Ms. Ritchie:

Thank you for your email today about the title page, which I assume is about the Record on Appeal.

SCACR 210(d) states, about the Record on Appeal, "Nothing shall be printed on the title page except the caption." Upon reading that, I removed everything from the Record title page except the caption.

I agree that the direction as to the Record in SCACR 267 is to include as part of the caption the "names, addresses and phone numbers of all counsel in the case."

It appears these two rules conflict.

Faced with what seemed conflicting court rules, when I prepared the Record I chose to comply with SCACR 210, the rule specific to the Record. Your email and court's letter of today suggests that the rule which should prevail in this conflict is SCACR 267. Which is fine. I will revise the caption and resubmit, although I will again have to use the OneDrive method and hope that it works.

Perhaps I am missing something about this conflict in the rules. If so, please ignore this email. If not, please convey to the court that SCACR 210 conflicts with SCAR 267, so that the conflict may be removed for future appeals and SCACR 267 stands unopposed.

Thank you.

Gregg
