Dear Counsel:

We are delighted to announce a new technology initiative which allows us to live stream Court of Appeals oral argument. In light of Covid precautions and restriction of visitors to our courtroom, we are testing the use of our virtual courtrooms to provide access to in-person court. Anyone may access our live stream via the following link:

<https://scjudicial.webex.com/scjudicial/onstage/g.php?MTID=eb51ad7011021ff736d1c8051d8718920>

In my last email dated March 18, 2021, I indicated the Covid restrictions and social distancing measures in place in our courtrooms. To date, we have not received word of anyone other than counsel making argument that would like to be in the courtroom. As you become aware of clients or others who wish to view the oral argument, we also wish to offer the live stream as an option. As requested previously, please let us know no later than April 20, 2021, whether anyone other than counsel making arguments would like to attend the argument in person.

Please understand our regret that continued restrictions are necessary, and allow me to communicate our desire to return to normalcy whenever it is safe to do so.
