Ex Parte: Carrie M. Coleman, Appellant.

In RE: In the Matter of the Estate of Jessica Sheila Coleman

Appellant Case No. 2021-000546

Dear Ms. Kitchings [Mr. Shearouse]:

This is to inform the court that there is no respondent in the above-forementioned probate case that is being presented. No family member initiated any claim against the estate or the personal representative of the estate. There was no money contained by the estate at the time it was reviewed by the Richland County Probate Court. During the hearing, no one stated that they felt as though they did not get what they deserved or were owed anything. All parties also signed over their right to heir. The court ordered monetary payments from the personal representative to the Estate of Malcolm Ray Coleman, Jr., and Carrie Makiya Smith. At that time, no compassion was shown to the attempt of making a resolution that worked for all parties involved. Evidence was denied that showed where and how the money was spent, and that all parties were aware. An appeal was filed to rectify any and all unfair and unlawful decisions that may have been made in regard to this case.

Sincerely

Carrie M. Coleman
