Re: Darrell L. Goss vs. State of South Carolina

Case No. : 2011-CP-10-3782

Charleston County PCR Case

Dear Ms. Kitchings :

My PCR case has been pending for ten (10) years now. I had my second PCR hearing on December 8, 2021, pursuant to the Supreme Court's order of remand. On January 6, 2022, the PCR court denied relief in an informal order which gave the attorney general 30 days to submit a formal proposed order of the findings of facts and conclusions of law. This deadline expired on February 6, 2022. However, to the present date, no formal order has been submitted or filed in the PCR court. Without a formal order of the findings of facts and conclusions of law, I cannot file my notice of intent to appeal with the Supreme Court. I do wish to appeal the denial of PCR because I believe that the judge made some serious factual and legal errors in making her decision .

I am representing myself in my per case and I believe that the state is trying to take advantage of me for that reason . I need the Court of Appeals' help in this matter Please help me .

Thank you.

Sincerely,

Darrell L. Goss
