|         |   | I think it should be uploaded to LaToyla's case. I would want to keep any and all information, even if it's just a note saying that it                                                        |                                |                        |        |            |   |

|         |   | The best thing about this is that correspondence only went out in one case. Hopefully there will not be a need to clarify anything.                                                           |                                |                        |        |            |   |
