

Appellate Case No.

2020-000099

State of South Carolina

v.s.

Jeremie David Tobey

I received your letter for my appeal. I plead guilty to 2x. murders. My grounds for appeal are malicious prosecution, ineffective assistance of counsel, mental health reasons.

I was wrongfully convicted of one of the murders. I am not a bad person like people are saying about me. I have mental health problems that I deal with on a daily basis. I have 2 children that need their father as much as I need them. I understand that I was wrong but I do not deserve 50 years in prison. It was not murder at all. It was manslaughter at the most. My lawyer wouldn't do stuff on my case that I would ask him to do. I am left handed and a left hand person shoots left to right and the second victim was shot right to left only a right handed person can shoot right to left. I have ADHD, Bypolar, and some other problems that I take meds for. I also have a drug problem that I picked up at a very young age. I've been in and out of the mental hospitals and a rehab. I've been a victim of the streets since I was 19 years old. I grew up fast from a kid to a man. I've been shot 6 times. I am a young father fighting for his life to get some time back and make it home to my daughter and son. Everyone makes mistakes in life and I've made a very bad mistake and I understand that I have to do some time in prison but I can't take a murder charge that I did not commit. Thank you for your time.
