Re: Lawrence Crawford, #300839 v. SCDC
Appellate Case No. 2021-000354

Dear Mr. Crawford:

Upon reviewing your appellant's initial brief, the following deficiency has been noted under the South Carolina Appellate Court Rules (SCACR), and any deficiency must be corrected on the record on appeal and final brief(s):

- The title does not comply with Rule 267(a), SCACR. Specifically, the title should read as follows:

Lawrence Crawford, #300839, Appellant,

v.

South Carolina Department of Corrections, Respondent.

The Court is also in receipt of your designation of matter and record on appeal. The documents included with your designation of matter are being returned to you. These documents shall only be listed in the designation of matter and included in your record on appeal. Your record on appeal is also being returned as premature. The record on appeal is due within thirty days from the proof of service of the optional appellant's initial reply brief or the respondent's initial brief. The documents listed on the respondent's designation of matter must also be included in the record on appeal.

Very truly yours,

V. Claire Allen
