Appellate Case No. 2020-001641

RE: Arguable basis for appeal

On or about January 22, 2021, the above named defendant Dewayne K. Lipscomb moves before the courts to bring forth the arguable basis for his grounds for appeal.

IF IT SO PLEASES THE COURTS THE DEFENDANT ASK THAT THIS INFORMATION BE HEARD BEFORE THE COURTS AND THEREFORE BE ENTERED ON THE ABOVE STATED APPELLATE CASE NO. 2020-001641.

The arguable grounds for appeal are as listed:

- 1) The defendant feels as though his lawyer didn't have his best interest in mind during court or during plea deals.
- 2) The defendant's lawyer didn't challenge the fact that the victim changed his statement during court.
- 3) The defendant's lawyer didn't argue the basic facts of the case during court.
- 4) The defendant feels like he was forced into a plea deal and would have went to trial if his Rule 5 would have been explained better before any plea deals was started.
- 5) The defendant's lawyer promised he would be given probation and house arrest for a plea deal.

6) The defendant feels as if he was harshly sentenced because his part in the crime was over-played by the solicitor and his attorney.

7) Finally the defendant feels as he should have been allowed to plea to accessory after the fact if he would have had proper attorney appointed.

IF IT SO PLEASES THE COURTS THE DEFENDANT MOTIONS THE COURTS TO HEAR THE ABOVE LISTED ARGUABLE BASIS ON GROUNDS FOR APPEAL AND ENTER THIS MOTION INTO RECORDS AND FORWARD A COPY TO THE SOLICITOR, THE DEFENDANT'S ATTORNEY LISTED BELOW AND TO THE DEFENDANT WITH A TIME STAMPED COPY AND LETTER STATING THE COURTS RECEIVED THIS MOTION WITHIN THE ALLOTTED 20 DAYS TIME LIMIT.
