Dear Mrs. Kitchings,

This matter in the Case # of 2020000853, In the estate of Annie Mae Crosby. I have had and been told as an American citizen and 100% disabled USAF and Army Veteran that I can not file a Petition of Redress of Grievances and done so by legal right. It's in the US Constitution.

I have witnessed delays time and again where an attorney is given (precedence) over a self-represented person. That is not right by the rule of law.

In this appeal I had to fight for my name to be added to the Appeal by petitions and your court even sent the Appellants counsel a deficiency letter that now he even defies your order by email. Please look back to reference this matter as to his emails. He did not want my name added to silence my voice in this matter.

Now by the SC Supreme Court an order issued August 25, 2021 that 6 additional copies must be provided to the Court and their respective briefs within ten days of the date of the letter that your office submitted on October 21, 2021. Another letter or email was issued on November 5, 2021. It is now 17th November 2021 and the Appellant has not complied to the ten (10) day requirement. I think it by law is unfair that a Clerk of Court official can tell me I have no rights to file a Petition of Redress of Grievances, but must see that an attorney is given preference in regards to deadlines and a self represented person is held to the exact number of days. That's bias to an individual and voids my rights by self representation.

Please have whomever address this issue to do so as it is not legally fair to me as a beneficiary.

Sincerely,

Kelvin W Crosby
