SC Court of Appeals

Petition for Reconsideration/Reinstatement

The Appellant hereby moves the court for reconsideration and/or reinstatement and states as follows:

- (1) Substantial evidence do not support a decision were the reason is beyond the Appellant's control to change. It's a fact of the case that he is already being punished for and to continue such punishment is cruel and unusual punishment.
- (2) The Court should make a declaration as to whether a person going up for parole can change the facts of the case, If not, then issue an injunction for the parole to give other reasons other than the same reason, If not immediate release.
