I'm taking Lily from you who I can't honestly say is good for her. Its not my fault that other people choose not too be in her life when your not and I'm done feeling bad for that too. I have actual fact and proof behind the things I say I'm done. I can't justify it in my head anymore. I sold my iPhone and our tablets to cover that bill and tomorrow I will uber my ass to the water company and pay it. The rest of the money I have will go to Cory to fix the water heater. And idc ill pay Jason 800 on the first because for the first time in 2 years my baby has a home. Ill pay whatever for that. But neither one of you are gonna make me feel bad for the fact that I pay the cost everyday to make sure Lily can be a kid. Shit at least my landlord dropped off the play set so she can get some type of christmas from me. Ill make a way but stop acting like i don't pay a price. I should of cut the water last year when you pulled the shit with that check. My sister can drive to Atlanta for a wedding but wouldn't drive to follow me so I could bring our stuff back shit she coulda got her rental and dropped me off it would of been the same week. My daughter literally got abused on your couch. She's best here and mentally I'm best with her here.

I'm suing him for my money. Its been 64 days sense I changed the locks I've had to put way over 3000 on repairs and he slowed the process all Jason has done was give me stuff to take back for the sink and cabinet give me 50 of walmart stuff to take back so I could get lily some Christmas and donate a swing set missing a swing. He keeps demanding rent and hasn't done any repairs and I'm doing it slowly but surely. He wants to demand rent and catch an attitude when I just got hot water a week and a half ago. I'm one person. I haven't complained I just keep doing what I can and hoping for the best. But I'm not paying repairs water Bill and rent for the time if had to be back and forth my child just started being able to be here and I haven't had time to even unpack. Lawyer said with all the messages I have and the receipts that ill definitely be reimbursed and can use for duress with all his threats. However if I can show that its cause of a malicious vendetta against you which it is because he starts demanding rent after asking about you and nana and the kids then I can get more. I haven't tried to shit on anyone but I was very prepared for this to go south just hoped it didn't I like this house and Kilts close to yall so it works. But I ain't taking no losses over this house again.

Been plenty of times I've needed you. You weren't there and in those times that I tried to see whatever bs you keep saying I needed to see you showed me that you still have to place all the blame on me. You want me to need you and I don't. You have to feel needed instead of wanted. So this time no matter how hard shit gets I won't be calling because you too have tried to kick me when I'm down. Except it or don't I don't really care anymore the truth isn't for everyone. But there is reasons why I keep being able to pull myself back up and its not from y'all babysitting. You once said I was your most respectful child. If your most respectful child now gas no respect for you maybe you should ask yourself why that is. I use to love you more then anything I looked up to you for so much now I feel sorry for you.

How are we working out the money I kicked out for the repairs aside from the pipes? Also tile is done as far as the pedestal sinks go. Couldn't wait any longer for your ppl cause dad is doing another visit to see that I complete the repairs. So I have to make sure the stuff they said is done at least.

You keep thinking your not hurting me too. You keep thinking you don't hurt us too. Your little things too teach me lessons hurt so deep and cause so much stress id rather not have family. The things you've done have cost me more then then me wanting to leave. Me staying to be close to you and them has been again more painful then leaving. At least when I'm gone I'm free. You tried to do what nana did to you. But over and over I prove I can forgive and I can bounce back. You don't have my best interest or my back and you won't ever understand because you've never been a mom to me. Eventually lily will forget

You have over and over again tried to stand in my way. Idgaf anymore seriously grow up. You can't tell me I'm not doing everything to be a fucking parent.

Hey I want you to know that even though yes I always want you to do my taxes I wasn't trying to butter you up today for that. Me and Rhett almost lost a really good friend today because he ODeed and even though this time I'm not going to have to bury another friend it just shows me more and more how time is not our friend. Everyday I wonder if I die is Lily going to be okay. Idk if we will ever be a family like we were but I am glad Lily has yall in her life and I do love you ma not because of taxes or even what you do for Lily. Just because of the times we were like best friends and it was us against the world. I know you think I'm bipolar but even when you think I'm mad I'm just hurt. It hurts alot to love deep. I hope this tax seasons puts you back where you were before Jason and the bar. We got you on the flyer street team. Xoxo

Don't cry mama. I see it I see life taking its toll on you. I just wish you'd let me do what I've always done and be there. I think that's what hurts the most that for as much as I am extra and overwhelming for y'all. I will always be there to help carry the load. Don't you worry about me and like I've told you forever you my mama I may be hurtful but I will not watch anyone hurt you. You spend time with my baby girl and teach her how to be tough and get through this because it will all work out. We will never be ready for our next blessing until we learn our lesson. I'm humble enough to learn mine and strong enough to defend what's right. I know what grandma Mary meant about me being meant for something. Smile cause frowning causes wrinkles.

I am not gonna mess with the s.c. stay. Mr. Morris called me about helping me with that this morning.

I am sorry you feel that way . Go file whatever you want to file.

I truly wanted to help you but I will not allow you to make demands on me or tell me what I am gonna do

Mrs. Davis called me this morning also. You can call her to understand our conversation.

No problem, The kitchen receptacle near the fridge as well as the kitchen receptacle on the back counter were both repaired. The receptacle near the fridge had loose ground which is why it wasn't functioning properly. The hot wire on the receptacle on the back counter was located and attached to the receptacle, which from my understanding was an issue. The switches were not able to be repaired because we both came to an understanding that it's best to just run new lines to save both time and money on the backend. When I say wall demolition, yes I'm referring to tearing out the backsplash and cutting/repairing the drywall to route the new lines. I understand if you feel as if $120 is a bit high, I have no problem adjusting the price. The price was an accumulation of time spent troubleshooting, repairing 2 receptacles and as well as an overview of what you would like done. If I knew that there was prior damage done to the home then that would have alleviated the time spent troubleshooting the switches. I would like to get compensated for the time labor/time that was exerted yesterday at a lower price of $85. I apologize if there was any misunderstanding, I should have explained thoroughly where the $120 estimate came from, If there are any more questions if free to answer them. Also i would prefer cash or apple pay if possible.

Have Lauren to call Mrs. Davis and schedule the appointment for the inspection

Check with Lauren to see if the sink drain is still leaking so I can send some one back to fix it

I will get a guy to come by tomorrow to bring the trailer so she can load her trash up and the doors to be taking to the dump.

I will also have him to remove the screens from the windows and put the switch cover in her bathroom

Can you relay all that information and I will call to the court house tomorrow if I ain't working
