

THE SOUTH CAROLINA COURT OF APPEALS

THE STATE, RESPONDENT

RECEIVED

v.

JUN 06 2022

SC Court of Appeals

THEODORE J. BOLICK, APPELLANT

Appellate Case No. 2020-001497

APPELLANT'S RESPONSE TO THIS COURT'S
ORDER OF MAY 19, 2022

NOW COMES: Appellant, Theodore Bolick
pro se and hereby respectfully notifies
the Honorable Justices of the South Carolina Court of Appeals as follows:

1. Out of an abundance of caution
the Appellant waited until May 27, 2022,
at which time Appellant spoke at length with Mr. Taylor William in a phone conference, before making a final decision as how to proceed on appeal.

2. That after speaking with Taylor

William on May 27, 2022 the Appellant is more convinced than ever that Mr. Gilliam has been acting as a spy in the Appellant's camp, covertly working with the state and its actors, to cause and create unnecessary delay in filing Appellant's appeal.

3. That if allowed to continue in his current course of conduct, Mr. Gilliam will continue to covertly work with the state and its actors to sabotage any chance the Appellant may have on appeal.

4. That Mr. Gilliam would divert this Honorable Court's attention from the meaningful and meritorious issues the Appellant raised in his pro se Initial Brief on Appeal.

5. Appellant fully understands that by South Carolina Rules of Appellate procedure the Appellant was suppose to serve a copy of his Initial Brief on Appeal on the State, however, by the South Carolina Department of Corrections (S.C.D.C.) rules the Appellant cannot make copies of hand-written documents, and the Appellant has no other means of making copies.

6. Appellant fully understands that he was supposed to serve on the state a Proposed Record On Appeal before filing it with this Honorable Court, however, Appellant's inability to make copies prevented him from doing so.

7. Appellant's inability to make copies is the only thing that prevents the Appellant from being able to proceed successfully before this Honorable Court on appeal.

CONCLUSION

WHEREFORE: Appellant respectfully moves this Honorable Court to assign someone to assist Appellant, in making copies so that Appellant may be able to proceed by South Carolina Rules of Appellate Procedure, and then allow the Appellant to present

and argue his meaningful and meritorious issues on appeal, before this Honorable Court, propria persona.

Respectfully Submitted

CERTIFICATE OF INABILITY TO MAKE COPIES OR PROVIDE SERVICE

I hereby certify that as a prisoner in the S.C.D.C. that I am prohibited from making copies of hand-written documents,
and have no other means of doing so,
and therefore, I am unable to supply
the State/Respondent a copy of the foregoing filing.
