the hospital does or does
22 not know. I've not been called as a witness
23 pertaining to those particular subjects.
24 Q. I'm asking you about what -- what you would know in 25 your position as -- let's see, what's it called --

Page 28

1 Manager of Medical Staff Services.
2 A. No, sir.
3 Q. Were you aware in your position as Manager of 4 Medical Staff Services that -- that the insurance
5 company, JUA/PCF denied coverage because a claim
6 was not submitted by Mr. and Ms. McCord prior to 7 July the 8th, 2009?
8 MR. SHAW: Objection.
9 A. Again, my understanding of these proceedings today
10 is that I was not brought in to speak besides
11 whether or not insurance was -- on any subject
12 other than the insurance.
13 Q. Did you understand my question?
14 A. I did. I believe I did.
15 Q. All right. And your answer is?
16 A. I do not know.
17 Q. Okay. And the same question. Were you aware that 18 JUA/PCF denied coverage because a claim was not 19 submitted by Mr. and Mrs. Sherfield prior to July 20 the 8th, 2009?
21 A. No, sir.
22 Q. In your position as Medical Staff -- as Manager of 23 Medical Staff Services were you aware that patients
24 who were injured through medical negligence of Dr.
25 Brown needed to file claims by July the 8th, 2009

1 A. At the hospital it would be me to know that he
2 changed from JUA to MAG Mutual.
3 Q. Yeah. And other than you, would it be anyone
4 else's responsibility?
5 A. No, sir.
6 Q. Were you familiar with tail insurance and extended
7 coverage which provides insurance coverage in 8 claims made policies for acts occurring prior to 9 the effective date of the policy?
10 A. No, sir.
11 Q. Today are you familiar with tail insurance and 12 extended coverage in claims made policies? Do you 13 understand what that concept is?
14 A. I have a very limited knowledge of that.
15 Q. Tell me what you know.
16 A. If they carry tail insurance, then that insurance
17 covers them for any claims that come in after that 18 policy was canceled.
19 Q. Actually before the policy was canceled, right?
20 A. And if they switch to another insurance company.
21 Q. Right. Okay. And when did you learn this?
22 A. Actually when our emergency physicians switched 23 over from being independent to GHS employees.
24 Q. Really?
25 A. Yes, sir.

Page 38

1 Q. And when was that?
2 A. January of this -- of 2015.
3 Q. Did you have a working relationship with Sandra
4 Thompson during 2008 and 2009?
5 A. Yes, sir.
6 Q. In your capacity as position -- who is management
7 of -- Manager of Medical Staff Services, did Mrs.
8 Thompson inform you of any patients injured by Dr.
9 Brown during 2008 and 2009?
10 MR. SHAW: Objection.
11 A. No, sir. No, sir.
12 Q. In your position did Mrs. Thompson inform you that 13 a $600,000 medical malpractice settlement was paid
14 on behalf of Dr. Brown in January 2009?
15 MR. SHAW: Same objection.
16 A. No, sir. I can't speak of what the hospital did or 17 didn't know about that. I personally didn't.
18 Q. Did Mrs. Thompson ever inform you of medical 19 malpractice cases being made against Dr. Brown?
20 MR. SHAW: Objection.
21 A. I'm sure the hospital knew about these. But in my 22 particular role I did not.
23 Q. If you had been told about the $600,000 medical 24 malpractice settlement in January of 2009 and about 25 other instances of malpractice committed by Dr.

1 Brown, would you have monitored the insurance
2 policies -- certificates more closely to make sure
3 injured patients were presented with their rights
4 to collect insurance for damages?
5 MR. SHAW: Objection.
6 A. I -- I'm not --
7 Q. Do you want me to repeat that?
8 A. Yes, sir. It was a lot.
9 Q. Okay. If you had been told in your position that 10 Dr. Brown had paid a -- that there had been paid a 11 $600,000 malpractice settlement on behalf of Dr.
12 Brown in January of 2009, and if you had been told 13 about other instances of malpractice committed by 14 Dr. Brown, would you in your position have 15 monitored the insurance policy more closely to make 16 sure those injured patients retained their rights
17 to collect insurance for damages caused by Dr.
18 Brown?
19 MR. SHAW: Objection.
20 A. In my position that would not have been one of my 21 job duties, no, sir.
22 Q. Would you have notified the injured patients or 23 taken steps to inform the appropriate personnel at 24 the hospital that the patients needed to be 25 informed so that they could maintain their rights?

Page 40

1 MR. SHAW: Same objection.
2 A. That would not have been part of my job duties for
3 the hospital.
4 Q. Had you known this, would you have done anything
5 differently?
6 A. No, sir.
7 Q. All right. Now, I showed you earlier the insurance
8 requirements on the subsidy contract.
9 A. Yes, sir.
10 Q. Do you remember that? Was this contract in Dr.
11 Brown's file?
12 A. No, sir, it would not have been in his 13 credentialing file.
14 Q. It would not have been. Were you aware of the 15 contract?
16 A. At my office, no, sir, I was not aware of the 17 specifics of the contract.
18 Q. So were you aware -- you were not aware then of the 19 requirement for professional liability insurance
20 under the provisions of that specific contract?
21 A. Under the provisions of that specific contract I
22 was not in my current job.
23 Q. Okay. Were you ever -- was the hospital -- strike
24 that. Did the hospital implement a policy allowing 25 the change of insurance from occurrence to claims

Page 41

1 made?
2 MR. SHAW: Objection.
3 A. I don't know what the hospital may or may not know
4 on that. But my knowledge of that is we've never 5 had that specified that it had to be claims or 6 occurrence based.
7 Q. And did anyone at the hospital ever inform you and 8 sit down and explain to you the difference between 9 an occurrence policy and a claims made policy?
10 A. No, sir.
11 Q. We're just about finished. One of the questions we 12 had, and this may be better directed to Nurse
13 Thompson, is there -- there's a notation of the 14 Laurens County Medical Staff Rules and Regulations
15 and the Medical Staff Bylaws. Is that a different 16 document, rules and regulations?
17 A. Yes, sir.
18 Q. Okay. And do you use the rules and regulations in 19 your position as the manager?
20 A. Yes, sir.
21 Q. Do the rules and regulations relate to anything
22 regarding insurance -- professional liability
23 insurance?
24 A. I would have to look -- I would have to review them
25 -- look at them to see.

Page 42

1 Q. Okay. While we're taking Ms. Thompson's deposition
2 -- are they available? I mean, can you get them?
3 (Off the record from 11:34 a.m.
4 until 11:35 a.m.)
5 THE EXAMINATION OF LYNN REAVES BY MR. WRIGHT
6 CONTINUED:
7 Q. What is the purpose of requiring physicians to 8 carry medical malpractice insurance?
9 A. It's to protect the -- that's to protect the 10 physicians and their assets. And it's to protect 11 the hospital as well.
12 Q. How would it protect the hospital?
13 A. Well, the physicians would have their insurance.
14 If something did happen, they're covered by their 15 own insurance. And it would keep the hospital
16 hopefully out of any kind of legal or -- matters.
17 But it's the physician's insurance.
18 Q. Are you saying the professional liability insurance
19 is paid to the hospital?
20 A. No, sir. It's paid by the physician. It's the 21 physician's insurance. It's to protect that
22 physician.
23 Q. Well, I know. I heard that. But how would it --
24 how would it protect the hospital?
25 A. We would not want to assume any liability on behalf

Page 43

1 of the hospital for a physician that was not
2 insured.
3 Q. Okay. That's all I have, except for any questions

9 EXAMINATION OF LYNN REAVES
10 BY MR. SHAW:
11 Q. Earlier in your deposition you stated that you
12 would send out notices to the doctors 30 days or so 13 prior to the expiration of their -- of their 14 current policy, correct?
15 A. Yes, sir.
16 Q. All right. And I believe you stated that normally 17 you would get, you know, current versions of the 18 policy before the other ones expired; is that 19 right?
20 A. Yes, sir.
21 Q. Let me ask you, if you'll look at -- we'll just 22 pick one of them, one that's relevant to this case
23 here, the policy that was in effect from JUA from 24 July 2008 -- or July 9th, 2008 to July 9th, 2009.
25 According to the document itself, this -- the

2 2008. Date issued would be 8/4/2008. So is it --
3 is it most likely that you did not receive this
4 document until after July 9th of 2008?
5 A. It is most likely. Can I elaborate on that?
6 Q. Sure.
7 A. And sometimes, especially with some of the 8 insurance brokers, they will call and say --
9 because I just bother physicians so much trying to 10 get this information, they will call and say, "We 11 have this. We're writing it. You know, it's 12 current." They'll give me like a verbal until they 13 can get me a face sheet, especially if they change
14 brokers during -- like if they go from one broker
15 to another, it may take time. And the broker will 16 then call me and tell me sometimes that 17 information.
18 Q. Okay. That's all I've got.
19 MR. WRIGHT: No questions.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA) IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

COUNTY OF LAURENS) C.A. No. 2010-CP-30-1139

Dixie Mitchell,

Plaintiff,

vs.

Byron A. Brown, MD, Laurens County Obstetrics and Gynecology, LLC, a South Carolina Limited Liability Corporation, and Laurens County Health Care System d/b/a Laurens County Hospital,

Defendants.

AFFIDAVIT OF SANDRA THOMPSON

PERSONALLY appeared before me, the undersigned Sandra Thompson, who being first duly sworn, deposes and says:

1. That I am an adult over the age of 18 years and am competent to make this affidavit.

2. That the matters set forth in this affidavit are matters on which I have direct personal knowledge.

3. That I have worked at Laurens County Health Care System since 1993. I was first employed as Assistant to the CEO and then as Risk Manager and Accreditation Coordinator. I have served as Administrator for Quality and Compliance since 2006. In that capacity, I was directly involved in the quality and peer review matters involving Dr. Byron Brown which began in late 2009 and which continued for months thereafter.

4. That the patient Dixie Mitchell had GYN surgery performed by Dr. Brown at Laurens County Hospital on October 27, 2006. She was re-admitted to LCH several days later with apparent post-op complications and she underwent surgical repair of a perforated bowel by

Dr. Rufus Watkins on November 3, 2009, and remained in the hospital for a number of days thereafter, including time in the intensive care unit (ICU). Her chart was reviewed due to the re-admission and post-op complications. Concerns were raised by Dr. Watkins and Dr. Brown himself (who served on the Peer Review Committee at that time) actually requested that the Dixie Mitchell chart be pulled and sent for peer review. That process began in early November 2009. As a result of this situation, additional charts were pulled for review regarding surgical complications on patients of Dr. Brown. Ultimately, eleven (11) charts were first sent for outside peer review. This was done in early December 2009. The charts were sent to a peer review service called Medical Peer Review Services, LLC in Florida, who then had the charts reviewed by Mark Madis, M.D., an OB/GYN physician in New Jersey. Dr. Madis submitted reports on the peer review he conducted on eleven (11) charts, including the chart of Dixie Mitchell. This quality and peer review process was underway when Dr. Stribling (urologist) raised his own concerns about a surgical complication on a patient of Dr. Brown's that occurred on December 11, 2009. Thereafter, Dr. Stribling (who also served as Chief of Surgery) raised those concerns to Dr. Brian Weaver (Chief of Staff) on December 14, 2009. As a result of contact with Dr. Brown about those concerns, Dr. Brown voluntarily relinquished certain privileges on a temporary basis on December 15, 2009. Thereafter, Dr. Brown raised some concerns about the monopolar hook devices. His concerns were investigated as part of and during the quality and peer review process. Dr. Madis issued written reports about his chart reviews and made recommendations. The Medical Executive Committee and an Ad-Hoc Peer Review Committee appointed specifically for the Dr. Brown investigation had ongoing meetings and reviews. More charts were sent to Dr. Madis for review with written reports received back from him. The investigation of Dr. Brown was extended to obstetrical cases. Dr. Brown was summarily suspended by the MEC in January 2010. Dr. Brown retained legal counsel and requested a Fair Hearing under the Medical Staff Bylaws. The hospital also had legal counsel from the Nexsen Pruet law firm in Columbia. Ultimately, an Agreement was reached in February 2010 between the MEC and Dr. Brown whereby the summary suspension would be lifted, but Dr. Brown voluntarily agreed to limit certain of his privileges. The peer review process continued and charts were sent for a second outside peer review to Dr. John Moore, an OB/GYN physician in Columbia. Like Dr. Madis, Dr. Moore also issued a written report about his review. Ultimately, in May 2010, an Addendum to the Agreement between Dr. Brown and the MEC was reached whereby Dr. Brown relinquished a detailed list of privileges set forth in Attachment 1 to the Addendum and he agreed to limit his privileges to a specified list of procedures contained in Attachment 2 to the Addendum. Later, Dr. Brown voluntarily resigned all privileges in May 2011.

5. The entire quality and peer review investigation of Dr. Brown's surgical complications arose from and as a result of the Dixie Mitchell re-admission for the bowel perforation as a result of Dr. Brown's GYN surgery on October 27, 2009.

6. The entire Dixie Mitchell "investigation" (as characterized in Plaintiff's discovery requests) was conducted pursuant to the quality and peer review process set forth above.

7. That the quality and peer review investigation of Dr. Brown was conducted pursuant to the understanding that the investigation would be shielded from discovery and would be confidential under the peer review process.

8. That the documents provided to our legal counsel in the Brown v. LCHCS case regarding the hospital investigation of Dr. Brown (including those related to Dixie Mitchell) have been from either the quality and peer review investigation of Dr. Brown or from Dr. Brown's credentials file, with the exception of patient medical records.

FURTHER AFFIANT SAYETH NOT.

Chart review conducted on GYN charts with complications. Practitioner of record: Dr. Byron Brown

In my professional opinion:

1. There is a clear pattern of inadequate hand written, sometimes illegible H&Ps, not accompanied by office notes.
2. There is a pattern of not recording or documenting pap smears pre-operatively.
3. There is a pattern of not getting or documenting pertinent medical history as to events and timing of events, medications taken, etc.
4. There is a pattern of operating with inadequate exposure, often continuing laparoscopic approach even though documenting very difficult exposure.
5. Several cases had large fibroids (to navel) but were done with pfannenstiel incision. Inadequate exposure.
6. Pattern of persisting without requesting assistance or noting whether or not assistance was unavailable.
7. Repairs major urologic problems without consultation or mentioning attempt at consultation.
8. Charts with no discharge summary even if major complication.
9. Method of nursing notes make evaluation difficult and uncertain; Weights often not recorded, etc.
10. Need follow up from physician's involved regarding eventual outcome and patient status.

January 22, 2010

At the request of the Medical Executive Committee I interviewed all Scrub Techs at LCHCS in the presence of Sue Thomason, Nurse Manager, Surgery Department.

I started the interview process by stating that the MEC had become aware of the need to improve the peer review process and that it was realized that the Scrub Techs probably knew more about how the individual surgeons performed in surgery than the other doctors did not often actually scrub with or assist each other. The Techs were told their individual comments would be considered anonymous but that collectively a report expressing their concerns would be made to the MEC. I was very careful not to mention any doctor by name or specialty, but asked them to comment whether or not there had been any pattern of problems with any specific doctor. They were told that MEC would investigate specific events if they wished but that what we were concerned about was whether or not there were patterns of technique or behavior that were detrimental to patient outcomes or to the hospital's reputation in the community. Finally they were asked to comment upon whether or not they would refer themselves, their family or friends to the doctors that they had mentioned earlier in the review process.

The results of these were:

All eleven Scrub Techs mentioned problems with two doctors- the same two doctors. Since one of the doctors was not involved in this particular peer review process this doctor will not be named in this report, but a separate report will be made to the MEC concerning the evaluation of this doctor.

Concerning the doctor who is the subject of this peer review process, all eleven Scrub Techs spontaneously mentioned- often very strongly- his name and performance. There was a general concern that there were an inordinate number of inadvertent injuries to the bladder, bowel and ureters, especially with the sling procedure. There was concerns that when performed by this MD the procedure was dangerous and it was stated that there are injures in "almost every case" and that the procedures "caused more harm than good". Several techs quested whether or not the MD was adequately trained to do this procedure.

In other procedures such as LAVH, there was concern for inadequate concern for ureters, excessive burning around ureters and bladder, and for placing trocar without adequate exposure.

Unanimously, the techs felt this doctor was being talked about in our community in a negative fashion and "giving the hospital a bad name".

Unanimously, they stated they would not refer friends or family to this MD. Three techs specifically stated they used to go to this MD but no longer do so. Two techs stated that they needed gynecologic surgery at present but would not allow this MD to operate on them; that they would have to go elsewhere (that is, to another hospital) for this surgery.

CONFIDENTIAL

In conclusion, it I painfully obvious that the Scrub Techs have no confidence in this doctor, that they have grave concerns about his surgical technique, that they know of many severe patient injuries, and that they consider him- at least in his present performances- a detriment to the reputation at LCHSC.

It was clear from the interviews that they would strongly urge the MEC to correct this doctor's techniques and performances, as one stated "before other women are injured". It was also clear that they would like to be relieved of their personal liability risks incurred by operating with this MD.

Additionally, it became obvious to me that they all wanted an alternative safe, acceptable source of gynecologic care and surgery within this medical community.

Respectfully Submitted,

R.W. Watkins, MD

Dear Dr. Weaver, Chief of Staff, Laurens County Healthcare System,

As Chief of Surgery, I need to make you aware of a situation that is of great concern to me.

I worry greatly about what appears to be a continuing pattern of surgical misadventure by Dr. Byron Brown.

To my knowledge, within the last year Dr. Brown has damaged a ureter on 3 separate occasions. He also perforated a colon (twice in the same patient) which lead to tremendous complications.

The first damaged ureter I recall presented with an obstruction of the ureter and I was able to coax a ureteral stent past the damaged area. It is unusual to be able to pass a stent in that manner, but with luck it did go up.

The second case was not so lucky. With great difficulty I passed a stent up what appeared to be the ureter, but the patient kept leaking urine from the vagina. I therefore recommended that she go to MUSC because of the reconstruction that would be needed.

The last case was this past Friday. This was another cut ureter that required a ureteral reimplant into the bladder.

The case with the perforated colon can be better described by Dr. Watkins who repaired that.

The reason this is such a worrisome pattern is that a cut ureter is a fearsome complication. It rarely heals well; often requiring revisions and can result in reflux, scarring, kidney infection/damage, and stone formation. Needless to say this is a terrible injury and has huge implications to the urologist who has to repair the damage.

In nearly 20 years of practice in NC, among multiple gynecologists and numerous general surgeons I had to repair exactly ZERO damaged ureters. This is not an insignificant statement; it is a telling revelation of how careful surgeons and gynecologists are operating in the vicinity of the ureter. They realize what a fearsome injury it is.

Because of what appears to me to me a worrisome pattern of complications, I will, as Chief of Surgery, respectfully ask Dr. Brown to temporarily relinquish his privileges to doing all pelvic surgery until the cases can be reviewed by an outside reviewer. If Dr. Brown chooses not to do this I will request an emergency meeting of the MEC to decide whether official action should be considered regarding his operating privileges.

I am making this letter available to Dr. Brown, and a copy will also be sent to Mr. D'Alberto.

Sincerely,

Michael D. Stribling, Chief of Surgery

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA)
) AGREEMENT
COUNTY OF LAURENS)

This Agreement is made and entered into this 17th day of February, 20 10 (the "Effective Date") by and between the Medical Executive Committee ("MEC") of Laurens County Health Care System ("LCHCS"), and Byron A. Brown, M.D. ("Dr. Brown"). The MEC and Dr. Brown are from time to time in this Agreement referred to collectively as the "Parties."

This Agreement is made in consideration of the following facts:

On January 22, 2010, the MEC summarily suspended Dr. Brown's clinical privileges relating to all surgical procedures with the exception of C-Sections, Post-Partum Tubal Ligations, Endometrial Ablations and Dilation & Curettage ("Summary Suspension"). On February 5, 2010, Dr. Brown, through his attorney, requested a Fair Hearing under the LCHCS Medical Staff Bylaws regarding the Summary Suspension. Thereafter, and prior to the scheduling of a Fair Hearing, Dr. Brown requested that the MEC reconsider its action and rescind the Summary Suspension, thereby restoring his clinical privileges in full. Dr. Brown represented to the MEC that even if the Summary Suspension is rescinded, he will not, without first obtaining written permission from the MEC, schedule any surgical procedures at LCHCS, except for C-Sections, Post-Partum Endometrial Ablations and Dilation & Curettages.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the promises and agreements contained herein, the MEC and Dr. Brown agree and covenant as follows:

1. THE MEC RESCINDS THE SUMMARY SUSPENSION

As of the Effective Date, the MEC rescinds the Summary Suspension. Further, as a result of this rescission, Dr. Brown is reinstated as Chair of the Peer Review Committee and the Chair of the Department of Obstetrics/Pediatrics.

2. DR. BROWN'S VOLUNTARY LIMITATION OF HIS CLINICAL PRIVILEGES AND PARTICIPATION IN MEDICAL STAFF LEADERSHIP

Notwithstanding the MEC's rescission of the Summary Suspension described in paragraph 1, Dr. Brown represents that he will not, without first obtaining written permission from the MEC, schedule any surgical procedures at LCHCS except for C-Sections, Post-Partum Tubal Ligations, Endometrial Ablations and Dilation & Curettages. The MEC may withhold consent in its sole discretion. Further Dr. Brown has notified the MEC that he will be taking a leave of absence from his positions as Chair of the Peer Review Committee and Chair of the Department of Obstetrics/Pediatrics until such time as the MEC provides written consent to his return to these positions. This consent may also be withheld in the MEC's sole discretion.

3. STATUS OF PROFESSIONAL REVIEW ACTIVITY

Dr. Brown acknowledges and agrees that the professional review activity that resulted in the Summary Suspension is ongoing, and, in fact, has now been extended to include a review of obstetrical services. Dr. Brown acknowledges and agrees that the MEC's rescission of the Summary Suspension is not a determination by the MEC regarding the merits of the matters that gave rise to the Summary Suspension, and, in fact, Dr. Brown acknowledges and agrees that the MEC may, at any time, impose a summary suspension or take other action with respect to his clinical privileges as provided for under the Medical Staff Bylaws. Dr. Brown acknowledges and agrees that the MEC's rescission of the Summary Suspension in no way limits the MEC's rights under the Medical Staff Bylaws to take such similar action or other action on or after the date of this Agreement.

4. RESTRICTION ON DR. BROWN'S USE OF MEC'S RESCISSION OF SUMMARY SUSPENSION

Under no circumstances, whether in any proceeding provided for in the Medical Staff Bylaws or in any civil action/legal proceeding, will Dr. Brown assert, or in any way attempt to offer, the MEC's rescission of the Summary Suspension as evidence that the MEC acted improperly or violated Dr. Brown's rights in imposing the Summary Suspension.

5. PARTICIPATION OF CERTAIN PHYSICIANS IN PROFESSIONAL REVIEW ACTIVITY

As part of the MEC's ongoing professional review activity, Dr. Brown has offered to meet in person with other members of the LCHCS medical staff in order to respond/discuss any areas of concern regarding his clinical proficiency. Dr. Brown acknowledges that members of the LCHCS Medical Staff that provide obstetrical/gynecological services ("Staff OB/GYNs") have participated in this professional review activity. Dr. Brown consents to the ongoing participation of Staff OB/GYNs, including participation in meetings with Dr. Brown to discuss/review this matter.

Dr. Brown releases and holds harmless LCHCS, Staff OB/GYNs, and the MEC from (a) any and all claims based on the Summary Suspension, and (b) any and all claims based on the ongoing participation in the professional review activity by the Staff OB/GYNs. Dr. Brown agrees that he will not later assert allegations of conflict of interest or other claims relating to the participation of the Staff OB/GYNs or other physicians who may be in economic competition with Dr. Brown.

The MEC acknowledges that nothing under this Section 5 will be construed as Dr. Brown's consent to physicians in economic competition with him to serve as an arbitrator, hearing officer or on a panel in any Fair Hearing that may subsequently arise from this professional review activity.

6. MISCELLANEOUS

This Agreement is to be governed by, and interpreted in accordance with, the laws of South Carolina. In the event of the invalidity of any term of this Agreement, all terms shall be considered severable and the balance of this Agreement shall remain in effect. No amendment or waiver respecting this Agreement shall be effective unless contained in a signed writing. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement of the Parties respecting the subject matter hereof. The Parties shall be entitled to enforce rights under this Agreement at law or in equity (including specific performance and injunctive relief). Further, Dr. Brown acknowledges and agrees that his breach of this Agreement may result in a professional review action. This Agreement may be executed in one or more counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original and all of which shall constitute but one and the same instrument. This Agreement is binding upon the Parties hereto and their respective successors, heirs, estates, personal representatives, administrators, and assigns, and inures to the benefit of the Parties hereto and their respective successors, heirs, estates, personal representatives, administrators, and permitted assigns.

ANY DISPUTE ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THE SUBJECT MATTER OF THIS AGREEMENT, SHALL BE TRIED NON-JURY, AND THE PARTIES EXPRESSLY WAIVE ANY AND ALL RIGHTS TO HAVE SUCH DISPUTES TRIED BEFORE A JURY.

7. CONFIDENTIAL AGREEMENT

Except as set forth in this Agreement or as required by law, by state and regulatory authorities, or as required by a court, the Parties agree that each will not divulge, disclose or communicate to any person, firm, organization or corporation, any information about the existence of and the terms of this Agreement. However, LCHCS may disclose the terms of this Agreement to any member of the Medical Executive Committee, LCHCS Administration or the Board.

The Parties hereby enter into the Agreement on the date first set forth above.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Matt Mitcham

CC: Sam McEwen

FROM: Michael Meyer

DATE: September 15, 2011

RE: Byron A. Brown, MD - Coverage

Question: Should MAG Mutual provide liability coverage and/or a defense for claims recently reported with a date of loss prior to Dr. Brown's inception date of his first policy and retroactive date?

Documentation:

1. 6/11/09: Dr. Brown's application specifically states that he does not want prior acts coverage quoted.

2. 7/6/09: Dr. Brown signed and faxed to the South Carolina office the acceptance letter stating he understands the effective date of the policy is 7/9/09 with no prior acts coverage.

3. 7/9/09: New Business Declaration page outlines the Policy Period is From 7/9/09 To 7/9/10 with a Retroactive Date of 7/9/09.

4. 7/9/09: Endorsement PS-RES06 labeled "No Prior Acts Coverage Endorsement" was also sent to Dr. Brown as part of the initial policy.

5. 7/9/09: The Certificate of Insurance sent to Laurens County Hospital (the only hospital listed on the application) states the effective date of 7/9/09 and retroactive date of 7/9/09.

6. In the MAG Mutual Underwriting file we do have a copy of the Joint Underwriting Association Policy Declarations page that specifically shows Dr. Brown had a "Claims Made" policy.

7. 12/7/09: Computer printout note from Courtney Tighe which outlines that "Dr. Brown called re JUA calling him pushing him to buy tail cvg. Verified in file that he was on a CM (Claims Made) form w/JUA and we did not pick up his retro date. Explained how the gap in coverage worked... He felt okay about it since he is an LLC..."

8. Just to note that on Dr. Brown's application completed on 6/11/09, Dr. Brown stated he did not have any settlements/judgments or pending claims. UW found out that Dr. Brown had a $600,000 settlement in 1/09.

9. Sam has talked to Dr. Brown recently and Dr. Brown informed Sam that he has filed for bankruptcy and is moving out of the country. Dr. Brown asked Sam if he could slow down the cases going into suit, so that when he relocates he will purchase prior acts coverage for the claims. Sam explained these cases were reported and NOIs.

Dr. Brown has reported the following cases to MAG Mutual:

File No.	Plaintiff	DOL	Reported	File Type	Position
33328	Dennie	9/22/09	3/3/10	NOI	Covered
33329	Mitchell	10/22/09	3/3/10	Suspense	Covered
33347	Neighbors	11/24/09	3/3/10	NOI	Covered
35024	Gibbs	11/10/09	9/3/10	Suspense	Covered
35026	Leopard	7/20/09	9/3/10	Suspense	Covered
38560	Ward	9/9/09	8/30/11	NOI	Covered
	Mitchell	10/27/09	8/29/11	Claim	Covered
	Williams	12/11/09	8/29/11	Claim	Covered
	McCord	12/18/08	8/29/11	NOI	No Coverage
	Sherfield	5/29/09	8/29/11	Claim	No Coverage

Conclusion:

The first 8 claims on the above list have coverage as the medical care falls within the policy period. The last two files (McCord and Sherfield) I suggest Sam send a Reservation of Rights letter informing Dr. Brown that he has no liability coverage for any medical care prior to 7/9/09. Sam will then have to do a complete investigation as to these cases to confirm if there is any continuing medical care. If all the medical care rendered is prior to 7/9/09, we may consider entering into an agreement where MAG Mutual will agree to a courtesy defense, however, no indemnity coverage.

I look forward to discussing the coverage on the 2 claims, McCord and Sherfield. Please call so we can discuss your comments and opinions.

25 organized medical staff," correct?

Page 26

1 A Yes.
2 Q So a hospital cannot be legally operated in South
3 Carolina unless it has a medical staff and unless 4 it is operated in compliance with DHEC regulations;
5 would you agree with that?
6 A Yes.
7 Q And, if you'll look over at 44-7-750, would you --
8 would you agree with me that the law requires that 9 the hospital be operated "for the benefit of the 10 inhabitants of such county, township, city, or town
11 and any persons falling sick or being injured or 12 maimed within the limits"? That's the purpose of 13 the hospital --
14 A Yes.
15 Q -- right?
16 And Mrs. McCord and Mrs. Sherfield were the 17 beneficiaries of the hospital of Laurens County
18 Hospital because they were residents of Laurens
19 County, correct?
20 A If they use it, yes.
21 Q Well, they used it in this -- you're -- you're 22 aware that they -- you're aware what the case is -- 23 that -- that Dr. Brown operated on them in Laurens
24 County Hospital, correct?
25 A Yes.

Page 27

1 Q Okay. So would you agree with me, then, that
2 Laurens County Hospital -- or -- or that Ms. McCord
3 and Mrs. Sherfield were beneficiaries of the 4 hospital since they were residents of Laurens
5 County and -- and -- and were operated on in -- in 6 the hospital in Laurens County?
7 MR. SHAW: Objection.
8 A If you will define "beneficiaries" for me, I'd be 9 able to answer that.
10 Q Well, "Every hospital established under the 11 provisions of this article shall be for the benefit
12 of the inhabitants." Is that good enough for you?
13 A Yeah. It's -- that's good enough.
14 Q Okay. So they -- so they -- being "for the benefit
15 of the inhabitants," then Laurens County Hospital
16 for the -- was for the benefit of Ms. McCord and 17 Ms. -- Ms. Sherfield, correct?
18 A From -- from what you said and what you read, yes.
19 Q That's the law --
20 A Yes.
21 Q -- isn't it? Okay.
22 All right. And, now, over under DHEC
23 regulation -- if you flip it on over, I'll ask you
24 a few questions about some DHEC regulations. We'll 25 start off with Section 202, "Control."

Page 28

1 A Which exhibit?
2 Q It's same exhibit. If you just flip over a couple
3 of pages to 202 --
4 A Okay.
5 Q -- wherein it says, in the second sentence, "A
6 written set of bylaws for the operation of the 7 hospital" -- do you see that?
8 A Yes.
9 Q -- "shall be formulated by the governing
10 authority."
11 So the bylaws that we saw earlier are required
12 by DHEC to be in existence if the hospital is going
13 to be operated, correct?
14 A That's not what these bylaws -- they're referring 15 to in the -- these bylaws. These are governing-16 body bylaws. The other bylaws that you were 17 talking about were medical-staff bylaws.
18 Q I -- I think you're in error there. You see the -- 19 where it says, the first sentence, "The governing 20 board . . . shall be the supreme authority of the 21 hospital responsible for management and control of 22 the hospital and appointment of the medical staff"?
23 A Yes.
24 Q And then the last line: "The medical staff should 25 be responsible to the governing authority for the

1 are you accepting as a fact, yes or no, that Dr.
2 Brown committed malpractice on Mrs. McCord?
3 MR. SHAW: Objection.
4 A I don't know it to be a fact.
5 Q Okay. So that's no. Are you accepting in -- in 6 your opinions that you're rendering in this case,
7 are you accepting, as a fact, that Dr. Brown
8 committed malpractice on Mrs. Sharfield on May the 9 29th, 2009, during her surgery? Yes or no?
10 MR. SHAW: Objection.
11 A No.
12 Q Okay. Didn't find that hard.
13 Now, were you aware that, in 2008 and 2009
14 when the surgeries on Ms. McCord and Mrs. Sharfield 15 were being done, that knowledgeable members of the 16 health care community were aware of the Institute
17 of Health and inspector general's reports?
18 A Yes.
19 Q Okay. Those are type of reports that people in the 20 health care industry should be kept up to date with 21 and be aware of, correct?
22 A Yes.
23 Q Okay. Would you agree that it was common practice, 24 in 2008 and 2009, for hospital administrators to 25 require physicians practicing in their hospital to

1 carry and maintain medical malpractice insurance?
2 A It would -- it would not be the hospital
3 administrator; it would be the governing body.
4 Q The governing body. Would it be common practice
5 for the governing body, in 2008 and 2009, to 6 require physicians practicing in the hospital to 7 carry and maintain medical malpractice insurance?
8 A Yes.
9 Q Would you agree that medical malpractice insurance,
10 in part, benefits and protects innocent patients
11 who are injured in the hospital due to malpractice
12 of a doctor by providing a means to recover damages
13 wrongfully inflicted?
14 A No. I do not.
15 Q You -- you don't agree that -- that -- that the 16 patient benefits from the malpractice insurance?
17 A Restate your previous question. They may benefit
18 but it's not done for the benefit of the patient.
19 Q That's not my question.
20 A That was your question.
21 Q Question is: Do you agree that medical malpractice
22 insurance, in part, benefits and protects innocent
23 patients who are injured in the hospital due to 24 malpractice by doctors by providing a means to the 25 patients to recover damages -- to recover for

Page 59

1 damages wrongfully inflicted?
2 MR. SHAW: Objection.
3 A I don't agree with that statement.
4 Q What part do you not agree with?
5 A I don't agree that it was -- that it is done for 6 the patient for them to benefit from it. That has 7 -- that has nothing to do with why an organization
8 or a board mandates that there be, or requires that 9 there be medical malpractice liability.
10 Q All right. We're going to get into the question
11 you want to answer later. But my question, simply,
12 to you is not why it's taken out. Do you -- you
13 understand how insurance works, don't you?
14 A Yes.
15 Q Medical malpractice insurance?
16 A Yes.
17 Q And, if we have an example where a doctor commits
18 medical malpractice insurance in a hospital and a 19 patient brings a lawsuit, that the insurance is 20 there that will pay the patient for any judgement
21 or settlement, correct?
22 MR. SHAW: Objection.
23 Q I -- I mean, that's the effect of what happens?
24 A Yes. It's the effect of what happens.
25 Q And the effect of what happens is the patient

Page 60

1 benefits because there is a sum of money there that
2 can pay the patient as opposed to the doctor not
3 having the money to pay the patient, correct?
4 A They may benefit, yes.
5 Q Okay. That was -- that was just my question. The 6 -- the -- is -- is -- is the medical malpractice
7 insurance -- is there a benefit for the medical -- 8 to -- to the patients from the medical malpractice
9 insurance?
10 A Obviously, there's a benefit.
11 Q Thank you. Now, let's go to the question. Now, 12 you were saying that the hospital requirements for 13 medical malpractice insurance are not to benefit
14 the patient, correct?
15 A That requirement is not for -- for the patient to 16 be -- to benefit.
17 Q All right. Let's explore that a little bit. Why
18 do you say that?
19 A It's there to protect the assets of the 20 organization --
21 Q Well --
22 A -- or the doctor. It's like you having -- like --
23 or me having liability -- professional-liability
24 insurance -- or liability insurance. I don't buy
25 it to protect the person who falls down my steps or

Page 61

1 breaks -- or gets bitten by my dog; I buy it to
2 protect my assets and my family's assets.
3 So it has nothing to -- my intent is not to 4 buy it for the person who might fall down my steps
5 and get hurt.
6 Q All right. Well, let's look at that just a little 7 bit and -- you had mentioned earlier that the 8 hospital's common practice to require medical 9 malpractice insurance, correct?
10 A The hospital, what? That word I didn't here.
11 Q The medical-staff bylaws, the common practice is to 12 require professional-liability insurance, correct?
13 A As defined by the board of governors --
14 Q Okay.
15 A -- or trustees or one of the -- the authority
16 overriding -- the fiduciary accountable overriding
17 activity.
18 Q Okay. All right. So let's -- so we can talk about 19 it, let's say that there is a requirement that the 20 doctor maintain $1 million --
21 A Uh-huh.
22 Q -- malpractice insurance per -- per occurrence, and 23 $3 million per -- total, okay?
24 A (Nods head up and down.)
25 Q All right. Now, that's in the medical-staff

Page 62

1 bylaws?
2 A Yes.
3 Q Okay. Now, why is that in the bylaws? What is the 4 reason to put that requirement on the doctors, in 5 your opinion?
6 A In my opinion and experience, it's -- it's there so
7 that there is coverage and that it does not fall
8 back on the organization as deep -- in deep -- as 9 far as deep pockets are concerned --
10 Q All right. Hold on a second. When you say
11 "organization," you're talking about the hospital?
12 A Yeah. Yes.
13 Q Okay. Go ahead.
14 A -- and to ensure that the -- the -- that the 15 physician is accountable for covering his assets.
16 Q So -- so the hospital is taking a paternal approach
17 for the physician, that he --
18 MR. SHAW: Objection.
19 Q -- that he is taking this insurance out to protect 20 his assets, correct?
21 MR. SHAW: Objection.
22 A I don't agree to the -- with the word "paternal."
23 Q All right. How would you describe it?
24 A It's a requirement standard in the industry that 25 the governing body require the medical staff to

Page 63

1 have -- to mandate that the -- that the
2 practitioners have medical malpractice.
3 If they're independent, they do it themselves;
4 if they're employees, the hospital does it.
5 Q Right. If -- if -- if they're employees of the 6 hospital, the hospital has professional-liability
7 insurance?
8 A They may not; they may be self-insured.
9 Q Or self-insured --
10 A Right.
11 Q -- right.
12 A If they do not -- the issue being if they do not 13 have any kind of liability insurance, for whatever
14 -- whatever they're getting, then they have to go
15 self-insure.
16 Q Right. And would you agree with me that in -- if 17 they are self-insured, that in the employment
18 contract with -- with the physician, the hospital
19 accepts responsibility for damages that may be 20 awarded for medical malpractice?
21 MR. SHAW: Objection.
22 A Restate that, please.
23 Q Would you agree that if the -- if the physician is 24 an employee of the hospital, that in the employment
25 contract with the hospital, the hospital accepts

Page 64

1 responsibility for payment of damages if the -- if
2 the -- if the doctor has a malpractice verdict
3 against him?
4 MR. SHAW: Objection.
5 A There would have to be a judgment made.
6 Q All right.
7 A And the insurance company would be part of that --
8 Q No. No. This is self-insured.
9 A Oh, self -- okay.
10 Q The hospital would accept the responsibility --
11 A Yes.
12 Q -- as opposed to the -- to the -- to the insurance
13 company accepting responsibility?
14 A Yeah.
15 Q Yeah. Okay.
16 A They would be their own insurance company.
17 Q Right. Okay. That's with their employees, but if 18 they're not employees, then they have to get -- get 19 professional-liability insurance, correct?
20 A Yes. Yes.
21 Q Okay. And tell me, again, because I'm still a 22 little bit unclear why -- if the doctor is 23 responsible -- okay. If the doctor is responsible 24 and the hospital's not responsible, why would the 25 hospital require the doctor to get insurance to

Page 65

1 protect the hospital?
2 MR. SHAW: Objection.
3 A They would require it as part of the fiduciary
4 requirements of the board to make -- to ensure that
5 the hospital or organization doesn't end up
6 responsible for any judgments.
7 Q No. I mean, the hospital has its own insurance,
8 right? Hospital has liability insurance, correct?
9 A Yes.
10 Q Okay. And so, if -- if the doctor is liable, and 11 he's not an employee of the hospital, why should -- 12 why -- I mean, why is the hospital requiring the 13 doctor to -- to obtain insurance to protect the 14 hospital?
15 MR. SHAW: Objection.
16 Q I mean, the hospital doesn't need protection if 17 they're not liable, do they?
18 A And The Joint Commission doesn't require the 19 hospital to mandate there to be medical malpractice
20 insurance.
21 Q That's not their job. That's not Joint 22 Commission's job. You know that, correct?
23 A Yes. That's why they don't require it, but if they 24 -- if --
25 Q I'm not talking about Joint Commission; I'm talking

Page 66

1 about -- just like you said, the hospital requires
2 the doctor to get insurance to protect the hospital
3 against any liability.
4 And my question to you, sir, if the doctor is 5 not an employee of the hospital, and the doctor's
6 the one that's responsible, why does the hospital
7 need the doctor to have the insurance because it
8 has insurance to protect itself?
9 A If the physician or the -- or whomever -- the 10 licensed independent practitioner does not have 11 medical malpractice, then it would have -- then 12 there would be -- the -- whoever was at -- was 13 harmed would then go after whoever they could, and 14 the hospital would have to -- if found by judgment,
15 then the hospital's insurance rates would go up,
16 and it would cost the hospital.
17 Q If -- if the hospital's not liable, how could they 18 go against the hospital?
19 A You're saying that they're not liable, but they 20 might be declared liable.
21 Q But then the hospital has its own insurance if the 22 hospital's liable.
23 A And their premiums go up, and their rates -- and 24 all kinds of other things get taken into account by 25 providers who are -- or organizations that they

Page 67

1 contract with.
2 Q Isn't the real reason is the hospitals are there
3 for the protection of the people in the community,
4 as set forth by state law, and the hospital, as a
5 function of being a upstanding citizen in the 6 community, knows that the medical malpractice
7 lawsuits happen and knows that its -- that its 8 patients need to be protected from medical 9 malpractice by doctors that occur in their 10 hospital? Isn't that the real reason?
11 MR. SHAW: Objection.
12 A They need to be protected to ensure that some type
13 of remuneration can help the patients over any harm
14 that they get.
15 Q Right. And that would be requiring insurance,
16 professional-liability insurance, by the doctors
17 operating in the hospital, correct?
18 MR. SHAW: Objection.
19 Q Correct?
20 A Yes.
21 Q Thank you. Now, let me ask you about public 22 policy. Since you've dealt with the hospitals in 23 South Carolina, would you agree that the public
24 policy of South Carolina requires hospitals to 25 monitor patient care through oversight to ensure

Page 68

1 that the patient receives quality medical care and
2 to have a high priority of safety for the patients?
3 A I'm aware.
4 Q Okay. And would you agree that, in order to 5 support the public policy of South Carolina by 6 providing quality care, the State of South Carolina
7 does a number of things, some of which are to fund
8 Medicaid, to pay hospitals for patient care, to 9 fund the medical universities of South Carolina and 10 South Carolina Medical School for physician
11 training to deliver health care to hospitals in the 12 -- to develop -- to deliver health care to patients
13 in the hospitals of South Carolina and to offer tax 14 reductions and financial grants to hospitals in 15 South Carolina? Do you agree that those are some 16 of the things that the State of South Carolina does 17 to support the public policy?
18 A Yes.
19 Q Now, we've -- we've talked about the requirement of 20 medical-staff bylaws and bylaws of the hospital.
21 Would you agree that if the hospital -- this is a
22 hypothetical question.
23 A I couldn't understand that last phrase.
24 Q Hypothetical question, hypothetical. If -- if the 25 hospital failed to appropriately privilege a

Page 69

1 physician and allowed that physician to practice in 2 the hospital doing surgery, that if that did occur,
3 that would be a -- a violation of the medical-staff
4 bylaws?
5 MR. SHAW: Objection.
6 A No. The -- you stated that if the hospital allowed
7 them to do that, it would be a violation of the 8 medical-staff bylaws, hypothetically?
9 Q Yeah. Hypothetically?
10 A Hypothetically, I don't understand the point of the 11 question.
12 Q Okay. Let me -- let me try to do better. The 13 medical-staff bylaws have a section in the bylaws
14 regarding privileging of physicians, correct?
15 A In '09, yes.
16 Q All right. Has that changed?
17 A Yes.
18 Q Who privileges the physicians?
19 A I'm not saying that -- who is privileging: The 20 bylaws have evolved -- the medical-staff bylaws
21 have evolved, and now they have rules and 22 regulations that cover those in-the-weeds or 23 specific things.
24 Q Okay. Well --
25 A So they've -- there's part of the bylaws, medical-

Page 70

1 staff bylaws now, and rules and regs. It's evolved
2 since then.
3 Q All right. Well -- well --
4 A Because -- the issue being that rules and regs are 5 easier to change than medical-staff bylaws.
6 Medical-staff bylaws typically take a full vote of 7 a hundred percent of the medical staff.
8 Q All right. Well, thank you -- thank you for that 9 but --
10 A And that's evolved.
11 Q Okay.
12 A In '09 I would say the medical-staff bylaws were 13 large, and they covered privileging and 14 credentialing.
15 Q All right. Well, let me -- let me amend my 16 hypothetical then. Thank you for that information.
17 Would you agree that the medical staff has the 18 obligation through bylaws and/or rules and 19 regulations to privilege physicians before they 20 perform surgery in hospitals?
21 A Yes.
22 Q Would you agree that if the medical staff failed to 23 go through the privileging process of a doctor and 24 he was allowed to practice surgery in the hospital,
25 that that would be a violation of the medical-staff

Page 71

1 bylaws or the rules and regulations?
2 A Hypothetically, if that occurred, yes, but that
3 should not occur.
4 Q Should not?
5 A There should be procedures in place where staff of 6 the hospital do not allow a physician who doesn't
7 have privileges --
8 Q Right.
9 A -- to do those --
10 Q Right.
11 A -- to do that particular surgery.
12 Q Right. So there are other provisions of the 13 medical-staff bylaws and rules and regulations that 14 the medical staff is required to enforce, correct?
15 A Yes.
16 Q And the failure of the medical staff to enforce the 17 rules and regulations or the medical-staff bylaws,
18 and/or, would be a violation of their duties,
19 correct?
20 MR. SHAW: Objection.
21 A Hypothetically, yes.
22 Q Okay. All right. All right.
23 A I mean, you gave a hypothetical, so hypothetically,
24 yes.
25 Q Hypothetically, yeah. Okay. And, hypothetically,

Page 72

1 if that breach by the medical staff caused injury
2 to a patient, then the medical staff will have --
3 would have breached its duty to that patient,
4 correct --
5 MR. SHAW: Objection.
6 A No.
7 Q -- hypothetically?
8 A Hypothetically, they would've breached the 9 organization's requirements but not to that 10 specific patient.
11 Q But not to -- even though the patient's the one
12 that's injured?
13 A If the patient gets injured, then the patient would 14 then bring the hospital organization involved in 15 the -- in their issues concerning liability.
16 Q Well, that's what I said.
17 A They'd both be liable.
18 Q And the -- that's what I said. There's a breach of 19 the duty of the medical staff to the patient by not 20 enforcing the rules and regulations that it is 21 required by law to enforce?
22 MR. SHAW: Objection.
23 A Hypothetically --
24 Q Hypothetically?
25 A -- that -- in my experience, I have never seen that

Page 81

1 about a contract.
2 A There -- there is no such thing as a contract.
3 Q There isn't?
4 A No. There's -- there's a agreement to pay, and 5 then there's informed consent. The two of those 6 things go together to ensure that whatever --
7 whatever's covered in the informed consent is done,
8 and whatever happens as far as payment is concerned
9 is accomplished. Where's the contract?
10 Q Informed -- the informed consent is -- is -- is -- 11 is with the -- with the doctor performing the 12 surgery, correct?
13 A The doctor executes it to -- and the -- the 14 organization assists in that particular event.
15 Q So let me just ask you just a few more questions on 16 that issue. The services that are part of the 17 contract between McCord and Sherfield and Laurens
18 County Hospital, do you have any document -- have 19 you been furnished with any document setting forth
20 what those services are?
21 A I know of no contract between the organization and 22 the -- and the two plaintiffs.
23 Q No. I'm -- the contract is -- is already admitted
24 in -- in -- in the admissions. I'm asking you: Do
25 you know of any -- have you been -- let me back up.

Page 82

1 Have you been furnished with any document that
2 lists the services that are part of the contract
3 with Ms. McCord and Ms. Sherfield by Laurens County
4 Hospital?
5 A No.
6 Q Okay. Let me go back to a relationship between a
7 -- a patient and a hospital, and ask you this,
8 Doctor, as an expert in this field: Patients that 9 are undergoing surgery and other, maybe, life-
10 changing experiences, would you say they have a 11 special relationship with the hospital that would 12 be much greater than a normal contract with a 13 provider --
14 MR. SHAW: Objection.
15 Q -- of services?
16 A I can't say that.
17 Q You don't -- you can't say that?
18 A No. I can't.
19 Q You don't think there's a special relationship with 20 a hospital?
21 MR. SHAW: Objection.
22 A I think there's no more special relationship than 23 what you stated way earlier about the -- the 24 community and the hospital's relationship with the 25 community and good will to the community.

Page 83

1 Q Okay. And that would be a special relationship
2 that would be different than -- than they would
3 have with Walmart or Sears or anybody else that's a
4 commercial establishment, right?
5 MR. SHAW: Objection.
6 A Might be with Walmart or Sears, but there are other
7 organizations that would have the same relationship
8 with a community.
9 Q Uh-huh. Like -- like what?
10 A An ambulatory surgery center.
11 Q Okay.
12 A Like a doctor's office.
13 Q Okay.
14 A A physical therapy office.
15 Q All right. So say -- give me an example outside 16 the health care field.
17 A Veterinary office.
18 Q Okay. All right. They're very important.
19 A Because my new -- my puppy Jack Russell -- Irish
20 Jack Russell puppy's very important.
21 Q My Shelties are --
22 A I'm -- I'm --
23 Q -- too.
24 A I'm glad to make you smile.
25 Q My -- my Shelties are, too.

Page 84

1 But, anyway, that -- that would be a
2 relationship that a hospital would have with -- and
3 they -- they like to develop the special
4 relationship with the --
5 A Oh, I think --
6 Q -- with the patients.
7 A -- there's -- there's -- there's an absolute --
8 MR. SHAW: Wait. Hold on. Objection.
9 THE DEPONENT: I'm sorry.
10 Q Go ahead.
11 A You want to ask a question?
12 Q I said that would be what the hospital would want
13 to develop with its patients is a special
14 relationship?
15 MR. SHAW: Objection.
16 Q Correct?
17 A If that -- that's the question?
18 Trust of the community is of a paramount --
19 and ensuring that we're continuously protecting
20 patients and their rights, you know, is paramount
21 to the -- to our country, to our community, to our 22 region.
23 Q All right. All right. Now, let me ask you some 24 questions about the knowledge that the hospital had 25 about medical malpractice being committed by Dr.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

COUNTY OF LAURENS

Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield, and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs,

v.

Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Health System,

Defendants.

IN THE COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

C.A. No.: 2014-CP-30-250

Defendants' Answers to Plaintiffs' Second Set of Interrogatories

Defendants' answer Plaintiffs' Second Set of Interrogatories as follows:

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Defendants object to each and every one of the Interrogatories to the extent that the Interrogatories request information that is protected by the attorney-client privilege, is considered attorney work-product, was prepared in anticipation of litigation, was created or generated after and/or as a result of this lawsuit being filed, or is protected by the peer review privilege. By responding to these Interrogatories, Defendants are not conceding that Plaintiffs have stated a cause of action, are not waiving any other objections to discovery, or any objections to admissibility of evidence. Subject thereto, Defendants answer the Interrogatories as follows:

21. State the amount of professional liability insurance coverage that the Board of Trustees of Laurens County Health Care System deemed necessary for Licensed Individual Practitioners ("LIP") to maintain at the following dates:

a) December 18, 2008;
b) February 19, 2009;
c) April 17, 2009;

ANSWER: Pursuant to the August 2008 Governing Board Bylaws, which were the effective bylaws for all times relevant to this action, all members of the Medical Staff, including LIPs, were "required to have malpractice insurance coverage limits as defined by Joint Underwriters Association and Patient's Compensation Fund, or coverage limits of one million/three million dollars."

22. Identify and attach a copy of the documents setting forth the amount of professional liability insurance coverage that the Board of Trustees deemed necessary for LIP to maintain on the dates set forth in Interrogatory 21.

ANSWER: See Answer to Interrogatory 21. The August 2008 Governing Board Bylaws have already been produced to Plaintiffs.

23. During 2008 and 2009 was Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (a/k/a Joint Commission) the accrediting agency for Laurens County Health Care System or Laurens County Hospital?

ANSWER: Yes.

1 STIPULATIONS
2 It is stipulated by and between counsel for
3 the respective parties that all objections are
4 reserved until the time of trial, except as to
5 the form of the questions.
6 This deposition is being taken pursuant to the
7 South Carolina Rules of Civil Procedure.
8 - - - -
9 The reading and signing of this deposition is 10 not waived by the deponent and counsel for the 11 respective parties.
12 Whereupon,
13 Richard D'Alberto, being duly sworn and 14 cautioned to speak the truth, the whole truth,
15 and nothing but the truth, testified as 16 follows:
17 EXAMINATION
18 BY MR. WRIGHT:
19 Q. Mr. D'Alberto, you and I met off the record. And 20 we met previously. And I'm going to be taking your 21 deposition and asking you some questions. You've 22 given a deposition before, haven't you?
23 A. Yes, I have.
24 Q. Okay. Ground rules you're probably familiar with,
25 but let me just mention that the Supreme Court

Page 4

1 requires us to go over some of the rules with the 2 witnesses. And that is during the course of me
3 asking you questions, if you do not understand a
4 question, please don't try to answer. Just ask me
5 to rephrase the question if that's all right.
6 You'll need to give verbal responses. So yes, no.
7 A. Yes.
8 Q. If I ask you a question that can be answered by a 9 yes or no, if you would just answer yes or no, and 10 then you can -- if you wish to explain, you can go 11 ahead and explain. But I would like for you to 12 answer the question that's presented to you. Is 13 that okay?
14 A. Yes.
15 Q. All right. We probably won't be taking any breaks.
16 It's not going to be a long deposition, I don't 17 anticipate. But if we do take a break, you're 18 aware that you cannot discuss your testimony with 19 anyone as long as we have the deposition pending?
20 A. Yes.
21 Q. A little background information. If you would,
22 give us how old you are and what your present
23 employment is.
24 A. How old I am you said?
25 Q. How old. Uh-huh.

Page 29

1 Q. Well, let's look at that.
2 A. -- in a quality environment.
3 Q. Well, one of the functions of the medical staff
4 bylaws is the privileging of doctors, correct?
5 A. That's correct, yes.
6 Q. And you don't consider the privileging of doctors
7 to affect the -- the protection of the patient?
8 A. Privileging of doctors is to assure that the 9 physician has all the qualifications to perform
10 their work at the hospital.
11 Q. Right. And if they don't have that -- those 12 qualifications, it affects the safety of the 13 patient, correct?
14 A. If they don't have those qualifications, they're 15 not admitted to have privileges to the hospital.
16 Q. Well, I mean, that's the function of the bylaws, is 17 to make sure, right?
18 A. That's correct.
19 Q. So the function of the bylaws is to make sure that 20 you have qualified doctors, correct?
21 A. That's correct.
22 Q. And to have qualified doctors means that the 23 patient would be protected, correct?
24 A. No.
25 Q. If you don't have qualified doctors, the patients

Page 30

1 are protected?
2 A. We can't -- we can't profess to protect the 3 patient. We can only do what we can to provide 4 quality care of the patient.
5 Q. What's the difference between quality care and 6 protection of the patient?
7 A. Quality care is meeting the acceptable standards of 8 the practice of medicine without variation to 9 improve the health of the patient.
10 Q. And that's not protecting the patient or being 11 concerned about the safety of the patient?
12 A. It has nothing to do with protection as far as I'm 13 concerned.
14 Q. All right. Now, one of -- one of the 15 qualifications -- and this is over on Page 12. And 16 if you want to look at the full bylaws, they're -- 17 they're right here. Deals with the qualifications 18 of appointment of the -- to the medical staff under 19 3.2.1. Are you with me?
20 A. Yes.
21 Q. Okay. And the bylaws require -- well, let me ask
22 you this before we get into that. Would you agree
23 that it is the responsibility of the hospital
24 administration to make sure that the bylaws are 25 properly adhered to by the medical staff?

Page 31

1 A. The responsibility of the administration? Is that
2 what you said?
3 Q. Uh-huh.
4 A. It's the responsibility of the medical staff to 5 govern themselves. Administration does not take
6 the responsibility to assure that the medical staff
7 follows their bylaws. They have their own self
8 governance.
9 Q. Right. But -- but they are under the hospital.
10 The hospital could not operate without a medical 11 staff, correct?
12 A. Yes, that's correct.
13 Q. And so the medical staff is serving one of the 14 functions required by the South Carolina Department
15 of Health and Environmental Control, the operation
16 of the hospital, correct?
17 A. Yes.
18 Q. Okay. So then one of the functions -- or one of 19 the requirements of the bylaws is for the 20 physicians in the appointment or privileging, both 21 initially and for the continuing appointment, to 22 maintain valid professional liability insurance
23 coverage, correct?
24 A. Yes.
25 Q. And that the failure to maintain valid professional

Page 32

1 liability insurance company -- coverage is subject
2 to withdrawal of privileges by the medical staff,
3 correct?
4 A. Yes.
5 Q. And it is a requirement -- and this is under 7.2.9
6 -- that the information about the medical 7 professional liability insurance coverage be given
8 to the board, correct?
9 A. Yes.
10 Q. All right. Now, as far as monitoring the 11 physicians' compliance with the medical staff
12 bylaws, that would be not in your area of -- I 13 mean, that would not be a function that you would 14 do as CEO, that would be a function of the medical 15 staff?
16 A. That would be a function of the medical staff
17 leadership.
18 Q. Yeah. And -- and that would be -- do you have a 19 designation for the leader or whatever it be 20 called, medical staff director or -- 21 A. Yeah. There's -- there's -- there is a -- medical 22 staff leadership consists of the chief of staff,
23 the chief of staff elect and -- and then chairs of 24 the various departments, chair of Medicine, chair
25 of Surgery, chair of OB, Pediatrics, those kinds of

Page 37

1 Q. And that settlement was in -- was it January or
2 February of 2014?
3 A. It was in the '12 to '13 or '14 range. I'm not --
4 times flies. I can't remember.
5 Q. Well --
6 A. You're generally correct.
7 Q. Yeah. It was -- it was after Ms. McCord's surgery
8 and after Ms. Sherfield's surgeries, correct?
9 A. Yes.
10 Q. And it was after July the 9th, 2009 when Dr.
11 Brown's insurance ran out, correct?
12 A. I don't -- I don't know if his insurance ran out.
13 Q. No. No. No. I mean, it was after July the 9th,
14 2009 when the settlement was reached with Dr.
15 Brown?
16 A. Yes.
17 Q. Okay. So in other words, as of July the 9th, 2009
18 this contract was still in effect?
19 MR. SHAW: Objection.
20 WITNESS ANSWERS:
21 A. After July of 2009 I think that --
22 THE EXAMINATION BY MR. WRIGHT CONTINUES:
23 Q. In other words he -- he still owed the hospital
24 money under the contract?
25 A. Well, there -- there might have been a subsequent

Page 38

1 addendum to this contract. I don't recall. This 2 contract was for a specific period of time and
3 expired. But there might have been an addendum
4 related to that piece of it. I don't recall.
5 Q. Well, we don't have the addendum. So if there was 6 no addendum, then the contract required Dr. Brown
7 to repay the amount, but he could reduce those 8 amounts by working and so much of it being forgiven
9 each month, correct, over on Article 4?
10 A. Let me take a look at that. Article 4?
11 Q. Yes, sir.
12 A. Well, this was -- this agreement was for a three-13 year term according to Article 4. So this 14 agreement would have expired. And what I'm saying
15 is that there -- if -- if -- if there -- if he did 16 not satisfy his debt, then we would have had some 17 other agreement to collect the remaining amount.
18 Q. Was it -- and you don't know whether he -- 19 A. And I don't recall if we did or not.
20 Q. Okay. But in any event Dr. Brown owed $237,000
21 under this contract until it was forgiven in the 22 settlement?
23 A. He owed that amount of money after this contract
24 expired. And then we -- and I can't remember -- 25 honestly can't remember if we had any agreement for

Page 39

1 him to pay that amount back.
2 Q. Okay. We'll --
3 A. But that -- that amount he owed us was still on the 4 books. And I believe we were willing to forgive
5 that as part of the settlement. But this contract
6 was expired.
7 Q. Okay. Well -- okay. Let me just ask this
8 question, and we can leave it. In any event
9 Laurens Hospital was contending that Dr. Brown owed
10 that amount because that was a counterclaim in the 11 lawsuit that you had with Dr. Brown, correct?
12 A. Yes.
13 Q. Okay. And -- and the contract required that Dr.
14 Brown maintain physician professional liability
15 insurance, correct?
16 A. Yes. Correct.
17 Q. And the contract required in Article 6 that the 18 minimum amount of said insurance would be one
19 million dollars per claim or three million dollars
20 aggregate. Is that correct?
21 A. Yes.
22 Q. Okay. Now, let me show you what I have marked as 23 Exhibit Number 8.
24 (Exhibit Numbers 8 and 9 Introduced)
25 THE EXAMINATION BY MR. WRIGHT CONTINUES:

Page 40

1 Q. And those are documents of Laurens County Hospital
2 that were signed at the time of admission by Mrs.
3 McCord. And Exhibit Number 9 is a document that
4 was signed on admission by Mrs. Sherfield. Are you
5 generally familiar with these documents?
6 A. Not specifically. I know we have them.
7 Q. Okay. All right. Now, under financial agreement
8 it says, "The undersigned agrees he signs as agent
9 or as patient and that in consideration of the 10 services to be rendered to the patient he hereby 11 individually obligates himself to pay the account
12 of the hospital in accordance with the regular 13 rates and terms of the hospital." Do you see that?
14 A. Yes.
15 Q. Okay. What are the services to be rendered to the 16 patient?
17 A. It varies depending on what the patient is here
18 for. It could be inpatient and many services
19 related to being an inpatient. It could be 20 outpatient. Could be lab work. Anything that we 21 provide by our providers here at the hospital.
22 Q. What services do you render?
23 A. The best way I can answer that is to say we're a 24 full service community hospital. The services we 25 render are general inpatient care for a multitude

Page 41

1 of diagnoses, and outpatient care for mostly
2 testing and procedures.
3 Q. Let's talk about inpatient care. Somebody's in the 4 hospital for surgery. What -- what services do you
5 render?
6 A. The -- obviously if they're here for surgery, then
7 there's -- there's the cost associated with the use
8 of the OR, there's a cost associated with the drugs
9 and equipment and materials used.
10 Q. What services are provided in the OR?
11 A. The services that are provided in the OR are -- are 12 the staff to support the physician, the surgeon.
13 Q. Who would that be?
14 A. That would be OR techs, scrub techs, circulating 15 nurse, those kinds of positions, anesthesia. Those 16 kinds of things.
17 Q. What other services in the OR?
18 A. That the hospital provides?
19 Q. Uh-huh.
20 A. Yeah. The hospital provides basically everything
21 except the physician service. Because the 22 physician is an independent practitioner. The 23 physician provides their own service.
24 Q. Hospital responsible for the cleaning of the -- 25 A. Clean the room, yes.

Page 42

1 Q. Hospital responsible for the bed linens, making
2 sure they're --
3 A. Yes.
4 Q. -- clean?
5 A. Yes. The best way to answer that in general is 6 everything that's not the specific physician doing
7 the service is the hospital's.
8 Q. Hospital services include compliance with DHEC
9 regulations?
10 MR. SHAH: Objection.
11 WITNESS ANSWERS:
12 A. No, that's not specific to this admission criteria
13 -- or this consent.
14 THE EXAMINATION BY MR. WRIGHT CONTINUES:
15 Q. So they can be -- the hospital doesn't have to 16 provide a room that's compliant with the South
17 Carolina Department of Health and Environmental 18 Control regulations?
19 A. Oh, sure we do, yes.
20 Q. So that'd be one of the services?
21 A. Yeah. But that's not a -- I'm understanding that 22 you're talking about services provided under this 23 agreement by the patient.
24 Q. What about washing the -- the linens? I mean,
25 that's -- would that be a service?

Page 43

1 A. Yes.
2 Q. That would be covered. But compliance with DHEC
3 regulations would not be covered; is that correct?
4 A. No. That's correct.
5 Q. All right. What about compliance with Joint
6 Commission requirements; would that be a service
7 that would be provided to these patients?
8 A. No.
9 Q. That -- that wouldn't --
10 A. No.
11 Q. Why would that not be a service?
12 A. Those -- those are regulatory agencies that govern
13 the -- the operation of the hospital that are 14 either related to national standards or state or 15 federal law.
16 Q. And so compliance -- compliance with state or 17 federal law would not be a -- a service that would 18 be rendered to the patients in your hospital; is 19 that correct?
20 A. Yes.
21 Q. That is correct?
22 A. It would not -- you said not be. Yes.
23 Q. Okay.
24 MR. SHAH: Can we take a quick break?
25 MR. WRIGHT: Sure.

Page 44

1 (Off the record from 10:08 a.m.
2 until 10:10 a.m.)
3 THE EXAMINATION BY MR. WRIGHT CONTINUES:
4 Q. Would you agree with me, Mr. D'Alberto, that the 5 range of services to be rendered to the patient as 6 set forth in Exhibits 8 and 9 are not listed in the 7 contract?
8 A. In which contract?
9 Q. Eight and 9.
10 A. And are not listed in this?
11 Q. Yeah.
12 A. I haven't looked at these in a while, so let me
13 take a look. This is the general consent form. It
14 doesn't -- it doesn't list everything that we do.
15 Q. Right. That's my question. The conditions of 16 admission state that services are to be rendered by 17 the hospital to the patient?
18 A. Right.
19 Q. My question to you, quite simply, is the range of 20 services to be rendered to the patient is not 21 listed in this document, correct?
22 A. Yes.
23 Q. Is that correct?
24 A. Yes.
25 Q. In Mrs. McCord's case her medical bills to the --

1 Q. (By Mr. Wright) All right. All right. So in
2 this particular case, as it's been pointed out, the
3 insurance coverage that was available to Ms. McCord and 4 Ms. Sherfield was subsequently divested of them because
5 the insurance coverage that Dr. Brown subsequently
6 obtained either did not obtain extended coverage
7 endorsement or prior claims endorsement, correct?
8 A. That -- that's absolutely --
9 MR. SHAW: Objection.
10 A. -- correct.
11 THE WITNESS: Sorry.
12 MR. SHAW: That's all right. I didn't
13 understand that question, so I was objecting.
14 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Let me restate it. In this
15 particular case, do you have an opinion whether or not 16 the insurance coverage that was at one time available for
17 Ms. McCord under her three surgeries and Ms. Sherfield
18 under her surgery was not maintained because there was no
19 subsequent purchase of expanded coverage endorsement or
20 prior claims endorsement by Dr. Brown?
21 A. Absolutely correct. That's -- that's the
22 reason that they did not have coverage, because he had
23 failed to buy those --
24 Q. In your --
25 A. -- limits.

Page 203

1 Q. Yeah. In your professional opinion as a
2 hospital administrator, would you consider that fact
3 where the insurance coverage became divested as being a
4 violation of the medical staff bylaws?
5 A. Absolutely. It's clear that it says have in
6 effect at all times the minimum professional liability
7 insurance. And it -- that is a de facto violation if it
8 does not cover part of the -- the patient population that
9 this individual had.
10 Q. All right. Let me ask you to look at Exhibit
11 number -- I think it's 7, the subsidy contract.
12 A. Yes, sir. Got it.
13 Q. Dr. Hyde, look at -- that's the contract
14 between Laurens County Hospital and whom?
15 A. And Dr. Byron Brown.
16 Q. And, Dr. Hyde, if you would, look at article 5,
17 I believe.
18 A. I've got it. Termination.
19 Q. Well, let me ask you to go over to article 6.
20 A. Okay.
21 Q. Does this article require that physician to 22 maintain professional liability insurance?
23 A. It does.
24 Q. In what amounts?
25 A. In the amount of 1 million per claim or

Page 204

1 3 million aggregate.
2 Q. Okay. All right. Now, if you would, look over
3 on article 2A on page 2.
4 A. I've got it.
5 Q. Where it says, "Throughout the term of the 6 agreement and the repayment period" -- which we'll get
7 into a little bit later -- "the physician, Dr. Brown,
8 must comply with all provisions of the medical staff
9 bylaws of the hospital as well as other policies and 10 procedures, rules, and regulations." Do you see that?
11 A. I do.
12 Q. Now, in your opinion, did Dr. Brown comply with 13 provisions of the medical staff bylaws and this contract
14 by maintaining the insurance and the required minimum
15 limits?
16 A. No. He failed to comply. I think it's a
17 breach of the contract.
18 Q. All right, sir. And under article 5, item 3
19 under there, if the hospital -- if the physician fails to 20 maintain the professional liability insurance, it gets
21 canceled, then what is the right of the hospital?
22 A. Well, bottom line is they can cancel the 23 contract -- "may elect to terminate or cancel the 24 contract."
25 Q. All right. And, if you note in article 4 where

Page 205

1 it says "Repayment," do you see that where the subsidy
2 will be forgiven at a rate prorated out for ten years,
3 1 --
4 A. I do see ten years, 120 months.
5 Q. Yeah. Now, if you would, turn over to
6 Exhibit 29. And what is the amount that the hospital was
7 waiving of that debt of Dr. Brown each month?
8 A. $5,370 per month.
9 Q. And as of May the 31st, 2011, which is a little
10 bit over a year and a half later, what is the amount
11 that's owed by Dr. Brown to the hospital?
12 A. $257,781.
13 Q. In your professional opinion, did the hospital
14 have the right that if Dr. Brown did not maintain the 15 insurance, to require the full amount of the $257,000 to 16 be repaid?
17 A. Yes. It's stipulated in the contract. They
18 terminate the contract and then ask for whatever the 19 outstanding balance was at that time.
20 Q. When you testified earlier about the hospital
21 had right to require Dr. Brown to purchase the other
22 insurance to be in compliance, if they had not -- if
23 Dr. Brown had not purchased that and they had requested
24 it, could the full amount of the indebtedness been called
25 upon and set to repayment by Dr. Brown?

Page 206

1 A. Yes. That $257,000, odd cents -- or odd
2 dollars.
3 Q. All right. Now, Exhibit Number 35, if you
4 would, look at that.
5 A. Yes.
6 Q. This is a check, Premium Financing Specialists,
7 Inc. Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion, was that a
8 financing mechanism that Dr. Brown could have used to pay
9 the premiums as he had in the past?
10 A. Yes. It basically is somebody paying it at 11 once and then getting paid to take periodic payments and
12 charge interest.
13 Q. Okay. I'm going to skip over a lot of that
14 because of time. Now, you were asked about the document,
15 Conditions of Admission. And that would be either
16 Exhibit 7 or Exhibit 8, so, if you would, turn to that.
17 A. Sure. It's number 8.
18 Q. Okay. Now, you're aware from the testimony of 19 Ms. Reeves that this document was prepared by employees
20 of Laurens County Hospital?
21 A. That was my understanding that it was, yes.
22 And that's my recollection of her testimony.
23 Q. All right.
24 MR. SHAW: I'm sorry. Whose testimony?
25 MR. WRIGHT: Reeves, I think.

Page 207

1 MR. SHAW: I don't think she testified to that.
2 Might have been Sandra Thompson, but I don't --
3 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Okay. Well, one of them
4 testified to that. And I believe she testified it had
5 been in existence since 1993.
6 A. I recall it being testified to. I didn't
7 remember who. It was one of the two, but, yes.
8 Q. All right. Now, did Laurens County Hospital
9 choose to list all of the services that it provides in 10 that document or did it just refer to all services that
11 may be rendered?
12 A. I think it -- to me, it was a blanket
13 reference --
14 Q. Let me show you right there.
15 A. It says, "The undersigned agrees he signs as 16 agent in consideration of services to be rendered." It
17 doesn't say just -- it said all services, or I take that
18 to be services, period, including everything.
19 Q. All right. So I'll ask you again. Did -- the 20 hospital, when it was drawing this agreement up, did it
21 choose to delineate all of the different services that it
22 was going to provide to Ms. McCord or Ms. Sharfield, or 23 did it just refer generally to all services?
24 A. Generally all. It didn't specify or have a
25 laundry list of everything.

Page 208

1 Q. Based upon your background, training, and
2 experience, in your opinion, when hospitals enter into
3 contracts with their patients, do the hospitals -- are
4 the hospitals required to comply with all state laws and
5 regulations?
6 A. Absolutely.
7 Q. In your professional opinion, when a hospital
8 enters into a contract with its patients, is the hospital
9 required to comply with all federal laws and regulations?
10 A. Absolutely. Yes, sir. That apply to them, of 11 course.
12 Q. Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion, when a
13 hospital enters into a contract with its patients, is it
14 required to comply with regulations and promulgations set
15 forth by its accreditation agency, the Joint Commission?
16 A. Yes.
17 Q. Dr. Hyde, when a hospital enters into a
18 contract with its patient, is there a requirement that
19 the hospital comply with the medical staff bylaws that it
20 has drawn up, it has approved, the medical staff has 21 approved, and that relate specifically to portions that
22 affect the rights and safety of the patient?
23 MR. SHAW: Objection.
24 A. Again, absolutely they're required to do that.
25 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Dr. Hyde, in your professional

Page 209

1 opinion, as part of the contract, is the hospital
2 required to comply with contracts that it enters into
3 with physicians, surgeons that are going to perform
4 operations on the patients, and when those provisions in
5 the contract comply -- I mean relate to the health,
6 safety, welfare, or legal rights of the patient? Are
7 they required to comply with those?
8 A. Again, yes, sir.
9 Q. And, Dr. Hyde, in your professional opinion,
10 did the hospital comply with the requirements of state
11 law, which was the adoption of the bylaws, that the 12 bylaws required that the physicians have and maintain
13 professional liability insurance?
14 MR. SHAW: Objection.
15 Q. (By Mr. Wright) Did the hospital comply with 16 that?
17 MR. SHAW: Objection.
18 A. No. They failed to comply with that section of 19 the expecta- -- of the bylaws and also the requirement by 20 the state that they -- that they are bound to apply -- or
21 comply -- comply with the bylaws.
22 Q. (By Mr. Wright) And how about, in your
23 professional opinion, did the hospital comply with the 24 obligations under the contract with the physician
25 requiring that physician to maintain insurance coverage

LAURENS COUNTY CLERK OF COURT

PERSONALLY APPEARED BEFORE ME THE UNDERSIGNED, FIRST BEING DULY SWORN, AND STATES AS FOLLOWS:

1. I am currently a professor at the University of Mississippi Medical Center in the Departments of Health Sciences and Family Medicine. My duties include teaching, research, and administrative responsibilities in healthcare management, health services research, clinical outcomes, and research designs. I also advise the healthcare community on management and administrative / legal issues. I also work as a Health Care Consultant providing independent expertise and advice to various healthcare delivery organizations covering a large span of administrative issues. My background, training, education and experience are set forth on the attached curriculum vitae.

2. This affidavit is made pursuant to § 15-36-100 of the South Carolina Code of Laws (1976), which requires that this affidavit must specify at least one negligent act or omission claimed to exist, and the factual basis for the negligent act or omission based upon the available evidence at the time of the filing of the affidavit.

3. The evidence made available to me for my review prior to the making of this affidavit includes:

a) Complaint entitled Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield and Jerry Sherfield, Plaintiffs vs. Laurens County Health Care System and Greenville Healthcare System, Defendants; CA File No. 14-CP-30-250;

b) the documents supporting the allegations set forth in the Answer and Counterclaim entitled MAG Mutual Insurance Company , Plaintiff vs Byron A. Brown, MD; Laurens County Obstetrics and Gynecology, LLC, a South Carolina Limited Liability Corporation; Pamela Neighbors; Carroll

ATTACHMENT 34

Neighbors; Lisa Dennie; Jeffrey Dennie; Dixie Mitchell; Betty J. Ward; and Donald Ward, Defendants; C.A. File No. 6:14-cv-00353-TMC;

c) Medical Staff Bylaws of Laurens County Health Care System;

d) Subsidy contract between Laurens County Health Care System and Byron A. Brown, MD;

e) Exhibits labeled 1-89

f) Medical articles re hospital deaths referenced in Complaint;

g) South Carolina Dept. of Health and Environmental minimum standards regarding hospitals; and

h) my knowledge and experience regarding literature on hospital administration, Joint Commission Standards, and similar information.

4. Through my professional standing as set forth above, I am familiar with the applicable standard of care for hospital administration specifically applicable to the promulgation and enforcement of Medical Staff Bylaw, the enforcement of contracts with physicians who are privileged at hospitals, the requirement and enforcement of physicians professional liability insurance by hospitals, the responsibility of hospitals to protect the patients undergoing surgery in the hospital, and the public policy of states and the federal government to provide oversight of the health care industry for the protection of its citizens and specifically to ensure quality patient care in hospitals.

5. I have reviewed the evidence submitted to me, and based upon my expertise, as set forth above, it is my opinion to a reasonable degree of medical certainty that Laurens County Health Care System through its agents, servants, and employees failed to do one or more of the following which a reasonably prudent hospital would have done under the same or similar circumstance:

a) to require that physicians holding privileges to perform medical procedures at its facilities have and maintain professional liability insurance in an amount and of a type sufficient to protect patients who sustain injuries and damages from the negligent acts or omissions of the physician;

b) to require that physicians holding privileges to perform medical procedures at its facilities provide proof of professional liability insurance in an amount and type sufficient to protect patients who sustain injuries and damages from the negligent acts or omissions of the physician as a condition for continuation of the physician's privileges;

c) to use reasonable care to monitor physicians to ensure that the physician's professional liability insurance remains in effect, especially when the hospital knew or should have known that the physician's treatment injured patients;

d) to monitor the performance of physicians holding privileges, to investigate circumstances in which a physician holding privileges injures a patient, to investigate complaints made by patients, nurses, and hospital staff against a physician holding privileges, to take appropriate remedial actions against a physician who holds privileges when that physician's treatment has injured patients, and to ensure that the physician's professional liability insurance remains in effect;

e) to require all physicians privileged to perform surgery, especially including Byron A. Brown, MD, to comply with the Medical Staff Bylaws which require the physician to maintain professional liability insurance coverage on patients injured by physician malpractice as long as the physician holds privileges to treat patients at Laurens County Health Care System;

f) to require Byron A. Brown, MD to comply with the Subsidy Contract to maintain professional liability insurance coverage on patients injured by physician malpractice as long as the physician is receiving benefit under the Subsidy Contract and holding privileges at Laurens County Health Care System; and

g) to inform patients directly or by public media who were severely injured and have a potential claim for medical malpractice that notice must be given before a claims-made insurance policy is cancelled or nonrenewed to preserve insurance coverage on the claim, and to whom the notice is to be given, since the patients are not reasonably expected to have this information which was available to Laurens County Health Care System.

6. It is my opinion that it is more likely than not that the deviations from the standard of care by agents, servants, and employees of Laurens County Health Care System proximately caused or contributed to the damages incurred by Chris Katina McCord, Christopher McCord, Janice Sherfield and Jerry Sherfield as alleged in the Complaint.

7. The factual bases for my opinions are the documents identified in paragraph 3 and my background, training, education, and experience in hospital administration for over 32 years.

8. This affidavit is given in compliance with §§ 15-30-100 and 15-79-125 of the Code of Laws of South Carolina (1976, as amended), which does not require all negligent acts or omissions known to me to be stated in the affidavit. Further, I anticipate that upon receiving additional facts from documents and deposition testimony that my opinions may be confirmed, supplemented or amended.

1 CHRIS KATINA McCORD, having first been duly sworn
2 to tell the truth, testified as follows:
3 EXAMINATION
4 By Mr. Shaw:
5 Q: Mrs. McCord, we had an opportunity to meet just a
6 second ago, but again, my name is Ken Shaw. I'm with the 7 Law Firm of Haynsworth Sinkler Boyd in Greenville and I
8 represent Laurens County Memorial Hospital in this case
9 which is now part of Greenville Health System. We're here
10 today to take your deposition. Have you ever had your 11 deposition taken before?
12 A: No.
13 Q: Alright. There's a few ground rules that I need 14 to go over with you. The first and most important one is 15 being is I ask you questions today. If you could, please 16 respond to those questions verbally with a yes, a no, some 17 type of verbal answer as opposed to a head shake or an uh-
18 uh, uh-huh type kind of answer, okay?
19 A: Alright.
20 Q: And now that we've started the deposition, if you
21 could, any questions that you may have, please direct those 22 questions to me as opposed to Mr. Wright, okay?
23 A: Alright.
24 Q: I'm not sure how long we're going to take here
25 today, but if at any point in time you need to take a break,

Page 105

1 the hospital. And the year prior to that, it was about
2 $986, and the year prior to that I do not have a clue what 3 it was.
4 Q: Are you aware that Laurens County Hospital stated
5 in their documents that they sent to us that only $190 had 6 been taken out?
7 A: Yes.
8 Q: Is that accurate?
9 A: No. I'm waiting on copies from the IRS now to 10 get that, like a hard copy of my taxes where my money went 11 to.
12 Q: Okay. Do you know how much now Laurens County
13 Hospital is contending that you owe on your accounts?
14 A: According to this paper you gave me the last time
15 we met, nothing.
16 Q: Alright. So the documents that Laurens County
17 Hospital furnished us with said that you owed nothing?
18 A: Said that I owe nothing.
19 Q: Now, at the time that you signed this document, 20 when it refers to the services to be rendered by the 21 hospital, was it your intent that the services to be 22 rendered by the hospital includes the hospital compliance
23 with their Medical Staff Bylaws?
24 A: Yes.
25 MR. SHAW: Objection.

Page 106

1 Q: Was it your intent and understanding that those
2 services to be rendered to you included the hospital
3 compliance with the Medical Staff Bylaws?
4 A: Yes.
5 Q: Did it include hospital compliance, in your 6 opinion or in your intention to be covered by the Hospital
7 Bylaws?
8 A: Yes.
9 Q: Did the services to be rendered to you include
10 hospital compliance with contracts with physicians who were 11 directly or indirectly affecting your medical care?
12 A: That would be what I assume, yes.
13 Q: Was it your intent when you signed this document
14 that the services to be rendered to the patient included the 15 hospital compliance with the Rules and Regulations of the 16 South Carolina Department of Health and Environmental 17 Control?
18 A: Yes.
19 Q: Was it your intent that the services to be 20 rendered by the hospital included the requirements of the 21 hospital complying with the certifying agencies' rules and 22 regulations, such as the Joint Commission?
23 A: Yes.
24 MR. WRIGHT: No further questions.

1 EXAMINATION:

3 Q: Let me ask you a couple of follow-up questions to 4 that. At the time that you signed this document, did you
5 discuss -- The document, your signature was witnessed by 6 Teressa Franks. Do you see that?
7 A: Yes.
8 Q: Do you recall whether or not Teressa Franks is the 9 person that had you sign this document?
10 A: I guess that's her name. I don't remember her
11 name or face.
12 Q: Did you discuss this document with Teressa Franks
13 or anyone else prior to signing it?
14 A: No, we did not go over it paragraph by paragraph,
15 detail by detail.
16 Q: Did anyone, and since we're talking about this
17 paragraph, the Financial Agreement, if you would, go ahead
18 and read the first sentence for the record of what that 19 says.
20 A: The very first sentence?
21 Q: The first sentence of where it says, "Financial 22 Agreement," what it says after that.
23 A: "The undersigned agrees he signs as agent or as 24 patient that in consideration of the services to be rendered
25 to that patient, he hereby individually obligates himself to

Page 108

1 pay the account of the hospital, in accordance with the
2 regular rates and terms of the hospital."
3 Q: Okay. And then the next sentence goes on to say,
4 "Should the account be referred to an attorney for 5 collection, the undesigned shall pay reasonable attorney's
6 fees and collection expense." Do you see that?
7 A: Yes.
8 Q: Okay. And then there's a few more things. It
9 goes on talking about having to try to collect should you
10 not pay. Do you see that?
11 A: Yes.
12 Q: Alright. Anywhere in there is there any 13 discussion that in consideration of the services to be 14 rendered to that patient, is there anything that discusses 15 what the services to be rendered are?
16 A: No, it don't say.
17 Q: Is there anything that says that the services
18 rendered would be in compliance with the Medical Staff
19 Bylaws?
20 A: No.
21 Q: Alright. Is there anything that says that the 22 services rendered would be in compliance with the policies
23 and procedures of the hospital?
24 A: No.
25 Q: And, again, as we discussed before, prior to 1 aunt, we talked about having a conversation with your aunt.

2 Other than those people that I just rattled off, do you recall
3 having any conversations with anyone else about the surgery
4 that Dr. Brown performed and the complications of that surgery?
5 A. Well, the doctors. Dr. Garris. And also my 6 disability insurance. I wasn't even thinking about that. But,
7 yeah, my disability lawyers have all my medical records.
8 Q. And, again, that's who we were talking about that 9 you saw sometime in 2011; is that right?
10 A. Yes.
11 Q. Okay. Did you speak to -- well, did you speak to 12 anyone else in regards specifically to the Conditions of 13 Admission form other than Mr. Wright -- obviously, I assume 14 you had spoken to Mr. Wright about this particular form, and I
15 know that you have spoken to Ms. Harris about it. Have you 16 spoken to anyone else -- and potentially your husband -- have 17 you spoken to anyone else about this form?
18 A. No, sir.
19 Q. All right. Have you spoken to anyone else about any 20 of the other admission papers that you signed prior to surgery?
21 A. No, sir.
22 Q. Okay. Have you spoken to anyone else about what you
23 believe the hospital's duty was to protect you, other than your 24 attorney and anyone we have specifically mentioned today?
25 A. No, sir.

Page 67

1 MR. SHAW: Mrs. Sherfield, I think that's all
2 the questions that I have for you.
3 MR. WRIGHT: A few questions. Please mark
4 that as Exhibit 2.

7 EXAMINATION
8 By Mr. Wright:
9 Q. Mrs. Sherfield, on Exhibit 2 -- and let me point
10 this out to you -- where it says that you obligate yourself to 11 pay the account of the hospital -- you see what I'm saying?
12 A. Yes, sir.
13 Q. And then on Exhibit No. 1 it shows United Healthcare
14 Administrators. A group named United. Was that your insurance
15 company?
16 A. Yes, sir.
17 Q. So you gave them your insurance information so that 18 they could make a claim for any services rendered; correct?
19 A. Yes, sir.
20 Q. Now, the services rendered...was it your intention
21 that the hospital would comply with all state and federal laws
22 when you signed the contract?
23 A. Yes, sir.
24 Q. Was it your intention that the hospital would 25 require its surgeons, specifically the surgeons that operate in

Page 68

1 the hospital, specifically Dr. Brown, to comply with all the
2 hospital rules and regulations?
3 A. Yes, sir.
4 Q. Was it your intention that the hospital would
5 require its surgeons that were privileged, specifically Dr.
6 Brown, to comply with any contracts that it may have with the 7 hospital about patient protection?
8 A. Yes, sir.
9 Q. And do you consider the fact that the hospital
10 requirement requiring doctors to have a million dollars minimum
11 insurance coverage to be protection for you?
12 A. Yes, sir.
13 Q. And at the time that you made your claim, did Dr.
14 Brown have insurance at that particular time?
15 A. As far as I know, he did.
16 Q. I mean at the time of the surgery?
17 A. Yes, sir.
18 Q. All right. Now, at the time you made your claim,
19 you've been informed that Dr. Brown did not have insurance that 20 was maintained when you made your claim. Or do you know?
21 A. I don't know.
22 Q. All right. Now, you testified about Dr. Brown
23 performing the surgery and coming in and talking to you that 24 evening of the surgery, I believe --
25 A. Yes, sir.

Page 69

1 Q. -- about puncturing your bladder?
2 A. Yes, sir.
3 Q. Okay. Now, if you had been told, or informed, by 4 the hospital that Dr. Brown's insurance to protect you, the 5 malpractice insurance, would run out about five weeks later
6 unless you filed a letter or notice with the insurance company,
7 would you have filed a notice with the insurance company?
8 MR. SHAW: Objection.
9 A. Yes, sir.
10 Q. Subject to the objection: Would you have filed the 11 notice with the insurance company?
12 A. Yes, sir.
13 MR. WRIGHT: No further questions.
14 ______________________
15 REEXAMINATION
16 By Mr. Shaw:
17 Q. Let me ask you a couple of follow-up questions based 18 upon what was just asked of you.
19 Mr. Wright asked you if you expected that the 20 hospital would comply with all state and federal laws. Do you
21 know what state and federal laws are applicable to the 22 hospital?
23 A. To protect and make sure that my benefits are met.
24 Q. That your --
25 A. Healthwise and safetywise.

Page 70

1 Q. Okay. And what I'm asking you -- I mean, you've
2 kind of stated a general principle there. What I'm asking you
3 is, are you aware of any specific state or federal law that 4 requires the hospital to protect your rights or benefits as you
5 said?
6 A. I do not know law. No, sir, not specifically.
7 Q. Do you know of any state or federal law that 8 requires the hospital to tell you about a doctor's insurance
9 coverage?
10 A. No, sir.
11 Q. The hospital rules and regulations. Do you know
12 anything about the hospital rules and regulations?
13 A. No, sir.
14 Q. Had you seen the hospital rules and regulations
15 prior to your surgery?
16 A. Not that I recall.
17 Q. Did you ask to see the hospital rules and 18 regulations prior the surgery?
19 A. No, sir.
20 Q. The contracts with doctors. Prior to your surgery
21 had you seen any contract between Dr. Brown and the hospital?
22 A. No, sir.
23 Q. All right. To your knowledge, do you know whether a 24 contract existed between Dr. Brown and the hospital at the time
25 of your surgery?

Page 71

1 A. No, sir.
2 Q. Did you ask anyone if there was a contract between 3 Dr. Brown and the hospital prior to your surgery?
4 A. No, sir.
5 Q. Okay. Did you know that there was a requirement at 6 the hospital for any doctors that were privileged to perform
7 surgeries at the hospital to maintain medical malpractice
8 insurance? Did you know about that requirement?
9 A. Yes.
10 Q. Okay. How did you know about that requirement?
11 A. Well, I just... When I've had surgeries before in 12 the past, I know that all doctors are supposed to have 13 malpractice insurance.
14 Q. And what makes you believe that all doctors are 15 supposed to have medical malpractice insurance?
16 A. Well, it's a law. I mean...
17 Q. You believe that there is a law that requires 18 doctors to maintain medical malpractice insurance?
19 A. Yes, sir.
20 Q. All right. Have you ever asked anyone if there was 21 a law that requires doctors to maintain medical malpractice
22 insurance?
23 A. Have I asked anyone? No.
24 Q. Did anyone at the hospital ever tell you that there
25 was a law that required doctors to maintain medical malpractice

Page 72

1 insurance?
2 A. No.
3 Q. Where do you believe that you came up with that
4 belief?
5 A. Well, when I had surgeries earlier, and when I had 6 my hysterectomy when I was in my early 20s, my aunt -- my 7 husband's aunt -- worked with Dr. Dermer who done my 8 hysterectomy. And I knew from her that doctors had to have 9 malpractice insurance.
10 Q. Your --
11 A. By law.
12 Q. Your aunt told you that?
13 A. Uh-huh.
14 Q. Is your aunt --
15 A. She was a nurse at Dr. Dermer's office.
16 Q. She was a nurse at Dr. Dermer's office.
17 A. Uh-huh.
18 Q. Where was Dr. Dermer's office?
19 A. In Laurens.
20 Q. All right.
21 A. And I've never asked other doctors before because I
22 assume that they all have to because it was a law.
23 Q. Okay. And, again, your assumption of that is based 24 upon what your aunt told you; is that correct?
25 A. Yes. And she was a nurse.

Page 73

1 Q. Anyone other than your aunt tell you that?
2 A. No.
3 Q. Your aunt, I'm assuming -- did your aunt work for 4 Laurens County Health System at all?
5 A. She worked with Dr. Dermer, who was an ob/gyn. And 6 he delivered my babies at Laurens Hospital. So I'm not sure if 7 she was employed with Laurens Hospital or Dr. Dermer.
8 Q. Where was Dr. Dermer's office?
9 A. In Laurens.
10 Q. Was it inside the hospital?
11 A. No. Beside it.
12 Q. So as we sit here today, do you know whether Dr.
13 Dermer was employed by Laurens County Health Care System?
14 A. No, I don't.
15 Q. And you don't know whether your aunt -- your aunt
16 was employed by Dr. Dermer; is that correct?
17 A. Yes, sir.
18 Q. So you don't know whether your aunt had any -- 19 whether your aunt was employed by Laurens County Health System;
20 is that right?
21 A. That's right.
22 Q. So, again, what I want to make sure of is, did
23 anyone -- to your recollection, has anyone at Laurens County
24 Health Care System ever told you that there was a law that 25 required doctors to maintain insurance?
