Mr. Clark-

Thank you for your e-mail. As I have previously stated in a phone conversation with one of the clerks, we are not counsel on appeal. First, this is not an appealable matter. Second, we have not been retained for an appeal and third and perhaps most importantly, given the nature of the "appeal", ethically, we could not and cannot represent her on the appeal because she is essentially appealing a mediation in which we represented her. I suppose, in a sense, she is appealing "us".

Therefore, we will review the rule and move to be relieved. Ethically, and on her behalf, we would ask that you extend the deadline for these filings should she want to continue pro-se or with different counsel, as we will need time to draft and file the necessary motion to be relieved.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

David J. Miller
