Thanks for your response and for your consideration of my inquiry. I don't see a need to file a motion to change the caption. I just wanted to make sure that it was still correct based on that change.

Good Morning Attorney Cantrell,

So, it would be best to await direction from the Court with regard to the case caption. I don't believe the caption will change in our Court considering the caption in all three of the orders from the lower Court are the same for this case. For future reference, please pose questions like this in the form of a letter requesting clarification to be filed with the Court through either one of our filing methods.

I will accept this form of communication today and present your inquiry to the Court. If you feel that the caption must be changed, you must provide a motion pursuant to Rule 240, SCACR to do so.

Respectfully,

LaToyla Burns

After speaking to my client, she has agreed to abandon her appeal of the Motion to Compel Order, which is one of the three orders in our Notice of Appeal. That order was issued by Judge Murphy, whose name is present on the current caption of the case. However, if we abandon the appeal of that order, should we change the caption in the Appellant's initial brief, which is due to be filed tomorrow, or wait for the court to change the caption before doing that?

Sincerely,
John R. Cantrell, Jr.
