Mr. James B. Curry, #186737
Great Falls, South Carolina

Dear James:

Thank you for writing. As President, I believe that all people, including those who have made mistakes—even significant mistakes—have the capacity to make the right choices and to have a positive impact on others. I visited El Reno Federal Penitentiary to underscore my commitment to making sure our justice system is not just a punishment system, but one that also rehabilitates, allows people to repay their debt to society, and empowers individuals to forge a brighter future for themselves, their families, and their communities.

Thank you, again, for your message. If you have faith in yourself and work hard to pursue a productive path, you can affect not only your own life, but also the lives of those close to you. I wish you all the best.

Signature,

To: Clerk Kitchings.

"Appellant, who made history in prison, thru the first black president of the United State's would like to thank the S,C Court of Appeals Staff, For a Job Well done, I wish yall all the best."
