I do not have a "ghost writer" but only someone who helps in my typing and grammar. My typist has absolutely no legal experience. As PRO SE I am forced to research as much as I can. I don't appreciate your accusing me of having a ghost writer or legal advisor when you filed your affidavit package on three attempts, and actually you could have renamed Exhibit #1 as "1 of "3"; 2 of "3" and 3 of "3."

Since your entire foundation of filings are cloaked with misrepresentations and Fraud Upon the Court due to your lack of reporting the extrinsic fraud which you fully understand, unsorting your filing errors on my part doesn't warrant your frenzied response. I'm sure the court was amazed....also check your email....you didn't file it in the year you claimed.

I suppose when you act fraudulently it is natural for you to suspect and accuse others of doing likewise. Laura is taking a much higher ground here, to her credit. Case 2019001488 should be remanded and sent to a jury due to the incredible fraud.

Respectfully,

MB Hutson
