Re: Deborah Mihal v. Governor Henry D. McMaster
Appellate Case No. 2021-000379

Dear Ms. Allen:

In your April 29, 2021, letter you noted that Appellants are required under Rule 207 of the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules to order transcripts of proceedings before the lower court. Counsel for Appellants have not ordered a transcript in the above referenced case because there were no proceedings that would have transcripts. Before the lower court, there was only one status conference on April 8, 2021, at which no court reporter was present and parties were not invited to present argument. There were no other proceedings before the lower court that would produce transcripts.

Accordingly, Appellants have complied with Rule 207 of the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules because there is no need to order transcripts for any proceedings before the lower court.

Respectfully,

/s/ Nancy Bloodgood
